(k) The commissioner of revenue shall promulgate rules and regulations to relieve manufacturers or bottlers of beverages from the liability to affix crowns or lids to such containers of such beverages as are intended to be shipped and are thereafter shipped out of this state by such manufacturers or bottlers for resale out of this state.

(l) Any person who falsely or fraudulently makes, forges, alters, or counterfeits any crowns or lids prescribed by the commissioner of revenue under the provisions of this section, or causes or procures to be falsely or fraudulently made, forged, altered, or counterfeited any such crowns or lids, or knowingly or wilfully utters, passes or tenders as true any such false, forged, altered, or counterfeited crowns or lids, or uses more than once any crown or lid provided for and required by this article, or uses a crown or lid other than that prescribed herein for the purpose of evading the tax imposed under this article, or for the purpose of aiding or abetting others to evade the tax imposed under this article, shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state's prison for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

(m) Any person, firm or corporation having in his possession a container or containers of beverages not bearing the crowns or lids required to be affixed to such container, or who fails to produce upon demand by the commissioner of revenue or his agent, invoices of all beverages purchased or received by him within two years prior to such demand, unless upon satisfactory proof it is shown that such non-production is due to providential or other causes beyond his control, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

(n) Any person who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to comply with or shall violate any provisions of this section, for which no specific penalty is provided, or who shall refuse to permit the commissioner of revenue or his agents to examine his books, papers, invoices and other records, his store of beverages in and upon any premises where the same are manufactured, bottled, stored, sold, offered for sale, or held for sale, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

(o) The commissioner of revenue is hereby charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this section and hereby authorized and empowered to prescribe, adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules and regulations relating to any matter or thing pertaining to the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this section, and the collection of taxes, penalties, and interest imposed by this article.

(p) The commissioner of revenue is hereby authorized to prescribe, adopt, promulgate, and enforce the rules and regulations relating to the transportation of beverages enumerated in § 18-64 through this state, and from points outside of this state to points within this state, and to prescribe, adopt, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations reciprocal to those of, or laws of, any other state or territory affecting the transportation of beverages manufactured in this state.

(q) The commissioner of revenue shall have authority at any time after March 24, 1939, to make provisions for the furnishing of crowns or lids required by this section.

(r) In addition to the license taxes herein levied, a tax is hereby levied upon the sale of beverages described in section 18-64, subsection (b) of ten cents (10c.) per gallon.

The taxes levied under this section shall be paid through the use of wine revenue stamps, as hereinafter provided, by affixing stamps of proper denominations to the bottle or container in which or from which said wines are normally sold at retail. The stamps shall be affixed by the manufacturer, winery, bottler, wholesaler, or distributor in such a manner that their removal will require continued application of water or steam. The commissioner of revenue shall design, issue, sell, and distribute such stamps, of such denominations as are customary in the trade and as may be necessary, and shall require of every manufacturer, winery, bottler, wholesaler, and distributor that such stamps be purchased and affixed to each and every bottle or container of wine sold within this state. Stamps for said wine bottles or containers of more or less than one gallon shall be proportioned to the tax levied in this subsection upon the wine defined in § 18-64, subsection (b), but the stamp on any single bottle or container shall not be less than one cent (1c.).

It shall be unlawful for any dealer, either wholesale or retail, to have exposed for sale or in his possession, either in storage or on display, any wines taxable under this article without having attached to each bottle or other container the proper stamp indicating the payment of the tax herein levied, and in addition to other penalties for violation of this provision it shall be lawful for the department of revenue, through any of its authorized agents, to confiscate any stock on hand, on display, or in storage, of any dealer who has not complied with the provisions of this section. The taxes levied in this section are in addition to the taxes levied in Schedule E of the Revenue Act. (1939, c. 158, s. 517; c. 370, s. 1; 1941, c. 50, s. 7; c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-82. By whom tax payable.—The tax levied in § 18-81 upon the sale of beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (a) shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue by the manufacturer or bottler of such beverages, and the tax levied in § 18-81 upon the sale of the beverages enumerated in § 18-64, subsection (b) shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue by the wholesale distributor or bottler of such beverages. As a condition precedent to the granting of license by the commissioner of revenue to any wholesale distributor, manufacturer or bottler of beverages under this article, the commissioner of revenue shall require each such wholesale distributor, manufacturer or bottler to furnish bond in an indemnity company licensed to do business under the insurance laws of this state in such sums as the commissioner of revenue shall find adequate to cover the tax liability of each such wholesale distributor, manufacturer or bottler, proportioned to the volume of business of each such wholesale distributor, manufacturer or bottler, but in no event to be less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or to deposit federal, state, county or municipal bonds in required amounts, such county and municipal bonds to be approved by the commissioner of revenue. The commissioner of revenue may grant such extension of time for compliance with this condition as may be found to be reasonable. (1939, c. 158, s. 518; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-83. Nonresident manufacturers and wholesale dealers to be licensed. — From and after April thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine, every non-resident desiring to engage in the business of making sales of the beverages described in § 18-64, to wholesale dealers licensed under the provisions of this article, shall first apply to the commissioner of revenue for a permit so to do. The commissioner of revenue may require of every such applicant that a bond in a sum not to exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) be executed by such applicant and deposited with the commissioner, conditioned upon the faithful compliance by such applicant with the provisions of this article, and particularly that such applicant shall not make sales of any of the beverages described in section 18-64 to any person in this state except a duly licensed wholesale dealer. Upon the payment of a license tax of one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00), if the commissioner is satisfied that said applicant is a bona fide manufacturer or distributor of the beverages defined in § 18-64, he shall then issue a permit to such applicant which shall bear a serial number. Every holder of such non-resident permit and license shall thereafter put the number of such permit on every invoice for any quantity of beverages sold by such licensee to any wholesale dealer in North Carolina. Upon the failure of any such licensee to comply with all the provisions of this article, the commissioner of revenue may revoke such permit or license.

Any resident manufacturer licensed under § 18-67 shall not be required to post the bond required by this section. (1939, c. 158, s. 518½.)

§ 18-84. Payment of tax by retailers.—The granting of license by any municipality or county under this article to any person to sell at retail the beverages enumerated under § 18-64 shall not be valid license for such sale at retail until such person shall have filed with the commissioner of revenue a bond in a surety company licensed by the insurance department to do business in this state in such sum as the commissioner of revenue may find to be sufficient to cover the tax liability of every such person, but in no event to be less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). The commissioner of revenue may waive the requirement of this section for indemnity bond with respect to any such person who may file a satisfactory contract or agreement with the commissioner of revenue that such person will purchase and sell beverages enumerated in § 18-64 only from wholesale distributors or bottlers licensed by the commissioner of revenue under this article who pay the tax under § 18-81 upon all such beverages sold to retail dealers in this state. The violation of the terms of any such contract or agreement between any such retail dealer and the commissioner of revenue by the purchase or sale of any of the beverages enumerated in § 18-64 from any one other than a licensed wholesale distributor or bottler under this article shall automatically cancel the license of any such retail dealer and shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud, and any person guilty of violation of any such contract or agreement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1939, c. 158, s. 519.)

§ 18-85. Tax on fortified wines and spirituous liquors; sale of fortified wines in A. B. C. stores.—In addition to other taxes levied in this article, and in lieu of taxes levied in Schedule E of the Revenue Act on the sale of fortified wines and spirituous liquors, there is hereby levied a tax of eight and one-half per cent (8½%) on the retail price of fortified wines and spirituous distilled liquors of every kind that may be sold in this state, including liquors sold in county liquor stores. Provided, however, that in no event shall the amount paid under this section exceed one-half of the net profits from liquors sold through such stores in any county. The taxes levied in this section shall be payable monthly, at the same time and in the same manner as taxes levied in Schedule E of the Revenue Act, and the liability for such tax shall be subject to all the rules, regulations and penalties provided in Schedule E and in other sections of the Revenue Act for the payment of taxes. One-fourteenth of the taxes collected under this section are intended to pay the necessary expenses of the state alcoholic control board, and for other necessary expenses in connection with the enforcement of such laws as may be enacted by this general assembly for the sale of alcoholic liquors and to meet such appropriations there is hereby appropriated and made available for the purpose above set forth one-fourteenth of the amount of taxes collected under this section, such sum to be allocated for such purpose by the director of the budget upon request of the state alcohol control board and expended and accounted for as other state funds, and the director of the budget is hereby given authority to estimate the revenues to be received under this section, to the end that a sufficient sum shall be made available for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the state alcoholic control board until sufficient revenues have been collected as provided hereunder for said purposes.

Spirituous liquors, as referred to in this section, shall be deemed to include any alcoholic beverages containing an alcoholic content of more than twenty-four per cent (24%) by volume.

Fortified wines may be sold in county alcoholic beverage control stores duly established under the authority of article 3 of this chapter. (1939, c. 158, s. 519½; 1941, c. 339, s. 4.)

§ 18-86. Books, records, reports.—Every person licensed under any of the provisions of this article shall keep accurate records of purchase and sale of all beverages taxable under this article, such records to be kept separate from all purchases and sales of merchandise taxable under this article, including a separate file and record of all invoices. The commissioner of revenue or any authorized agent, shall at any time during business hours, have access to such records. The commissioner of revenue may also require regular or special reports to be made by every such person, at such times and in such form as the commissioner may require. (1939, c. 158, s. 520.)

§ 18-87. No license for sales upon school property.—No license shall be issued for the sale of beverages enumerated in § 18-64 upon the campus or property of any public or private school or college in this state. (1939, c. 158, s. 521.)

§ 18-88. License shall be posted.—Each form of license required by this article shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place at each place where the business taxable under this article is carried on, and a separate license shall be required for each place of business. (1939, c. 158, s. 522.)

§ 18-89. Administrative provisions. — The commissioner of revenue and the authorized agents of the state department of revenue shall have and exercise all the rights, duties, powers, and responsibilities in enforcing this article that are enumerated in the Revenue Act in administering taxes levied in Schedule B of that act. (1939, c. 158, s. 523.)

§ 18-90. Appropriation for administration. — For the efficient administration of this article an appropriation is hereby made for the use of the department of revenue in addition to the appropriation in the Appropriation Bill of a sum equal to three per cent (3%) of the total revenue collections under this article to be expended under allotments made by the budget bureau of such part of the whole of such appropriation as may be found necessary for the administration of this article. The budget bureau may estimate the yield of revenue under this article and make advance apportionment based upon such estimate. (1939, c. 158, s. 524.)

§ 18-90(1). Sale to minors under 18 a misdemeanor.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to sell or give any of the products authorized to be sold by this article to any minor under eighteen years of age. (1933, c. 216, s. 8.)

§ 18-91. Violation made misdemeanor; revocation of permits; forfeiture of license.—Whosoever violates any of the provisions of this article, or any of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine or by imprisonment, or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. If any licensee is convicted of the violation of the provisions of this article, or any of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto, the court shall immediately declare his permit revoked, and notify the county commissioners accordingly, and no permit shall thereafter be granted to him within a period of three years thereafter. Any licensee who shall sell or permit the sale on his premises or in connection with his business, or otherwise, of any alcoholic beverages not authorized under the terms of this article, unless otherwise permitted by law, shall, upon conviction thereof, forfeit his license in addition to any punishment imposed by law for such offense. (1939, c. 158, s. 525.)

§ 18-92. Effective date.—All taxes levied in this article shall be in effect from and after April thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine. (1939, c. 158, s. 528.)

§ 18-93. Adoption of federal regulations.—The "Standards of Identity for Wine" and the regulations relating to "Labeling and Advertising of Wine" promulgated by the Federal Alcohol administration of the United States Treasury Department, and known respectively as Regulation Number Four, Article II, and Regulation Number Four, Articles III and VI, are hereby adopted by North Carolina. (1937, c. 335, s. 2.)

Art. 5. Fortified Wine Control Act of 1941.

§ 18-94. Title of article. — The title of this article shall be the "Fortified Wine Control Act of one thousand nine hundred and forty-one." (1941, c. 339, s. A.)

§ 18-95. Purpose of article.—The purpose of this article is to prevent and prohibit sales of fortified wines at any places in the state except through county operated alcoholic beverage control stores and to regulate such sales. (1941, c. 339, s. B.)

§ 18-96. Definition of "fortified wines."—Fortified wines shall mean any wine or alcoholic beverage made by fermentation of grapes, fruit and berries and fortified by the addition of brandy or alcohol or having an alcoholic content of more than fourteen per cent of absolute alcohol, reckoned by volume. (1941, c. 339, s. 1.)

§ 18-97. Certain sales, etc., prohibited; names of persons ordering wines furnished police or sheriff.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, except alcoholic beverage control stores operated in North Carolina, to sell, or possess for sale, any fortified wines as defined herein. It shall be unlawful for any person to purchase on order and receive by mail or express from any such alcoholic beverage control store fortified wines in quantities not in excess of one gallon at any one time. Upon the request of any chief of police or sheriff any alcoholic beverage control system shall furnish the names of any persons ordering such wines, and the dates and amounts of such orders. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to permit any person to order and receive by mail or express any spirituous liquors. (1941, c. 339, s. 2.)

§ 18-98. Violation made misdemeanor. — The violation of § 18-97 by any person, firm or corporation shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable as provided in § 18-91. (1941, c. 339, s. 5.)

§ 18-99. Application of other laws; sale of sweet wines; licensing of wholesale distributors.—The provisions of article 3 of this chapter shall apply to fortified wines: Provided, that it shall be legal to sell sweet wines in hotels, grade A restaurants, drug stores and grocery stores in any county in which the operation of alcoholic beverage control stores is authorized by law; such sales, however, shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the state alcoholic beverage control board. For the purpose of this article as amended, sweet wines shall be any wine made by fermentation from grapes, fruits or berries, to which nothing but pure brandy has been added, which brandy is made from the same type of grape, fruit or berry, which is contained in the base wine to which it is added, and having an alcoholic content of not less than fourteen per centum (14%) and not more than twenty per centum (20%) of absolute alcohol, reckoned by volume: Provided further that the state alcoholic control board shall approve and authorize the licensing of wholesale wine distributors in such counties where alcoholic board control stores are operated. (1941, c. 339, s. 6.)

Local Modification.—Mitchell: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 394; 1941, c. 339, s. 6; Yancey: Pub. Loc. 1937, c. 579; 1941, c. 339, s. 6.

Art. 6. Light Domestic Wines; Manufacture and Regulation.

§ 18-100. Manufacture of domestic wines permitted.—It shall be lawful for any person growing crops, either wild or cultivated, of grapes, fruits or berries to make therefrom light domestic wines or wines having only such alcoholic content as natural fermentation may produce, for the use of his family and guests. (1935, c. 393, s. 1.)

§ 18-101. Manufacture by any person, firm or corporation authorized to do business in State. — Any person, firm or corporation authorized to do business in the state may, subject to the requirements of the Beverage Control Act, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner of agriculture and approved by the governor, engage in the business of manufacturing and producing wines and ciders by natural fermentation from the juices of fruits, grapes and berries grown within the state, and such wines and ciders shall be classified and recognized as food and distributed as such. (1935, c. 393, s. 3, c. 466, s. 1.)

§ 18-102. Rules and regulations of commissioner of agriculture.—The commissioner of agriculture shall promulgate and publish such reasonable rules and regulations, with the approval of the governor, for the regulation of such wineries as may be established, and such rules and regulations shall have the force and effect of laws, after the same have been approved by the governor. (1935, c. 393, s. 4.)

§ 18-103. Information furnished farmers. — It shall be the duty of the department of agriculture to disseminate to the farmers of the State in an economical way the best information it can get of the best methods of cultivation of such crops, and the making of such light domestic wines. (1935, c. 393, s. 7.)

§ 18-104. Fruit ciders included.—All the provisions of this article shall also apply to the manufacture of fruit ciders. (1935, c. 393, s. 7½.)

Chapter 19. Offenses against Public Morals.

Sec.
19-1. What are nuisances under this chapter.
19-2. Action for abatement; injunction.
19-3. When triable; evidence; dismissal of complaint.
19-4. Violation of injunction; punishment.
19-5. Order abating nuisance; what it shall contain.
19-6. Application of proceeds of sale.
19-7. How order of abatement may be canceled.
19-8. Attorney's fees may be taxed as costs.

§ 19-1. What are nuisances under this chapter.—Whoever shall erect, establish, continue, maintain, use, own, or lease any building, erection, or place used for the purpose of lewdness, assignation, prostitution, gambling, or illegal sale of whiskey is guilty of nuisance, and the building, erection, or place, or the ground itself, in or upon which such lewdness, assignation, prostitution, gambling, or illegal sale of liquor is conducted, permitted, or carried on, continued, or exists, and the furniture, fixtures, musical instruments and contents, are also declared a nuisance, and shall be enjoined and abated as hereinafter provided. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 25; C. S. 3180.)

§ 19-2. Action for abatement; injunction.—Whenever a nuisance is kept, maintained, or exists as defined in this chapter, the city prosecuting attorney, the solicitor, or any citizen of the county may maintain civil action in the name of the state of North Carolina upon the relation of such city prosecuting attorney, solicitor, or citizen, to perpetually enjoin said nuisance, the person or persons conducting or maintaining the same, and the owner or agent of the building or ground upon which said nuisance exists. In such action the court, or a judge in vacation, shall, upon the presentation of a petition therefor, alleging that the nuisance complained of exists, allow a temporary writ of injunction without bond, if it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the judge by evidence in the form of affidavits, depositions, oral testimony, or otherwise, as complainant may elect, unless the judge, by previous order, shall have directed the form and manner in which it shall be presented. When an injunction has been granted it shall be binding on the defendant throughout the county in which it was issued, and any violation of the provisions of injunction herein provided shall be a contempt, as hereinafter provided. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 26; C. S. 3181.)

§ 19-3. When triable; evidence; dismissal of complaint.—The action when brought shall be triable at the first term of court after service of the summons has been made, and in such action evidence of the general reputation of the place shall be admissible for the purpose of proving the existence of said nuisance. If the complaint is filed by a citizen, it shall not be dismissed except upon a sworn statement made by the complainant and his attorney, setting forth the reason why the action should be dismissed, and the dismissal approved by the city prosecuting attorney, or solicitor, in writing or in open court. If the court is of the opinion that the action ought not to be dismissed, he may direct the city prosecuting attorney, or the solicitor, to prosecute said action to judgment; and if the action continued more than one term of court, any citizen of the county, or the county attorney, may be substituted for the complaining party and prosecute said action to judgment. If the action is brought by a citizen, and the court finds there was no reasonable ground or cause of said action, the costs may be taxed to such citizen. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 27; C. S. 3182.)

§ 19-4. Violation of injunction; punishment.—In case of the violation of any injunction granted under the provisions of this chapter, the court, or, in vacation, a judge thereof, may summarily try and punish the offender. A party found guilty of contempt under the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not less than two hundred or more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than three or more than six months, or by both fine and imprisonment. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 28; C. S. 3183.)

§ 19-5. Order abating nuisance; what it shall contain.—If the existence of the nuisance be established in an action as provided in this chapter, or in a criminal proceeding, an order of abatement shall be entered as a part of the judgment in the cause, which order shall direct the removal from the building or place of all fixtures, furniture, musical instruments, or movable property used in conducting the nuisance, and shall direct the sale thereof in the manner provided for the sale of chattels under execution, and the effectual closing of the building or place against its use for any purpose, and so keeping it closed for a period of one year, unless sooner released. If any person shall break and enter, or use said building, erection, or place so directed to be closed, he shall be punished as for contempt, as provided in the preceding section. For moving and selling the movable property, the officer shall be entitled to charge and receive the same fees as he would for levying upon and selling like property on execution; and for closing the premises and keeping them closed, a reasonable sum shall be allowed by the court. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 29; C. S. 3184.)

§ 19-6. Application of proceeds of sale.—The proceeds of the sale of the personal property as provided in § 19-5 shall be applied in the payment of the costs of action and abatement, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the defendant. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 30; C. S. 3185.)

§ 19-7. How order of abatement may be canceled.—If the owner appears and pays all cost of the proceeding and files a bond, with sureties to be approved by the clerk, in the full value of the property, to be ascertained by the court, or, in vacation, by the clerk of the superior court, conditioned that he will immediately abate said nuisance, and prevent the same from being established or kept within a period of one year thereafter, the court may, if satisfied of his good faith, order the premises closed under the order of abatement to be delivered to said owner, and said order of abatement canceled so far as same may relate to said property; and if the proceeding be a civil action, and said bond be given and costs therein paid before judgment and order of abatement, the action shall be thereby abated as to said building only. The release of the property under the provisions of this section shall not release it from any judgment, lien, penalty, or liability to which it may be subject by law. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 31; C. S. 3186.)

§ 19-8. Attorney's fees may be taxed as costs. —The court shall tax as part of the cost in any action brought hereunder such fee for the attorney prosecuting the action or proceedings as may in the court's discretion be reasonable remuneration for the services performed by such attorney. (1919, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1913, c. 761, s. 32; C. S. 3187.)

Art. 1. Department of Motor Vehicles.

§ 20-1. Department of motor vehicles created; power and duties.—A department of the government of this state, to be known as the department of motor vehicles, is hereby created. It is the intent and purpose of this article, and it shall be liberally construed to accomplish that purpose, to transfer and consolidate under one administrative head in the department of motor vehicles agencies now operated under the department of revenue and dealing with the subject of the regulation of motor vehicular traffic, whether such activities are at present handled directly by the commissioner of revenue or by the motor vehicle bureau, the auto theft bureau, the division of highway safety, the major of the state highway patrol, the officials handling the Uniform Drivers License Act; and the department of motor vehicles shall succeed to and is hereby vested with all the powers, duties and jurisdiction now vested by law in any of said agencies; provided, however, all powers, duties and functions relating to the collection of motor fuel taxes, the inspection of gasoline and oil, and the collection of the gasoline and oil inspection taxes, and the duties, powers and functions arising by virtue of §§ 119-41 and 119-42, relating to the issuance of permits to vehicles engaged in the transportation of petroleum products, shall not be affected by such transfer, but shall continue to be vested in and exercised by the commissioner of revenue, and wherever it is now provided by law that reports shall be filed with the commissioner or department of revenue as a basis for collecting the motor fuel or gasoline and oil inspection taxes, or enforcing any of the laws regarding the motor fuel or gasoline and oil inspection taxes, such reports shall continue to be made to the department of revenue and the commissioner of motor vehicles shall make available to the commissioner of revenue all information from the files of the department of motor vehicles which the commissioner of revenue may request to enable him to better enforce the law with respect to the collection of such taxes: Provided, further, nothing in this article shall deprive the utilities commissioner of any of the duties or powers now vested in him with regard to the regulation of motor vehicle carriers. (1941, c. 36, s. 1.)

§ 20-2. Commissioner of motor vehicles.—The department of motor vehicles shall be under control of an executive officer to be designated as the commissioner of motor vehicles, who shall be appointed by the governor and be responsible directly to the governor and subject to removal by the governor at his discretion and without requirement of the assignment of any cause. The commissioner shall be paid an annual salary to be fixed by the governor, with the approval of the advisory budget commission, payable in monthly installments, and shall likewise be allowed his traveling expenses when away from Raleigh on official business. (1941, c. 36, s. 2.)

§ 20-3. Organization of department; operating funds.—The commissioner shall organize the department in such manner as he may deem necessary properly to segregate and conduct the work of the department; but the work of the department is hereby divided into at least two divisions, to be known respectively as the division of registration and the division of highway safety and patrol. The commissioner shall, as soon as practicable after appointment, prepare a general plan for the organization of the department, which plan shall not be put into effect until approved by the governor and the advisory budget commission, subject to such changes as may be recommended by the governor and approved by the advisory budget commission. The plan of organization herein provided for may increase or decrease the number of persons now assigned to any of the activities transferred to this department, and the titles may be changed. (1941, c. 36, s. 3.)

§ 20-4. Clarification of conflicts as to transfer of functions.—In the event that there shall arise any conflict as to the transfer of any functions from the department of revenue to the department of motor vehicles, the governor of the state is hereby authorized to issue an executive order clarifying and making certain the issue thus arising. (1941, c. 36, s. 5.)

Art. 2. Uniform Driver's License Act.

§ 20-5. Title of article.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Driver's License Act. (1935, c. 52, s. 31.)

§ 20-6. Definitions.—Terms used in this article shall be construed as follows, unless another meaning is clearly apparent from the language or context or unless such construction is inconsistent with the manifest intention of the legislature.

"Highway" shall include any trunk line highway, state aid road or other public highway, road, street, avenue, alley, driveway, parkway, or place, under the control of the state or any political subdivision thereof, dedicated, appropriated or opened to public travel or other use.

"Motor vehicle" shall mean any rubber-tired vehicle propelled or drawn by any power other than muscular, except aircraft, road rollers, street sprinklers, ambulances owned by municipalities, baggage trucks, and tractors used about railroad stations and yards, agricultural tractors, industrial tractors used in and around warehouses and yards, and such vehicles as run only upon rails or tracks.

"Non-resident" shall mean any person whose legal residence is in some state other than North Carolina or in a foreign country.

"Operator" shall mean any person other than a "chauffeur" who shall operate a motor vehicle or who shall be in the driver's seat of a motor vehicle when the engine is running or who shall steer or direct the course of a motor vehicle which is being towed or pushed by another motor vehicle.

"Chauffeur" shall mean every person who is employed for the principal purpose of operating a passenger motor vehicle, except school busses, and every person who drives any motor vehicle while in use as a public or common carrier for persons or property, and this shall apply to city delivery motor vehicles.

"Person" shall include any individual, corporation, association, co-partnership, company, firm or other aggregation of individuals.

"Vehicle" shall include any device suitable for use on the highways for the conveyance, drawing or other transportation of persons or property, except those propelled or drawn by muscular power or those used exclusively upon tracks.

"Department" shall mean the department of motor vehicles. (1935, c. 52, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-7. Operators and chauffeurs must be licensed. — (a) No person except those expressly exempted under § 20-8 shall operate a motor vehicle upon any highway in this State unless such person upon application has been licensed as an operator or chauffeur by the department under the provisions of this article. Provided, that any person over sixteen (16) years of age who has not been refused such license or who has not had such license suspended or revoked may, for a period not exceeding thirty days, operate a motor vehicle, during daylight hours, while under the instruction of and accompanied by a licensed operator or chauffeur, who shall have full control of and responsibility for the motor vehicle as provided by law.

(b) Every application for an operator's or chauffeur's license shall be made upon the approved form furnished by the department and shall be verified by the applicant before a person authorized to administer oaths. All members of the state highway patrol are hereby authorized and directed to administer oaths in the administration of this article, and no fee shall be charged by them for such service.

(c) Before granting an operator's or chauffeur's license to any applicant who has not had previous experience in the operation of a motor vehicle, the department shall require such applicant to demonstrate personally in such manner and to such person or persons as the department may direct, that such applicant is a proper person to operate a motor vehicle, has sufficient knowledge of the mechanism of motor vehicles to insure their safe operation by him, and a satisfactory knowledge of the laws concerning motor vehicles and the rules of the road pertaining to same. Provided that when such applicant shall have held a license from a state where a similar examination is required, the department may waive part or all of such examination, in its discretion. Provided, further, that until November first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, one year's driving experience and freedom from conviction of traffic violations during such year shall be considered prima facie qualification for license as operator.

(d) When the department is satisfied as to the ability and competency of any applicant, it shall issue to him a license, either unlimited or containing such limitations as the department shall deem advisable. If any applicant shall suffer from physical defect or from any disease which might affect the operation by him of a motor vehicle, the department may require a certificate of such applicant's condition signed by medical authority designated by the department, which certificate shall in all cases be treated as confidential. A license containing such limitations as the department shall deem advisable may be issued in any case, but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the department from refusing a license, either limited or unlimited, to any person deemed to be incapable of operating a motor vehicle with safety to himself and to the public. Provided nothing herein shall prohibit deaf persons from operating a motor vehicle who in every other way meet the requirements.

(e) Every operator's or chauffeur's license issued by the department shall bear thereon the distinguishing number assigned to the licensee and shall contain the name, age, residence address and a brief description of the licensee, who, for the purpose of identification and as a condition precedent to the validity of the license, immediately upon receipt thereof, shall endorse his or her regular signature in ink upon the same in the space provided for that purpose. Such license shall be carried by the licensee at all times while engaged in the operation of a motor vehicle. However no person charged with failing to so carry such license shall be convicted, if he produces in court an operator's or chauffeur's license theretofore issued to him and valid at the time of his arrest.

(f) Every chauffeur before operating a motor vehicle as a public or common carrier of persons or property shall apply for and receive from the department a chauffeur's badge and at all times, while so operating a motor vehicle, shall display the same upon his person where it will be plainly visible. Such badges shall be furnished by the department, each bearing thereon the distinguishing number assigned to the licensee.

(g) Any person operating a motor vehicle in violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 2.)

§ 20-8. Persons exempt from license.—The following are exempt from license hereunder:

(a) Any person while operating a motor vehicle the property of, and in the service of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps of the United States. This shall not be construed to exempt any chauffeurs or operators of the United States Civilian Conservation Corps motor vehicles;

(b) Any person while driving or operating any road machine, farm tractor, or implement of husbandry temporarily operated or moved on a highway;

(c) A non-resident who is at least sixteen (16) years of age and who has in his immediate possession a valid operator's license issued to him in his home state or country, may operate a motor vehicle in this state only as an operator;

(d) A non-resident who is at least eighteen (18) years of age and who has in his immediate possession a valid chauffeur's license issued to him in his home state or country may operate a motor vehicle in this state either as an operator or chauffeur except any such person must be licensed as a chauffeur hereunder before accepting employment as a chauffeur from a resident of this state;

(e) Any non-resident who is at least eighteen (18) years of age, whose home state or country does not require the licensing of operators may operate a motor vehicle as an operator only, for a period of not more than ninety (90) days in any calendar year if the motor vehicle so operated is duly registered in the home state or country of such non-resident;

(f) Any non-resident who is at least eighteen (18) years of age, whose home state or country does not require the licensing of chauffeurs may operate a motor vehicle as a chauffeur for a period of not more than ten days in any calendar year if the motor vehicle so operated is duly registered in the home state or country of such non-resident. (1935, c. 52, s. 3.)

§ 20-9. What persons shall not be licensed.—(a) An operator's license shall not be issued to any person under the age of sixteen (16) years, and no chauffeur's license shall be issued to any person under the age of eighteen (18) years.

(b) The department shall not issue an operator's or chauffeur's license to any person whose license, either as operator or chauffeur, has been suspended, during the period for which license was suspended; nor to any person whose license, either as operator or chauffeur, has been revoked under the provisions of this article, until the expiration of one year after such license was revoked.

(c) The department shall not issue an operator's or chauffeur's license to any person whom it has determined is an habitual drunkard or is addicted to the use of narcotic drugs.

(d) No operator's or chauffeur's license shall be issued to any applicant who has been previously adjudged insane or an idiot, imbecile, grand mal epileptic, or feeble-minded, and who has not at the time of such application been restored to competency by judicial decree or released from a hospital for the insane or feeble-minded upon a certificate of the superintendent that such person is competent, nor then unless the department is satisfied that such person is competent to operate a motor vehicle with safety to persons and property.

(e) The department shall not issue an operator's or chauffeur's license to any person when in the opinion of the department such person is afflicted with or suffering from such physical or mental disability or disease as will serve to prevent such person from exercising reasonable and ordinary control over a motor vehicle while operating the same upon the highways, nor shall a license be issued to any person who is unable to understand highway warnings or direction signs. (1935, c. 52, s. 4.)

§ 20-10. Age limits for drivers of public passenger-carrying vehicles.—It shall be unlawful for any person, whether licensed under this article or not, who is under the age of twenty-one years to drive a motor vehicle while in use as a public passenger-carrying vehicle. (1935, c. 52, s. 5.)

§ 20-11. Application of minors. — The department shall not grant the application of any minor between the ages of sixteen (16) and eighteen (18) years for an operator's license unless such application is signed by the father of the applicant, if the father is living and has custody of the applicant, otherwise by the mother or guardian having the custody of such minor, or in the event a minor under the age of eighteen years has no mother, father, or guardian, then the operator's license shall not be granted to the minor unless his application therefor is signed by his employer. (1935, c. 52, s. 6.)

§ 20-12. Instruction. — Any licensed operator or chauffeur may instruct a person who is sixteen or more years of age, during daylight hours, in the operation of a motor vehicle. Any person so instructing another shall be seated as to be within reach of the controls of the motor vehicle and shall be responsible for the operation thereof. (1935, c. 52, s. 7.)

§ 20-13. Expiration of license.—(a) Every operator's license issued hereunder shall be valid until suspended or revoked as provided in this article except that the department shall hereafter, but not more often than once every three years and after public notice, cancel all outstanding operators' licenses and issue in lieu thereof new operators' licenses to persons applying therefor and entitled thereto under the provision of this article. Such licenses shall be issued without fee and without examination except in those instances when the department has reason to believe that the applicant may not be qualified to hold an operator's license under this article.

(b) Every chauffeur's license shall expire June thirtieth each year and shall be renewed annually upon application and payment of fees required by law, provided that the department may in its discretion waive the examination of any such applicant previously licensed as a chauffeur under this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 8.)

§ 20-14. Duplicate certificates and chauffeurs' badges.—In the event that an operator's or chauffeur's license or badge issued under the provisions of this article is lost or destroyed, the person to whom the same was issued may, upon payment of a fee of fifty cents ($.50), obtain a duplicate, or substitute thereof, upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the department that such license or badge has been lost or destroyed. (1935, c. 52, s. 9.)

§ 20-15. Authority of department to cancel license.—(a) The department shall have authorty to cancel any operator's or chauffeur's license upon determining that the licensee was not entitled to the issuance thereof hereunder, or that said licensee failed to give the required or correct information in his application, or committed fraud in making such application.

(b) Upon such cancellation, the licensee must surrender the license so cancelled, together with chauffeur's badge, if any, to the department. (1935, c. 52, s. 10.)

§ 20-16. Authority of department to suspend license.—(a) The department shall have authority to suspend the license of any operator or chauffeur without preliminary hearing upon a showing by its records or other satisfactory evidence that the licensee:

1. Has committed an offense for which mandatory revocation of license is required upon conviction;

2. Has been involved as a driver in any accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another or serious property damage, which accident is obviously the result of the negligence of such driver;

3. Is an habitually reckless or negligent driver of a motor vehicle;

4. Is incompetent to drive a motor vehicle;

5. Is an habitual violator of the traffic laws;

6. Has permitted an unlawful or fraudulent use of such license;

7. Has committed an offense in another state, which if committed in this state would be grounds for suspension or revocation; or

8. Has been convicted of illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors.

(b) Upon suspending the license of any person as hereinbefore in this section authorized, the department shall immediately notify the licensee in writing and upon his request shall afford him an opportunity for a hearing as early as practical within not to exceed twenty (20) days after receipt of such request in the county wherein the licensee resides unless the department and the licensee agree that such hearing may be held in some other county. Upon such hearing the duly authorized agents of the department may administer oaths and may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of relevant books and papers and may require a re-examination of the licensee. Upon such hearing the department shall either rescind its order of suspension, or good cause appearing therefor, may extend the suspension of such license or revoke such license. (1935, c. 52, s. 11.)

§ 20-17. Mandatory revocation of license by department. — (a) The department shall forthwith revoke the license of any operator or chauffeur upon receiving a record of such operator's or chauffeur's conviction for any of the following offenses when such conviction has become final:

1. Manslaughter (or negligent homicide) resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle.

2. Driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a narcotic drug.

3. Any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle is used.

4. Failure to stop and render aid as required under the laws of this State in the event of a motor vehicle accident.

5. Perjury or the making of a false affidavit or statement under oath to the department under this article or under any other law relating to the ownership of motor vehicles.

6. Conviction, or forfeiture of bail not vacated, upon two charges of reckless driving committed within a period of twelve months.

7. Conviction, or forfeiture of bail not vacated, upon one charge of reckless driving while engaged in the illegal transportation of intoxicants for the purpose of sale.

(b) The department, upon receiving a record of the conviction of any person upon a charge of operating a motor vehicle while the license of such person is suspended or revoked, shall immediately extend the period of such first suspension or revocation for an additional like period. (1935, c. 52, s. 12.)

§ 20-18. Conviction for failure to dim, etc., lights not ground for suspension or revocation.—Conviction of the offense of failure to shift, depress, deflect, tilt or dim the beams of the head lamps whenever a motor vehicle meets another vehicle on the highways of this state shall not be cause for the suspension or revocation of the operator's or chauffeur's license under the terms of this article. (1939, c. 351, s. 2.)

§ 20-19. Period of suspension or revocation.—The department shall not suspend a license for a period of more than one year and upon revoking a license shall not in any event grant application for a new license until the expiration of one year. (1935, c. 52, s. 13.)

§ 20-20. Surrender and return of license and badge.—The department upon suspending or revoking a license shall require that such license and the badge of any chauffeur whose license is suspended or revoked shall be surrendered to and be retained by the department except that at the end of a period of suspension such license and any chauffeur's badge so surrendered shall be returned to the licensee. (1935, c. 52, s. 14.)

§ 20-21. No operation under foreign license during suspension or revocation in this state.—Any resident or nonresident whose operator's or chauffeur's license or right or privilege to operate a motor vehicle in this State has been suspended or revoked as provided in this article shall not operate a motor vehicle in this State under a license, permit or registration issued by another jurisdiction or otherwise during such suspension, or after such revocation until a new license is obtained when and as permitted under this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 15.)

§ 20-22. Suspending privileges of nonresidents and reporting convictions.—(a) The privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the highways of this State given to a nonresident hereunder shall be subject to suspension or revocation by the department in like manner and for like cause as an operator's or chauffeur's license issued hereunder may be suspended or revoked.

(b) The department is further authorized, upon receiving a record of the conviction in this State of a non-resident driver of a motor vehicle of any offense under the motor vehicle laws of this State, to forward a certified copy of such record to the motor vehicle administrator in the state wherein the person so convicted is a resident. (1935, c. 52, s. 16.)

§ 20-23. Suspending resident's license upon conviction in another state.—The department is authorized to suspend or revoke the license of any resident of this State upon receiving notice of the conviction of such person in another state of any offense therein which, if committed in this State, would be grounds for the suspension or revocation of the license of an operator or chauffeur. (1935, c. 52, s. 17.)

§ 20-24. When court to forward license to department and report convictions.—(a) Whenever any person is convicted of any violation of the motor vehicle laws of this State, a notation of such conviction shall be entered by the court upon the license of the person so convicted. Whenever any person is convicted of any offense for which this article makes mandatory the revocation of the operator's or chauffeur's license of such person by the department, the court in which such conviction is had shall require the surrender to it of all operator's and chauffeur's licenses then held by the person so convicted and the court shall thereupon forward the same, together with a record of such conviction, to the department.

(b) Every court having jurisdiction over offenses committed under this article, or any other law of this State regulating the operation of motor vehicles on highways, shall forward to the department a record of the conviction of any person in said court for a violation of any said laws, and may recommend the suspension of the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person so convicted.

(c) For the purpose of this article the term "conviction" shall mean a final conviction. Also, for the purposes of this article a forfeiture of bail or collateral deposited to secure a defendant's appearance in court, which forfeiture has not been vacated, shall be equivalent to a conviction.

(d) Pending an appeal, the court from which the appeal is taken shall make such recommendation to the department relative to suspension of license until the appeal shall have been finally determined, as to it may seem just and proper under the circumstances.

(e) After November 1, 1935, no operator's or chauffeur's license shall be suspended or revoked except in accordance with the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 18.)

§ 20-25. Right of appeal to court.—Any person denied a license or whose license has been cancelled, suspended or revoked by the department, except where such cancellation is mandatory under the provisions of this article, shall have a right to file a petition within thirty (30) days thereafter for a hearing in the matter in the superior court of the county wherein such person shall reside, or to the resident judge of the district or judge holding the court of that district, or special or emergency judge holding a court in such district in which the violation was committed, and such court or judge is hereby vested with jurisdiction and it shall be its or his duty to set the matter for hearing upon thirty (30) days written notice to the department, and thereupon to take testimony and examine into the facts of the case, and to determine whether the petitioner is entitled to a license or is subject to suspension, cancellation or revocation of license under the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 19.)

§ 20-26. Records.—The department shall keep a record of proceedings and orders pertaining to all licenses granted, refused, suspended or revoked by the department. It shall furnish without charge, for official use only, certified copies of certificates and licenses and documents relating thereto, to officials of the State, counties and municipalities or to any court in this State. A charge not to exceed one dollar ($1.00) shall be made by the department for copies furnished for other than official use. (1935, c. 52, s. 20.)

§ 20-27. Availability of records. — All records of the department pertaining to application and to operator's and chauffeur's license, except the confidential medical report referred to in section 20-7, of the current or previous five years shall be open to public inspection at any reasonable time during office hours. (1935, c. 52, s. 21.)

§ 20-28. Unlawful to drive while license suspended or revoked.—Any person whose operator's or chauffeur's license has been suspended or revoked, as provided in this article, and who shall drive any motor vehicle upon the highways of this State while such license is suspended or revoked, may be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than six months, and there may be imposed in addition thereto a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00). (1935, c. 52, s. 22.)

§ 20-29. Surrender of license.—Any person operating or in charge of a motor vehicle, when requested by an officer in uniform, or, in the event of accident in which the vehicle which he is operating or in charge of shall be involved, when requested by any other person, who shall refuse to write his name for the purpose of identification or to give his name and address and the name and address of the owner of such vehicle, or who shall give a false name or address, or who shall refuse, on demand of such officer or such other person, to produce his license and exhibit same to such officer or such other person for the purpose of examination, or who shall refuse to surrender his license on demand of the department, or fail to produce same when requested by a court of this State, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 23.)

§ 20-30. Violations of license provisions.—It shall be unlawful for any person to commit any of the following acts:

(a) To display or cause to be displayed or to have in possession any operator's or chauffeur's license, knowing the same to be fictitious or to have been cancelled, revoked, suspended or altered.

(b) To counterfeit, sell, lend to, or knowingly permit the use of, by one not entitled thereto, any operator's or chauffeur's license.

(c) To display or to represent as one's own a license not issued to the person so displaying same.

(e) To use a false or fictitious name or give a false or fictitious address in any application for an operator's or chauffeur's license, or any renewal or duplicate thereof, or knowingly to make a false statement or knowingly conceal a material fact or otherwise commit a fraud in any such application. Any license procured as aforesaid shall be void from the issuance thereof, and any monies paid therefor shall be forfeited to the State. (1935, c. 52, s. 24.)

§ 20-31. Making false affidavits perjury. — Any person who shall make any false affidavit, or shall knowingly swear or affirm falsely, to any matter or thing required by the terms of this article to be sworn to or affirmed shall be guilty of perjury and upon conviction shall be punished by fine or imprisonment as other persons committing perjury are punishable under the laws of this State. (1935, c. 52, s. 25.)

§ 20-32. Unlawful to permit unlicensed minor to drive motor vehicle.—It shall be unlawful for any person to cause or knowingly permit any minor over sixteen and under the age of eighteen years to drive a motor vehicle upon a highway as an operator, unless such minor shall have first obtained a license to so drive a motor vehicle under the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 26.)

§ 20-33. Unlawful to employ unlicensed chauffeur.—No person shall employ any chauffeur to operate a motor vehicle who is not licensed as provided by this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 27.)

§ 20-34. Unlawful to permit violations of this article.—No person shall authorize or knowingly permit a motor vehicle owned by him or under his control to be driven by any person who has no legal right to do so or in violation of any of the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 52, s. 28.)

§ 20-35. Penalties for misdemeanor. — (a) It shall be a misdemeanor to violate any of the provisions of this article unless such violation is by this article or other law of this State declared to be a felony.

(b) Unless another penalty is in this article or by the laws of this State provided, every person convicted of a misdemeanor for the violation of any provision of this article shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six (6) months. (1935, c. 52, s. 29.)

§ 20-36. Fees.—(a) The fees charged for the licenses herein provided for shall be as follows:

For an operator's license the sum of one ($1.00) dollar, which shall continue the license in effect until revoked or cancelled; chauffeur's license two ($2.00) dollars annually, or until revoked: Provided, that no charge shall be made for any private operator's license which shall be applied for prior to November first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

(b) All fees collected under the provisions of this article shall be paid by the commissioner of revenue to the state treasurer to be credited by him to the state highway fund. (1935, c. 52, s. 30.)

§ 20-37. Limitations on issuance of licenses. —There shall be no operator's or chauffeur's license issued within this State other than that provided for in this article, nor shall there be any other examination required. (1935, c. 52, s. 34.)

Art. 3. Motor Vehicle Act of 1937.

Part 1. General Provisions.

§ 20-38. Definition of words and phrases.—The following words and phrases when used in this article shall, for the purpose of this article, have the meanings respectively prescribed to them in this section, except in those instances where the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(a) Business District.—The territory contiguous to a highway where seventy-five per cent or more of the frontage thereon for a distance of three hundred (300) feet or more is occupied by buildings in use for business purposes.

(b) Commissioner.—Commissioner, when herein referred to, shall refer to the commissioner of motor vehicles.

(c) Department.—Department herein used shall mean the department of motor vehicles acting directly or through its duly authorized officers and agents.

(d) Dealer.—Every person engaged in the business of buying, selling, distributing, or exchanging motor vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers in this state, having an established place of business in this state and being subject to the tax levied by § 105-89.

(e) Essential Parts. — All integral and body parts of a vehicle of any type required to be registered hereunder, the removal, alteration or substitution of which would tend to conceal the identity of the vehicle or substantially alter its appearance, model, type, or mode of operation.

(f) Established Place of Business.—The place actually occupied either continuously or at regular periods by a dealer or manufacturer, where his books and records are kept and a large share of his business is transacted.

(g) Explosives. — Any chemical compound or mechanical mixture that is commonly used or intended for the purpose of producing an explosion and which contains any oxidizing and combustive units or other ingredients in such proportions, quantities, or packing that an ignition by fire, by friction, by concussion, by percussion, or by a detonator of any part of the compound or mixture may cause such a sudden generation of highly heated gases that the resultant gaseous presses are capable of producing destructible effects on contiguous objects or of destroying life or limb.

(h) Farm Tractor. — Every motor vehicle designed and used primarily as a farm implement for drawing plows, mowing machines, and other implements of husbandry.

(i) Foreign Vehicle.—Every vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder brought into this state from another state, territory or country, other than in the ordinary course of business, by or through a manufacturer or dealer and not registered in this state.

(j) House Trailer.—Any trailer or semi-trailer so designed and equipped as to provide living and/or sleeping facilities and drawn by a motor vehicle.

(k) Implement of Husbandry. — Every vehicle which is designed for agricultural purposes and used exclusively in the conduct of agricultural operations.

(l) Intersection.—The area embraced within the prolongation of the lateral curb lines or, if none, then the lateral boundary lines of two or more highways which join one another at any angle whether or not one such highway crosses the other.

(m) Local Authorities.—Every county, municipality, or other territorial district with local board or body having authority to adopt local police regulations under the constitution and laws of this state.

(n) Manufacturer.—Every person engaged in the business of manufacturing motor vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers.

(o) Metal Tire. — Every tire the surface of which in contact with the highway is wholly or partly of metal or other hard, non-resilient material.

(p) Motor Vehicle. — Every vehicle which is self-propelled and every vehicle which is propelled by electric power obtained from trolley wires but not operated upon rails, and every vehicle designed to run upon the highways which is pulled by a self-propelled vehicle.

(q) Passenger Vehicles. — (1) Excursion passenger vehicles.

Passenger vehicles kept in use for the purpose of transporting persons on sight-seeing or travel tours.

(2) For hire passenger vehicles.

Passenger motor vehicles engaged in the business of transporting passengers for compensation; but this classification shall not include motor vehicles of seven-passenger capacity or less operated by the owner where the cost of operation is shared by neighbor fellow workmen between their homes and the place of regular daily employment, when operated for not more than two trips each way per day.

(3) Franchise bus carriers.

Passenger motor vehicles operated under a franchise certificate issued by the utilities commission under §§ 62-103 to 62-121, for operation on the public highways of this state between fixed termini or over a regular route for the transportation of persons or property for compensation.

(4) Motorcycle.

Every motor vehicle having a saddle for the use of the rider and designed to travel on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground, but excluding a tractor.

(5) U-Drive-It passenger vehicles.

Passenger motor vehicles used for the purpose of rent or lease to be operated by the lessee.

(6) Private passenger vehicles.

All other passenger vehicles not included in the above definitions.

(r) Property-Hauling Vehicles. — (1) Contract hauler vehicles.

Motor vehicles used for the transportation of property for hire, but not licensed as franchise hauler vehicles under the provisions of §§ 62-103 to 62-121: Provided, it shall not be construed to include the transportation of farm crops or products, including logs, bark, pulp and tannic acid wood delivered from farms and forests to the first or primary market. Provided further, that the term "for hire" as used herein shall include every arrangement by which the owner of a motor vehicle uses, or permits such vehicle to be used, for the transportation of the property of another for compensation, subject to the exemptions aforesaid. Provided, however, that the term "for hire" shall not include motor vehicles whose sole operation in carrying the property of others is limited to the transportation of T. V. A. or A. A. A. phosphate, and/or agricultural limestone in bulk which is furnished as a grant of aid under the United States agricultural adjustment administration.

(2) Franchise hauler vehicles.

Every motor vehicle used for the transportation of property between fixed termini, or over a regular route, with the right to make occasional trips off said route as provided in §§ 62-103 to 62-121: Provided, only such vehicles shall be so classified as the utilities commission shall determine to be reasonably necessary for the proper handling of the business on said route, and the determination so arrived at shall be duly certified by the utilities commissioner to the motor vehicle bureau.

(3) Private hauler vehicles.

All motor vehicles used for the transportation of property not falling within one of the above defined classifications.

(4) Semi-Trailer.

Every vehicle without motive power designed for carrying property or persons and for being drawn by a motor vehicle, and so constructed that part of its weight and/or its load rests upon or is carried by the pulling vehicle.

(5) Trailers.

Every vehicle without motive power designed for carrying property or persons wholly on its own structure and to be drawn by a motor vehicle. This shall include so-called pole trailers or a pair of wheels used primarily to balance a load, rather than for purposes of transportation.

(s) Non-Resident.—Every person who is not a resident of this state.

(t) Owner.—A person who holds the legal title of a vehicle or, in the event a vehicle is subject to an agreement for conditional sale or lease thereof, with the right of purchase upon performance of the conditions stated in the agreement and with the immediate right of possession vested in the original vendee or lessee; or, in the event a mortgagor of a vehicle is entitled to possession, then such conditional vendee or lessee or mortgagor shall be deemed the owner for the purpose of this article.

(u) Person.—Every natural person, firm, copartnership, association, corporation, or governmental agency.

(v) Pneumatic Tire.—Every tire in which compressed air is designed to support the load.

(w) Private Road or Driveway.—Every road or driveway not open to the use of the public as a matter of right for the purpose of vehicular traffic.

(w)1. Residential District.—The territory contiguous to a highway not comprising a business district, where seventy-five per cent or more of the frontage thereon for a distance of three hundred (300) feet or more is mainly occupied by dwellings or by dwellings and buildings in use for business purposes.

(x) Reconstructed Vehicle.—Every vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder materially altered from its original construction by the removal, addition, or substitution of essential parts, new or used.

(y) Road Tractor.—Every motor vehicle designed and used for drawing other vehicles upon the highway and not so constructed as to carry any part of the load, either independently or as a part of the weight of the vehicle so drawn.

(z) Safety Zone.—The area or space officially set aside within a highway for the exclusive use of pedestrians and which is so plainly marked or indicated by proper signs as to be plainly visible at all times while set apart as a safety zone.

(aa) Specially Constructed Vehicles. — Every vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder not originally constructed under a distinctive name, make, model, or type by a generally recognized manufacturer of vehicles and not materially altered from its original construction.

(bb) Special Mobile Equipment.—Every vehicle not designed or used primarily for the transportation of persons or property, but incidentally operated or moved over the highways, such as farm tractors, road construction or maintenance machinery, ditch-digging apparatus, well-boring apparatus, and concrete mixers. The foregoing enumeration shall be deemed partial and shall not operate to exclude other vehicles which are within the general terms of this section.

(cc) Street and Highway.—The entire width between property lines of every way or place of whatever nature, when any part thereof is open to the use of the public as a matter of right for the purposes of vehicular traffic.

(dd) Solid Tire.—Every tire of rubber or other resilient material which does not depend upon compressed air for the support of the load.

(ee) Truck Tractor. — Every motor vehicle designed and used primarily for drawing other vehicles and not so constructed as to carry any load independent of the vehicle so drawn.

(ff) Vehicle. — Every device in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway, excepting devices moved by human power or used exclusively upon fixed rails or tracks; provided, that for the purposes of this article bicycles shall be deemed vehicles, and every rider of a bicycle upon a highway shall be subject to the provisions of this article applicable to the driver of a vehicle except those which by their nature can have no application. (1937, c. 407, s. 2; 1939, c. 275; 1941, cc. 22, 36, 196.)

Part 2. Authority and Duties of Commissioner and Department.

§ 20-39. Administering and enforcing laws; rules and regulations; agents, etc.; seal.—(a) The commissioner is hereby vested with the power and is charged with the duty of administering and enforcing the provisions of this article and of all laws regulating the operation of vehicles or the use of the highways, the enforcement or administration of which is now or hereafter vested in the department.

(b) The commissioner is hereby authorized to adopt and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article and any other laws the enforcement and administration of which are vested in the department.

(c) The commissioner is authorized to designate and appoint such agents, field deputies, and clerks as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

(d) The commissioner shall adopt an official seal for the use of the department. (1937, c. 407, s. 4.)

§ 20-40. Offices of department.—The commissioner shall maintain an office in Raleigh, North Carolina, and in such places in the state as he shall deem necessary to properly carry out the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 5.)

§ 20-41. Commissioner to provide forms required.—The commissioner shall provide suitable forms for applications, certificates of title and registration cards, registration number plates and all other forms requisite for the purpose of this article, and shall prepay all transportation charges thereon. (1937, c. 407, s. 6.)

§ 20-42. Authority to administer oaths and certify copies of records.—(a) Officers and employees of the department designated by the commissioner are, for the purpose of administering the motor vehicle laws, authorized to administer oaths and acknowledge signatures, and shall do so without fee.

(b) The commissioner and such officers of the department as he may designate are hereby authorized to prepare under the seal of the department and deliver upon request a certified copy of any record of the department, charging a fee of fifty cents (50c) for each document so authenticated, and every such certified copy shall be admissible in any proceeding in any court in like manner as the original thereof. (1937, c. 407, s. 7.)

§ 20-43. Records of department.—(a) All records of the department, other than those declared by law to be confidential for the use of the department, shall be open to public inspection during office hours.

(b) The commissioner may destroy any registration records of the department which have been maintained on file for three years which he may deem obsolete and of no further service in carrying out the powers and duties of the department. (1937, c. 407, s. 8).

§ 20-44. Authority to grant or refuse applications.—The department shall examine and determine the genuineness, regularity and legality of every application for registration of a vehicle and for a certificate of title therefor, and of any other application lawfully made in the department, and may in all cases make investigation as may be deemed necessary or require additional information, and shall reject any such application if not satisfied of the genuineness, regularity, or legality thereof or the truth of any statement contained therein, or for any other reason, when authorized by law. (1937, c. 407, s. 9.)

§ 20-45. Seizure of documents and plates.—The department is hereby authorized to take possession of any certificate of title, registration card, permit, license, or registration plate issued by it upon expiration, revocation, cancellation, or suspension thereof, or which is fictitious, or which has been unlawfully or erroneously issued, or which has been unlawfully used. (1937, c. 407, s. 10.)

§ 20-46. Distribution of synopsis of laws.—The department may publish a synopsis or summary of the laws of this state regulating the operation of vehicles, and deliver to any person on request a copy thereof without charge. (1937, c. 407, s. 11.)

§ 20-47. Department may summon witnesses and take testimony.—(a) The commissioner and officers of the department designated by him shall have authority to summon witnesses to give testimony under oath or to give written deposition upon any matter under the jurisdiction of the department. Such summons may require the production of relevant books, papers, or records.

(b) Every such summons shall be served at least five days before the return date, either by personal service made by any person over eighteen years of age or by registered mail, but return acknowledgment is required to prove such latter service. Failure to obey such a summons so served shall constitute a misdemeanor. The fees for the attendance and travel of witnesses shall be the same as for witnesses before the superior court.

(c) The superior court shall have jurisdiction, upon application by the commissioner, to enforce all lawful orders of the commissioner under this section. (1937, c. 407, s. 12.)

§ 20-48. Giving of notice.—Whenever the department is authorized or required to give any notice under this article or other law regulating the operation of vehicles, unless a different method of giving such notice is otherwise expressly prescribed, such notice shall be given either by personal delivery thereof to the person to be so notified or by deposit in the United States mail of such notice in an envelope with postage prepaid, addressed to such person at his address as shown by the records of the department. The giving of notice by mail is complete upon the expiration of four days after such deposit of such notice. Proof of the giving of notice in either such manner may be made by the certificate of any officer or employee of the department or affidavit of any person over twenty-one years of age, naming the person to whom such notice was given and specifying the time, place, and manner of the giving thereof. (1937, c. 407, s. 13.)

§ 20-49. Police authority of department.—The commissioner and such officers and inspectors of the department as he shall designate and all members of the highway patrol shall have the power:

(a) Of peace officers for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this article and of any other law regulating the operation of vehicles or the use of the highways.

(b) To make arrests upon view and without warrant for any violation committed in their presence of any of the provisions of this article or other laws regulating the operation of vehicles or the use of the highways.

(c) At all times to direct all traffic in conformance with law, and in the event of a fire or other emergency or to expedite traffic or to insure safety, to direct traffic as conditions may require, notwithstanding the provisions of law.

(d) When on duty, upon reasonable belief that any vehicle is being operated in violation of any provision of this article or of any other law regulating the operation of vehicles to require the driver thereof to stop and exhibit his driver's license and the registration card issued for the vehicle, and submit to an inspection of such vehicle, the registration plates and registration card thereon or to an inspection and test of the equipment of such vehicle.

(e) To inspect any vehicle of a type required to be registered hereunder in any public garage or repair shop or in any place where such vehicles are held for sale or wrecking, for the purpose of locating stolen vehicles and investigating the title and registration thereof.

(f) To serve all warrants relating to the enforcement of the laws regulating the operation of vehicles or the use of the highways.

(g) To investigate traffic accidents and secure testimony of witnesses or of persons involved.

(h) To investigate reported thefts of motor vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers. (1937, c. 407, s. 14.)

Part 3. Registration and Certificates of Titles of Motor Vehicles.

§ 20-50. Owner to secure registration and certificate of title.—Every owner of a vehicle intended to be operated upon any highway of this state and required by this article to be registered shall, before the same is so operated, apply to the department for and obtain the registration thereof, the registration plates therefor, and a certificate of title therefor, and attach the registration plates to the vehicle, except when an owner is permitted to operate a vehicle under the registration provisions relating to manufacturers, dealers and nonresidents contained in § 20-79: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall require the application for or the issuance of a certificate of title for a trailer, or semi-trailer, though, before operating a trailer or semi-trailer upon the highways of the state, the owner thereof must obtain the registration thereof and pay the registration fees as now provided by part seven of this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 15.)

§ 20-51. Exempt from registration.—The following shall be exempt from the requirement of registration and certificate of title: (a) Any such vehicle driven or moved upon a highway in conformance with the provisions of this article relating to manufacturers, dealers, or nonresidents.

(b) Any such vehicle which is driven or moved upon a highway only for the purpose of crossing such highway from one property to another.

(c) Any implement of husbandry, whether of a type otherwise subject to registration hereunder or not, which is only incidentally operated or moved upon a highway.

(d) Any special mobile equipment as herein defined.

No certificate of title need be obtained for any vehicle of a type subject to registration owned by the government of the United States. (1937, c. 407, s. 16.)

§ 20-52. Application for registration and certificate of title.—(a) Every owner of a vehicle subject to registration hereunder shall make application to the department for the registration thereof and issuance of a certificate of title for such vehicle upon the appropriate form or forms furnished by the department, and every such application shall bear the signature of the owner written with pen and ink, and said signature shall be acknowledged by the owner before a person authorized to administer oaths, and said application shall contain:

1. The name, bona fide residence and mail address of the owner or business address of the owner if a firm, association or corporation;

2. A description of the vehicle, including, in so far as the hereinafter specified data may exist with respect to a given vehicle, the make, model, type of body, the serial number of the vehicle, the engine and other identifying numbers of the vehicle and whether new or used, and if a new vehicle, the date of sale and actual date of delivery of vehicle by the manufacturer or dealer to the person intending to operate such vehicle;

3. A statement of the applicant's title and of all liens or encumbrances upon said vehicle and the names and addresses of all persons having any interest therein and the nature of every such interest;

4. Such further information as may reasonably be required by the department to enable it to determine whether the vehicle is lawfully entitled to registration and the owner entitled to a certificate of title.

(b) When such application refers to a new or foreign vehicle purchased from a dealer, the application shall be accompanied by an application for certificate of title in the name of the dealer containing the description of vehicle, statement of dealer's title and all liens or encumbrances upon said vehicle, the name and address of person to whom sold, date of sale, actual date vehicle was delivered to purchaser, and such other information as may be required by the department. (1937, c. 407, s. 17.)

§ 20-53. Application for specially constructed, reconstructed, or foreign vehicle.—(a) In the event the vehicle to be registered is a specially constructed, reconstructed, or foreign vehicle, such fact shall be stated in the application, and with reference to every foreign vehicle which has been registered outside of this state, the owner shall surrender to the department all registration cards and certificates of title or other evidence of such foreign registration as may be in his possession or under his control, except as provided in sub-division (b) hereof.

(b) Where, in the course of interstate operation of a vehicle registered in another state, it is desirable to retain registration of said vehicle in such other state, such applicant need not surrender, but shall submit for inspection said evidence of such foreign registration, and the department in its discretion, and upon a proper showing, shall register said vehicle in this state but shall not issue a certificate of title for such vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 18.)

§ 20-54. Authority for refusing registration or certificate of title.—The department shall refuse registration or issuance of a certificate of title or any transfer of registration upon any of the following grounds:

(a) That the application contains any false or fraudulent statement or that the applicant has failed to furnish required information or reasonable additional information requested by the department or that the applicant is not entitled to the issuance of a certificate of title or registration of the vehicle under this article;

(b) That the vehicle is mechanically unfit or unsafe to be operated or moved upon the highways;

(c) That the department has reasonable ground to believe that the vehicle is a stolen or embezzled vehicle, or that the granting of registration or the issuance of a certificate of title would constitute a fraud against the rightful owner or other person having valid lien upon such vehicle;

(d) That the registration of the vehicle stands suspended or revoked for any reason as provided in the motor vehicle laws of this state;

(e) That the required fee has not been paid. (1937, c. 407, s. 19.)

§ 20-55. Examination of registration records and index of stolen and recovered vehicles.—The department, upon receiving application for any transfer of registration or for original registration of a vehicle, other than a new vehicle sold by a North Carolina dealer, shall first check the engine and serial numbers shown in the application against the indexes of registered motor vehicles, and against the index of stolen and recovered motor vehicles required to be maintained by this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 20.)

§ 20-56. Registration indexes.—The department shall file each application received, and when satisfied as to the genuineness and regularity thereof, and that the applicant is entitled to register such vehicle and to the issuance of a certificate of title, shall register the vehicle therein described and keep a record thereof in suitable books or on index cards as follows:

(a) Under a distinctive registration number assigned to the vehicle;

(b) Alphabetically, under the name of the owner;

(c) Under the motor number, if available; otherwise any other identifying number of the vehicle: and

(d) In the discretion of the department, in any other manner it may deem advisable. (1937, c. 407, s. 20½.)

§ 20-57. The department to issue certificate of title and registration card.—(a) The department upon registering a vehicle shall issue a registration card and a certificate of title as separate documents.

(b) The registration card shall be delivered to the owner and shall contain upon the face thereof the name and address of the owner, space for owner's signature, the registration number assigned to the vehicle, and such description of the vehicle as determined by the commissioner, and upon the reverse side a form for endorsement of notice to the department upon transfer of the vehicle.

(c) Every owner, upon receipt of a registration card, shall write his signature thereon with pen and ink in the space provided. Every such registration card shall at all times be carried in the vehicle to which it refers, or shall be carried by the person operating or in control of such vehicle, who shall display the same upon demand of any peace officer or any officer of the department.

(d) The certificate of title shall contain upon the face thereof the identical information required upon the face of the registration card, and in addition thereto the date of issuance and a statement of the owner's title and of all liens and encumbrances upon the vehicle therein described, and whether possession is held by the owner under a lease, contract or conditional sale, or other like agreement.

(e) The certificate of title shall also contain upon the reverse side form of assignment of title or interest and warranty thereof, with space for notation of liens and encumbrances upon such vehicle at the time of a transfer.

(f) Certificates of title upon which liens or encumbrances are shown shall be delivered or mailed by the department to the holder of the first lien or encumbrance.

(g) Certificates of title shall bear thereon the seal of the department.

(h) Certificates of title need not be renewed annually, but shall remain valid until canceled by the department for cause or upon a transfer of any interest shown therein. (1937, c. 407, s. 21.)

§ 20-58. Release by lien holder to owner.—(a) A person holding a lien or encumbrance as shown upon a certificate of title upon a vehicle may release such lien or encumbrance or assign his interest to the owner without affecting the registration of said vehicle. The department, upon receiving a certificate of title upon which a lien holder has released or assigned his interest to the owner or upon receipt of a certificate of title not so endorsed, but accompanied by a legal release from a lien holder of his interest in or to a vehicle, shall issue a new certificate of title as upon an application for duplicate certificate of title.

(b) Any lien in favor of any person, firm or corporation which, since notice of such lien to the department has dissolved, ceased to do business, or gone out of business for any reason whatsoever, and which shall remain of record in the department as a notice of lien of such person, firm or corporation for a period of more than three years from the date of notice, shall become null and void and of no further force and effect as it relates to the issuance or transfer of title by the department. (1937, c. 407, s. 22.)

§ 20-59. Unlawful for lienor who holds certificate of title not to surrender same when lien satisfied.—It shall be unlawful and constitute a misdemeanor for a lienor who holds a certificate of title as provided in this article to refuse or fail to surrender such certificate of title to the person legally entitled thereto, when called upon by such person, within ten days after his lien shall have been paid and satisfied, and any person convicted under this section shall be fined not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1937, c. 407, s. 23.)

§ 20-60. Owner after transfer not liable for negligent operation.—The owner of a motor vehicle who has made a bona fide sale or transfer of his title or interest, and who has delivered possession of such vehicle and the certificate of title thereto properly endorsed to the purchaser or transferee, shall not be liable for any damages thereafter resulting from negligent operation of such vehicle by another. (1937, c. 407, s. 24.)

§ 20-61. Owner dismantling or wrecking vehicle to return evidence of registration. — Any owner dismantling or wrecking any vehicle shall forward to the department the certificate of title, registration card and/or other proof of ownership, and the registration plate or plates last issued for such vehicle. No person, firm or corporation shall dismantle or wreck any motor vehicle without first complying with the requirements of this section. (1937, c. 407, s. 25.)

§ 20-62. Sale of motor vehicles to be dismantled.—Any owner who sells a motor vehicle as scrap or to be dismantled or destroyed shall assign the certificate of title thereto to the purchaser, and shall deliver such certificate so assigned to the department with an application for a permit to dismantle such vehicle. The department shall thereupon issue to the purchaser a permit to dismantle the same, which shall authorize such person to possess or transport such vehicle or to transfer ownership thereto by endorsement upon such permit. A certificate of title shall not again be issued for such motor vehicle in the event it is scrapped, dismantled, or destroyed. In any case, where the owner for any reason fails to send in title for a junked or dismantled vehicle, the department shall have authority to take possession of such title for cancellation. (1937, c. 407, s. 26.)

§ 20-63. Registration plates to be furnished by the department.—(a) The department upon registering a vehicle shall issue to the owner one registration plate for a motorcycle, trailer or semi-trailer and two registration plates for every other motor vehicle. Registration plates issued by the department under this article shall be and remain the property of the state, and it shall be lawful for the commissioner or his duly authorized agents to summarily take possession of any plate or plates which he has reason to believe is being illegally used, and to keep in his possession such plate or plates pending investigation and legal disposition of the same.

(b) Every registration plate shall have displayed upon it the registration number assigned to the vehicle for which it is issued, also the name of the state of North Carolina, which may be abbreviated, and the year number for which it is issued or the date of expiration thereof.

(c) Such registration plate and the required numerals thereon, except the year number for which issued, shall be of sufficient size to be plainly readable from a distance of one hundred feet during daylight.

(d) Registration plates issued for a motor vehicle other than a motorcycle, trailer or semi-trailer shall be attached thereto, one in the front and the other in the rear. The registration plate issued for a motorcycle, trailer or semi-trailer shall be attached to the rear thereof.

(e) Preservation and cleaning of registration plates: It shall be the duty of each and every registered owner of a motor vehicle to keep the registration plates assigned to such motor vehicle reasonably clean and free from dust and dirt, and such registered owner, or any person in his employ, or who operates such motor vehicle by his authority, shall, upon the request of any proper officer, immediately clean such registration plates so that the numbers thereon may be readily distinguished, and any person who shall neglect or refuse to so clean a registration plate, after having been requested to do so, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days.

(f) Operating with false numbers. Any person who shall wilfully, and with intent to defraud the state of registration fees, operate a motor vehicle with a registration plate which has been repainted or altered or forged, or which was issued by the commissioner for a motor vehicle other than the one on which used, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(g) Alteration, disguise, or concealment of numbers. Any operator of a motor vehicle who shall wilfully and with intent to conceal the identity of such motor vehicle or the identity of the registered owner thereof, mutilate, bend, twist, cover or cause to be covered or partially covered by any bumper, light, spare tire, tire rack, strap, or other device, or who shall paint, enamel, emboss, stamp, print, perforate, or alter or add to or cut off any part or portion of a registration plate or the figures or letters thereon, or who shall place or deposit or cause to be placed or deposited any oil, grease, or other substance upon such registration plates for the purpose of making dust adhere thereto, or who shall deface, disfigure, change, or attempt to change any letter or figure thereon, or who shall display a number plate in other than a horizontal upright position, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1937, c. 407, s. 27.)

§ 20-64. Transfer of registration plates. — (a) Registration plates issued by the department for vehicles privately owned and operated shall not be transferred from one vehicle to another, but shall be assigned and transferred from one owner to another, upon the assignment of title as required by this article, and shall remain on the vehicle for which originally issued.

(b) Registration plates issued by the department for vehicles owned and operated by the state or any department thereof, or by any county, city or town, school district or other political subdivision of the state, shall not be assigned and transferred from one owner to another, but shall be retained by the owner to whom originally issued, and may be used by the owner on another vehicle: Provided, that the owner shall make application to the department for said transfer and comply with the requirements of this article relative to certificate of title for vehicle the registration plates are to be transferred to.

(c) Registration plates issued by the department for vehicles operated for hire shall be subject to the same transfer provision as of vehicles owned by the state or any department thereof as set forth in subsection (b) of this section. (1937, c. 407, s. 28.)

§ 20-65. Expiration of registration.—Every vehicle registration under this article and every registration card and registration plate issued hereunder shall expire at midnight on the thirty-first day of December of each year. (1937, c. 407, s. 29.)

§ 20-66. Application for renewal of registration.—(a) Application for renewal of a vehicle registration shall be made by the owner upon proper application and by payment of the registration fee for such vehicle, as provided by law.

(b) The department may receive applications for renewal of registration and grant the same, and issue new registration cards and plates at any time prior to expiration of registration, but no person shall display upon a vehicle the new registration plates prior to December first. (1937, c. 407, s. 30.)

§ 20-67. Notice of change of address or name.—(a) Whenever any person, after making application for or obtaining the registration of a vehicle or a certificate of title, shall move from the address named in the application or shown upon a registration card or certificate of title, such person shall within ten days thereafter notify the department in writing of his old and new addresses.

(b) Whenever the name of any person who has made application for or obtained the registration of a vehicle or a certificate of title is thereafter changed by marriage or otherwise, such person shall within ten days notify the department of such former and new name. (1937, c. 407, s. 31.)

§ 20-68. Replacement of lost or damaged certificates, cards and plates.—(a) In the event any registration card or registration plate is lost, mutilated, or becomes illegible, the owner or legal representative of the owner of the vehicle for which the same was issued, as shown by the records of the department, shall immediately make application for and may obtain a duplicate or a substitute or a new registration under a new registration number, as determined to be most advisable by the department, upon the applicant's furnishing under oath information satisfactory to the department and payment of required fee.

(b) When a dealer acquires a motor vehicle which has been previously licensed, he should advise the party from whom he acquires the vehicle as to the provisions of the law which require that party to report to the motor vehicle bureau the sale or disposal of the vehicle. If the dealer wishes to have the license transferred to his name he may do so, but this is optional with him. However, should the license plate or plates be lost or destroyed while the vehicle is in the possession of the dealer, no replacement may be issued unless and until license and title has been transferred to the dealer. Nor shall any subsequent owner secure replacement plates until application for transfer of title and license has been made.

(c) In the event any certificate of title is lost, mutilated, or becomes illegible, the owner or legal representative of the owner of the vehicle for which the same was issued, as shown by the records of the department, shall immediately make application for and may obtain a duplicate upon the applicant furnishing under oath information satisfactory to the department and payment of required fee. Upon issuance of any duplicate certificate of title the previous certificate last issued shall be void. (1937, c. 407, s. 32.)

§ 20-69. Department authorized to assign new engine number.—The owner of a motor vehicle upon which the engine number or serial number has become illegible or has been removed or obliterated shall immediately make application to the department for a new engine or serial number for such motor vehicle. The department, when satisfied that the applicant is the lawful owner of the vehicle referred to in such application is hereby authorized to assign a new engine or serial number thereto, and shall require that such number, together with the name of this state, or a symbol indicating this state, be stamped upon the engine, or in the event such number is a serial number, then upon such portion of the motor vehicle as shall be designated by the department. (1937, c. 407, s. 33.)

§ 20-70. Department to be notified when another engine is installed.—(a) Whenever a motor vehicle registered hereunder is altered by the installation of another engine in place of an engine, the number of which is shown in the registration records, the owner of such motor vehicle shall immediately give notice to the department in writing on a form prepared by it, which shall state the number of the former engine and the number of the newly installed engine, the registration number of the motor vehicle, the name of the owner and any other information which the department may require. Whenever another engine has been substituted as provided in this section, and the notice given as required hereunder, the department shall insert the number of the newly installed engine upon the registration card and certificate of title issued for such motor vehicle.

(b) Whenever a new engine or serial number has been assigned to and stamped upon a motor vehicle as provided in section 20-69, or whenever a new engine has been installed as provided in this section, the department shall require the owner to surrender to the department the registration card and certificate of title previously issued for said vehicle. The department shall also require the owner to make application for a duplicate registration card and a duplicate certificate of title showing the new motor or serial number thereon, and upon receipt of such application and fee, as for any other duplicate title, the department shall issue to said owner a duplicate registration and a duplicate certificate of title showing thereon the new number in place of the original number. (1937, c. 407, s. 34.)

§ 20-71. Altering or forging certificate of title a felony.—Any person who shall alter with fraudulent intent any certificate of title or registration card issued by the department, or forge or counterfeit any certificate of title or registration card purporting to have been issued by the department under the provisions of this article, or who shall alter or falsify with fraudulent intent or forge any assignment thereof, or who shall hold or use any such certificate, registration card or assignment knowing the same to have been altered, forged or falsified, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 407, s. 35.)

Part 4. Transfer of Title or Interest.

§ 20-72. Transfer by owner.—(a) Whenever the owner of a registered vehicle transfers or assigns his title or interest thereto, he shall endorse upon the reverse side of the registration card issued for such vehicle the name and address of the transferee and the date of transfer, and shall immediately forward such card to the department.

(b) The owner of any vehicle registered under the foregoing provisions of this article, transferring or assigning his title or interest thereto, shall also endorse an assignment and warranty of title in form approved by the department upon the reverse side of the certificate of title or execute an assignment and warranty of title of such vehicle and a statement of all liens or encumbrances thereon, which statement shall be verified under oath by the owner, who shall deliver the certificate of title to the purchaser or transferee at the time of delivering the vehicle, except that where a deed of trust, mortgage, conditional sale or title retaining contract is obtained from purchaser or transferee in payment of purchase price or otherwise, the lien holder shall forward such certificate of title papers to the department within twenty days, together with necessary fees, or deliver such papers to the purchaser at the time of delivering the vehicle, as he may elect, but in either event the penalty provided in section 20-74 shall apply if application for transfer is not made within twenty days. (1937, c. 407, s. 36.)

§ 20-73. New owner to secure transfer of registration and new certificate of title.—The transferee within twenty days after the purchase shall apply to the department for a transfer of registration of the vehicle and shall present the certificate of title endorsed and assigned as hereinbefore provided to the department, and make application for and obtain a new certificate of title for such vehicle except as otherwise permitted in sections 20-75 and 20-76. (1937, c. 407, s. 37; 1939, c. 275.)

§ 20-74. Penalty for failure to make application for transfer within the time specified by law.—It is the intent and purpose of this article that every new owner or purchaser of a vehicle previously registered shall make application for transfer of title and registration within twenty days after acquiring same, or see that such application is sent in by the lien holder with proper fees, and responsibility for such transfer shall rest on the purchaser. Any person, firm or corporation failing to do so shall pay a penalty of two dollars ($2.00) in addition to the fees otherwise provided in this article. It is further provided that any dealer or owner who shall knowingly make any false statement in any application required by this department as to the date a vehicle was sold or acquired shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisoned not more than thirty days. All moneys collected under this section shall go to the state highway fund. (1937, c. 407, s. 38; 1939, c. 275.)

§ 20-75. When transferee is a dealer.—When the transferee of a vehicle is a dealer who holds the same for resale and operates the same only for purposes of demonstration under a dealer's number plate such transferee shall not be required to register such vehicle nor forward the certificate of title to the department as provided in section 20-73, but such transferee, upon transferring his title or interest to another person, shall give notice of such transfer to the department and shall execute and acknowledge an assignment and warranty of title in form approved by the department, and deliver the same to the person to whom such transfer is made at the same time the vehicle is delivered, except as provided in section 20-72, sub-section (b). (1937, c. 407, s. 39.)

§ 20-76. Title lost or unlawfully detained.—Whenever the applicant for the registration of a vehicle or a new certificate of title thereto is unable to present a certificate of title thereto by reason of the same being lost or unlawfully detained by one in possession, or the same is otherwise not available, the department is hereby authorized to receive such application and to examine into the circumstances of the case, and may require the filing of affidavits or other information; and when the department is satisfied that the applicant is entitled thereto is hereby authorized to register such vehicle and issue a new registration card, registration plate or plates and certificates of title to the person entitled thereto, upon payment of proper fee for duplicate title and/or replacement. (1937, c. 407, s. 40.)

§ 20-77. Transfer by operation of law.—(a) Whenever the title or interest of an owner in or to a vehicle shall pass to another by operation of law, as upon order in bankruptcy, execution sale, repossession upon default in performing the terms of a lease or executory sales contract, or otherwise than by voluntary transfer, the transferee shall secure a transfer of registration to himself and a new certificate of title upon proper application, payment of the fees provided by law, and presentation of the last certificate of title, if available and such instruments or documents of authority or certified copies thereof as may be sufficient or required by law to evidence or effect a transfer of interest in or to chattels in such cases: Provided, however, transfers of registration shall only be made as provided for in § 20-64, sub-sections (a), (b) and (c).

(b) In the event of transfer as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, the department shall, upon receipt of a certified copy of a will, letters of administration and/or a certificate from the clerk of the superior court showing that the motor vehicle registered in the name of the decedent owner has been assigned to his widow as part of her year's support, transfer both title and license as otherwise provided for transfers. However, if no administrator has qualified or the clerk of the superior court refuses to issue a certificate, the department may upon affidavit showing satisfactory reasons therefor effect such transfer, but the new title so issued shall not affect the validity nor be in prejudice of any creditor's lien.

(c) Mechanic's or Storage Lien.—In any case where a vehicle is sold under a mechanic's or storage lien, the department shall be given a thirty-day notice as provided in § 20-114. (1937, c. 407, s. 41.)

§ 20-78. When department to tansfer registration and issue new certificate.—(a) The department, upon receipt of a properly endorsed certificate of title and application for transfer of registration, accompanied by the required fee, shall transfer the registration thereof under its registration number to the new owner, and shall issue a new registration card and certificate of title as upon an original registration.

(b) The department shall retain and appropriately file every application for certificate of title upon which certificate of title was issued and every surrendered certificate of title, such file to be so maintained as to permit the tracing of title of the vehicle designated therein. (1937, c. 407, s. 42.)

Part 5. Issuance of Special Plates.

§ 20-79. Registration by manufacturers and dealers.—(a) A manufacturer of or dealer in motor vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers, owning or operating any such vehicle or any vehicle known as a wrecker upon any highway, in lieu of registering such vehicle, may obtain from the department, upon application therefor upon the proper official forms and payment of the fees required by law, and attach to each such vehicle, two number plates, which plates shall each bear thereon a distinctive number, also the name of this state, which may be abbreviated, and the year for which issued, together with the word "dealer" or a distinguishing symbol indicating that such plate or plates are issued to a dealer may, during the calendar year for which issued, be transferred from one such vehicle to another owned and operated by such manufacturer or dealer.

(b) Every manufacturer of or dealer in motor vehicles shall obtain and have in his possession a certificate of title issued by the department to such manufacturer or dealer of each vehicle, owned and operated upon the highways by such manufacturer or dealer, except that a certificate of title shall not be required for any new vehicle to be sold as such by a manufacturer or dealer prior to the sale of such vehicle by the manufacturer or dealer; and except that any dealer or any employee of any dealer may operate any motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer, the property of the dealer, for the purpose of furthering the business interest of the dealer in the sale, demonstration and servicing of motor vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers, of collecting accounts, contacting prospective customers and generally carrying on routine business necessary for conducting a general motor vehicle sales business: Provided, that no use shall be made of dealer's demonstration plates on vehicles operated in any other business dealers may be engaged in: Provided further, that dealers may allow the operation of motor vehicles owned by dealers and displaying dealer's demonstration plates in the personal use of persons other than those employed in the dealer's business: Provided further, that said persons shall, at all times while operating a motor vehicle under the provisions of this section, have in their possession a certificate on such form as approved by the commissioner from the dealer, which shall be valid for not more than forty-eight hours: Provided further, that motor vehicles, trailers and semi-trailers sold by dealers may be operated for a period not exceeding ten days from the date of sale by the purchaser thereof with dealer's demonstration plates, provided the purchasers have in their possession receipts from the dealers upon which the dealer has certified that the necessary amount of money to pay for titles and licenses has been paid by the purchasers to the dealers to be forwarded to the motor vehicle bureau, either direct or through one of its branch offices, on such form as approved by the commissioner.

(c) No manufacturer of or dealer in motor vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers shall cause or permit any such vehicle owned by such person to be operated or moved upon a public highway without there being displayed upon such vehicle a number plate or plates issued to such person, either under section 20-63 or under this section.

(d) No manufacturer of or dealer in motor vehicles, trailers or semi-trailers shall cause or permit any such vehicle owned by such person or by any person in his employ, which is in the personal use of such person or employee, to be operated or moved upon a public highway with a "dealer" plate attached to such vehicle.

(e) Transfer of Dealer Registration. — No change in the name of a firm, partnership or corporation, nor the taking in of a new partner, nor the withdrawal of one or more of the firm, shall be considered a new business; but if any one or more of the partners remain in the firm, or if there is change in ownership of less than a majority of the stock, if a corporation, the business shall be regarded as continuing and the dealers' plates originally issued may continue to be used. (1937, c. 407, s. 43.)

§ 20-80. National guard plates.—The commissioner shall cause to be made each year a sufficient number of automobile license plates to furnish each officer of the North Carolina National Guard with a set thereof, said license plates to be in the same form and character as other license plates now or hereafter authorized by law to be used upon private passenger vehicles registered in this state, except that such license plates shall bear on the face thereof the following words, "National Guard." The said license plates shall be issued only to officers of the North Carolina National Guard, and for which license plates the commissioner shall collect fees in an amount equal to the fees collected for the licensing and registering of private vehicles. The adjutant general of North Carolina shall furnish to the commissioner each year, prior to the date that licenses are issued, a list of the officers of the North Carolina National Guard, which said list shall contain the rank of each officer listed in the order of his seniority in the service, and the said license plates shall be numbered, beginning with the number two hundred and one and in numerical sequence thereafter up to and including the number five hundred, according to seniority, the senior officer being issued the license bearing the numerals two hundred and one. Upon transfer of the ownership of a private passenger vehicle upon which there is a license plate bearing the words national guard, said plates shall be removed and the authority to use the same shall thereby be canceled; however, upon application to the commissioner, he shall reissue said plate to the officer of the national guard to whom the same were originally issued, and upon said reissue the commissioner shall collect fees in an amount equal to the fees collected for the original licensing and registering of said private passenger vehicle as is now or may be prescribed by law. (1937, c. 407, s. 44; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-81. Official license plates.—Official license plates issued as a matter of courtesy to state officials shall be subject to the same transfer provisions as provided in section 20-80. (1937 c. 407, s. 45.)

§ 20-82. Manufacturer or dealer to give notice of sale or transfer.—Every manufacturer or dealer, upon transferring a motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer, whether by sale, lease or otherwise, to any person other than the manufacturer or dealer shall, on or before the tenth of each month, give written report of all such transfers made during the preceding calendar month to the department upon the official form provided by the department. Every such report shall contain the date of such transfer, the names and addresses of the transferer and transferee and such description of the vehicle as may be called for in such official form. Every manufacturer or dealer shall keep a record of all vehicles received or sold containing such information regarding same as the department may require. (1937, c. 407, s. 46.)

Part 6. Vehicles of Non-Residents of States, etc.

§ 20-83. Registration by non-residents. — (a) Nonresidents of this state, except as otherwise provided in this article, will be exempt from the provisions of this article as to the registration of motor vehicles for the same time and to the same extent as like exemptions are granted residents of this state under laws of another state, district or territory: Provided, that they shall have complied with the provisions of the law of the state, district or territory of their residence relative to the registration and equipment of their motor vehicles, and shall conspicuously display the registration plates as required thereby, and have in their possession the registration certificates issued for such motor vehicles, and that nothing herein contained shall be construed to permit a bona fide resident of this state to use any registration plate or plates from a foreign state, district or territory, under the provisions of this section. The commissioner shall determine what exemptions the non-resident vehicle operators of the several states, districts or territories, are entitled to under the provisions of this section, and ordain and publish rules and regulations for making effective the provisions of this section, which rules and regulations shall be observed and enforced by all the officers of this state whose duties require the enforcement of the automobile registration laws, and any violations of such rules and regulations shall constitute a misdemeanor.

(b) Motor vehicles duly registered in a state or territory which are not allowed exemptions by the commissioner, as provided for in the preceding paragraph, desiring to make occasional trips into or through the state of North Carolina, or operate in this state for a period not exceeding thirty days, may be permitted the same use and privileges of the highways of this state as provided for similar vehicles regularly licensed in this state, by procuring from the commissioner trip licenses upon forms and under rules and regulations to be adopted by the commissioner, good for use for a period of thirty days upon the payment of a fee in compensation for said privilege equivalent to one-tenth of the annual fee which would be chargeable against said vehicle if regularly licensed in this state: Provided, however, that nothing in this provision shall prevent the extension of the privileges of the use of the roads of this state to vehicles of other states under the reciprocity provisions provided by law: Provided further, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the owners of vehicles from other states from licensing such vehicles in the state of north Carolina under the same terms and the same fees as like vehicles are licensed by owners resident in this state.

(c) Every non-resident, including any foreign corporation carrying on business within this state and owning and operating in such business any motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer within this state, shall be required to register each such vehicle and pay the same fees therefor as is required with reference to like vehicles owned by residents of this state. (1937, c. 407, s. 47; 1941, cc. 99, 365.)

Local Modification.—Buncombe, Catawba, Lee, New Hanover, Pender, Sampson, Wake: 1941, c. 99, s. 2.

§ 20-84. Vehicles owned by state, municipalities or orphanages, etc.—The department, upon proper proof being filed with it that any motor vehicle for which registration is herein required is owned by the state or any department thereof, or by any county, township, city or town, or by any board of education, or by any orphanage, shall collect one dollar for the registration of such motor vehicles, but shall not collect any fee for application for certificate of title in the name of the state or any department thereof, or by any county, township, city or town, or by any board of education or orphanage: Provided, that the term "owned" shall be construed to mean that such motor vehicle is the actual property of the state or some department thereof, or of the county, township, city or town, or of the board of education, and no motor vehicle which is the property of any officer or employee of any department named herein shall be construed as being "owned" by such department. Provided, that the above exemptions from registration fees shall also apply to any church owned bus used exclusively for transporting children and parents to Sunday School and church services and for no other purpose. (1937, c. 407, s. 48; 1939, c. 275.)

Part 7. Title and Registration Fees.

§ 20-85. Schedule of fees.—There shall be paid to the department for the issuance of certificates of title, transfer of registration and replacement of registration plates fees according to the following schedules:

(a) Each application for certificate of title	$ .50
(b) Each application for duplicate certificate of title	.50
(c) Each application of repossessor for certificate of title	.50
(d) Each transfer of registration	1.00
(e) Each set of replacement registration plates	1.00

(1937, c. 407, s. 49.)

§ 20-86. Penalty for engaging in a "for hire" business without proper license plates. — Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of transporting persons or property for compensation, except as otherwise provided in this article, shall, before engaging in such business, pay the license fees prescribed by this article and secure the license plates provided for vehicles operated for hire. Any person, firm or corporation operating vehicles for hire without having paid the tax prescribed or using private plates on such vehicles shall be liable for an additional tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each vehicle in addition to the normal fees provided in this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 50.)

§ 20-87. Passenger vehicle registration fees.—There shall be paid to the department annually, as of the first day of January, for the registration and licensing of passenger vehicles, fees according to the following classifications and schedules:

(a) Franchise Bus Carriers.—Franchise bus carriers shall pay an annual license tax of ninety cents per hundred pounds weight of each vehicle unit, and in addition thereto six per cent of the gross revenue derived from such operation: Provided, said additional six per cent shall not be collectible unless and until and only to the extent that such amount exceeds the license tax of ninety cents per hundred pounds: Provided further, that franchise bus carriers operated between point or points within this state and point or points without this state shall be required to account as compensation for the use of the highways of this state and the special privileges extended such carriers by this state in computing the six per cent tax, only on that proportion of the gross revenue, earned both within and without this state, which corresponds to the proportion of mileage in this state as compared with the total mileage, but in no event shall the tax paid by such franchise bus carriers be less than ninety cents per hundred pounds weight for each vehicle; provided, further, that for the purpose of determining the maximum weight to be allowed for passenger busses to be operated upon the highways of this state in lieu of the provisions of § 20-118, the commissioner shall require, prior to the issuance of license, a certificate showing the weight of such bus when fully equipped for the road and no such bus shall be licensed except busses heretofore in use in this state if the weight fully equipped shall exceed twenty-two thousand five hundred (22,500) pounds; and no special permit shall be issued for any bus in excess of the limits herein specified; and the operation upon the highways of this state of a bus in excess of such limit shall be unlawful, and any person guilty thereof upon conviction shall be fined one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

(b) U-Drive-It Passenger Vehicles.—U-drive-it passenger vehicles shall pay the following tax:

Motorcycles: 1-passenger capacity $12.00
2-passenger capacity 15.00
3-passenger capacity 18.00

Automobiles: $1.90 per hundred pounds weight of each vehicle.

(c) For Hire Passenger Vehicles.—For hire passenger vehicles shall be taxed at the rate of $1.90 per hundred pounds of weight.

(d) Excursion Passenger Vehicles.—Excursion passenger vehicles shall be taxed at the rate of $8.00 per passenger capacity, with a minimum charge of $25.00, but such vehicles operating under a certificate as a restricted common carrier under §§ 62-103 to 62-121, shall also be liable to the gross revenue six per cent tax to the extent it exceeds the tax herein levied under the same provisions provided for franchise bus carriers.

(e) Private Passenger Vehicles.—Private passenger vehicles shall be taxed at thirty-five cents per hundred pounds of weight or major fraction thereof, according to the manufacturer's shipping weight: Provided, that no fee for any private passenger vehicles shall be less than $7.00.

(f) Private Passenger Motorcycles. — Private passenger motorcycles shall pay for each motorcycle $5.00, and for each side car $5.00.

(g) Manufacturers and Motor Vehicle Dealers. —Manufacturers and dealers in motor vehicles for demonstration tags shall pay as a registration fee and for one set of plates $25.00, and for each additional set of plates $1.00.

(h) Driveaway Companies.—Any person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of driving new motor vehicles from the place of manufacture to the place of sale in this state for compensation shall pay as a registration fee and for one set of plates one hundred dollars ($100.00) and for each additional set of plates five dollars ($5.00). (1937, c. 407, s. 51; 1939, c. 275.)

§ 20-88. Property hauling vehicles. — (a) Determination of Weight.—For the purpose of licensing, the weight of the several classes of motor vehicles used for transportation of property shall be the gross weight and load, to be determined by the manufacturer's gross weight capacity as shown in an authorized national publication, such as "Commercial Car Journal" or the statistical issue of "Automotive Industries," all such weights subject to verification by the commissioner or his authorized deputy, and if no such gross weight on any vehicle is available in such publication, then the gross weight shall be determined by the commissioner or his authorized agent: Provided, that any determination of weight shall be made only in units of one thousand pounds or major fraction thereof, weights of over five hundred pounds being counted as one thousand and weights of five hundred pounds or less being disregarded. Semi-trailers licensed for use in connection with a truck or truck-tractor shall in no case be licensed for less gross weight capacity than the truck or truck-tractor with which it is to be operated.

(b) There shall be paid to the department annually, as of the first day of January, for the registration and licensing of trucks, truck-tractors, trailers and semi-trailers, fees according to the following classifications and schedules:

Schedule of Weights and Rates

Rate per hundred pounds gross weight:

	Private Hauler	Contract Hauler	Franchise Hauler (Deposit)
Gross weight not over 4,500 pounds	$0.30	$0.75	$0.60
4,501 pounds to 8,500 inclusive	.40	.75	.60
8,501 pounds to 12,500 pounds inclusive	.50	1.00	.60
12,501 pounds to 16,500 inclusive	.70	1.15	.60
Over 16,500 pounds	.80	1.40	.60

(c) The minimum rate for any vehicle licensed under this section shall be twelve dollars ($12.00), except that the license fee for a trailer having not more than two wheels with a gross weight of vehicle and load not exceeding fifteen hundred (1500) pounds and towed by a passenger car shall be two dollars ($2.00) for any part of the license year for which said license is issued, and the license fee for a two-wheel trailer with gross weight for vehicle and load of more than fifteen hundred (1500) pounds but not more than twenty-five hundred (2500) pounds and towed by a passenger car shall be ten dollars ($10.00) for the entire year, subject to the provision for quarterly license as provided for other vehicles: Provided, however, that any such trailers operated for hire shall be taxed at the same rate as contract hauler vehicles: Provided, further, that in addition to the motor vehicle licenses authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the department shall issue, upon application therefor, a license plate for trucks marked "farmer", which shall be issued upon evidence satisfactory to the department that the applicant is a farmer and is actually engaged in the growing, raising and producing of farm products as an occupation. License plates issued under authority of this section shall be placed upon motor trucks engaged exclusively in the carrying or transportation of applicant's farm products, raised or produced on his farm, and farm supplies, and not engaged in hauling for hire: Provided further that the department shall issue necessary rules and regulations providing for the recall, transfer, exchange or cancellation of "farmer" license plates issued hereunder when trucks bearing such shall be sold and/or transferred. Applicants for license plates herein authorized shall pay therefor at a rate equal to one-half the present registration fee provided for trucks by this chapter; provided that the minimum rate for any vehicle licensed under this proviso shall be ten dollars ($10.00): and provided, further, persons applying for "farmer" license under the provisions of this section shall not be entitled to the benefits of § 20-95. The term "farmer" as used in this section means any person engaged in the raising, growing and producing of farm products on a farm not less than ten acres in area, and who does not engage in the business of buying farm products for resale; and the term "farm products" means any food crop, cattle, hogs, poultry, dairy products and other agricultural products designed and to be used for food purposes.

(d) Rates on trucks, trailers and semi-trailers wholly or partially equipped with solid tires shall be double the above schedule.

(e) Franchise Haulers.—Franchise haulers shall pay an annual license tax as per the above schedule of rates for each vehicle unit, and in addition thereto six per cent of the gross revenue derived from such operation, except on vehicles licensed for inter-state routes and used exclusively for inter-state business where more than fifty per cent of the designated route lies outside of the state of North Carolina, the required deposit may be reduced by the commissioner to fifty per cent of the above schedule of rates as to deposit only: Provided, said additional six per cent shall not be collectible unless and until and only to the extent that such amount exceeds the license tax or deposit per the above schedule: Provided further, that franchise haulers operating between point or points within this state and point or points without this state shall be required to account as compensation for the use of the highway of this state and the special privileges extended such carriers by this state in computing the six per cent tax only on that proportion of the gross revenue earned both within and without this state which corresponds to the proportion of the mileage in this state as compared to the total mileage, but in no event shall the tax paid by such franchise hauler be less than the license tax or deposit shown on the above schedule, except where a franchise is hereafter issued by the utilities commission for service over a route within the state which is not now served by any franchise hauler the six per cent gross revenue tax may be reduced to four per cent for the first two years only.

(f) Non-resident motor vehicle carriers which do not operate in intrastate commerce in this state, and the title to whose vehicles are not required to be registered under the provisions of this article, shall be taxed for the use of the roads in this state and shall pay the same fees therefor as are required with reference to like vehicles owned by residents of this state: Provided, that if any such fees as applied to non-residents shall at any time become inoperative, such carriers shall be taxed for the use of the roads of this state as franchise haulers as provided above: Provided further, that this provision shall not prevent the extension to vehicles of other states of the benefits of the reciprocity provisions provided by law.

(g) Contract haulers under the definitions of this article who receive and operate under a certificate or permit or other authority from the utilities commissioner as restricted common carriers under the provisions of §§ 62-103 to 62-121, shall, in addition to the rate of tax for contract carriers provided above, be subject to the gross six per cent tax to the extent that it exceeds the rate for contract haulers to be levied and collected in the same manner provided for franchise haulers, and the tax in the schedule provided for contract haulers shall be deemed a deposit only.

(h) Every person operating a motor vehicle upon the highways of the state equipped with motors of the Diesel type shall make a report to the commissioner upon forms to be prescribed and furnished by the commissioner at least four times a year on dates to be designated by the commissioner; and such reports shall show, among other things, the purchases of motor fuel for use in said Diesel type motor and whether or not the tax levied upon motor fuels has been paid or assumed by the person from whom bought; and it shall be unlawful to operate any such motor equipment upon the highways of this state except with fuel upon which the tax has been paid. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation operating such Diesel type motor to fail, refuse, or neglect to make returns in accordance with the forms prescribed by the commissioner; and any person knowingly making false returns shall be guilty of a felony. (1937, c. 407, s. 52; 1939, c. 275; 1941, cc. 36, 227.)

§ 20-89. Method of computing gross revenue of franchise bus carriers and haulers.—In computing the gross revenue of franchise bus carriers and franchise haulers, revenue derived from the transportation of United States mail or other United States government services shall not be included. All revenue earned both within and without this state from the transportation of persons or property, except as herein provided, collected by franchise bus carriers and franchise haulers, whether on fixed schedule routes or by special trips or by auxiliary vehicles not licensed as franchise haulers, whether owned by the franchise hauler or hired from another for the transportation of persons or property within the limits of the designated franchise route shall be included in the gross revenue upon which said tax is based. (1937, c. 407, s. 53.)

§ 20-90. Due date of franchise tax.—The six per cent additional tax on franchise bus carriers and franchise haulers shall become due and payable on or before the twentieth day of the month following the month in which it accrues. (1937, c. 407, s. 54.)

§ 20-91. Records and reports required of franchise carriers.—(a) Every franchise bus carrier and franchise hauler shall keep a record of all business transacted and all revenue received on such forms as may be prescribed by or satisfactory to the commissioner, and such records shall be preserved for a period of three years, and shall at all times during the business hours of the day be subject to inspection by the commissioner or his deputies or such other agents as may be duly authorized by the commissioner. Any operator of such a franchise line failing to comply with or violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

(b) All franchise bus carriers and franchise haulers shall, on or before the twentieth day of each month, make a report to the department of gross revenue earned and gross mileage operated during the month previous, in such manner as the department may require and on such forms as the department shall furnish.

(c) It shall be the duty of the commissioner, by competent auditors, to have the books and records of every franchise bus carrier and franchise hauler examined at least once each year to determine if such operators are keeping complete records as provided by this section of this article, and to determine if correct reports have been made to the state department of motor vehicles covering the total amount of tax liability of such operators.

(d) If any franchise bus carrier or franchise hauler shall fail, neglect, or refuse to keep such records or to make such reports as required, and within the time provided in this article, the commissioner shall immediately inform himself as best he may as to all matters and things required to be set forth in such records and reports, and from such information as he may be able to obtain, determine and fix the amount of the tax due the state from such delinquent operator for the period covering the delinquency, adding to the tax so determined and as a part thereof an amount equal to five per cent (5%) of the tax, to be collected and paid. The said commissioner shall proceed immediately to collect the tax including the additional five per cent (5%). (1937, c. 407, s. 55; 1939, c. 275; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-92. Revocation of franchise registration.—The failure of any franchise bus carrier or any franchise hauler to pay any tax levied under this article, and/or to make reports as is required, shall constitute cause for revocation of registration and franchise, and the commissioner is hereby authorized to seize the registration plates of any such delinquent carrier and require the cessation of the operation of such vehicles. (1937, c. 407, s. 56.)

§ 20-93. Bond or deposit required.—The commissioner, before issuing any registration plates to a franchise bus carrier or a franchise hauler, shall either satisfy himself of the financial responsibility of such carrier or require a bond or deposit in such amount as he may deem necessary to insure the collection of the tax imposed by this section. (1937, c. 407, s. 57.)

§ 20-94. Partial payments.—In the purchase of licenses, where the gross amount of the license to any one owner amounts to more than four hundred dollars ($400.00), half of such payment may be deferred until April first in any calendar year upon the execution to the commissioner of a draft upon any bank or trust company upon forms to be provided by the commissioner in an amount equivalent to one-half of such tax, plus a carrying charge of two per cent (2%): Provided, that any person using any tag so purchased after the first day of April in any such year, without having first provided for the payment of such draft, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any such drafts being dishonored and not paid shall be immediately turned over by the commissioner to his duly authorized agents and/or the state highway patrol, to the end that this provision may be enforced. (1937, c. 407, s. 58.)

§ 20-95. Licenses for less than a year.—Licenses issued on or after April first of each year and before July first for all vehicles, except franchise haulers and two-wheel trailers under one thousand five hundred pounds weight pulled by passenger cars, shall be three-fourths of the annual fee. Licenses issued on or after July first and before October first, except two-wheel trailers under one thousand five hundred pounds weight pulled by passenger cars, shall be one-half the annual fee. Licenses issued on or after October first, except on two-wheel trailers under one thousand five hundred pounds weight pulled by passenger cars, shall be one-fourth of the annual fee. (1937, c. 407, s. 59.)

§ 20-96. Overloading. — The commissioner, or his authorized agent, may allow any owner of a motor vehicle for transportation of property to overload said vehicle by paying the fee at the rate per hundred pounds which would be assessed against such vehicle if its gross weight capacity provided for such load; but such calculation shall be made only in units of one thousand pounds or major fraction thereof, excessive weights of five hundred pounds or less being disregarded and weights of more than five hundred pounds and not more than one thousand pounds being counted as one thousand. It is the intent of this section that every owner of a motor vehicle shall procure license in advance to cover any overload which may be carried. Any owner failing to do so, and whose vehicle shall be found in operation on the highways carrying an overload in excess of one ton over the weight for which such vehicle is licensed, shall pay in addition to the normal tax levied in this article an additional tax of three dollars ($3.00) per each thousand pounds in excess of the licensed weight of such vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 60.)

§ 20-97. Taxes compensatory; no additional tax.—(a) All taxes levied under the provisions of this article are intended as compensatory taxes for the use and privileges of the public highways of this state, and shall be paid by the commissioner to the state treasurer, to be credited by him to the state highway fund; and no county or municipality shall levy any license or privilege tax upon the use of any motor vehicle licensed by the state of North Carolina, except that cities and towns may levy not more than one dollar ($1.00) per year upon any such vehicle resident therein.

(b) No additional franchise tax, license tax, or other fee shall be imposed by the state against any franchise motor vehicle carrier taxed under this article nor shall any county, city or town impose a franchise tax or other fee upon them.

(c) In addition to the appropriation carried in the Appropriations Act there shall be appropriated to the motor vehicle department the additional sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.00) from the state highway fund: Provided, that such additional sum shall be made available only in the event that the regular appropriation is insufficient and it shall be determined by the director of the budget that such additional amount is necessary to carry out the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 61; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-98. Tax lien.—In the distribution of assets in case of receivership or insolvency of the owner against whom the tax herein provided is levied and in the order of payment thereof, the state shall have priority over all other debts or claims except prior recorded liens or liens given by statute an express priority. (1937, c. 407, s. 62.)

§ 20-99. Sale under execution; franchise canceled.—Whenever any tax imposed by this article shall be in default for a period of ten days, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to certify the same to the sheriff of any county of this state in which such delinquent motor vehicle operator is operating, which said certificate to said sheriff shall have all the force and effect of a judgment and execution, and the said sheriff is hereby authorized and directed to levy upon any property in said county owned by said delinquent motor vehicle operator and to sell the same for the payment of said tax as other property is sold in the state for the nonpayment of taxes; and for such services the sheriff shall be allowed the fees now prescribed by law for sales under execution, and the cost in such cases shall be paid by the delinquent taxpayer or out of the proceeds of the said property, and upon the filing of said certificate with the sheriff, in the event the delinquent taxpayer shall be the operator of any franchise bus carrier or franchise hauler vehicle, the franchise certificate issued to such operator shall become null and void and shall be canceled by the utilities commissioner, and it shall be unlawful for any such franchise bus carrier or the operator of any franchise hauler vehicle to continue the operation under said franchise. (1937, c. 407, s. 63.)

§ 20-100. Vehicles junked or destroyed by fire or collision.—Upon satisfactory proof to the commissioner that any motor vehicle, duly licensed, has been completely destroyed by fire or collision, or has been junked and completely dismantled so that the same can no longer be operated as a motor vehicle, the owner of such vehicle may be allowed on the purchase of a new license for another vehicle a credit equivalent to the unexpired proportion of the cost of the original license, dating from the first day of the next month after the date of such destruction. (1937, c. 407, s. 64; 1939, c. 369, s. 1.)

§ 20-101. Vehicles to be marked. — All motor vehicles licensed as franchise bus carriers, franchise hauler vehicles and contract hauler vehicles, shall have printed on the side thereof in letters not less than three inches in height the name and home address of the owner, or such other identification as the utilities commissioner may approve. (1937, c. 407, s. 65.)

Part 8. Anti-Theft and Enforcement Provisions.

§ 20-102. Report of stolen and recovered motor vehicles.—Every sheriff, chief of police, or peace officer upon receiving reliable information that any vehicle registered hereunder has been stolen shall immediately report such theft to the department. Any said officer upon receiving information that any vehicle, which he has previously reported as stolen, has been recovered, shall immediately report the fact of such recovery to the department. (1937, c. 407, s. 66.)

§ 20-103. Reports by owners of stolen and recovered vehicles.—The owner, or person having a lien or encumbrance upon a registered vehicle which has been stolen or embezzled, may notify the department of such theft or embezzlement, but in the event of an embezzlement may make such report only after having procured the issuance of a warrant for the arrest of the person charged with such embezzlement. Every owner or other person who has given any such notice must notify the department of the recovery of such vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 67.)

§ 20-104. Action by department on report of stolen or embezzled vehicles.—(a) The department, upon receiving a report of a stolen or embezzled vehicle as hereinbefore provided, shall file and appropriately index the same and shall immediately suspend the registration of the vehicle so reported, and shall not transfer the registration of the same until such time as it is notified in writing that such vehicle has been recovered.

(b) The department shall at least once each month compile and maintain at its headquarters office a list of all vehicles which have been stolen or embezzled or recovered as reported to it during the preceding month, and such lists shall be open to inspection by any peace officer or other persons interested in any such vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 68.)

§ 20-106. Receiving or transferring stolen vehicles.—Any person who, with intent to procure or pass title to a vehicle which he knows or has reason to believe has been stolen or unlawfully taken, receives or transfers possession of the same from or to another, or who has in his possession any vehicle which he knows or has reason to believe has been stolen or unlawfully taken, and who is not an officer of the law engaged at the time in the performance of his duty as such officer, is guilty of a felony. (1937, c. 407, s. 70.)

§ 20-107. Injuring or tampering with vehicle.—(a) Any person who either individually or in association with one or more other persons wilfully injures or tampers with any vehicles or brakes or removes any part or parts of or from a vehicle without the consent of the owner is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(b) Any person who, with intent to steal, commit any malicious mischief, injury or other crime, climbs into or upon a vehicle, whether it is in motion or at rest, or with like intent attempts to manipulate any of the levers, starting mechanism, brakes, or other mechanism or device of a vehicle while the same is at rest and unattended or with like intent sets in motion any vehicle while the same is at rest and unattended, is guilty of a misdemeanor. (1937, c. 407, s. 71.)

§ 20-108. Vehicles without manufacturer's numbers.—Any person who knowingly buys, receives, disposes of, sells, offers for sale, conceals, or has in his possession any motor vehicle, or engine removed from a motor vehicle, from which the manufacturer's serial or engine number or other distinguishing number or identification mark or number placed thereon under assignment from the department has been removed, defaced, covered, altered, or destroyed for the purpose of concealing or misrepresenting the identity of said motor vehicle or engine is guilty of a misdemeanor. (1937, c. 407, s. 72.)

§ 20-109. Altering or changing engine or other numbers.—No person shall with fraudulent intent deface, destroy, or alter the manufacturer's serial or engine number or other distinguishing number or identification mark of a motor vehicle, nor shall any person place or stamp any serial, engine, or other number or mark upon a motor vehicle, except one assigned thereto by the department. Any violation of this provision is a misdemeanor. (1937, c. 407, s. 73.)

§ 20-110. When registration shall be rescinded.—(a) The department shall rescind and cancel the registration of any vehicle which the department shall determine is unsafe or unfit to be operated or is not equipped as required by law.

(b) The department shall rescind and cancel the registration of any vehicle whenever the person to whom the registration card or registration number plates therefor have been issued shall make or permit to be made any unlawful use of the said card or plates or permit the use thereof by a person not entitled thereto.

(c) The department shall rescind and cancel the license of any dealer to whom such license has been issued when such dealer allows his registration number plates to be used for other than demonstration purposes except as provided by § 20-79, fails to carry out the provisions of § 20-79 and § 20-82, or is convicted of a felony. (1937, c. 407, s. 74.)

§ 20-111. Violation of registration provisions.—It shall be unlawful for any person to commit any of the following acts:

(a) To operate or for the owner thereof knowingly to permit the operation upon a highway of any motor vehicle, trailer, or semi-trailer which is not registered or for which a certificate of title has not been issued, or which does not have attached thereto and displayed thereon the registration number plate or plates assigned thereto by the department for the current registration year, subject to the exemption mentioned in § 20-79.

(b) To display or cause or permit to be displayed or to have in possession any registration card, certificate of title or registration number plate knowing the same to be fictitious or to have been canceled, revoked, suspended or altered.

(c) The giving, lending, or borrowing of a license plate for the purpose of using same on some motor vehicle other than that for which issued shall make the giver, lender, or borrower guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction he shall be fined not more than fifty dollars ($50.00), or imprisoned not more than thirty days. Where license plate is found being improperly used, such plate or plates shall be revoked or canceled, and new license plates must be purchased before further operation of the motor vehicles.

(d) To fail or refuse to surrender to the department, upon demand, any title certificate registration card or registration number plate which has been suspended, canceled or revoked as in this article provided.

(e) To use a false or fictitious name or address in any application for the registration of any vehicle or for a certificate of title or for any renewal or duplicate thereof, or knowingly to make a false statement or knowingly to conceal a material fact or otherwise commit a fraud in any such application. (1937, c. 407, s. 75.)

§ 20-112. Making false affidavit perjury. — Any person who shall knowingly make any false affidavit or shall knowingly swear or affirm falsely to any matter or thing required by the terms of this article to be sworn or affirmed to shall be guilty of perjury, and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine and imprisonment as other persons committing perjury are punishable. (1937, c. 407, s. 76.)

§ 20-113. Licenses protected.—No person, partnership, association or corporation shall maintain an office or place of business in which or through which persons desiring transportation for themselves or their baggage are brought into contact by advertisement or otherwise with persons owning or operating motor vehicles and willing to transport other persons, or baggage, for compensation, or on a division of expense basis, unless the owner or operator of such motor vehicles furnishing the transportation has qualified under the tax provisions of this article for the class of service he holds himself out to perform. (1937, c. 407, s. 77.)

§ 20-114. Duty of officer; manner of enforcement.—(a) For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this article, it is hereby made the duty of every police officer, every marshal, deputy marshal, or watchman of any incorporated city or village, and every sheriff, deputy sheriff, and all other lawful officers of any county, and every constable of any township, to arrest within the limits of their jurisdiction any person known personally to any such officer, or upon the sworn information of a creditable witness, to have violated any of the provisions of this article, and to immediately bring such offender before any justice of the peace or officer having jurisdiction, and any such person so arrested shall have the right of immediate trial, and all other rights given to any person arrested for having committed a misdemeanor. Every officer herein named who shall neglect or refuse to carry out the duties imposed by this chapter shall be liable on his official bond for such neglect or refusal as provided by law in like cases.

(b) It shall be the duty of all sheriffs, police officers, deputy sheriffs, deputy police officers, and all other officers within the state to co-operate with and render all assistance in their power to the officers herein provided for, and nothing in this article shall be construed as relieving said sheriffs, police officers, deputy sheriffs, deputy police officers, and other officers of the duties imposed on them by this chapter.

(c) It shall also be the duty of every sheriff of every county of the state and of every police or peace officer of the state to make immediate report to the commissioner of all motor vehicles reported to him as abandoned or that are seized by him for being used for illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors or other unlawful purposes, and no motor vehicle shall be sold by any sheriff, police or peace officer, or by any person, firm or corporation claiming a mechanic's or storage lien, or under judicial proceedings, until notice shall have been given the commissioner at least thirty days before the date of such sale. (1937, c. 407, s. 78.)

Part 9. The Size, Weight, Construction and Equipment of Vehicles.

§ 20-115. Scope and effect of regulations in this title.—It shall be unlawful and constitute a misdemeanor for any person to drive or move or for the owner to cause or knowingly permit to be driven or moved on any highway any vehicle or vehicles of a size or weight exceeding the limitations stated in this title, or any vehicle or vehicles which are not so constructed or equipped as required in this title, or the rules and regulations of the commission adopted pursuant thereto and the maximum size and weight of vehicles herein specified shall be lawful throughout this state, and local authorities shall have no power or authority to alter said limitations except as express authority may be granted in this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 79.)

§ 20-116. Size of vehicles and loads.—(a) The total outside width of any vehicle or the load thereon shall not exceed ninety-six inches, except as otherwise provided in this section.

(b) No passenger-type vehicle shall be operated on any highway with any load carried thereon extending beyond the line of the fenders on the left side of such vehicle nor extending more than six inches beyond the line of the fenders on the right side thereof.

(c) No vehicle unladen or with load shall exceed a height of twelve feet, six inches.

(d) No vehicle shall exceed a length of thirty-five feet extreme over-all dimension, inclusive of front and rear bumpers. A truck-tractor and semi-trailer shall be regarded as two vehicles for the purpose of determining lawful length and license taxes.

(e) No combination of vehicles coupled together shall consist of more than two units and no such combination of vehicles shall exceed a total length of forty-five feet exclusive of front and rear bumpers, subject to the following exceptions: Said length limitation shall not apply to vehicles operated in the daytime when transporting poles, pipe, machinery or other objects of a structural nature which cannot readily be dismembered, nor to such vehicles transporting such objects operated at night-time by a public utility when required for emergency repair of public service facilities or properties, but in respect to such night transportation every such vehicle and the load thereon shall be equipped with a sufficient number of clearance lamps on both sides and marker lamps upon the extreme ends of said projecting load to clearly mark the dimensions of such load: Provided, that the state highway and public works commission shall have authority to designate any highways upon the state system as light-traffic roads when, in the opinion of the commission, such roads are inadequate to carry and will be injuriously affected by the maximum load, size, and/or width of trucks or busses using such roads as herein provided for, and all such roads so designated shall be conspicuously posted as light-traffic roads and the maximum load, size and/or width authorized shall be displayed on proper signs erected thereon. The operation of any vehicle whose gross load, size and/or width exceed the maximum shown on such signs over the roads thus posted shall constitute a misdemeanor: Provided further, that no standard concrete highway, or other highway built of material of equivalent durability, and not less than eighteen feet in width, shall be designated as a light-traffic road: Provided further, that the limitations placed on any road shall not be less than eighty per cent (80%) of the standard weight, unless there shall be available an alternate improved route of not more than twenty per cent (20%) increase in the distance.

(f) The load upon any vehicle operated alone, or the load upon the front vehicle of a combination of vehicles, shall not extend more than three feet beyond the front wheels of such vehicle or the front bumper of such vehicle, if it is equipped with such a bumper.

(g) No vehicle shall be driven or moved on any highway unless such vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent any of its load from dropping, sifting, leaking or otherwise escaping therefrom, except that sand may be dropped for the purpose of securing traction, or water or other substance may be sprinkled on a roadway in cleaning or maintaining such roadway.

(h) Wherever there exist two highways of the state system of approximately equivalent construction, convenience and distance between two or more points, the state highway and public works commission shall have authority, when in the opinion of the commission the public interest is served thereby, to designate one of said roads for heavy or truck-line traffic between said points, and to prohibit the use of the other or parallel road by heavy or truck-line traffic thereon; and in such instances the roads selected for heavy or truck-line traffic shall be so designated by signs conspicuously posted thereon, and the roads upon upon which heavy or truck-line traffic is prohibited shall likewise be so designated by signs conspicuously posted thereon showing the maximum load authorized for said roads. The operation of any vehicle whose gross load exceeds the maximum load shown on such signs over the road thus posted shall constitute a misdemeanor: Provided, that nothing herein shall prohibit a truck or other motor vehicle whose gross load exceeds that prescribed for the light traffic roads from using said light traffic road when the destination of said truck is located solely upon said light traffic road: Provided, further, that nothing herein shall prohibit passenger or other light traffic vehicles from using any road or roads so designated for heavy or truck-line traffic. (1937, c. 246; 1937, c. 407, s. 80.)

§ 20-117. Flag or light at end of load.—Whenever the load on any vehicle shall extend more than four feet beyond the rear of the bed or body thereof, there shall be displayed at the end of such load, in such position as to be clearly visible at all times from the rear of such load, a red flag not less than twelve inches both in length and width, except that between one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise there shall be displayed at the end of any such load a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least two hundred feet from the rear of such vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 81.)

§ 20-118. Weight of vehicles and load. — No vehicle or combination of vehicles shall be moved or operated on any highway or bridge when the gross weight thereof exceeds the limits specified below:

(a) When the wheel is equipped with high-pressure pneumatic, solid rubber or cushion tire, eight thousand pounds.

(b) When the wheel is equipped with low-pressure pneumatic tire, nine thousand pounds.

(c) The gross weight on any one axle of the vehicle when the wheels attached to said axle are equipped with high-pressure solid rubber or cushion tires, sixteen thousand pounds.

(d) When the wheels attached to said axle are equipped with low-pressure pneumatic tires, eighteen thousand pounds.

(e) For the purposes of this section an axle load shall be defined as the total load on all wheels whose centers are included within two parallel transverse vertical planes not more than forty inches apart.

(f) For the purposes of this section every pneumatic tire designed for use and used when inflated with air to less than one hundred pounds pressure shall be deemed a low-pressure pneumatic tire, and every pneumatic tire inflated to one hundred pounds pressure or more shall be deemed a high-pressure pneumatic tire.

(g) No vehicle shall be operated on any highway the weight of which, resting on the surface of such highway, exceeds six hundred pounds upon any inch of tire roller or other support.

(h) Subject to the foregoing limitations, the gross weight of any vehicle having two axles shall not exceed twenty thousand pounds.

(i) Subject to the foregoing limitations, the gross weight of any vehicle or combination of vehicles having three or more axles shall not exceed forty thousand pounds. For the purpose of determining gross weight, no axle shall be considered unless the wheels thereof are equipped with adequate brakes. (1937, c. 407, s. 82.)

§ 20-118(1). Peace officer may weigh vehicle and require removal of excess load.—Any peace officer having reason to believe that the weight of a vehicle and load is unlawful is authorized to weigh the same either by means of portable or stationary scales, and may require that such vehicle be driven to the nearest scales in the event such scales are within two miles. The officer may then require the drive to unload immediately such portion of the load as may be necessary to decrease the gross weight of such vehicle to the maximum therefor specified in this article. (1927, c. 148, s. 37.)

§ 20-119. Special permits for vehicles of excessive size or weight.—The state highway and public works commission may, in their discretion, upon application in writing and good cause being shown therefor, issue a special permit in writing authorizing the applicant for seasonal operations to operate or move a vehicle of a size or weight exceeding a maximum specified in this article upon any highway under the jurisdiction and for the maintenance of which the body granting the permit is responsible. Every such permit shall be carried in the vehicle to which it refers and shall be open to inspection by any peace officer; and it shall be a misdemeanor for any person to violate any of the terms or conditions of such special permit: Provided, the authorities in any incorporated city or town may grant permits in writing and for good cause shown, authorizing the applicant to move a vehicle over the streets of such city or town, the size or width exceeding the maximum expressed in this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 83.)

§ 20-120. Operation of flat trucks on state highways regulated.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to operate, or have operated on any public highway in the state any open, flat truck loaded with logs, cotton bales, boxes or other load piled on said truck, without having the said load securely fastened on said truck. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1939, c. 114.)

§ 20-121. When authorities may restrict right to use highways. — The state highway and public works commission or local authorities may prohibit the operation of vehicles upon or impose restrictions as to the weight thereof, for a total period not to exceed ninety days in any one calendar year, when operated upon any highway under the jurisdiction of and for the maintenance of which the body adopting the ordinance is responsible, whenever any said highway by reason of deterioration, rain, snow or other climatic conditions will be damaged unless the use of vehicles thereon is prohibited or the permissible weights thereof reduced. The local authority enacting any such ordinance shall erect, or cause to be erected and maintained, signs designating the provisions of the ordinance at each end of that portion of any highway to which the ordinance is applicable, and the ordinance shall not be effective until or unless such signs are erected and maintained. (1937, c. 407, s. 84.)

§ 20-122. Restrictions as to tire equipment.—(a) Every solid rubber tire on a vehicle moved on any highway shall have rubber on its entire traction surface at least one and a half inches thick above the edge of the flange of the entire periphery.

(b) No tire on a vehicle moved on a highway shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat or spike or any other protuberance of any material other than rubber which projects beyond the tread of the traction surface of the tire, except that it shall be permissible to use farm machinery with tires having protuberances which will not injure the highway and except, also, that it shall be permissible to use tire chains of reasonable proportions upon any vehicle when required for safety because of snow, ice or other conditions tending to cause a vehicle to slide or skid.

(c) The state highway and public works commission or local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may, in their discretion, issue special permits authorizing the operation upon a highway of traction engines or tractors having movable tracks with transverse corrugation upon the periphery of such movable tracks or farm tractors or other farm machinery.

(d) It shall not be unlawful to drive farm tractors on dirt roads from farm to farm: Provided, in doing so they do not damage said dirt roads or interfere with traffic. (1937, c. 407, s. 85; 1939, c. 266.)

§ 20-123. Trailers and towed vehicles.—(a) No motor vehicle shall be driven upon any highway drawing or having attached thereto more than one trailer or semi-trailer.

(b) No trailer or semi-trailer shall be operated over the highways of the state unless such trailer or semi-trailer be firmly attached to the rear of the motor vehicle drawing same, and unless so equipped that it will not shake, but will travel in the path of the wheels of the vehicle drawing such trailer or semi-trailer, which equipment shall at all times be kept in good condition. (1937, c. 407, s. 86.)

§ 20-124. Brakes. — (a) Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with brakes adequate to control the movement of and to stop such vehicle or vehicles, and such brakes shall be maintained in good working order and shall conform to regulations provided in this section.

(b) No person having control or charge of a motor vehicle shall allow such vehicle to stand on any highway unattended without first effectively setting the hand brake thereon, stopping the motor and turning the front wheels into the curb or side of the highway.

(c) On a dry, hard, approximately level stretch of highway free from loose material, the service (foot) brake shall be capable of stopping the motor vehicle at a speed of twenty miles per hour within a distance of twenty-five feet with four wheel brakes or forty-five feet with two wheel brakes. The hand brake shall be capable of stopping the vehicle under like conditions of this section within a distance of not more than seventy-five feet.

(d) Motor trucks and tractor-trucks with semi-trailers attached shall be capable of stopping on a dry, hard, approximately level highway free from loose material at a speed of twenty miles per hour within the following distances: thirty feet with both hand and service brake applied simultaneously and fifty feet when either is applied separately, except that vehicles maintained and operated permanently for the transportation of property and which were registered in this or any other state or district prior to August, nineteen hundred and twenty-nine, shall be capable of stopping on a dry, hard, approximately level highway free from loose material at a speed of twenty miles per hour within a distance of fifty feet with both hand and service brake applied simultaneously, and within a distance of seventy-five feet when either applied separately.

(e) Every semi-trailer, or trailer, or separate vehicle, attached by a draw-bar or coupling to a towing vehicle, and having a gross weight of two tons, and all house trailers of one thousand pounds gross weight or more, shall be equipped with brakes controlled or operated by the driver of the towing vehicle, which shall conform to the specifications set forth in sub-section (d) of this section and shall be of a type approved by the commissioner. (1937, c. 407, s. 87.)

§ 20-125. Horns and warning devices. — (a) Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with a horn in good working order capable of emitting sound audible under normal conditions from a distance of not less than two hundred feet, and it shall be unlawful, except as otherwise provided in this section, for any vehicle to be equipped with or for any person to use upon a vehicle any siren, compression or spark plug whistle or for any person at any time to use a horn otherwise than as a reasonable warning or to make any unnecessary or unreasonable loud or harsh sound by means of a horn or other warning device. All such horns and warning devices shall be maintained in good working order and shall conform to regulation not inconsistent with this section to be promulgated by the commissioner.

(b) Every police and fire department and fire patrol vehicle and every ambulance used for emergency calls shall be equipped with a bell, siren or exhaust whistle of a type approved by the commissioner. (1937, c. 407, s. 88.)

§ 20-126. Mirrors. — No person shall drive a motor vehicle on a highway which motor vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent the driver from obtaining a view of the highway to the rear by looking backward from the driver's position, unless such vehicle is equipped with a mirror of a type to be approved by the commissioner so located as to reflect to the driver a view of the highway for a distance of at least two hundred feet to the rear of such vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 89.)

§ 20-127. Windshields must be unobstructed. —(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to drive any vehicle upon a highway with any sign, poster or other non-transparent material upon the front windshield, side wings, side or rear window of such motor vehicle other than a certificate or other paper required to be so displayed by law.

(b) Every permanent windshield on a motor vehicle shall be equipped with a device for cleaning snow, rain, moisture or other matter from the windshield directly in front of the operator, which device shall be so constructed as to be controlled or operated by the operator of the vehicle. The device required by this sub-section shall be of a type approved by the commissioner. (1937, c. 407, s. 90.)

§ 20-128. Prevention of noise, smoke, etc.; muffler cut-outs regulated.—(a) No person shall drive a motor vehicle on a highway unless such motor vehicle is equipped with a muffler in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise, annoying smoke and smoke screens.

(b) It shall be unlawful to use a "muffler cut-out" on any motor vehicle upon a highway. (1937, c. 407, s. 91.)

§ 20-129. Required lighting equipment of vehicles.—(a) When vehicles must be equipped: Every vehicle upon a highway within this state during the period from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, and at any other time when there is not sufficient light to render clearly discernible any person on the highway at a distance of two hundred feet ahead, shall be equipped with lighted front and rear lamps as in this section respectively required for different classes of vehicles, and subject to exemption with reference to lights on parked vehicles as declared in § 20-134.

(b) Head Lamps on Motor Vehicles: Every motor vehicle other than a motorcycle, road-roller, road machinery, or farm tractor shall be equipped with two head lamps, no more and no less, at the front of and on opposite sides of the motor vehicle, which head lamps shall comply with the requirements and limitations set forth in §§ 20-131 or 20-132.

(c) Head Lamps on Motorcycles: Every motorcycle shall be equipped with at least one and not more than two head lamps which shall comply with the requirements and limitations set forth in § 20-131 or 20-132.

(d) Rear Lamps: Every motor vehicle and every trailer or semi-trailer which is being drawn at the end of a train of vehicles shall carry at the rear a lamp of a type which has been approved by the commissioner and which exhibits a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear of such vehicle, and so constructed and placed that the number plate carried on the rear of such vehicle shall under like conditions be so illuminated by a white light as to be read from a distance of fifty feet to the rear of such vehicle, and every trailer or semi-trailer shall carry at the rear, in addition to a rear lamp as above specified, a red reflector of a type which has been approved by the commissioner and which is so designed, located as to a height and maintained as to be visible for at least five hundred feet when opposed by a motor vehicle displaying lawful undimmed headlights at night on an unlighted highway. Such reflector shall be placed at the extreme end of the load.

(e) Clearance Lamps: Every motor vehicle having a width at any part in excess of eighty inches shall carry two clearance lamps at the front, one at each side reflecting an amber light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of five hundred feet to the front of said vehicle and two clearance lamps at the rear, one on each side and reflecting a red light visible under like conditions from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear of the vehicle. As relates to truck-trailer or tractor-trailer combinations, such lights shall be required only at the front and rear of the overall dimensions.

(f) Lamps on Bicycles: Every bicycle shall be equipped with a lighted lamp on the front thereof, visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of at least three hundred feet in front of such bicycle, and shall also be equipped with a reflex mirror or lamp on the rear, exhibiting a red light visible under like conditions from a distance of at least two hundred feet to the rear of such bicycle, when used at night.

(g) Lights on Other Vehicles: All vehicles not heretofore in this section required to be equipped with specified lighted lamps shall carry on the left side one or more lighted lamps or lanterns projecting a white light, visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of not less than five hunded feet to the front of such vehicle and visible under like conditions from a distance of not less than five hundred feet to the rear of such vehicle, or in lieu of said lights shall be equipped with reflectors of a type which is approved by the commissioner. (1937, c. 407, s. 92; 1939, c. 275.)

§ 20-130. Additional permissible light on vehicle.—(a) Spot Lamps: Any motor vehicle may be equipped with not to exceed two spot lamps, except that a motorcycle shall not be equipped with more than one spot lamp, and every lighted spot lamp shall be so aimed and used upon approaching another vehicle that no part of the beam will be directed to the left of the center of the highway nor more than one hundred feet ahead of the vehicle. No spot lamps shall be used on the rear of any vehicle.

(b) Auxiliary Driving Lamps: Any motor vehicle may be equipped with not to exceed two auxiliary driving lamps mounted on the front, and every such auxiliary driving lamp or lamps shall meet the requirements and limitations set forth in § 20-131, subsection (c).

(c) Restrictions on Lamps: Any device, other than head lamps, spot lamps, or auxiliary driving lamps, which projects a beam of light of an intensity greater than twenty-five candle power, shall be so directed that no part of the beam will strike the level of the surface on which the vehicle stands at a distance of more than fifty feet from the vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 93.)

§ 20-131. Requirements as to head lamps and auxiliary driving lamps.—(a) The head lamps of motor vehicles shall be so constructed, arranged, and adjusted that, except as provided in sub-section (c) of this section, they will at all times mentioned in § 20-129, and under normal atmospheric conditions and on a level road, produce a driving light sufficient to render clearly discernible a person two hundred feet ahead, but any person operating a motor vehicle upon the highways, when meeting another vehicle, shall so control the lights of the vehicle operated by him by shifting, depressing, deflecting, tilting, or dimming the headlight beams in such manner as shall not project a glaring or dazzling light to persons in front of such head lamp.

(b) Head lamps shall be deemed to comply with the foregoing provisions prohibiting glaring and dazzling lights if none of the main bright portion of the head lamp beams rises above a horizontal plane passing through the lamp centers parallel to the level road upon which the loaded vehicle stands, and in no case higher than forty-two inches, seventy-five feet ahead of the vehicle.

(c) Whenever a motor vehicle is being operated upon a highway, or portion thereof, which is sufficiently lighted to reveal a person on the highway at a distance of two hundred feet ahead of the vehicle, it shall be permissible to dim the head lamps or to tilt the beams downward or to substitute therefor the light from an auxiliary driving lamp or pair of such lamps, subject to the restrictions as to tilted beams and auxiliary driving lamps set forth in this section.

(d) Whenever a motor vehicle meets another vehicle on any highway it shall be permissible to tilt the beams of the head lamps downward or to substitute therefor the light from an auxiliary driving lamp or pair of such lamps subject to the requirement that the tilted head lamps or auxiliary lamp or lamps shall give sufficient illumination under normal atmospheric conditions and on a level road to render clearly discernible a person seventy-five feet ahead, but shall not project a glaring or dazzling light to persons in front of the vehicle: Provided, that at all times required in § 20-129 at least two lights shall be displayed on the front of and on opposite sides of every motor vehicle other than a motorcycle, roadroller, road machinery, or farm tractor.

(e) No city or town shall enact an ordinance in conflict with this section. (1937, c. 407, s. 94; 1939, c. 351, s. 1.)

§ 20-132. Acetylene lights.—Motor vehicles may be equipped with two acetylene head lamps of approximately equal candle power when equipped with clear plane glass fronts, bright six-inch spherical mirrors, and standard acetylene five-eighths foot burners not more and not less and which do not project a glaring or dazzling light into the eyes of approaching drivers. (1937, c. 407, s. 95.)

§ 20-133. Enforcement of provisions.—(a) The commissioner is authorized to designate, furnish instructions to and to supervise official stations for adjusting head lamps and auxiliary driving lamps to conform with the provisions of § 20-129. When head lamps and auxiliary driving lamps have been adjusted in conformity with the instructions issued by the commissioner, a certificate of adjustment shall be issued to the driver of the motor vehicle on forms issued in duplicate by the commissioner and showing date of issue, registration number of the motor vehicle, owner's name, make of vehicle and official designation of the adjusting station.

(b) The driver of any motor vehicle equipped with approved head lamps, auxiliary driving lamps, rear lamps or signal lamps, who is arrested upon a charge that such lamps are improperly adjusted or are equipped with bulbs of a candle power not approved for use therewith, shall be allowed forty-eight hours within which to bring such lamps into conformance with the requirements of this article. It shall be a defense to any such charge that the person arrested produce in court or submit to the prosecuting attorney a certificate from an official adjusting station showing that within forty-eight hours after such arrest such lamps have been made to conform with the requirements of this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 96.)

§ 20-135. Safety glass.—(a) It shall be unlawful to operate knowingly, on any public highway or street in this state, any motor vehicle which is registered in the state of North Carolina and which shall have been manufactured or assembled on or after January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, unless such motor vehicle be equipped with safety glass wherever glass is used in doors, windows, windshields, wings or partitions; or for a dealer to sell a motor vehicle manufactured or assembled on or after January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, for operation upon the said highways or streets unless it be so equipped. The provisions of this article shall not apply to any motor vehicle if such motor vehicle shall have been registered previously in another state by the owner while the owner was a bona fide resident of said other state.

(b) The term "safety glass" as used in this article shall be construed as meaning glass so treated or combined with other materials as to reduce, in comparison with ordinary sheet glass or plate glass, the likelihood of injury to persons by glass when the glass is cracked or broken.

(c) The department of motor vehicles shall approve and maintain a list of the approved types of glass, conforming to the specifications and requirements for safety glass as set forth in this article, and in accordance with standards recognized by the United States bureau of standards, and shall not issue a license for or relicense any motor vehicle subject to the provisions of this article unless such motor vehicle be equipped as herein provided with such approved type of glass.

(d) The owner of any motor vehicle which is operated knowingly or any dealer who sells a motor vehicle in violation of the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars or be imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 407, s. 98; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-136. Smoke screens.—(a) It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to drive, operate, equip or be in the possession of any automobile or other motor vehicle containing, or in any manner provided with, a mechanical machine or device designed, used or capable of being used for the purpose of discharging, creating or causing, in any manner, to be discharged or emitted, either from itself or from the automobile or other motor vehicle to which attached, any unusual amount of smoke, gas or other substance not necessary to the actual propulsion, care and keep of said vehicle, and the possession by any person or persons of any such device, whether the same is attached to any such motor vehicle, or detached therefrom, shall be prima facie evidence of the guilt of such person or persons of a violation of this section.

(b) Any person or persons violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned in the state's prison for a period of not less than one year or not more than ten years, in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 407, s. 99.)

§ 20-137. Unlawful display of emblem or insignia.—It shall be unlawful for any person to display on his motor vehicle, or to allow to be displayed on his motor vehicle, any emblem or insignia of any organization, association, club, lodge, order, or fraternity, unless such person be a member of the organization, association, club, lodge, order, or fraternity, the emblem or insignia of which is so displayed.

Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50) or imprisonment for a period not exceeding thirty days. (1924, c. 63.)

Part 10. Operation of Vehicles and Rules of the Road.

§ 20-138. Persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs.—It shall be unlawful and punishable, as provided in § 20-179, for any person, whether licensed or not, who is a habitual user of narcotic drugs or any person who is under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs, to drive any vehicle upon the highways within this state. (1937, c. 407, s. 101.)

§ 20-139. Operation upon driveways of public or private institutions while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, etc.—Any person who shall wilfully operate a motor vehicle over any drive, driveway, road, roadway, street or alley upon the grounds and premises of any public or private hospital, college, university, school, or any of the state institutions, maintained and kept up by the state of North Carolina, or any of its subdivisions, while under the influence of intoxicating liquors, opiates, or narcotic drugs, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished as now or hereafter provided by law for the punishment of operators of motor vehicles upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquors. (1939, c. 292.)

§ 20-140. Reckless driving. — Any person who drives any vehicle upon a highway carelessly and heedlessly in wilful or wanton disregard of the rights or safety of others, or without due caution and circumspection and at a speed or in a manner so as to endanger or be likely to endanger any person or property, shall be guilty of reckless driving, and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in § 20-180. (1937, c. 407, s. 102.)

§ 20-141. Speed restrictions. — (a) No person shall drive a vehicle on a highway at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under the conditions then existing.

(b) Where no special hazard exists the following speeds shall be lawful, but any speed in excess of said limits shall be prima facie evidence that the speed is not reasonable or prudent and that it is unlawful:

1. Twenty miles per hour in any business district;
2. Twenty-five miles per hour in any residence district;
3. Thirty-five miles per hour for motor vehicles designed, equipped for, or engaged in transporting property, and thirty miles per hour for such vehicles to which a trailer is attached: Provided the speed of forty miles per hour shall be lawful for three-quarter ton trucks and the speed limit of forty-five miles per hour shall be lawful for one-half ton or pick-up trucks;
4. Forty-five miles per hour under other conditions.
5. Notwithstanding the foregoing prima facie limits it shall be unlawful to drive any vehicle at a speed in excess of sixty (60) miles per hour, except those exempted in § 20-145.

(c) The fact that the speed of a vehicle is lower than the foregoing prima facie limits shall not relieve the driver from the duty to decrease speed when approaching and crossing an intersection, when approaching and going around a curve, when approaching a hill crest, when traveling upon any narrow or winding roadway, or when special hazard exists with respect to pedestrians or other traffic or by reason of weather or highway conditions, and speed shall be decreased as may be necessary to avoid colliding with any person, vehicle, or other conveyance on or entering the highway in compliance with legal requirements and the duty of all persons to use due care. It shall be unlawful to violate any provision of this section, and upon conviction the violator shall be punished as provided in § 20-180.

(d) Whenever the state highway and public works commission shall determine upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that any prima facie speed hereinbefore set forth is greater than is reasonable or safe under the conditions found to exist at any intersection or other place or upon any part of a highway, said commission shall determine and declare a reasonable and safe prima facie speed limit thereat which shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof are erected at such intersection or other place or part of the highway.

(e) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed to relieve the plaintiff in any civil action from the burden of proving negligence upon the part of the defendant as the proximate cause of an accident.

(f) Whenever local authorities within their respective jurisdictions determine, upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that the prima facie speed permitted under this article at any intersection is greater than is reasonable or safe under the conditions found to exist at such intersection, such local authority shall determine and declare a reasonable and safe prima facie speed limit thereat, which shall be effective when appropriate signs giving notice thereof are erected at such intersection or upon the approaches thereto.

(g) Local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may, in their discretion, authorize by ordinance higher prima facie speeds than those stated in subsection (b) herein upon through highways or upon highways or portions thereof where there are no intersections or between widely spaced intersections: Provided, signs are erected giving notice of the authorized speed, but local authorities shall not have authority to modify or alter the basic rules set forth in sub-section (a) herein, or in any event to authorize by ordinance a speed in excess of forty-five miles per hour.

(h) No person shall drive a motor vehicle at such a slow speed as to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic, except when reduced speed is necessary for safe operation or in compliance with law. Police officers are hereby authorized to enforce this provision by directions to drivers, and in the event of apparent wilful disobedience to this provision and refusal to comply with direction of an officer in accordance herewith, the continued slow operation by a driver shall be a misdemeanor.

(i) The state highway and public works commission shall have authority to designate and appropriately mark certain highways of the state as truck routes, and any truck of a gross weight in excess of three tons for each axle operating on any highway in the state not designated by the state highway and public works commission as a truck route shall at no time exceed a speed limit of twenty miles per hour. Any person violating the provisions of this subsection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1937, c. 297, s. 2; 1937, c. 407, s. 103; 1939, c. 275; 1941, c. 347.)

§ 20-142. Railroad warning signals must be obeyed.—Whenever any person driving a vehicle approaches a highway and interurban or steam railway grade crossing, and a clearly visible and positive signal gives warning of the immediate approach of a railway train or car, it shall be unlawful for the driver of the vehicle to fail to bring the vehicle to a complete stop before traversing such grade crossing. (1937, c. 407, s. 104.)

§ 20-143. Vehicles must stop at certain railway grade crossings. — The road governing body (whether state or county) is hereby authorized to designate grade crossings of steam or interurban railways by state and county highways, at which vehicles are required to stop, respectively, and such railways are required to erect signs thereat notifying drivers of vehicles upon any such highway to come to a complete stop before crossing such railway tracks, and whenever any such crossing is so designated and sign-posted it shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to fail to stop within fifty feet, but not closer than ten feet, from such railway tracks before traversing such crossing. No failure so to stop, however, shall be considered contributory negligence per se in any action against the railroad or interurban company for injury to person or property; but the facts relating to such failure to stop may be considered with the other facts in the case in determining whether the plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence: Provided, that all school trucks and passenger busses be required to come to a complete stop at all railroad crossings. (1937, c. 407, s. 105.)

§ 20-144. Special speed limitation on bridges. —It shall be unlawful to drive any vehicle upon any public bridge, causeway or viaduct at a speed which is greater than the maximum speed which can with safety to such structure be maintained thereon, when such structure is sign-posted as provided in this section.

The state highway and public works commission, upon request from any local authorities, shall, or upon its own initiative may conduct an investigation of any public bridge, causeway or viaduct, and if it shall thereupon find that such structure cannot with safety to itself withstand vehicles traveling at the speed otherwise permissible under this article, the commissioner shall determine and declare the maximum speed of vehicles which such structure can withstand, and shall cause or permit suitable signs stating such maximum speed to be erected and maintained at a distance of one hundred feet beyond each end of such structure. The findings and determination of the commission shall be conclusive evidence of the maximum speed which can with safety to any such structure be maintained thereon. (1937, c. 407, s. 106.)

§ 20-145. When speed limit not applicable. —The speed limitations set forth in this article shall not apply to vehicles when operated with due regard for safety under the direction of the police in the chase or apprehension of violators of the law or of persons charged with or suspected of any such violation, nor to fire department or fire patrol vehicles when traveling in response to a fire alarm, nor to public or private ambulances when traveling in emergencies. This exemption shall not, however, protect the driver of any such vehicle from the consequence of a reckless disregard of the safety of others. (1937, c. 407, s. 107.)

§ 20-146. Drive on right side of highway. —Upon all highways of sufficient width, except upon one-way streets, the driver of a vehicle shall drive the same upon the right half of the highway, and shall drive a slow-moving vehicle as closely as possible to the right-hand edge or curb of such highway, unless it is impracticable to travel on such side of the highway and except when overtaking and passing another vehicle subject to the limitations applicable in overtaking and passing, set forth in §§ 20-149 and 20-150. (1937, c. 407, s. 108.)

§ 20-148. Meeting of vehicles.—Drivers of vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass

each other to the right, each giving to the other at least one-half of the main-traveled portion of the roadway as nearly as possible. (1937, c. 407, s. 110.)

§ 20-149. Overtaking a vehicle.—(a) The driver of any such vehicle overtaking another vehicle proceeding in the same direction shall pass at least two feet to the left thereof, and shall not again drive to the right side of the highway until safely clear of such overtaken vehicle.

(b) The driver of an overtaking motor vehicle not within a business or residence district, as herein defined, shall give audible warning with his horn or other warning device before passing or attempting to pass a vehicle proceeding in the same direction. (1937, c. 407, s. 111.)

§ 20-150. Limitations on privilege of overtaking and passing.—(a) The driver of a vehicle shall not drive to the left side of the center of a highway, in overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction, unless such left side is clearly visible and is free of oncoming traffic for a sufficient distance ahead to permit such overtaking and passing to be made in safety.

(b) The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass another vehicle proceeding in the same direction upon the crest of a grade or upon a curve in the highway where the driver's view along the highway is obstructed within a distance of five hundred feet.

(c) The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass any other vehicle proceeding in the same direction at any steam or electric railway grade crossing nor at any intersection of highway unless permitted so to do by a traffic or police officer.

(d) The driver of a vehicle shall not drive to the left side of the center line of a highway upon the crest of a grade or upon a curve in the highway where such center line has been placed upon such highway by the state highway and public works commission, and is visible. (1937, c. 407, s. 112.)

§ 20-151. Driver to give way to overtaking vehicle.—The driver of a vehicle upon a highway about to be overtaken and passed by another vehicle approaching from the rear, shall give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle on suitable and audible signal being given by the driver of the overtaking vehicle, and shall not increase the speed of his vehicle until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 113.)

§ 20-152. Following too closely. — (a) The driver of a motor vehicle shall not follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent, with regard for the safety of others and due regard to the speed of such vehicles and the traffic upon and condition of the highway.

(b) The driver of any motor truck, when traveling upon a highway outside of a business or residence district, shall not follow another motor truck within one hundred feet, but this shall not be construed to prevent one motor truck overtaking and passing another. (1937, c. 407, s. 114.)

§ 20-153. Turning at intersection.—(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the driver of a vehicle intending to turn to the right at an intersection shall approach such intersection in the lane for traffic nearest to the right-hand side of the highway, and in turning shall keep as closely as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the highway, and when intending to turn to the left shall approach such intersection in the lane for the traffic to the right of and nearest to the center of the highway, and in turning shall pass beyond the center of the intersection, passing as closely as practicable to the right thereof before turning such vehicle to the left.

(b) For the purpose of this section, the center of the intersection shall mean the meeting point of the medial lines of the highways intersecting one another.

(c) Local authorities in their respective jurisdiction may modify the foregoing method of turning at intersections by clearly indicating by buttons, markers or other directions signs within an intersection the course to be followed by vehicles turning thereat, and it shall be unlawful for any driver to fail to turn in a manner as so directed when such direction signs are authorized by local authorities. (1937, c. 407, s. 115.)

§ 20-154. Signals on starting, stopping or turning.—(a) The driver of any vehicle upon a highway before starting, stopping or turning from a direct line shall first see that such movement can be made in safety, and if any pedestrian may be affected by such movement shall give a clearly audible signal by sounding the horn, and whenever the operation of any other vehicle may be affected by such movement, shall give a signal as required in this section, plainly visible to the driver of such other vehicle, of the intention to make such movement.

(b) The signal herein required shall be given by means of the hand and arm in the manner herein specified, or by any approved mechanical or electrical signal device, except that when a vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent the hand and arm signal from being visible, both to the front and rear, the signal shall be given by a device of a type which has been approved by the department.

Whenever the signal is given the driver shall indicate his intention to start, stop, or turn by extending the hand and arm from and beyond the left side of the vehicle as hereinafter set forth.

Left turn—hand and arm horizontal, forefinger pointing.

Right turn—hand and arm pointed upward.

Stop—hand and arm pointed downward.

All signals to be given from left side of vehicle during last fifty feet traveled. (1937, c. 407, s. 116.)

§ 20-155. Right-of-way.—(a) When two vehicles approach or enter an intersection and/or junction at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right except as otherwise provided in § 20-156.

(b) The driver of a vehicle approaching, but not having entered an intersection and/or junction, shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle within such intersection and turning therein to the left across the line of travel of such first mentioned vehicle: Provided, the driver of the vehicle turning left has given a plainly visible signal of intention to turn as required in § 20-154.

(c) The driver of any vehicle upon a highway within a business or residence district shall yield the right-of-way to a pedestrian crossing such highway within any clearly marked cross-walk, or any regular pedestrian crossing included in the prolongation of the lateral boundary lines of the adjacent sidewalk at the end of a block, except at intersections where the movement of traffic is being regulated by traffic officers or traffic direction devices. (1937, c. 407, s. 117.)

§ 20-156. Exceptions to the right-of-way rule.—(a) The driver of a vehicle entering a public highway from a private road or drive shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching on such public highway.

(b) The driver of a vehicle upon a highway shall yield the right-of-way to police and fire department vehicles and public and private ambulances when the latter are operated upon official business and the drivers thereof sound audible signal by bell, siren or exhaust whistle. This provision shall not operate to relieve the driver of a police or fire department vehicle or public or private ambulance from the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of all persons using the highway, nor shall it protect the driver of any such vehicle from the consequence of any arbitrary exercise of such right-of-way. (1937, c. 407, s. 118.)

§ 20-157. What to do on approach of police or fire department vehicles. — (a) Upon the approach of any police or fire department vehicle giving audible signal by bell, siren or exhaust whistle, the driver of every other vehicle shall immediately drive the same to a position as near as possible and parallel to the right-hand edge or curb, clear of any intersection of highways, and shall stop and remain in such position unless otherwise directed by a police or traffic officer until the police or fire department vehicle shall have passed.

(b) It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle other than one on official business to follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than one block or to drive into or park such vehicle within one block where fire apparatus has stopped in answer to a fire alarm. (1937, c. 407, s. 119.)

§ 20-158. Vehicles must stop at certain through highways.—(a) The state highway and public works commission, with reference to state highways, and local authorities, with reference to highways under their jurisdiction, are hereby authorized to designate main traveled or through highways by erecting at the entrance thereto from intersecting highways signs notifying drivers of vehicles to come to full stop before entering or crossing such designated highway, and whenever any such signs have been so erected it shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to fail to stop in obedience thereto. No failure so to stop, however, shall be considered contributory negligence per se in any action at law for injury to person or property; but the facts relating to such failure to stop may be considered with the other facts in the case in determining whether the plaintiff in such action was guilty of contributory negligence.

(b) This section shall not interfere with the regulations prescribed by towns and cities.

(c) Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than ten dollars or imprisoned not more than ten days. (1937, c. 407, s. 120; 1941, c. 83.)

§ 20-159. Passing street cars.—(a) The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass upon the left any street car proceeding in the same direction, whether actually in motion or temporarily at rest, when a travelable portion of the highway exists to the right of such street car.

(b) The driver of a vehicle overtaking any railway, interurban or street car stopped or about to stop for the purpose of receiving or discharging any passenger, shall bring such vehicle to a full stop not closer than ten feet to the nearest exit of such street car and remain standing until any such passenger has boarded such car or reached the adjacent sidewalk, except that where a safety zone has been established, then a vehicle may be driven past any such railway, interurban or street car at a speed not greater than ten miles per hour and with due caution for the safety of pedestrians. (1937, c. 407, s. 121.)

§ 20-161. Stopping on highway.—(a) No person shall park or leave standing any vehicle, whether attended or unattended, upon the paved or improved or main traveled portion of any highway, outside of a business or residence district, when it is practicable to park or leave such vehicle standing off of the paved or improved or main traveled portion of such highway: Provided, in no event shall any person park or leave standing any vehicle, whether attended or unattended, upon any highway unless a clear and unobstructed width of not less than fifteen feet upon the main traveled portion of said highway opposite such standing vehicle shall be left for free passage of other vehicles thereon, nor unless a clear view of such vehicle may be obtained from a distance of two hundred feet in both directions upon such highway: Provided further, that in no event shall any person park or leave standing any vehicle, whether attended or unattended, upon any highway bridge: Provided further that in the event that a truck, trailer or semi-trailer be disabled upon the highway that the driver of such vehicle shall display, not less than two hundred feet in the front or rear of such vehicle, a warning signal; that during the hours from sunup to sundown a red flag shall be displayed, and after sundown red flares or lanterns. These warning signals shall be displayed as long as such vehicle is disabled upon the highways.

(b) Whenever any peace officer shall find a vehicle standing upon a highway in violation of the provisions of this section, he is hereby authorized to move such vehicle or require the driver or person in charge of such vehicle to move such vehicle to a position permitted under this section.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the driver of any vehicle which is disabled while on the paved or improved or main traveled portion of a highway in such manner and to such extent that it is impossible to avoid stopping and temporarily leaving such vehicle in such position. (1937, c. 407, s. 123.)

§ 20-162. Parking in front of fire hydrant, fire station or private driveway.—No person shall park a vehicle or permit it to stand, whether attended or unattended, upon a highway in front of a private driveway or within fifteen feet in either direction of a fire hydrant or the entrance to a fire station, nor within twenty-five feet from the intersection of curb lines or if none, then within fifteen feet of the intersection of property lines at an intersection of highways; provided, that local authorities may by ordinance decrease the distance within which a vehicle may park in either direction of a fire hydrant. (1937, c. 407, s. 124; 1939, c. 111.)

§ 20-163. Motor vehicle left unattended; brakes to be set and engine stopped.—No person having control or charge of a motor vehicle shall allow such vehicle to stand on any highway unattended without first effectively setting the brakes thereon and stopping the motor of said vehicle, and, when standing upon any grade, without turning the front wheels of such vehicle to the curb or side of the highway. (1937, c. 407, s. 125.)

§ 20-164. Driving on mountain highways.—The driver of a motor vehicle traversing defiles, canyons or mountain highways shall hold such motor vehicle under control and as near the right-hand side of the highway as reasonably possible, and upon approaching any curve where the view is obstructed within a distance of two hundred feet along the highway, shall give audible warning with a horn or other warning device. (1937, c. 407, s. 126.)

§ 20-165. Coasting prohibited.—The driver of a motor vehicle when traveling upon a down grade upon any highway shall not coast with the gears of such vehicle in neutral. (1937, c. 407, s. 127.)

§ 20-166. Duty to stop in event of accident.—(a) The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury or death to any person shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of such accident, and any person violating this provision shall upon conviction be punished as provided in § 20-182.

(b) The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in damage to property and in which there is not involved injury or death of any person, shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of the accident, and any person violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court.

(c) The driver of any vehicle involved in any accident resulting in injury or death to any person or damage to property shall also give his name, address, operator's or chauffeur's license number and the registration number of his vehicle to the person struck or the driver or occupants of any vehicle collided with, and shall render to any person injured in such accident reasonable assistance, including the carrying of such person to a physician or surgeon for medical or surgical treatment if it is apparent that such treatment is necessary or is requested by the injured person, and it shall be unlawful for any person to violate this provision, and such violator shall be punishable as provided in § 20-182.

(d) The driver of any vehicle involved in any accident resulting in injuries or death to any person, or property damage to an apparent extent of ten dollars ($10.00) or more, shall, within twenty-four hours, file or cause to be filed a report of such accident with the department, except that when such accident occurs within a city such report shall be made within twenty-four hours to the police department of such city. Every police department shall forward on the fifth day of each month every such report received during the previous calendar month, or a copy thereof, so filed with it to the main office of the department. All accident reports shall be made on forms approved by the department. With respect to any such accident involving a collision between any common carrier and another vehicle, such common carrier shall also make a report of the accident to the department, such report to be filed on or before the tenth day of the month following the accident.

(e) Where a person required to report an accident by the preceding subsection is physically incapable of making such report, and there is another occupant in the vehicle at the time of the accident, such occupant shall make the report.

The department may require drivers, or common carriers involved in accidents, to file supplemental reports, and may require witnesses of accidents to render reports to it upon forms furnished by it whenever the original report is insufficient in the opinion of the department.

All accident reports together with all supplemental reports above mentioned shall be without prejudice and shall be for the use of the department, and shall not be used in any manner whatsoever as evidence, or for any other purpose in any trial, civil or criminal, arising out of such accident: Provided, however, that all reports made by state, city or county police shall be subject to inspection by members of the general public at all reasonable times. The department shall be required to furnish, upon demand of any court, a properly executed certificate stating that a specific accident report has or has not been filed with the department solely to prove a compliance with this section.

(f) The department shall prepare and shall upon request supply to police, coroners, sheriffs and other suitable agencies, or individuals, forms for accident reports calling for sufficiently detailed information to disclose with reference to a highway accident the cause, conditions then existing, and the persons and vehicles involved.

The department shall receive accident reports required to be made by this section and may tabulate and analyze such reports and publish annually, or at more frequent intervals, statistical information based thereon as to the number, cause and location of highway accidents.

Based upon its findings after such analysis, the department may conduct further necessary detailed research to more fully determine the cause and control of highway accidents. It may further conduct experimental field tests within areas of the state from time to time to prove the practicability of various ideas advanced in traffic control and accident prevention.

(g) Every person holding the office of coroner in this state shall, on the tenth day of each month, report to the department the death of any person during the preceding calendar month as the result of an accident involving a motor vehicle and the circumstances of such accident. (1937, c. 407, s. 128; 1939, c. 10, ss. 1, 1½.)

§ 20-167. Vehicles transporting explosives. — Any person operating any vehicle transporting any explosive as a cargo or part of a cargo upon a highway shall at all times comply with the provisions of this section.

(a) Said vehicle shall be marked or placarded on each side and the rear with the word "Explosives" in letters not less than eight inches high, or there shall be displayed on the rear of such vehicle a red flag not less than twenty-four inches square marked with the word "Danger" in white letters six inches high.

(b) Every said vehicle shall be equipped with not less than two fire extinguishers, filled and ready for immediate use, and placed at a convenient point on the vehicle so used.

(c) The commissioner is hereby authorized and directed to promulgate such additional regulations governing the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles by vehicles upon the highways as he shall deem advisable for the protection of the public. (1937, c. 407, s. 129.)

§ 20-168. Drivers of state, county and city vehicles subject to provisions of this article.—The provisions of this article applicable to the drivers of vehicles upon the highways shall apply to the drivers of all vehicles owned or operated by this state or any political sub-divisions thereof, or of any city, town or district, except persons, teams, motor vehicles and other equipment while actually engaged in work on the surface of the road, but not when traveling to or from such work. (1937, c. 407, s. 130.)

§ 20-169. Powers of local authorities. — Local authorities, except as expressly authorized by § 20-141, subsection (g) and § 20-158, shall have no power or authority to alter any speed limitations declared in this article or to enact or enforce any rule or regulations contrary to the provisions of this article, except that local authorities shall have power to provide by ordinances for the regulation of traffic by means of traffic or semaphores or other signaling devices on any portion of the highway where traffic is heavy or continuous and may prohibit other than one-way traffic upon certain highways, and may regulate the use of the highways by processions or assemblages and except that local authorities shall have the power to regulate the speed of vehicles on highways in public parks, but signs shall be erected giving notices of such special limits and regulations. (1937, c. 407, s. 131.)

§ 20-170. This article not to interfere with rights of owners of real property with reference thereto.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent the owner of real property used by the public for purposes of vehicular travel by permission of the owner, and not as matter of right from prohibiting such use nor from requiring other or different or additional conditions than those specified in this article or otherwise regulating such use as may seem best to such owner. (1937, c. 407, s. 132.)

§ 20-171. Traffic laws apply to persons riding animals or driving animal-drawn vehicles.—Every person riding an animal or driving any animal drawing a vehicle upon a highway shall be subject to the provisions of this article applicable to the driver of a vehicle, except those provisions of the article which by their nature can have no application. (1939, c. 275.)

Part 11. Pedestrians' Rights and Duties.

§ 20-172. Pedestrians subject to traffic control signals.—Pedestrians shall be subject to traffic control signals at intersections as heretofore declared in this article, but at all other places pedestrians shall be accorded the privileges and shall be subject to the restrictions stated in part eleven of this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 133.)

§ 20-173. Pedestrians' right-of-way at cross-walks.—(a) Where traffic control signals are not in place or in operation the driver of a vehicle shall yield the right-of-way, slowing down or stopping if need be to so yield, to a pedestrian crossing the roadway within any marked cross-walk or within any unmarked cross-walk at an intersection, except as otherwise provided in part eleven of this article.

(b) Whenever any vehicle is stopped at a marked cross-walk or at any unmarked cross-walk at an intersection to permit a pedestrian to cross the roadway, the driver of any other vehicle approaching from the rear shall not overtake and pass such stopped vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 134.)

§ 20-174. Crossing at other than cross-walks. —(a) Every pedestrian crossing a roadway at any point other than within a marked cross-walk or within an unmarked cross-walk at an intersection shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles upon the roadway.

(b) Any pedestrian crossing a roadway at a point where a pedestrian tunnel or overhead pedestrian crossing has been provided shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles upon the roadway.

(c) Between adjacent intersections at which traffic control signals are in operation pedestrians shall not cross at any place except in a marked cross-walk.

(d) It shall be unlawful for pedestrians to walk along the traveled portion of any highway except on the extreme left-hand side thereof, and such pedestrians shall yield the right-of-way to approaching traffic.

(e) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, every driver of a vehicle shall exercise due care to avoid colliding with any pedestrian upon any roadway, and shall give warning by sounding the horn when necessary, and shall exercise proper precaution upon observing any child or any confused or incapacitated person upon a roadway. (1937, c. 407, s. 135.)

§ 20-175. Pedestrians soliciting rides.—No person shall stand in the travel portion of the highway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of any private vehicle. (1937, c. 407, s. 136.)

Part 12. Penalties.

§ 20-176. Penalty for misdemeanor. — (a) It shall be unlawful and constitute a misdemeanor for any person to violate any of the provisions of this article unless such violation is by this article or other law of this state declared to be a felony.

(b) Unless another penalty is in this article or by the laws of this state provided, every person convicted of a misdemeanor for the violation of any provision of this article shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) or by imprisonment in the county or municipal jail for not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment: Provided, that upon conviction for the following offenses—operating motor vehicles without displaying registration number plates issued therefor; permitting or making any unlawful use of registration number plates, or permitting the use of registration by a person not entitled thereto, and violation of §§ 20-116, 20-117, 20-118, 20-122, 20-123, 20-124, 20-125, 20-126, 20-127, 20-128, 20-129, 20-130, 20-131, 20-132, 20-133, 20-134, 20-142, 20-143, 20-144, 20-146, 20-147, 20-148, 20-150, 20-151, 20-152, 20-153, 20-154, 20-155, 20-156, 20-157, 20-159, 20-160, 20-161, 20-162, 20-163, 20-165—the punishment therefor shall be a fine not to exceed fifty dollars ($50.00) and not less than ten dollars ($10.00), or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days for each offense. (1937, c. 407, s. 137.)

§ 20-177. Penalty for felony.—Any person who shall be convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this article herein or by the laws of this state declared to constitute a felony shall, unless a different penalty is prescribed herein or by the laws of this state, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year nor more than five years, or by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, or by both fine and imprisonment. (1937, c. 407, s. 138.)

§ 20-178. Penalty for bad check.—When any person, firm, or corporation shall tender any uncertified check for payment of any tax or fees found to be due by him under the provisions of this article, and such check shall have been returned to the commissioner unpaid on account of insufficient funds of the drawer of said check in the bank upon which same is drawn, then in that event an additional tax shall be imposed equal to ten per cent of the fees due, and in no case shall the increase of said tax, because of said failure, be less than one dollar ($1.00), and the said additional tax shall not be waived or diminished by the commissioner. (1937, c. 407, s. 139.)

§ 20-179. Penalty for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs.—Every person who is convicted of violation of § 20-138, relating to habitual users of narcotic drugs or driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drugs, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county or municipal jail for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or by fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or by both such fine and imprisonment. On a second or subsequent conviction for the same offense he shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years or fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or by both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (1937, c. 407, s. 140.)

§ 20-180. Penalty for reckless driving.—Every person convicted of reckless driving under section 20-140 shall be punished by imprisonment in the county or municipal jail for a period of not more than six months, or by fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by both such fine and imprisonment, and on a second or subsequent conviction of such offense shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than one year or by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), or by both such fine and imprisonment. (1937, c. 407, s. 141.)

§ 20-181. Penalty for failure to dim, etc., beams of headlamps.—Any person operating a motor vehicle on the highways of this state, who shall fail to shift, depress, deflect, tilt or dim the beams of the head lamps thereon whenever another vehicle is met on such highways shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not more than ten ($10.00) dollars or imprisoned for not more than ten (10) days. (1939, c. 351, s. 3.)

§ 20-182. Penalty for failure to stop in event of accident involving injury or death to a person.—Every person convicted of wilfully violating § 20-166, relative to the duties to stop in the event of accidents, except as otherwise provided, involving injury or death to a person, shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than five years, or in the state prison for not less than one nor more than five years, or by fine of not less than five hundred dollars or by both such fine and imprisonment. The commissioner shall revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of the person so convicted. In no case shall the court have power to suspend judgment upon payment of costs. (1937, c. 407, s. 142.)

§ 20-183. Duties and powers of law enforcement officers.—It shall be the duty of the law enforcement officers of the state and of each county, city, or other municipality to see that the provisions of this article are enforced within their respective jurisdictions, and any such officer shall have the power to arrest on sight or upon warrant any person found violating the provisions of this article. Such officers within their respective jurisdictions shall have the power to stop any motor vehicle upon the highways of the state for the purpose of determining whether the same is being operated in violation of any of the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 407, s. 143.)

Art. 4. State Highway Patrol.

§ 20-184. Patrol under supervision of department of motor vehicles.—The commissioner of motor vehicles, under the direction of the governor, shall have supervision, direction and control of the state highway patrol. The commissioner shall establish in the department of motor vehicles a division of highway safety and patrol, prescribe regulations governing said division, and assign to the division such duties as he may deem proper. (1935, c. 324, s. 2; 1939, c. 387, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-185. Personnel; appointment; salaries.—The state highway patrol shall consist of one person to be designated as major, and such additional subordinate officers and men as the commissioner of motor vehicles, with the approval of the governor and advisory budget commission, shall direct. Members of the state highway patrol shall be appointed by the commissioner with the approval of the governor, and shall serve at the pleasure of the governor and commissioner. The major, other officers, and members of the state highway patrol shall be paid such salaries as may be established by the division of personnel of the budget bureau. (1929, c. 218, s. 1; 1931, c. 381; 1935, c. 324, s. 1; 1937, c. 313, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-187. Orders and rules for organization and conduct.—The commissioner of motor vehicles is authorized and empowered to make all necessary orders, rules and regulations for the organization, assignment, and conduct of the members of the state highway patrol. Such orders, rules and regulations shall be subject to the approval of the governor. (1929, c. 218, ss. 1, 3; 1931, c. 381; 1933, c. 214, ss. 1, 2; 1939, c. 387, s. 2; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-188. Duties of highway patrol.—The state highway patrol shall be subject to such orders, rules and regulations as may be adopted by the commissioner of motor vehicles, with the approval of the governor, and shall regularly patrol the highways of the state and enforce all laws and regulations respecting travel and the use of vehicles upon the highways of the state and all laws for the protection of the highways of the state. To this end, the members of the patrol are given the power and authority of peace officers for the service of any warrant or other process issuing from any of the courts of the state having criminal jurisdiction, and are likewise authorized to arrest without warrant any person who, in the presence of said officers, is engaged in the violation of any of the laws of the state regulating travel and the use of vehicles upon the highways, or of laws with respect to the protection of the highways, and they shall have jurisdiction anywhere within the state, irrespective of county lines.

The state highway patrol shall have full power and authority to perform such additional duties as peace officers as may from time to time be directed by the governor, and such officers may at any time and without special authority, either upon their own motion or at the request of any sheriff or local police authority, arrest persons accused of highway robbery, bank robbery, murder, or other crimes of violence.

The state highway patrol shall be required to perform such other and additional duties as may be required of it by the commissioner of motor vehicles in connection with the work of the department of motor vehicles, and such other and additional duties as may be required of it from time to time by the governor. (1929, c. 218, s. 4; 1933, c. 214, ss. 1, 2; 1935, c. 324, s. 3; 1939, c. 387, s. 2; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-189. Patrolman assigned to governor's office.—The commissioner of motor vehicles, at the request of the governor, shall assign and attach one member of the state highway patrol to the office of the governor, there to be assigned such duties and perform such services as the governor may direct. The salary of the state highway patolman so assigned to the office of the governor shall be paid from appropriations made to the office of the governor and shall be fixed in an amount to be determined by the governor and the advisory budget commission. (1941, cc. 23, 36.)

§ 20-190. Uniforms; furnishing motor vehicles.—The department of motor vehicles shall adopt some distinguishing uniform for the members of said state highway patrol, and furnish each member of the patrol with an adequate number of said uniforms and each member of said patrol force when on duty shall be dressed in said uniform. The department of motor vehicles shall likewise furnish each member of the patrol with a suitable motor vehicle, and necessary arms, and provide for all reasonable expense incurred by said patrol while on duty. (1929, c. 218, s. 5; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-191. Establishment of district headquarters.—The department of motor vehicles shall supply at its various district offices, or at some other point within the district if it shall be deemed advisable, suitable district headquarters, and the necessary clerical assistance for the major of the force at his headquarters in Raleigh and at the several district headquarters. (1929, c. 218, s. 6; 1937, c. 313, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-192. Shifting of patrolmen from one district to another.—The major of the state highway patrol under such rules and regulations as the department of motor vehicles may prescribe shall have authority from time to time to shift the forces from one district to another, or to consolidate more than one district force at any point for special purposes. (1929, c. 218, s. 7; 1937, c. 313, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-193. Fees for service of process by patrolmen to revert to county.—All fees for arrests or service of process that may be taxed in the bill of costs for the various courts of the state on account of the official acts of the members of the state highway patrol shall be remitted to the general fund in the county in which the said cost is taxed. (1929, c. 218, s. 8.)

§ 20-194. Expense of administration. — All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this article shall be paid out of the maintenance funds of the state highway and public works commission. (1929, c. 218, s. 9; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-195. Co-operation between patrol and local officers.—The commissioner of motor vehicles with the approval of the governor, through the division of highway safety and patrol, shall encourage the co-operation between the highway patrol and the several municipal and county peace officers of the state for the enforcement of all traffic laws and the proper administration of the Uniform Drivers'

License Law, and arrangements for compensation of special services rendered by such local officers out of the funds allotted to the division of highway safety and patrol may be made, subject to the approval of the director of the budget. (1935, c. 324, s. 5; 1939, c. 38, s. 3.)

§ 20-196. State-wide radio system authorized; use of telephone lines in emergencies.—The commissioner of motor vehicles, through the division of highway safety and patrol is hereby authorized and directed to set up and maintain a state-wide radio system, with adequate broadcasting stations so situate as to make the service available to all parts of the state for the purpose of maintaining radio contact with the members of the state highway patrol and other officers of the state, to the end that the traffic laws upon the highways may be more adequately enforced and that the criminal use of the highways may be prevented.

If the director of the budget shall find that the appropriation provided for the department is not adequate to take care of the entire cost of the radio service herein provided for, after providing for the administration of other provisions of this law, the state highway and public works commission, upon the order of the director of the budget approved by the advisory budget commission, shall make available such additional sum as the said budget commission may find to be necessary to make the installation and operation of such radio service possible; and the sum so provided by the state highway and public works commission shall constitute a valid charge against the appropriation item of betterments for state and county roads.

The commissioner of motor vehicles is likewise authorized and empowered to arrange with the various telephone companies of the state for the use of their lines for emergency calls by the members of the state highway patrol, if it shall be found practicable to arrange apparatus for temporary contact with said telephone circuits along the highways of the state.

In order to make this service more generally useful, the various boards of county commissioners and the governing boards of the various cities and towns are hereby authorized and empowered to provide radio receiving sets in the offices and vehicles of their various officers, and such expenditures are declared to be a legal expenditure of any funds that may be available for police protection. (1935, c. 324, s. 6; 1941, c. 36.)

Art. 5. Enforcement of Collection of Judgments against Irresponsible Drivers of Motor Vehicles.

§ 20-197. Certain words defined.—The following words, as used in this article, shall have the following meanings:

(a) The singular shall include the plural; the masculine shall include the feminine and neuter, as requisite.

(b) "Person" shall include individuals, partnerships, corporations, receivers, referees, trustees, executors and administrators; and shall also include the owner of any motor vehicle as requisite; but shall not include the State or any political subdivisions thereof.

(c) "Motor Vehicle" shall include trailers, motorcycles and tractors. (1931, c. 116, s. 13.)

§ 20-198. Suspension of driver's license and registration certificates for failure to pay tort judgment. — In the event of the failure of any person, firm or corporation, to satisfy any judgment which shall have hereafter become final, by expiration, without appeal, of the time within which appeal might have been perfected, or by final affirmance, on appeal, rendered against him, by a court of competent jurisdiction in this State, within thirty days thereafter for damages on account of personal injuries, or deaths, or damage to property in excess of one hundred dollars ($100.00) resulting from the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of a motor vehicle, the said operator's license and all of the registration certificates of the said person, firm or corporation shall be forthwith suspended by the commissioner of motor vehicles of North Carolina, upon receiving a certified copy or transcript of such final judgment, from the court in which the same was rendered, showing such judgment or judgments to have been still unsatisfied more than thirty days after the same became final, as aforesaid, and shall remain so suspended and shall not be renewed, nor shall any motor vehicle be thereafter registered in the name of the said person, firm or corporation while any such judgment remains unstayed, unsatisfied and subsisting and until every such judgment is satisfied or discharged, or until the said person gives proof of his ability to respond in damages, as hereinafter required, for future accidents. It shall be the duty of the Clerk of the Superior Court in any county in which any such judgment is rendered, to forward immediately after the expiration of said thirty days, as aforesaid, to the Commissioner of motor vehicles, a certified copy of such judgment or a transcript thereof as aforesaid. (1931, c. 116, s. 1; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-199. Proof of ability to respond in damages; surety bond; withdrawal of license to operate automobile.—The proof of the ability of any person, firm or corporation to respond in damages for any liability incurred may be established by the execution of a bond of a surety company, duly authorized to transact business within this State or a bond, with at least two individual sureties, each owning real estate within this State, which real estate shall be scheduled in the bond and which bond shall be approved by a Clerk of the Superior Court. The said bond to be conditioned for any liability thereafter incurred resulting from the ownership, maintenance, use or operation thereafter of a motor vehicle for personal injury to or death of any one person in the amount of at least five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) and, subject to the aforesaid limit for any one person injured or killed, of at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) for personal injury to or the death of two or more persons in any one accident, and for damage to property in the amount of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) resulting from any one accident. Additional evidence of ability to respond in damages, as required by this article, shall be furnished the commissioner of motor vehicles at any time upon his demand.

Provided, however, anything in this article to the contrary notwithstanding, that has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount for personal injury to or the death of one person as the result of any one accident; or

(1) When five thousand dollars ($5,000.00)

(2) When, subject to the limit of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) for any one person so injured or killed, the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount for personal injury to or the death of more than one person as the result of any one accident; or

(3) When one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount for damage to property as the result of any one accident; resulting from the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of a motor vehicle, then and in such event, such payment or payments shall be deemed a satisfaction of such judgment or judgments for the purpose of this article only.

If any such motor vehicle owner or operator shall not be a resident of this State, the privilege of operating any motor vehicle in this State and the privilege of operation within the State of any motor vehicle owned by him shall be withdrawn while any final judgment against him as aforesaid, shall be unstayed, unsatisfied and subsisting for more than thirty (30) days, as aforesaid, and shall not be renewed, nor shall any operator's or chauffeur's license be issued to him or any motor vehicle registered in his name until every such judgment shall be stayed, satisfied or discharged as herein provided, and until such person shall have given proof of his ability to respond in damages for future accidents. (1931, c. 116, s. 2; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-200. Proof of ability by insurance carrier's certificate.—Proof of ability to respond in damages, when required by this article, may be evidenced by the written certificate or certificates of any insurance carrier duly authorized to do business within the State, that it has issued to or for the benefit of the person named therein a motor vehicle liability policy or policies in the form hereinafter prescribed, which, at the date of the certificate or certificates, is or are in full force and effect, and designating therein by explicit description or by other adequate reference, all motor vehicles to which the policy or policies apply. The commissioner of motor vehicles shall not accept any certificate or certificates unless the same shall cover all motor vehicles then registered in this State in the name of the person furnishing such proof. Additional certificates, as aforesaid, shall be required as a condition precedent to the registration of any additional motor vehicle or motor vehicles in the name of such person required to furnish proof as aforesaid. Said certificate or certificates shall certify that the motor vehicle liability policies therein cited shall not be cancelled or expire except as hereinafter provided. If such person be a non-resident, a certificate, as aforesaid, of an insurance carrier authorized to transact business in the State in which the motor vehicle or motor vehicles described in such certificate is registered, or if none be described, then in the State in which the insured resides, shall be accepted if (a) such carrier shall execute a power of attorney authorizing the commissioner of motor vehicles to accept service of notice or process in any action arising out of a motor vehicle accident in this State, and (b) its governing executive authority shall duly adopt a resolution providing that its policies shall be deemed to be varied to comply with the law of this State relating to the terms of motor vehicle liability policies issued therein, and (c) such carrier shall agree to accept as final and binding any final judgment duly rendered in any action arising out of a motor vehicle accident in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State: Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall be operative as to such insurance carriers (organized and existing under the laws of such State and not licensed to transact business in this State) only to the extent and under the same terms and conditions that under the laws of such State where such motor vehicle is registered or in which the insured resides, like recognition, if a law of like effect is in force and effect, is granted to certificates of insurance carriers, organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of this State. If, under the laws of such State, in which a law of like effect is in force and effect, certificates of insurance carriers organized and existing under or by virtue of the laws of this State are not accepted, the certificates of insurance carriers of such State shall not be accepted under the provisions of this article.

The commissioner of motor vehicles shall be notified by the insurance carrier or sureties of the cancellation or expiration of any motor vehicle liability policy or bond certified under the provisions of the article at least ten (10) days before the effective date of such cancellation or expiration and until such notice is duly given, such policy shall continue in full force and effect.

The commissioner of motor vehicles shall require proof of ability to respond in damages, within the limits herein specified, from and after the effective date of this article, of all taxicab, jitney and for-hire operators not covered or embraced within the provisions of the present law or such laws as may be enacted at this session of the General Assembly affecting other motor vehicle operators transporting passengers or property upon the highways for compensation. (1931, c. 116, s. 3; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-201. Bond to satisfy execution.—A bond, filed by or on behalf of any person under the provision of this article shall be held by the commissioner of motor vehicles to satisfy, in accordance with the provisions of this article, any execution issued against such person on a judgment for damages, as aforesaid, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of a motor vehicle, as aforesaid. If such a judgment rendered against the principal on the surety company bond or real estate individual bond, given under the provisions of this article, shall not be satisfied within thirty (30) days after it has become final as hereinbefore provided, the judgment creditor may, for his own use and benefit and at his sole expense, bring an action or actions in the name of the State against the company or persons executing such bond. (1931, c. 116, s. 4; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-202. Abstracts of operating record furnished on request.—The commissioner of motor vehicles shall upon request furnish any insurance carrier, person, or surety a certified abstract of the operating record of any person subject to the provisions of this article, which abstract shall fully designate the motor vehicles (if any), registered in the name of such person, and if there shall be no record of any conviction of such person of a violation of any provision of any statute relating to the operating of a motor vehicle or of any injury or damage caused by such person as herein provided, the commissioner of motor vehicles shall so certify. The commissioner of motor vehicles shall collect for each such certificate the sum of one dollar. (1931, c. 116, s. 5; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-203. Commissioner to furnish other information on request.—The commissioner of motor vehicles shall furnish any person who may have been injured in person or property by any motor vehicle, upon written request, with all information of record in his office pertaining to the evidence of the ability of any operator or owner of any motor vehicle to respond in damages. (1931, c. 116, s. 6; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-204. Return by operator of licenses, number plates upon request of commissioner. — Any operator or any owner, whose operator's license or certificate of registration shall have been suspended as herein provided, or whose policy of insurance or surety bond shall have been cancelled or terminated, or who shall neglect to furnish additional evidence of ability to respond in damages upon request of the commissioner of motor vehicles, shall immediately return to the commissioner of motor vehicles his operator's license, certificate of registration and the number plates issued thereunder. If any person shall wilfully fail to return to the commissioner of motor vehicles the operator's license, certificate or certificates of registration and the number plates issued thereunder as provided herein, the commissioner of motor vehicles shall forthwith direct any State policeman or other police officer to secure possession thereof and to return the same to the office of the commissioner of motor vehicles. Any person wilfully failing to return such operator's license or such certificate or certificates and number plates shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and such penalty shall be in addition to any penalty imposed for any violation of the Motor Vehicle Laws of North Carolina. (1931, c. 116, s. 7; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-205. Cancellation or return of bond by commissioner.—The commissioner of motor vehicles shall cancel such bond or return such proof of insurance to the person furnishing the same at any time after three years shall have elapsed since the filing of such bond or proof or the making of such deposit: Provided, that no suit or judgment against him for damages as aforesaid arising from the ownership, maintenance, use or operation hereafter of a motor vehicle shall then be pending or outstanding and unstayed or unsatisfied, as aforesaid; and the affidavit of such person, showing fulfillment of these requirements shall be sufficient proof thereof in the absence of evidence to the contrary before the commissioner. (1931, c. 116, s. 8; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-206. Fraudulent transfer of registration certificate. — If any owner's certificate of registration has been suspended under the provisions of this article, such certificate shall not be transferred nor the motor vehicle in respect of which such certificate was issued, registered in another name, whether the commissioner of motor vehicles has reasonable grounds to believe that such transfer of registration is proposed for the purpose or will have the effect of defeating the purpose of this article. Provided, however, that such transfer of registration shall be permitted upon the furnishing of proof of financial responsibility to the commissioner of motor vehicles by such transferee whenever the commissioner shall deem it necessary in furtherance of the purpose of this section. (1931, c. 116, s. 9; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-207. Present policies of automobile insurance unaffected.—Nothing in this article contained shall be held to apply to or affect policies of automobile insurance against liability which may now or hereafter be required by special act, and such policies, if endorsed to conform to the requirements of this article, shall be accepted as proof of financial responsibility when required under this article; nor shall anything in this article contained be held to apply to or affect policies insuring solely the insured named in the policy against liability resulting from the maintenance, operation or use by other persons in the insured's employ or in his behalf of motor vehicles not owned by the insured. (1931, c. 116, s. 10.)

§ 20-208. Fraudulent proof of ability to respond in damages.—Any person who shall forge, or without authority, sign any evidence of ability to respond in damages as required by the commissioner of motor vehicles in the administration of this article and any nonresident who shall operate a motor vehicle in this State from whom the privilege of operating any motor vehicle has been withdrawn as provided in § 20-199, shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both. (1931, c. 116, s. 11; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-209. Motor vehicle liability policy.—"Motor vehicle liability policy," as used in this article, shall be taken to mean a policy of liability insurance issued by an insurance carrier authorized to transact business in this State or issued by an insurance carrier authorized to transact business in the State in which the motor vehicle or motor vehicles therein described is registered, or if none be described, then in the State in which the insured resides, to the person therein named as insured, which policy shall either (1) designate, by explicit description or other adequate reference, all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is intended to be granted by said policy, and shall insure the insured named therein and any other person using or responsible for the use of any such motor vehicle with the consent, express or implied, of such insured against loss from the liability imposed by law upon such insured or upon such other person for injury to or death of any person, other than such insured and such person or persons as may be covered, as respects such injury or death, by any workmen's compensation law, and/or for damage to property, except property of others in charge of the insured or of his employees or other agents growing out of the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of any such motor vehicle within the continental limits of the United States of America; or which policy shall, in the alternative, (2) insure the person therein named as insured against loss from the liability imposed by law upon such insured for injury to or death of any person, other than such insured and such person or persons as may be covered as respects such injury or death by any workmen's compensation law, and/or for damage to property, except property of others in charge of the insured or of his employees or other agents, and except a motor vehicle registered in the name of such insured, growing out of the maintenance, operation or use by such insured of any motor vehicle, and occurring while such insured is personally in control, as driver or occupant, of such motor vehicle within the continental limits of the United States of America; and which policy, in either alternative, shall provide insurance to the amount or limit of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), exclusive of interest and costs, on account of injury to or death of any one person, and, subject to the same limit as respects injury to or death of any one person, of ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00), exclusive of interest and costs, on account of any one accident resulting in injury to or death of more than one person; and of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for damage to property of others, as herein provided, resulting from any one accident; or a binder pending the issuance of any such policy, or an endorsement to an existing policy both as hereinafter provided: Provided, however, that this section shall not be construed as preventing an insurance carrier from granting in a "motor vehicle liability policy" any lawful coverage in excess of or in addition to the coverage herein provided for or from embodying in such policy and agreements, provisions or stipulations not contrary to the provisions of this article and not otherwise contrary to law. And: Provided, further, that separate concurrent policies, whether issued by one or several carriers, covering, respectively, (a) personal injury or death, as aforesaid, and (b) property damage, as aforesaid, shall be termed "a motor vehicle liability policy," within the meaning of this article.

Except as in section 20-207 provided, no motor vehicle liability policy shall be issued or delivered in this State until a copy of the form of policy shall have been on file with the Commissioner of Insurance for at least thirty (30) days, unless sooner approved in writing by such Commissioner, nor if within said period of thirty (30) days such Commissioner shall have notified the carrier in writing that in his opinion, specifying the reasons therefor, the form of policy does not comply with the provisions of this article. The Commissioner of Insurance shall approve any form of policy which specifies the name, address and business, if any, of the insured, the coverage afforded by the policy, the premium charged therefor, the policy period, and the limits of liability, and contains an agreement that the insurance thereunder is provided in accordance with the coverage defined in this section, as respects personal injury and death or property damage or both, and is subject to all the provisions of this article.

Every such motor vehicle liability policy shall be subject to the following provisions, whether or not contained therein:

(a) The liability of the insurance carrier under a motor vehicle liability policy shall become absolute whenever loss or damage covered by such policy occurs, and the satisfaction by the assured of a final judgment for such loss or damage shall not be a condition precedent to the right or obligation of the carrier to make payment on account of such loss or damage. No such policy shall be cancelled or annulled as respects any loss or damage, by any agreement between the carrier and the insured after the said insured has become responsible for such loss or damage, and any such cancellation or annulment shall be void.

The policy may provide that the insured, or any other person covered by the policy, shall reimburse the insurance carrier for payments made on account of any loss or damage claim or suit involving a breach of the terms, provisions or conditions of the policy; and further, if the policy shall provide for limits in excess of the limits specified in this section, the insurance carrier may plead against any plaintiff, with respect to the amount of such excess limits of liability, any defenses which it may be entitled to plead against the insured, and any such policy may further provide for the prorating of the insurance thereunder with other applicable valid and collectible insurance.

(b) The policy, the written application therefor, if any, and any rider or endorsement which shall not conflict with the provisions of this article shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(c) The insurance carrier shall, upon the request of the insured, deliver to the insured for filing, or at the request of the insured shall file direct, with the commissioner of motor vehicles an appropriate certificate in conformity with the provisions of § 20-200.

(d) Any carrier authorized to issue motor vehicle liability policies may, pending the issue of such a policy, execute an agreement, to be known as a "binder;" or may, in lieu of such a policy, issue an endorsement to an existing policy. Every such binder or endorsement shall be subject to the provisions of this section and shall be construed to provide indemnity or insurance in like manner and to the same extent as a motor vehicle liability policy. (1931, c. 116, s. 12; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-210. Rules and regulations.—The commissioner of motor vehicles shall make rules and regulations necessary for the administration of this article. (1931, c. 116, s. 14; 1941, c. 36.)

§ 20-211. Reliance on other security unaffected.—Nothing herein shall be construed as preventing the plaintiff in any action at law from relying for security upon the other processes provided by law. (1931, c. 116, s. 15.)

Art. 6. Giving Publicity to Highway Traffic Laws through the Public Schools.

§ 20-212. State highway commission to prepare digest.—The state highway and public works commission shall cause to be prepared a digest of the traffic laws of the State suitable for use in the public schools of the State and have published in pamphlet form and delivered on or before the first day of August, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, a sufficient number of said pamphlets to supply at least one copy each to all of the public high school teachers of the State. (1927, c. 242, s. 1; 1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 20-213. State superintendent of public instruction to distribute pamphlet. — The State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall cause to be delivered to the superintendents or principals of the various high schools of the State sufficient number of said pamphlets to supply one to each of the teachers engaged for said schools. (1927, c. 242, s. 2.)

§ 20-214. Pamphlets brought to attention of children. — The superintendents or principals, or other persons in charge of the public high schools of the state, shall cause the contents of said pamphlets to be brought to the attention of all the children in attendance upon the said high schools in the form of lessons of at least one each week until the entire contents of said pamphlet shall have been read and explained. (1927, c. 242, s. 3.)

§ 20-215. Practice to be continued; highway commission to supply additional copies yearly.—This practice shall be continued during each school year and the state highway and public works commission is directed annually on or before the first Monday of August, to supply, as hereinbefore provided, such additional copies of the said pamphlet having the same revised from time to time to meet any amendments of the traffic laws of the State, as the State Superintendent of Public Instruction may ascertain and report to the state highway and public works commission to be necessary. (1927, c. 242, s. 4.)

Art. 7. Miscellaneous Provisions Relating to Motor Vehicles.

§ 20-216. Driving regulations; frightened animals; crossings. — A person operating or driving a motor vehicle shall, on signal by raising the hand, from a person riding, leading, or driving a horse or horses or other draft animals, bring such motor vehicle immediately to a stop, and, if traveling in the opposite direction, remain stationary so long as may be reasonable to allow such horse or other animal to pass, and, if traveling in the same direction, use reasonable caution in thereafter passing such horse or other animal: Provided, that in case such horse or other animal appears badly frightened, and the person operating such motor vehicle is so signaled to do, such person shall cause the motor of the motor vehicle to cease running so long as shall be reasonably necessary to prevent accident and insure the safety of others; and it shall also be the duty of any male chauffeur or driver of any motor vehicle and other male occupants thereof over the age of sixteen years while passing any horse, horses or other draft animals which appear frightened, upon the request of the person in charge thereof and driving such horse or horses or other draft animals, to give such assistance as would be reasonable to insure the safety of all persons concerned and to prevent accident. (1917, c. 140, s. 15; C. S. 2616.)

§ 20-217. Duty of driver passing school bus.—No person operating any motor vehicle on the public roads shall pass, or attempt to pass, any public school bus, while the same is standing on the said public road taking on or putting off school children, without first bringing said motor vehicle to a full stop at a distance of not less than fifty feet from said school bus.

Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not to exceed fifty dollars, or imprisoned not to exceed thirty days. (1925, c. 265.)

§ 20-218. Standard qualifications for school bus drivers; speed limit.—No person shall drive or operate a school bus over the public roads of North Carolina while the same is occupied by children unless said person shall be fully trained in the operation of motor vehicles, and shall furnish to the superintendent of the schools of the county in which said bus shall be operated a certificate from the highway patrol of North Carolina and the chief mechanic in charge of school busses in said county showing that he has been examined by a member of the said highway patrol and said chief mechanic in charge of school busses, in said county and that he is a fit and competent person to operate or drive a school bus over the public roads of the state.

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or drive a school bus loaded with children over the public roads of North Carolina at a greater rate of speed than thirty-five miles per hour.

Any person violating paragraph two of this section shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1937, c. 397, ss. 1-3; 1941, c. 21.)

§ 20-219. Refund to counties of costs of prosecuting theft cases.—Whenever the Motor Vehicle Department of the State has caused to be instituted criminal prosecutions in the Superior Court of any county of the State for violation of the automobile theft laws, and the county wherein such case was tried has incurred court costs incident thereto, upon certificate of the Clerk of the Superior Court of said county showing an itemized statement thereof, and that the same has been paid, upon the approval of the commissioner of motor vehicles and the Attorney General, the sum or sums so paid shall be refunded to said county, the same to be paid from the highway maintenance fund from receipts from the motor vehicle registration title fees.

This section shall apply to costs incurred in the prosecution of automobile theft cases only. (1929, c. 275; 1941, c. 36.)

Art. 8. Sales of Used Motor Vehicles Brought into State.

§ 20-220. Dealers required to register vehicles with department of revenue and furnish bond.—Every dealer in used, or second-hand, motor vehicles who is a nonresident of the state of North Carolina or who does not have a permanent place of business in this State, and every person, firm or corporation who bring any used, or second-hand, motor vehicles into the state of North Carolina for the purpose of sale or re-sale, except as a trade-in on a new motor vehicle or another used car, shall, before offering the same for sale, within ten days from the date of entry of said motor vehicle into the limits of the state of North Carolina, register such motor vehicle with the department of revenue on a form to be provided by said department and under such rules and regulations as may be promulgated by said department from time to time, and shall, before said used or second-hand car is offered for sale, or sold, execute a bond with two good sufficient sureties, or with a surety company duly authorized to do business in the state of North Carolina as a surety or sureties thereon, payable to the state of North Carolina, for the use and benefit of the purchaser and his vendees, conditioned to pay all loss, damages and expenses that may be sustained by the purchaser, and/or vendees, that may be occasioned by reason of the failure of the title of such vendor or by reason of any fraudulent misrepresentations or breaches of warranty as to freedom from liens, quality, condition, use or value of the motor vehicle being sold. Said bond shall be in the full amount of the sale price of each of such motor vehicles, but in no event to exceed the sum of one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars for any one motor vehicle, and shall be filed with the department of revenue of the state of North Carolina by the vendor and be approved by it as to amount, form and as to the solvency of the surety or sureties, and for which service by said department, in registering said vehicle, the vendor shall pay the regular registration fee charged for the registration of motor vehicles and in addition thereto a fee of ten ($10.00) dollars for each bond so filed and approved, which sums shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the general fund and expended as provided by law. (1937, c. 62, s. 1.)

§ 20-221. Titles to all used cars to be furnished upon delivery.—Every person, firm or corporation, upon the sale and delivery of any used or second-hand motor vehicle, shall, at the time of the delivery of said vehicle, deliver to the vendee a certificate of title issued to the vendor by the North Carolina state department of revenue, duly endorsed in order that the vendee may obtain a title therefor. (1937, c. 62, s. 2.)

§ 20-222. Non-compliance defeats right of action; violations a misdemeanor. — No action, nor right of action to recover any such motor vehicle, nor any part of the selling price thereof shall be maintained in the courts of this state by any such dealer or vendor, his successors or assigns, in any case wherein such vendor or dealer shall have failed to comply with the terms and provisions of this article, and, in addition thereto, such vendor or dealer, upon conviction for the violation of any of the provisions of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred ($100.00) dollars and not more than five hundred ($500.00) dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days, or more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (1937, c. 62, s. 3.)

§ 20-223. "Dealers" and "vendors," defined. —The terms "dealers" and "vendors" herein used shall be construed to include every individual, partnership, corporation or trust whose business, in whole or in part, is that of selling used motor vehicles not taken in exchange for vehicles sold in this state, and likewise shall be construed to include every agent, representative, or consignee of any such dealer as defined above as fully as if same had been herein expressly set out, except that no agent, representative or consignee of such dealer or vendor shall be required to make and file the said bond if such dealer or vendor for whom such agent, representative or consignee acts fully complies in each instance with the provisions of this article. (1937, c. 62, s. 4.)

Art. 5. Criminal Offenses.

21-42. Issuing false bills or violating chapter made felony.

Art. 1. Definitions.

§ 21-1. General definitions.—In this chapter, unless the context of subject-matter otherwise requires—

"Action" includes counterclaim, set-off, and suit in equity.

"Bill" means bill of lading governed by this chapter.

"Consignee" means the person named in the bill as the person to whom delivery of the goods is to be made.

"Consignor" means the person named in the bill as the person from whom the goods have been received for shipment.

"Goods" means merchandise or chattels in course of transportation or which have been or are about to be transported.

"Holder" of a bill means a person who has both actual possession of such bill and a right of property therein.

"Order" means an order by indorsement on the bill.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership, or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

"To purchase" includes to take as mortgagee and to take as pledgee. (1919, c. 65, s. 42; C. S. 280.)

§ 21-2. Definition of straight bill.—A bill in which it is stated that the goods are consigned or destined to a specified person is a straight bill. (1919, c. 65, s. 2; C. S. 284.)

§ 21-3. Definition of order bill.—A bill in which it is stated that the goods are consigned or destined to the order of any person named in such bill is an order bill. Any provision in such a bill or in any notice, contract, rule, regulation, or tariff that it is nonnegotiable shall be null and void, and shall not affect its negotiability within the meaning of this chapter unless upon its face and in writing agreed to by the shipper. (1919, c. 65, s. 3; C. S. 285.)

Art. 2. Issue of Bills of Lading.

§ 21-4. Bills governed by this chapter.—Bills of lading issued by any common carrier for the transportation of goods from one point in North Carolina to another shall be governed by this chapter. (1919, c. 65, s. 1; C. S. 283.)

§ 21-5. Order bills must not be issued in sets.—Order bills issued in North Carolina for transportation of goods from one point to another in North Carolina shall not be issued in parts or sets. If so issued, the carrier issuing them shall be liable for failure to deliver the goods described therein to any one who purchases a part for value in good faith, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the carrier to a holder of one of the other parts. (1919, c. 65, s. 4; C. S. 286.)

§ 21-6. Duplicate order bills must be so marked.—When more than one order bill is issued in North Carolina for the same goods to be transported to any place in North Carolina, the word "duplicate" or some other word or words indicating that the document is not an original bill, shall be placed plainly upon the face of every such bill except the one first issued. A carrier shall be liable for the damage caused by his failure so to do to any one who has purchased the bill for value in good faith as an original, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the carrier to the holder of the original bill. (1919, c. 65, s. 5; C. S. 287.)

§ 21-7. Straight bill shall be marked "nonnegotiable."—A straight bill shall have placed plainly upon its face by the carrier issuing it "nonnegotiable" or "not negotiable."

This section shall not apply, however, to memoranda or acknowledgments of an informal character. (1919, c. 65, s. 6; C. S. 288.)

§ 21-8. Insertion of name of person to be notified.—The insertion in an order bill of the name of a person to be notified of the arrival of the goods shall not limit the negotiability of the bill or constitute notice to a purchaser thereof of any rights or equities of such person in the goods. (1919, c. 65, s. 7; C. S. 289.)

Art. 3. Obligations and Rights of Carriers upon Bills of Lading.

§ 21-9. Obligation of carrier to deliver.—A carrier, in the absence of some lawful excuse, is bound to deliver goods upon a demand made either by the consignee named in the bill for the goods or, if the bill is an order bill, by the holder thereof, if such a demand is accompanied by—

1. An offer in good faith to satisfy the carrier's lawful lien upon the goods;

2. Possession of the bill of lading and an offer in good faith to surrender, properly indorsed, the bill which was issued for the goods if the bill is an order bill; and

3. A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the carrier.

In case the carrier refuses or fails to deliver the goods, in compliance with a demand by the consignee or holder so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the carrier to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal or failure. (1919, c. 65, s. 8; C. S. 290.)

§ 21-10. Justification of carrier in delivery.—A carrier is justified, subject to the provisions of §§ 21-11, 21-12 and 21-13, in delivering goods to one who is—

1. A person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods; or

2. The consignee named in a straight bill for the goods; or

3. A person in possession of an order bill for the goods, by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to his order; or which has been indorsed to him, or in blank by the consignee, or by the mediate or immediate indorsee of the consignee. (1919, c. 65, s. 9; C. S. 291.)

§ 21-11. Carrier's liability for misdelivery.—Where a carrier delivers goods to one who is not lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the carrier shall be liable to any one having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than as authorized by subdivisions 2 and 3 of § 21-10; and, though he delivered the goods as authorized by either of said subdivisions, he shall be so liable if prior to such delivery he—

1. Had been requested by or on behalf of a person having a right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery; or

2. Had information at the time of the delivery that it was to a person not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods.

Such request or information, to be effective within the meaning of this section, must be given to an officer or agent of the carrier, the actual or apparent scope of whose duties includes action upon such a request or information, and must be given in time to enable the officer or agent to whom it is given, acting with reasonable diligence, to stop delivery of the goods. (1919, c. 65, s. 10; C. S. 292.)

§ 21-12. Carrier's liability on order bill not cancelled on delivery.—Except as provided in § 21-27, and except when compelled by legal process, if a carrier delivers goods for which an order bill had been issued, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the bill, such carrier shall be liable for failure to deliver the goods to any one who for value and in good faith purchases such bill, whether such purchaser acquired title to the bill before or after the delivery of the goods by the carrier and notwithstanding delivery was made to the person entitled thereto. (1919, c. 65, s. 11; C. S. 293.)

§ 21-13. Carrier's liability on order bill unmarked to show partial delivery.—Except as provided in § 21-27, and except when compelled by legal process, if a carrier delivers part of the goods for which an order bill had been issued and fails, either—

1. To take up and cancel the bill, or

2. To place plainly upon it a statement that a portion of the goods has been delivered with a description, which may be in general terms, either of the goods or packages that have been so delivered or of the goods or packages which still remain in the carrier's possession, he shall be liable for failure to deliver all the goods specified in the bill to any one who for value and in good faith purchases it, whether such purchaser acquired title to it before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the carrier, and notwithstanding such delivery was made to the person entitled thereto. (1919, c. 65, s. 12; C. S. 294.)

§ 21-14. Altered bills.—Any alteration, addition, or erasure in a bill after its issue without authority from the carrier issuing the same, whether in writing or noted on the bill, shall be void, whatever be the nature and purpose of the change, and the bill shall be enforceable according to its original tenor. (1919, c. 65, s. 13; C. S. 295.)

§ 21-15. Lost or destroyed bills.—Where an order bill has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss, theft, or destruction, and upon the giving of a bond, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the court, to protect the carrier or any person injured by such delivery from any liability or loss incurred by reason of the original bill remaining outstanding. The court may also, in its discretion, order the payment of the carrier's reasonable costs and counsel fees: Provided, a voluntary indemnifying bond without an order of court shall be binding on the parties thereto.

The delivery of the goods under an order of the court, as provided in this section, shall not relieve the carrier from liability to a person to whom the order bill has been, or shall be, negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods. (1919, c. 65, s. 14; C. S. 296.)

§ 21-16. Effect of duplicate bills.—A bill, upon the face of which the word "duplicate," or some other word or words indicating that the document is not an original bill, is placed plainly, shall impose upon the carrier issuing the same the liability of one who represents and warrants that such bill is an accurate copy of an original bill properly issued, but no other liability. (1919, c. 65, s. 15; C. S. 297.)

§ 21-17. When title or right of carrier excuses liability for non-delivery.—No title to the goods or right to their possession asserted by a carrier for his own benefit shall excuse him from liability for refusing to deliver the goods according to the terms of the bill issued for them, unless such title or right is derived directly or indirectly from a transfer made by the consignor or consignee after the shipment, or from the carrier's lien. (1919, c. 65, s. 16; C. S. 298.)

§ 21-18. Interpleader of adverse claimants.—If more than one person claim the title or possession of goods, the carrier may require all known claimants to interplead, either as a defense to an action brought against him for nondelivery of the goods or as an original suit, whichever is appropriate. (1919, c. 65, s. 17; C. S. 299.)

§ 21-19. Carrier has reasonable time to determine validity of claims.—If some one other than the consignee or the person in possession of the bill has claim to the title or possession of the goods, and the carrier has information of such claim, the carrier shall be excused from liability for refusing to deliver the goods, either to the consignee or person in possession of the bill or to the adverse claimant, until the carrier has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claim or to bring legal proceedings to compel all claimants to interplead. (1919, c. 65, s. 18; C. S. 300.)

§ 21-20. Adverse title is no defense except as above provided.—Except as provided in the preceding sections of this article, no right or title of of a third person, unless enforced by legal process, shall be a defense to an action brought by the consignee of a straight bill or by the holder of an order bill against the carrier for failure to deliver the goods on demand. (1919, c. 65, s. 19; C. S. 301.)

§ 21-21. Carriers not to insert "shipper's weight, load and count" when goods loaded by carrier.—When goods are loaded by a carrier, such carrier shall count the packages of goods, if package freight, and ascertain the kind and quantity, if bulk freight, and such carrier shall not, in such cases, insert in the bill of lading or in any notice, receipt, contract, rule, regulation or tariff, "shipper's weight, load and count," or other words of like purport, indicating that the goods were loaded by the shipper and the description of them made by him or, in case of bulk freight and freight not concealed by packages, the description made by him. If so inserted, contrary to the provisions of this section, said words shall be treated as null and void and as if not inserted therein. (1919, c. 65, s. 20; C. S. 302.)

§ 21-22. Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription of goods loaded by shipper.—When package freight or bulk freight is loaded by a shipper and the goods are described in a bill of lading merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind or quantity, or in a certain condition, or it is stated in the bill of lading that packages are said to contain goods of a certain kind or quantity or in a certain condition, or that the contents or condition of the contents of packages are unknown, or words of like purport are contained in the bill of lading, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the carrier issuing the bill of lading, although the goods are not of the kind or quantity or in the condition which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind or quantity or in the condition they were said to be by the consignor. The carrier may also, by inserting in the bill of lading the words "shipper's weight, load, and count," or other words of like purport, indicate that the goods were loaded by the shipper and the description of them made by him; and, if such statement be true, the carrier shall not be liable for damages caused by the improper loading or by the nonreceipt or by the misdescription of the goods described in the bill of lading: Provided, however, where the shipper of bulk freight installs and maintains adequate facilities for weighing such freight, and the same are available to the carrier, then the carrier, upon written request of such shipper and when given a reasonable opportunity so to do, shall ascertain the kind and quantity of bulk freight within a reasonable time after such written request, and the carrier shall not in such case insert in the bill of lading the words "shipper's weight," or other words of like purport; and if so inserted contrary to the provisions of this section, said words shall be treated as null and void and as if not inserted therein. (1919, c. 65, s. 21; C. S. 303.)

§ 21-23. Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription of goods.—If a bill of lading has been issued by a carrier, or on his behalf by an agent or employee, the scope of whose actual or apparent authority includes the receiving of goods and issuing bills of lading therefor for transportation in commerce among the several states and with foreign nations, the carrier shall be liable to—

1. The owner of goods covered by a straight bill, subject to existing right of stoppage in transit; or

2. The holder of an order bill, who has given value in good faith, relying upon the description therein of the goods, for damages caused by the nonreceipt by the carrier of all or part of the goods or their failure to correspond with the description thereof in the bill at the time of its issue. (1919, c. 65, s. 22; C. S. 304.)

§ 21-24. Attachment or levy upon goods for which an order bill has been issued.—If goods are delivered to a carrier by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser for value in good faith would bind the owner, and an order bill is issued for them, they cannot thereafter, while in the possession of the carrier, be attached by garnishment or otherwise or be levied upon under an execution unless the bill be first surrendered to the carrier or its negotiation enjoined. The carrier shall in no such case be compelled to deliver the actual possession of the goods until the bill is surrendered to him or impounded by the court. (1919, c. 65, s. 23; C. S. 305.)

§ 21-25. Creditor's remedy to reach order bills.—A creditor whose debtor is the owner of an order bill shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction and otherwise, in attaching such bill or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process. (1919, c. 65, s. 24; C. S. 306.)

§ 21-26. Liens for charges under order bill.—If an order bill is issued the carrier shall have a lien on the goods therein mentioned for all charges on those goods for freight, storage, demurrage and terminal charges, and expenses necessary for the preservation of the goods or incident to their transportation subsequent to the date of the bill and all other charges incurred in transportation and delivery, unless the bill expressly enumerates other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall also be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as they are allowed by law and the contract between the consignor and the carrier. (1919, c. 65, s. 25; C. S. 307.)

§ 21-27. Effect of sale.—After goods have been lawfully sold to satisfy a carrier's lien, or because they have not been claimed, or because they are perishable or hazardous, the carrier shall not thereafter be liable for failure to deliver the goods themselves to the consignee or owner of the goods, or to a holder of the bill given for the goods when they were shipped, even if such bill be an order bill. (1919, c. 65, s. 26; C. S. 308.)

Art. 4. Negotiation and Transfer of Bills.

§ 21-28. Negotiation of order bills by delivery.—An order bill may be negotiated by delivery where, by the terms of the bill, the carrier undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the bill has indorsed it in blank. (1919, c. 65, s. 27; C. S. 309.)

§ 21-29. Negotiation of order bills by indorsement.—An order bill may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are deliverable by the tenor of the bill. Such indorsement may be in blank or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be negotiated again by the indorsement of such person in blank or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiation may be made in like manner. (1919, c. 65, s. 28; C. S. 310.)

§ 21-30. Transfer of bills.—A bill may be transferred by the holder by delivery, accompanied with an agreement, express or implied, to transfer the title to the bill or to the goods represented thereby. A straight bill cannot be negotiated free from existing equities, and the indorsement of such a bill gives the transferee no additional right. (1919, c. 65, s. 29; C. S. 311.)

§ 21-31. Who may negotiate an order bill.—An order bill may be negotiated by any person in possession of the same, however such possession may have been acquired, if by the terms of the bill the carrier undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of such person, or if at the time of negotiation the bill is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery. (1919, c. 65, s. 30; C. S. 312.)

§ 21-32. Rights of person to whom an order bill has been negotiated.—A person to whom an order bill has been duly negotiated acquires thereby—

1. Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the bill to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to the goods as the consignee and consignor had or had power to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value; and

2. The direct obligation of the carrier to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the bill as fully as if the carrier had contracted directly with him. (1919, c. 65, s. 31; C. S. 313.)

§ 21-33. Rights of person to whom a bill has been transferred.—A person to whom a bill has been transferred, but not negotiated, acquires thereby as against the transferor the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferor. If the bill is a straight bill, such person also acquires the right to notify the carrier of the transfer to him of such bill, and thereby to become the direct obligee of whatever obligations the carrier owed to the transferor of the bill immediately before the notification.

Prior to the notification of the carrier by the transferor or transferee of a straight bill, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of the carrier may be defeated by garnishment or by attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferor, or by a notification to the carrier by the transferor or a subsequent purchaser from the transferor of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferor.

A carrier has not received notification within the meaning of this section unless an officer or agent of the carrier, the actual or apparent scope of whose duties includes action upon such a notification, has been notified; and no notification shall be effective until the officer or agent to whom it is given has had time, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, to communicate with the agent or agents having actual possession or control of the goods. (1919, c. 65, s. 32; 1919, c. 290; C. S. 314.)

§ 21-34. Right to compel indorsement of negotiable bill.—Where an order bill is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferor is essential for negotation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferor to compel him to indorse the bill, unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. This obligation may be specifically enforced. (1919, c. 65, s. 33; C. S. 315.)

§ 21-35. Warranties on sale of bill.—A person who negotiates or transfers for value a bill by indorsement or delivery, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants—

1. That the bill is genuine;

2. That he has a legal right to transfer it;

3. That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the bill;

4. That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods, and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose whenever such warranties would have been implied if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a bill the goods represented thereby. (1919, c. 65, s. 34; C. S. 316.)

§ 21-36. Indorser not a guarantor.—The indorsement of a bill shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the carrier or previous indorser of the bill to fulfill their respective obligations. (1919, c. 65, s. 35; C. S. 317.)

§ 21-37. No warranty implied from accepting payment of a debt.—A mortgagee or pledgee or other holder of a bill for security who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such bill is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt, or from any other person, shall not be deemed by so doing to represent or warrant the genuineness of such bill or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described. (1919, c. 65, s. 36; C. S. 318.)

§ 21-38. When negotiation not impaired by fraud, accident, mistake, duress, conversion, etc.—The validity of the negotiation of a bill is not impaired by the fact that such negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the bill was deprived of the possession of the same by fraud, accident, mistake, duress, loss, theft or conversion, if the person to whom the bill was negotiated, or a person to whom the bill was subsequently negotiated, gave value therefor in good faith, without notice of the breach of duty, or fraud, accident, mistake, duress, loss, theft, or conversion. (1919, c. 65, s. 37; C. S. 319.)

§ 21-39. Subsequent negotiation.—Where a person, having sold, mortgaged or pledged goods which are in a carrier's possession and for which an order bill has been issued, or having sold, mortgaged, or pledged the order bill representing such goods, continues in possession of the order bill, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale, pledge, or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith for value and without notice of the previous sale, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or bill had expressly authorized the subsequent negotiation. (1919, c. 65, s. 38; C. S. 320.)

§ 21-40. Negotiation defeats vendor's lien.—Where an order bill has been issued for goods no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transit shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such bill has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the carrier who issued such bill of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transit. Nor shall the carrier be obliged to deliver or be justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless such bill is first surrendered for cancellation. (1919, c. 65, s. 39; C. S. 321.)

§ 21-41. When rights and remedies under mortgages and liens are not limited.—Except as provided in § 21-40, nothing in this chapter shall limit the rights and remedies of a mortgagee or lien holder whose mortgage or lien on goods would be valid, apart from this chapter, as against one who for value and in good faith purchased from the owner, immediately prior to the time of their delivery to the carrier, the goods which are subject to the mortgage or lien, and obtained possession of them. (1919, c. 65, s. 40; C. S. 322.)

Art. 5. Criminal Offenses.

§ 21-42. Issuing false bills or violating chapter made felony.—Any person who, knowingly or with intent to defraud, falsely makes, alters, forges, counterfeits, prints or photographs any bill of lading purporting to represent goods received for shipment in this state, or with intent utters or publishes as true and genuine any such falsely altered, forged, counterfeited, falsely printed or photographed bill of lading, knowing it to be falsely altered, forged, counterfeited, falsely printed or photographed, or aids in making, altering, forging, counterfeiting, printing, or photographing, or uttering or publishing the same, or issues or aids in issuing or procuring the issue of, or negotiates or transfers for value a bill which contains a false statement as to the receipt of the goods, or as to any other matter, or who, with intent to defraud, violates or fails to comply with, or aids in any violation of, or failure to comply with any provision of this chapter, shall be guilty of a felony and, upon conviction, shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or both. (1919, c. 65, s. 41; 1919, c. 290; C. S. 323.)

Chapter 22. Contracts Requiring Writing.

Sec.
22-1. Contracts charging representative personally; promise to answer for debt of another.
22-2. Contract for sale of land; leases.
22-3. Contracts with Cherokee Indians.
22-4. Promise to revive debt of bankrupt.

§ 22-1. Contracts charging representative personally; promise to answer for debt of another.—No action shall be brought whereby to charge an executor, administrator or collector upon a special promise to answer damages out of his own estate or to charge any defendant upon a special promise to answer the debt, default or miscarriage of another person, unless the agreement upon which such action shall be brought, or some memorandum or note thereof, shall be in writing, and signed by the party charged therewith or some other person thereunto by him lawfully authorized. (Rev., s. 974; Code, s. 1552; R. C., c. 50, s. 15; 1826, c. 10; 29 Charles II, c. 3, s. 4; C. S. 987.)

§ 22-2. Contract for sale of land; leases.—All contracts to sell or convey any lands, tenements or hereditaments, or any interest in or concerning them, and all leases and contracts for leasing land for the purpose of digging for gold or other minerals, or for mining generally, of whatever duration; and all other leases and contracts for leasing lands exceeding in duration three years from the making thereof, shall be void unless said contract, or some memorandum or note thereof, be put in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith, or by some other person by him thereto lawfully authorized. (Rev., s. 976; Code, ss. 1554, 1743; R. C., c. 50, s. 11; 29 Ch. II, c. 3, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1819, c. 1016; 1844, c. 44; 1868, c. 156, ss. 2, 33; C. S. 988.)

§ 22-3. Contracts with Cherokee Indians.—All contracts and agreements of every description made with any Cherokee Indian, or any person of Cherokee Indian blood within the second degree, for an amount equal to ten dollars or more, shall be void, unless some note or memorandum thereof be made in writing and signed by such Indian or person of Indian blood, or some other person by him authorized, in the presence of two witnesses, who shall also subscribe the same: Provided, that this section shall not apply to any person of Cherokee Indian blood or any Cherokee Indian who understands the English language and who can speak and write the same intelligently. (Rev., s. 975; Code, s. 1553; R. C., c. 50, s. 16; 1907, c. 1004, s. 1; C. S. 989.)

§ 22-4. Promise to revive debt of bankrupt.—No promise to pay a debt discharged by any decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, in any proceeding in bankruptcy, shall be received in evidence unless such promise is in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith. (Rev., s. 978; 1899, c. 57; C. S. 990.)

Art. 7. Bankruptcy of Taxing, etc., Districts, Counties, Cities, Towns and Villages.

23-48. Local units authorized to avail themselves of provisions of bankruptcy law.

Art. 1. Assignments for Benefit of Creditors.

§ 23-1. Debts mature on execution of assignment; no preferences.—Upon the execution of any voluntary deed of trust or deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors, all debts of the maker thereof shall become due and payable at once, and no such deed of trust or deed of assignment shall contain any preferences of one creditor over another, except as hereinafter stated. (Rev., s. 967; 1893, c. 453; 1909, c. 918, s. 1; C. S. 1609.)

§ 23-2. Trustee to file schedule of property.—Upon the execution of such deed of trust, the trustee, whether named therein or appointed as hereafter provided for, shall file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said deed of trust is registered, within ten days after the registration thereof, and inventory under oath, giving a complete, full and perfect account of all property that has come into his hands or to the hands of any person for him, by virtue of such deed of trust, and when further property of any kind not included in any previous return comes to the hands or knowledge of such trustee he shall return the same as hereinbefore prescribed within ten days after the possession or discovery thereof. (Rev., s. 968; 1893, c. 453, s. 2; C. S. 1610.)

§ 23-3. Trustee to recover property conveyed fraudulently or in preference.—It is the duty of the trustee to recover, for the benefit of the estate, property which was conveyed by the grantor or assignor in fraud of his creditors, or which was conveyed or transferred by the grantor or assignor for the purpose of giving a preference. A preference, under this section, shall be deemed to have been given when property has been transferred or conveyed within four months next preceding the registration of the deed of trust or deed of assignment in consideration of the payment of a pre-existing debt, when the grantee or transferee of such property knows or has reasonable ground to believe that the grantor or assignor was insolvent at the time of making such conveyance or transfer. (1909, c. 918, s. 2; C. S. 1611.)

§ 23-4. Substitute for incompetent trustee appointed in special proceeding.—When a trustee named in a deed of assignment for the benefit of creditors has died or resigned or has in any way become incompetent to execute the trust, the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein said deed of assignment has been registered is authorized and empowered, in a special proceeding in which all persons interested have been made parties, to appoint some discreet and competent person to act as such trustee and to execute all the trusts created in the original deed of assignment, according to its true intent and as fully as if originally appointed trustee therein. (1915, c. 176, s. 1; C. S. 1612.)

§ 23-5. Insolvent trustee removed unless bond given; substitute appointed.—Upon the complaint of any creditor of the assignor or trustee in such deed of trust, alleging under oath that the trustee named therein is insolvent, and asking that he be required to give bond or be removed, it is the duty of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such deed of trust is registered, upon a notice of not more than ten days to such trustee, to hear the complaint. If upon such hearing the clerk is satisfied that such trustee is insolvent, he shall remove such trustee and appoint some competent person to execute the provisions of such deed of trust, unless such insolvent trustee shall file with the clerk a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by him, in a sum double the value of the property in the deed of trust, payable to the state of North Carolina, and conditioned that such trustee shall faithfully execute and carry into effect the provisions of said deed of trust. (Rev., s. 969; 1893, c. 453, s. 3; C. S. 1613.)

§ 23-6. Trustee removed on petition of creditors; substitute appointed.—Upon the written petition of one-fourth of the number of the creditors of the grantor or assignor whose claims aggregate more than fifty per cent of the total indebtedness of said grantor or assignor, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said deed of trust or deed of assignment is registered, upon a notice of not more than ten days to said trustee of said petition, shall remove said trustee and appoint some competent person to execute the provisions of such deed of trust or deed of assignment. (1909, c. 918, s. 3; C. S. 1614.)

pointed to execute the provisions of such deed of trust, before entering upon his duties, to file with the clerk a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by him in a sum double the value of the property in said deed of trust, payable to the state of North Carolina, and conditioned that such person shall faithfully execute and carry into effect the provisions of said deed of trust. (Rev., s. 970; 1893, c. 453, s. 3; 1909, c. 918, s. 4; 1915, c. 176, s. 2; C. S. 1615.)

§ 23-8. Only perishable property sold within ten days of registration.—It is unlawful for any trustee, whether named in such deed of trust or appointed by a clerk of the superior court, to sell any part of the property described in such deed of trust within ten days from the registration thereof, unless such property or some part thereof be perishable, in which case he may sell such property as is perishable, according to the powers conferred upon him in said deed of trust. (Rev., s. 971; 1893, c. 453, s. 4; C. S. 1616.)

§ 23-9. Creditors to file verified claims with clerk; false swearing misdemeanor.—All creditors of the maker of such deed of trust shall, before receiving payment of any amount from the said trustee, file with the clerk of the superior court a statement under oath that the amount claimed by him is justly due, after allowing all credits and offsets, to the best of his knowledge and belief. Any creditor who shall knowingly swear falsely in such statement shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 972, 3617; 1893, c. 453, ss. 6, 7; C. S. 1617.)

§ 23-10. Priority of payments by trustee.—The trustee, after paying the necessary costs of the administration of the trust, shall pay as speedily as possible (1) all debts which are a lien upon any of the trust property in his hands, to the extent of the net proceeds of the property upon which such debt is a lien; (2) wages due to workmen, clerks, traveling or city salesmen, or servants, which have been earned within three months before registration of said deed of trust or deed of assignment, and (3) all other debts equally ratable. (1909, c. 918, s. 5; C. S. 1618.)

§ 23-11. Trustee to account quarterly; final account in twelve months.—The trustee, whether named in the deed of trust or appointed by a clerk of a superior court, shall within three months from the registration of such deed of trust, and at each succeeding period of three months, file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the same is registered an account under oath, stating in detail his receipts and disbursements and his action as trustee, and within twelve months he shall file his final account of his administration of his trust. The clerk may upon good cause shown extend the time within which the quarterly and final accounts herein provided for are to be filed. (Rev., s. 973; 1893, c. 453, s. 5; C. S. 1619.)

§ 23-12. Trustee violating duties guilty of misdemeanor.—If any trustee in a deed of trust for the benefit of creditors shall fail to file his inventory as required by law, or shall knowingly make any false statement in such inventory, or shall knowingly fail to include any property therein, or shall sell any part of the property described in the deed of trust within ten days unless such property so sold be perishable, or shall fail to file either of the quarterly accounts or the final accounts as required by law, or shall knowingly make any false statement in such quarterly or final account, or shall knowingly fail to include any property, money or disbursement in such quarterly or final account, he shall, in either case, be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3689; 1893, c. 453, s. 8; C. S. 1620.)

Art. 2. Petition of Insolvent for Assignment for Creditors.

§ 23-13. Petition; schedule; inventory; affidavit.—Every insolvent debtor may present a petition in the superior court, praying that his estate may be assigned for the benefit of all his creditors, and that his person may thereafter be exempt from arrest or imprisonment on account of any judgment previously rendered or of any debts previously contracted. On presenting such petition, every insolvent shall deliver therewith a schedule containing an account of his creditors and an inventory of his estate, which inventory shall contain—

1. A full and true account of his creditors, with the place of residence of each, if known, and the sum owing to each creditor, whether on written security, on account, or otherwise.

2. A full and true inventory of his estate, real and personal, with the encumbrances existing thereon, and all books, vouchers and securities relating thereto.

3. A full and true inventory of all property, real and personal, claimed by him as exempt from sale under execution.

He shall annex to his petition and schedule the following affidavit, which must be taken and subscribed by him before the clerk of the superior court, and must be certified by such officer:

I, ..., do swear (or affirm) that the account of my creditors, with the places of their residence, and the inventory of my estate, which are herewith delivered, are in all respects just and true; that I have not at any time or in any manner disposed of or made over any part of my estate for the future benefit of myself or my family, or in order to defraud any of my creditors; and that I have not paid, secured to be paid, or in any way compounded with any of my creditors, with a view that they, or any of them, should abstain or desist from opposing my discharge: so help me, God. (Rev., s. 1930; Code, ss. 2942, 2943, 2944; 1868-9, c. 162, ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 1621.)

§ 23-14. Clerk to give notice of petition.—On receiving the petition, schedule and affidavit, the clerk of the superior court shall make an order requiring all the creditors of such insolvent to show cause before said officer, within thirty days after publication of the order, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted, and shall post a notice of the contents of the order at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county where the application is made for four successive weeks; or, in lieu thereof, shall publish the same for three successive weeks in any newspaper published in said county, or in an adjoining county. (Rev., s. 1931; Code, ss. 2945, 2946; 1868-9, c. 162, ss. 4, 5; C. S. 1622.)

§ 23-15. Order of discharge and appointment of trustee.—If no creditor oppose the discharge of the insolvent, the clerk of the superior court before whom the hearing of the petition is had shall enter an order of discharge and appoint a trustee of all the estate of such insolvent. (Rev., s. 1932; Code, s. 2947; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 6; C. S. 1623.)

§ 23-16. Terms and effect of order of discharge.—The order of discharge shall declare that the person of such insolvent shall forever thereafter be exempted from arrest or imprisonment on account of any judgment, or by reason of any debt due at the time of such order, or contracted for before that time, though payable afterwards. But no debt, demand, judgment or decree against any insolvent, discharged under this chapter, shall be affected or impaired by such discharge, but the same shall remain valid and effectual against all the property of such insolvent acquired after his discharge and the appointment of a trustee; and the lien of any judgment or decree upon the property of such insolvent shall not be in any manner affected by such discharge. (Rev., s. 1933; Code, s. 2950; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 9; C. S. 1624.)

§ 23-17. Suggestion of fraud by opposing creditor.—Every creditor opposing the discharge of the insolvent may suggest fraud and set forth the particulars thereof in writing, verified by his oath; but the insolvent shall not be compelled to answer the suggestions of fraud in more than one case, though as many creditors as choose may make themselves parties to the issues in such cases. (Rev., s. 1934; Code, s. 2948; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 7; C. S. 1625.)

Art. 3. Trustee for Estate of Debtor Imprisoned for Crime.

§ 23-18. Persons who may apply for trustee for imprisoned debtor.—When any debtor is imprisoned in the penitentiary for any term, or in a county jail for any term more than twelve months, application by petition may be made by any creditor, the debtor, or by his wife, or any of his relatives, for the appointment of a trustee to take charge of the estate of such debtor. (Rev., s. 1943; Code, s. 2974; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 40; C. S. 1626.)

§ 23-19. Superior court appoints; copy of sentence to be produced.—The application must be made to the superior court of the county where the debtor was convicted; and upon producing a copy of the sentence of such debtor, duly certified by the clerk of the court, together with an affidavit of the applicant that such debtor is actually imprisoned under such sentence, and is indebted in any sum, the clerk or the judge may immediately appoint a trustee of the estate of such debtor. (Rev., s. 1944; Code, s. 2975; 1868-9, c. 162, ss. 41, 42; C. S. 1627.)

§ 23-20. Duties of trustee; accounting; oath.—The trustee of the imprisoned debtor shall pay his debts pro rata. After paying such debts, the trustee shall apply the surplus, from time to time, to the support of the wife and children of the debtor, under the direction of the superior court. When the imprisoned debtor is lawfully discharged from his imprisonment, the trustee shall deliver to him all the estate, real and personal, of such debtor, after retaining a sufficient sum to satisfy the expenses incurred in the execution of the trust and lawful commissions therefor. The trustee shall make his returns and have his accounts audited and settled by the clerk of the superior court of the county where the proceeding was had, in like manner as provided for personal representatives. Before proceeding to the discharge of his duty, the trustee shall take and subscribe an oath, well and truly to execute his trust according to his best skill and understanding. The oath must be filed with the clerk of the superior court. (Rev., ss. 1945, 1946, 1947; Code, ss. 2976, 2978, 2979; 1868-9, c. 162, ss. 43, 45, 46; C. S. 1628.)

§ 23-21. Court may appoint several trustees.—The court has power, when deemed necessary, to appoint more than one person trustee under this chapter; but in reference to the rights, authorities and duties conferred herein, all such trustees shall be deemed one person in law. (Rev., s. 1948; Code, s. 2980; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 47; C. S. 1629.)

§ 23-22. Court may remove trustee and appoint successor.—In case of the death, removal, resignation or other disability of a trustee, the court making the appointment may from time to time supply the vacancy; and all proceedings may be continued by the successor in office in like manner as in the first instance. (Rev., s. 1949; Code, s. 2981; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 48; C. S. 1630.)

Art. 4. Discharge of Insolvent Debtors.

§ 23-23. Insolvent debtor's oath.—Prisoners in order to be entitled to discharge from imprisonment under the provisions of this article shall take the following oath:

I, ..., do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have not the worth of fifty dollars in any worldly substance, in debts, money or otherwise whatsoever, and that I have not at any time since my imprisonment or before, directly or indirectly, sold or assigned, or otherwise disposed of, or made over in trust for myself or my family, any part of my real or personal estate, whereby to have or expect any benefit, or to defraud any of my creditors: so help me, God. (Rev., s. 1918a; Code, s. 2972; R. C., c. 59, s. 1; 1773, c. 100, s. 1; 1808, c. 746, s. 2; 1810, c. 797, c. 802; 1830, c. 33; 1838, c. 23; 1840, cc. 33, 34; 1852, c. 49; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 31; 1881, c. 76; C. S. 1631.)

§ 23-24. Persons imprisoned for nonpayment of costs in criminal cases.—The following persons may be discharged from imprisonment upon complying with this article and § 153-194:

Every person committed for the fine and costs of any criminal prosecution. (Rev., s. 1915; Code, s. 2967; R. C., c. 59, s. 1; 1773, c. 100, s. 1; 1808, c. 746, s. 2; 1810, cc. 797, 802; 1830, c. 33; 1838, c. 23; 1840, cc. 33, 34; 1852, c. 49; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 26; 1933, c. 228, s. 9; C. S. 1632.)

§ 23-25. Petition; before whom; notice; service.—Every such person, having remained in prison for twenty days, may apply by petition to the court where the judgment against him was entered, praying to be brought before such court at a time and place to be named in the petition, and to be discharged upon taking the oath hereinbefore prescribed. The applicant shall cause ten days notice of the time and place of filing the petition to be served on the sheriff or other officer by whom he was committed. In cases of conviction before a justice of the peace the clerk of the superior court of the county where the convicted person confined for costs is, may administer the oath and discharge the prisoner. (Rev., s. 1916; Code, ss. 2968, 2969; 1891, c. 195; R. C., c. 59, s. 1; 1773, c. 100, s. 1; 1808, c. 746, s. 2; 1810, cc. 797, 802; 1830, c. 33; 1838, c. 23; 1840, cc. 33, 34; 1852, c. 49; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 28; 1874-5, c. 11; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 27; 1873-4, c. 90; C. S. 1633.)

§ 23-26. Warrant issued for prisoner.—The clerk of the superior court, or justice of the peace, before whom such petition is presented shall forthwith issue a warrant to the sheriff, or keeper of the prison, requiring him to bring the prisoner before the court, at the time and place named for the hearing of the case, which warrant every such sheriff or keeper shall obey. (Rev., s. 1917; Code, s. 2970; R. C., c. 59, s. 1; 1773, c. 100, s. 1; 1808, c. 746, s. 2; 1810, cc. 797, 802; 1830, c. 33; 1838, c. 23; 1840, cc. 33, 34; 1852, c. 49; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 29; C. S. 1634.)

§ 23-27. Proceeding on application. — At the hearing of the petition, if the prisoner has no visible estate, and takes and subscribes the oath or affirmation prescribed in this article, the clerk of the superior court, or justice of the peace, before whom he is brought, shall administer the oath or affirmation to him, and discharge him from imprisonment; of which an entry shall be made in the docket of the court, and, where the proceeding is before a justice of the peace, the justice shall return the petition and orders thereon into the office of the clerk of the superior court to be filed. (Rev., s. 1918; Code, s. 2971; R. C., c. 59, s. 1; 1773, c. 100, s. 1; 1808, c. 746, s. 2; 1810, cc. 797, 802; 1830, c. 33; 1838, c. 23; 1840, cc. 33, 34; 1852, c. 49; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 30; C. S. 1635.)

§ 23-28. Suggestion of fraud.—The chairman of the board of commissioners, and every officer interested in the fee bill taxed against such prisoner, may oppose his taking the insolvent debtor's oath above prescribed, and file particulars of the suggestion in writing, in the court where the same shall stand for trial as prescribed in this chapter in other cases of fraud or concealment. (Rev., s. 1919; Code, s. 2973; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 32; C. S. 1636.)

§ 23-29. Persons taken in arrest and bail proceedings, or in execution.—The following persons also are entitled to the benefit of this article as hereinafter provided:

1. Every person taken or charged on any order of arrest for default or bail, or on surrender of bail in any action.

2. Every person taken or charged in execution of arrest for any debt or damages rendered in any action whatever. (Rev., s. 1920; Code, s. 2951; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 10; C. S. 1637.)

§ 23-30. When petition may be filed.—Every person taken or charged as in the preceding section specified may, at any time after his arrest or imprisonment, petition the court from which the process issued on which he is arrested or imprisoned, for his discharge therefrom, on his compliance with this chapter. (Rev., s. 1921; Code, s. 2952; R. C., c. 59, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 11; C. S. 1638.)

§ 23-31. Petition; contents; verification. — The petition shall set forth the cause of the imprisonment, with the writ or process and complaint on which the same is founded, and shall have annexed to it a just and true account of all his estate, real and personal, and of all charges affecting such estate, as they exist at the time of filing his petition, together with all deeds, securities, books or writings whatever relating to the estate and the charges thereon; and also what property, real and personal, the petitioner claims as exempt from sale under execution, and shall have annexed to it an oath or affirmation, subscribed by the petitioner and taken before any person authorized by law to administer oaths, to the effect following:

I, ..., the within named petitioner, do swear (or affirm) that the within petition and account of my estate, and of the charges thereon, are, in all respects, just and true; and that I have not at any time or in any manner disposed of or made over any part of my property, with a view to the future benefit of myself or my family, or with an intent to injure or defraud any of my creditors: so help me, God. (Rev., s. 1922; Code, ss. 2953, 2954; R. C., c. 59, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 162, ss. 12, 13; C. S. 1639.)

§ 23-32. Notice; length of notice and to whom given.—Twenty days notice of the time and place at which the petition will be filed, together with a copy of such petition and the account annexed thereto, shall be personally served by such debtor on the creditor or creditors at whose suit he is arrested or imprisoned, and such other creditors as the debtor may choose, or their personal representatives or attorneys. If the person to be notified reside out of the state, and has no agent or attorney in the state, the notice may be served on the officer having the claim to collect, or by two weekly publications in any newspaper in the state. (Rev., s. 1923; Code, s. 2955; R. C., c. 59, ss. 3, 20; 1773, c. 100, s. 8; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 14; C. S. 1640.)

§ 23-33. Who may suggest fraud.—Every creditor upon whom the notice directed in § 23-32 is served may suggest fraud upon the hearing of the petition, and the issues made up respecting the fraud shall stand for trial as in other cases. (Rev., s. 1924; Code, s. 2956; R. C., c. 59, s. 13; 1822, c. 1131, s. 4; 1835, c. 12; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 15; C. S. 1641.)

§ 23-34. Where no suggestion of fraud, discharge granted.—If no creditor suggests fraud or opposes the discharge of the debtor, the justice of the peace or the clerk of the superior court before whom the petition is heard shall forthwith discharge the debtor, and, if he surrenders any estate for the benefit of his creditors, shall appoint a trustee of such estate. The order of discharge and appointment shall be entered in the docket of the court, and if granted by a justice of the peace a copy thereof shall be certified by him to the clerk of the superior court, where the same shall be recorded, and filed. (Rev., s. 1925; Code, s. 2957; R. C., c. 59, s. 1; 1773, c. 100; 1808, c. 746, s. 2; 1810, c. 797, c. 802; 1830, c. 33; 1838, c. 23; 1840, cc. 33, 34; 1852, c. 49; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 16; C. S. 1642.)

§ 23-35. Continuance granted for cause.—When it appears to the court that any debtor, who may have given bond for his appearance under this chapter, is prevented from attending court by sickness or other sufficient cause, the case shall be continued to another day, or to the next term, when the same proceedings shall be had as if the debtor had appeared according to the condition of his bond, and in the event of his death in the meantime, his bond shall be discharged. (Rev., s. 1926; Code, s. 2959; R. C., c. 59, s. 10; 1822, c. 1131, s. 1; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 18; C. S. 1643.)

§ 23-36. Where fraud in issue, discharge only after trial.—After an issue of fraud or concealment is made up, the debtor shall not discharge himself as to the creditors in that issue, except by trial and verdict in the same, or by a discharge by consent. (Rev., s. 1927; Code, s. 2962; R. C., c. 59, s. 17; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 21; C. S. 1644.)

§ 23-37. If fraud found, debtor imprisoned.—If, on the trial, the jury finds that there is any fraud or concealment, the judgment shall be that the debtor be imprisoned until a full and fair disclosure and account of all his money, property or effects be made by the debtor. (Rev., s. 1928; Code, s. 2961; R. C., c. 59, s. 14; 1822, c. 1131, s. 4; 1835, c. 12; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 20; C. S. 1645.)

§ 23-38. Effect of order of discharge.—The order of discharge under the last four articles of this chapter, whether granted upon a nonsuggestion of fraud, upon the finding of a jury in favor of the debtor, or otherwise, shall be in like terms and have like effect as prescribed in § 23-16; except that the body of such debtor shall be free from arrest or imprisonment at the suit of every creditor, and as to him only, to whom the notice required may have been given; and the notices, or copies thereof, shall in all cases be filed in the office of the superior court clerk. (Rev., s. 1929; Code, s. 2960; R. C., c. 59, s. 11; 1822, c. 1131, s. 4; 1835, c. 12; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 19; C. S. 1646.)

Art. 5. General Provisions under Articles 2, 3, and 4.

§ 23-39. Superior court tries issue of fraud.—In every case where an issue of fraud is made up as provided in this chapter, the case shall be entered in the trial docket of the superior court, and stand for trial as other causes; and upon a finding by the jury in favor of the petitioner the judge shall discharge the debtor; if the finding is against the petitioner he shall be committed to jail until he makes full disclosure. (Rev., s. 1935; Code, s. 2949; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 8; C. S. 1647.)

§ 23-40. Insolvent released on giving bond.—Every debtor entitled under the provisions of this chapter to discharge as an insolvent may, at the time of filing his application for a discharge or at any time afterwards, tender to the sheriff or other officer having his body in charge, a bond, with sufficient surety, in double the amount of the sum due any creditor or creditors at whose suit he was taken or charged, conditioned for the appearance of such debtor before the court where his petition is filed, at the hearing thereof, and to stand to and abide by the final order or decree of the court in the case. If such bond be satisfactory to the sheriff, he shall forthwith release such debtor from custody. (Rev., s. 1936; Code, s. 2958; R. C., c. 59, s. 27; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 17; C. S. 1648.)

§ 23-41. Surety in bond may surrender principal.—The surety in any bond conditioned for the appearance of any person under this chapter may surrender the principal, or such principal may surrender himself, in discharge of the bond, to the sheriff or other officer of any court where such principal is bound to appear, in the manner provided in the chapter entitled Civil Procedure, article Arrest and Bail. (Rev., s. 1937; Code, s. 2963; R. C., c. 59, s. 23; 1793, c. 100, s. 7; 1793, c. 380, s. 1; 1822, c. 1131, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 22; C. S. 1649.)

§ 23-42. Creditor liable for jail fees.—When any debtor is actually confined within the walls of a prison, on an order of arrest in default of bail or otherwise, the jailer must furnish him with necessary food during his confinement, if the prisoner requires it, for which the jailer shall have the same fees as for keeping other prisoners. If the debtor is unable to discharge such fees, the jailer may recover them from the party at whose instance the debtor was confined. And at any time after the arrest, the sheriff or jailer may give notice thereof to the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, and demand security of him for the prison fees that accrue after such notice, and if the plaintiff fails to give such security then the sheriff may discharge the debtor out of custody. (Rev., s 1938; Code, s. 2965; R. C., c. 69, s. 5; 1773, c. 100, ss. 8, 9; 1821, c. 1103; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 24; C. S. 1650.)

§ 23-43. False swearing; penalty.—If any insolvent or imprisoned debtor takes any oath prescribed in this chapter falsely and corruptly, and upon indictment for perjury is convicted thereof, he shall suffer all the pains of perjury, and he shall never after have any of the benefits of this chapter, but may be sued and imprisoned as though he had never been discharged. (Rev., ss. 1940, 3614; Code, s. 2964; R. C., c. 59, s. 25; 1793, c. 100, s. 10; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 23; C. S. 1651.)

§ 23-44. Powers of trustees hereunder. — Any trustee appointed under the last four articles of this chapter, as therein contemplated, is hereby declared a trustee of the estate of the debtor, in respect to whose property such trustee is appointed for the benefit of creditors, and is invested from the time of appointment with all the powers and authority, and subject to the control, obligations and responsibilities prescribed by law in relation to personal representatives over the estates of deceased persons; but all debts shall be paid by the trustees pro rata. (Rev., s. 1941; Code, s. 2977; R. C., c. 59, ss. 21, 22; 1773, c. 100, ss 5, 6; 1827, c. 44; 1830, c. 26, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 44; C. S. 1652.)

§ 23-45. Jail bounds.—Any imprisoned debtor may take the benefit of the prison bounds by giving security, as required by law, except as follows:

1. A debtor against whom an issue of fraud is found.

2. Any debtor who, for other cause, is adjudged to be imprisoned until he makes a full and fair disclosure or account of his property. (Rev., s. 1942; Code, s. 2966; R. C., c. 59, s. 27; 1818, c. 964; 1868-9, c. 162, s. 25; C. S. 1653.)

Art. 6. Practice in Insolvency and Certain Other Proceedings.

§ 23-46. Unlawful to solicit claims of creditors in proceedings. — It shall be unlawful for any individual, corporation, or firm or other association of persons, to solicit of any creditor any claim of such creditor in order that such individual, corporation, firm or association may represent such creditor or present or vote such claim, in any bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding, or in any action or proceeding for or growing out of the appointment of a receiver, or in any matter involving an assignment for the benefit of creditors. (1931, c. 208, s. 1.)

§ 23-47. Violation of preceding section a misdemeanor.—Any individual, corporation, or firm or other association of persons violating any provision of § 23-46 shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1931, c. 208, s. 3.)

Art. 7. Bankruptcy of Taxing, etc., Districts, Counties, Cities, Towns and Villages.

§ 23-48. Local units authorized to avail themselves of provisions of bankruptcy law. — With the approval of the local government commission of North Carolina and with the consent of the holders of such percentage or percentages of its indebtedness as may be required by Public Act Number three hundred two of the Seventy-fifth Congress, First Session, entitled "An Act to amend an Act entitled 'An Act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States' approved July first, one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight and Acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto," approved August sixteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, as amended, any taxing district, local improvement district, school district, county, city, town or village in the state of North Carolina is authorized to avail itself of the provisions of said act of congress as said act now exists or may be hereafter amended. (1939, c. 203.)

Chapter 24. Interest.

Sec.
24-1. Legal rate is six per cent.
24-2. Penalty for usury; corporate bonds may be sold below par.
24-3. Time from which interest runs.
24-4. Obligations due guardians to bear compound interest.
24-5. Contracts, except penal bonds, and judgments to bear interest; jury to distinguish principal.
24-6. Judgment by default final, clerk ascertains.
24-7. Interest from verdict to judgment added as costs.

§ 24-1. Legal rate is six per cent.—The legal rate of interest shall be six per cent per annum for such time as interest may accrue, and no more. (Rev., s. 1950; Code, s. 3835; 1895, c. 69; 1876-7, c. 91; C. S. 2305.)

§ 24-2. Penalty for usury; corporate bonds may be sold below par.—The taking, receiving, reserving or charging a greater rate of interest than six per centum per annum, either before or after the interest may accrue, when knowingly done, shall be a forfeiture of the entire interest which the note or other evidence of debt carries with it, or which has been agreed to be paid thereon. And in case a greater rate of interest has been paid, the person or his legal representatives or corporation by whom it has been paid, may recover back twice the amount of interest paid in an action in the nature of action for debt. In any action brought in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover upon any such note or other evidence of debt, it is lawful for the party against whom the action is brought to plead as a counterclaim the penalty above provided for, to wit, twice the amount of interest paid as aforesaid, and also the forfeiture of the entire interest. Nothing contained in this section or in § 24-1, however, shall be held or construed to prohibit private corporations from paying a commission on or for the sale of their coupon bonds, nor from selling such bonds for less than the par value thereof. (Rev., s. 1951; Code, s. 3836; 1895, c. 69; 1903, c. 154; 1876-7, c. 91; C. S. 2306.)

§ 24-3. Time from which interest runs.—Interest is due and payable on instruments, as follows:

1. All bonds, bills, notes, bills of exchange, liquidated and settled accounts shall bear interest from the time they become due, provided such liquidated and settled accounts be signed by the debtor, unless it is specially expressed that interest is not to accrue until a time mentioned in the said writings or securities.

2. All bills, bonds, or notes payable on demand shall be held and deemed to be due when demandable by the creditor, and shall bear interest from the time they are demandable, unless otherwise expressed.

3. All securities for the payment or delivery of specific articles shall bear interest as moneyed contracts; and the articles shall be rated by the jury at the time they become due.

4. Bills of exchange drawn or indorsed in the state, and which have been protested, shall carry interest, not from the date thereof, but from the time of payment therein mentioned. (Rev., s. 1952; Code, ss. 44, 45, 46, 47; R. C., c. 13; 1786, c. 248; 1828, c. 2; C. S. 2307.)

§ 24-4. Obligations due guardians to bear compound interest.—Guardians shall have power to lend any portion of the estate of their wards upon bond with sufficient security, to be repaid with interest annually, and all the bonds, notes or other obligations which he shall take as guardian shall bear compound interest, for which he must account, and he may assign the same to the ward on settlement with him. (Rev., s. 1953; Code, s. 1592; R. C., c. 54, s. 23; 1762, c. 69; 1816, c. 925; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 29; C. S. 2308.)

§ 24-5. Contracts, except penal bonds, and judgments to bear interest; jury to distinguish principal.—All sums of money due by contract of any kind, excepting money due on penal bonds, shall bear interest, and when a jury shall render a verdict therefor they shall distinguish the principal from the sum allowed as interest; and the principal sum due on all such contracts shall bear interest from the time of rendering judgment thereon until it is paid and satisfied. In like manner, the amount of any judgment or decree, except the costs, rendered or adjudged in any kind of action, though not on contract, shall bear interest till paid, and the judgment and decree of the court shall be rendered according to this section. (Rev., s. 1954; Code, s. 530; R. C., c. 31, s. 90; 1786, c. 253; 1789, c. 314, s. 4; 1807, c. 721; C. S. 2309.)

§ 24-6. Judgment by default final, clerk ascertains.—When a suit is instituted on a single bond, a covenant for the payment of money, bill of exchange, promissory note, or a signed account, and the defendant does not plead to issue thereon, upon judgment, the clerk of the court shall ascertain the interest due by law, without a writ of inquiry, and the amount shall be included in the final judgment of the court as damages, which judgment shall be rendered therein in the manner prescribed by § 24-5. (Rev., s. 1956; Code, s. 531; R. C., c. 31, s. 91; 1797, c. 475; C. S. 2310.)

§ 24-7. Interest from verdict to judgment added as costs.—When the judgment is for the recovery of money, interest from the time of the verdict or report until judgment is finally entered shall be computed by the clerk and added to the costs of the party entitled thereto. (Rev., s. 1955; Code, s. 529; C. S. 2311.)

25-135. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.
25-136. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.
25-137. When bill may be treated as promissory note.
25-138. Referee in case of need.

Art. 11. Acceptance.

25-139. Acceptance defined; how made.
25-140. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill.
25-141. Acceptance by separate instrument.
25-142. When promise to accept equivalent to acceptance.
25-143. Time allowed drawee to accept.
25-144. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.
25-145. Acceptance of incomplete bill.
25-146. Kinds of acceptances.
25-147. What constitutes a general acceptance.
25-148. What constitutes a qualified acceptance.
25-149. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.

Art. 12. Presentment for Acceptance.

Sec.
25-150. When presentment for acceptance must be made.
25-151. Failure to present in reasonable time discharges drawer and indorsers.
25-152. How presentment made.
25-153. On what days presentment may be made.
25-154. Presentment where time is insufficient.

25-197. Check not assignment of funds.
25-198. When stop-payment order given to bank expires.
25-199. Application to present orders.

Art. 1. General Provisions.

§ 25-1. Definitions.—In this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires—

"Acceptance" means an acceptance completed by delivery or notification.

"Action" includes counterclaim and setoff.

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not.

"Bearer" means the person in possession of a bill or note which is payable to bearer.

"Bill" means bill of exchange, and "note" means negotiable promissory note.

"Delivery" means transfer of possession, actual or constructive, from one person to another.

"Holder" means the payee or indorsee of a bill or note who is in possession of it, or the bearer thereof.

"Indorsement" means an indorsement completed by delivery.

"Instrument" means negotiable instrument.

"Issue" means the first delivery of the instrument, complete in form, to a person who takes it as a holder.

"Person" includes a body of persons, whether incorporated or not.

"Value" means valuable consideration.

"Written" includes printed, and "writing" includes print. (Rev., s. 2340; 1899, c. 733, s. 191; C. S. 2976.)

§ 25-2. Person primarily liable on instrument.—The person primarily liable on an instrument is the person who by the terms of the instrument is absolutely required to pay the same. All other parties are secondarily liable. (Rev., s. 2342; 1899, c. 733, s. 192; C. S. 2977.)

§ 25-3. What constitutes reasonable time.—In determining what is reasonable time or an unreasonable time regard is to be had to the nature of the instrument, the usage of trade or business (if any) with respect to such instruments, and the facts of the particular case. (Rev., s. 2343; 1899, c. 733, s. 193; C. S. 2978.)

§ 25-4. When law merchant governs.—In any case not provided for in this chapter the rules of the law merchant shall govern. (Rev., s. 2344; 1899, c. 733, s. 196; C. S. 2979.)

§ 25-5. Acts to be done on Sunday or holiday.—Where the day, or the last day, for doing any act herein required or permitted to be done falls

sumed name.—No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name. (Rev., s. 2167; 1899, c. 733, s. 18; C. S. 2999.)

§ 25-25. Signature by agent; how authority shown. — The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose, and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency. (Rev., s. 2168; 1899, c. 733, s. 19; C. S. 3000.)

§ 25-26. Liability of person signing as agent.—Where the instrument contains, or a person adds to his signature, words indicating that he signed for or on behalf of the principal or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability. (Rev., s. 2169; 1899, c. 733, s. 20; C. S. 3001.)

§ 25-27. Effect of signature by procuration.—A signature by procuration operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority. (Rev., s. 2170; 1899, c. 733, s. 21; C. S. 3002.)

§ 25-28. Effect of forged signature.—When a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument or to give a discharge therefor or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party against whom it is sought to enforce such right is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority. (Rev., s. 2171; 1899, c. 733, s. 23; C. S. 3003.)

Art. 3. Consideration.

§ 25-29. Presumption of consideration.—Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration, and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value. (Rev., s. 2172; 1899, c. 733, s. 24; C. S. 3004.)

§ 25-30. What constitutes consideration.—Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or preëxisting debt constitutes value, and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time. (Rev., s. 2173; 1899, c. 733, s. 25; C. S. 3005.)

§ 25-31. What constitutes a holder for value.—Where value has at any time been given for the instrument the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time. (Rev., s. 2174; 1899, c. 733, s. 26; C. S. 3006.)

§ 25-32. When lien on instrument constitutes holder for value.—Where the holder has a lien on the instrument arising either from contract or by implication of law he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien. (Rev., s. 2175; 1899, c. 733, s. 27; C. S. 3007.)

§ 25-33. Effect of want of consideration.—Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course, and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise. (Rev. s. 2176; 1899, c. 733, s. 28; C. S. 3008.)

§ 25-34. Liability of accommodation party.—An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party. (Rev., s. 2177; 1899, c. 733, s. 29; C. S. 3009.)

Art. 4. Negotiation.

§ 25-35. What constitutes negotiation.—An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer, it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order, it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder, and completed by delivery. (Rev., s. 2178; 1899, c. 733, s. 30; C. S. 3010.)

§ 25-36. How indorsement made.—The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement. (Rev., s. 2179; 1899, c. 733, s. 31; C. S. 3011.)

§ 25-37. Effect of indorsement by infant or corporation.—The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation, an infant, or married woman passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation, infant, or married woman may incur no liability thereon. (Rev., s. 2180; 1899, c. 733, s. 22; C. S. 3012.)

§ 25-38. Indorsement must be of entire instrument.—An indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part it may be indorsed as to the residue. (Rev., s. 2181; 1899, c. 733, s. 32; C. S. 3013.)

§ 25-39. Kinds of indorsement. — An indorsement may be either in blank or special, and it may also be either restrictive or qualified or conditional. (Rev., s. 2182; 1899, c. 733, s. 33; C. S. 3014.)

§ 25-40. Special indorsement; indorsement in blank.—A special indorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery. (Rev., s. 2183; 1899, c. 733, s. 34; C. S. 3015.)

§ 25-42. When indorsement restrictive.—An indorsement is restrictive which either (1) prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or (2) constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or (3) vests the title in the indorsee in trust for, or to the use of, some other person. But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive. (Rev., s. 2185; 1899, c. 733, s. 36; C. S. 3017.)

§ 25-43. Effect of restrictive indorsement; rights of indorsee.—A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right (1) to receive payment of the instrument; (2) to bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring; (3) to transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so. But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement. (Rev., s. 2186; 1899, c. 733, s. 37; C. S. 3018.)

§ 25-44. Qualified indorsement. — A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument. (Rev., s. 2187; 1899, c. 733, s. 38; C. S. 3019.)

§ 25-45. Conditional indorsement. — Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated will hold the same or the proceeds thereof subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally. (Rev., s. 2188; 1899, c. 733, s. 39; C. S. 3020.)

§ 25-46. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.—Where an instrument payable to bearer is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement. (Rev., s. 2189; 1899, c. 733, s. 40; C. S. 3021.)

§ 25-47. Indorsement of instrument payable to two or more persons.—Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others. (Rev., s. 2190; 1899, c. 733, s. 41; C. S. 3022.)

§ 25-48. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.—Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer, and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation or the indorsement of the officer. (Rev., s. 2191; 1899, c. 733, s. 42; C. S. 3023.)

§ 25-49. Indorsement, where payee's name misspelled.—Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled he may indorse the instrument as there described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature. (Rev., s. 2192; 1899, c. 733, s. 43; C. S. 3024.)

§ 25-50. Indorsement in representative capacity.—Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability. (Rev., s. 2193; 1899, c. 733, s. 44; C. S. 3025.)

§ 25-51. Presumption as to time of indorsement.—Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue. (Rev., s. 2194; 1899, c. 733, s. 45; C. S. 3026.)

§ 25-52. Presumption as to place of indorsement.—Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated. (Rev., s. 2195; 1899, c. 733, s. 46; C. S. 3027.)

§ 25-53. Continuation of negotiable character.—An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise. (Rev., s. 2196; 1899, c. 733, s. 47; C. S. 3028.)

§ 25-54. Striking out indorsement.—The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out and all indorsers subsequent to him are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument. (Rev., s. 2197; 1899, c. 733, s. 48; C. S. 3029.)

§ 25-55. Effect of transfer without indorsement.—Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferrer had therein, and the transferee acquires in addition the right to have the indorsement of the transferrer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. (Rev., s. 2198; 1899, c. 733, s. 49; C. S. 3030.)

§ 25-56. When prior party may negotiate instrument.—Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this chapter, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable. (Rev., s. 2199; 1899, c. 733, s. 50; C. S. 3031.)

Art. 5. Rights of Holder.

§ 25-57. Right of holder to sue; payment.—The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue

sumed name.—No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name. (Rev., s. 2167; 1899, c. 733, s. 18; C. S. 2999.)

§ 25-25. Signature by agent; how authority shown. — The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose, and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency. (Rev., s. 2168; 1899, c. 733, s. 19; C. S. 3000.)

§ 25-26. Liability of person signing as agent.—Where the instrument contains, or a person adds to his signature, words indicating that he signed for or on behalf of the principal or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability. (Rev., s. 2169; 1899, c. 733, s. 20; C. S. 3001.)

§ 25-27. Effect of signature by procuration.—A signature by procuration operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority. (Rev., s. 2170; 1899, c. 733, s. 21; C. S. 3002.)

§ 25-28. Effect of forged signature.—When a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument or to give a discharge therefor or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party against whom it is sought to enforce such right is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority. (Rev., s. 2171; 1899, c. 733, s. 23; C. S. 3003.)

Art. 3. Consideration.

§ 25-29. Presumption of consideration.—Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration, and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value. (Rev., s. 2172; 1899, c. 733, s. 24; C. S. 3004.)

§ 25-30. What constitutes consideration.—Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or preëxisting debt constitutes value, and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time. (Rev., s. 2173; 1899, c. 733, s. 25; C. S. 3005.)

§ 25-31. What constitutes a holder for value.—Where value has at any time been given for the instrument the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time. (Rev., s. 2174; 1899, c. 733, s. 26; C. S. 3006.)

§ 25-32. When lien on instrument constitutes holder for value.—Where the holder has a lien on the instrument arising either from contract or by implication of law he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien. (Rev., s. 2175; 1899, c. 733, s. 27; C. S. 3007.)

§ 25-33. Effect of want of consideration.—Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course, and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise. (Rev. s. 2176; 1899, c. 733, s. 28; C. S. 3008.)

§ 25-34. Liability of accommodation party.—An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor or indorser without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party. (Rev., s. 2177; 1899, c. 733, s. 29; C. S. 3009.)

Art. 4. Negotiation.

§ 25-35. What constitutes negotiation.—An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer, it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order, it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder, and completed by delivery. (Rev., s. 2178; 1899, c. 733, s. 30; C. S. 3010.)

§ 25-36. How indorsement made.—The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement. (Rev., s. 2179; 1899, c. 733, s. 31; C. S. 3011.)

§ 25-37. Effect of indorsement by infant or corporation.—The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation, an infant, or married woman passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation, infant, or married woman may incur no liability thereon. (Rev., s. 2180; 1899, c. 733, s. 22; C. S. 3012.)

§ 25-38. Indorsement must be of entire instrument.—An indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part it may be indorsed as to the residue. (Rev., s. 2181; 1899, c. 733, s. 32; C. S. 3013.)

§ 25-39. Kinds of indorsement. — An indorsement may be either in blank or special, and it may also be either restrictive or qualified or conditional. (Rev., s. 2182; 1899, c. 733, s. 33; C. S. 3014.)

§ 25-40. Special indorsement; indorsement in blank.—A special indorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery. (Rev., s. 2183; 1899, c. 733, s. 34; C. S. 3015.)

§ 25-42. When indorsement restrictive.—An indorsement is restrictive which either (1) prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or (2) constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or (3) vests the title in the indorsee in trust for, or to the use of, some other person. But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive. (Rev., s. 2185; 1899, c. 733, s. 36; C. S. 3017.)

§ 25-43. Effect of restrictive indorsement; rights of indorsee.—A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right (1) to receive payment of the instrument; (2) to bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring; (3) to transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so. But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement. (Rev., s. 2186; 1899, c. 733, s. 37; C. S. 3018.)

§ 25-44. Qualified indorsement. — A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse" or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument. (Rev., s. 2187; 1899, c. 733, s. 38; C. S. 3019.)

§ 25-45. Conditional indorsement. — Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated will hold the same or the proceeds thereof subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally. (Rev., s. 2188; 1899, c. 733, s. 39; C. S. 3020.)

§ 25-46. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.—Where an instrument payable to bearer is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement. (Rev., s. 2189; 1899, c. 733, s. 40; C. S. 3021.)

§ 25-47. Indorsement of instrument payable to two or more persons.—Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others. (Rev., s. 2190; 1899, c. 733, s. 41; C. S. 3022.)

§ 25-48. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.—Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer, and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation or the indorsement of the officer. (Rev., s. 2191; 1899, c. 733, s. 42; C. S. 3023.)

§ 25-49. Indorsement, where payee's name misspelled.—Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled he may indorse the instrument as there described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature. (Rev., s. 2192; 1899, c. 733, s. 43; C. S. 3024.)

§ 25-50. Indorsement in representative capacity.—Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability. (Rev., s. 2193; 1899, c. 733, s. 44; C. S. 3025.)

§ 25-51. Presumption as to time of indorsement.—Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue. (Rev., s. 2194; 1899, c. 733, s. 45; C. S. 3026.)

§ 25-52. Presumption as to place of indorsement.—Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated. (Rev., s. 2195; 1899, c. 733, s. 46; C. S. 3027.)

§ 25-53. Continuation of negotiable character.—An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise. (Rev., s. 2196; 1899, c. 733, s. 47; C. S. 3028.)

§ 25-54. Striking out indorsement.—The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out and all indorsers subsequent to him are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument. (Rev., s. 2197; 1899, c. 733, s. 48; C. S. 3029.)

§ 25-55. Effect of transfer without indorsement.—Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferrer had therein, and the transferee acquires in addition the right to have the indorsement of the transferrer. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. (Rev., s. 2198; 1899, c. 733, s. 49; C. S. 3030.)

§ 25-56. When prior party may negotiate instrument.—Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this chapter, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable. (Rev., s. 2199; 1899, c. 733, s. 50; C. S. 3031.)

Art. 5. Rights of Holder.

thereon in his own name, and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument. (Rev., s. 2200; 1899, c. 733, s. 51; C. S. 3032.)

§ 25-58. What constitutes holder in due course.—A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions: (1) That the instrument is complete and regular upon its face; (2) that he became the holder of it before it was overdue and without notice that it has been previously dishonored, if such was the fact; (3) that he took it for good faith and value; (4) that at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it. (Rev., s. 2201; 1899, c. 733, s. 52; C. S. 3033.)

§ 25-59. When person not deemed holder in due course.—Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course. (Rev., s. 2202; 1899, c. 733, s. 53; C. S. 3034.)

§ 25-61. When title defective.—The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this chapter when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress or force and fear or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud. (Rev., s. 2204; 1899, c. 733, s. 55; C. S. 3036.)

§ 25-62. What constitutes notice of defect.—To constitute a notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith. (Rev., s. 2205; 1899, c. 733, s. 56; C. S. 3037.)

§ 25-63. Rights of holder in due course. — A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon. (Rev., s. 2206; 1899, c. 733, s. 57; C. S. 3038.)

§ 25-64. When subject to original defenses.—In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were nonnegotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter. (Rev., s. 2207; 1899, c. 733, s. 58; C. S. 3039.)

§ 25-65. Who deemed holder in due course.—Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as a holder in due course. But the last mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title. (Rev., s. 2208; 1899, c. 733, s. 59; C. S. 3040.)

Art. 6. Liabilities of Parties.

§ 25-66. Liability of maker.—The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. (Rev., s. 2209; 1899, c. 733, s. 60; C. S. 3041.)

§ 25-67. Liability of drawer.—The drawer by drawing the instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse, and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negativing or limiting his own liability to the holder. (Rev., s. 2210; 1899, c. 733, s. 61; C. S. 3042.)

§ 25-68. Liability of acceptor. — The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits (1) existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and (2) the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. (Rev., s. 2211; 1899, c. 733, s. 62; C. S. 3043.)

§ 25-69. When person deemed indorser. — A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer or acceptor is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity. (Rev., s. 2212; 1899, c. 733, s. 63; C. S. 3044.)

§ 25-70. Liability of irregular indorser.—Where a person not otherwise a party to an instrument places thereon his signature in blank before delivery he is liable as indorser in accordance with the following rules: (1) If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties; (2) if the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer; (3) if he signs for the accomodation of the payee he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee. (Rev., s. 2213; 1899, c. 733, s. 64; C. S. 3045.)

§ 25-71. Warranty, where negotiation by delivery.—Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement warrants (1) that the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be; (2) that he has a good title to it; (3) that all prior parties had capacity to contract; (4) that he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless. But when the negotiation is by delivery only the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee. The provisions of subdivision three of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporate securities other than bills and notes. (Rev., s. 2214; 1899, c. 733, s. 65; C. S. 3046.)

§ 25-72. Liability of general indorser. — Every indorser who indorses without qualification warrants to all subsequent holders in due course (1) the matters and things mentioned in subdivisions one, two and three of § 25-71; and (2) that the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting. And in addition he engages that on due presentment it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken he will pay the amount thereof to the holder or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. (Rev., s. 2215; 1899, c. 733, s. 66; C. S. 3047.)

§ 25-73. Liability of indorser, where paper negotiable by delivery.—Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser. (Rev., s. 2216; 1899, c. 733, s. 67; C. S. 3048.)

§ 25-74. Order in which indorsers are liable.—As respects one another, indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsees who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally. (Rev., s. 2217; 1899, c. 733, s. 68; C. S. 3049.)

§ 25-75. Liability of agent or broker.—Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by § 25-71, unless he discloses the name of his principal and the fact that he is acting only as agent. (Rev., s. 2218; 1899, c. 733, s. 69; C. S. 3050.)

Art. 7. Presentment for Payment.

§ 25-76. Effect of want of demand on principal debtor.—Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is by its terms payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But, except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers. (Rev., s. 2219; 1899, c. 733, s. 70; C. S. 3051.)

§ 25-77. Presentment, where the instrument is not payable on demand.—Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof. (Rev., s. 2220; 1899, c. 733, s. 71; C. S. 3052.)

§ 25-78. What constitutes a sufficient presentment.—Presentment for payment to be sufficient must be made (1) by the holder or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf; (2) at a reasonable hour on a business day; (3) at a proper place as herein defined: (4) to the person primarily liable on the instrument, or, if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made. (Rev., s. 2221; 1899, c. 733, s. 72; C. S. 3053.)

§ 25-79. Place of presentment. — Presentment for payment is made at the proper place (1) where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented; (2) where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make the payment is given in the instrument, and it is there presented; (3) where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment; (4) in any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence. (Rev., s. 2222; 1899, c. 733, s. 73; C. S. 3054.)

§ 25-80. Instrument must be exhibited. — The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and, when it is paid, must be delivered up to the party paying it. (Rev., s. 2223; 1899, c. 733, s. 74; C. S. 3055.)

§ 25-81. Presentment where instrument payable at bank.—Where the instrument is payable at a bank presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient. (Rev., s. 2224; 1899, c. 733, s. 75; C. S. 3056.)

§ 25-82. Presentment where principal debtor is dead.—Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative, if such there be, and if with the exercise of reasonable diligence he can be found. (Rev., s. 2225; 1899, c. 733, s. 76; C. S. 3057.)

§ 25-83. Presentment to persons liable as partners.—Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm. (Rev., s. 2226; 1899, c. 733, s. 77; C. S. 3058.)

§ 25-84. Presentment to joint debtors.—Where there are several persons not parties primarily liable on the instrument and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all. (Rev., s. 2227; 1899, c. 733, s. 78; C. S. 3059.)

§ 25-85. When presentment not required to charge the drawer.—Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument. (Rev., s. 2228; 1899, c. 733, s. 79; C. S. 3060.)

§ 25-86. When presentment not required to charge the indorser.—Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation, and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented. (Rev., s. 2229; 1899, c. 733, s. 80; C. S. 3061.)

§ 25-87. When delay in presentment is excused.—Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate presentment must be made with reasonable diligence. (Rev., s. 2230; 1899, c. 733, s. 81; C. S. 3062.)

§ 25-88. When presentment may be dispensed with.—Presentment for payment is dispensed with (1) where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment as required by this chapter cannot be made; (2) where the drawee is a fictitious person; (3) by waiver of presentment, express or implied. (Rev., s. 2231; 1899, c. 733, s. 82; C. S. 3063.)

§ 25-89. When instrument dishonored by nonpayment.—The instrument is dishonored by nonpayment when (1) it is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or (2) presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid. (Rev., s. 2232; 1899, c. 733, s. 83; C. S. 3064.)

§ 25-90. Liability of persons secondarily liable when instrument dishonored. — Subject to the provisions of this chapter, when the instrument is dishonored by nonpayment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder. (Rev., s. 2233; 1899, c. 733, s. 84; C. S. 3065.)

§ 25-91. Time of maturity. — Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace, except as allowed by the succeeding section. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday or a holiday the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. (Rev., s. 2234; 1899, c. 733, s. 85; 1907, c. 897; 1909, c. 800, s. 1; C. S. 3066.)

§ 25-92. When days of grace allowed.—All bills of exchange payable within the state, at sight, in which there is an express stipulation to that effect and not otherwise, shall be entitled to days of grace as the same are allowed by the custom of merchants on foreign bills of exchange payable at the expiration of a certain period after date or sight, but no days of grace shall be allowed on any bill of exchange, promissory note, or draft payable on demand. (Rev., s. 2235; Code, s. 43; 1905, c. 327; 1907, c. 861; C. S. 3067.)

§ 25-93. How time is computed.—Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run and by including the date of payment. (Rev., s. 2236; 1899, c. 733, s. 86; C. S. 3068.)

§ 25-94. Rule where instrument is payable at bank.—Where the instrument is made payable at a bank it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon. (Rev., s. 2237; 1899, c. 733, s. 87; C. S. 3069.)

§ 25-95. What constitutes payment in due course.—Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective. (Rev., s. 2238; 1899, c. 733, s. 88; C. S. 3070.)

Art. 8. Notice of Dishonor.

§ 25-96. To whom notice of dishonor must be given.—Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged. (Rev., s. 2239; 1899, c. 733, s. 89; C. S. 3071.)

§ 25-97. By whom notice given.—The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay to the holder, and who upon taking it up would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom notice is given. (Rev., s. 2240; 1899, c. 733, s. 90; C. S. 3072.)

§ 25-98. Notice given by agent.—Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not. (Rev., s. 2241; 1899, c. 733, s. 91; C. S. 3073.)

§ 25-99. Effect of notice given on behalf of holder.—Where notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it inures to the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given. (Rev., s. 2242; 1899, c. 733, s. 92; C. S. 3074.)

§ 25-100. Effect, where notice is given by party entitled thereto.—Where notice is given by or on behalf of a party entitled to give notice it inures to the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party by whom notice is given. (Rev., s. 2243; 1899, c. 733, s. 93; C. S. 3075.)

§ 25-101. When agent may give notice.—Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder. (Rev., s. 2244; 1899, c. 733, s. 94; C. S. 3076.)

§ 25-102. When notice sufficient.—A written notice need not be signed and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate it unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby. (Rev., s. 2245; 1899, c. 733, s. 95; C. S. 3077.)

§ 25-103. Form of notice.—The notice may be in writing or merely oral, and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument and indicate that it has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails. (Rev., s. 2246; 1899, c. 733, s. 96; C. S. 3078.)

§ 25-104. To whom notice may be given.—Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf. (Rev., s. 2247; 1899, c. 733, s. 97; C. S. 3079.)

§ 25-105. Notice when party is dead.—When any party is dead and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there is no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased. (Rev., s. 2248; 1899, c. 733, s. 98; C. S. 3080.)

§ 25-106. Notice to partners.—When the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm, even though there has been a dissolution. (Rev., s. 2249; 1899, c. 733, s. 99; C. S. 3081.)

§ 25-107. Notice to persons jointly liable.—Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others. (Rev., s. 2250; 1899, c. 733, s. 100; C. S. 3082.)

§ 25-108. Notice to bankrupt.—Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee. (Rev., s. 2251; 1899, c. 733, s. 101; C. S. 3083.)

§ 25-109. Time within which notice must be given.—Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored, and, unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this chapter. (Rev., s. 2252; 1899, c. 733, s. 102; C. S. 3084.)

§ 25-110. Notice where parties reside in the same place.—When the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in same place notice must be given within the following times: (1) If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following; (2) if given at his residence it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following; (3) if sent by mail it must be deposited in the post office in time to reach him in the usual course on the day following. (Rev., s. 2253; 1899, c. 733, s. 103; C. S. 3085.)

§ 25-111. Notice where parties reside in different places.—Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places the notice must be given within the following times: (1) If sent by mail it must be deposited in the post office in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter; (2) if given otherwise than through the post office, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail if it had been deposited in the post office within the time specified in the last subdivision. (Rev., s. 2254; 1899, c. 733, s. 104; C. S. 3086.)

§ 25-112. When sender deemed to have given due notice.—Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the post office the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails. (Rev., s. 2255; 1899, c. 733, s. 105; C. S. 3087.)

§ 25-113. What constitutes deposit in postoffice.—Notice is deemed to have been deposited in the post office when deposited in any branch post office or in any letter-box under the control of the postoffice department. (Rev., s. 2256; 1899, c. 733, s. 106; C. S. 3088.)

§ 25-114. Time of notice to antecedent parties.—Where a party receives notice of dishonor he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor. (Rev., s. 2257; 1899, c. 733, s. 107; C. S. 3089.)

§ 25-115. Where notice must be sent.—Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows: (1) Either to the postoffice nearest to his place of residence or to the postoffice where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or (2) if he lives in one place and has his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or (3) if he be sojourning in another place notice may be sent to the place where he is sojourning. But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this chapter it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with requirements of this section. (Rev., s. 2258; 1899, c. 733, s. 108; C. S. 3090.)

§ 25-116. Waiver of notice.—Notice of dishonor may be waived either before the time of giving notice has arrived or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied. (Rev., s. 2259; 1899, c. 733, s. 109; C. S. 3091.)

§ 25-117. Who affected by waiver.—Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself it is binding upon all parties, but where it is written above the signature of an indorser it binds him only. (Rev., s. 2260; 1899, c. 733, s. 110; C. S. 3092.)

§ 25-118. Waiver of protest.—A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of a formal protest, but also of a presentment and notice of dishonor. (Rev., s. 2261; 1899, c. 733, s. 111; C. S. 3093.)

§ 25-119. When notice is dispensed with.—Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged. (Rev., s. 2262; 1899, c. 733, s. 112; C. S. 3094.)

§ 25-120. Delay in giving notice.—Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence. (Rev., s. 2263; 1899, c. 733, s. 113; C. S. 3095.)

§ 25-121. When notice need not be given to drawer.—Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases: (1) Where the drawer and the drawee are the same person; (2) Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract; (3) where the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment; (4) where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument; (5) where the drawer has countermanded payment. (Rev., s. 2264; 1899, c. 733, s. 114; C. S. 3096.)

§ 25-122. When notice need not be given to indorser.—Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases: (1) Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument; (2) where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment; (3) where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation. (Rev., s. 2265; 1899, c. 733, s. 115; C. S. 3097.)

§ 25-123. Notice of nonpayment where acceptance refused.—Where due notice of dishonor by nonacceptance has been given, notice of a subsequent dishonor by nonpayment is not necessary unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted. (Rev., s. 2266; 1899, c. 733, s. 116; C. S. 3098.)

§ 25-124. Effect of omission to give notice of nonacceptance.—An omission to give notice of dishonor by nonacceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission. (Rev., s. 2267; 1899, c. 733, s. 117; C. S. 3099.)

§ 25-125. When protest need not be made; when it must be made.—Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for nonacceptance or nonpayment as the case may be, but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange. (Rev., s. 2268; 1899, c. 733, s. 118; C. S. 3100.)

Art. 9. Discharge.

§ 25-126. How instrument discharged.—A negotiable instrument is discharged (1) by payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor; (2) by payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation; (3) by the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder; (4) by any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money; (5) when the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right. (Rev., s. 2269; 1899, c. 733, s. 119; C. S. 3101.)

§ 25-127. Discharge of person secondarily liable.—A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged (1) by any act which discharges the instrument; (2) by the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder; (3) by the discharge of a prior party; (4) by a valid tender of payment made by a prior party; (5) by a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved; (6) by any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved. (Rev., s. 2270; 1899, c. 733, s. 120; C. S. 3102.)

§ 25-128. Right of party paying instrument.—When the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except (1) where it is payable to the order of the third person and has been paid by the drawer; and (2) where it was made or accepted for accommodation and has been paid by the party accommodated. (Rev., s. 2271; 1899, c. 733, s. 121; C. S. 3103.)

§ 25-129. Renunciation by holder.—The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument before, at or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon. (Rev., s. 2272; 1899, c. 733, s. 122; C. S. 3104.)

§ 25-130. Unintentional cancellation; burden of proof.—A cancellation made unintentionally or under a mistake or without the authority of the holder is inoperative, but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally or under a mistake or without authority. (Rev., s. 2273; 1899, c. 733, s. 123; C. S. 3105.)

§ 25-131. Effect of alteration of instrument.—Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration, and subsequent indorsers. But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course not a party to the alteration he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor. (Rev., s. 2274; 1899, c. 733, s. 124; C. S. 3106.)

§ 25-132. What constitutes a material alteration.—Any alteration which changes (1) the date; (2) the sum payable either for principal or interest; (3) the time or place of payment; (4) the number or the relation of the parties; (5) the medium or currency in which payment is to be made; or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration. (Rev., s. 2275; 1899, c. 733, s. 125; C. S. 3107.)

Art. 10. Bills of Exchange.

§ 25-133. Bill of exchange defined.—A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing, addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. (Rev., s. 2276; 1899, c. 733, s. 126; C. S. 3108.)

§ 25-134. Bill not an assignment of funds in hands of drawee.—A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same. (Rev., s. 2277; 1899, c. 733, s. 127; C. S. 3109.)

§ 25-135. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.—A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not, but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession. (Rev., s. 2278; 1899, c. 733, s. 128; C. S. 3110.)

§ 25-136. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.—An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is or on its face purports to be both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill the holder may treat it as an inland bill. (Rev., s. 2279; 1899, c. 733, s. 129; C. S. 3111.)

§ 25-137. When bill may be treated as promissory note.—Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note. (Rev., s. 2280; 1899, c. 733, s. 130; C. S. 3112.)

§ 25-138. Referee in case of need.—The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need: that is to say, in case the bill is dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not, as he may see fit. (Rev., s. 2281; 1899, c. 733, s. 131; C. S. 3113.)

Art. 11. Acceptance.

§ 25-139. Acceptance defined; how made.—The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money. (Rev., s. 2282; 1899, c. 733, s. 132; C. S. 3114.)

§ 25-140. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill.—The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill, and if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored. (Rev., s. 2283; 1899, c. 733, s. 133; C. S. 3115.)

§ 25-141. Acceptance by separate instrument.—Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. (Rev., s. 2284; 1899, c. 733, s. 134; C. S. 3116.)

§ 25-142. When promise to accept equivalent to acceptance.—An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. (Rev., s. 2285; 1899, c. 733, s. 135; C. S. 3117.)

§ 25-143. Time allowed drawee to accept.—The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill, but the acceptance, if given, dates as of the day of presentation. (Rev., s. 2286; 1899, c. 733, s. 136; C. S. 3118.)

§ 25-144. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.—Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or nonaccepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same. (Rev., s. 2287; 1899, c. 733, s. 137; C. S. 3119.)

§ 25-145. Acceptance of incomplete bill. — A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by nonpayment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by nonacceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder, in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment. (Rev., s. 2288; 1899, c. 733, s. 138; C. S. 3120.)

§ 25-146. Kinds of acceptances.—An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn. (Rev., s. 2289; 1899, c. 733, s. 139; C. S. 3121.)

§ 25-147. What constitutes a general acceptance.—An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only, and not elsewhere. (Rev., s. 2290; 1899, c. 733, s. 140; C. S. 3122.)

§ 25-148. What constitutes a qualified acceptance.—An acceptance is qualified which is (1) conditional; that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated; (2) partial; that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn; (3) local; that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place; (4) qualified as to time; (5) the acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all. (Rev., s. 2291; 1899, c. 733, s. 141; C. S. 3123.)

§ 25-149. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.—The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance he may treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance. When a qualified acceptance is taken the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder or he will be deemed to have assented thereto. (Rev., s. 2292; 1899, c. 733, s. 142; C. S. 3124.)

Art. 12. Presentment for Acceptance.

§ 25-150. When presentment for acceptance must be made. — Presentment for acceptance must be made (1) where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or (2) where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or (3) where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee. In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable. (Rev., s. 2293; 1899, c. 733, s. 143; C. S. 3125.)

§ 25-151. Failure to present in reasonable time discharges drawer and indorsers. — Except as herein otherwise provided the holder of a bill which is required by § 25-71 to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so the drawer and all indorsers are discharged. (Rev., s. 2294; 1899, c. 733, s. 144; C. S. 3126.)

§ 25-152. How presentment made. — Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder, at a reasonable hour on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and (1) where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only; (2) where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative; (3) where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee. (Rev., s. 2295; 1899, c. 733, s. 145; C. S. 3127.)

§ 25-153. On what days presentment may be made.—A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of this chapter. (Rev., s. 2296; 1899, c. 733, s. 146; 1909, c. 800, s. 1; C. S. 3128.)

§ 25-154. Presentment where time is insufficient.—Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers. (Rev., s. 2297; 1899, c. 733, s. 147; C. S. 3129.)

§ 25-155. Where presentment is excused.—Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by nonacceptance in either of the following cases: (1) Where the drawee is dead or has absconded or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill; (2) where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment cannot be made; (3) where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground. (Rev., s. 2298; 1899, c. 733, s. 148; C. S. 3130.)

§ 25-156. When dishonored by nonacceptance.—A bill is dishonored by nonacceptance (1) when it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed in this chapter is refused or cannot be obtained; or (2) when a presentment for acceptance is excused and the bill is not accepted. (Rev., s. 2299; 1899, c. 733, s. 149; C. S. 3131.)

§ 25-157. Duty of holder, where bill not accepted.—Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time, the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers. (Rev., s. 2300; 1899, c. 733, s. 150; C. S. 3132.)

§ 25-158. Rights of holder, where bill not accepted.—When a bill is dishonored by nonacceptance an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder, and no presentment for payment is necessary. (Rev., s. 2301; 1899, c. 733, s. 151; C. S. 3133.)

Art. 13. Protest.

§ 25-159. In what cases protest necessary.—Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be duly protested for nonacceptance; and where such a bill which had not previously been dishonored by nonacceptance is dishonored by nonpayment, it must be duly protested for nonpayment. If it is not so protested the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest in case of dishonor is unnecessary. (Rev., s. 2302; 1899, c. 733, s. 152; C. S. 3134.)

§ 25-160. How protest made.—The protest must be annexed to the bill or must contain a copy thereof, and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify (1) the time and place of presentment; (2) the fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof; (3) the cause or reason for protesting the bill; (4) the demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found. (Rev., s. 2303; 1899, c. 733, s. 153; C. S. 3135.)

§ 25-161. By whom protest made.—Protest may be made by (1) a notary public; or (2) by any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses. Rev., s. 2304; 1899, c. 733, s. 154; C. S. 3136.)

§ 25-162. When protest to be made.—When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting. (Rev., s. 2305; 1899, c. 733, s. 155; C. S. 3137.)

§ 25-163. Where protest made.—A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business or residence of some person other than the drawee has been dishonored by nonacceptance it must be protested for nonpayment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for the payment to or demand on the drawee is necessary. (Rev., s. 2306; 1899, c. 733, s. 156; C. S. 3138.)

§ 25-164. Protest both for nonacceptance and nonpayment.—A bill which has been protested for nonacceptance may be subsequently protested for nonpayment. (Rev., s. 2307; 1899, c. 733, s. 157; C. S. 3139.)

§ 25-165. Protest before maturity, where acceptor insolvent.—Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers. (Rev., s. 2308; 1899, c. 733, s. 158; C. S. 3140.)

§ 25-166. When protest dispensed with.—Protest is dispensed with by any circumstances which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence. (Rev., s. 2309; 1899, c. 733, s. 159; C. S. 3141.)

§ 25-167. Protest where bill is lost.—Where a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof. (Rev., s. 2310; 1899, c. 733, s. 160; C. S. 3142.)

Art. 14. Acceptance for Honor.

§ 25-168. When a bill may be accepted for honor.—Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by nonacceptance or protested for better security, and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn, and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party. (Rev., s. 2311; 1899, c. 733, s. 161; C. S. 3143.)

§ 25-169. How acceptance for honor made.—An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor. (Rev., s. 2312; 1899, c. 733, s. 162; C. S. 3144.)

§ 25-170. When deemed an acceptance for honor of drawer. — Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer. (Rev., s. 2313; 1899, c. 733, s. 163; C. S. 3145.)

§ 25-171. Liability of acceptor for honor.—The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted. (Rev., s. 2314; 1899, c. 733, s. 164; C. S. 3146.)

§ 25-172. Agreement of acceptor for honor.—The acceptor for honor by such acceptance engages that he will on due presentment pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance, provided it shall not have been paid by the drawee; and provided, also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for nonpayment and notice of dishonor given to him. (Rev., s. 2315; 1899, c. 733, s. 165; C. S. 3147.)

§ 25-173. Maturity of bill payable after sight accepted for honor.—Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for nonacceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor. (Rev., s. 2316; 1899, c. 733, s. 166; C. S. 3148.)

§ 25-174. Protest of bill accepted for honor.—Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for nonpayment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. (Rev., s. 2317; 1899, c. 733, s. 167; C. S. 3149.)

§ 25-175. How presentment for payment to acceptor for honor made.—Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows: (1) If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for nonpayment was made it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity; (2) if it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time in this chapter specified. (Rev., s. 2318; 1899, c. 733, s. 168; C. S. 3150.)

§ 25-176. When delay in making presentment excused.—The provisions of § 25-87 apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need. (Rev., s. 2319; 1899, c. 733, s. 169; C. S. 3151.)

§ 25-177. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor.—When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for nonpayment by him. (Rev., s. 2320; 1899, c. 733, s. 170; C. S. 3152.)

Art. 15. Payment for Honor.

§ 25-178. Who may make payment for honor.—Where a bill has been protested for nonpayment any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn. (Rev., s. 2321; 1899, c. 733, s. 171; C. S. 3153.)

§ 25-179. How payment for honor must be made.—The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such and not as a mere voluntary payment must be attested by a notarial act of honor, which may be appended to the protest or form an extension to it. (Rev., s. 2322; 1899, c. 733, s. 172; C. S. 3154.)

§ 25-180. Declaration before payment for honor.—The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor or by his agent in that behalf declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor and for whose honor he pays. (Rev., s. 2323; 1899, c. 733, s. 173; C. S. 3155.)

§ 25-181. Preference of parties offering to pay for honor.—Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference. (Rev., s. 2324; 1899, c. 733, s. 174; C. S. 3156.)

§ 25-182. Effect on subsequent parties, where bill is paid for honor.—Where a bill has been paid for honor all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid are discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for and succeeds to both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter. (Rev., s. 2325; 1899, c. 733, s. 175; C. S. 3157.)

§ 25-183. Where holder refuses to receive payment supra protest.—Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment. (Rev., s. 2326; 1899, c. 733, s. 176; C. S. 3158.)

§ 25-184. Rights of payer for honor.—The payer for honor on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest. (Rev., s. 2327; 1899, c. 733, s. 177; C. S. 3159.)

Art. 16. Bills in a Set.

§ 25-185. Bills in a set constitute one bill.—Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitute one bill. (Rev., s. 2328; 1899, c. 733, s. 178; C. S. 3160.)

§ 25-186. Rights of holders, where different parts are negotiated.—Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course the holder whose title first accrues is, as between such holders, the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course accepts or pays the part first presented to him. (Rev., s. 2329; 1899, c. 733, s. 179; C. S. 3161.)

§ 25-187. Liability of holder who indorses two or more parts of a set to different persons.—Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed as is such parts were separate bills. (Rev., s. 2330; 1899, c. 733, s. 180; C. S. 3162.)

§ 25-188. Acceptance of bills drawn in sets.—The acceptance may be written on any part, and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill. (Rev., s. 2331; 1899, c. 733, s. 181; C. S. 3163.)

§ 25-189. Payment by acceptor of bills drawn in sets.—When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part bearing his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon. (Rev., s. 2332; 1899, c. 733, s. 182; C. S. 3164.)

§ 25-190. Effect of discharging one of a set.—Except as herein otherwise provided where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole bill is discharged. (Rev., s. 2333; 1899, c. 733, s. 183; C. S. 3165.)

Art. 17. Promissory Notes and Checks.

§ 25-191. Negotiable promissory note defined.—A negotiable promissory note within the meaning of this chapter is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another, signed by the maker, engaging to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order it is not complete until indorsed by him. (Rev., s. 2334; 1899, c. 733, s. 184; C. S. 3166.)

§ 25-192. Check defined.—A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided the provisions of this chapter that are applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check. (Rev., s. 2335; 1899, c. 733, s. 185; C. S. 3167.)

§ 25-193. Within what time a check must be presented.—A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay. (Rev., s. 2336; 1899, c. 733, s. 186; C. S. 3168.)

§ 25-194. Bank may refuse to honor check more than six months old in the absence of contrary instructions.—Where a check or other instrument payable on demand at any bank or trust company doing business in this State is presented for payment more than six months from its date, such bank or trust company, may, unless expressly instructed by the drawer or maker to pay the same, refuse payment thereof and no liability shall thereby be incurred to the drawer or maker for dishonoring the instrument by non-payment. (1929, c. 341, s. 3; C. S. 3168.)

§ 25-195. Effect of certification of check.—Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn the certification is equivalent to an acceptance. (Rev., s. 2337; 1899, c. 733, s. 187; C. S. 3169.)

§ 25-196. Effect, where holder of check procures

it to be certified.—Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon. (Rev., s. 2338; 1899, c. 733, s. 188; C. S. 3170.)

§ 25-197. Check not assignment of funds.—A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder unless and until it accepts or certifies the check. (Rev., s. 2339; 1899, c. 733, s. 189; C. S. 3171.)

§ 25-198. When stop-payment order given to bank expires.—No revocation, countermand or stop-payment order relating to the payment of any check or draft against an account of a depositor in any bank or trust company doing business in this State shall remain in effect for more than six months after the service thereof on the bank, unless the same be renewed, which renewals shall be in writing and which renewals shall be in effect for not more six months from date of service thereof on the bank or trust company, but such renewals may be made from time to time. (1929, c. 341, s. 1.)

§ 25-199. Application to present orders. — No notice affecting a check upon which revocation, countermand or stop-payment order has been made prior to March 19, 1929, shall be deemed to continue for a period of more than six months thereafter. (1929, c. 341, s. 2.)

Chapter 26. Suretyship.

Sec.

26-1. Surety and principal distinguished in judgment and execution.
26-2. Principal liable on execution before surety.
26-3. Summary remedy of surety against principal.
26-4. Subrogation of surety paying debt of deceased principal.
26-5. Contribution among sureties.
26-6. Dissenting surety not liable to surety on stay of execution.
26-7. Surety may notify creditor to sue.
26-8. How notice served.
26-9. Failure of creditor to sue discharges surety; exceptions.
26-10. Cancellation of contract of suretyship in case of common carrier and employee.
26-11. Cancellation of judgment as to surety.

§ 26-1. Surety and principal distinguished in judgment and execution.—In the trial of actions upon contracts either of the defendants may show in evidence that he is surety, and if it be satisfactorily shown, the jury in their verdict, or the justice of the peace in his judgment, shall distinguish the principal and surety, which shall be indorsed on the execution by the clerk or justice of the peace issuing it. (Rev., s. 2840; Code, s. 2100; R. C., c. 31, s. 124; 1826, c. 31, s. 1; C. S. 3961.)

§ 26-2. Principal liable on execution before surety.—When an execution, indorsed as aforesaid, shall come to the hands of any officer for collection, he shall levy on all the property of the principal, or so much thereof as shall be necessary to satisfy the execution, and, for want of sufficient property of the principal, also on the property of the surety, and make sale of all the property of the principal levied on before that of the surety. (Rev., s. 2841; Code, s. 2101; R. C., c. 31, s. 125; 1826, c. 31, s. 2; C. S. 3962.)

§ 26-3. Summary remedy of surety against principal.—Any person who may have paid money for and on account of those for whom he became surety, upon producing to the superior court, or any justice of the peace having jurisdiction of the same, a receipt, and showing that an execution has issued, and he has satisfied the same, and making it appear by sufficient testimony that he has laid out and expended any sum of money as the surety of such person, may move the court or justice of the peace, as the case may be, for judgment against his principal for the amount which he has actually paid; a citation having previously issued against the principal to show cause why execution should not be awarded; and should the principal not show sufficient cause, the court or justice shall award execution against the estate of the principal. (Rev., s. 2842; Code, s. 2093; R. C., c. 110, s. 1; 1797, c. 487, s. 1; C. S. 3963.)

§ 26-4. Subrogation of surety paying debt of deceased principal. — Whenever a surety, or his representative, shall pay the debt of his deceased principal, the claim thus accruing shall have such priority in the administration of the assets of the principal as had the debt before its payment. (Rev., s. 2843; Code, s. 2096; R. C., c. 110, s. 4; 1829, c. 23; C. S. 3964.)

§ 26-5. Contribution among sureties. — Where there are two or more sureties for the performance of a contract, and one or more of them may have been compelled to perform and satisfy the same, or any part thereof, and the principal shall be insolvent, or out of the state, such surety may have and maintain an action against every other surety for a just and ratable proportion of the sum which may have been paid as aforesaid, whether of principal, interest or cost. (Rev., s. 2844; Code, s. 2094; R. C., c. 110, s. 2; 1807, c. 722; C. S. 3965.)

§ 26-6. Dissenting surety not liable to surety on stay of execution.—Whenever any judgment shall be obtained before a justice against a principal and his surety, and the principal debtor shall desire to stay the execution thereon, but the surety is unwilling that such stay shall be had, the surety may cause his dissent thereto to be entered by the justice, which shall absolve him from all liability to the surety who may stay the same. And the constable or other officer, who may have the collection of the debt, shall make the money out of the property of the principal debtor, and that of the surety for the stay of execution, if he can, before he shall sell the property of the surety before judgment. (Rev., s. 2845; Code, s. 2095; R. C. c. 110, s. 3; 1829, c. 6, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3966.)

§ 26-7. Surety may notify creditor to sue.—In all cases where any surety or indorser on any note, bill, bond, or other written obligation shall consider himself in danger of loss in consequence of his contingent liability, either from the insolvency or misconduct of the principal, in the note, bill, bond, or other written obligation, or from the negligence of the payee or holder of any such instrument, it shall be lawful for such surety or indorser, at any time after such note, bill, bond, or other written obligation becomes due and payable, to cause written notice to be given to the payee or holder of any such paper or obligation, requiring him to bring suit on such obligation, and to use all reasonable diligence to save harmless such surety or indorser: Provided, nothing herein contained shall apply to official bonds, or bonds given by any person acting in a fiduciary capacity. (Rev., s. 2846; Code, s. 2097; 1868-9, c. 232, s. 1; C. S. 3967.)

§ 26-8. How notice served.—Such notice shall be served by the sheriff or his deputy, who shall return it to the party for whose benefit the notice was issued, which shall be evidence of the fact in all courts. (Rev., s. 2848; Code, s. 2099; 1868-9, c. 232, s. 3; C. S. 3968.)

§ 26-9. Failure of creditor to sue discharges surety; exceptions.—Should the payee or holder of any such note, bond, bill, or other written obligation refuse or fail, within thirty days from the service of such notice, to bring suit in the appropriate court in an effort to save harmless such surety or indorser, such refusal or failure to sue shall operate as a discharge of such surety or indorser, from all liability whatever, on any such note, bond, bill, or other written obligation: Provided, that this notice shall not have the effect to discharge from liability any cosurety who does not join in such notice, or who has not given a separate notice: Provided further, that this and § 26-8 shall not apply to holders of such note, bond, bill, or obligation, who hold the same as collateral security or in trust. (Rev., s. 2847; Code, s. 2098; 1868-9, c. 232, s. 2; C. S. 3969.)

§ 26-10. Cancellation of contract of suretyship in case of common carrier and employee.—Whenever an employee of a common carrier authorized to do business in this state is required to give a bond or undertaking of any nature whatever with a bonding company or companies, as surety thereon, any such employee who shall have given such bond or undertaking shall, upon the breach of any of the conditions thereof by the other party or parties thereto, have the power to cancel the same by giving the surety or sureties thereon, for the benefit of whom same shall have been made, at least ten days notice in writing, setting out in full the reason for canceling the same. Any such notice to a company, corporation or association may be served by leaving the same with any person upon whom service of legal process upon such company, corporation or association may be had. Any surety on any such bond or undertaking shall, upon the breach of any of the conditions thereof by the common carrier employee for whom same shall have been made, have power to cancel the same by giving such employee at least ten days notice in writing, and, upon demand, set out in full the reasons for canceling same, the notice to be signed by an agent or manager of such surety. Nothing herein shall affect any right of action accruing to any person upon the breach of a contract; nor shall any bonding company furnishing the information which causes it to withdraw from the bond be liable in any action at the instance of the party aggrieved for damages, nor be required to disclose to the party aggrieved the sources of information that caused it to withdraw from the bond. But any bonding company may be required to give evidence in any action brought by the party aggrieved against the party or person furnishing the information causing the company to withdraw as surety.

Any person, officer or manager, company, corporation, association or firm who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. (1913, c. 17; C. S. 3970.)

§ 26-11. Cancellation of judgment as to surety.—Whenever a judgment shall be rendered in any court in accordance with the provisions of § 26-1 and the surety, endorser or other person shown in said judgment to be secondarily liable thereon and having the rights as by this chapter prescribed against the person or persons primarily liable, and the surety, endorser or other person so shown in the judgment to be secondarily liable, shall pay the said judgment or shall be compelled to pay an execution issued thereon and such fact shall appear to the satisfaction of the clerk of the Superior Court of the county in which the said judgment is rendered and docketed, such judgment shall be canceled as to said surety, endorser or other person secondarily liable and shall cease to be a lien upon his real estate and other property, but such cancellation shall not have the force and effect nor operate as a cancellation and discharge of the judgment as to any other person against whom the said judgment shall be rendered and the person so paying the said judgment shall have all the rights given to a surety who has been compelled to pay a judgment against the principal debtor and cosureties which are given in this chapter, notwithstanding the cancellation of the said judgment as herein provided for. (1925, c. 38.)

Art. 1. General Provisions.

§ 27-1. Name of chapter.—This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Warehouse Receipts act. (1917, c. 37, s. 62; C. S. 4036.)

§ 27-2. Terms defined.—In this chapter, unless the context or subject-matter otherwise requires—

"Action" includes counterclaim, set-off, and suit in equity.

"Delivery" means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

"Fungible goods" means goods of which any unit is, from its nature or by mercantile custom, treated as the equivalent of any other unit.

"Goods" means chattels or merchandise in storage, or which has been or is about to be stored.

"Holder" of a receipt means a person who has both actual possession of such receipt and a right of property therein.

"Order" means an order by indorsement on the receipt.

"Owner" does not include mortgagee or pledgee.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership of two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

To "purchase" includes to take as mortgagee or as pledgee.

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee.

"Receipt" means a warehouse receipt.

"Value" is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or preëxisting obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a receipt is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

"Warehouseman" means a person lawfully engaged in the business of storing goods for profit.

A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this chapter, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not. (1917, c. 37, s. 58; C. S. 4037.)

§ 27-3. Uniform construction. — This chapter shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1917, c. 37, s. 57; C. S. 4038.)

§ 27-4. General law applied.—In any case not provided for in this chapter, the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall govern. (1917, c. 37, s. 56; C. S. 4039.)

Art. 2. Issue of Warehouse Receipts.

§ 27-5. Who may issue receipts. — Warehouse receipts may be issued by any warehouseman. (1917, c. 37, s. 1; C. S. 4041.)

§ 27-6. What receipt must contain. — Warehouse receipts need not be in any particular form, but every such receipt must embody within its written or printed terms—

1. The location of the warehouse where the goods are stored.
2. The date of issue of the receipt.
3. The consecutive number of the receipt.
4. A statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order.
5. The rate of storage charges.
6. A description of the goods or of the packages containing them.
7. The signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent.
8. If the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; and
9. A statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien. If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is at the time of the issue of the receipt unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred, and the purpose thereof, is sufficient. A warehouseman shall be liable to any person injured thereby, for all damage caused by the omission from a negotiable receipt of any of the terms herein required. (Rev., s. 3032; 1917, c. 37, s. 2; C. S. 4042.)

§ 27-7. Other terms inserted; exceptions. — A warehouseman may insert in a receipt issued by him any other terms and conditions, provided that such terms and conditions shall not—

1. Be contrary to the provisions of this chapter.
2. In anywise impair his obligation to exercise that degree of care in the safekeeping of the goods entrusted to him which a reasonably careful man would exercise in regard to similar goods of his own. (1917, c. 37, s. 3; C. S. 4043.)

§ 27-8. Nonnegotiable receipts. — A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the depositor, or to any other specified person, is a nonnegotiable receipt. (1917, c. 37, s. 4; C. S. 4044.)

§ 27-9. Nonnegotiable receipts marked. — A nonnegotiable receipt shall have plainly placed upon its face by the warehouseman issuing it "nonnegotiable," or "not negotiable." In case of the warehouseman's failure so to do, a holder of the receipt who purchased it for value supposing it to be negotiable may, at his option, treat such receipt as imposing upon the warehouseman the same liabilities he would have incurred had the receipt been negotiable. This section shall not apply, however, to letters, memoranda, or written acknowledgments of an informal character. (Rev., s. 3032; 1917, c. 37, s. 7; C. S. 4045.)

§ 27-10. Negotiable receipts. — A receipt in which it is stated that the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such receipt, is a negotiable receipt. No provisions shall be inserted in a negotiable receipt that it is nonnegotiable. Such provision, if inserted, shall be void. (Rev., s. 3032; 1917, c. 37, s. 5; C. S. 4046.)

§ 27-11. Duplicate negotiable receipts.—When more than one negotiable receipt is issued for the same goods, the word "duplicate" shall be plainly placed upon the face of every such receipt, except the one first issued. A warehouseman shall be liable for all damage caused by his failure so to do to any one who purchased the subsequent receipt for value supposing it to be an original, even though the purchase be after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman to the holder of the original receipt. (1917, c. 37, s. 6; C. S. 4047.)

Art. 3. Obligations and Rights of Warehousemen on Receipts.

§ 27-12. Delivery of goods on proper demand.—A warehouseman, in the absence of some lawful excuse provided by this chapter, is bound to deliver the goods upon a demand made either by the holder of a receipt for the goods or by the depositor, if such demand is accompanied with—

1. An offer to satisfy the warehouseman's lien;
2. An offer to surrender the receipt if negotiable, with such indorsements as would be necessary for the negotiation of the receipt; and
3. A readiness and willingness to sign, when the goods are delivered, an acknowledgment that they have been delivered, if such signature is requested by the warehouseman. In case the warehouseman refuses or fails to deliver the goods in compliance with a demand by the holder or depositor so accompanied, the burden shall be upon the warehouseman to establish the existence of a lawful excuse for such refusal. (1917, c. 37, s. 8; C. S. 4048.)

§ 27-13. To whom goods may be delivered.—A warehouseman is justified in delivering the goods, subject to the provisions of §§ 27-14, 27-15, and 27-16, to one who is—

1. The person lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods, or his agent;
2. A person who is either himself entitled to delivery by the terms of a non-negotiable receipt issued for the goods or who has written authority from the person so entitled, either indorsed upon the receipt or written upon another paper; or
3. A person in possession of a negotiable receipt by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to him or order or to bearer, or which has been indorsed to him or in blank by the person to whom delivery was promised by the terms of the receipt or by his mediate or immediate indorsee. (1917, c. 37, s. 9; C. S. 4049.)

§ 27-14. Liability for wrong delivery.—Where a warehouseman delivers the goods to one who is not in fact lawfully entitled to the possession of them, the warehouseman shall be liable as for conversion to all having a right of property or possession in the goods if he delivered the goods otherwise than as authorized by subdivisions (2) and (3) of the preceding section, and though he delivered the goods as authorized by said subdivisions, he shall be so liable if prior to such delivery he had either—

1. Been requested, by or on behalf of the person lawfully entitled to a right of property or possession in the goods, not to make such delivery, or
2. Had information that the delivery about to be made was to one not lawfully entitled to the possession of the goods. (1917, c. 37, s. 10; C. S. 4050.)

§ 27-15. Liability on receipt not taken up on delivery.—Except as hereafter provided in this article, when the goods may have been sold to satisfy warehouseman's charges or because of their perishable or hazardous nature, where a warehouseman delivers goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt, the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of the goods, and fails to take up and cancel the receipt, he shall be liable, to any one who purchases for value and in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver the goods to him, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of the goods by the warehouseman. (1917, c. 37, s. 11; C. S. 4051.)

§ 27-16. Liability on receipt for partial delivery.—Except when goods may have been sold to satisfy warehouseman's lien or because of their perishable or hazardous nature, as hereafter provided in this article, where a warehouseman delivers a part of the goods for which he had issued a negotiable receipt and fails either to take up and cancel the receipt or to place plainly upon it a statement of what goods or packages have been delivered, he shall be liable, to any one who purchases for value in good faith such receipt, for failure to deliver all the goods specified in the receipt, whether such purchaser acquired title to the receipt before or after the delivery of any portion of the goods by the warehouseman. (1917, c. 37, s. 12; C. S. 4052.)

§ 27-17. Effect of alteration of receipt.—The alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from any liability if such alteration was—

1. Immaterial,
2. Authorized, or
3. Made without fraudulent intent.

If the alteration was authorized, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt as altered. If the alteration was unauthorized, but made without fraudulent intent, the warehouseman shall be liable according to the terms of the receipt as they were before alteration. Material and fraudulent alteration of a receipt shall not excuse the warehouseman who issued it from liability to deliver, according to the terms of the receipt as originally issued, the goods for which it was issued, but shall excuse him from any other liability to the person who made the alteration and to any person who took with notice of the alteration. Any purchaser of the receipt for value without notice of the alteration shall acquire the same rights against the warehouseman which such purchaser would have acquired if the receipt had not been altered at the time of the purchase. (1917, c. 37, s. 13; C. S. 4053.)

§ 27-18. Delivery in case of lost receipt.—Where a negotiable receipt has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the delivery of the goods upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the court, to protect the warehouseman from any liability or expense which he or any person injured by such delivery may incur by reason of the original receipt remaining outstanding. The court may also, in its discretion, order the payment of the warehouseman's reasonable costs. The delivery of the goods under an order of the court as provided in this section shall not relieve the warehouseman from liability to a person to whom the negotiable receipt has been or shall be negotiated for value without notice of the proceedings or of the delivery of the goods. (1917, c. 37, s. 14; C. S. 4054.)

§ 27-19. Effect of issuing duplicate receipt.—A receipt upon the face of which the word "duplicate" is plainly placed is a representation and warranty by the warehouseman that such receipt is an accurate copy of an original receipt properly issued and uncanceled at the date of the issue of the duplicate, but shall impose upon him no other liability. (1917, c. 37, s. 15; C. S. 4055.)

§ 27-20. Claim of title no defense for nondelivery; exceptions.—No title or right to the possession of the goods, on the part of the warehouseman, unless such title or right is derived directly or indirectly from a transfer made by the depositor at the time of or subsequent to the deposit for storage, or from the warehouseman's lien, shall excuse the warehouseman from liability for refusing to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt. (1917, c. 37, s. 16; C. S. 4056.)

§ 27-21. Interpleader in conflicting claims.—If more than one person claims the title or possession of the goods, the warehouseman may, either as a defense to an action brought against him for nondelivery of the goods or as an original suit, whichever is appropriate, require all known claimants to interplead. (1917, c. 37, s. 17; C. S. 4057.)

§ 27-22. Reasonable time to investigate conflicting claims.—If some one other than the depositor or person claiming under him has a claim to the title or possession of the goods, and the warehouseman has information of such claim, the warehouseman shall be excused from liability for refusing to deliver the goods, either to the depositor or person claiming under him or to the adverse claimant, until the warehouseman has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claim or to bring legal proceedings to compel all claimants to interplead. (1917, c. 37, s. 18; C. S. 4058.)

§ 27-23. Title in third person no defense; exceptions.—Except as provided in §§ 27-21 and 27-22 and except when the goods may have been delivered to the person authorized to have such delivery, as heretofore provided in this article, or when the goods may have been sold to satisfy the warehouseman's lien or because of their perishable or hazardous nature, as hereafter provided in this article, no right or title of a third person shall be a defense to an action brought by the depositor or person claiming under him against the warehouseman for failure to deliver the goods according to the terms of the receipt. (1917, c. 37, s. 19; C. S. 4059.)

§ 27-24. Failure to deliver goods as described.—A warehouseman shall be liable to the holder of a receipt issued by him or on his behalf by an agent or employee the scope of whose actual or apparent authority includes the issuing of warehouse receipts, for damages caused by the nonexistence of the goods or by the failure of the goods to correspond with the description thereof in the receipt at the time of its issue. If, however, the goods are described in a receipt merely by a statement of marks or labels upon them or upon packages containing them, or by a statement that the goods are said to be goods of a certain kind, or that the packages containing the goods are said to contain goods of a certain kind, or by words of like purport, such statements, if true, shall not make liable the warehouseman issuing the receipt, although the goods are not of the kind which the marks or labels upon them indicate, or of the kind they were said to be by the depositor. (1917, c. 37, s. 20; 1931, c. 358, s. 1; C. S. 4060.)

§ 27-25. Liability for negligence.—A warehouseman shall be liable for any loss or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful owner of similar goods would exercise; but he shall not be liable, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, for any loss or injury to the goods which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care. (1917, c. 37, s. 21; C. S. 4061.)

§ 27-26. Goods kept separate.—Except as provided in § 27-27, a warehouseman shall keep the goods so far separate from goods of other depositors, and from other goods of the same depositor for which a separate receipt has been issued, as to permit at all times the identification and redelivery of the goods deposited. (1917, c. 37, s. 22; C. S. 4062.)

§ 27-27. Effect of confusion of goods.—If authorized by agreement or by custom, a warehouseman may mingle fungible goods with other goods of the same kind and grade. In such case the various depositors of the mingled goods shall own the entire mass in common and each depositor shall be entitled to such portion thereof as the amount deposited by him bears to the whole. (Rev., s. 3034; 1917, c. 37, s. 23; C. S. 4063.)

§ 27-28. Liability of warehouseman when goods confused.—The warehouseman shall be severally liable to each depositor for the care and redelivery of his share of such mass to the same extent and under the same circumstances as if the goods had been kept separate. (1917, c. 37, s. 24; C. S. 4064.)

§ 27-29. Goods not subject to attachment or execution.—If goods are delivered to a warehouseman by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser in good faith for value would bind the owner, and a negotiable receipt is issued for them, they cannot thereafter, while in the possession of the warehouseman, be attached by garnishment or otherwise, or be levied upon under an execution, unless the receipt be first surrendered to the warehouseman or its negotiation enjoined. The warehouseman shall in no case be compelled to deliver up the actual possession of the goods until the receipt is surrendered to him or impounded by the court. (1917, c. 37, s. 25; C. S. 4065.)

§ 27-30. Creditor's remedy against receipt.—A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable receipt shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction and otherwise, in attaching such receipt or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process. (1917, c. 37, s. 26; C. S. 4066.)

§ 27-31. Warehouseman's lien.—Subject to the subsequent provisions of this article specifying what liens may be enforced against a negotiable receipt, a warehouseman shall have a lien on goods deposited or on the proceeds thereof in his hands, for all lawful charges for storage and preservation of the goods; also for all lawful claims for money advanced, interest, insurance, transportation, labor, weighing, coopering, and other charges and expenses in relation to such goods; also for all reasonable charges and expenses for notice and advertisements of sale, and for sale of the goods where default has been made in satisfying the warehouseman's lien. (1917, c. 37, s. 27; C. S. 4067.)

§ 27-32. Against what goods lien enforced.—Subject to the subsequent provisions of this article specifying what liens may be enforced against a negotiable receipt, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced—

1. Against all goods, whenever deposited, belonging to the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted; and

2. Against all goods belonging to others which have been deposited at any time by the person who is liable as debtor for the claims in regard to which the lien is asserted, if such person has been so entrusted with the possession of the goods that a pledge of the same by him at the time of the deposit to one who took the goods in good faith for value would have been valid. (1917, c. 37, s. 28; C. S. 4068.)

§ 27-33. Loss of lien.—A warehouseman loses his lien upon goods—

1. By surrendering possession thereof, or

2. By refusing to deliver the goods when a demand is made with which he is bound to comply under the provisions of this chapter. (1917, c. 37, s. 29; C. S. 4069.)

§ 27-34. What liens enforced against negotiable receipts. — If a negotiable receipt is issued for goods, the warehouseman shall have no lien thereon, except for charges for storage of those goods subsequent to the date of the receipt, unless the receipt expressly enumerate other charges for which a lien is claimed. In such case there shall be a lien for the charges enumerated so far as they are within the terms for a warehouseman's lien as heretofore provided in this article, although the amount of the charges so enumerated is not stated in the receipt. (1917, c. 37, s. 30; C. S. 4070.)

§ 27-35. Right to retain until liens satisfied.—A warehouseman having a lien valid against the person demanding the goods may refuse to deliver the goods to him until the lien is satisfied. (1917, c. 37, s. 31; C. S. 4071.)

§ 27-36. Other legal remedies for warehouseman.—Whether a warehouseman has or has not a lien upon the goods, he is entitled to all remedies allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor for the collection from the depositor of all charges and advances which the depositor has expressly or impliedly contracted with the warehouseman to pay. (1917, c. 37, s. 32; C. S. 4072.)

§ 27-37. Enforcement of liens.—A warehouseman's lien for a claim which has become due may be satisfied as follows:

1. Notice given. The warehouseman shall give a written notice to the person on whose account the goods are held, and to any other person known by the warehouseman to claim an interest in the goods. Such notice shall be given by delivery in person or by registered letter addressed to the last known place of business or abode of the person to be notified. The notice shall contain—

a. An itemized statement of the warehouseman's claim, showing the sum due at the time of the notice and the date or dates when it became due;

b. A brief description of the goods against which the lien exists;

c. A demand that the amount of the claim as stated in the notice, and of such further claim as shall accrue, shall be paid on or before a day mentioned, not less than ten days from the delivery of the notice if it is personally delivered or from the time when the notice should reach its destination according to the due course of post if the notice is sent by mail; and

d. A statement that unless the claims are paid within the time specified the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

2. Sale of goods. In accordance with the terms of a notice so given, a sale of the goods by auction may be had to satisfy any valid claim of the warehouseman for which he has a lien on the goods. The sale shall be had in the place where the lien was acquired, or, if such place is manifestly unsuitable for the purpose, at the nearest suitable place. After the time for the payment of the claim specified in the notice to the depositor has elapsed, an advertisement of the sale, describing the goods to be sold, and stating the name of the owner or person on whose account the goods are held, and the time and place of the sale, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in the place where such sale is to be held. The sale shall not be held less than fifteen days from the time of the first publication. If there is no newspaper published in such place, the advertisement shall be posted at least ten days before such sale in not less than six conspicuous places therein. From the proceeds of such sale the warehouseman shall satisfy his lien, including the reasonable charges of notice, advertisement, and sale. The balance, if any, of such proceeds shall be held by the warehouseman, and delivered on demand to the person to whom he would have been bound to deliver or justified in delivering the goods.

3. Right of claimant to pay charges. At any time before the goods are so sold any person claiming a right of property or possession therein may pay the warehouseman the amount necessary to satisfy his lien and to pay the reasonable expenses and liabilities incurred in serving notices and advertising and preparing for the sale up to the time of such payment. The warehouseman shall deliver the goods to the person making such payment if he is a person entitled, under the provisions of this chapter, to the possession of the goods on payment of charges thereon. Otherwise, the warehouseman shall retain possession of the goods according to the terms of the original contract of deposit. (Rev., ss. 3036, 3037, 3038; 1917, c. 37, s. 33; C. S. 4073.)

§ 27-38. Sale of perishable goods.—If goods are of a perishable nature, or by keeping will deteriorate greatly in value, or by their odor, leakage, inflammability, or explosive nature will be liable to injure other property, the warehouseman may give such notice to the owner, or to the person in whose name the goods are stored, as is reasonable and possible under the circumstances, to satisfy the lien upon such goods and to remove them from the warehouse; and in the event of the failure of such person to satisfy the lien and to remove the goods within the time so specified, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertising. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell such goods, he may dispose of them in any lawful manner, and shall incur no liability by reason thereof. The proceeds of any sale made under the terms of this section shall be disposed of in the same way as the proceeds of sales made under the terms of § 27-37. (Rev., ss. 3039, 3040; 1917, c. 37, s. 34; C. S. 4074.)

§ 27-39. Other remedies not excluded. — The remedy for enforcing a lien herein provided does not preclude any other remedies allowed by law for the enforcement of a lien against personal property nor bar the right to recover so much of the warehouseman's claim as shall not be paid by the proceeds of the sale of the property. (Rev., s. 3041; 1917, c. 37, s. 35; C. S. 4075.)

§ 27-40. Liability discharged by sale for liens.—After goods have been lawfully sold to satisfy a warehouseman's lien, or have been lawfully sold or disposed of because of their perishable or hazardous nature, the warehouseman shall not thereafter be liable for failure to deliver the goods to the depositor or owner of the goods, or to a holder of the receipt given for the goods when they were deposited, even if such receipt be negotiable. (1917, c. 37, s. 36; C. S. 4076.)

Art. 4. Negotiation and Transfer of Receipts.

§ 27-41. Negotiation by delivery.—A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by delivery—

1. Where by the terms of the receipt the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer; or

2. Where by the terms of the receipt the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent indorsee of the receipt has indorsed it in blank or to bearer.

Where by the terms of a negotiable receipt the goods are deliverable to bearer, or where a negotiable receipt has been indorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may indorse the same to himself or to any other specified person, and in such case the receipt shall thereafter be negotiated only by the indorsement of such indorsee. (1917, c. 37, s. 37; C. S. 4077.)

§ 27-42. Negotiation by indorsement.—A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by the indorsement of the person to whose order the goods are by the terms of the receipt deliverable. Such indorsement may be in blank, to bearer, or to a specified person. If indorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the indorsement of such person in blank, to bearer, or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiation may be made in like manner. (1917, c. 37, s. 38; C. S. 4078.)

§ 27-43. Transfer of nonnegotiable receipts.—A receipt which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee.

A nonnegotiable receipt cannot be negotiated, and the indorsement of such a receipt gives the transferee no additional right. (1917, c. 37, s. 39; C. S. 4079.)

§ 27-44. Who may negotiate a receipt.—A negotiable receipt may be negotiated by any person in possession of the same however such possession may have been acquired, if, by the terms of the receipt, the warehouseman undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of such person or if at the time of negotiation the receipt is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery. (1917, c. 37, s. 40; 1931, c. 358, s. 2; C. S. 4080.)

§ 27-45. Rights acquired by negotiation. — A person to whom a negotiable receipt has been duly negotiated acquires thereby—

1. Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the receipt to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value, and also such title to the goods as the depositor or person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the receipt had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value; and

2. The direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt as fully as if the warehouseman had contracted directly with him. (1917, c. 37, s. 41; C. S. 4081.)

§ 27-46. Rights acquired by transfer.—A person to whom a receipt has been transferred but not negotiated acquires thereby, as against the transferrer, the title of the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferrer. If the receipt is nonnegotiable, such person also acquires the right to notify the warehouseman of the transfer to him of such receipt, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of the warehouseman to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the receipt. Prior to the notification of the warehouseman by the transferrer or transferee of a nonnegotiable receipt, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of the warehouseman may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferrer, or by a notification to the warehouseman by the transferrer or a subsequent purchaser from the transferrer of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferrer. (1917, c. 37, s. 42; C. S. 4082.)

§ 27-47. Right to compel indorsement.—Where a negotiable receipt is transferred for value by delivery, and the indorsement of the transferrer is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferrer to compel him to indorse the receipt, unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. (1917, c. 37, s. 43; C. S. 4083.)

§ 27-48. Warranties in negotiation and transfer.—A person who for value negotiates or transfers a receipt by indorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a receipt, unless a contrary intention appears, warrants—

1. That the receipt is genuine;

2. That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it;

3. That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the receipt; and

4. That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose, whenever such warranties would have been implied if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a receipt the goods represented thereby. (1917, c. 37, s. 44; C. S. 4084.)

§ 27-49. Indorser not liable for failure of prior parties.—The indorsement of a receipt shall not make the indorser liable for any failure on the part of the warehouseman or previous indorsers of the receipt to fulfill their respective obligations. (1917, c. 37, s. 45; C. S. 4085.)

§ 27-50. No warranty by collection of debt secured by receipt. — A mortgagee, pledgee, or holder for security of a receipt who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such receipt is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such receipt or the quantity or quality of the goods therein described. (1917, c. 37, s. 46; C. S. 4086.)

§ 27-51. Rights of bona fide holder not affected by fraud.—The validity of the negotiation of a receipt is not impaired by the fact that such negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the receipt was deprived of the possession of the same by loss, theft, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, or conversion, if the person to whom the receipt was negotiated, or a person to whom the receipt was subsequently negotiated, paid value therefor, in good faith without notice of the breach of duty, or loss, theft, fraud, accident, mistake, or duress or conversion. (1917, c. 37, s. 47; 1931, c. 358, s. 3; C. S. 4087.)

§ 27-52. Subsequent purchasers protected. — Where a person having sold, mortgaged, or pledged goods which are in a warehouse and for which a negotiable receipt has been issued, or having sold, mortgaged, or pledged the negotiable receipt representing such goods, continues in possession of the negotiable receipt, the subsequent negotiation thereof by that person under any sale or other disposition thereof to any person receiving the same in good faith, for value and without notice of the previous sale, mortgage, or pledge, shall have the same effect as if the first purchaser of the goods or receipt had expressly authorized the subsequent negotiation. (1917, c. 37, s. 48; C. S. 4088.)

§ 27-53. Right of purchaser superior to seller's lien.—Where a negotiable receipt has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the rights of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such receipt has been negotiated, whether such negotiation be prior or subsequent to the notification to the warehouseman who issued such receipt of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu. Nor shall the warehouseman be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to an unpaid seller unless the receipt is first surrendered for cancellation. (1917, c. 37, s. 49; C. S. 4089.)

Art. 5. Criminal Offenses.

§ 27-54. Issuing receipt for goods not stored.—A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a receipt knowing that the goods for which such receipt is issued have not been actually received by such warehouseman, or are not under his actual control at the time of issuing such receipt, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. (1917, c. 37, s. 50; C. S. 4090.)

§ 27-55. Issuing receipt with false statement.—A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who fraudulently issues or aids in fraudulently issuing a receipt for goods knowing that it contains any false statement, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. (1917, c. 37, s. 51, C. S. 4091.)

§ 27-56. Issuing fraudulent duplicates.—A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who issues or aids in issuing a duplicate or additional negotiable receipt for goods, knowing that a former negotiable receipt for the same goods or any part of them is outstanding and uncanceled, without plainly placing upon the face thereof the word "duplicate," except in the case of a lost or destroyed receipt after proceedings for delivery as heretofore provided in this chapter, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding five years or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both. (1917, c. 37, s. 52; C. S. 4092.)

§ 27-57. Failure to state in receipt the interest of warehouseman.—Where there are deposited with or held by a warehouseman goods of which he is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, such warehouseman, or any of his officers, agents, or servants who, knowing this ownership, issues or aids in issuing a negotiable receipt for such goods which does not state such ownership, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. (1917, c. 37, s. 53; C. S. 4093.)

§ 27-58. Delivering goods without obtaining receipt. — A warehouseman, or any officer, agent, or servant of a warehouseman, who delivers goods out of the possession of such warehouseman, knowing that a negotiable receipt the negotiation of which would transfer the right to the possession of such goods is outstanding and uncanceled, without obtaining the possession of such receipt at or before the time of such delivery, except in the cases heretofore provided for in this chapter for the delivery of goods upon a lost receipt and for the sale of goods to satisfy the warehouseman's lien or because of their perishable or hazardous nature, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. (1917, c. 37, s. 54; C. S. 4094.)

§ 27-59. Fraudulent deposit and negotiation.—Any person who deposits goods to which he has not title, or upon which there is a lien or mortgage, and who takes for such goods a negotiable receipt which he afterwards negotiates for value with intent to deceive and without disclosing his want of title or the existence of the lien or mortgage, shall be guilty of a crime, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by imprisonment not exceeding one year or by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both. (1917, c. 37, s. 55; C. S. 4095.)

§ 28-1. Clerk of superior court has probate jurisdiction.—The clerk of the superior court of each county has jurisdiction, within his county, to take proof of wills and to grant letters testamentary, letters of administration with the will annexed, and letters of administration in cases of intestacy, in the following cases:

1. Where the decedent at, or immediately previous to, his death was domiciled in the county of such clerk, in whatever place such death may have happened.

2. Where the decedent at his death had his fixed place of domicile in more than one county, the clerk of any such county has jurisdiction.

3. Where the decedent, not being domiciled in this state, died out of the state, leaving assets in the county of such clerk, or assets of such decedent thereafter come into the county of such clerk.

4. Where the decedent, not being domiciled in this state, died in the county of such clerk, leaving assets in the state, or assets of such decedent thereafter come into the state.

Provided, that in all cases where the clerk of the superior court is interested in an estate, the judge of the superior court resident in the district or the judge of the superior court holding the courts of the county by regular or special assignment shall have jurisdiction to take proof of wills and grant letters testamentary, letters of administration with the will annexed and letters of administration in cases of intestacy, to audit and approve the accounts of executors and administrators, to make orders and to do any and all things in connection with the administration of estates which the clerk of the superior court might or could have done, had he not been interested in the estate. (Rev., s. 16; Code, s. 1374; C. C. P., s. 433; R. C., c. 46, s. 1; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 115; 1931, c. 165; C. S. 1.)

§ 28-2. Exclusive in clerk who first gains.—The clerk who first gains and exercises jurisdiction under this chapter thereby acquires sole and exclusive jurisdiction over the decedent's estate. (Rev., s. 17; Code, s. 1375; C. C. P., s. 434; C. S. 2.)

Art. 2. Necessity for Letters and Their Form.

§ 28-3. Letters must issue; immediate rights of family.—No person shall enter upon the administration of any decedent's estate until he has obtained letters therefor, under the penalty of one hundred dollars, one-half to the use of the informer and the other half to the state; but nothing herein contained shall prevent the family of the deceased from using so much of the crop, stock and provisions on hand as may be necessary, until the widow's year's support is assigned therefrom, as prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 1; Code, s. 1522; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 93; C. S. 3.)

§ 28-4. Executor de son tort.—Every person who receives goods or debts of any person dying intestate, or any release of a debt due the intestate, upon a fraudulent intent, or without such valuable consideration as amounts to the value or thereabout, is chargeable as executor of his own wrong, so far as such debts and goods, coming to his hands, or whereof he is released, will satisfy. (Rev., s. 2; Code, s. 1494; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 67; 43 Eliz., c. 8; C. S. 4.)

§ 28-5. Form of letters.—All letters must be issued in the name of the state, and tested in the name of the clerk of the superior court, signed by him, and sealed with his seal of office, and shall have attached thereto copies of the section of this chapter requiring an inventory to be filed within three months, and of the section requiring annual accounts to be filed. (Rev., s. 36; Code, ss. 1399, 2172; C. C. P., ss. 471, 478; 1871-2, c. 46; C. S. 5.)

Art. 3. Right to Administer.

§ 28-6. Order in which persons entitled.—Letters of administration, in case of intestacy, shall be granted to the persons entitled thereto and applying for the same, in the following order:

1. To the husband or widow, except as hereinafter provided.
2. To the next of kin in the order of their degree, where they are of different degrees; if of equal degree, to one or more of them, at the discretion of the clerk.
3. To the most competent creditor who resides within the state, and proves his debt on oath before the clerk.
4. To any other person legally competent. (Rev., s. 3; Code, s. 1376; C. C. P., s. 456; R. C., c. 46, ss. 2, 3; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 115; C. S. 6.)

§ 28-7. Husband to administer wife's estate; right in surplus.—If any married woman dies wholly or partially intestate, the surviving husband shall be entitled to administer on her personal estate, and shall hold the same, subject to the claims of her creditors and others having rightful demands against her, to his own use, except as hereinafter provided. If the husband dies after his wife, but before administering, his executor or administrator or assignee shall receive the personal property of the said wife, as a part of the estate of the husband, subject as aforesaid, and except as provided by law. (Rev., s. 4; Code, s. 1479; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 32; C. S. 7.)

§ 28-8. Disqualifications enumerated.—The clerk shall not issue letters of administration or letters testamentary to any person who, at the time of appearing to qualify—

1. Is under the age of twenty-one years.
2. Is a nonresident of this state; but a nonresident may qualify as executor.
3. Has been convicted of a felony.
4. Is adjudged by the clerk incompetent to execute the duties of such trust by reason of drunkenness, improvidence or want of understanding.
5. Fails to take the oath or give the bond required by law.
6. Has renounced his right to qualify. (Rev., s. 5; Code, ss. 1377, 1378, 2162; C. C. P., s. 457; C. S. 8.)

§ 28-9. Effect of disqualification of person entitled.—Where an executor named in the will, or any person having a prior right to administer, is under the disqualification of nonage, or is temporarily absent from the state, such person is entitled to six months, after coming of age or after his return to the state, in which to make application for letters testamentary, or letters of administration. (Rev., s. 6; Code, ss. 1379, 2165; C. C. P., ss. 452, 460; R. C., c. 46, s. 12; C. S. 9.)

§ 28-10. Divorce a vinculo or felonious slaying is forfeiture.—When a marriage is dissolved a vinculo, the parties respectively, or when either party is convicted of the felonious slaying of the other, or of being accessory before the fact of such felonious slaying, the party so convicted shall thereby lose all his or her right to administer on the estate of the other, and to a distributive share in the personal property of the other, and every right and estate in the personal estate of the other. (Rev., s. 7; Code, s. 1480; 1889, c. 499; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 42; C. S. 10.)

§ 28-11. Elopement and adultery of wife is forfeiture.—If any married woman elopes with an adulterer, and shall not be living with her husband at his death, she shall thereby lose all right to a distributive share in the personal property of her husband, and all right to administer on his estate. (Rev., s. 8; Code, s. 1481; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 44; C. S. 11.)

§ 28-12. Husband's conduct forfeiting rights in wife's estate.—If any husband shall separate himself from his wife, and be living in adultery at her death, or if she has obtained a divorce a mensa et thoro, and shall not be living with her husband at her death, or if the husband has abandoned his wife, or has maliciously turned her out of doors, and shall not be living with her at her death, he shall thereby lose all his right and estate of whatever character in and to her personal property, and all right to administer on her estate. (Rev., s. 9; Code, s. 1482; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 45; C. S. 12.)

§ 28-13. Executor may renounce.—Any person appointed an executor may renounce the office by a writing signed by him, and on the same being acknowledged or proved to the satisfaction of the clerk of the superior court, it shall be filed. (Rev., s. 10; Code, s. 2163; C. C. P., s. 450; C. S. 13.)

§ 28-14. Renunciation of prior right required.—When any person applies for administration, and any other person has prior right thereto, a written renunciation of the person or persons having such prior right must be produced and filed with the clerk. (Rev., s. 11; Code, s. 1378; C. C. P., s. 459; C. S. 14.)

§ 28-15. Failure to apply as renunciation.—If any person, entitled to letters of administration, fails or refuses to apply for such letters within thirty days after the death of the intestate, the clerk, on application of any party interested, shall issue a citation to such person to show cause, within twenty days after service of the citation, why he should not be deemed to have renounced. If, within the time named in the citation, he neglects to answer or to show cause, he shall be deemed to have renounced his right to administer, and the clerk must enter an order accordingly, and proceed to grant letters to some other person. If no person entitled to administer applies for letters of administration on the estate of a decedent within six months from his death, then the clerk may, in his discretion, deem all prior rights renounced and appoint some suitable person to administer such estate. (Rev., s. 12; Code, s. 1380; C. C. P., s. 460(a); 1868-9, c. 203; C. S. 15.)

§ 28-16. Person named as executor failing to qualify or renounce.—If any person appointed an executor does not qualify or renounce within sixty days after the will is admitted to probate, the clerk of the superior court, on the application of any other executor named in the same will, or any party interested, shall issue a citation to such person to show cause why he should not be deemed to have renounced. If, upon service of the citation, he does not qualify or renounce within such time, not exceeding thirty days, as is allowed in the citation, an order must be entered by the clerk decreeing that such person has renounced his appointment as executor.

Where more than one executor is appointed in any last will and testament duly probated in any court of this State, and one or more of such executors shall have qualified before the clerk of such court, and the other executor or executors shall have failed, within thirty days thereafter to qualify or shall have renounced in writing, then the qualifying executor or executors shall be clothed with all the powers, rights and duties, and be subject to all the obligations imposed upon all of said executors, in and by the terms of said will and the laws of this State, in like manner as if the non-qualifying executor or executors had not been named in said will. This paragraph shall apply to all wills heretofore or hereafter probated. (Rev., s. 13; Code, s. 2164; C. C. P., s. 451; 1931, c. 183; C. S. 16.)

Art. 4. Public Administrator.

§ 28-17. Appointment and term.—There may be a public administrator in every county, appointed by the clerk of the superior court for the term of four years. (Rev., s. 18; Code, s. 1389; 1868-9, c. 113; 1925, c. 253; C. S. 17.)

§ 28-18. Oath.—The public administrator shall take and subscribe an oath (or affirmation) faithfully and honestly to discharge the duties of his trust; and the oath so taken and subscribed must be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court. (Rev., s. 19; Code, s. 1393; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 2, 5; C. S. 18.)

§ 28-19. Bond.—The public administrator shall enter into bond, payable to the state of North Carolina, with two or more sufficient sureties to be justified before and approved by the clerk, or with a duly authorized surety company, in the penal sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000.00), conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office and obedience to all lawful orders of the clerk or other court touching the administration of the several estates that may come into his hands and such bonds, if executed by individual sureties, shall be renewed every two years. Whenever the aggregate value of the personal property belonging to the several estates in the hands of the public administrator exceeds one-half of his bond, if the bond is signed by personal sureties, or three-fourths of his bond, if the bond shall be executed by a duly authorized surety company, the clerk shall require him to enlarge his bond in an amount so as to cover at all times at least double the aggregate of the assets of the estates in the hands of said public administrator if the bond is signed by personal sureties or one and one-third times the assets if the bond shall be executed by a duly authorized surety company. If the personal property of any decedent is insufficient to pay his debts and the charges of administration and it becomes necessary for the said public administrator to apply for the sale of real estate for assets, upon the signing of a judgment ordering the said sale by the clerk of the superior court, or any other court, the clerk shall include the value of the real estate proposed to be sold in the aggregate value of the property belonging to the several estates in the hands of the public administrator. Whenever the aggregate value of the personal property and the real estate that the said administrator has been authorized to sell exceeds one-half of his bond, if the bond is executed by personal surety, or three-fourths of his bond if the bond shall be executed by a duly authorized surety company, the clerk shall require him to enlarge his bond as hereinbefore provided as though the aggregate consisted only of personal property. (Rev., s. 320; Code, ss. 1390, 1391, 1392; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 2, 3, 4; 1915, c. 216; 1941, c. 243; C. S. 19.)

§ 28-20. When to obtain letters.—The public administrator shall apply for and obtain letters on the estates of deceased persons in the following cases:

1. When the period of six months has elapsed from the death of any decedent, and no letters testamentary, or letters of administration or collection, have been applied for and issued to any person.

2. When any stranger, or person without known heirs, shall die intestate in any county.

3. When any person entitled to administration shall request, in writing, the clerk to issue the letters to the public administrator. (Rev., s. 20; Code, s. 1394; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 6; C. S. 20.)

§ 28-21. Powers generally and on expiration of term.—The public administrator shall have, in respect to the several estates in his hands, all the rights and powers, and be subject to all the duties and liabilities of other administrators. On the expiration of the term of office of a public administrator, or his resignation, he may continue to manage the several estates committed to him prior thereto until he has fully administered the same, if he then enters into a bond as required by law for administrators. (Rev., s. 21; Code, s. 1395; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 7; 1876-7, c. 239; C. S. 21.)

Art. 5. Administrator with Will Annexed.

§ 28-22. When letters c. t. a. issue.—If there is no executor appointed in the will, or if, at any time, by reason of death, incompetency adjudged by the clerk of the superior court, renunciation, actual or decreed, or removal by order of the court, or on any other account there is no executor qualified to act, the clerk of the superior court shall issue letters of administration with the will annexed to one or more of the legatees named in said will; but if no legatee qualifies, then letters may be issued to some suitable person or persons in the order prescribed in this chapter. (Rev., s. 14; Code, s. 2166; C. C. P., s. 453; 1923, c. 63; C. S. 22.)

§ 28-23. Qualifications and bond.—Administrators with the will annexed shall have the same qualifications and give the same bond as other administrators; but the executor of an executor shall not be entitled to qualify as executor of the first testator. (Rev., s. 15; Code, s. 2167; C. C. P., s. 454; 1905, c. 286; C. S. 23.)

§ 28-24. Administrator c. t. a. must observe will.—In all cases where letters of administration with the will annexed are granted, the will of the testator must be observed and performed by the administrator with the will annexed, both in respect to real and personal property, and an administrator with the will annexed has all the rights and powers, and is subject to the same duties, as if he had been named executor in the will. (Rev., s. 3146; Code s. 2168; C. C. P., s. 455; C. S. 4170.)

Art. 6. Collectors.

§ 28-25. Appointment of collectors.—When, for any reason, a delay is necessarily produced in the admission of a will to probate, or in granting letters testamentary, letters of administration, or letters of administration with the will annexed, the clerk may issue to some discreet person or persons, at his option, letters of collection, authorizing the collection and preservation of the property of the decedent. When, for any reason, a delay is necessary in the production of positive proof of the death of any one who may have disappeared under circumstances indicating death of such person, any person interested in the estate of such person so disappearing as heir at law, prospective heir at law, a creditor, a next friend, or any other person or persons interested, either directly or indirectly, in the estate of such person so disappearing, may file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the person so disappearing last resided, or in case such person so disappearing was at the time of his disappearance a nonresident of the State of North Carolina, with the clerk of the superior court of any county in which any property was or might have been located at the time of such disappearance, a petition for the appointment of a collector of the estate of such person so disappearing, or the property of such person so disappearing, located within the county of the clerk to whom application is made, which petition shall set forth the facts and circumstances surrounding the disappearance of such person, and which petition shall be duly verified and supported by affidavit of persons having knowledge of the circumstances under which such person so disappeared, and if from such petition and such affidavits it should appear to the clerk that the person so disappearing is probably dead, then it shall be the duty of the clerk to so find and to issue to some discreet person or persons, at his option, letters of collection authorizing the collection and the preservation of the property of such person so disappearing. (Rev., s. 22; Code, s. 1383; C. C. P., s. 463; R. C., c. 46, s. 9; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 115; 1924, c. 43; C. S. 24.)

§ 28-26. Qualifications and bond.—Every collector shall have the qualifications and give the bond prescribed by law for an administrator. (Rev., s. 23; Code, s. 1384; C. C. P., s. 464; C. S. 25.)

§ 28-27. Powers of collectors.—Every collector has authority to collect the personal property, preserve and secure the same, and collect the debts and credits of the decedent, and for these purposes he may commence and maintain or defend suits, and he may sell, under the direction and order of the clerk, any personal property for the preservation and benefit of the estate. He may be sued for debts due by the decedent, and he may pay funeral expenses and other debts. (Rev., s. 24; Code, s. 1385; C. C. P., s. 465; R. C., c. 46, s. 6; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 115; C. S. 26.)

§ 28-28. When collector's powers cease; duty to account.—When letters testamentary, letters of administration or letters of administration with the will annexed are granted, the powers of such collector shall cease, but any suit brought by the collector may be continued by his successor, the executor or the administrator, in his own name. Such collector must, on demand, deliver to the executor or administrator all the property, rights and credits of the decedent under his control, and render an account, on oath, to the clerk of all his proceedings. Such delivery and account may be enforced by citation, order or attachment. (Rev., s. 25; Code, s. 1386; C. C. P., s. 466; R. C., c. 46, s. 7; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 115; C. S. 27.)

Art. 7. Appointment and Revocation.

§ 28-29. Facts to be shown on applying for administration.—On application for letters of administration, the clerk must ascertain by affidavit of the applicant or otherwise—

1. The death of the decedent and his intestacy.

2. That the applicant is the proper person entitled to administration, or that he applies after the renunciation of the person or persons so entitled.

3. The value and nature of the intestate's property, the names and residence of all parties entitled as heirs or distributees of the estate, if known, or that the same cannot, on diligent inquiry, be procured; which of said parties are minors, and whether with or without guardians, and the names and residences of such guardians, if known. Such affidavit or other proof must be recorded and filed by the clerk. (Rev., s. 26; Code, s. 1381; C. C. P., s. 461; C. S. 28.)

§ 28-30. Right to contest application for letters; proceedings. — Any person interested in the estate may, on complaint filed and notice to the applicant, contest the right of such applicant to letters of administration, and on any issue of fact joined, or matter of law arising on the pleadings, the cause may be transferred to the superior court for trial, or an appeal be taken, as in other special proceedings. (Rev., s. 27; Code, s. 1382; C. C. P., s. 462; C. S. 29.)

§ 28-31. Letters of administration revoked on proof of will.—If, after the letters of administration are issued, a will is subsequently proved and letters testamentary are issued thereon; or if, after letters testamentary are issued, a revocation of the will or a subsequent testamentary paper revoking the appointment of executors is proved and letters are issued thereon, the clerk of the superior court must thereupon revoke the letters first issued, by an order in writing to be served on the person to whom such first letters were issued; and, until service thereof, the acts of such person, done in good faith, are valid. (Rev., s. 37; Code, s. 2170; C. C. P., s. 469; C. S. 30.)

§ 28-32. Letters revoked on application of surviving husband or widow or next of kin, or for disqualification or default. — If, after any letters have been issued, it appears to the clerk, or if complaint is made to him on affidavit, that the surviving husband or widow or next of kin in the order of priority set out in subsections one and two of § 28-6 applies for letters of administration on said estate, and notwithstanding said applicants may have renounced their right to administer, if otherwise qualified, or that any person to whom they were issued is legally incompetent to have such letters, or that such person has been guilty of default or misconduct in the due execution of his office, or that issue of such letters was obtained by false representations made by such person, the clerk shall issue an order requiring such person to show cause why the letters should not be revoked. On the return of such order, duly executed, if the objections are found valid, the letters issued to such person must be revoked and superseded, and his authority shall thereupon cease. (Rev., s. 38; Code, s. 2171; C. C. P., s. 470; 1921, c. 98; C. S. 31.)

§ 28-33. On revocation, successor appointed and estate secured.—In all cases of the revocation of letters, the clerk must immediately appoint some other person to succeed in the administration of the estate; and pending any suit or proceeding between parties respecting such revocation, the clerk is authorized to make such interlocutory order as, without injury to the rights and remedies of creditors, may tend to the better securing of the estate. (Rev., s. 35; Code, s. 1521; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 92; C. S. 32.)

Art. 8. Bonds.

§ 28-34. Bond; approval; condition; penalty. — Every executor from whom a bond is required by law, and every administrator and collector, before letters are issued, must give a bond payable to the state, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be justified before and approved by the clerk, conditioned that such executor, administrator or collector shall faithfully execute the trust reposed in him and obey all lawful orders of the clerk or other court touching the administration of the estate committed to him. Where such bond is executed by personal sureties, the penalty of such bond must be, at least, double the value of all the personal property of the deceased, but where such bond shall be executed by a duly authorized surety company, the penalty in such bond may be fixed at not less than one and one-fourth times the value of all the personal property of the deceased. The value of said personal property shall be ascertained by the clerk by examination, on oath, of the applicant or of some other competent person. If the personal property of any decedent is insufficient to pay his debts and the charges of administration, and it becomes necessary for his executor or administrator to apply for the sale of real estate for assets, and the bond previously given is not double the value of both the real and personal estate of the deceased, such executor (if bond is required of him by law) or administrator shall, before or at the time of filing his petition for such sale, give another bond payable and conditioned as the one above prescribed and with like security, in double the value of the real estate for the sale of which application is made, provided, however, that where such bond shall be executed by a duly authorized surety company, the penalty of said bond need not exceed one and one-fourth times the value of said real estate. (Rev., s. 319; Code, s. 1388; 1870-1, c. 93; C. C. P., s. 468; 1935, c. 386; C. S. 33.)

§ 28-35. When executor to give bond.—Executors shall give bond as prescribed by law in the following cases:

1. Where the executor resides out of the state. Except in the cases otherwise provided in this chapter, no foreign executor has any authority to intermeddle with the estate, until he has entered into bond, and the bond must be given not later than one year after the death of the testator.

Local Modification.—Buncombe, Madison, Yancey: Pub. Loc. Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 202.

2. When a man marries a woman who is an executrix, and if the husband in such case fail to give bond, the clerk, on application of any creditor or other party interested in the estate, shall revoke the letters issued to the wife and grant letters of administration with the will annexed to some other person.

3. Where an executor, other than such as may have already given bond, obtains an order to sell any portion of the real estate for the payment of debts, as hereinafter provided, the court or clerk to whom application is made shall require, before granting any order of sale, such executor to enter into bond. (Rev., s. 28; Code, s. 1515; R. C., c. 46, ss. 12, 13; C. S. 34.)

§ 28-36. When executor may give bond after one year.—Where a nonresident of the state by will sufficient according to the laws of the state, and duly probated and recorded in the proper county, devises real property situated in this state, the executor acting under the will, if he has not intermeddled with the property devised in the will, and if no letters of administration in this state on the estate have been issued subsequent to the probate of the will, may, after the expiration of one year from the testator's death, give bond in double the value of the property devised, and he shall then be entitled to all the rights, powers and privileges of a resident executor. (1909, c. 825; C. S. 35.)

§ 28-37. No bond in certain cases of executor with power to convey.—Where a citizen or subject of a foreign country, or of any other state of the United States, by will sufficient according to the laws of this state, and duly probated and recorded in the proper county, devises to his executor, with power to sell and convey, real property situated in this state in trust for a person named in the will, the power being vested in the executor as such trustee, the executor may execute the power without giving bond in this state. (1909, c. 901; 1925, c. 284; C. S. 36.)

§ 28-38. No bond where will does not require bond and co-executor a resident.—A nonresident executor appointed under a will which does not require the executor's bond shall not be required to give bond, if a resident of the state is appointed and qualifies as co-executor, unless the clerk of the court of the county where the will is first probated shall, upon the petition of the creditors or beneficiaries of the estate, deem the bond of the nonresident executor necessary for the protection of the creditors or beneficiaries. This section applies to nonresident executors who qualified before its enactment as well as to those qualifying afterwards. (1911, c. 176; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 86; C. S. 37.)

§ 28-39. Certain executor's deeds without bond before 1911 validated.—Where prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, a nonresident executor has sold and conveyed lands in this state under a power in the will of a citizen of another state or of a foreign country, and the will was executed according to the laws of this state and was duly proved and recorded in the state or foreign country where the testator and his family and the executor resided, the sale and conveyance is valid although the executor prior to the execution of the deed had not given bond or obtained letters in this state. (1911, c. 90; C. S. 38.)

§ 28-40. Oath and bond required before letters issue.—Before letters testamentary, letters of administration with the will annexed, letters of administration or letters of collection are issued to any person, he must give the bond required by law and must take and subscribe an oath or affirmation before the clerk, or before any other officer of any state or country authorized by the laws of North Carolina to administer oaths, that he will faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of his trust, which oath must be filed in the office of the clerk. (Rev., s. 29; Code, ss. 1387, 1388, 2169; C. C. P., ss. 467, 468; 1870-1, c. 93; 1923, c. 56; C. S. 39.)

§ 28-41. Oath before notary; curative statute.—In all cases prior to January the first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, in which any foreign executor qualified or attempted to qualify as such executor by taking and subscribing the oath or affirmation required by law, before a notary public of this or any other state or territory of the United States, instead of taking and subscribing said oath or affirmation before the clerk, and having in all other respects complied with the laws of North Carolina prescribed for and pertaining to the qualification and appointment of foreign executors, such qualification and the letters testamentary issued in all such cases are hereby validated and made legal and binding. In all cases mentioned in this section, wherein such foreign executor has entered upon the discharge of the duties of such office and has performed any duty or exercised the powers and authority of such office regularly and according to law, except for the defect in the qualification and issuance of letters testamentary, then all such acts of any such foreign executor are validated and are declared to be legal and binding. (1925, c. 19.)

§ 28-42. Right of action on bond.—Every person injured by the breach of any bond given by an executor, administrator or collector may put the same in suit and recover such damages as he may have sustained. (Rev., s. 30; Code, s. 1516; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 87; C. S. 40.)

§ 28-43. Rights of surety in danger of loss.—Any surety on the bond of an executor, administrator or collector, who is in danger of sustaining loss by his suretyship, may exhibit his petition on oath to the clerk of the superior court wherein the bond was given, setting forth particularly the circumstances of his case, and asking that such executor, administrator or collector be removed from office, or that he give security to indemnify the petitioner against apprehended loss, or that the petitioner be released from responsibility on account of any future breach of the bond. The clerk shall issue a citation to the principal in the bond, requiring him, within ten days after service thereof, to answer the petition. If, upon the hearing of the case, the clerk deem the surety entitled to relief, he may grant the same in such manner and to such extent as may be just. And if the principal in the bond gives new or additional security, to the satisfaction of the clerk, within such reasonable time as may be required, the clerk may make an order releasing the surety from liability on the bond for any subsequent act, default or misconduct of the principal. (Rev., s. 33; Code, s. 1519; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 90; C. S. 41.)

§ 28-44. On revocation of letters, bond liable to successors.—When the letters of an executor, administrator or collector are revoked, his bond may be prosecuted by the person or persons succeeding to the administration of the estate, and a recovery may be had thereon to the full extent of any damage, not exceeding the penalty of the bond, sustained by the estate of the decedent by the acts or omissions of such executor, administrator or collector, and to the full value of any property received and not duly administered. Moneys so recovered shall be assets in the hands of the person recovering them. (Rev., s. 31; Code, s. 1517; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 88; C. S. 42.)

§ 28-45. When new bond or new sureties required.—If complaint be made on affidavit to the clerk of the superior court that the surety on any bond of an executor, administrator or collector is insufficient, or that one or more of such sureties is or is about to become a nonresident of this state, or that the bond is inadequate in amount, the clerk must issue an order requiring the principal in the bond to show cause why he should not give a new bond, or further surety, as the case may be. On the return of the order duly executed, if the objections in the complaint are found valid, the clerk shall make an order requiring the party to give further surety or a new bond in a larger amount within a reasonable time. (Rev., s. 32; Code, s. 1518; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 89; C. S. 43.)

§ 28-46. On failure to give new bond, letters revoked.—If any person required to give a new bond, or further security, or security to indemnify, under §§ 28-43 and 28-45, fails to do so within the time specified in any such order, the clerk must forthwith revoke the letters issued to such person, whose right and authority, respecting the estate, shall thereupon cease. (Rev., s. 34; Code, s. 1520; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 91; C. S. 44.)

Art. 9. Notice to Creditors.

§ 28-47. Advertisement for claims.—Every executor, administrator and collector, within twenty days after the granting of letters, shall notify all persons having claims against the decedent to exhibit the same to such executor, administrator or collector, at or before a day to be named in such notice; which day must be twelve months from the day of the first publication of such notice. The notice shall be published once a week for six weeks in a newspaper, if any there be published in the county. If there is no newspaper published in the county, then the notice shall be posted at the courthouse and four other public places in the county. (Rev., s. 39; Code, ss. 1421, 1422; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 29; 1881, c. 278, s. 2; C. S. 45.)

§ 28-48. Proof of advertisement.—A copy of the advertisement directed to be posted or published in pursuance of § 28-47, with an affidavit, taken before some person authorized to administer oaths, of the proprietor, editor or foreman of the newspaper wherein the same appeared, to the effect that such notice was published for six weeks in said newspaper, or an affidavit stating that such notices were posted, shall be filed in the office of the clerk by the executor, administrator or collector. The copy so verified or affidavit shall be deemed a record of the court, and a copy thereof, duly certified by the clerk, shall be received as conclusive evidence of the fact of publication in all the courts of this state. (Rev., s. 40; Code, s. 1423; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 31; C. S. 46.)

§ 28-49. Personal notice to creditor.—The executor, administrator or collector may cause the notice to be personally served on any creditor, who shall, thereupon, within six months after personal service thereof, exhibit his claim, or be forever barred from maintaining any action thereon. (Rev., s. 41; Code, s. 1424; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 32; 1885, c. 96; C. S. 47.)

Art. 10. Inventory.

§ 28-50. Inventory within three months.—Every executor, administrator and collector, within three months after his qualification, shall return to the clerk, on oath, a just, true and perfect inventory of all the real estate, goods and chattels of the deceased, which have come to his hands, or to the hands of any person for him, which inventory shall be signed by him and be recorded by the clerk. He shall also return to the clerk, on oath, within three months after each sale made by him, a full and itemized account thereof, which shall be signed by him and recorded by the clerk. (Rev., s. 42; Code, s. 1396; R. C., c. 46, s. 16; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 8; C. S. 48.)

§ 28-51. Compelling the inventory.—If the inventory and account of sale specified in § 28-50 are not returned as therein prescribed, the clerk must issue an order requiring the executor, administrator or collector to file the same within the time specified in the order, which shall not be less than twenty days, or to show cause why an attachment should not be issued against him. If, after due service of the order, the executor, administrator, or collector does not, on the return day of the order, file such inventory or account of sale, or obtain further time to file the same, the clerk shall have power to vacate the office of administrator, executor or collector. And under all proceedings provided for in this section, the defaulting executor, administrator or collector shall be personally liable for the costs of such proceeding to be taxed against him by the clerk of the superior court, or deducted from any commissions which may be found due such executor, administrator or collector upon final settlement of the estate. And the sheriffs of the several counties to whom a process is directed under the provisions of this section shall serve the same without demanding their fees in advance. (Rev., s. 43; Code, s. 1397; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 9; 1929, c. 9, s. 1; 1933, c. 100; C. S. 49.)

§ 28-52. New assets inventoried.—When further property of any kind, not included in any previous return, comes to the hands or knowledge of any executor, administrator or collector, he must cause the same to be returned, as hereinbefore prescribed, within three months after the possession or discovery thereof; and the making of such return of new assets, from time to time, may be enforced in the same manner as in the case of the first inventory. (Rev., s. 44; Code, s. 1398; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 10; C. S. 50.)

§ 28-53. Trustees in wills to file inventories and accounts.—Trustees appointed in any will admitted to probate in this state, into whose hands assets come under the provisions of the will, shall file in the office of the clerk of the county where the will is probated inventories of the assets and annual and final accounts thereof, such as are required of executors and administrators. The power of the clerk to enforce the filing and his duties in respect to audit and record shall be the same as in such cases. This section shall not apply to any will in which a different provision is made for filing inventories and accounts. (1907, c. 804; C. S. 51.)

Art. 11. Assets.

§ 28-54. Distinction between legal and equitable assets abolished.—The distinction between legal and equitable assets is abolished, and all assets shall be applied in the discharge of debts in the manner prescribed by this chapter. (Rev., s. 45; Code, s. 1406; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 14; C. S. 52.)

§ 28-55. Trust estate in personalty.—If any trustee, or any person interested in any trust estate, dies leaving any equitable interest in personal estate which shall come to his executor, administrator or collector, the same estate shall be deemed personal assets. (Rev., s. 46; Code, s. 1403; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 11; C. S. 53.)

§ 28-56. Crops ungathered at death.—The crops of every deceased person, remaining ungathered at his death, shall, in all cases, belong to the executor, administrator or collector, as part of the personal assets, and shall not pass to the widow with the land assigned as dower; nor to the devisee by virtue of any devise of the land, unless such intent be manifest and specified in the will. (Rev., s. 47; Code, s. 1407; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 15; C. S. 54.)

§ 28-57. Proceeds of real estate sold to pay debts are personal assets.—All proceeds arising from the sale of real property, for the payment of debts, as hereinafter provided, shall be deemed personal assets in the hands of the executor, administrator or collector, and applied as though the same were the proceeds of personal estate. (Rev., s. 48; Code, s. 1404; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 12; C. S. 55.)

§ 28-58. Surplus of proceeds of realty sold for debts is real asset.—All proceeds from the sale of real estate, as hereinafter provided, which may not be necessary to pay debts and charges of administration, shall, notwithstanding, be considered real assets, and as such shall be paid by the executor, administrator or collector to such persons as would have been entitled to the land had it not been sold. (Rev., s. 49; Code, s. 1405; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 13; C. S. 56.)

§ 28-59. Personalty fraudulently conveyed recoverable.—If there are not sufficient real and personal assets of the deceased to satisfy all the debts and liabilities of deceased, together with the costs and charges of administration, the personal representative shall have the right to sue for and recover any and all personal property which the deceased may in any wise have transferred or conveyed with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud his creditors, and any money or property so recovered shall constitute assets of the estate in the hands of the personal representative for the payment of debts. But if the fraudulent alienee of deceased has sold the property or estate so fraudulently acquired by him to a bona fide purchaser for value without notice of the fraud, then such fraudulent alienee shall be liable to the personal representative for the value of the property and estate so acquired and disposed of. If the whole recovery from any fraudulent alienee of a decedent shall not be necessary for the payment of the debts of decedent and the costs and charges of administration of his estate, the surplus shall be returned to such fraudulent alienee or his assigns. (Rev., s. 50; C. S. 57.)

§ 28-60. Debt due from executor not discharged by appointment.—The appointing of any person executor shall not be a discharge of any debt or demand due from such person to the testator. (Rev., s. 51; Code, s. 1431; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 40; C. S. 58.)

§ 28-61. Joint liability of heirs, etc., for debts.—All persons succeeding to the real or personal property of a decedent, by inheritance, devise, bequest or distribution, shall be liable jointly, and not separately, for the debts of such decedent. (Rev., s. 52; Code, s. 1528; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 99; C. S. 59.)

§ 28-62. Extent of liability of heirs, etc.—No person shall be liable, under § 28-61, beyond the value of the property so acquired by him, or for any part of a debt that might by action or other due proceeding have been collected from the executor, administrator or collector of the decedent, and it is incumbent on the creditor to show the matters herein required to render such person liable. (Rev., s. 53; Code, s. 1529; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 100; C. S. 60.)

§ 28-63. Judgment against heirs, etc., apportioned; costs.—In any such action the recovery must be apportioned in proportion to the assets or property received by each defendant, and judgment against each must be entered accordingly. Costs in such actions must be apportioned among the several defendants, in proportion to the amount of the recovery against each of them. (Rev., s. 54; Code, s. 1530; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 101; C. S. 61.)

§ 28-64. Persons liable for debts to observe priorities.—Every person who is liable for the debts of a decedent must observe the same preferences in the payment thereof as are established in this chapter; nor shall the commencement of an action by a creditor give his debt any preference over others. (Rev., s. 55; Code, s. 1531; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 102; C. S. 62.)

§ 28-65. Existence of other debts of prior or equal class.—The defendants in such action may show that there are unsatisfied debts of a prior class or of the same class with that in suit. If it appears that the value of the property acquired by them does not exceed the debts of a prior class, judgment must be rendered in their favor. If it appears that the value of the property acquired by them exceeds the amount of debts which are entitled to a preference over the debt in suit, the whole amount which the plaintiff shall recover is only such a portion of the excess as is a just proportion to the other debts of the same class with that in suit. (Rev., s. 56; Code, s. 1532; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 103; C. S. 63.)

§ 28-66. Debts paid taken as unpaid as against heirs, etc.—If any debts of a prior class to that in which the suit is brought, or of the same class, have been paid by any defendant, the amount of the debts so paid shall be estimated, in ascertaining the amount to be recovered, in the same manner as if such debts were outstanding and unpaid, as prescribed in § 28-65. (Rev., s. 57; Code, s. 1533; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 104; C. S. 64.)

§ 28-67. Compelling contribution among heirs, etc.—The remedy to compel contribution shall be by petition or action in the superior court or before the judge in term time against the personal representatives, devisees, legatees, and heirs also of the decedent if any part of the real estate be undevised, within two years after probate of the will, and setting forth the facts which entitle the party to relief; and the costs shall be within the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 58; Code, s. 1534; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 106; C. S. 65.)

§ 28-68. Payment to clerk of sums not exceeding $300 due and owing intestates.—Where any person dies intestate and at the time of his or her death there is a sum of money owing to the said intestate not in excess of three hundred dollars, such sum may be paid into the hands of the clerk of the superior court, whose receipt for same shall be a full and complete release and discharge for such debt or debts, and the said clerk of the superior court is authorized and empowered to pay out such sum or sums in the following manner: First, for satisfaction of widow's year's allowance, after same has been assigned in accordance with law, if such be claimed; second, for payment of funeral expenses, and if there be any surplus the same to be disposed of as is now provided by law. This section shall apply to the counties of Randolph, Guilford, Edgecombe, Cabarrus, Iredell, Moore, Anson, Watauga, Wilson, Craven, Cumberland, Johnston, Rutherford, Stanly, Davidson, Currituck, Yadkin, Alexander, Stokes, Clay, Greene, Wayne, Franklin, Macon, Beaufort, Swain, Haywood, Caldwell, Burke, Gates, Rockingham, Graham, Lee, Person, Catawba, Dare, Tyrrell, Perquimans, Transylvania, Duplin, Hyde, Pender, Surry, Alamance, Lincoln, Granville, Chowan, Hoke, Vance, Montgomery, Durham, Wake, Harnett, Buncombe, Union, Onslow, Nash, Halifax, Hertford, Mecklenburg, Robeson, Orange, Pasquotank, McDowell, Rowan, New Hanover, Martin, Forsyth, Polk, and Warren. (1921, c. 93; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 65; Ex. Sess. 1924, cc. 15, 58; 1927, c. 7; 1929, cc. 63, 71, 121; 1931, c. 21; 1933, cc. 16, 94; 1935, cc. 69, 96; 367; 1937, cc. 13, 31, 55, 121,

Art. 12. Discovery of Assets.

§ 28-69. Examination of persons or corporations believed to have possession of property of decedent. — Whenever an executor or administrator makes oath before the clerk of the superior court of the county where the party to be examined resides or does business that he has reasonable ground to believe, setting forth the grounds of his belief, that any person, firm or corporation has in his or its possession any property of any kind belonging to the estate of his decedent, said clerk shall issue a notice to said person or the member of the firm or officer, agent or employee of the firm or corporation designated in the affidavit, to appear before said clerk at his office at a time fixed in said notice, not less than three days after the issuance of said notice, and be examined under oath by said executor or administrator or his attorney concerning the possession of said property. If upon such examination the person examined admits that he or the firm or corporation for which he works has in his or its possession any property belonging solely to the decedent, and fails to show any satisfactory reason for retaining possession of said property, the clerk of the superior court shall issue an order requiring said person, firm or corporation forthwith to deliver said property to said executor or administrator, and may enforce compliance with said order by an attachment for contempt of court, and commit said person to jail until he shall deliver said property to said executor or administrator: Provided, that in the case of a firm or corporation, whenever any person other than a partner or executive officer of such firm or corporation is examined, no such order shall be made until at least three days after service of notice upon a partner or executive officer of such firm or corporation to show cause why such order should not be made. (1937, c. 209, s. 1.)

§ 28-70. Right of appeal.—Any person aggrieved by the order of the clerk of the superior court may, within five days, appeal to the judge holding the next term of the superior court of the county after said order is made or to the resident judge of the district, but as a condition precedent to his appeal he shall give a justified bond in a sum at least double the value of the property in question, conditioned upon the safe delivery of the property and the payment of damages for its detention, to the executor or administrator in the event that the order of the clerk should be finally sustained. When said bond is executed and delivered to the court no attachment shall be served upon the appealing party, or, if he has already been committed, he shall be released pending the final determination of the appeal. If the appellant fails to have his appeal heard at the next term of the superior court held in his county, or by the resident judge of the district, within thirty days after giving notice of appeal, the clerk of the court may recommit the appellant to jail until he shall deliver the property to the executor or administrator as aforesaid. (1937, c. 209, s. 2.)

§ 28-71. Costs.—The party against whom the final judgment is rendered shall be adjudged to pay the costs of the proceedings hereunder. (1937, c. 209, s. 3.)

§ 28-72. Remedies supplemental.—The remedies provided in this article shall not be exclusive, but shall be in addition to any remedies which are now or may hereafter be provided. (1937, c. 209, s. 4.)

Art. 13. Sales of Personal Property.

§ 28-73. Executor or administrator may sell without court order.—Every executor and administrator shall have power in his discretion and without any order, except as hereinafter provided, to sell, as soon after his qualification as practicable, all the personal estate of his decedent. (Rev., s. 62; Code, s. 1408; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 16; C. S. 66.)

§ 28-74. Collector may sell only on order of court.—All sales of personal property by collectors shall be made only upon order obtained, by motion, from the clerk of the superior court, who shall specify in his order a descriptive list of the property to be sold. (Rev., s. 61; Code, s. 1409; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 17; C. S. 67.)

§ 28-75. Terms and notice of public sale.—All public sales of personal estate by executors, administrators or collectors shall be made on credit or for cash after twenty days' notification posted at the court house and four public places in the county. (Rev., s. 63; Code, ss. 1410, 1411; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 18, 19; C. S. 68.)

§ 28-76. Clerk may order private sale in certain cases; advance bids.—Whenever the executor or administrator of any estate shall be of the opinion that the interests of said estate will be promoted and conserved by selling the personal property belonging to it at private sale instead of selling same at public sale, such executor or administrator may, upon a duly verified application to the clerk of the Superior Court, obtain an order to sell, and may sell, such personal property at private sale for the best price that can be obtained, and shall report such sales to the clerk for confirmation; and upon satisfactory proof that said personal property has been sold for a fair and adequate price, such sale shall be confirmed by the said clerk.

The said sale or sales of personal property shall not be deemed closed under ten days from the filing of such report; and if in ten days from the filing of such report the sale price is increased by the deposit of ten (10) per cent with the said clerk, the said clerk shall order a new sale thereof. The clerk may in his discretion, require the person making such advance bid to execute a good and sufficient bond in a sufficient amount to guarantee compliance with his said offer. If no advance bid is offered for the property and if no exception is filed thereto within said period of ten (10) days, the same shall be confirmed.

Where the estate consists in whole or in part of perishable property the executor or administrator may sell such perishable property at private sale without order or confirmation by the clerk of the Superior Court.

Where the property to be sold consists of stocks, bonds, or other securities, having a known or readily ascertainable market value, and which are bought or sold on any stock or securities exchange, supervised or regulated by the United States government or any of its agencies or departments, the executor or administrator may, upon first obtaining an order approving the sale from the clerk of superior court having jurisdiction of the estate, sell the same privately at the current market price, and such sale shall be valid and final. (Rev., s. 64; 1893, c. 346; 1919, c. 66; 1925, c. 267; 1939, c. 167; C. S. 69.)

§ 28-77. Confirmation required on objection of interested party.—When any person interested, either as creditor or legatee, on the day of sale objects to the completion of any sale on account of the insufficiency of the amount bid, title to such property shall not pass until the sale is reported to and confirmed by the clerk. (Rev., s. 63; Code, s. 1411; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 19; C. S. 70.)

§ 28-78. Security required; representative's liability for collection.—The proceeds of all sales of personal estate and rentings of real property by public auction or privately shall be secured by bond and good personal security, and such proceeds shall be collected as soon as practicable; otherwise the executor, administrator or collector shall be answerable for the same. (Rev., s. 65; Code, s. 1413; 1893, c. 346, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 21; C. S. 71.)

§ 28-79. Hours of public sale; penalty.—All public sales or rentings provided for in this chapter shall be between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m. of the day on which the sale or renting is to be made, except that in towns or cities of more than five thousand inhabitants public sales of goods, wares, and merchandise may be continued until the hour of ten o'clock p. m. Provided, a certain hour for such sales shall be named and the sale shall begin within one hour after the time fixed, unless postponed as provided by law, or delayed by other sales; and every executor, administrator or collector who otherwise makes any sale or renting shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars to any person suing for the same. (Rev., s. 66; Code, s. 1414; 1893, c. 346, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 22; 1927, c. 19, s. 2; C. S. 72.)

§ 28-80. Debts uncollected after year may be sold; list filed.—Every executor, administrator and collector, at any time after one year from the grant of letters, is authorized to sell at public auction, in the manner prescribed in this chapter, all bills, bonds, notes, accounts, or other evidences of debt belonging to the decedent, which he has been unable to collect or which may be deemed insolvent. Before offering such evidences of debt at public sale he shall file with the clerk a descriptive list thereof, and obtain an order of sale therefor from the clerk, and shall make return of the proceeds of such sale as in other cases of assets. (Rev., s. 67; Code, s. 1412; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 20; C. S. 73.)

Art. 14. Sales of Real Property.

§ 28-81. Sales of realty ordered, if personalty insufficient for debts.—When the personal estate of a decedent is insufficient to pay all his debts, including the charges of administration, the executor, administrator or collector may, at any time after the grant of letters, apply to the superior court of the county where the land or some part thereof is situated, by petition, to sell the real property for the payment of the debts of such decedent. When there is dower or right of dower in the land petitioned to be sold as aforesaid, the person entitled thereto shall be made a party to said proceeding, and on a decree of sale, the interest of one-third of the proceeds shall be secured and paid to her annually; or in lieu of such annual interest, at her election, the value of an annuity of six per cent, on such third, during her probable life or expectancy, shall be ascertained and paid to her absolutely out of the proceeds: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive the widow from claiming her dower by metes and bounds in her husband's land.

Proceedings for the sale of the real estate of a decedent brought by his personal representative to create assets with which to pay debts must be instituted in the county where the land or some part thereof lies. If the land to be sold consists of one or more contiguous tracts lying in more than one county or consists of two or more separate tracts lying in different counties, proceedings may be instituted in any county in which a part of the land is situate, and the court of such county wherein the proceedings for sale are first brought shall have jurisdiction to proceed to a final disposition of said proceedings as if all of said land were situate in the county where the proceedings were instituted unless the court making the order of sale shall fix some place other than at the courthouse door of the county in which the proceeding was instituted; the place and time of sale shall be as directed in the order of the court. Where the land to be sold consists of one or more contiguous tracts lying in more than one county, said land shall be advertised in all counties in which any part of said land lies, but the sale shall be conducted at the courthouse door of the county in which the proceeding was instituted. Where the land consists of two or more distinct tracts lying in different counties, each tract shall be advertised in and sold at the courthouse door of the county in which it lies. Certified copies of the proceedings under the seal of the court of the county in which the proceedings were instituted, together with certified copies of the letters testamentary or letters of administration of the personal representative, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of superior court of each county wherein any part of the land lies and shall be recorded in the record of orders and decrees in special proceedings in said office. (Rev., s. 68; Code, s. 1436; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 42; 1923, c. 55; 1935, c. 43; 1937, c. 70; C. S. 74.)

§ 28-82. When representatives authorized to rent, borrow or mortgage.—Such executor, administrator or collector, in lieu of asking for an order for the immediate sale of real estate, may ask for an order authorizing him to rent out the same for a term of not exceeding three years, and if it appears to the court that the best interests of the heirs at law and devisees of the deceased will be promoted by granting such order and that it is probable that the rents derived from the real estate during the term will be sufficient to pay off and discharge the debts and the costs of the administration, the superior court may, with the consent of the creditors, make such order upon such terms as may be best for the heirs at law, devisees and creditors of the estate; or if it is made to appear to the court that such executor, administrator or collector is able to borrow sufficient money with which to pay off and discharge all valid and just claims against the estate of the deceased, then the court shall have the power to authorize said executor or administrator to borrow money for the purpose of paying off and discharging such claims and authorizing him to rent the real estate for a term not exceeding three years and to apply the rents to the repayment of the money thus borrowed, and the said estate shall be and remain liable for the payment of such sums as may be borrowed under such order of the court to the same extent and no further as the estate was liable for the indebtedness of the deceased to pay off and discharge the debt for which the said sums were borrowed. All orders made by the court pursuant to this section shall be approved by the judge residing in or holding the courts of the district in which such county is situated.

In lieu of renting said property or borrowing on the general credit of the estate, as hereinbefore authorized, the said executor, or administrator, may apply by petition, verified by oath, to the Superior Court, showing that the interest of the beneficiaries of the estate, for which he is executor or administrator, would be materially promoted by mortgaging the said estate, in whole or in part to secure funds to be used for the benefit of said estate, setting out the application to be made of the proceeds of said loan and if all or a part of its creditors have agreed to accept an amount less than the full amount of their debt that fact shall appear, which proceeding shall be conducted as in other cases of special proceedings; and the truth of the matter alleged in the petition having been ascertained by satisfactory proof, a decree may thereupon be made that a mortgage be made by such executor, or administrator, in his representative capacity, in such way and on such terms as may be most advantageous to the interest of said estate; but no mortgage shall be made until approved by the judge of the court, nor shall the same be valid unless the order or decree therefor is confirmed and directed by the judge and the proceeds of the mortgage shall be exclusively applied and secured to such purposes and on such trusts as the judge shall specify: Provided, the proceeds from said sale shall be used exclusively for the discharge of all existing creditors, except such as shall file a writing in said cause agreeing to other terms set out in said writing.

The said executor or administrator shall not mortgage the property of said estate for a term of years in excess of the term fixed by the court in its decree. The word "mortgage" wherever used herein, shall be construed to include "deeds of trust." (Acts 1913, c. 49, s. 1; 1927, c. 222, s. 1; C. S. 75.)

§ 28-83. Conveyance of lands by heirs within two years voidable.—All conveyances of real property of any decedent made by any devisee or heir at law within two years of the death of the decedent shall be void as to the creditors, executors, administrators and collectors of such decedent but such conveyances to bona fide purchasers for value and without notice, if made after two years from the death of the decedent, shall be valid even as against creditors. Provided, that if the decedent was a non-resident, such conveyances shall not be valid unless made after two years from the grant of letters. But such conveyances shall be valid, if made five years from the death of a non-resident decedent, notwithstanding no letters testamentary or letters of administration shall have been granted. (Rev., s. 70; Code, s. 1442; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 105; 1935, c. 355; 1939, c. 16; C. S. 76.)

§ 28-84. Conveyance by deceased in fraud of creditors.—The real estate subject to sale under this chapter shall include all the deceased may have conveyed with intent to defraud his creditors, and all rights of entry and rights of action and all other rights and interest in lands, tenements and hereditaments which he may devise, or by law would descend to his heirs: Provided, that lands so fraudulently conveyed shall not be taken from any one who purchased them for a valuable consideration and without a knowledge of the fraud. (Rev., s. 72; Code, s. 1446; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 51; C. S. 77.)

§ 28-85. Effect of bona fide purchase from fraudulent grantee.—When an executor, administrator or collector files his petition to sell lands which have been fraudulently conveyed, and of which there has been a subsequent bona fide sale, whereby he cannot have a decree of sale of the land, the court may give judgment in favor of such executor, administrator or collector for the value of the land, against all persons who may have fraudulently purchased the same; and if the whole recovery is not necessary to pay the debts and charges, the residue shall be restored to the person of whom the recovery was made. (Rev., s. 73; Code, s. 1447; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 52; C. S. 78.)

§ 28-86. Contents of petition for sale.—The petition, which must be verified by the oath of the applicant, shall set forth, as far as can be ascertained:

1. The amount of debts outstanding against the estate.

2. The value of the personal estate, and the application thereof.

3. A description of all the legal and equitable real estate of the decedent, with the estimated value of the respective portions or lots.

4. The names, ages and residences, if known, of the devisees and heirs at law of the decedent. (Rev., s. 77; Code, s. 1437; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 43; C. S. 79.)

§ 28-87. Heirs and devisees necessary parties.—No order to sell real estate shall be granted till the heirs or devisees of the decedent have been made parties to the proceeding, by service of summons, either personally or by publication, as required by law: Provided, that in any proceedings for the sale of land to make assets, when there are heirs of said decedent, or there may be heirs of said decedent whose names and residences are unknown, and it is desired to make all unknown heirs of said decedent parties to said proceedings, and the personal representative shall make such representation in his petition, then all unknown heirs of the said decedent shall be made parties defendant in the same as the unknown heirs of said decedent naming him, and as thus denominated and under this name all said unknown heirs shall be served with summons by publication as now regularly provided by law for the service of summons by publication in the Superior Court, and upon such service being had, the court shall appoint some discreet person as guardian ad litem, for said unknown heirs, and summons shall issue to him as such. Said guardian ad litem shall file answer for said unknown heirs, and defend for them, and he may be paid such sum as the court may fix, to be paid as other costs out of the estate. Upon the filing of the answer by said guardian ad litem, all said unknown heirs shall be before the court for the purposes of the action to the same extent as if each had been served with summons by name, and any claim that they may make to said real estate so sold shall be transferred to the funds in the hands of the personal representative to the same extent as other distributees of said estate and no further. This proviso shall apply to actions now pending, and all proceedings to sell land for assets heretofore had, where unknown heirs have been summoned by publication, are hereby validated. (Rev., s. 74; Code, s. 1438, 1868-9, c. 113, s. 44; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 3, s. 1; C. S. 80.)

§ 28-88. Adverse claimant to be heard.—When the land, which is sought to be sold, is claimed by another person under any pretense whatsoever, such claimant shall be admitted to be heard as a party to the proceeding, upon affidavit of his claim, and if the issue be found for the petitioner he shall have his writ of possession and order of sale accordingly. (Rev., s. 76; Code, s. 1441; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 47; C. S. 81.)

§ 28-89. Upon issues joined, transferred to term.—When an issue of law or fact is joined between the parties, the course of the procedure shall be as prescribed in such cases for other special proceedings. (Rev., s. 78; Code, s. 1440; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 46; C. S. 82.)

§ 28-90. Order granted, if petition not denied.—As soon as all proper parties are made to the proceeding, the clerk of the superior court before whom it is instituted, if the allegations in the petition are not denied or controverted, shall have power to hear the same summarily, and to decree a sale. (Rev., s. 79; Code, s. 1443; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 48; C. S. 83.)

§ 28-91. Notice of sale as on execution.—Notice of sale under this proceeding shall be the same as for the sale of real estate by sheriffs on execution: Provided, however, that in case a re-sale of such real property shall become necessary under such proceeding, that such real property shall then be re-sold only after notice of re-sale has been duly posted at the courthouse door in the county for fifteen days immediately preceding the re-sale and also published at any time during such fifteen day period once a week for two successive weeks of not less than eight days in some newspaper published in the county, if a newspaper is published in the county, but if there be no newspaper published in said county the notice of re-sale must be posted at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county for fifteen days immediately preceding the re-sale. (Rev., s. 81; Code, s. 1445; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 50; 1933, c. 187; C. S. 84.)

§ 28-92. Court fixes terms of sale; title on confirmation.—The court may decree a sale of the whole or any specified parcel of the premises in such a manner, as to size of lots, place of sale, terms of credit, and security for payment of purchase money, as may be most advantageous to the estate, and may also authorize and empower the petitioner or any commissioner appointed by the court to subdivide the land in question, or any part thereof, in such manner as he may deem proper and for the best interest of the estate, and in making such division, to dedicate to the public such parts thereof as he may find necessary for public streets, alleys, and highways, and to sell such premises, either in bulk or in separate lots, with such streets, alleys, and highways excepted or reserved; but no sale, whether public or private, shall be concluded until reported to and approved and confirmed by the court. When any order for a public sale hereunder has been made or may hereafter be made by the court and the personal representative of a decedent, a commissioner or any other person is or has been appointed by the court to make such sale the provisions of § 45-28 shall apply and the provisions of § 1-404 shall not apply. Upon the coming in of the report of the sale and the confirmation thereof, title shall be made by such person, and at such time as the court may prescribe, and in all cases where the persons in possession have been made parties to the proceeding, the court may grant an order for possession. (Rev., s. 80; Code, s. 1444; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 49; 1917, c. 127, s. 1; 1935, c. 72; C. S. 85.)

§ 28-93. Court may order private sale; terms; sale reopened.—If it is made to appear to the court by petition and by satisfactory proof that it will be more for the interest of said estate to sell such real estate by private sale, the court may authorize said petitioner, or any commissioner appointed by the court, to sell the same at private sale, either in whole or in part, for cash in hand, or upon deferred payments, with interest from date of sale, in such a manner as to size of lots, place of sale, terms of credit and security for payment of purchase money as shall be fixed in the order of sale, and if upon a time sale the deferred payments to be secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon the property, or by the retention of the title thereto until the purchase money is paid. When any order for private sale has been or may hereafter be made by any superior court of the state, the provisions of § 45-28, not inconsistent with this section shall apply; and the court may also, upon motion of any person interested in the proceeds of such sale, filed in writing within ten days from the date and report of said sale, together with satisfactory proof that said real property has not been sold for its real value, require the sale to be reopened, and thereupon the court may issue an order for the sale of such premises at public sale, as required by § 45-28, and in such order the court may require such premises to be sold in such parcels and on such terms as to the court may seem most advantageous to the estate. All sales of land conducted prior to February 10, 1927 under authority of this section in which the deferred payments were extended over a period longer than two years, are hereby validated. (1917, c. 127, s. 2; 1927, c. 16; C. S. 86.)

§ 28-94. Undevised realty first sold.—When any part of the real estate of the testator descends to his heirs by reason of its not being devised or disposed of by the will, such undevised real estate shall be first chargeable with payment of debts, in exoneration, as far as it will go, of the real estate that is devised, unless from the will it appears otherwise to be the wish of the testator. (Rev., s. 69; Code, s. 1430; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 39; C. S. 87.)

§ 28-95. Specifically devised realty; contribution.—If, upon the hearing of any petition for the sale of real estate to pay debts, under this chapter, the court decrees a sale of any part that may have been specifically devised, the devisee shall be entitled to contribution from other devisees, according to the principles of equity in respect to contribution among legatees. And the children and issue provided for in this chapter shall be regarded as specific devisees in such contribution. (Rev., s. 86; Code, s. 1535; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 107; C. S. 88.)

§ 28-96. Under power in will, sales public or private.—Sales of real property made pursuant to authority given by will, unless the will otherwise directs, may be public or private, and on such terms as, in the opinion of the executor, are most advantageous to those interested therein. (Rev., s. 84; Code, s. 1503; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 75; C. S. 89.)

§ 28-97. Where executor with power dies, power executed by survivor, etc.—When any or all of the executors of a person making a will of lands to be sold by his executors die, fail or for any cause refuse to take upon them the administration; or, after having qualified, shall die, resign, or for any cause be removed from the position of executor; or when there is no executor named in a will devising lands to be sold, in every such case such executor or executors as survive or retain the burden of administration, or the administrator with the will annexed, or the administrator de bonis non, may sell and convey such lands; and all such conveyances which have been or shall be made by such executors or administrators shall be effectual to convey the title to the purchaser of the estate so devised to be sold. (Rev., s. 82; Code, s. 1493; 1889, c. 461; C. S. 90.)

§ 28-98. Death of vendor under contract; representative to convey.—When any deceased person has bona fide sold any lands, and has given a bond or other written contract to the purchaser to convey the same, and the bond or other written contract has been duly proved and registered in the county where the lands are situated, if within the state, or, if not in the state, shall be proved before the clerk of the superior court and registered in the county where the obligee lives or obligor died, his executor, administrator or collector may execute a deed to the purchaser conveying such estate as shall be specified in the bond or other written contract; and such deed shall convey the title as fully as if it had been executed by the deceased obligor: Provided, that no deed shall be made but upon payment of the price, if that be the condition of the bond or other written contract. (Rev., s. 83; Code, s. 1492; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 65; 1874-5, c. 251; C. S. 91.)

§ 28-99. Title in representative for estate; he or successor to convey.—When land is conveyed to a personal representative for the benefit of the estate he represents, he may sell and convey same upon such terms as he may deem just and for the advantage of said estate; which sale shall be public, after due advertisement, as for judicial sales, unless the conveyance is made to the party entitled to the proceeds. If such land is not conveyed by such personal representative during his life or term of office, his successor may sell and convey such land as if the title had been made to him: Provided, if the predecessor has contracted in writing to sell said lands, but fails to convey same, his successor in office may do so upon payment of the purchase price. (Rev., s. 71; 1905, c. 342; C. S. 92.)

§ 28-100. Sales of realty devised upon contingent remainder, executory devise or other limitation validated.—In all cases where real property devised upon contingent remainder, executory devise, or other limitation, shall have been sold and conveyed for a fair price in good faith by the executor named in said will, or by an administrator with the will annexed, for the purpose of making assets with which to pay the debts of said estate, under the mistaken belief that said will authorized such sale, and the proceeds of such sale shall have been applied to the payment of the indebtedness of such estate, and it shall be made to appear in any action brought by the purchaser of said land, or those claiming under such purchaser, that such executor, or other personal representative would have been entitled in a proper proceeding brought for that purpose to an order of court to sell said land for the purpose of making assets with which to pay the indebtedness of such estate, then such sale so made by such executor, or other representative, shall be valid and binding upon all such contingent remaindermen, executory devisees, or other person, who would have taken such property under said will upon the contingency or contingencies therein mentioned, notwithstanding said sale shall have been made by such executor or other personal representative without obtaining such order of the court. And in any such action instituted by the purchaser of such land, or those claiming under him, for the purpose of removing a cloud from the title thereto all contingent remaindermen, executory devisees, or other persons entitled to claim under any limitation in said will, if in being, and known to be residents of this state, shall be made parties defendant to such action, and served with summons as in other civil actions; all nonresidents, or persons whose names and residences are unknown, shall be served with summons by publication as now required by law, or such service in lieu of publication as now provided by law. In cases where the contingent remainder, executory devise, or other limitation will, or may, go to minors, or persons under other disabilities, or to persons not in being, or whose names and residences are not known, or who may in any contingency become interested in said land, but because of such contingency cannot be ascertained, the judge of the superior court shall, in any such action brought for the purpose aforesaid, after due inquiry of persons who are in no way interested in or connected with such proceedings, designate and appoint some discreet person as guardian ad litem to represent such contingent remaindermen, or executory devisees, upon whom summons shall be served in such action as provided by law for other guardians ad litem, and it shall be the duty of such guardian ad litem to defend such action, and when counsel is needed to represent him, to make this known to the judge, who shall by an order give instructions as to the employment of counsel and the payment of fees. And all contingent remaindermen, executory devisees, or other persons, who may be entitled to claim a contingent interest in said land, whether known or unknown, in being or not in being, shall be conclusively bound by any final judgment entered in such action, if made parties thereto, and represented therein in the manner hereinbefore provided: Provided, however, that this law shall not apply to any sale of land made in which the executor or other personal representative shall have been either directly or indirectly the purchaser thereof. (1923, c. 70, s. 1; C. S. 92(a).)

§ 28-101. Presumption; burden of proof. — Where the purchaser of any lands made under the circumstances narrated in § 28-100, or any person holding or claiming the same under or through such purchaser, shall have been in the peaceable possession thereof for more than twenty years without any adverse claim having been asserted to the same by any person claiming under such will, and the records of the administration of the said estate do not affirmatively show what disposition has been made of the proceeds of the sale of such land, then it shall be presumed, prima facie, that the proceeds of the sale of the said land have been applied to the payment of the necessary indebtedness of the said estate and the cost of the administration thereof, and the burden of proof to the contrary shall be upon the defendants in said action. (1923, c. 70, s. 2; C. S. 92(b).)

§ 28-102. Application of sections 28-100 and 28-101.—Sections 28-100 and 28-101 shall apply only to sales of lands made under the circumstances narrated in those sections, occurring prior to January 1, 1925. (1923, c. 70, s. 3; 1925, c. 48; C. S. 92(c).)

§ 28-103. Validation of certain bona fide sales of real estate to pay debts made without order of court.—In all cases where sales of real estate have been made by administrators of deceased persons, in good faith and upon a valuable consideration, to obtain assets to pay debts of the estate, and deeds have been executed by such administrators to the purchasers, who have paid the purchase price thereof, and no action has been taken by the heirs of such deceased persons to annul such sales by litigation or otherwise, such sales are hereby validated. The recitals contained in such a deed that the sale was made under order or license of the court for the purpose of obtaining assets to pay debts of the estate and that the proceeds of sale of said land have been applied to the payment of the necessary indebtedness of the estate and the cost of administration thereof shall be presumed to be prima facie correct: Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any sale of land in which the administrator of such deceased person shall have been directly or indirectly the purchaser thereof, and nothing herein shall prevent such sale from being impeached for fraud.

This section shall only apply to sales by administrators made prior to January 1, 1920. (1931, c. 146; 1935, c. 31.)

§ 28-104. Validation of sales of realty by administrators d. b. n. of deceased trustees.—In all cases, prior to January first, nineteen hundred thirty-one, where a sale of real estate has been made by an administrator de bonis non of a deceased trustee in a deed in trust, and such administrator de bonis non advertised and conducted such sale prior to his qualification as administrator de bonis non of the deceased trustee, but qualified as such before the execution of the trustee's deed made pursuant to such sale, said sale and deed shall be valid and as effectual as though such advertisement and sale had occurred after the qualification of such administrator de bonis non. (1935, c. 381.)

Art. 15. Proof and Payment of Debts of Decedent.

§ 28-105. Order of payment of debts. — The debts of the decedent must be paid in the following order:

First class. Debts which by law have a specific lien on property to an amount not exceeding the value of such property.

Second class. Funeral expenses.

Third class. Taxes assessed on the estate of the deceased previous to his death.

Fourth class. Dues to the United States and to the state of North Carolina.

Fifth class. Judgments of any court of competent jurisdiction within this state, docketed and in force, to the extent to which they are a lien on the property of the deceased at his death.

Sixth class. Wages due to any domestic servant or mechanical or agricultural laborer employed by the deceased, which claim for wages shall not extend to a period of more than one year next preceding the death; or if such servant or laborer was employed for the year current at the decease, then from the time of such employment; for medical services within the twelve months preceding the decease; for drugs and all other medical supplies necessary for the treatment of such deceased person during the last illness of such person, said period of last illness not to exceed twelve months.

Seventh class. All other debts and demands. (Rev., s. 87; Code, s. 1416; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 24; 1941, c. 271; C. S. 93.)

§ 28-106. No preference within class.—No executor, administrator or collector shall give to any debt any preference whatever, either by paying it out of its class or by paying thereon more than a pro rata proportion in its class. (Rev., s. 88; Code, ss. 1417, 1418; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 25, 26; C. S. 94.)

§ 28-107. When payment out of class held valid.—Where any executor or administrator has paid any debt of his testator or intestate before all the debts of higher dignity have been paid and satisfied, and the estate of such testator or intestate was at the time of such payment solvent, but has since been rendered insolvent by the insolvency of the debtors of the estate, or other cause, without any fault or want of diligence on the part of the executor or administrator, in all such cases payments thus made shall be deemed and held valid in law, and shall be allowed to such executor or administrator in all suits by creditors of the estate seeking to charge such executor or administrator with assets of the estate or with devastavit thereof, without regard to the dignity of the debt thus paid, or on which such suit may be brought. (Rev., s. 96; Code, s. 1496; 1869-70, c. 150; C. S. 95.)

§ 28-108. Debts due representative not preferred.—No property or assets of the decedent shall be retained by the executor, administrator or collector in satisfaction of his own debt, in preference to others of the same class; but such debt must be established upon the same proof and paid in like manner and order as required by law in case of other debts. (Rev., s. 89; Code, s. 1420; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 28; C. S. 96.)

§ 28-109. Debts not due rebated.—Debts not due may be paid on a rebate of interest thereon for the time unexpired. (Rev., s. 90; Code, s. 1419; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 27; C. S. 97.)

§ 28-110. Affidavit of debt may be required.—Upon any claim being pesented against the estate, the executor, administrator or collector may require the affidavit of the claimant or other satisfactory evidence that such claim is justly due, that no payments have been made thereon, and that there are no offsets against the same, to the knowledge of the claimant; or if any payments have been made, or any offsets exist, their nature and amount must be stated in such affidavit. (Rev., s. 91; Code, s. 1425; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 33; C. S. 98.)

§ 28-111. Disputed debt may be referred.—If the executor, administrator or collector doubts the justness of any claim so presented, he may enter into an agreement, in writing, with the claimant, to refer the matter in controversy, whether the same be of a legal or equitable nature, to one or more disinterested persons, not exceeding three, whose proceedings shall be the same in all respects as if such reference had been ordered in an action. Such agreement to refer, and the award thereupon, shall be filed in the clerk's office where the letters were granted, and shall be a lawful voucher for the personal representative. The same may be impeached in any proceeding against the personal representative for fraud therein: Provided, that the right to refer claims under this section shall extend to claims in favor of the estate as well as those against it. (Rev., s. 92; Code, s. 1426; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 34; 1872-3, c. 141; C. S. 99.)

§ 28-112. Disputed debt not referred, barred in six months.—If a claim is presented to and rejected by the executor, administrator or collector, and not referred as provided in § 28-111, the claimant must, within six months, after due notice in writing of such rejection, or after some part of the debt becomes due, commence an action for the recovery thereof, or be forever barred from maintaining an action thereon. (Rev., s. 93; Code, s. 1427; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 35; 1913, c. 3, s. 1; C. S. 100.)

§ 28-113. If claim not presented in twelve months, representative discharged as to assets paid.—In an action brought on a claim which was not presented within twelve months from the first publication of the general notice to creditors, the executor, administrator or collector shall not be chargeable for any assets that he may have paid in satisfaction of any debts, legacies or distributive shares before such action was commenced; nor shall any costs be recovered in such action against the executor, administrator or collector. (Rev., s. 94; Code, s. 1428; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 37; C. S. 101.)

§ 28-114. No lien by suit against representative.—No lien shall be created by the commencement of a suit against an executor, administrator or collector. (Rev., s. 95; Code, s. 1432; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 41; C. S. 102.)

§ 28-115. When costs against representative allowed.—No costs shall be recovered in any action against an executor, administrator or collector, unless it appears that payment was unreasonably delayed or neglected, or that the defendant refused to refer the matter in controversy, in which case the court may award such costs against the defendant personally, or against the estate, as may be just. (Rev., s. 97; Code, s. 1429; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 38; C. S. 103.)

§ 28-116. Obligations binding heirs collected as other debts.—Bonds and other obligations in which the ancestor has bound his heirs shall not be put in suit against the heirs or devisees of the deceased, but shall be paid as other debts of the same class in the manner provided in this chapter. (Rev., s. 98; Code, s. 1404; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 12; C. S. 104.)

Art. 16. Accounts and Accounting.

§ 28-117. Annual accounts.—Every executor, administrator and collector shall, within twelve months from the date of his qualification or appointment, and annually, so long as any of the estate remains in his control, file, in the office of the clerk of the superior court, an inventory and account, under oath, of the amount of property received by him, or invested by him, and the manner and nature of such investment, and his receipts and disbursements for the past year in the form of debit and credit. He must produce vouchers for all payments. The clerk may examine on oath such accounting party, or any other person, concerning the receipts, disbursements or any other matter relating to the estate; and, having carefully revised and audited such account, if he approve the same, he must endorse his approval thereon, which shall be deemed prima facie evidence of correctness. (Rev., s. 99; Code, s. 1399; C. C. P., s. 478; 1871-2, c. 46; C. S. 105.)

§ 28-118. Clerk may compel account.—If any executor, administrator or collector omits to account, as directed in § 28-117, or renders an insufficient and unsatisfactory account, the clerk shall forthwith order such executor, administrator or collector to render a full and satisfactory account, as required by law, within twenty days after service of the order. Upon return of the order, duly served, if such executor, administrator or collector fail to appear or refuse to exhibit such account, the clerk may issue an attachment against him for a contempt and commit him till he exhibit such account, and may likewise remove him from office. And the sheriffs of the several counties to whom a process is directed under the provisions of this section shall serve the same without demanding their fees in advance. (Rev., s. 100; Code, s. 1400; C. C. P., s. 479; 1933, c. 99; C. S. 106.)

§ 28-119. Vouchers' presumptive evidence. — Vouchers are presumptive evidence of disbursement, without other proof, unless impeached. If lost, the accounting party must, if required, make oath to that fact, setting forth the manner of loss, and state the contents and purport of the voucher. And this section shall apply to guardians, collectors, trustees and to all other persons acting in a fiduciary character. (Rev., s. 101; Code, s. 1401; C. C. P., s. 480; C. S. 107.)

§ 28-120. Gravestones authorized.—It is lawful for executors and administrators to provide suitable gravestones to mark the graves of their testators or intestates, and to pay for the cost of erecting the same, and the cost thereof shall be paid as funeral expenses and credited as such in final accounts. The cost thereof shall be in the sound discretion of the executor or administrator, having due regard to the value of the estate and to the interests of creditors and needs of the widow and distributees of the estate. Where the executor or administrator desires to spend more than one hundred dollars for such purpose he shall file his petition before the clerk of the court, and such order as will be made by the court shall specify the amount to be expended for such purpose. Provided, however, that if the net estate is of a value in excess of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000), the executor or administrator may, in his discretion, expend not more than five hundred dollars ($500) for this purpose without securing the order of court required herein. (Rev., s. 102; 1905, c. 444; 1925, c. 4; 1941, c. 102; C. S. 108.)

§ 28-121. Final accounts.—An executor or administrator may be required to file his final account for settlement in the office of the clerk of the superior court by a citation directed to him, at any time after two years from his qualification, at the instance of any person interested in the estate; but such account may be filed voluntarily at any time; and, whether the accounting be voluntary or compulsory, it shall be audited and recorded by the clerk. (Rev., s. 103; Code, s. 1402; C. C. P., s. 481; C. S. 109.)

§ 28-122. Creditor's proceeding for accounting. —Any creditor of a deceased person may, within the times prescribed by law, prosecute a special proceeding or a civil action before the judge in his own name and in behalf of himself and all other creditors of the deceased without naming them, against the personal representative of the deceased, to compel him to an account of his administration, and to pay the creditors what may be payable to them respectively. (Rev., s. 104; Code, s. 1448; 1871-2, c. 213; 1876-7, c. 241, s. 6; C. S. 110.)

§ 28-123. Rules which govern creditor's proceeding.—The special proceeding shall be governed by the rules of practice prescribed for special proceedings, except so far as the same are modified by this chapter. (Rev., s. 105; Code, s. 1449; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 2; C. S. 111.)

§ 28-124. When and where summons returnable. —The summons in said special proceeding shall be returnable before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which letters testamentary or of administration were granted, and on a day not less than forty nor more than one hundred days from the issuing thereof, and not less than twenty days after the service thereof. (Rev., s. 106; Code, s. 1450; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 3; C. S. 112.)

§ 28-125. Clerk to advertise for creditors.—On issuing the summons, the clerk shall advertise for all creditors of the deceased to appear before him on or before the return day and file the evidences of their claims. (Rev., s. 107; Code, s. 1451; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 4; C. S. 113.)

§ 28-126. Publication of advertisement. — The advertisement shall be published at least once a week for not less than four weeks in some newspaper which may be thought by the clerk the most likely to inform all the creditors, and shall also be posted at the courthouse door for not less than thirty days. If, however, the estate does not exceed three thousand dollars in value, and the creditors are supposed by the clerk all to reside within the county or to be known, publication in a newspaper may be omitted, and in lieu thereof the advertisement shall be posted at four public places in the county, besides the courthouse door. Proof of personal service on a creditor or that a copy of the advertisement was sent to him by mail at his usual address shall be as to him equivalent to publication. (Rev., s. 108; Code, s. 1452; 1903, c. 134; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 5; C. S. 114.)

§ 28-127. Creditors to file claims and appoint agent.—The creditors of the deceased on or before the required day shall file with the clerk the evidences of their demands, and every creditor on filing such claim shall endorse thereon or otherwise name some person or place within the town in which the court is held, upon whom or where notices in the cause may be served or left; otherwise he shall be deemed to have notice of all motions, orders and proceedings in the cause filed or made in the clerk's office. (Rev., s. 109; Code, s. 1453; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 6; C. S. 115.)

§ 28-128. Proof of claims.—If the evidence of the demand is other than a judgment, or some writing signed by the deceased, it shall be accompanied by the oath of the creditor, or, if he be nonresident or infirm or absent, or in any other proper case, of some witness of the transaction, or of some agent of the creditor, that to the best of his knowledge and belief the claim is just, and that all due credits have been given. (Rev., s. 110; Code, s. 1454; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 7; C. S. 116.)

§ 28-129. Representative to file claims; notice to creditors.—On the day of his appearance the personal representative shall on oath give to the clerk a list of all claims against the deceased of which he has received notice or has any knowledge, with the names and residences of the claimants to the best of his knowledge and belief; and if any person so named has failed to file evidence of his claim, the clerk shall immediately cause a notice requiring him to do so to be served on him, which may be done by posting the same, directed to him at his usual address. (Rev., s. 111; Code, s. 1455; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 8; C. S. 117.)

§ 28-130. Clerk to exhibit to representative claims filed.—On the day fixed for the appearance of the personal representative, the clerk shall exhibit to him a list of all the claims filed in his office, with the evidences thereof. (Rev., s. 112; Code, s. 1456; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 9; C. S. 118.)

§ 28-131. If representative denies claim, creditor notified.—Within five days thereafter the personal representative shall state in writing on said list, or on a separate paper, which of said claims he disputes in whole or in part. The clerk shall then notify the creditor, as above provided, that his claim is disputed, and the creditor shall thereupon file in the office of the clerk a complaint founded on his said claim, and the pleadings shall be as in other cases. (Rev., s. 113; Code, s. 1457; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 10; C. S. 119.)

§ 28-132. Issues joined; cause sent to superior court.—If the issues joined be of law, the clerk shall send the papers to the judge of the superior court for trial, as is provided for by the chapter on Civil Procedure in like cases. If the issue shall be of fact, the clerk shall send so much of the record as may be necessary to the next term of the superior court for trial. (Rev., s. 114; Code, s. 1458; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 11; C. S. 120.)

§ 28-133. When representative personally liable for costs.—If any personal representative denies the liability of his deceased upon any claim evidenced as is provided in this chapter, and the issue is finally decided against him, the costs of the trial shall be paid by him personally, and not allowed out of the estate, unless it appears that he had reasonable cause to contest the claim and did so bona fide. (Rev., s. 115; Code, s. 1459; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 12; C. S. 121.)

§ 28-134. Court may permit representative to appear after return day.—If the personal representative fails to appear on the return day, the clerk or judge of the superior court may permit him afterward to appear and plead on such terms as may be just. (Rev., s. 116; Code, s. 1460; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 13; C. S. 122.)

§ 28-135. Clerk to state account.—Immediately after the return day the clerk or judge shall proceed to hear such evidence as shall be brought before him, and to state an account of the dealings of the personal representative with the estate of his deceased according to the course of his court. (Rev., s., 117; Code, s. 1461; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 14; C. S. 123.)

§ 28-136. Exception to report; final report and judgment.—After the clerk has stated the account and prepared his report, he shall notify all the parties to examine and except to the same. Any party may then except to the same in whole or in part. The clerk shall then pass on the exceptions and prepare and sign his final report and judgment, of which the parties shall have notice. (Rev., s. 118; Code, s. 1462; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 15; C. S. 124.)

§ 28-137. Appeal from judgment; security for costs.—Any party may appeal from a final judgment of the clerk to the judge of the superior court in term time, on giving an undertaking with surety, or making a deposit, to pay all costs which shall be recovered against him. If any creditor appeals and gives such security, his appeal shall be deemed an appeal by all who are damaged by the judgment, and no other creditor shall be required to give any undertaking. (Rev., s. 119; Code, s. 1464; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 17; C. S. 125.)

§ 28-138. Papers on appeal filed and cause docketed.—On an appeal the clerk shall file his report and judgment and all the papers in his office as clerk of the superior court, and enter the case on his trial docket for the next term. (Rev., s. 120; Code, s. 1465; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 18; C. S. 126.)

§ 28-139. Prior creditors not affected by appeal may docket judgments.—If the exceptions and questions, from the decision on which the appeal is taken, affect only the creditors in one or more classes, the creditors in the prior classes by the leave of the clerk, or of the judge of the superior court, may docket their judgments and issue execution thereon. (Rev., s. 121; Code, s. 1466; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 19; C. S. 127.)

§ 28-140. Judgment where assets sufficient to pay a class.—If upon taking the account it is admitted, or is found, without appeal, that the defendant has assets sufficient, after the deduction of all proper costs and charges, to pay all the claims which have been presented of any one or more of the classes, the clerk shall give judgment in favor of the creditors whose debts of such classes have been admitted, or adjudged by any competent court; and if any claim in any preferred class is in litigation, the amount of such claim, with the probable cost of the litigation, shall be left in the hands of the personal representative, and not carried to the credit of any subsequent class until the litigation is ended. (Rev., s. 122; Code, s. 1467; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 20; C. S. 128.)

§ 28-141. Judgment where assets insufficient to pay a class.—If the assets are insufficient to pay in full all the claims of any class, the amounts thereof having been found or admitted as aforesaid, the clerk may adjudge payment of a certain part of such claims, proportionate to the assets applicable to debts of that class. (Rev., s. 123; Code, s. 1468; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 21; C. S. 129.)

§ 28-142. Contents of judgment; execution.—All judgments given by a judge or clerk of the superior court against a personal representative for any claim against his deceased shall declare—

1. The certain amount of the creditor's demand.

2. The amount of assets which the personal representative has applicable to such demand. Execution may issue only for this last sum with interest and costs. (Rev., s. 124; Code, s. 1469; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 22; C. S. 130.)

§ 28-143. When judgment to fix with assets.—No judgment of any court against a personal representative shall fix him with assets, except a judgment of the judge or clerk, rendered as aforesaid, or the judgment of some appellate court rendered upon an appeal from such judgment. All other judgments shall be held merely to ascertain the debt, unless the personal representative by pleading expressly admits assets. (Rev., s. 125; Code, s. 1470; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 23; C. S. 131.)

§ 28-144. Form and effect of execution.—All executions issued upon the order or judgment of the judge or clerk or of any appellate court against any personal representative, rendered as aforesaid, shall run against the goods and chattels of the deceased, and if none, then against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of the representative. And all such judgments docketed in any county shall be a lien on the property for which execution is adjudged as fully as if it were against him personally. (Rev., s. 126; Code, s. 1471; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 24; C. S. 132.)

§ 28-145. Report is evidence of assets only at date.—The account and report and adjudication by the judge, clerk or any appellate court shall not be evidence as to the assets except on the day to which such adjudication relates. (Rev., s. 127; Code, s. 1472; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 25; C. S. 133.)

§ 28-146. Creditor giving security may show subsequent assets.—Any creditor may afterwards, on filing an affidavit by himself or his agent that he believes that assets have come to the hands of the personal representative since that day, and on giving an undertaking, with surety, or making a deposit for the costs of the personal representative, sue out a summons against him alleging subsequent assets, and the proceedings thereon shall be as hereinbefore prescribed, so far as the same may be necessary. (Rev., s. 128; Code, s. 1473; 1871-2, c. 215, s. 26; C. S. 134.)

§ 28-147. Suits for accounting at term.—In addition to the remedy by special proceeding, actions against executors, administrators, collectors and guardians may be brought originally to the superior court at term time; and in all such cases it is competent for the court in which said actions are pending to order an account to be taken by such person or persons as said court may designate, and to adjudge the application or distribution of the fund ascertained, or to grant other relief, as the nature of the case may require. (Rev., s. 129; Code, ss. 215, 1511; 1876-7, c. 241, s. 6; C. S. 135.)

§ 28-148. Proceedings against land, if personal assets fail.—If it appears at any time during, or upon, or after the taking of the account of a personal representative that his personal assets are insufficient to pay the debts of the deceased in full, and that he died seized of real property, it is the duty of the judge or clerk, at the instance of any party, to issue a summons in the name of the personal representative or of the creditors generally, to the heirs, devisees and others in possession of the lands of the deceased, to appear and show cause why said lands should not be sold for assets. Upon the return of the summons the proceeding shall be as is directed in other like cases. (Rev., ss. 130, 131; Code, ss. 1474, 1475; 1871-2, c. 213, ss. 27, 28; C. S. 136.)

Art. 17. Distribution.

§ 28-149. Order of distribution.—The surplus of the estate, in case of intestacy, shall be distributed in the following manner, except as hereinafter provided:

1. If there are not more than two children, one-third part to the widow of the intestate, and all the residue by equal portions to and among the children of the intestate and such persons as legally represent such children as may then be dead.

2. If there are more than two children, then the widow shall share equally with all the children and be entitled to a child's part.

3. If there is no child nor legal representative of a deceased child, then one-half the estate shall be allotted to the widow, and the residue be distributed equally to every of the next of kin of the intestate, who are in equal degree, and to those who legally represent them.

4. If there is no widow, the estate shall be distributed, by equal portions, among all the children, and such persons as legally represent such children as may be dead.

5. If there is neither widow nor children, nor any legal representative of the children, the estate shall be distributed equally to every of the next of kin of the intestate, who are in equal degree, and those who legally represent them.

6. If, in the lifetime of its father and mother, a child dies intestate, without leaving husband, wife or child, or the issue of a child, its estate shall be equally divided between the father and mother. If one of the parents is dead at the time of the death of the child, the surviving parent shall be entitled to the whole of the estate. The terms "father" and "mother" shall not apply to a step-parent, but shall apply to a parent by adoption: Provided, that a parent, or parents, who has willfully abandoned the care, custody, nurture and maintenance of such child to its kindred, relatives or other person, shall forfeit all and every right to participate in any part of said child's estate under the provisions of this section.

7. If there is no child nor legal representative of a deceased child nor any of the next of kin of the intestate, then the widow, if there is one, shall be entitled to all the personal estate of such intestate.

8. If a married woman die intestate leaving one child and a husband, the estate shall be equally distributed between the child and husband; if she leaves more than one child and a husband, the estate shall be distributed in equal portions and the husband shall receive a child's part, the child or children of any child or children of the intestate, who may have died prior to the mother, to represent his, her, or their parent in such distribution.

9. If a married woman dies intestate, leaving a husband but no children, the surviving husband shall be entitled to all the personal estate of which his wife died intestate. (Rev., s. 132; Code, s. 1478; R. C., c. 64, s. 1; R. S., c. 64, s. 1; 1893, c.

82; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 53; 1913, c. 166; 1915, c. 37; 1921, c. 54; 1927, c. 231; C. S. 7, 137.)

§ 28-150. Advancements to be accounted for.—Children who shall have any estate by the settlement of the intestate, or shall be advanced by him in his lifetime, shall account with each other for the same in the distribution of the estate in the manner as provided by the second rule in the chapter entitled descents, and shall also account for the same to the widow of the intestate in ascertaining her child's part of the estate. (Rev., s. 133; Code, s. 1483; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 54; C. S. 138.)

§ 28-151. Children advanced to render inventory; effect of refusal.—Where any parent dies intestate, who had in his or her lifetime given to, or put in the actual possession of, any of his or her children any personal property of what nature or kind soever, such child shall cause to be given to the administrator or collector of the estate an inventory, on oath, setting forth therein the particulars by him or her received of the intestate in his or her lifetime. In case any child who had, in the lifetime of the intestate, received a part of said estate, refuses to give such inventory, he shall be considered to have had and received his full share of the deceased's estate, and shall not be entitled to receive any further part or share. (Rev., ss. 134, 135; Code, ss. 1484, 1485; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 55, 56; C. S. 139.)

§ 28-152. Illegitimates next of kin to mother and to each other.—Every illegitimate child of the mother dying intestate, or the issue of such illegitimate child deceased, shall be considered among her next of kin, and as such shall be entitled to a share of her personal estate as prescribed in this chapter. Illegitimate children, born of the same mother, shall be considered legitimate as between themselves and their representatives, and their personal estate shall be distributed in the same manner as if they had been born in lawful wedlock. And in case of the death of any such child or his issue, without leaving issue, his estate shall be distributed among his mother and all such persons as would be his next of kin if all such children had been born in lawful wedlock. (Rev., ss. 136, 137; Code, ss. 1486, 1487; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 57, 58; C. S. 140.)

§ 28-153. Allotment to after-born child in real estate.—The share of an after-born child in real estate shall be allotted to him out of any lands not devised, if there is enough for that purpose; and if there is none undevised, or not enough, then the whole share, or the deficiency, as the case may be, shall be made up of the lands devised; and so much thereof shall be taken from the several devisees according to their respective values, as near as may be convenient, as will make the proper share of such child. (Rev., s. 138; Code, s. 1536; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 108; C. S. 141.)

§ 28-154. Allotment to after-born child in personal property.—The share of an after-born child in the personal estate shall be paid and delivered to him out of any such estate not bequeathed, if there is enough for that purpose; and if there is none undisposed of, or not enough, then the whole share or the deficiency, as the case may be, shall be made up from the estate bequeathed; and so much shall be taken from the several legacies, according to their respective values, as will make the proper share of such child. (Rev., s. 139; Code, s. 1537; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 109; C. S. 142.)

§ 28-155. Allotment of personalty from proceeds of realty.—If, after satisfaction of the child's share of real estate out of undevised lands, there is a surplus of such lands, and there is no personal estate undisposed of, or not enough to make up his share of such estate, then the surplus of undevised land, or as much as be necessary, shall be sold and the proceeds applied to making up his share of personal estate. And if, after satisfaction of the child's share of personal estate out of property undisposed of by the will, there is a surplus of such property, then the surplus thereof shall be applied, as far as it will go, in exoneration of land, both devised and descended; and the same shall be set apart and secured as real estate to such child, if an infant or non compos. (Rev., s. 140; Code, s. 1538; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 110; C. S. 143.)

§ 28-156. Effect of allotment of realty; contribution to equalize burden.—Upon the allotment to such child of any real estate in the manner aforesaid, he shall thenceforth be seised thereof in fee simple; and the court shall give judgment severally, in favor of such of the devisees and legatees of whose lands and legacies more has been taken away than in proportion to the respective values of said lands and legacies, against such of said devisees and legatees of whose lands and legacies a just proportion has not been taken away, for such sums as will make the contribution on the part of each and every of them equitable, and in the ratio of the values of the several devises and legacies. (Rev., s. 141; Code, s. 1539; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 111; C. S. 144.)

§ 28-157. After-born child on allotment deemed devisee or legatee.—An after-born child after such decrees shall be considered and deemed in law a legatee and devisee as to his portion, shall be styled as such in all legal proceedings, and shall be liable to all the obligations and duties by law imposed on such: Provided, that all judgments or decrees bona fide obtained against the devisees and legatees previously to the preferring of any petition, and which were binding upon or ought to operate upon the lands and chattels devised or bequeathed, shall be carried into execution and effect notwithstanding, and the petitioner shall take his portion completely subject thereto: Provided further, that any suit instituted against the devisees and legatees previously to such petition shall not be abated or abatable thereby nor by the decree thereon, but shall go on as instituted, and the judgment and decree, unless obtained by collusion, be carried into execution; but on the filing of the petition, during the pendency of such suit, the petitioner, by guardian, if an infant, may become a defendant in the suit. (Rev., s. 142; Code, s. 1540; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 112; C. S. 145.)

§ 28-158. Before settlement executor may have claimants' shares in estate ascertained.—In case no petition is filed within two years, as herein prescribed, the executor or administrator with the will annexed, before he shall pay or deliver the legacies in the will given, or before paying to the next of kin of the testator any residue undisposed of by the will, shall call upon the legatees, devisees, heirs and next of kin, and the said after-born child, by petition in the superior court, to litigate their respective claims, and shall pray the court to ascertain the share to which said child shall be entitled, and to apportion the shares and sums to which the legatees, devisees, heirs or next of kin shall severally contribute toward the share to be allotted to said child, and the court shall adjudge and decree accordingly. (Rev., s. 143; Code, s. 1541; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 113; C. S. 146.)

§ 28-159. Legacy or distributive share recoverable after two years.—Legacies and distributive shares may be recovered from an executor, administrator or collector by petition preferred in the superior court, at any time after the lapse of two years from his qualification, unless the executor, administrator or collector shall sooner file his final account for settlement. The suit shall be commenced and the proceeding therein conducted as prescribed in other cases of special proceedings. (Rev., s. 144; Code, s. 1510; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 83; C. S. 147.)

§ 28-160. Payment to clerk after one year discharges representative pro tanto.—It is competent for any executor, administrator or collector, at any time after twelve months from the date of letters testamentary or of administration, to pay into the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where such letters were granted, any moneys belonging to the legatees or distributees of the estate of his testator or intestate, and such payment shall have the effect to discharge such executor, administrator or collector and his sureties on his official bond to the extent of the amount so paid. (Rev., s. 145; Code, s. 1543; 1881, c. 305, s. 1; C. S. 148.)

§ 28-161. On payment clerk to sign receipt.—It is the duty of the clerk, in the cases provided for in § 28-160, to receive such money from any executor, administrator or collector, and to execute a receipt for the same under the seal of his office. (Rev., s. 146; Code, s. 1544; 1881, c. 305, s. 3; C. S. 149.)

Art. 18. Settlement.

§ 28-162. Representative must settle after two years. — No executor, administrator, or collector, after two years from his qualification, shall hold or retain in his hands more of the deceased's estate than amounts to his necessary charges and disbursements and such debts as he shall legally pay; but all such estate so remaining shall, immediately after the expiration of two years, be divided and be delivered and paid to the person to whom the same may be due by law or the will of the deceased; and the clerk of the superior court in each county shall require settlement of the balance in hand due distributees as shown by the final account of any administrator, executor, or guardian, and shall audit same: Provided, that the several clerks of the superior courts of this State may, in their discretion, for good cause shown, extend the time for the final settlement of any administrator or executor; provided, that nothing herein contained shall relieve any such administrator or executor of the duty of administering and distributing such funds and property in his hands as may be available for such purposes; provided, further, that any party having an interest in any such estate may, within ten days from the entry of an order extending the time for final settlement, appeal from such order to the resident or presiding judge of the district, which appeal shall be heard as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by law for the hearing of other appeals from the clerk. (Rev., s. 147; Code, s. 1488; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 59; 1919, c. 69; 1933, c. 188; 1935, c. 377; C. S. 150.)

§ 28-163. Extension of time for final accounts when funds are in closed banks.—Where as much as twenty-five per cent of the estate of any decedent is represented by deposits in a bank or trust company in course of liquidation, the personal representative of such decedent shall, in the discretion of the clerk of the superior court, have ninety days after the payment of the final dividend in which to file his final account. The several clerks of the superior court of this State may, in their discretion, upon good cause shown, extend the time for the final settlement of any executor or administrator: Provided, that this section shall not relieve any personal representative of the duty of administering and distributing other funds and property in his hands, as now required by law. (1935, c. 244.)

§ 28-164. Retention of funds to satisfy claims not due or in litigation.—If, on a final accounting before the judge or clerk, it appears that any claim exists against the estate which is not due, or on which suit is pending, the judge or clerk shall allow a sum sufficient to satisfy such claim, or the proportion to which it may be entitled, to be retained in the hands of the executor, administrator or collector, for the purpose of being applied to the payment when due or when recovered, with the expense of contesting the same. The order allowing such sum to be retained must specify the amount and nature of the claim. (Rev., s. 148; Code, s. 1489; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 60; C. S. 151.)

§ 28-165. After final account representative may petition for settlement.—An executor, administrator or collector, who has filed his final account for settlement, may, at any time thereafter, file his petition against the parties interested in the due administration of the estate, in the superior court of the county in which he qualified, or before the judge in term time, setting forth the facts, and praying for an account and settlement of the estate committed to his charge. The petition shall be proceeded on in the manner prescribed by law, and, at the final hearing thereof, the judge or clerk may make such order or decree in the premises as shall seem to be just and right. (Rev., s. 150; Code, s. 1525; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 96; C. S. 152.)

§ 28-166. Payment into court of fund due absent defendant or infant.—When any balance of money or other estate which is due an absent defendant or infant without guardian is found in the hands of an executor, administrator or collector who has preferred his petition for settlement, the court or judge may direct such money or other estate to be paid into court, to be invested upon interest, or otherwise managed under the direction of the judge, for the use of such absent person or infant. (Rev., s. 151; Code, s. 1526; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 97; 1893, c. 317; C. S. 153.)

§ 28-167. Procedure where person entitled unheard of for seven years.—When the party entitled to the money has not been heard of for seven years or more, the fund shall be distributed among the next of kin of the absent deceased person as prescribed by statute, in the following manner: An administrator shall be appointed and made a party to a special proceeding in which a verified petition shall be filed setting forth the facts, with names of the parties entitled, and such other evidence as may be required by the clerk in whose office said fund was deposited, and the proceedings conducted as other special proceedings; and the order disposing of the fund shall be approved and confirmed by the judge, either at term or at chambers. (Rev., s. 151; Code, s. 1526; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 97; 1893, c. 317; C. S. 154.)

§ 28-168. Parties to proceeding for settlement.—In all actions and proceedings by administrators or executors for a final settlement of their estates and trusts, whether at the instance of distributees, legatees or creditors or of themselves, if the personal representative dies or is removed pending such actions or proceedings, the administrator de bonis non or administrator with the will annexed, as the case may be, shall be made party as provided in other cases, or in such way as the court may order, and the action or proceeding shall be conducted to its end, and such judgment shall be rendered on the confirmation of the report, or upon the terms of settlement, if any shall be agreed upon by the parties, as will fully protect and discharge all parties to the record. (Rev., s. 154; 1893, c. 206; C. S. 155.)

§ 28-169. When legacies may be paid in two years.—It is in the power of the judge or court, on petition or action, within two years from the qualification of an executor, administrator or collector, to adjudge the payment in full or partially, of legacies and distributive shares, on such terms as the court deems proper, when there is no necessity for retaining the fund. (Rev., s. 155; Code, s. 1512; C. S. 156.)

§ 28-170. Commissions allowed representatives.—Executors, administrators, testamentary trustees, collectors, or other personal representatives or fiduciaries shall be entitled to commissions to be fixed in the discretion of the clerk not to exceed five per cent upon the amount of receipts, including the value of all personalty when received, and upon the expenditures made in accordance with law, which commissions shall be charged as a part of the costs of administration and, upon allowance, may be retained out of the assets of the estate against creditors and all other persons claiming an interest in the estate. In determining the amount of such commissions, both upon personalty received and upon expenditures made, the clerk shall consider the time, responsibility, trouble and skill involved in the management of the estate. Where land is sold to pay debts or legacies, the commission shall be computed only on the proceeds actually applied in the payment of debts or legacies. The clerk may make allowances on account of commissions on receipts of personalty and expenditures at any time during the course of the administration, but the total commissions allowed shall be determined on final settlement of the estate and shall not exceed the limit herein fixed. Nothing in this section shall prevent the clerk allowing reasonable sums for necessary charges and disbursements incurred in the management of the estate. Nothing in this section shall be construed to allow commissions on allotment of dower, on distribution of the shares of heirs, on distribution of the shares of distributees of personal property or on distribution of shares of legatees; and nothing herein contained shall be construed to abridge the right of any interested party to such administration to appeal from the clerk's order to the judge of the superior court. (Rev., s. 149; Code, s. 1524; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 95; 1869-70, c. 189; 1941, c. 124; C. S. 157.)

§ 28-171. Liability and compensation of clerk.—Every clerk of the superior court who may be intrusted with money or other estate in such case shall be liable on his official bond for the faithful discharge of the duties enjoined upon him by the judge in relation to said estate, and he may receive such compensation for his services as the judge may allow. (Rev., s. 152; Code, s. 1527; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 98; C. S. 158.)

Art. 19. Actions by and against Representative.

§ 28-172. Action survives to and against representative.—Upon the death of any person, all demands whatsoever, and rights to prosecute or defend any action or special proceeding, existing in favor of or against such person, except as hereinafter provided, shall survive to and against the executor, administrator or collector of his estate. (Rev., s. 156; Code, s. 1490; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 63; C. S. 159.)

§ 28-173. Death by wrongful act; recovery not assets; dying declarations.—When the death of a person is caused by a wrongful act, neglect or default of another, such as would, if the injured party had lived, have entitled him to an action for damages therefor, the person or corporation that would have been so liable, and his or their executors, administrators, collectors or successors shall be liable to an action for damages, to be brought within one year after such death, by the executor, administrator or collector of the decedent; and this notwithstanding the death, and although the wrongful act, neglect or default, causing the death, amounts in law to a felony. The amount recovered in such action is not liable to be applied as assets, in the payment of debts or legacies, except as to burial expenses of the deceased, but shall be disposed of as provided in this chapter for the distribution of personal property in case of intestacy.

In all actions brought under this section the dying declarations of the deceased as to the cause of his death shall be admissible in evidence in like manner and under the same rules as dying declarations of the deceased in criminal actions for homicide are now received in evidence. (Rev., s. 59; Code, ss. 1498, 1500; 1868-9, c. 113, ss. 70, 72, 115; R. C., c. 46, ss. 8, 9; 1919, c. 29; 1933, c. 113; C. S. 160.)

§ 28-174. Damages recoverable for death by wrongful act.—The plaintiff in such action may recover such damages as are a fair and just compensation for the pecuniary injury resulting from such death. (Rev., s. 60; Code, s. 1499; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 71; R. C., c. 1, s. 10; C. S. 161.)

§ 28-175. Actions which do not survive.—The following rights of action do not survive:

1. Causes of action for libel and for slander, except slander of title.
2. Causes of action for false imprisonment and assault and battery.
3. Causes where the relief sought could not be enjoyed, or granting it would be nugatory, after death. (Rev., s. 157; Code, s. 1491; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 64; 1915, c. 38; C. S. 162.)

§ 28-176. To sue or defend in representative capacity.—All actions and proceedings brought by or against executors, administrators or collectors, upon any cause of action or right to which the estate is the real party in interest, must be brought by or against them in their representative capacity. (Rev., s. 160; Code, s. 1507; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 79; C. S. 164.)

§ 28-177. Service on or appearance by one binds all.—In actions against several executors, administrators or collectors they are all to be considered as one person, representing the decedent; and if the summons is served on one or more, but not all, the plaintiff may proceed against those served, and if he recovers, judgment may be entered against all. (Rev., s. 161; Code, s. 1508; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 81; C. S. 165.)

§ 28-178. When creditors may sue on claim; execution in such action.—An action may be brought by a creditor against an executor, administrator or collector on a demand at any time after it is due, but no execution shall issue against the executor, administrator or collector on a judgment therein against him without leave of the court, upon notice of twenty days and upon proof that the defendant has refused to pay such judgment its ratable part, and such judgment shall be a lien on the property of the defendant only from the time of such leave granted. (Rev., s. 162; Code, s. 1509; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 82; C. S. 166.)

§ 28-179. Service by publication on executor without bond.—Whenever process may issue against an executor who has not given bond, and the same cannot be served upon him by reason of his absence or concealment, service of such process may be made by publication in the manner prescribed in other civil actions. (Rev., s. 163; Code, s. 1523; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 94; C. S. 167.)

§ 28-180. Execution by successor in office.—Any executor, administrator or collector may have execution issued on any judgment recovered by any person who preceded him in the administration of the estate, or by the decedent, in the same cases and the same manner as the original plaintiff might have done. (Rev., s. 164; Code, s. 1513; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 84; C. S. 168.)

§ 28-181. Action to continue, though letters revoked.—In case the letters of an executor, administrator or collector are revoked, pending an action to which he is a party, the adverse party may, notwithstanding, continue the action against him in order to charge him personally. If such party does not elect so to do, within six months after notice of such revocation, the action may be continued against the successor of the executor, administrator or collector in the administration of the estate, in the same manner as in case of death. (Rev., s. 165; Code, s. 1514; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 85; C. S. 169.)

Art. 20. Representative's Powers, Duties and Liabilities.

§ 28-182. Representative may maintain appropriate suits and proceedings.—Executors, administrators or collectors may maintain any appropriate action or proceeding to recover assets, and to recover possession of the real property of which executors are authorized to take possession by will; and to recover for any injury done to such assets or real property at any time subsequent to the death of the decedent. (Rev., s. 159; Code, s. 1501; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 73; C. S. 170.)

§ 28-183. Representative may purchase for estate to prevent loss.—At any auction sale of real property belonging to the estate, the executor, administrator or collector may bid in the property and take a conveyance to himself as executor, administrator or collector for the benefit of the estate when, in his opinion, this is necessary to prevent a loss to the estate. (Rev., s. 85; Code, s. 1505; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 77; C. S. 171.)

§ 28-184. Representatives hold in joint tenancy.—Every estate vested in executors, administrators or collectors, as such, shall be held by them in joint tenancy. (Rev., s. 166; Code, s. 1502; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 74; C. S. 172.)

§ 28-185. Representatives liable for devastavit.—The executors and administrators of persons who, as rightful executors or as executors in their own wrong, or as administrators, shall waste or convert to their own use any estate or assets of any person deceased, shall be chargeable in the same manner as their testator or intestate might have been. (Rev., s. 167; Code, s. 1495; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 68; C. S. 173.)

§ 28-186. Nonresident executor or guardian to appoint process agent.—A nonresident qualifying in the state as an executor or guardian shall at the time of his qualification appoint in writing a resident agent in the county of his qualification, on whom may be served citations, notices, and all processes required by law to be served on such executor or guardian. The executor or guardian shall file the appointment with the clerk in the county of his qualification, and the clerk shall record it in the record book immediately after the record of qualification, and shall properly index it in the record book. All citations, notices, and processes served on such process agent shall be as effective as if served on the executor or guardian, but the return date shall not be sooner than ten days from the date of the issuance of the citation, notice, or process. No letters shall be granted to an executor nor shall a guardian be permitted to qualify, unless the process agent is named simultaneously with the application for letters or for qualification. (1917, c. 198, ss. 1, 2, 3; C. S. 174.)

dent executor or guardian removes from the state, he shall, before removing or within thirty days thereafter, appoint a process agent in the manner as provided in the case of a nonresident, and upon failure to make the appointment within thirty days, the clerk shall remove him and appoint an administrator with the will annexed, or a new guardian, as the case may be. (1917, c. 198, s. 4; C. S. 175.)

§ 28-188. Nonresident's failure to obey process ground for removal.—The clerk may remove any nonresident executor or guardian who fails or refuses to obey any citation, notice or process served on the process agent appointed as provided in §§ 28-186, 28-187, and appoint a resident. (1917, c. 198, s. 5; C. S. 176.)

§ 28-189. Power to renew obligation; no personal liability.—Whenever a decedent is a maker, a surety, an endorser, or a guarantor of any note, bond or other obligation for the payment of money which is due at his death, or thereafter becomes due prior to the settlement of his estate, such obligation may be renewed under the following conditions:

(1) The executor, administrator or collector of the decedent's estate may execute in his official capacity a new obligation, in the same capacity as decedent was obligated, for an amount equal to or less but not greater than the sum due on the original obligation, which shall be in lieu of the original obligation of decedent, whether made payable to the original holder or another; and the executor, administrator or collector may renew the obligation from time to time, and it shall bind the decedent's estate in the same manner and to the same extent as the original obligation; but the maturity of the obligation or any renewal thereof by the executor, administrator or collector shall not extend beyond a period of two years from the qualification of the original executor, administrator or collector, except as hereinafter provided.

(2) If the court finds that it is for the best interest of the estate that the maturity of any such obligation be extended beyond two years from the qualification of the original executor, administrator or collector, the court in its discretion may authorize the executor, administrator or collector to renew the obligation for such additional period as the court may deem best. This additional period shall be for not more than two years unless the time for final settlement of the estate is extended, in which case, paragraph three, below, applies.

(3) When the time for final settlement of the decedent's estate has been extended from year to year for a longer period by order of the clerk of the superior court, approved by the resident judge of the superior court, the obligation may likewise be further extended, but not beyond the period authorized by the court for the final settlement of the decedent's estate.

(4) No obligation executed under this section shall bind the executor, administrator or collector personally. (1925, c. 86; 1933, cc. 161, 196, 498.)

Local Modification.—Mecklenburg, Pamlico, 1933, c. 161, s. 2.

§ 28-190. Continuance of farming operations of deceased persons. — When any person shall die while engaged in farming operations, his executor or administrator shall be authorized to continue such farming operations until the end of the current calendar year, and until all crops grown during that year are harvested: Provided, that only the net income from such farming operations shall be assets of the estate, and any indebtedness incurred in connection with such farming operations shall be a preferred claim as to any heir, legatee, devisee, distributee, general or unsecured creditor of said estate. Nothing herein contained shall limit the powers of an executor under the terms of a will. (1935, c. 163.)

Art. 21. Construction and Application of Chapter.

§ 28-191. Where no time specified, reasonable time allowed; extension.—If no length of notice, or no time for the doing of an act, is stated in this chapter, the time shall be reasonable, and in any case it may be enlarged by the clerk from time to time, or by the judge of the superior court, on application to him or on appeal to him from the clerk. (Rev., s. 169; Code, s. 1463; 1871-2, c. 213, s. 16; C. S. 177.)

§ 28-192. Powers under will not affected.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the discretionary powers, trusts and authorities of an executor or other trustee acting under a will, provided creditors be not delayed thereby nor the order changed in which by law they are entitled to be paid. (Rev., s. 170; Code, s. 1415; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 23; R. C., c. 46, ss. 12, 13; C. S. 178.)

Chapter 29. Descents.

Sec.
29-1. Rules of descent.

§ 29-1. Rules of descent. — When any person dies seized of any inheritance, or of any right thereto, or entitled to any interest therein, not having devised the same, it shall descend under the following rules: (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, s. 1; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 1, Lineal descent. Every inheritance shall lineally descend forever to the issue of the person who died last seized, entitled or having any interest therein, but shall not lineally ascend, except as hereinafter provided. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 1; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 2, Females inherit with males, younger with older children; advancements. Females shall inherit equally with males, and younger with older children: Provided, that when a parent dies intestate, having in his or her lifetime settled upon or advanced to any of his or her children any real or personal estate, such child so advanced in real estate shall be utterly excluded from any share in the real estate descended from such parent, except so much thereof as will, when added to the real estate advanced, make the share of him who is advanced equal to the share of those who may not have been advanced, or not equally advanced. And any child so advanced in personal estate shall be utterly excluded from any share in the personal estate of which the parent died possessed, except so much thereof as will, when added to the personal estate advanced, make the share of him who is advanced equal to the share of those who may not have been advanced, or not equally advanced. And in case any one of the children has been advanced in real estate of greater value than an equal share thereof which may come to the other children, he or his legal representatives shall be charged in the distribution of the personal estate of such deceased parent with the excess in value of such real estate so advanced as aforesaid, over and above an equal share as aforesaid. And in case any of the children has been advanced in personal estate of greater value than an equal share thereof which shall come to the other children, he or his legal representatives shall be charged in the division of the real estate, if there be any, with the excess in value, which he may have received as aforesaid, over and above an equal distributive share of the personal estate. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, s. 1, Rule 2; 1784, c. 204, s. 2; 1808, c. 739; 1844, c. 51, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 3, Lineal descendant represents ancestor. The lineal descendants of any person deceased shall represent their ancestor, and stand in the same place as the person himself would have done had he been living. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 3; 1808, c. 739; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 4, Collateral descent of estate derived from ancestor. On failure of lineal descendants, and where the inheritance has been transmitted by descent from an ancestor, or has been derived by gift, devise or settlement from an ancestor, to whom the person thus advanced would, in the event of such ancestor's death, have been the heir or one of the heirs, the inheritance shall descend to the next collateral relations, capable of inheriting, of the person last seized, who were of the blood of such ancestor, subject to the two preceding rules. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 4; 1808, c. 739; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 5, Collateral descent of estate not derived from ancestor. On failure of lineal descendants, and where the inheritance has not been transmitted by descent or derived as aforesaid from an ancestor, or where, if so transmitted or derived, the blood of such ancestor is extinct, the inheritance shall descend to the next collateral relation, capable of inheriting, of the person last seized, whether of the paternal or maternal line, subject to the second and third rules. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 5; 1808, c. 739; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 6, Half blood inherits with whole; parents from child. Collateral relations of the half blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood, and the degrees of relationship shall be computed according to the rules which prevail in descents at common law: Provided, that in all cases where the person last seized leaves no issue capable of inheriting, nor brother, nor sister, nor issue of such, the inheritance shall vest in the father and mother, as tenants in common if both are living, and if only one of them is living, then in such survivor. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 6; 1808, c. 739; 1915, c. 9, s. 1; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 7, Unborn infant may be heir. No inheritance shall descend to any person, as heir of the person last seized, unless such person shall be in life at the death of the person last seized, or shall be born within ten lunar months after the death of the person last seized. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 7; 1823, c. 1210; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 8, Widow or husband may take as heir. When any person dies intestate, leaving none who can claim as heir to such deceased person, but leaving surviving a widow or husband, such widow or husband shall be deemed his heir and as such inherit his estate. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 8; 1801, c. 575, s. 1; 1925, c. 7; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 9, Illegitimate children inherit from mother. Every illegitimate child of the mother and the descendants of any such child deceased shall be considered an heir: Provided, however, that where the mother leaves legitimate and illegitimate children such illegitimate child or children shall not be capable of inheriting of such mother any land or interest therein which was conveyed or devised to such mother by the father of the legitimate child or children; but such illegitimate child or descendant shall not be allowed to claim, as representing such mother, any part of the estate of her kindred, either lineal or collateral. (Rev., s. 1556, Rule 9; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 10; 1799, c. 522; 1913, c. 71; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 10, Heirs of illegitimate. Illegitimate children shall be considered legitimate as between themselves and their representatives, and their estates shall descend accordingly in the same manner as if they had been born in wedlock. And in case of the death of any such child or his issue, without leaving issue, his estate shall descend to such person as would inherit if all such children had been born in wedlock: Provided, that when any illegitimate child dies without issue, his inheritance shall vest in the mother in the same manner as is provided in rule six of this chapter. Provided, further, that when any illegitimate child dies without issue and his mother shall have predeceased said child and left legitimate children, his inheritance shall vest in the legitimate children of his mother in the same manner as provided in rule six of this chapter but nothing herein shall be construed to allow such illegitimates to inherit from legitimates of the same mother: Provided, further, that when any illegitimate child dies without any of the foregoing but his mother left brothers and sisters, his inheritance shall vest in said brothers and sisters of his mother, or their legal representatives. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 11; 1935, c. 256; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 11, Estate for life of another, not devised, deemed inheritance. Every estate for the life of another, not devised, shall be deemed an inheritance of the deceased owner, within the meaning and operation of this chapter. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 12; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 12, Seizin defined. Every person, in whom a seizin is required by any of the provisions of this chapter, shall be deemed to have been seized, if he may have had any right, title or interest in the inheritance. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; R. C., c. 38, Rule 13; C. S. 1654.)

Rule 13, Issue of certain colored persons to inherit. The children of colored parents born at any time before the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, of persons living together as man and wife, are declared legitimate children of such parents or either one of them, with all the rights of heirs at law and next of kin, with respect to the estate or estates of any such parents, or either one of them. If such children be dead, their issue shall represent them with all the rights of heirs at law and next of kin provided by this section for their deceased parents or either of them if they had been living; and the provision of this section shall apply to the estates of such children as are now deceased or otherwise. (Rev., s. 1556; Code, s. 1281; 1897, c. 153; 1879, c. 73; C. S. 1654.)

30-32. Exceptions to the report.
30-33. Confirmation of report; execution.

Art. 1. Dissent from Will.

§ 30-1. Time and manner of dissent. — Every widow may dissent from her husband's will before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such will is proved, at any time within six months after the probate. The dissent may be in person, or by attorney authorized in writing, executed by the widow and attested by at least one witness and duly proved. The dissent, whether in person or by attorney, shall be filed as a record of court. If the widow be an infant or insane, she may dissent by her guardian. (Rev., s. 3080; Code, s. 2108; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 37; C. S. 4096.)

§ 30-2. Effect of dissent.—Upon such dissent, the widow shall have the same rights and estates in the real and personal property of her husband as if he had died intestate. (Rev., s. 3081; Code, s. 2109; R. C., c. 118, s. 12; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 38; C. S. 4097.)

§ 30-3. Widow's interest not liable for husband's debts.—The dower or right of dower of a widow, and such lands as may be devised to her by his will, if such lands do not exceed the quantity she would be entitled to by right of dower, although she has not dissented from such will, shall not be subject to the payment of debts due from the estate of her husband, during the term of her life. (Rev., s. 3082; Code, ss. 2104, 2105; R. C., c. 118, s. 8; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 34; 1791, c. 351, s. 4; C. S. 4098.)

Art. 2. Dower.

§ 30-4. Who entitled to dower.—Widows shall be endowed as at common law as in this chapter defined: Provided, if any married woman shall commit adultery, and shall not be living with her husband at his death, or shall be convicted of the felonious slaying of her husband, or being accessory before the fact to the felonious slaying of her husband, she shall thereby lose all right to dower in the lands and tenements of her husband; and any such adultery or conviction may be pleaded in bar of any action or proceeding for the recovery of dower. (Rev., s. 3083; Code, s. 2102; 1889, c. 499; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 32; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 44; C. S. 4099.)

§ 30-5. In what property widow entitled to dower.—Subject to the provision in § 30-4, every married woman, upon the death of her husband intestate, or in case she shall dissent from his will, shall be entitled to an estate for her life in one-third in value of all the lands, tenements and hereditaments whereof her husband was seized and possessed at any time during the coverture, in which third part shall be included the dwelling-house in which her husband usually resided, together with offices, out-houses, buildings and improvements thereunto belonging or appertaining; she shall in like manner be entitled to such an estate in all legal rights of redemption and equities of redemption or other equitable estates in lands, tenements and hereditaments whereof her husband was seized in fee at any time during the coverture, subject to all valid encumbrances existing before the coverture or made during it with her free consent lawfully appearing thereto. The jury summoned for the purpose of assigning dower to a widow shall not be restricted to assign the same in every separate and distinct tract of land, but may allot her dower in one or more tracts, having a due regard to the interest of the heirs as well as to the right of the widow. This section shall not be construed so as to compel the jury selected to allot dower to allot the dwelling-house in which the husband usually resided, when the widow shall request that the same be allotted in other property. (Rev., s. 3084; Code, s. 2103; R. C., c. 118, s. 3; R. S., c. 121, s. 3; 1827, c. 46; 1869-70, c. 176; 1883, c. 175; 1908, c. 132; C. S. 4100.)

§ 30-6. Dower not affected by conveyance of husband; exception.—No alienation of the husband alone, with or without covenant of warranty, shall have any other or further effect than to pass his interest in such estate, subject to the dower right of his wife: Provided, that a mortgage or trust deed by the husband to secure the purchase money, or any part thereof, of land bought by him, shall, without the wife executing the deed, be effectual to pass the whole interest according to the provisions of the said deed. (Rev., s. 3085; Code, s. 2106; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 35; C. S. 4101.)

§ 30-7. Dower conveyed by wife's joinder in deed.—The right to dower under this chapter shall pass and be effectual against any widow or person claiming under her upon the wife joining with her husband in the deed of conveyance and being privately examined as to her consent thereto in the manner prescribed by law. (Rev., s. 3086; Code, s. 2107; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 36; C. S. 4102.)

§ 30-8. Conveyance of home site with wife's assent.—No deed or other conveyance, except to secure purchase money, made by the owner of a home site, which shall include the residence and other buildings together with the particular lot or tract of land upon which the residence is situated, whether actually occupied by said owner or not, shall be valid to pass possession or title during the lifetime of the wife without the voluntary signature and assent of his wife, signified on her private examination according to law: Provided, the wife does not commit adultery, or has not abandoned and does not abandon the husband and live separate and apart from him. Provided further, that all married women under the age of twenty-one shall have the same privilege to renounce their dower rights in and to the home site as is now conferred upon married women twenty-one years and over, and the deed or other conveyances thereof made by the owner of a home site with the voluntary signature and assent of his wife, signified on her private examination according to law, even though the wife be under twenty-one years of age, shall be valid and immediately pass possession and title thereto as though said married women were twenty-one years or over: Provided further, that all conveyances of a home site, as defined in this section, made prior to February 27, 1937, by the owner thereof, with the voluntary signature and assent of his wife, signified on her private examination according to law, shall be valid and pass the title and possession thereto as of the date thereof, even though the wife of said owner was under twenty-one years of age at the time of such signature and assent. (1919, c. 123; 1937, c. 69; C. S. 4103.)

§ 30-9. Conveyance without joinder of insane wife; certificate of lunacy.—Every man whose wife is a lunatic or insane may bargain, sell, lease, mortgage, transfer and convey any of his real estate by deed, mortgage deed, deed of trust, or lease, without the signature or private examination of his wife: Provided, that the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the wife was adjudged a lunatic or declared insane, or the superintendent of an insane institution of the state, or any other state, shall certify under his hand and seal that she has been adjudged a lunatic or declared insane, and that her sanity has not been declared restored as is provided by law, and this certificate must be attached to the husband's deed, mortgage deed, deed of trust, or lease. Such deed, mortgage deed, deed of trust or lease executed, probated and registered in accordance with law shall convey all the estate and interest as therein intended of the grantor in the land conveyed, free and exempt from the dower rights and all other interests of his wife: Provided, this section shall not apply to the homestead of the husband which has been actually allotted. (1923, c. 65, s. 1; C. S. 4103(a).)

§ 30-10. Renouncement of dower. — All married persons under the age of twenty-one years shall have the same privilege to renounce their dower rights and rights of curtesy and to give their written assent to conveyances of real property as are now conferred upon married persons twenty-one years old and over. (1923, c. 67, c. 2; 1935, c. 18; C. S. 4103(b).)

Art. 3. Allotment of Dower.

§ 30-11. By agreement between widow and heir.—If the personal property of a decedent be sufficient to pay his debts and charges of administration, the heir or devisee with the widow may, by deed, agree to an assignment of her dower. (Rev., s. 3087; Code, s. 2110; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 39; C. S. 4104.)

§ 30-12. Petition filed in superior court.—If no such agreement be made, the widow may apply for assignment of dower by petition in the superior court, and, if she fail to make such application within three months after the death of her husband, any heir or devisee may file a petition reciting the facts that the widow is entitled to dower on certain lands and has not applied for it, and demand that her dower be assigned to her. In all cases the widow and all heirs and devisees and persons in possession of, or claiming estates in, the lands shall be made parties, and the court shall hear and pass upon the petition in like manner as in other cases of special proceedings. (Rev., s. 3088; Code, ss. 2111, 2112; 1891, c. 133; 1868-9, c. 93, ss. 40, 41; C. S. 4105.)

§ 30-13. Assignment of dower.—If dower be adjudged, it shall be assigned by a jury of three persons qualified to act as jurors, unless one of the parties demand a greater number, not exceeding twelve, who shall be summoned by the sheriff to meet on the premises or some part thereof, and being duly sworn by the sheriff or other person authorized to administer oaths, shall proceed to allot and set apart to the widow her dower in said premises according to law and make report of their proceedings under their hands within five days to the clerk of the superior court.

When the husband dies seized and possessed of lands in any other county than that in which dower is to be assigned, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which dower is to be assigned shall, upon application of the widow entitled to dower, issue a commission to the sheriff of such other county requiring him to summons three or more persons, as may be asked in said application, qualified to act as jurors, to go upon the lands of said husband in the county of said sheriff and assess the value of the same after being duly sworn by the sheriff for that purpose, and report their assessment under their hands and seals through the sheriff, who shall countersign the same as their report to the clerk issuing said commission; and said report in the hands of the jury summoned to assign the dower shall be considered by them a true valuation of the lands mentioned in the report, and said last-mentioned jury shall be deemed to have met on the lands thus assessed and shall assign the dower accordingly. But if agreeable to and convenient to the jury summoned or appointed, as the case may be, in the county where the proceeding is pending, for the allotment of dower, said jury may go upon, view and assign and allot the land which lies in any other county or counties; and when so viewed, assessed and allotted, if it or any part of it be allotted as dower, their acts shall be valid and their allotment of dower be as valid, as if all of the land of the deceased husband lay in the county where the proceeding was brought and pending, upon properly certified copy of such allotment being filed and recorded in such other county or counties, other than the county in which the original proceedings were instituted, in which lands acted upon do lie.

If either party to the proceeding shall demand it, the clerk shall appoint three persons qualified to act as jurors, unless one of the parties demands a greater number, and then not exceeding twelve, who shall meet on the premises or some part thereof, and after being duly sworn by the clerk or someone authorized to administer oaths, shall proceed to allot and set apart to the widow her dower in said premises according to law and make report of their proceedings under their hands, or the hands of a majority of them, within five days to the clerk of the Superior Court; and when the jurors are so appointed the sheriff will not countersign the report nor take any part in the proceedings, except that the clerk may cause notice to be served on the jurors so appointed, if he deems or finds it necessary. (Rev., s. 3089; Code, s. 2113; 1893, c. 314; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 42; 1931, c. 393; 1939, c. 339; C. S. 4106.)

§ 30-14. Notice to parties of meeting of jury.—The parties to such proceeding, or their attorneys, if within the county, shall be notified of the time and place of meeting of the jury appointed to assign dower, at least five days before the meeting. (Rev., s. 3090; Code, s. 2114; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 43; C. S. 4107.)

Art. 4. Year's Allowance.

Part 1. Nature of Allowance.

§ 30-15. When widow entitled to allowance.—Every widow of an intestate, or of a testator from whose will she has dissented, shall, unless she has forfeited her right thereto as provided by §§ 52-19 and 52-20, be entitled, in addition to her distributive share in her husband's personal estate, to an allowance therefrom of the value of five hundred dollars for her support for one year after his decease. Such allowance shall be exempt from any lien, by judgment or execution, acquired against the property of the husband. (Rev., s. 3091; Code, s. 2116; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 81; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 44; 1880, c. 42; 1889, c. 499, s. 2; C. S. 4108.)

§ 30-16. Duty of personal representative or justice to assign allowance.—It shall be the duty of every administrator, collector, or executor of a will from which the widow of the testator has dissented, on application in writing, signed by the widow, at any time within one year after the decease of the husband, to assign to her the year's allowance as provided in this chapter, deducting therefrom the value of any articles consumed by her between the death of her husband and the time of the assignment.

If there shall be no administration, or if the personal representative shall fail or refuse to apply to a justice of the peace, as provided in § 30-20, for ten days after the widow has filed the aforesaid request, or if the widow is the personal representative, the widow may make the application to the justice, and it shall be the duty of the justice to proceed in the same manner as though the application had been made by the personal representative.

Where the widow and personal effects of the deceased husband shall have been removed from the township or county where the deceased husband resided before his death, the widow may apply to any justice of the peace of the township or county where such personal property is located, and it shall be the duty of such justice to assign the year's allowance as if the husband had resided and died in that township. (Rev., ss. 3096, 3098; Code, ss. 2120, 2122; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 12; 1870-1, c. 263; 1889, cc. 496, 531; 1891, c. 13; C. S. 4108.)

§ 30-17. When children entitled to an allowance.—Whenever any parent dies leaving any child under the age of fifteen years, including an adopted child, or a child with whom the widow may be pregnant at the death of her husband, or any other person under the age of fifteen years residing with the deceased parent at the time of the death to whom the deceased parent or the surviving parent stood in loco parentis, every such child shall be entitled, besides its distributive share of the personal estate of such deceased parent, to an allowance of one hundred fifty dollars ($150.00) for its support for the year next ensuing the death of such parent, less, however, the value of any articles consumed by said child since the death of said parent. Such allowance shall be exempt from any lien, by judgment or execution against the property of such parent. The personal representative of the deceased parent, within one year after the parent's death, shall assign to every such child the allowance herein provided for; but if there is no personal representative or if he fails or refuses to act within ten days after written request by a guardian or next friend on behalf of such child, the allowance may be assigned by a justice of the peace, upon application of said guardian or next friend.

If the child resides with the widow of the deceased parent at the time such allowance is paid, the allowance shall be paid to said widow for the benefit of said child. If the child resides with its surviving parent who is other than the widow of the deceased parent, such allowance shall be paid to said surviving parent for the use and benefit of such child. Provided, however, the allowance shall not be available to an illegitimate child of a deceased father, unless such deceased father shall have recognized the paternity of such illegitimate child by deed, will or other paper writing. If the child does not reside with a parent when the allowance is paid, it shall be paid to its general guardian, if any, and if none, to the clerk of the superior court who shall receive and disburse same for the benefit of such child. (Rev., s. 3094; 1889, c. 496; 1939, c. 396; C. S. 4111.)

§ 30-18. From what property assigned.—Such allowance shall be assigned from the crop, stock and provisions or any other personal property of the deceased in his possession at the time of his death, if there be a sufficiency thereof in value; and if there be a deficiency, it shall be made up by the personal representative from the personal estate of the deceased. (Rev., s. 3095; Code, s. 2117; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 9; 1925, c. 92; C. S. 4112.)

Part 2. Assigned by Justice of the Peace.

§ 30-19. Value of property ascertained. — The value of stock, crop and provisions or any other personal property assigned to the widow and children, as well as that of the articles consumed, shall be ascertained by a justice of the peace and two persons qualified to act as jurors of the county in which administration was granted or the will proved. (Rev., s. 3097; Code, s. 2121; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 13; C. S. 4114.)

§ 30-20. Procedure for assignment.—Upon the application of the widow, or whenever it shall appear that a child is entitled to an allowance as provided by § 30-17, the personal representative of the deceased shall apply to a justice of the peace of the township in which the deceased resided, or some adjoining township, to summon two persons qualified to act as jurors, who, having been sworn by the justice to act impartially as commissioners shall, with him, ascertain the person or persons entitled to an allowance according to the provisions of this chapter, and examine the crop, stock, and provisions and any other personal property on hand, and assign to the widow and to the children, if any, so much thereof as they shall be entitled to by law. Any deficiencies shall be made up from any of the personal estate of the deceased, and also from any debt or debts known to be due the deceased. Such assignment shall vest in the widow and children such property, and the right to collect the debts thus allotted. (Rev., s. 3098; Code, s. 2122; 1870-1, c. 263; 1891, c. 13; 1899, c. 531; C. S. 4115.)

§ 30-21. Report of commissioners. — The commissioners shall make and sign three lists of the articles assigned to each person, stating their quantity and value, and the deficiency to be paid by the personal representative. Where the allowance is to the widow, one of these lists shall be delivered to her. Where the allowance is to a child, one of these lists shall be delivered to the widow or surviving parent with whom the child is living; or to the child's guardian or next friend if the child is not living with said widow or surviving parent; or to the child if said child is not living with the widow or surviving parent and has no guardian or next friend. One list shall be delivered to the personal representative. One list shall be returned by the justice, within twenty days after the assignment, to the Superior Court of the county, and the clerk shall file and record the same and enter judgment against the personal representative, to be paid when assets shall come into his hands, for any residue found in favor of the person entitled to the allowance. (Rev., s. 3099; Code, s. 2123; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 15; C. S. 4116.)

§ 30-22. Fees of commissioners. — Any person appointed by any justice of the peace to allot or set apart to any widow and/or child a year's allowance under the statute, and who shall serve, shall be paid the sum of one dollar a day or fraction of a day engaged, and the same shall be taxed as a part of the bill of costs of the proceeding. (1907, c. 223; 1913, c. 18; C. S. 3900.)

§ 30-23. Right of appeal.—The personal representative, or the widow, or child by his guardian or next friend, or any creditor, legatee or distributee of the deceased, may appeal from the finding of the commissioners to the superior court of the county, and, within ten days after the assignment, cite the adverse party to appear before such court on a certain day, not less than five nor exceeding ten days after the service of the citation. (Rev., s. 3100; Code, s. 2124; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 16; 1897, c. 442; C. S. 4117.)

§ 30-24. Hearing on appeal.—At or before the day named, the appellant shall file with the clerk a copy of the assignment and a statement of his exceptions thereto, and the issues thereby raised shall be decided as other issues are directed to be. When the issues shall have been decided, judgment shall be entered accordingly, if it may be without injustice, without remitting the proceedings to the commissioners. (Rev., s. 3101; Code, s. 2125; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 17; C. S. 4118.)

§ 30-25. Personal representative entitled to credit.—Upon the settlement of the accounts of the personal representative, he shall be credited with the articles assigned, and the value of the deficiency assessed as aforesaid, if the same shall have been paid, unless the allowance be impeached for fraud or gross negligence in him. (Rev., s. 3102; Code, s. 2126; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 18; C. S. 4119.)

§ 30-26. When above allowance is in full.—If the estate of a deceased be insolvent, or if his personal estate does not exceed two thousand dollars, the allowances for the year's support of his widow and the children shall not, in any case, exceed the value prescribed above; and the allowances made to them as above prescribed shall preclude them from any further allowances. (Rev., s. 3103; Code, s. 2127; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 19; C. S. 4120.)

Part 3. Assigned in Superior Court.

§ 30-27. Widow or child may apply to superior court.—It shall not, however, be obligatory on a widow or child to have the support assigned as above prescribed. Without application to the personal representative, the widow, or the child through his guardian or next friend, may, at any time within one year after the decedent's death, apply to the superior court of the county in which administration was granted to have a year's support assigned. (Rev., s. 3104; Code, s. 2128; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 20; C. S. 4121.)

§ 30-28. Nature of proceeding; parties. — The application shall be by summons, as is prescribed for special proceedings, in which the personal representative of the deceased, if there be one other than the plaintiff, the largest known creditor, or legatee, or some distributee of the deceased, living in the county, shall be made defendant, and the proceedings shall be as prescribed for special proceedings between parties. (Rev., s. 3105; Code, s. 2129; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 21; C. S. 4122.)

§ 30-29. What complaint must show.—In the complaint the plaintiff shall set forth, besides the facts entitling plaintiff to a year's support and the value of the support claimed, the further facts that the estate of the decedent is not insolvent, and that the personal estate of which he died possessed exceeded two thousand dollars, and also whether or not an allowance has been made to plaintiff and the nature and value thereof; and if no allowance has been made, the quantities and values of the articles consumed by plaintiff since the death of decedent. (Rev., s. 3106; Code, s. 2130; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 22; C. S. 4123.)

§ 30-30. Judgment and order for commissioners. —If the material allegations of the complaint be found true, the judgment shall be that plaintiff is entitled to the relief sought; and the court shall thereupon issue an order to the sheriff or other proper officer of the county, commanding him to summon a justice of the peace and two indifferent persons qualified to act as jurors of the county, to assign to the plaintiff from the crop, stock and provisions, or any other personal property of the decedent on hand, a sufficiency for plaintiff's support for one year from decedent's death; and, if there be a deficiency, to assess such deficiency, to be paid by the personal representative from any other personal assets of the decedent, deducting, nevertheless, in all cases from such allowance the articles, or the value thereof, consumed by plaintiff before such assignment and also any sum previously assigned. (Rev., s. 3107; Code, s. 2131; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 23; C. S. 4124.)

§ 30-31. Duty of commissioners; amount of allowance.—The said commissioners shall be sworn by the justice and shall proceed as prescribed in this chapter, except that they may assign to the plaintiff a value sufficient for the support of plaintiff according to the estate and condition of the decedent and without regard to the limitations set forth in this chapter; but the value allowed shall be fixed with due consideration for other persons entitled to allowances for year's support from the decedent's estate; and the total value of all allowances shall not in any case exceed the one-half of the average annual net income of the deceased for three years next preceding his death. This report shall be returned by the justice to the court. (Rev., s. 3108; Code, s. 2132; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 24; C. S. 4125.)

§ 30-32. Exceptions to the report.—The personal representative, or any creditor, distributee or legatee of the deceased, within twenty days after the return of the report, may file exceptions thereto. The plaintiff shall be notified thereof and cited to appear before the court on a certain day, within twenty and not less than ten days after service of the notice, and answer the same; the case shall thereafter be proceeded in, heard and decided as provided in special proceedings between parties. (Rev., s. 3109; Code, s. 2133; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 25; C. S. 4126.)

§ 30-33. Confirmation of report; execution.—If the report shall be confirmed, the court shall so declare, and execution shall issue to enforce the judgment as in like cases. (Rev., s. 3110; Code, s. 2134; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 26; C. S. 4127.)

Art. 1. Execution of Will.

§ 31-1. Infants incapable.—No person shall be capable of disposing of real or personal estate by will until he shall have attained the age of twenty-one years. (Rev., s. 3111; Code, s. 2137; R. C., c. 119, s. 2; 1811, c. 280; C. S. 4128.)

§ 31-2. Married woman capable. — A married woman owning real or personal property may dispose of the same by will. (Rev., s. 3112; Code, s. 2138; R. C., c. 119, s. 3; 1844, c. 88, s. 8; C. S. 4129.)

§ 31-3. Formal execution. — No last will or testament shall be good or sufficient, in law, to convey or give any estate, real or personal, unless such last will shall have been written in the testator's life time, and signed by him, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction, and subscribed in his presence by two witnesses at least, no one of whom shall be interested in the devise or bequest of the estate, except as hereinafter provided; or, unless such last will and testament be found among the valuable papers and effects of any deceased person, or shall have been lodged in the hands of any person for safekeeping, and the same shall be in the handwriting of such deceased person, with his name subscribed thereto or inserted in some part of such will; and if such handwriting shall be proved by three credible witnesses, who verily believe such will and every part thereof is in the handwriting of the person whose will it appears to be, then such will shall be sufficient to give and convey real and personal estate. (Rev., s. 3113; Code, s. 2136; R. C., c. 119, s. 1; 1784, c. 204, s. 11; 1784, c. 225, s. 5; 1840, c. 62; 1846, c. 54; C. S. 4131.)

§ 31-4. Execution of power of appointment by will.—No appointment, made by will in the exercise of any power, shall be valid unless the same be executed in the manner by law required for the execution of wills; and every will, executed in such manner, shall, so far as respects the execution and attestation thereof, be a valid execution of a power of appointment by will, notwithstanding it shall have been expressly required that a will made in exercise of such power should be executed with some additional or other form of execution or solemnity. (Rev., s. 3114; Code, s. 2139; R. C., c. 119, s. 4; 1844, c. 88, s. 9; C. S. 4132.)

Art. 2. Revocation of Will.

§ 31-5. Revocation by writing or by cancellation or destruction.—No will or testament in writing, or any clause thereof, shall be revocable otherwise than by some other will or codicil in writing, or other writing declaring the same, or by burning, canceling, tearing, or obliterating the same, by the testator himself, or in his presence and by his direction and consent; but all wills or testaments shall remain and continue in force until the same be burnt, canceled, torn, or obliterated by the testator, or in his presence and by his consent and direction; or unless the same be altered or revoked by some other will or codicil in writing, or other writing of the testator, signed by him, or some other person in his presence and by his direction, and subscribed in his presence by two witnesses at least; or unless the same be altered or revoked by some other will or codicil in writing, or other writing of the testator, all of which shall be in the handwriting of the testator, and his name subscribed thereto or inserted therein, and lodged by him with some person for safe-keeping, or left by him in some secure place, or among his valuable papers and effects, every part of which will or codicil or other writing shall be proved to be in the handwriting of the testator, by three witnesses at least. (Rev., s. 3115; Code, s. 2176; R. C., c. 119, s. 22; 1784, c. 204, s. 14; 1819, c. 1004, ss. 1, 2; 1840, c. 62; C. S. 4133.)

§ 31-6. Revocation by marriage; exception. — All wills shall be revoked by subsequent marriage of the maker except a will made in exercise of a power of appointment, when the real or personal estate thereby appointed would not, in default of such appointment, pass to his heirs, executor or administrator, or the person entitled as his next of kin, under the statute of distributions. (Rev., s. 3116; Code, s. 2177; R. C., c. 119, s. 23; 1844, c. 88, s. 10; C. S. 4134.)

§ 31-7. No revocation by altered circumstances. —No will shall be revoked by any presumption of an intention on the ground of an alteration in circumstances. (Rev., s. 3117; Code, s. 2178; R. C., c. 119, s. 24; 1844, c. 88, s. 11; C. S. 4135.)

§ 31-8. No revocation by subsequent conveyance.—No conveyance or other act made or done subsequently to the execution of a will of, or relating to, any real or personal estate therein comprised, except an act by which such will shall be duly revoked, shall prevent the operation of the will with respect to any estate or interest in such real or personal estate as the testator shall have power to dispose of by will at the time of his death. (Rev., s. 3118; Code, s. 2179; R. C., c. 119, s. 25; 1844, c. 88, s. 2; C. S. 4136.)

Art. 3. Witnesses to Will.

§ 31-9. Executor competent witness.—No person, on account of being an executor of a will, shall be incompetent to be admitted a witness to prove the execution of such will, or to prove the validity or invalidity thereof. (Rev., s. 3119; Code, s. 2146; R. C., c. 119, s. 9; C. S. 4137.)

§ 31-10. Beneficiary competent; interest rendered void.—If any person shall attest the execution of any will, to whom or to whose wife or husband any beneficial devise, estate, interest, legacy, or appointment of or affecting any real or personal estate shall be thereby given or made, such devise, estate, interest, legacy, or appointment shall, so far only as concerns such person attesting the execution of such will or the wife or husband of such person, or any person claiming under such person, or wife or husband, be void; and such person so attesting shall be admitted as a witness to prove the execution of such will, or the validity or invalidity thereof. (Rev., s. 3120; Code, s. 2147; R. C., c. 119, s. 10; C. S. 4138.)

Art. 4. Depository for Wills.

§ 31-11. Depositories in offices of clerks of superior court where living persons may file wills. —The clerk of the superior court in each county of North Carolina shall be required to keep a receptacle or depository in which any person who desires to do so may file his or her will for safe keeping; and the clerk shall make a charge of fifty cents (50c) for the filing of such will, and shall, upon written request of the testator, or the duly authorized agent or attorney for the testator, permit said will or testament to be withdrawn from said depository or receptacle at any time prior to the death of the testator: Provided, that the contents of said will shall not be made public or open to the inspection of any one other than the testator or his duly authorized agent until such time as the said will shall be offered for probate. (1937, c. 435, s. 1.)

Local Modification.—Guilford: 1937, c. 435, s. 2.

Art. 5. Probate of Will.

§ 31-12. Executor may apply for probate; jurisdiction when clerk interested party. — Any executor named in a will may, at any time after the death of the testator, apply to the clerk of the superior court, having jurisdiction, to have the same admitted to probate. Such will shall not be valid or effective to pass real estate or personal property as against innocent purchasers for value and without notice, unless it is probated or offered for probate within two years after the death of the testator or devisor. If such will is fraudulently suppressed, stolen or destroyed, or has been lost, and an action or proceeding shall be commenced within two years from the death of the testator or devisor to obtain said will or establish the same as provided by law, then the limitation herein set out shall only begin to run from the termination of said action or proceeding, but not otherwise. If the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction to probate any will be a subscribing witness thereto, or a devisee or legatee therein, or if said clerk shall have any pecuniary interest in the property disposed of by said will, then the clerk of the superior court of any adjoining county shall have jurisdiction to probate said will, and upon petition filed before him by any one interested in any way in said will, he shall proceed to have said will produced before him, and the said will shall thereupon be probated, recorded, and filed as provided by this chapter, and a duly certified copy of the said will, together with the probate of the same, and the said petition, under the hand and seal of the said clerk, shall be filed and recorded in the book of wills, in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county whose clerk was a subscribing witness thereto, or a devisee or legatee therein, or who had a pecuniary interest in the property disposed of by said will and the clerk in said last mentioned county is hereby authorized to issue letters to personal representatives, who may qualify and administer the estate in said will as if originally probated in said county, and the title to all property, both real and personal, conveyed and devised in said will, shall be as good and effectual as if the said will had been originally probated and recorded in said last mentioned county. (Rev., s. 3122; Code, s. 2151; C. C. P., s. 439; 1919, c. 15; 1921, c. 99; 1923, c. 14; C. S. 4139.)

§ 31-13. Executor failing, beneficiary may apply.—If no executor apply to have the will proved within sixty days after the death of the testator, any devisee or legatee named in the will, or any other person interested in the estate, may make such application, upon ten days notice thereof to the executor. (Rev., s. 3123; Code, s. 2152; C. C. P., s. 440; C. S. 4140.)

§ 31-14. Clerk to notify legatees and devisees of probate of wills. — The clerks of the superior court of the state are hereby required and directed to notify by mail, all legatees and devisees whose addresses are known, designated in wills filed for probate in their respective counties. All expense incident to such notification shall be deemed a proper charge in the administration of the respective estates. (1933, c. 133.)

§ 31-15. Clerk may compel production of will.— Every clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction, on application by affidavit setting forth the facts, shall, by summons, compel any person in the state, having in possession the last will of any decedent, to exhibit the same in his court for probate; and whoever being duly summoned refuses, in contempt of the court, to produce such will, or (the same having been parted with by him) refuses to inform the court on oath where such will is, or in what manner he has disposed of it, shall, by order of the clerk of the superior court, be committed to the jail of the county, there to remain without bail till such will be produced or accounted for, and due submission made for the contempt. (Rev., s. 3124; Code, s. 2154; C. C. P., s. 442; C. S. 4141.)

§ 31-16. What shown on application for probate. —On application to the clerk of the superior court, he must ascertain by affidavit of the applicant—

1. That such applicant is the executor, devisee or legatee named in the will, or is some other person interested in the estate, and how so interested.

2. The value and nature of the testator's property, as near as can be ascertained.

3. The names and residences of all parties entitled to the testator's property, if known, or that the same on diligent inquiry cannot be discovered; which of the parties in interest are minors, and whether with or without guardians, and the names and residences of such guardians, if known. Such affidavit shall be recorded with the will and the certificate of probate thereof, if the same is admitted to probate. (Rev., s. 3125; Code, s. 2153; C. C. P., s. 441; C. S. 4142.)

§ 31-17. Proof and examination in writing.— Every clerk of the superior court shall take in writing the proofs and examinations of the witnesses touching the execution of a will, and he shall embody the substance of such proofs and examinations, in case the will is admitted to probate, in his certificate of the probate thereof, which certificate must be recorded with the will. The proofs and examinations as taken must be filed in the office. (Rev., s. 3126; Code, s. 2149; C. C. P., s. 437; C. S. 4143.)

§ 31-18. Manner of probate.—Wills and testaments must be admitted to probate only in the following manner:

1. In case of a written will, with witnesses, on the oath of at least two of the subscribing witnesses, if living; but when any one or more of the subscribing witnesses to such will are dead, or reside out of the state, or cannot after due diligence be found within the state, or are insane or otherwise incompetent to testify, then such proof may be taken of the handwriting, both of the testator and of the witness or witnesses so dead, absent, insane or incompetent, and also of such other circumstances as will satisfy the clerk of the superior court of the genuineness and the due execution of such will. In all cases where the testator executed the will by making his mark, and where any one or more of the subscribing witnesses are dead or reside out of the state, or are insane or otherwise incompetent to testify, it shall not be necessary to prove the handwriting of the testator, but proof of the handwriting of the subscribing witness or witnesses so dead, absent, insane or incompetent shall be sufficient. The probate of all wills heretofore taken in compliance with the requirements of this section are hereby declared to be valid.

2. In case of a holograph will, on the oath of at least three credible witnesses, who state that they verily believe such will and every part thereof is in the handwriting of the person whose will it purports to be, and whose name must be subscribed thereto, or inserted in some part thereof. It must further appear on the oath of some one of the witnesses, or of some other credible person, that such will was found among the valuable papers and effects of the decedent, or was lodged in the hands of some person for safe-keeping.

3. In case of a nuncupative will, on the oath of at least two credible witnesses present at the making thereof, who state that they were specially required to bear witness thereto by the testator himself. It must also be proved that such nuncupative will was made in the testator's last sickness, in his own habitation, or where he had been previously resident for at least ten days, unless he died on a journey or from home. No nuncupative will shall be proved by the witnesses after six months from the making thereof, unless it was put in writing within ten days from such making; nor shall it be proved till a citation has been first issued or publication been made for six weeks in some newspaper published in the state, to call in the widow and next of kin to contest such will if they think proper. (Rev., s. 3127; Code, s. 2148; 1893, c. 269; 1901, c. 276; C. C. P., s. 435; C. S. 4144.)

Local Modification.—Burke, Scotland: C. S. 4154; Cleveland, Henderson, Transylvania, Wake: C. S. 4156; 1929, c. 313; 1939, c. 34; Halifax: 1924, c. 10; 1929, c. 313; 1939, c. 34; Haywood: C. S. 4157; Lee: 1929, c. 313; 1939, c. 34.

§ 31-19. Probate conclusive until vacated; substitution of consolidated bank as executor or trustee under will.—Such record and probate is conclusive in evidence of the validity of the will, until it is vacated on appeal or declared void by a competent tribunal. Provided, that whenever in a will so probated or recorded a bank or trust company shall be named executor and/or trustee and shall have at the time of such probate and recording become absorbed by or consolidated with another bank or trust company or shall have sold and transferred all its assets and liabilities to another bank or trust company doing business in North Carolina, such latter bank or trust company shall be deemed substituted for and shall have all the rights and powers of the former bank or trust company. (Rev., s. 3128; Code, s. 2150; C. C. P., c. 438; 1929, c. 150; 1941, c. 79; C. S. 4145.)

§ 31-20. Wills filed in clerk's office.—All original wills shall remain in the clerk's office, among the records of the court where the same shall be proved, and to such wills any person may have access, as to the other records. If said will contains a devise of real estate, outside said county where said will is probated, then a copy of the said will, together with the probate of the same, certified under the hand and seal of the clerk of the superior court of said county may be recorded in the book of wills and filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of any county in the state in which said land is situated with the same effect as to passing the title to said real estate as if said will had originally been probated and filed in said county and the clerk of the superior court of said last mentioned county had had jurisdiction to probate the same. (Rev., s. 3129; Code, s. 2173; R. C., c. 119, s. 19; 1777, c. 115, s. 59; 1921, c. 108, s. 1; C. S. 4146.)

§ 31-21. Validation of wills heretofore certified and recorded.—All wills which have prior to March 9, 1921, been certified and recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of any county, substantially following the provisions of § 31-20 are hereby validated and approved as to the conveyance and transfer of any title to real estate as contained therein, to the same extent as if said wills had originally been probated and filed in said county, and the clerk of the superior court of said county had had jurisdiction to probate the same, provided the probates and witnesses to the said wills are sufficient and according to law. (1921, c. 108, s. 2; C. S. 4146(a).)

§ 31-22. Certified copy of will proved in another state or country.—When a will, made by a citizen of this state, is proved and allowed in some other state or country, and the original will cannot be removed from its place of legal deposit in such other state or country, for probate in this state, the clerk of the superior court of the county where the testator had his last usual residence or has any property, upon a duly certified copy or exemplification of such will being exhibited to him for probate, shall take every order and proceeding for proving, allowing and recording such copy as by law might be taken upon the production of the original. (Rev., s. 3130; Code, s. 2157; C. C. P., s. 445; R. C., c. 44, s. 9; 1802, c. 623; C. S. 4147.)

§ 31-23. Probate of will made out of the state; probate when witnesses out of state.—Whenever it is suggested to the clerk of the superior court, by affidavit or otherwise, that a will has been made without the state, or that a will has been made in the state and the witnesses thereto have moved out of the state, disposing of or charging land or other property within the state, the clerk of the superior court of the county where the property is situated may issue a commission to such person as he may select, authorizing the commissioner to take the examination of such witnesses as may be produced, touching the execution thereof, and upon return of such commission, with the examination, he may adjudge the will to be duly proved or otherwise, as in cases on the oral examination of witnesses before him, and if duly proved, such will shall be recorded. (Rev., s. 3131; Code, s. 2155; 1899, c. 55; C. C. P., s. 443; C. S. 4148.)

§ 31-24. Probate when witnesses are nonresident; examination before notary public.—Where one or more of the subscribing witnesses to the will of a testator, resident in this state, reside in another state, or in another county in this state than the one in which the will is being probated, the examination of such witnesses may be had, taken and subscribed in the form of an affidavit, before a notary public residing in the county and state in which the witnesses reside; and the affidavits, so taken and subscribed, shall be transmitted by the notary public, under his hand and official seal, to the clerk of the court before whom the will has been filed for probate. If such affidavits are, upon examination by the clerk, found to establish the facts necessary to be established before the clerk to authorize the probate of the will if the witnesses had appeared before him personally, then it shall be the duty of the clerk to order the will to probate, and record the will with the same effect as if the subscribing witnesses had appeared before him in person and been examined under oath. (1917, c. 183; 1933, c. 114; C. S. 4149.)

§ 31-25. Probate when witnesses in another county.—When a will is offered for probate in one county of this state and the witnesses reside in another county, the clerk of the court before whom such will is offered shall have power and authority to issue a subpoena for the witnesses requiring them to appear before him and prove the will; and the clerk shall likewise have power and authority to issue a commission to take the deposition of such witnesses when they reside more than seventy-five miles from the place where the will is to be probated, such deposition and commission to be returned and the clerk to adjudge the will to be duly proven. Also, when it shall be found as a fact upon affidavit or other proof, by the clerk of any county where a will is to be probated, that any witness to the will resides outside of the county, or inside of the county, and seventy-five miles or less from the place where the will is to be probated, and that the witness is so infirm of body as to be unable to appear in person before the clerk to prove the will, then the clerk shall have the power and authority to issue a commission to take the deposition of the witness, the commission and deposition of the witness to be returned, and the clerk to adjudge the will to be duly proved thereon as if the witness had appeared in person before him. (Rev., s. 3132; 1899, c. 55; 1911, c. 13; 1923, c. 59; C. S. 4150.)

§ 31-26. Probate of wills of soldiers and sailors.—In addition to the methods already provided in existing statutes therefor, the will of a soldier or sailor, executed while in the actual service of the United States, shall be admitted to probate (whether there were subscribing witnesses thereto or not, if they, or either of them, is out of the state at the time said will is offered for probate) upon the oath of at least three credible witnesses that the signature to said will is in the handwriting of the person whose will it purports to be. Such will so proven shall be effective to devise real property as well as to bequeath personal estate of all kinds.

§ 31-27. Certified copy of will of nonresident recorded.—Whenever any will made by a citizen or subject of any other state or country is duly proven and allowed in such state or country according to the laws thereof, a copy or exemplification of such will and of the proceedings had in connection with the probate thereof, duly certified, and authenticated by the clerk of the court in which such will has been proved and allowed, if within the United States, or by any ambassador, minister, consul or commercial agent of the United States under his official seal, when produced or exhibited before the clerk of the superior court of any county wherein any property of the testator may be, shall be allowed, filed and recorded in the same manner as if the original and not a copy had been produced, proved and allowed before such clerk. But when any will contains any devise or disposition of real estate in this state, such devise or disposition shall not have any validity or operation unless the will is executed according to the laws of this state, and that fact must appear affirmatively from the testimony of a witness or witnesses to such will, or from findings of fact or recitals in the order of probate, or otherwise, in such certified copy or exemplification of the will and probate proceedings, and if it does not so appear, the clerk before whom the copy is exhibited shall have power to issue a commission for taking proofs touching the execution of the will, as prescribed in § 31-22, and the same may be adjudged duly proved, and shall be recorded as herein provided. (Rev., s. 3133; Code, s. 2156; 1885, c. 393; C. C. P., s. 444; 1883, c. 144; 1941, c. 381; C. S. 4152.)

§ 31-28. Probates validated where proof taken by commissioner or another clerk.—In all cases of the probate of any will made prior to March 8, 1899 in common form before any clerk of the superior courts of this state, where the testimony of the subscribing witnesses has been taken in the state or out of if by any commissioner appointed by said clerk or taken by any other clerk of the superior court in any other county of this state, and the will admitted to probate upon such testimony, the proceedings are validated. (Rev., s. 3134; 1899, c. 680; C. S. 4153.)

§ 31-29. Probates in another state before 1860 validated. — In all cases where any will devises land in this state, and the original will was duly admitted to probate in some other state prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and sixty, and a certified copy of such will and the probate thereof has been admitted to probate and record in any county in this state, and it in any way appears from such recorded copy that there were two subscribing witnesses to such will, and its execution was proved by the examination of such witnesses when the original was admitted to probate, such will shall be held and considered, and is hereby declared to be, good and valid for the purpose of passing title to the lands devised thereby, situated in this state, as fully and completely as if the original will had been duly executed and admitted to probate and recorded in this state in accordance with the laws of this state. (1913, c. 93, s. 1; C. S. 4155.)

§ 31-30. Validation of wills recorded without probate by subscribing witnesses.—In all cases where wills and testaments were executed prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (1875), and which appear as recorded in the record of last wills and testaments to have had two (2) or more witnesses thereto, and such last wills and testaments were admitted to probate and recorded in the record of wills in the proper county in this state prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight (1888), without having been duly proven as provided by law, and such wills were presented to the clerk of the superior court in any county in this state where the makers of said wills owned property, and where the makers of such wills lived and died, and were by such clerks recorded in the record of wills for his county, said wills and testaments or exemplified copies thereof, so recorded, if otherwise sufficient, shall have the effect to pass the title to real or personal property, or both, therein devised and bequeathed, to the same extent and as completely as if the execution thereof had been duly proven by the two (2) subscribing witnesses thereto in the manner provided by law of this state. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent such wills from being impeached for fraud. (1921, c. 66; C. S. 4157(a).)

§ 31-31. Validation of wills admitted on oath of one subscribing witness.—In all cases where last wills and testaments which appear as recorded in the record of last wills and testaments to have had two witnesses thereto and such last wills and testaments were admitted to probate and recorded in the record of wills in the proper county in this state prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety (1890) upon the oath and examination of one of the witnesses, such proof being taken in writing and recorded, and the certificate of probate of the Clerk of the Court states that such a will is proven by one of the subscribing witnesses thereto and the handwriting of the other subscribing witness being a non-resident is proven under oath, and such a will and certificate has been recorded in the record of wills of the proper county, such probate is hereby validated as fully as if the proof of the handwriting of the non-resident witness had been taken in regular form in writing and recorded. (1929, c. 41, ss. 1, 2.)

Art. 6. Caveat to Will.

§ 31-32. When and by whom caveat filed.—At the time of application for probate of any will, and the probate thereof in common form, or at any time within seven years thereafter, any person entitled under such will, or interested in the estate, may appear in person or by attorney before the clerk of the superior court and enter a caveat to the probate of such will: Provided, that if any person entitled to file a caveat be within the age of twenty-one years, or insane, or imprisoned, then such person may file a caveat within three years after the removal of such disability. (Rev., s. 3135; Code, s. 2158; C. C. P., s. 446; 1907, c. 862; 1925, c. 81; C. S. 4158.)

§ 31-33. Bond given and cause transferred to trial docket.—Upon any caveator giving bond, with sufficient surety to be approved by the clerk, in the sum of two hundred dollars, payable to the propounder of the will, conditioned to pay all costs which may be adjudged against such caveator in the superior court by reason of his failure to prosecute his suit with effect, or deposit the money or give a mortgage in lieu of such bond, or shall file affidavits and satisfy the clerk of his inability to give such bonds or secure such costs, the clerk shall transfer the cause to the superior court for trial; and he shall also forthwith issue a citation to all devisees, legatees or other parties in interest within the state, and cause publication to be made, for four weeks, in some newspaper printed in the state, for nonresidents to appear at the term of the superior court, to which the proceeding is transferred and to make themselves proper parties to the proceeding, if they choose. At the term of court to which such proceeding is transferred, or as soon thereafter as motion to that effect shall be made by the propounder, and before trial, the judge shall require any of the persons so cited, either those who make themselves parties with the caveators or whose interests appear to him antagonistic to that of the propounders of the will, and who shall appear to him to be able so to do, to file such bond within such time as he shall direct and before trial; and on failure to file such bond the judge shall dismiss the proceeding. (Rev., s. 3136; Code, s. 2159; 1899, c. 13; 1901, c. 748; C. C. P., s. 447; 1909, c. 74; C. S. 4159.)

§ 31-34. Prosecution bond required in actions to contest wills.—When any action is instituted to contest a will the clerk of the superior court will require the prosecution bond required in other civil actions: Provided, however, that provisions for bringing suit in forma pauperis shall also apply to the provisions of this section. (1937, c. 383.)

§ 31-35. Affidavit of witness as evidence. — Whenever the subscribing witness to any will shall die, or be absent beyond the state, it shall be competent upon any issue of devisavit vel non to give in evidence the affidavits and proofs taken by the clerk upon admitting the will to probate in common form, and such affidavit and proceedings before the clerk shall be prima facie evidence of the due and legal execution of said will. (Rev., s. 3121; 1899, c. 680, s. 2; C. S. 4160.)

§ 31-36. Caveat suspends proceedings under will.—Where a caveat is entered and bond given, the clerk of the superior court shall forthwith issue an order to any personal representative, having the estate in charge, to suspend all further proceedings in relation to the estate, except the preservation of the property and the collection of debts and payment of all taxes and debts that are a lien upon the property of the decedent, as may be allowed by order of the clerk of the superior court, until a decision of the issue is had. (Rev., s. 3137; Code, s. 2160; C. C. P., s. 448; 1927, c. 119; C. S. 4161.)

§ 31-37. Superior court clerks to enter notice of caveat on will book; final judgment also to be entered.—Wherever a caveat is filed with the clerk of the superior court of any county in the state to any last will and testament which has been admitted to probate in said office, it shall be the duty of such clerk, and he is hereby directed to give notice of the filing of such caveat by making an entry upon the page of the will book where such last will and testament is recorded, evidencing that such caveat has been filed and giving the date of such filing. When such caveat and proceedings resulting therefrom shall have resulted in final judgment with respect to such will, the clerk of the court shall make a further entry upon the page of the will book where such last will and testament is recorded to the effect that final judgment has been entered, either sustaining or setting aside such will. (1929, c. 81.)

Art. 7. Construction of Will.

§ 31-38. Devise presumed to be in fee.—When real estate shall be devised to any person, the same shall be held and construed to be a devise in fee simple, unless such devise shall, in plain and express words, show, or it shall be plainly intended by the will, or some part thereof, that the testator intended to convey an estate of less dignity. (Rev., s. 3138; Code, s. 2180; R. C., c. 119, s. 26; 1784, c. 204, s. 12; C. S. 4162.)

§ 31-39. Probate necessary to pass title; recordation in county where land lies; rights of innocent purchasers.—No will shall be effectual to pass real or personal estate unless it shall have been duly proved and allowed in the probate court of the proper county, and a duly certified copy thereof shall be recorded in the office of the superior court clerk of the county wherein the land is situate, and the probate of a will devising real estate shall be conclusive as to the execution thereof, against the heirs and devisees of the testator, whenever the probate thereof, under the like circumstances, would be conclusive against the next of kin and legatees of the testator: Provided, that the probate and registration of any will shall not affect the rights of innocent purchasers for value from the heirs at law of the testator when such purchase is made more than two years after the death of such testator, unless the will has been fraudulently withheld from probate. (Rev., s. 3139; Code, s. 2174; R. C., c. 119, s. 20; 1784, c. 225, s. 6; 1915, c. 219; C. S. 4163.)

§ 31-40. What property passes by will.—Any testator, by his will duly executed, may devise, bequeath, or dispose of all real and personal estate which he shall be entitled to at the time of his death, and which, if not so devised, bequeathed, or disposed of, would descend or devolve upon his heirs at law, or upon his executor or administrator; and the power hereby given shall extend to all contingent, executory, or other future interest in any real or personal estate, whether the testator may or may not be the person or one of the persons in whom the same may become vested, or whether he may be entitled thereto under the instrument by which the same was created, or under any disposition thereof by deed or will; and also to all rights of entry for conditions broken, and other rights of entry; and also to such of the same estates, interests, and rights respectively, and other real and personal estate, as the testator may be entitled to at the time of his death, notwithstanding that he may become entitled to the same subsequently to the execution of his will.

§ 31-41. Will relates to death of testator. — Every will shall be construed, with reference to the real and personal estate comprised therein, to speak and take effect as if it had been executed immediately before the death of the testator, unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will. (Rev., s. 3141; Code, s. 2141; R. C., c. 119, s. 16; 1844, c. 88, s. 3; C. S. 4165.)

§ 31-42. Lapsed and void devises pass under residuary clause.—Unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will, such real estate or interest therein as shall be comprised or intended to be comprised in any devise in such will contained which shall fail or be void by reason of the death of the devisee in the lifetime of the testator, or by reason of such devise being contrary to law or otherwise incapable of taking effect, shall be included in the residuary devise (if any) contained in such will: Provided, there shall be no lapse of the devise or legacy by reason of the death of the devisee or legatee during the life of the testator, if such devisee or legatee would have been an heir at law or distributee of such testator had he died intestate, and if such devisee or legatee shall leave issue surviving him; and if there is issue surviving, then the said issue shall have the devise or bequest named in the will. (Rev., s. 3142; Code, s. 2142; R. C., c. 119, s. 7; 1844, c. 88, s. 4; 1919, c. 28; C. S. 4166.)

§ 31-43. General gift by will an execution of power of appointment.—A general devise of the real estate of the testator, or of his real estate in any place or in the occupation of any person mentioned in the will, or otherwise described in a general manner, shall be construed to include any real estate, or any real estate to which such description shall extend, as the case may be, which he may have power to appoint in any manner he may think proper; and shall operate as an execution of such power, unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will; and in like manner a bequest of the personal estate of the testator, or any bequest of personal property, described in a general manner, shall be construed to include any personal estate, or any personal estate to which such description shall extend, as the case may be, which he may have power to appoint in any manner he may think proper, and shall operate as an execution of such power, unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will. (Rev., s. 3143; Code, s. 2143; R. C., c. 119, s. 8; 1844, c. 88, s. 5; C. S. 4167.)

§ 31-44. Gifts to children dying before testator pass to their issue.—When any person, being a child or other issue of the testator, to whom any real or personal estate shall be devised or bequeathed for any estate or interest not determinable at or before the death of such person, shall die in the lifetime of the testator, leaving issue, and any such issue of such person shall be living at the death of the testator, such devise or bequest shall not lapse, but shall take effect and vest a title to such estate in the issue surviving, if there be any, in the same manner, proportions and estates as if the death of such person had happened immediately after the death of the testator, unless a contrary intention shall appear by the will. (Rev., s. 3144; Code, s. 2144; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 61; C. S. 4168.)

§ 31-45. After-born children share in testator's estate.—Children born after the making of the parent's will, and whose parent shall die without making any provision for them, shall be entitled to such share and proportion of the parent's estate as if he or she had died intestate, and the rights of any such after-born child shall be a lien on every part of the parent's estate, until his several share thereof is set apart in the manner prescribed in §§ 28-153 to 28-158. (Rev., s. 3145; Code, s. 2145; 1868-9, c. 113, s. 62; C. S. 4169.)

32-11. Deposit in names of two or more trustees.
32-12. Cases not provided for in chapter.
32-13. Uniformity of interpretation.

§ 32-1. Short title.—This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Fiduciaries Act. (1923, c. 85, s. 14; C. S. 1864(d).)

§ 32-2. Definition of terms.—1. In this chapter unless the context or subject-matter otherwise requires:

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons, whether incorporated or not, carrying on the business of banking.

"Fiduciary" includes a trustee under any trust, expressed, implied, resulting or constructive, executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, curator, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, assignee for the benefit of creditors, partner, agent, officer of a corporation, public or private, public officer, or any other person acting in a fiduciary capacity for any person, trust or estate.

"Person" includes a corporation, partnership, or other association, or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

"Principal" includes any person to whom a fiduciary as such owes an obligation.

2. A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this chapter when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not. (1923, c. 85, s. 1; C. S. 1864(e).)

§ 32-3. Application of payments made to fiduciaries.—A person who in good faith pays or transfers to a fiduciary any money or other property which the fiduciary as such is authorized to receive, is not responsible for the proper application thereof by the fiduciary; and any right or title acquired from the fiduciary in consideration of such payment or transfer is not invalid in consequence of a misapplication by the fiduciary. (1923, c. 85, s. 2; C. S. 1864(f).)

§ 32-4. Registration of transfer of securities held by fiduciaries.—If a fiduciary in whose name are registered any shares of stock, bonds or other securities of any corporation, public or private, or company or other association, or of any trust, transfers the same, such corporation or company or other association, or any of the managers of the trust, or its or their transfer agent, is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in making the transfer, or to see to the performance of the fiduciary obligation, and is liable for registering such transfer only when registration of the transfer is made with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in making the transfer, or with knowledge of such facts that the action in registering the transfer amounts to bad faith. (1923, c. 85, s. 3; C. S. 1864(g).)

§ 32-5. Transfer of negotiable instrument by fiduciary.—If any negotiable instrument payable or indorsed to a fiduciary as such is indorsed by a fiduciary, or if any negotiable instrument payable or indorsed to his principal is indorsed by a fiduciary empowered to indorse such instrument on behalf of his principal, the indorsee is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in indorsing or delivering the instrument, and is not chargeable with notice that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary unless he takes the instrument with actual knowledge of such breach or with knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounts to bad faith. If, however, such instrument is transferred by the fiduciary in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to the actual knowledge of the creditor, or is transferred in any transaction known by the transferee to be for the personal benefit of the fiduciary, the creditor or other transferee is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in transferring the instrument. (1923, c. 85, s. 4; C. S. 1864(h).)

§ 32-6. Check drawn by fiduciary payable to third person.—If a check or other bill of exchange is drawn by a fiduciary as such, or in the name of his principal by a fiduciary empowered to draw such instrument in the name of his principal, the payee is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the instrument, and is not chargeable with notice that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary unless he takes the instrument with actual knowledge of such breach or with knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounts to bad faith. If, however, such instrument is payable to a personal creditor of the fiduciary and delivered to the creditor in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to the actual knowledge of the creditor, or is drawn and delivered in any transaction known by the payee to be for the personal benefit of the fiduciary, the creditor or other payee is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the instrument. (1923, c. 85, s. 5; C. S. 1864(i).)

ciary.—If a check or other bill of exchange is drawn by a fiduciary as such or in the name of his principal by a fiduciary empowered to draw such instrument in the name of his principal, payable to the fiduciary personally, or payable to a third person and by him transferred to the fiduciary, and is thereafter transferred by the fiduciary, whether in payment of a personal debt of the fiduciary or otherwise, the transferee is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in transferring the instrument, and is not chargeable with notice that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary unless he takes the instrument with actual knowlege of such breach or with knowlege of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounts to bad faith. (1923, c. 85, s. 6; C. S. 1864(j).)

§ 32-8. Deposit in name of fiduciary as such. —If a deposit is made in a bank to the credit of a fiduciary as such, the bank is authorized to pay the amount of the deposit or any part thereof upon the check of the fiduciary, signed with the name in which such deposit is entered, without being liable to the principal, unless the bank pays the check with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing the check or with knowledge of such facts that its action in paying the check amounts to bad faith.

If, however, such a check is payable to the drawee bank and is delivered to it in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to it, the bank is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the check. (1923, c. 85, s. 7; C. S. 1864(k).)

§ 32-9. Deposit in name of principal. — If a check is drawn upon the account of his principal in a bank by a fiduciary who is empowered to draw checks upon his principal's account, the bank is authorized to pay such check without being liable to the principal, unless the bank pays the check with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing such check, or with knowledge of such facts that its action in paying the check amounts to bad faith. If, however, such a check is payable to the drawee bank and is delivered to it in payment of or as security for a personal debt of the fiduciary to it, the bank is liable to the principal if the fiduciary in fact commits a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in drawing or delivering the check. (1923, c. 85, s. 8; C. S. 1864(l).)

§ 32-10. Deposit in fiduciary's personal account. —If a fiduciary makes a deposit in a bank to his personal credit of checks drawn by him upon an account in his own name as fiduciary or of checks payable to him as fiduciary or of checks drawn by him upon an account in the name of his principal if he is empowered to draw checks thereon, or checks payable to his principal and indorsed by him, if he is empowered to indorse such checks, or if he otherwise makes a deposit of funds held by him as fiduciary, the bank receiving such deposit is not bound to inquire whether the fiduciary is committing thereby a breach of his obligation as fiduciary; and the bank is authorized to pay the amount of the deposit or any part thereof upon the personal check of the fiduciary without being liable to the principal, unless the bank receives the deposit or pays the check with actual knowledge that the fiduciary is committing a breach of his obligation as fiduciary in making such deposit or in drawing such check, or with knowledge of such facts that its action in receiving the deposit or paying the check amounts to bad faith. (1923, c. 85, s. 9; C. S. 1864(m).)

§ 32-11. Deposit in names of two or more trustees.—When a deposit is made in a bank in the name of two or more persons as trustees and a check is drawn upon the trust account by any trustee or trustees authorized by the other trustee or trustees to draw checks upon the trust account, neither the payee nor other holder nor the bank is bound to inquire whether it is a breach of trust to authorize such trustee or trustees to draw checks upon the trust account, and is not liable unless the circumstances be such that the action of the payee or other holder or the bank amounts to bad faith. (1923, c. 85, s. 10; C. S. 1864(n).)

§ 32-12. Cases not provided for in chapter.— In any case not provided for in this chapter the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant and those rules of law and equity relating to trusts, agency, negotiable instruments and banking, shall continue to apply. (1923, c. 85, s. 12; C. S. 1864(p).)

§ 32-13. Uniformity of interpretation. — This chapter shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1923, c. 85, s. 13; C. S. 1864(q).)

33-62. Guardian not liable except for misconduct.

Art. 1. Creation and Termination of Guardianship.

§ 33-1. Jurisdiction in clerk of superior court.—The clerks of the superior court within their respective counties have full power, from time to time, to take cognizance of all matters concerning orphans and their estates and to appoint guardians in all cases of infants, idiots, lunatics, inebriates, and inmates of the Caswell training school: Provided, that guardians shall be appointed by the clerks of the superior courts in the counties in which the infants, idiots, lunatics, or inebriates reside, unless the guardians be the next of kin of such incompetents or a person designated by such next of kin in writing filed with the clerk, in which case, guardians may be appointed by the clerk of the superior court in any county in which is located a substantial part of the estates belonging to such incompetents. (Rev., s. 1766; Code, s. 1566; R. C., c. 54, s. 2; 1762, c. 69, ss. 5, 7; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 4; 1917, c. 41, s. 1; 1935, c. 467; C. S. 2150.)

§ 33-2. Appointment by parents; effect; powers and duties of guardian.—Any father, though he be a minor, may, by deed executed in his lifetime and with the written consent and privy examination of the mother, if she be living, or by his last will and testament in writing, if the mother be dead, dispose of the custody and tuition of any of his infant children, being unmarried, and whether born at his death or in ventre sa mere, for such time as the children may remain under twenty-one years of age, or for any less time. Or in case the father is dead and has not exercised his said right of appointment, or has willfully abandoned his wife, then the mother, whether of full age or minor, may do so. Every such appointment shall be good and effectual against any person claiming the custody and tuition of such child or children. Every guardian by deed or will shall have the same powers and rights and be subject to the same liabilities and regulations as other guardians: Provided, however, that in the event it is so specifically directed in said deed or will such guardian so appointed shall be permitted to qualify and serve without giving bond, unless the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction of said guardianship shall find as a fact and adjudge that the interest of such minor or incompetent would be best served by requiring such guardian to give bond. (Rev., ss. 1762, 1763, 1764; Code, ss. 1562, 1563, 1564; R. C., c. 54; 1762, c. 69; 1868-9, c. 201;

§ 33-3. Mother's guardianship on death of father.—In case of the death of the father of an infant, the mother of such child surviving such father shall immediately become the natural guardian of such child to the same extent and in the same manner, plight and condition as the father would be if living; and the mother in such case shall have all the powers, rights and privileges, and be subject to all the duties and obligations of a natural guardian. But this shall not be construed as abridging the powers of the courts over minors and their estates and over the appointment of guardians. (Rev., s. 1765; Code, s. 1565; 1883, c. 364; C. S. 2152.)

§ 33-4. Appointment on divorce of parents.—When parents are divorced and a child is entitled to any estate, the court granting the divorce must certify that fact to the clerk of the superior court, to the end that he may appoint a fit and proper person to take the care and management of such estate, whose powers and duties shall be the same in all respects as other guardians, except that a guardian so appointed shall not have any authority over the person of such child, unless the guardian be the father or mother. (Rev., s. 1770; Code, s. 1571; R. C., c. 54, s. 4; 1838, c. 16; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 9; C. S. 2153.)

§ 33-5. Appointment when father living.—The clerk of the superior court may appoint a guardian of the estate of any minor, although the father of such minor be living. And the guardian so appointed shall be governed in all respects by the laws relative to guardians of the estate in other cases, but shall have no authority over the person of such minor. (Rev., s. 1771; Code, s. 1572; R. C., c. 54, ss. 4, 7; 1806, c. 707; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 10; C. S. 2154.)

§ 33-6. Separate appointment for person and estate; yearly support specified; payments allowed in accounting.—Instead of granting general guardianship to one person, the clerk of the superior court may commit the tuition and custody of the person to one and the charge of his estate to another, whenever at any time during minority, inebriety, idiocy or lunacy, it appears most conducive to the proper care of the orphan's, inebriate's, idiot's, or lunatic's estate, and to his suitable maintenance, nurture and education. In such cases the clerk must order what yearly sums of money or other provisions shall be allowed for the support and education of the orphan, or for the maintenance of the idiot, lunatic or inebriate, and must prescribe the time and manner of paying the same; but such allowance may, upon application and satisfactory proof made, be reduced or enlarged, or otherwise modified, as the ward's condition in life and the kind and value of his estate may require. All payments made by the guardian of the estate to the tutor of the person, according to any such order, shall be deemed just disbursements and be allowed in the settlement of his accounts; but for the payment thereof by the one and the receipt thereof by the other merely, no commissions shall be allowed to either, though commissions may be allowed to the tutor of the person on his disbursements only. (Rev., ss. 1767, 1768, 1769; Code, ss. 1567, 1568, 1569; R. C., c. 54, s. 3; 1840, c. 31; 1868-9, c. 201, ss. 6, 7; C. S. 2155.)

§ 33-7. Proceedings on application for guardianship.—On application to any clerk of the superior court for the custody and guardianship of any infant, idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or inmate of the Caswell training school, it is the duty of such clerk to inform himself of the circumstances of the case on the oath of the applicant, or of any other person, and if none of the relatives of the infant, idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or inmate of the Caswell training school are present at such application, the clerk must assign, or for any other good cause he may assign, a day for the hearing; and he shall thereupon direct notice thereof to be given to such of the relatives and to such other persons, if any, as he may deem it proper to notify. On the hearing he shall ascertain, on oath, the amount of the property, real and personal, of the infant, idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or inmate of the Caswell training school, and the value of the rents and profits of the real estate, and he may grant or refuse the application, or commit the guardianship to some other person, as he may think best for the interest of the infant, idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or inmate of the Caswell training school. (Rev., s. 1772; Code, s. 1620; C. C. P., s. 474; 1917, c. 41, s. 2; C. S. 2156.)

§ 33-8. Letters of guardianship.—The clerk of the superior court must issue to every guardian appointed by him a letter of appointment, which shall be signed by him and sealed with the seal of his office. (Rev., s. 1773; Code, s. 1621; C. C. P., c. 475; C. S. 2157.)

§ 33-9. Removal by clerk.—The clerks of the superior court have power, on information or complaint made, at all times to remove guardians and appoint successors, to make and establish rules for the better ordering, managing and securing infants' estates, and for the better education and maintenance of wards; and it is their duty to do so in the following cases:

1. Where the guardian wastes or converts the money or estate of the ward to his own use.

2. Where the guardian in any manner mismanages the estate.

3. Where the guardian neglects to educate or maintain the ward in a manner suitable to his or her degree.

4. Where the guardian is legally disqualified to act as a person would be to be appointed administrator.

5. Where the guardian or his sureties are likely to become insolvent or nonresidents of the state. (Rev., s. 1774; Code, s. 1583; R. C., c. 54, ss. 2, 13; 1762, c. 69; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 20; C. C. P., ss. 470, 476; C. S. 2158.)

§ 33-10. Interlocutory orders on revocation.—In all cases where the letters of a guardian are revoked, the clerk of the superior court may, from time to time, pending any controversy in respect to such removal, make such interlocutory orders and decrees as will tend to the better securing the estate of the ward, or other party seeking relief by such revocation. (Rev., s. 1775; Code, s. 1607; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 44; C. S. 2159.)

§ 33-11. Resignation; effect; accounting on resignation.—Any guardian wishing to resign his trust may apply in writing to the superior court, setting forth the circumstances of his case. If, at the time of making the application, he also exhibits his final account for settlement, and if the clerk of the superior court is satisfied that the guardian has been faithful and has truly accounted, and if a competent person can be procured to succeed in the guardianship, or the clerk of the superior court may be appointed receiver of the estate of the ward, and if so appointed the clerk of the superior court may accept the resignation of the guardian and discharge him from the trust. But the guardian so discharged and his sureties are still liable in relation to all matters connected with the trust before the resignation. (Rev., s. 1776; Code, s. 1608; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 45; 1921, c. 95; C. S. 2160.)

Art. 2. Guardian's Bond.

§ 33-12. Bond to be given before receiving property.—No guardian appointed for an infant, idiot, lunatic, insane person or inebriate, shall be permitted to receive property of the infant, idiot, lunatic, insane person or inebriate until he shall have given sufficient security, approved by a judge, or the court, to account for and apply the same under the direction of the court. (Rev., s. 1777; Code, s. 1573; C. C. P., s. 355; C. S. 2161.)

§ 33-13. Terms and conditions of bond; increased on sale of realty. — Every guardian of the estate, before letters of appointment are issued to him, must give a bond payable to the state, with two or more sufficient sureties, to be acknowledged before and approved by the clerk of the superior court, and to be jointly and severally bound. Where such bond is executed by personal sureties the penalty in such bond must be double, at least, the value of all personal property and the rents and profits issuing from the real estate of the ward, which value is to be ascertained by the clerk of the superior court by the examination, on oath, of the applicant for guardianship, or any other person, but where such bond shall be executed by a duly authorized surety company, the penalty in such bond may be fixed at not less than one and one-fourth times the value of all personal property and the rents and profits issuing from the real estate of the ward. Provided, however, the clerk of the superior court may accept bond in estates, where the value of all personal property and rents and profits from real estate exceeds the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, in a sum equal to the value of all the personal property and rents and profits from real estate, plus ten per cent of the value of all the personal property and rents and profits from real estate belonging to the estate. The bond must be conditioned that such guardian shall faithfully execute the trust reposed in him as such, and obey all lawful orders of the clerk or judge touching the guardianship of the estate committed to him. If, on application by the guardian, the court or judge shall decree a sale for any of the causes prescribed by law of the property of such infant, idiot, lunatic or insane person, before such sale be confirmed, the guardian shall be required to file a bond as now required in double the amount of the real property so sold, except where such bond is executed by a duly authorized surety company, in which case the penalty of said bond need not exceed one and one-fourth times the amount of said real property so sold. (Rev., ss. 323, 1778; Code, s. 1574; R. C., c. 54, s. 5; 1762, c. 69, s. 7; 1825, c. 1285, s. 2; 1833, c. 17; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 11; 1874-5, c. 214; 1925, c. 131; 1935, c. 385; C. S. 2162.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1935, c. 147.

§ 33-14. To be recorded in clerk's office; action on bond.—The bond so taken shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court appointing the guardian; and any person injured by a breach of the condition thereof may prosecute a suit thereon, as in other actions. (Rev., s. 1779; Code, s. 1575; R. C., c. 54, s. 5; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 12; C. S. 2163.)

§ 33-15. Where several wards with estate in common, one bond sufficient. — When the same person is appointed guardian to two or more minors, idiots, lunatics or insane persons possessed of one estate in common, the clerk of the superior court may take one bond only in such case, upon which each of the minors or persons for whose benefit the bond is given, or their heirs or personal representatives, may have a separate action. (Rev., s. 1780; Code, s. 1576; R. C., c. 54, s. 8; 1822, c. 1161; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 13; C. S. 2164.)

§ 33-16. Renewal of bond every three years; enforcing renewal. — Every guardian shall renew his bond before the clerk of the superior court every three years, during the continuance of the guardianship. The clerk of the superior court shall issue a citation against every guardian failing to renew his bond, requiring such guardian to renew his bond within twenty days after service of the citation; and on return of the citation duly served and failure of the guardian to comply therewith, the clerk shall remove him and appoint a successor. (Rev., ss. 324, 1781, 1782; Code, ss. 1581, 1582; R. C., c. 54, s. 10; 1762, c. 69, s. 15; 1868-9, c. 201, ss. 18, 19; C. S. 2165.)

§ 33-17. Relief of endangered sureties. — Any surety of a guardian, who is in danger of sustaining loss by his suretyship, may file his complaint before the clerk of the superior court where the guardianship was granted, setting forth the circumstances of his case and demanding relief; and thereupon the guardian shall be required to answer the complaint within twenty days after service of the summons. If, upon the hearing, the clerk of the superior court deem the surety entitled to relief, the same may be granted by compelling the guardian to give a new bond, or to indemnify the surety against apprehended loss, or by the removal of the guardian from his trust; and in case the guardian fail to give a new bond or security to indemnify when required to do so within reasonable time, the clerk of the superior court must enter a peremptory order for his removal, and his authority as guardian shall thereupon cease. (Rev., s. 1783; Code, s. 1606; R. C., c. 54, s. 35; 1762, c. 69, ss. 21, 22; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 43; C. S. 2166.)

§ 33-18. Liability of clerk for taking insufficient bond.—If any clerk of the superior court shall commit the estate of an infant, idiot, lunatic, insane person or inebriate to the charge or guardianship of any person without taking good and sufficient security for the same as directed by law, such clerk shall be liable, on his official bond, at the suit of the party aggrieved, for all loss and damages sustained for want of security being taken; but if the sureties were good at the time of their being accepted, the clerk of the superior court shall not be liable. (Rev., s. 1784; Code, s. 1614; R. C., c. 54, s. 2; 1762, c. 69, ss. 5, 6; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 51; C. S. 2167.)

§ 33-19. Liability of clerk for other defaults.— If any clerk of the superior court shall willfully or negligently do, or omit to do, any other act prohibited, or other duty imposed on him by law, by which act or omission the estate of any ward suffers damage, he shall be liable therefor as directed in § 33-18. (Rev., s. 1785; Code, s. 1615; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 52; C. S. 2168.)

Art. 3. Powers and Duties of Guardian.

§ 33-20. To take charge of estate. — Every guardian shall take possession, for the use of the ward, of all his estate, and may bring all necessary actions therefor. (Rev., s. 1786; Code, s. 1588; R. C., c. 54, s. 21; 1762, c. 69, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 25; C. S. 2169.)

§ 33-21. How sales and rentals made. — All sales and rentings by guardians shall be publicly made, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m., after twenty days notice posted at the courthouse and four other public places in the county. But, upon petition by the guardian, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land of the ward is situated, or of the county wherein the guardian has qualified, may make an order, on satisfactory evidence, upon the oath of at least two disinterested freeholders acquainted with the said land, that the best interests of the said ward will be subserved by a private renting of said land, allowing the guardian to rent the land privately. The terms of all such rentings shall be reported to said clerk of the superior court and be approved by him. The proceeds of all sales of personal estate and rentings of real property, except the rentings of lands leased for agricultural purposes, when not for cash, shall be secured by bond and good security. (Rev., s. 1788; Code, s. 1590; 1891, c. 83; 1901, c. 97; R. C., c. 54, s. 26; 1793, c. 391; C. S. 2171.)

§ 33-22. When lands may be leased. — The guardian may lease the lands of an infant for a term not exceeding the end of the current year in which the infant shall become of age, or die in nonage. But no guardian, without leave of the clerk of the superior court, shall lease any land of his ward without impeachment of waste, or for a term of more than three years, unless at a rent not less than three per centum on the assessed taxable value of the land. (Rev., s. 1789; Code, s. 1591; R. C., c. 54, s. 25; 1762, c. 69, s. 13; 1794, c. 413, s. 2; C. S. 2172.)

§ 33-23. When guardians to cultivate lands of wards. — Where any parent of a minor child qualifies as guardian of such child, and the ward owns or is entitled to the possession of any real estate used or which may be used for agricultural purposes, such guardian may make application to the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the land is situate for permission to cultivate it, and the petition shall set forth the nature, extent and location of the same. It shall then be the duty of the clerk to appoint three disinterested resident freeholders, who shall go upon the land and, after being sworn to act impartially, assess the annual rental value thereof. The commissioners shall report their proceedings and findings to the clerk within ten days after the notification of their appointment, and if the clerk shall deem the same to be the interest of the ward he shall make an order allowing the guardian to cultivate the land for a term not exceeding three years at the annual rental value assessed by the commissioners to be paid to the ward by the guardian. The term, however, shall not extend beyond the minority of the minor. The commissioners shall receive as compensation for said services the same fees as are allowed commissioners in partition of real estate. (1909, c. 57; C. S. 2173.)

§ 33-24. Guardians' powers enlarged to permit cultivation of ward's lands or continuation of ward's business.—In addition to the powers given to guardians under the general laws of the State, all guardians may, upon presentation of satisfactory evidence, with approval of the clerk of superior court, which approval must be concurred in by the resident judge or other regular or special judge holding courts in the district, cause lands to be cultivated and make such contracts with reference thereto as said guardian may deem to the best interest of his ward's estate, and under the direction of the clerk of superior court, with the approval of the resident judge or other regular or special judge holding courts in the district, continue to operate any business or business enterprise of his ward and make such contract, agreements, and settlements with reference thereto as the clerk of superior court, with the approval of said resident judge or other regular or special judge holding courts in the district, may determine necessary or find to be to the best interest of the estate. (1935, c. 24.)

§ 33-25. Guardians and other fiduciaries authorized to buy real estate foreclosed under mortgages executed to them.—On application of the guardian or other fiduciary of any idiot, inebriate, lunatic, non compos mentis or any person incompetent from want of understanding to manage his own affairs for any cause or reason, or any minor or infant, or any other person for whom such guardian or fiduciary has been appointed, by petition, verified upon oath, to the superior court, showing that the purchase of real estate is necessary to avoid a loss to the said ward's estate by reason of the inadequacy of the amount bid at foreclosure sale under a mortgage or deed of trust securing the re-payment of funds previously loaned the mortgagor by said guardian or other fiduciary, and that the interest of the ward would be materially promoted by said purchase the proceeding shall be conducted as in other cases of special proceedings; and the truth of the matter alleged in the petition being ascertained by satisfactory proof, or by affidavit of three disinterested freeholders over twenty-one years of age who reside in the county in which said land lies, a decree may thereupon be made that said real estate be purchased by such person; but no purchase of real estate shall be made until approved by a judge of the superior court, nor shall the same be valid, nor any conveyance of the title made, unless confirmed and directed by a judge, and then only in compliance with the terms and conditions set out in said order and judgment. (1935, c. 156.)

§ 33-26. Plate and jewelry to be kept. — All plate and jewelry shall be preserved and delivered to the ward at age, in kind, according to weight and quantity. (Rev., s. 1791; Code, s. 1597; 1895, c. 74; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 34; C. S. 2175.)

§ 33-27. Personal representative of guardian to pay over to clerk.—In all cases where a guardian of any minor child or of an idiot, lunatic, inebriate or insane person dies, it is competent for the executor or admininistrator of such deceased guardian, at any time after the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, to pay into the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where such deceased guardian was appointed, any moneys belonging to any such minor child, idiot, lunatic, insane person or inebriate, and any such payment shall have the effect to discharge the estate of said deceased guardian and his sureties upon his guardian bond to the extent of the amount so paid. (Rev., s. 1794; Code, s. 1622; 1881, c. 301, s. 2; C. S. 2176.)

§ 33-28. Collection of claims; duty and liability. —Every guardian shall diligently endeavor to collect, by all lawful means, all bonds, notes, obligations or moneys due his ward when any debtor or his sureties are likely to become insolvent, on pain of being liable for the same. (Rev., s. 1795; Code, s. 1593; R. C., c. 54, s. 23; 1762, c. 69, s. 10; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 30; C. S. 2177.)

§ 33-29. Liability for lands sold for taxes.—If any guardian suffer his ward's lands to lapse or become forfeited or be sold for nonpayment of taxes or other dues, he shall be liable to answer for the full value thereof to his ward. (Rev., s. 1796; Code, s. 1595; R. C., c. 54, s. 27; 1762, c. 69, s. 14; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 32; C. S. 2178.)

§ 33-30. Liability for costs.—All fees and costs of the superior court for issuing orders, citations, summonses or other process against guardians for their supposed defaults shall be paid by the party found in default. (Rev., s. 1797; Code, s. 1611; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 48; C. S. 2179.)

Art. 4. Sales of Ward's Estate.

§ 33-31. Special proceedings to sell; judge's approval required.—On application of the guardian by petition, verified upon oath, to the superior court, showing that the interest of the ward would be materially promoted by the sale or mortgage of any part of his estate, real or personal, the proceeding shall be conducted as in other cases of special proceedings; and the truth of the matter alleged in the petition being ascertained by satisfactory proof, a decree may thereupon be made that a sale or mortgage be had by such person, in such way and on such terms as may be most advantageous to the interest of the ward; but no sale or mortgage shall be made until approved by the judge of the court, nor shall the same be valid, nor any conveyance of the title made, unless confirmed and directed by the judge, and the proceeds of the sale or mortgage shall be exclusively applied and secured to such purposes and on such trusts as the judge shall specify. The guardian may not mortgage the property of his ward for a term of years in excess of the term fixed by the court in its decree. The word "mortgage" whenever used herein shall be construed to include deeds in trust. (Rev., s. 1798; Code, s. 1602; R. C., c. 54, ss. 32, 33; 1827, c. 33, 1868-9, c. 201, s. 39; 1917, c. 258, s. 1; 1923, c. 67, s. 1; C. S. 2180.)

§ 33-32. Fund from sale has character of estate sold and subject to same trusts. — Whenever, in consequence of any sale under § 33-31, the real or personal property of the ward is saved from demands to which in the first instance it may be liable, the final decree shall declare and set apart a portion of the personal or real estate thus saved, of value equal to the real and personal estate sold, as property exchanged for that sold; and in all sales by guardians whereby real is substituted by personal, or personal by real property, the beneficial interest in the property acquired shall be enjoyed, alienated, devised or bequeathed, and shall descend and be distributed, as by law the property sold might and would have been had it not been sold, until it be reconverted from the character thus impressed upon it by some act of the owner and restored to its character proper. (Rev., s. 1799; Code, s. 1603; R. C., c. 54, s. 33; 1827, c. 33, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 40; C. S. 2181.)

§ 33-33. Sale of ward's estate to make assets.— When a guardian has notice of a debt or demand against the estate of his ward, he may apply by petition, setting forth the facts, to the clerk of the superior court wherein the guardianship was granted, for an order to sell so much of the personal or real estate as may be sufficient to discharge such debt or demand; and the order of the court shall particularly specify what property is to be sold and the terms of sale; but no real estate shall be sold under this section, in any case, without the revision and confirmation of the order therefor by the judge of the superior court. The proceeds of sale under this section shall be considered as assets in the hands of the guardian for the benefit of creditors, in like manner as assets in the hands of a personal representative; and the same proceedings may be had against the guardian with respect to such assets as might be taken against an executor, administrator or collector in similar cases. (Rev., ss. 1800, 1801; Code, ss. 1604, 1605; R. C., c. 54, s. 34; 1789, c. 311, s. 5; 1868-9, c. 201, ss. 41, 42; C. S. 2182.)

§ 33-34. To sell perishable goods on order of clerk. — Every guardian shall sell, by order of the clerk of the superior court, all such goods and chattels of his ward as may be liable to perish or be the worse for keeping. Every such order shall be entered in the order record of the superior court and must contain a descriptive list of the property to be sold, with the terms of sale. (Rev., s. 1787; Code, s. 1589; R. C., c. 54, s. 22; 1762, c. 69, s. 10; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 26; C. S. 2170.)

§ 33-35. When timber may be sold.—In case the land cannot be rented for enough to pay the taxes and other dues thereof, and there is not money sufficient for that purpose, the guardian, with the consent of the clerk of the superior court, may annually dispose of or use so much of the lightwood, and box or rent so many pine trees, or sell so much of the timber on the same, as may raise enough to pay the taxes and other duties hereon, and no more. (Rev., s. 1790; Code, s. 1596; R. C., c. 54, s. 27; 1762, c. 69, s. 14; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 33; C. S. 2174.)

Art. 5. Returns and Accounting.

§ 33-36. Return within three months.—Every guardian, within three months after his appointment, shall exhibit an account, upon oath, of the estate of his ward, to the clerk of the superior court; but such time may be extended by the clerk of the superior court, on good cause shown, not exceeding six months. (Rev., s. 1802; Code, s. 1577; R. C., c. 54, s. 11; 1762, c. 69, s. 9; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 14; C. S. 2183.)

§ 33-37. Procedure to compel return.—In cases of default to exhibit the return required by § 33-36, the clerk of the superior court must issue an order requiring the guardian to file such return forthwith, or to show cause why an attachment should not issue against him. If, after due service of the order, the guardian does not, on the return day of the order, file such return, or obtain further time to file the same, the clerk of the superior court shall issue an attachment against him, and commit him to the common jail of the county till he files such return. (Rev., s. 1803; Code, s. 1578; R. C., c. 54, s. 12; 1762, c. 69, s. 15; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 15; C. S. 2184.)

§ 33-38. Additional assets to be returned.—Whenever further property of any kind, not included in any previous return, comes to the hands or knowledge of any guardian, he must cause the same to be returned within three months after the possession or discovery thereof; and the making of such return of new assets, from time to time, may be enforced in the same manner as prescribed in § 33-37. (Rev., s. 1804; Code, s. 1579; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 16; C. S. 2185.)

§ 33-39. Annual accounts.—Every guardian shall, within twelve months from the date of his qualification or appointment, and annually, so long as any of the estate remains in his control, file in the office of the clerk of the superior court an inventory and account, under oath, of the amount of property received by him, or invested by him, and the manner and nature of such investment, and his receipts and disbursements for the past year in the form of debit and credit. He must produce vouchers for all payments. The clerk of the superior court may examine on oath such accounting party, or any other person, concerning the receipts, disbursements or any other matter relating to the estate; and having carefully revised and audited such account, if he approve the same, he must indorse his approval thereon, which shall be deemed prima facie evidence of correctness. (Rev., s. 1805; Code, s. 1617; R. C., c. 54, ss. 11, 12; 1762, c. 69, ss. 9, 15; 1871-2, c. 46; C. S. 2186.)

§ 33-40. Procedure to compel accounting.—If any guardian omit to account, as directed in § 33-39, or renders an insufficient and unsatisfactory account, the clerk of the superior court shall forthwith order such guardian to render a full and satisfactory account, as required by law, within twenty days after service of the order. Upon return of the order, duly served, if such guardian fail to appear or refuse to exhibit such account, the clerk of the superior court may issue an attachment against him for contempt and commit him till he exhibits such account, and may likewise remove him from office. And in all proceedings hereunder the defaulting guardian will be liable personally for the costs of the said proceeding, including the costs of service of all notices or writs incidental to, or thereby accruing, or the amount of the costs of such proceeding may be deducted from any commissions which may be found due said guardian on settlement of the estate. Where a corporation is guardian, the president, cashier, trust officer or the person or persons having charge of the particular estate for said corporation, or the person to whom the duty of making reports of said estate has been assigned by the officers or directors of said corporation, may be proceeded against and committed to jail as herein provided as if he or they were the guardian or guardians personally: Provided, it is found as a fact that the failure or omission to file such account or to obey the order of the court in reference thereto is willful on the part of the officer charged therewith: Provided further, the corporation itself may also be fined and/or removed as such guardian for such failure or omission. (Rev., s. 1806; Code, s. 1618; C. C. P., s. 479; 1929, c. 9, s. 2; 1933, c. 317; C. S. 2187.)

§ 33-41. Final account.—A guardian may be required to file such account at any time after six months from the ward's coming of full age or the cessation of the guardianship; but such account may be filed voluntarily at any time, and, whether the accounting be voluntary or compulsory, it shall be audited and recorded by the clerk of the superior court. (Rev., s. 1807; Code, s. 1619; C. C. P., s. 481; C. S. 2188.)

§ 33-42. Expenses and disbursements credited to guardian.—Every guardian may charge in his annual account all reasonable disbursements and expenses; and if it appear that he has really and bona fide disbursed more in one year than the profits of the ward's estate, for his education and maintenance, the guardian shall be allowed and paid for the same out of the profits of the estate in any other year; but such disbursements must, in all cases, be suitable to the degree and circumstances of the estate of the ward. (Rev., s. 1808; Code, s. 1612; R. C., c. 54, s. 28; 1762, c. 69, ss. 18, 19; 1799, c. 536, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 49; C. S. 2189.)

§ 33-43. Commissions.—The superior court shall allow commissions to the guardian for his time and trouble in the management of the ward's estate, in the same manner and under the same rules and restrictions as allowances are made to executors, administrators and collectors. (Rev., s. 1809; Code, s. 1613; R. C., c. 54, s. 28; 1762, c. 69, ss. 18, 19; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 50; C. S. 2190.)

Art. 6. Public Guardians.

§ 33-44. Appointment; term; oath.—There may be in every county a public guardian, to be appointed by the clerk of the superior court for a term of eight years. The public guardian shall take and subscribe an oath (or affirmation) faithfully and honestly to discharge the duties imposed upon him; the oath so taken and subscribed shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court. (Rev., ss. 1758, 1759; Code, ss. 1556, 1560; 1874-5, c. 221, ss. 1, 5; C. S. 2191.)

§ 33-45. Bond of public guardian; increasing bond.—The public guardian shall enter into bond with three or more sureties, approved by the clerk in the penal sum of six thousand dollars, payable to the state of North Carolina, conditioned faithfully to perform the duties of his office and obey all lawful orders of the superior or other courts touching said guardianship of all wards, money or estate that may come into his hands. Whenever the aggregate value of the real and personal estate belonging to his several wards exceeds one-half the bond herein required the clerk of the superior court shall require him to enlarge his bond in amount so as to cover at least double the aggregate amount under his control as guardian. (Rev., ss. 321, 322; Code, ss. 1557, 1558; 1874-5, c. 221, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 2192.)

§ 33-46. Powers, duties, liabilities, compensation.—The powers and duties of said public guardian shall be the same as other guardians, and he shall be subject to the same liabilities as other guardians under the existing laws, and shall receive the same compensation as other guardians. (Rev., s. 1761; Code, s. 1561; 1874-5, c. 221, ss. 6, 7; C. S. 2193.)

§ 33-47. When letters issue to public guardian.—The public guardian shall apply for and obtain letters of guardianship in the following cases:

1. When a period of six months has elapsed from the discovery of any property belonging to any minor, idiot, lunatic, insane person or inebriate, without guardian.

2. When any person entitled to letters of guardianship shall request in writing the clerk of the superior court to issue letters to the public guardian; but it is lawful and the duty of the clerk of the superior court to revoke said letters of guardianship at any time after issuing the same upon application in writing by any person entitled to qualify as guardian, setting forth a sufficient cause for such revocation. (Rev., s. 1760; Code, s. 1561; 1874-5, c. 221, ss. 6, 7; C. S. 2194.)

Art. 7. Foreign Guardians.

§ 33-48. Right to removal of ward's personalty from state.—Where any ward, idiot, lunatic or insane person, residing in another state or territory, or in the District of Columbia, or Canada, or other foreign country, is entitled to any personal estate in this state, or personal property substituted for realty by decree of court, or to any money arising from the sale of real estate, whether the same be in the hands of any guardian residing in this state, or of any executor, administrator or other person holding for the ward, idiot, lunatic or insane person, or if the same (not being adversely held and claimed) be not in the lawful possession or control of any person, the guardian of the ward, idiot, lunatic or insane person, duly appointed at the place where such ward, idiot, lunatic or insane person resides, or in the event no guardian has been appointed the court or officer of the court authorized by the laws of the state or territory or for the District of Columbia or Canada or other foreign country to receive moneys belonging to any infants, idiots, lunatics or insane persons when no guardian has been appointed for such person, may apply to have such estate removed to the residence of the infant, idiot, lunatic or insane person by petition filed before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the property or some portion thereof is situated; which shall be proceeded with as in other cases of special proceedings. (Rev., s. 1816; Code, ss. 1598, 1601; R. C., c. 54, s. 29; 1820, c. 1044; 1842, c. 38; 1868-9, c. 201, ss. 35, 38; 1874-5, c. 168; 1913, c. 86, s. 1; 1937, c. 307; C. S. 2195.)

§ 33-49. Contents of petition; parties defendant.—The petitioner must show to the court a copy of his appointment as guardian and bond duly authenticated, and must prove to the court that the bond is sufficient, as well in the ability of the sureties as in the sum mentioned therein, to secure all the estate of the ward wherever situated. Any person may be made a party defendant to the proceeding who may be made a party defendant in civil actions under the provisions of the chapter entitled Civil Procedure. (Rev., ss. 1817, 1818; Code, ss. 1599, 1600; R. C., c. 54, s. 30; 1820, c. 1044, s. 2; 1842, c. 38; 1868-9, c. 201, ss. 36, 37; C. S. 2196.)

Art. 8. Estates without Guardian.

§ 33-50. Duty of grand jury as to orphans and guardians.—The grand jury of every county is charged with and shall present to the superior court the names of all orphan children that have no guardian or are not bound out to some trade or employment. They shall further inquire of all abuses, mismanagement and neglect of all such guardians as are appointed by the clerk of the superior court. The clerk of the superior court shall, at each term of the superior court, lay before the grand jury a list of all the guardians acting in his county or appointed by him. (Rev., s. 1810; Code, s. 1609; R. C., c. 54, s. 18; 1762, c. 69, s. 17; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 46; C. S. 2197.)

§ 33-51. Solicitor to apply for receiver for orphans' estates.—Whenever the name of an orphan, having any estate and for whom no suitable person will become guardian, is presented by a grand jury, the clerk of the superior court must give notice thereof forthwith to the solicitor of the state for the judicial district, who shall apply in behalf of the orphan to the judge of the superior court of the county where such presentment was made, to the end that a receiver be appointed. (Rev., s. 1811; Code, s. 1610; R. C., c. 54, s. 19; 1846, c. 43; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 47; C. S. 2198.)

§ 33-52. Solicitor to prosecute bond of guardian removed without a successor.—Whenever any guardian is removed, and no person is appointed to succeed in the guardianship, the clerk of the superior court shall certify the name of such guardian and his sureties to the solicitor of the judicial district, who shall forthwith institute an action on the bond of the guardian in the superior court, for securing the estate of the ward. (Rev., s. 1812; Code, s. 1584; R. C., c. 54, s. 14; 1844, c. 41; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 21; C. S. 2199.)

§ 33-53. Judge to appoint receiver; his rights and duties.—The judge of the superior court, either residing in or presiding over the courts of the district, before whom such action is brought, shall have power to appoint the clerk of the superior court or some discreet person as a receiver to take possession of the ward's estate, to collect all moneys due to him, to secure, lend, invest or apply the same for the benefit and advantage of the ward, under the direction and subject to such rules and orders in every respect as the said judge may from time to time make in regard thereto; and the accounts of such receiver shall be returned, audited and settled as the judge may direct. The receiver shall be allowed such amounts for his time, trouble and responsibility as seem to the judge reasonable and proper; and such receivership may be continued until a suitable person can be procured to take the guardianship. (Rev., s. 1813; Code, s. 1585; R. C., c. 54, s. 15; 1844, c. 41, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 22; C. S. 2200.)

§ 33-54. When receiver to pay over estate.—When another guardian is appointed, he may apply by motion, on notice, to the judge of the superior court for an order upon the receiver to pay over all the money, estate and effects of the ward; and if no such guardian is appointed, then the infant, on coming of age, or in case of his death, his executor, administrator or collector, and the heir or personal representative of the idiot, lunatic or insane person, shall have the like remedy against the receiver. (Rev., s. 1814; Code, s. 1587; R. C., c. 54, s. 17; 1844, c. 41, s. 4; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 24; C. S. 2201.)

§ 33-55. Duties of solicitor.—The solicitor shall prosecute the action and take all necessary orders therein. (Rev., s. 1815; Code, s. 1586; 1895, c. 14; R. C., c. 54, s. 16; 1844, c. 41, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 201, s. 23; C. S. 2202.)

Art. 9. Guardians of Estates of Missing Persons.

§ 33-56. Appointment.—When it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the clerk of the superior court, or a judge of the superior court having jurisdiction of the appointment of guardians, that any person has disappeared from the community of his residence, and his whereabouts remains unknown in such community for a period of three (3) months, and cannot, after diligent inquiry, be ascertained; and that such person has property in the state and property rights within its jurisdiction which may be affected by his absence, or may need protection and administration; and that such person has made no provision for the management of his affairs; such clerk of the superior court or judge of the superior court may appoint a guardian of the estate and property of such person as may, by law be done in the case of minors and persons non compos mentis, and with the like powers and duties with respect to such estate. (1933, c. 49, s. 1.)

§ 33-57. Jurisdiction.—The clerk of the superior court of the county of the last residence of such absent person shall have prior right to jurisdiction of such appointment, but the appointment may be made by the clerk of the superior court of any county in the state where such person has property, after the expiration of six months from the time of such disappearance, if no prior appointment has been made. (1933, c. 49, s. 2.)

§ 33-58. Powers and duties; bond. — The guardian, so appointed, shall have all the powers and duties with respect to the property and estate of such absent person as are now, or may be hereafter, conferred by law upon guardians generally; and before entering into the discharge of the duties of his guardianship, he shall be required to enter into such bond as is now required by law in such cases, for the faithful performance of his trust and for the accounting of the property, moneys and assets of the estate coming into his hands as guardian. (1933, c. 49, s. 3.)

§ 33-59. General laws applicable. — The public laws relating to guardianships, and particularly this chapter, as far as by their terms they may be applicable, and as far as they are not modified by this article, shall apply to guardians so appointed. (1933, c. 49, s. 3.)

§ 33-60. Other managerial powers conferred.—In addition to the powers given to guardians under the general laws of the state, such guardians may, by approval of the court, apply funds in his hands to the satisfaction of obligations of such absent person, renew notes and other obligations, pledge property for loans necessary in carrying on or liquidating the affairs of such absent person; cause lands to be cultivated, where such business was previously carried on, and make such contracts with reference thereto as he may deem to the best interest of the estate, and, under the direction of the court and with its approval, continue to operate any business or business enterprise of such person, and make such contracts, agreements and settlements in reference thereto as may be necessary, or to the best interests of the estate. (1933, c. 49, s. 4.)

§ 33-61. Discharge of guardian upon return of missing person.—Upon the return of such absent person, and within six months from the filing of the petition by such person to be restored to his property and to the management of his estate, the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction of the said guardianship shall require a settlement of the estate by the guardian so appointed, and shall cause to be turned over to such person all of the said estate then in the hands of the said guardian, after the payment of such reasonable costs and commissions as may be authorized by law, and, upon the filing of a financial account by the said guardian, he shall be discharged. (1933, c. 49, s. 5.)

§ 33-62. Guardian not liable except for misconduct.—No action shall be maintained against such guardian, or the sureties on his bond, by reason of his appointment, taking over and managing the property of such absent person, or any of his acts with respect to the said estate, where it appears that they were done under authority of this article, but only for recovery because of the misconduct in office or bad faith of such guardian, or the waste of the assets of the estate through mismanagement, amounting to gross carelessness or in violation of the law. (1933, c. 49, s. 6.)

34-17. Discharge of guardian.
34-18. Construction of chapter.

§ 34-1. Title.—This chapter shall be known as "The Veterans' Guardianship Act." (1929, c. 33, s. 1.)

§ 34-2. Definitions.—In this chapter:

The term "person" includes a partnership, corporation or an association.

The term "Bureau" means the United States Veterans' Bureau or its successor.

The terms "estate" and "income" shall include only moneys received by the guardian from the Bureau and all earnings, interests and profits derived therefrom.

The term "benefits" shall mean all moneys payable by the United States through the Bureau.

The term "Director" means the Director of the United States Veterans' Bureau or his successor.

The term "State Service Officer" means such appointee of the North Carolina Commissioner of Labor as provided by § 95-4.

The term "ward" means a beneficiary of the Bureau.

The term "guardian" as used herein shall mean any person acting as a fiduciary for a ward. (1929, c. 33, s. 2.)

§ 34-3. Appointment of guardian for wards entitled to benefits from United States Veterans' Bureau.—Whenever, pursuant to any law of the United States or regulation of the Bureau, the Director requires, prior to payment of benefits, that a guardian be appointed for a ward, such appointment shall be made in the manner hereinafter provided. (1929, c. 33, s. 3.)

§ 34-4. Guardian may not be named for more than five wards; exceptions; banks and trust companies, or where wards are members of same family.—Except as hereinafter provided it shall be unlawful for any person to accept appointment as guardian of any ward if such proposed guardian shall at that time be acting as guardian for five wards. If any case, upon presentation of a petition by an attorney of the Bureau under this section alleging that a guardian is acting in a fiduciary capacity for more than five wards and requesting his discharge for that reason, the court, upon proof substantiating the petition, shall require a final accounting forthwith from such guardian and shall discharge such guardian in said case.

The limitations of this section shall not apply where the guardian is a bank or trust company acting for the wards' estates only. An individual may be guardian of more than five wards if they are all members of the same family. (1929, c. 33, s. 4.)

§ 34-5. Petition for appointment of guardian.—A petition for the appointment of a guardian may be filed in any court of competent jurisdiction by or on behalf of any person who under existing law is entitled to priority of appointment. If there be no person so entitled or if the person so entitled shall neglect or refuse to file such a petition within thirty days after mailing of notice by the Bureau to the last known address of such person indicating the necessity for the same a petition for such appointment may be filed in any court of competent jurisdiction by or on behalf of any responsible person residing in this State.

The petition for appointment shall set forth the name, age, place of residence of the ward, the names and places of residence of the nearest relative, if known, and the fact that such ward is entitled to receive moneys payable by or through the Bureau and shall set forth the amount of moneys then due and the amount of probable future payments.

The petition shall also set forth the name and address of the person or institution, if any, having actual custody of the ward.

In the case of a mentally incompetent ward the petition shall show that such ward has been rated incompetent on examination by the Bureau in accordance with the laws and regulations governing the Bureau. (1929, c. 33, s. 5.)

§ 34-6. Certificate of Director prima facie evidence of necessity for appointment.—Where a petition is filed for the appointment of a guardian of a minor ward a certificate of the Director, or his representative, setting forth the age of such minor as shown by the records of the Bureau and the fact that the appointment of a guardian is a condition precedent to the payment of any moneys due the minor by the Bureau, shall be prima facie evidence of the necessity for such appointment. (1929, c. 33, s. 6.)

§ 34-7. Same in regard to guardianship of mentally incompetent wards.—Where a petition is filed for the appointment of a guardian of a mentally incompetent ward a certificate of the Director, or his representative, setting forth the fact that such person has been rated incompetent by the Bureau on examination in accordance with the laws and regulations governing such Bureau; and that the appointment of a guardian is a condition precedent to the payment of any moneys due such person by the Bureau, shall be prima facie evidence of the necessity for such appointment. (1929, c. 33, s. 7.)

§ 34-8. Notice of filing of petition.—Upon the filing of a petition for the appointment of a guardian, under the provisions of this chapter, the court shall cause such notice to be given as provided by law. (1929, c. 33, s. 8.)

§ 34-9. Qualifications of guardian; surety bond.—Before making an appointment under the provisions of this chapter the court shall be satisfied that the guardian whose appointment is sought is a fit and proper person to be appointed. Upon the appointment being made the guardian shall execute and file a surety bond to be approved by the court in an amount not less than the sum then due and estimated to become payable during the ensuing year. The said bond shall be in the form and be conditioned as required of guardians appointed under the guardianship laws of this state. The court shall have power from time to time to require the guardian to file an additional bond.

No bond shall be required of the banks and trust companies licensed to do trust business in North Carolina. (1929, c. 33, s. 9.)

§ 34-10. Guardian's accounts to be filed; hearing on accounts.—Every guardian, who shall receive on account of his ward any moneys from the bureau, shall file with the court annually, on the anniversary date of the appointment, in addition to such other accounts as may be required by the court, a full, true, and accurate account under oath of all moneys so received by him, of all disbursements thereof, and showing the balance thereof in his hands at the date of such account and how invested. A certified copy of each of such accounts filed with the court shall be sent by the guardian to the office of the bureau having jurisdiction over the area in which such court is located.

At the time such account is filed the clerk of superior court shall require the guardian to exhibit to the court all investments and bank statements showing cash balance and the clerk of superior court shall certify on the original account and the certified copy which the guardian sends the bureau that an examination was made of all investments and cash balance and that same are correctly stated in the account. If objections are raised to such an accounting, the court shall fix a time and place for the hearing thereon not less than fifteen days nor more than thirty days from the date of filing such objections, and notice shall be given by the court to the aforesaid bureau office and state service officer by mail not less than fifteen days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. Notice of such hearing shall also be given to the guardian. (1929, c. 33, s. 10; 1933, c. 262, s. 1.)

§ 34-11. Failure to file account cause for removal.—If any guardian shall fail to file any account of the moneys received by him from the Bureau on account of his ward within thirty days after such account is required by either the court or the Bureau, or shall fail to furnish the Bureau a copy of his accounts as required by this chapter, such failure shall be grounds for removal. (1929, c. 33, s. 11.)

§ 34-12. Compensation at 5 per cent; additional compensation; premiums on bonds.—Compensation payable to guardians shall not exceed 5 per cent of the income of the ward during any year. In the event of extraordinary services rendered by such guardian the court may, upon petition and after hearing thereon, authorize additional compensation therefor, payable from the estate of the ward. Notice of such petition and hearing shall be given the proper office of the Bureau and the State Service Officer in the manner provided in § 34-10. No compensation shall be allowed on the corpus of an estate received from a preceding guardian. The guardian may be allowed from the estate of his ward reasonable premiums paid by him to any corporate surety upon his bond. (1929, c. 33, s. 12.)

§ 34-13. Investment of funds.—Every guardian shall invest the funds of the estate in any of the following securities:

(a) United States government bonds.

(b) State of North Carolina bonds issued since the year one thousand eight hundred seventy-two.

(c) By loaning the same upon real estate securities in which the guardian has no interest, such loans not to exceed fifty per cent (50%) of the actual appraised or assessed value, whichever may be lower, and said loans when made to be evidenced by a note, or notes, or bond, or bonds, under seal of the borrower and secured by first mortgage or first deed of trust. Said guardian before making such investment on real estate mortgages shall secure a certificate of title from some reputable attorney certifying that the same is the first lien on real estate and also setting forth the tax valuation thereof for the current year: Provided, said guardian may purchase with said funds a home or farm for the sole use of said ward or his dependents upon petition and order of the clerk of superior court, said order to be approved by the resident or presiding judge of the superior court, and provided further that copy of said petition shall be forwarded to said bureau before consideration thereof by said court.

It shall be the duty of guardians who shall have funds invested other than as provided for in this section to liquidate same within one year from the passage of this law: Provided, however, that upon the approval of the judge of the superior court, either residing in or presiding over the courts of the district, the clerk of the superior court may authorize the guardian to extend from time to time, the time for sale or collection of any such investments; that no extension shall be made to cover a period of more than one year from the time the extension is made.

The clerk of the superior court of any county in the state or any guardian who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment or both in the discretion of the court. (1929, c. 33, s. 13; 1933, c. 262, s. 2.)

§ 34-14. Application of ward's estate.—A guardian shall not apply any portion of the estate of his ward for the support and maintenance of any person other than his ward, except upon order of the court after a hearing, notice of which has been given the proper officer of the Bureau and the State Service Officer in the manner provided in § 34-10. (1929, c. 33, s. 14.)

§ 34-15. Certified copy of record required by Bureau to be furnished without charge.—Whenever a copy of any public record is required by the Bureau or State Service Officer to be used in determining the eligibility of any person to participate in benefits made available by such Bureau, the official charged with the custody of such public record shall without charge provide the applicant for such benefits or any person acting on his behalf or the representative of such Bureau or State Service Officer with a certified copy of such record. (1929, c. 33, s. 15.)

§ 34-16. Provision for commitment into Government hospital of any veteran needing treatment.—Whenever it appears that a veteran of any war, military occupation or expedition is eligible for treatment in a United States Veterans' Bureau Hospital and commitment to such hospital is necessary for the proper care and treatment of such veteran, the courts of this state are hereby authorized to communicate with the Director or his representative with reference to available facilities in the United States Veterans' Hospitals and the eligibility of the veteran, and upon receipt of a certificate of admission from the Director or his representative the court may then direct such veteran's commitment to such United States Veterans' Hospital in or without the State of North Carolina. Thereafter such veteran upon admission shall be subject to the rules and regulation of such hospital and the officials of such hospital shall be vested with the same powers now exercised by superintendents of state hospitals for mental diseases within this state with reference to the retention of custody of the veteran so committed. Notice of such pending proceedings shall be furnished the person to be committed and his right to appear and defend shall not be denied. (1929, c. 33, s. 16.)

§ 34-17. Discharge of guardian.—When a minor ward for whom a guardian has been appointed under the provisions of this chapter or other laws of this state shall have attained his or her majority, and if incompetent shall be declared competent by the Bureau and the court, and when any incompetent ward, not a minor, shall be declared competent by said Bureau and the court, the guardian shall upon making a satisfactory accounting be discharged upon a petition filed for that purpose. (1929, c. 33, s. 17.)

§ 34-18. Construction of chapter.—This chapter shall be construed liberally to secure the beneficial intents and purposes thereof and shall apply only to beneficiaries of the Bureau. (1929, c. 33, s. 18.)

Art. 1. Inebriates.

§ 35-1. Inebriates defined. — Any person who habitually, whether continuously or periodically, indulges in the use of intoxicating liquors, narcotics or drugs to such an extent as to stupefy his mind and to render him incompetent to transact ordinary business with safety to his estate, or who renders himself, by reason of the use of intoxicating liquors, narcotics or drugs, dangerous to person or property, or who, by the frequent use of liquor, narcotics or drugs, renders himself cruel and intolerable to his family, or fails from such cause to provide his family with reasonable necessities of life, shall be deemed an inebriate: Provided, the habit of so indulging in such use is at the time of inquisition of at least one year's standing. (Rev., s. 1892; Code, s. 1671; 1891, c. 15, s. 7; 1903, c. 543; 1879, c. 329; C. S. 2284.)

Art. 2. Guardianship and Management of Estates of Incompetents.

§ 35-2. Inquisition of lunacy; appointment of guardian. — Any person, in behalf of one who is deemed an idiot, inebriate, or lunatic, or incompetent from want of understanding to manage his own affairs by reason of the excessive use of intoxicating drinks, or other cause, may file a petition before the clerk of the superior court of the county where such supposed idiot, inebriate or lunatic resides, setting forth the facts, duly verified by the oath of the petitioner; whereupon such clerk shall issue an order, upon notice to the supposed idiot, inebriate or lunatic, to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to summon a jury of twelve men to inquire into the state of such supposed idiot, inebriate or lunatic. Upon the return of the sheriff summoning said jury, the clerk of the superior court shall swear and organize said jury and shall preside over said hearing, and the jury shall make return of their proceedings under their hand to the clerk, who shall file and record the same; and he shall proceed to appoint a guardian of any person so found to be an idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or incompetent person by inquisition of a jury, as in cases of orphans.

Either the applicant or the supposed idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or incompetent person may appeal from the finding of said jury to the next term of the superior court, when the matters at issue shall be regularly tried de novo before a jury, and pending such appeal, the clerk of the superior court shall not appoint a guardian for the said supposed idiot, inebriate, lunatic, or incompetent person, but the resident judge of the district, or the judge presiding in the district, may in his discretion appoint a temporary receiver for the alleged incompetent pending the appeal. The trial of said appeal in the superior court shall have precedence over all other causes.

The jury shall make return of their proceedings under their hands to the clerk, who shall file and record the same; and he shall proceed to appoint a guardian of any person so found to be an idiot, inebriate, lunatic or incompetent person by inquisition of a jury, as in cases of orphans. If the person so adjudged incompetent shall be an inebriate within the definition of section 35-1, the clerk shall proceed to commit said inebriate to the department for inebriates at the state hospital in Raleigh for treatment and cure. He shall forward to the superintendent of said state hospital a copy of the record required herein to be made, together with the commitment, and these shall constitute the authority to said superintendent to receive and care for and cure said inebriate. The expenses of the care and cure of said inebriate shall constitute a charge against the estate in the care of his guardian. If, however, such estate is not large enough to pay such expenses, the same shall be a valid charge against the county from which said inebriate is sent. Provided, where the person is found to be incompetent from want of understanding to manage his affairs, by reason of physical and mental weakness on account of old age and/or disease and/or other like infirmities, the clerk may appoint a trustee instead of guardian for said person. The trustee appointed shall be subject to the laws now or which hereafter may be enacted for the control and handling of estates by guardians. The clerks of the superior courts who have heretofore appointed guardians for persons described in this proviso are hereby authorized and empowered to change said appointment from guardian to trustee. The sheriffs of the several counties to whom a process is directed under the provisions of this section shall serve the same without demanding their fees in advance. And the juries of the several counties upon whom a process is served under the provisions of this section shall serve and make their returns without demanding their fees in advance. (Rev., s. 1890; Code, s. 1670; C. C. P., s. 473; 1919, c. 54; 1921, c. 156, s. 1; 1929, c. 203, s. 1; 1933, c. 192; C. S. 2285.)

§ 35-3. Guardian appointed on certificate from hospital for insane.—If any person is confined in any State, territorial or Governmental asylum or hospital for the insane in this State, or in any other state or territory, or in the District of Columbia, or in any hospital licensed and supervised by the State of North Carolina, the certificate of the superintendent of such hospital declaring such person to be of insane mind and memory, which certificate shall be sworn to and subscribed before the clerk of the Superior Court or any notary public, or the clerk of any court of record in the county, in which such hospital is situated and certified under the seal of court, shall be sufficient evidence to authorize to appoint a guardian for such idiot, lunatic or insane person. Further, the clerks of the different counties of this State are also authorized to appoint guardians for any person entitled to the benefits of the War Risk Insurance Act, as amended, and the World War Veterans' Act of nineteen hundred and twenty-four as amended, where it shall appear from the certificate of the Regional Medical Officer of the United States Veterans' Bureau of North Carolina that such veteran of the World War has been declared by the United States Government as incompetent to receive the funds to be paid to him under said Acts of Congress, and such certificate shall be all the proof required as to the incapacity of said veteran to receive such funds and as to the necessity of a guardian. Guardians for such veterans shall be subject to the same provisions of law as guardians of idiots, inebriates, lunatics, and incompetent persons in this State.

Any guardian or trustee appointed prior to April 3, 1939, under the provisions of this section on certificate issued by the superintendent of any hospital licensed and supervised by the State of North Carolina, and any and all proceedings based thereon are hereby validated. (Rev., ss. 1891, 4609; Code, s. 1673; 1860-1, c. 22; 1907, c. 232; 1927, c. 160, s. 1; 1939, c. 330; C. S. 2286.)

§ 35-4. Restoration to sanity or sobriety; effect; how determined. — When any insane person or inebriate becomes of sound mind and memory, or becomes competent to manage his property, he is authorized to manage, sell and control all his property in as full and ample a manner as he could do before he became insane or inebriate, and a petition in behalf of such person may be filed before the clerk of the superior court of the county of his residence, or before the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein such person is confined or held; provided, however, that in all cases where a guardian has been appointed the cause of action shall be tried in the county where the guardianship is pending, and said guardian shall be made a party to such action before final determination thereof, setting forth the facts, duly verified by the oath of the petitioner (the petition may be filed by the person formerly adjudged to be insane, lunatic, inebriate or incompetent; or by any friend or relative of said person; or by the guardian of said person), whereupon the clerk shall issue an order, upon notice to the person alleged to be no longer insane or inebriate, to the sheriff of the county, commanding him to summon a jury of six freeholders to inquire into the sanity of the alleged sane person, formerly a lunatic, or the sobriety of such alleged restored person, formerly an inebriate. The jury shall make return of their proceedings under their hands to the clerk, who shall file and record the same, and if the jury find that the person whose mental or physical condition inquired of is sane and of sound mind and memory, or is no longer an inebriate, as the case may be, the said person is authorized to manage his affairs, make contracts and sell his property, both real and personal, as if he had never been insane or inebriate. (Rev., s. 1893; Code, s. 1672; 1901, c. 191; 1903, c. 80; 1879, c. 324, s. 4; 1937, c. 311; 1941, c. 145; C. S. 2287.)

§ 35-5. Legal rights restored upon certificate of sanity by superintendent of hospital. — Any person who has been declared of unsound mind and memory under § 35-3, and for whom a guardian has been appointed, may be fully restored to his rights to manage his or her property by a certificate from the superintendent of the hospital where such person of unsound mind and memory has been confined stating that such insane person has been restored to sound mind and memory. This certificate shall be sworn to and subscribed before the clerk of the superior court or notary public for the county in which the hospital wherein such person had been confined is located, and certified under the seal of said court to the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein said person had his legal residence immediately before being declared of unsound mind and memory. The clerk of such resident county shall record the certificate and immediately issue a notice to the guardian of such person, requiring him to file his final account within sixty days from the date of service of the notice. From the date of docketing the record of such certificate the person formerly of unsound mind and memory shall be restored to all his legal rights. (1909, c. 176; C. S. 2288.)

§ 35-6. Estates without guardian managed by clerk. — When any person is declared to be of nonsane mind or inebriate, and no suitable person will act as his guardian, the clerk shall secure the estate of such person according to the law relating to orphans whose guardians have been removed. (Rev., s. 1894; Code, s. 1676; R. C., c. 57, s. 6; 1846, c. 43, s. 1; C. S. 2289.)

§ 35-7. Allowance to abandoned insane wife. —When any insane wife is abandoned by her husband, she may, by her guardian, or next friend, in case there be no guardian, apply to the clerk of the superior court for support and maintenance, which the clerk may decree as in cases of alimony, out of any property or estate of her husband. (Rev., s. 1895; Code, s. 1686; 1858-9, c. 52, s. 1; C. S. 2290.)

§ 35-8. Renewal of obligations by guardians.— In all cases where a guardian has been appointed for a person who has been judicially declared to be an inebriate, lunatic, or incompetent from want of understanding to manage his or her own affairs by reason of the excessive use of intoxicating drink or other causes, and said person is the maker or one of the makers, a surety or one of the sureties, an indorser or one of the indorsers of any note, bond, or other obligation for the payment of money, which is due or past due at the time of the appointment of the guardian, or shall thereafter become due prior to the settlement of the estate of said ward, the guardian of said ward's estate is hereby authorized and empowered to execute, as such guardian, a new note, bond, or other obligation for the payment of money, in the same capacity as the ward was obligated, for the same amount or less, but not greater than the sum due on the original obligation. Such new note shall be in lieu of the original obligation of the ward, whether made payable to the original holder or to another. Such guardian is authorized and empowered to renew said note, bond, or other obligation for the payment of money from time to time; and said note, bond, or other obligation so executed by such guardian shall be binding upon the estate of said ward to the same extent and in the same manner and with the same effect that the original bond, note, or other obligation executed by the ward was binding upon his estate: Provided, the time for final payment of the note, bond, or other obligation for the payment of money, or any renewal thereof by said guardian shall not extend beyond a period of two years from the qualification of the original guardian as such upon the estate of said ward. (1927, c. 45, s. 1.)

§ 35-9. Guardian not liable.—The execution of any note, bond or other obligation for the payment of money mentioned in § 35-8 by the guardian of the inebriate, lunatic, or incompetent, shall not be held or construed to be binding upon the said guardian personally. (1927, c. 45, s. 2.)

Art. 3. Sales of Estates.

§ 35-10. Clerk may order sale, renting or mortgage.—When it appears to any clerk of the superior court by report of the guardian of any idiot, inebriate or lunatic, that his personal estate has been exhausted, or is insufficient for his support, and that he is likely to become chargeable on the county, the clerk may make an order for the sale, mortgage or renting of his personal or real estate, or any part thereof, in such manner and upon such terms as he may deem advisable. Such order shall specify particularly the property thus to be disposed of, with the terms of renting or sale or mortgage, and shall be entered at length on the records of the court; and all sales and rentings and conveyances by mortgages or deeds in trust made under this section shall be valid to convey the interest and estate directed to be sold or conveyed by mortgage or deed in trust, and the title thereof shall be conveyed by such person as the clerk may appoint on confirming the sale; or the clerk may direct the guardian to file his petition for such purpose. (Rev., s. 1896; Code, s. 1674; R. C., c. 57, s. 4; 1801, c. 589; 1931, c. 184, s. 1; C. S. 2291.)

§ 35-11. Purposes for which estate sold or mortgaged; parties; disposition of proceeds. — When it appears to the clerk, upon the petition of the guardian of any idiot, inebriate or lunatic, that a sale or mortgage of any part of his real or personal estate is necessary for his maintenance, or for the discharge of debts unavoidably incurred for his maintenance, or when the clerk is satisfied that the interest of the idiot, inebriate or lunatic would be materially and essentially promoted by the sale or mortgage of any part of such estate; or when any part of his real estate is required for public purposes, the clerk may order a sale thereof to be made by such person, in such way and on such terms as he shall adjudge. The clerk, if it be deemed proper, may direct to be made parties to such petition the next of kin or presumptive heirs of such nonsane person or inebriate. And if on the hearing the clerk orders such sale or mortgage, the same shall be made and the proceeds applied and secured, and shall descend and be distributed in like manner as is provided for the sale of infants' estates decreed in like cases to be sold on application of their guardians, as directed in the chapter entitled Guardian and Ward. The word "mortgage" whenever used herein shall be construed to include deeds in trust. (Rev., s. 1897; Code, s. 1675; R. C., c. 57, s. 5; 1931, c. 184, s. 2; C. S. 2292.)

§ 35-12. Sale of land of wife of lunatic upon petition.—Where the wife of a lunatic owns real estate in her own right the sale of which will promote her interest, a sale of the same may be made upon the order of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the land lies, upon the petition of the wife of said lunatic and the guardian of the lunatic husband, and the proceeds of said sale shall be paid to the wife of said lunatic. (Rev., s. 1898; Code, s. 1687; 1881, c. 361; C. S. 2293.)

§ 35-13. Wife of insane person entitled to special proceeding for sale of his property. — Every woman whose husband is a lunatic or insane and is confined in an asylum in this state, and who was living with her husband at the time he was committed to such asylum, if she be in needy circumstances, shall have the right to bring a special proceeding before the clerk of the superior court to sell the property of her insane husband, or so much thereof as is deemed expedient, and have the proceeds applied to her support: Provided, that said proceeding shall be approved by the judge of the superior court holding the courts of the judicial district where the said property is situated. When the deed of the commissioner appointed by the court, conveying the lands belonging to the insane husband is executed, probated, and registered, it conveys a good and indefeasible title to the purchaser. (1911, c. 142, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 2294.)

Art. 4. Mortgage or Sale of Estates Held by the Entireties.

§ 35-14. Where one spouse or both incompetent; special proceeding before clerk.—In all cases where a husband and wife shall be seized of property as an estate by the entireties, and the wife or the husband or both shall be or become mentally incompetent to execute a conveyance of the estate so held, and the interest of said parties shall make it necessary or desirable that such property be mortgaged or sold, it shall be lawful for the mentally competent spouse and/or the guardian of the mentally incompetent spouse, and/or the guardians of both (where both are mentally incompetent) to file a petition with the clerk of the superior court in the county where the lands are located, setting forth all facts relative to the status of the owners, and showing the necessity or desirability of the sale or mortgage of said property, and the clerk, after first finding as a fact that either the husband or wife, or both, are mentally incompetent, shall have power to authorize the interested parties and/or their guardians to execute a mortgage, deed of trust, deed, or other conveyance of such property, provided it shall appear to said clerk's satisfaction that same is necessary or to the best advantage of the parties, and not prejudicial to the interest of the mentally incompetent spouse. (1935, c. 59, s. 1.)

§ 35-15. General law applicable; approved by judge.—The proceedings herein provided for shall be conducted under and shall be governed by laws pertaining to special proceedings, and it shall be necessary for any sale or mortgage or other conveyance herein authorized to be approved by the resident judge or the judge holding the courts in the judicial district wherein the property is located. (1935, c. 59, s. 2.)

§ 35-16. Proceeding valid in passing title. — Any mortgage, deed, or deed of trust executed under authority of this article by a regularly conducted special proceeding as provided shall have the force and effect of passing title to said property to the same extent as a deed executed jointly by husband and wife, where both are mentally capable of executing a conveyance. (1935, c. 59, s. 3.)

§ 35-17. Clerk may direct application of funds; purchasers and mortgages protected.—In all cases conducted under this article it shall be competent for the court, in its discretion, to direct the application of funds arising from a sale or mortgage of such property in such manner as may appear necessary or expedient for the protection of the interest of the mentally incompetent spouse: Provided, however, this section shall not be construed as requiring a purchaser or any other party advancing money on the property to see to the proper application of such money, but such purchaser or other party shall acquire title unaffected by the provisions of this section. (1935, c. 59, s. 4.)

§ 35-18. Prior sales and mortgages validated.—Any and all special proceedings under which estates by the entireties have been sold or mortgaged prior to March 5, 1935, under circumstances contemplated in this article are hereby in all respects ratified and confirmed, provided that such proceeding or proceedings are otherwise regular and conformable to law. (1935, c. 59, s. 5.)

Art. 5. Surplus Income and Advancements.

§ 35-19. Income of insane widowed mother used for children's support.—When a father dies leaving him surviving minor children and a widow who is the mother of such children, but leaving no sufficient estate for the support and maintenance and education of such minor children, and the mother is or becomes insane and is so declared according to law, and such insanity continues for twelve months thereafter, and she has an estate which is placed in the hands of a guardian or other person, as provided by law, the estate of such insane mother shall in such cases as are provided for in § 35-20 be made liable for the support, maintenance and education of the class of persons mentioned in said section to the same extent, in the same manner and under the same rules and regulations as applies to estates of fathers thereunder. (Rev., s. 1899; 1905, c. 546; C. S. 2295.)

§ 35-20. Advancement of surplus income to certain relatives.—When any nonsane person, of full age, and not having made a valid will, has children or grandchildren (such grandchildren being the issue of a deceased child), and is possessed of an estate, real or personal, whose annual income is more than sufficient abundantly and amply to support himself, and to support, maintain and educate the members of his family, with all the necessaries and suitable comforts of life, it is lawful for the clerk of the superior court for the county in which such person has his residence to order from time to time, and so often as may be judged expedient, that fit and proper advancements be made, out of the surplus of such income, to any such child, or grandchild, not being a member of his family and entitled to be supported, educated and maintained out of the estate of such person. Whenever any nonsane person of full age, not being married and not having issue, be possessed, or his guardian be possessed for him, of any estate, real or personal, or of an income which is more than sufficient amply to provide for such person, it shall be lawful for the clerk of the Superior Court for the county in which such person resided prior to insanity to order from time to time, and so often as he may deem expedient, that fit and proper advancements be made, out of the surplus of such estate or income, to his or her parents, brothers and sisters, or grandparents to whose support, prior to his insanity, he contributed in whole or in part. (Rev., s. 1900; Code, s. 1677; R. C., c. 57, s. 9; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 93; C. S. 2296.)

§ 35-21. Advancement to adult child or grandchild.—When such nonsane person is possessed of a real or personal estate in excess of an amount more than sufficient to abundantly and amply support himself with all the necessaries and suitable comforts of life and has no minor children nor immediate family dependent upon him for support, education or maintenance, such advancements may be made out of such excess of the principal of his estate to such child or grandchild of age for the better promotion or advancement in life or in business of such child or grandchild: Provided, that the order for such advancement shall be approved by the resident or presiding judge of the district who shall find the facts in said order of approval. (1925, c. 136, s. 1.)

§ 35-22. For what purpose and to whom advanced. — Such advancements shall be ordered only for the better promotion in life of such as are of age, or married, and for the maintenance, support and education of such as are under the age of twenty-one years and unmarried; and in all cases the sums ordered shall be paid to such persons as, in the opinion of the clerk, will most effectually execute the purpose of the advancement. (Rev., s. 1901; Code, s. 1678; R. C., c. 57, s. 10; C. S. 2297.)

§ 35-23. Distributees to be parties to proceeding for advancement.—In every application for such advancements, the guardian of the nonsane person and all such other persons shall be parties as would at that time be entitled to a distributive share of his estate if he were then dead. (Rev., s 1902; Code, s. 1679; R. C., c. 57, s. 11; C. S. 2298.)

§ 35-25. Clerk may select those to advance.—When the surplus aforesaid or advancement from the principal estate is not sufficient to make distribution among all the parties, the clerk may select and decree advancement to such of them as may most need the same, and may apportion the sum decreed in such amounts as are expedient and proper. (Rev., s. 1904; Code, s. 1681; R. C., c. 57, s. 13; 1925, c. 136, s. 2; C. S. 2300.)

§ 35-26. Advancements to be secured against waste.—It is the duty of the clerk to withhold advancements from such persons as will probably waste them, or so to secure the same, when they may have families, that it may be applied to their support and comfort; but any sum so advanced shall be regarded as an advancement to such persons. (Rev., s. 1905; Code, s. 1682; R. C., c. 57, s. 14; C. S. 2301.)

§ 35-27. Appeal; removal to superior court.—Any person made a party may appeal from any order of the clerk; or may, when the pleadings are finished, require that all further proceedings shall be had in the superior court. (Rev., s. 1906; Code, s. 1683; R. C., c. 57, s. 15; C. S. 2302.)

§ 35-28. Advancements only when insanity permanent. — No such application shall be allowed under this chapter but in cases of such permanent and continued insanity as that the nonsane person shall be judged by the clerk to be incapable, notwithstanding any lucid intervals, to make advancements with prudence and discretion. (Rev., s. 1907; Code, s. 1684; R. C., c. 57, s. 16; C. S. 2303.)

§ 35-29. Decrees suspended upon restoration of sanity.—Upon such insane person being restored to sanity, every order made for advancements shall cease to be further executed, and his estate shall be discharged of the same. (Rev., s. 1908; Code, s. 1685; R. C., c. 57, s. 17; C. S. 2304.)

Art. 6. Detention, Treatment, and Cure of Inebriates.

§ 35-30. "Inebriate" defined.—For the purposes of this article, the word "inebriate" is defined to be a person habitually so addicted to alcoholic drinks or narcotic drugs as to be a proper subject for restraint, care, and treatment. (1921, c. 156, s. 2; C. S. 2304(a).)

§ 35-31. Petition for examination; warrant for hearing; action without petition; evidence.—Upon petition of any two of the following persons, to-wit, the wife, husband, parent, child, committee of the estate of an inebriate, or next friends of such person, or, if there be no such persons, then of two citizens of the county wherein the alleged inebriate resides, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the said alleged inebriate resides shall issue his warrant requiring the inebriate, on a day fixed, to be brought into court for a hearing. The petition shall not be considered unless it sets forth that the person named therein is an inebriate within the scope of this article, and unless it be accompanied by the affidavit or affidavits of at least two reputable physicians, stating that they have examined the alleged inebriate, and that he is a proper subject for restraint, care, and treatment, or the clerk may, on his own initiative, where he has information and reasonable grounds to believe that a particular person is an inebriate and is a fit subject for restraint, care, and treatment, cause such person to be brought before him and proceed to hear and try the question of whether or not he is an inebriate within the definition of § 35-30. If two reputable physicians shall certify before him that such person is an inebriate, he may commit such an inebriate as herein provided to the department of the state hospital at Raleigh provided for the care and treatment of such inebriate. (1921, c. 156, s. 3; 1941, c. 226; C. S. 2304(b).)

§ 35-32. Commitment for treatment; discharge.—If after such hearing the clerk is satisfied that the alleged inebriate is a proper subject for restraint, care, and treatment, he shall commit the inebriate to the department for inebriates at the state hospital in Raleigh, where he shall be treated, subject to the same rules and regulations as provided for the treatment and cure of curable insane persons, and he shall be discharged therefrom under the same rules and regulations. (1921, c. 156, s. 4; C. S. 2304(c).)

§ 35-33. Inquiry as to estate of inebriate; minors; costs; expenses.—After the clerk shall determine that an inebriate is a fit subject to be committed to the department for inebriates as aforesaid, he shall go further and inquire as to whether said inebriate is indigent or not in such way that he has not in his own right sufficient estate or property to bear the cost and expense of his restraint, care, and treatment while in the institution. If he is so indigent, then he shall inquire further whether or not the petitioning wife or husband has sufficient estate to pay such costs. If the inebriate is a minor he shall determine whether his particular guardian or parent has sufficient estate of the inebriate or his own, if a parent, to pay such costs. In any of these instances, if sufficient estate or property is found to pay such costs, the clerk shall adjudge the payment from such estate, and in all cases, if the petitioning parent has property sufficient to pay, he shall be adjudged to pay costs of the treatment of his minor child. But if in none of these cases sufficient property is found to pay such costs and expenses, the inebriate shall be declared indigent and the actual cost and expense of restraint, care, and treatment of indigent inebriates as herein defined shall be borne and paid by the county from which the inebriate is committed: Provided, that there shall not be included in such cost and expense any charge except for board and clothing. (1921, c. 156, s. 5; C. S. 2304(d).)

§ 35-34. Inebriate submitting himself for treatment.—Any inebriate within the definition of § 35-30 who wishes to submit himself for care and treatment in the department for inebriates at the state hospital in Raleigh, may be received therein as a patient upon his presentation of himself personally at the institution and making arrangements with the superintendent for the actual cost of his detention and treatment. He shall signify his desire in writing, and promise therein to submit himself to the rules and regulations for the government of the institution. When this is done he shall be detained therein and given adequate care and attention. After he has been so detained for thirty days he may secure his release and discharge by ten days notice in writing to the superintendent, or to any one of the assistant physicians in charge of such institution: Provided, said physician or physicians are satisfied that said inebriate has sufficiently recovered to return to his home and not become a menace or charge to society. (1921, c. 156, s. 6; C. S. 2304(e).)

§ 35-35. Department for inebriates. — It shall be the duty of trustees and superintendent of the state hospital at Raleigh to prepare and set apart a department for such inebriates on or before the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two: Provided that, if in the course of care and treatment of said inebriates it developes that they have criminal, mental, or other symptoms indicating they can not be properly taken care of in this department, the superintendent of the hospital is hereby authorized to transfer such patients to any other department under his care, that, in his opinion, the circumstances may justify. (1921, c. 156, s. 7; 1933, c. 341; C. S. 2304(f).)

Art. 7. Sterilization of Persons Mentally Defective.

§ 35-36. State institutions authorized to sterilize mental defectives.—The governing body or responsible head of any penal or charitable institution supported wholly or in part by the state of North Carolina, or any subdivision thereof, is hereby authorized and directed to have the necessary operation for asexualization, or sterilization, performed upon any mentally diseased, feebleminded or epileptic inmate or patient thereof, as may be considered best in the interest of the mental, moral, or physical improvement of the patient or inmate, or for the public good: Provided, however, that no operation described in this section shall be lawful unless and until the provisions of this article shall first be complied with. (1933, c. 224, s. 1.)

§ 35-37. Operations on mental defectives not in institutions.—It shall be the duty of the board of commissioners of any county of North Carolina, at the public cost and expense, to have one of the operations described in § 35-36, performed upon any mentally diseased, feeble-minded or epileptic resident of the county, not an inmate of any public institution, upon the request and petition of the superintendent of public welfare or other similar public official performing in whole or in part the functions of such superintendent, or of the next of kin, or the legal guardian of such mentally defective person: Provided, however, that no operation described in this section shall be lawful unless and until the provisions of this article shall be first complied with. (1933, c. 224, s. 2.)

§ 35-38. Restrictions on such operations. — No operation under this article shall be performed by other than a duly qualified and registered North Carolina physician or surgeon, and by him only upon a written order signed after complete compliance with the procedure outlined in this article by the responsible executive head of the institution or board, or the superintendent of public welfare, or other similar official performing in whole or in part the functions of such superintendent, or the next of kin or legal guardian having custody or charge of the feeble-minded, mentally defective or epileptic inmate, patient or non-institutional individual. (1933, c. 224, s. 3.)

§ 35-39. Prosecutors designated; duties.—If the person upon whom the operation is to be performed is an inmate or patient of one of the institutions mentioned in § 35-36, the executive head of such institution or his duly authorized agent shall act as prosecutor of the case. The county superintendent of public welfare may act as prosecutor or petitioner in instituting sterilization proceedings in the case of any feeble-minded, epileptic, or mentally diseased person who is on parole from a state institution, and in the case of any such person who is an inmate of a state institution, when authorized to do so by the superintendent of such institution. If the person upon whom the operation is to be performed is an inmate or patient of a charitable or penal institution supported by the county, the executive head of such institution or his duly authorized agent, or the county superintendent of welfare or such other official performing in whole or in part the functions of such superintendent of the county in which such county institution is situated, shall act as petitioner in instituting proceedings before the eugenics board. If the person to be operated upon is not an inmate of any such public institution, then the superintendent of welfare or such other official performing in whole or in part the functions of such superintendent of the county of which said inmate, patient, or non-institutional individual to be sterilized is a resident, shall be the prosecutor. It shall be the duty of such prosecutor promptly to institute proceedings as provided by this article in any or all of the following circumstances:

1. When in his opinion it is for the best interest of the mental, moral or physical improvement of the patient, inmate, or non-institutional individual, that he or she be operated upon.

2. When in his opinion it is for the public good that such patient, inmate or non-institutional individual be operated upon.

3. When in his opinion such patient, inmate, or non-institutional individual would be likely, unless operated upon, to procreate a child or children who would have a tendency to serious physical, mental, or nervous disease or deficiency.

4. When requested to do so in writing by the next of kin or legal guardian of such patient, inmate or non-institutional individual.

5. In all cases as provided for in § 35-55. (1933, c. 224, s. 4; 1935, c. 463, s. 1; 1937, c. 243.)

§ 35-40. Eugenics board of N. C. created.—There is hereby created the eugenics board of North Carolina. All proceedings under this article shall be begun before the said eugenics board. This board shall consist of five members and shall be composed of: (1) the commissioner of public welfare of North Carolina, (2) the secretary of the state board of health of North Carolina, (3) the chief medical officer of an institution for the feebleminded or insane of the state of North Carolina, not located in Raleigh, (4) the chief medical officer of the state hospital at Raleigh, (5) the attorney general of the state of North Carolina. Any one of these officials may for the purpose of a single hearing delegate his power to act as a member of said board to an assistant: Provided, said delegation is made in writing, to be included as a part of the permanent record in said case. The said board shall from time to time elect a chairman from its own membership and adopt and from time to time modify rules governing the conduct of proceedings before it, and from time to time select the member of the said board designated above as the chief medical officer of an institution for the feebleminded or insane of the state of North Carolina not located in Raleigh. (1933, c. 224, s. 5.)

§ 35-41. Quarterly meetings. — The board of eugenics shall meet at least quarterly in each year in Raleigh for the purpose of hearing all cases that may be brought before it and shall continue in session with appropriate adjournments until all current applications and other pending business have been disposed of. The members shall receive no additional compensation for their services. (1933, c. 224, s. 6.)

§ 35-42. Secretary of board and duties.—The board shall appoint a secretary not a member of the board who shall conduct the business of the board between the times of the regular meetings. Such secretary shall receive all petitions, keep the records, call meetings, and in general act as the executive of said board in such matters as may be delegated to him by said board. (1933, c. 224, s. 7.)

§ 35-43. Proceedings before board. — Proceedings under this article shall be instituted by the petition of said petitioner to the eugenics board. Such petition shall be in writing, signed by the petitioner and duly verfied by his affidavit to the best of his knowledge and belief. It shall set forth the facts of the case and the grounds of his opinion. The petition shall also contain a statement of the mental and physical status of the patient verified by the affidavit of at least one physician who has had actual knowledge of the case and who in the cases of inmates or patients of institutions described in § 35-36 may be a member of the medical staff of said institution. The eugenics board may require that the petitioner submit additional social and medical history in regard to the inmate, patient or individual resident and his family. The prayer of said petition shall be that an order be entered by said board authorizing the petitioner to perform, or to have performed by some competent physician or surgeon to be designated by him in the petition or by said board in its order upon said inmate, patient or individual resident named in said petition in its discretion that the operation of sterilization or asexualization as specified in § 35-36 which shall be best suited to the interests of the said inmate or patient or to the public good. (1933, c. 224, s. 8; 1935, c. 463, s. 2.)

§ 35-44. Copy of petition served on patient.—A copy of said petition, duly certified by the secretary of the said board to be correct, must be served upon the inmate, patient or individual resident, together with a notice in writing signed by the secretary of the said board designating the time and place not less than fifteen days before the presentation of such petition to said board when and where said board will hear and act upon such petition. It shall be sufficient service if the copy of said petition and notice in writing be delivered to said inmate, patient or individual resident, and it shall not be necessary to read the above mentioned document to said patient, inmate or individual resident.

A copy of said petition, duly certified to be correct, and the said notice must also be served upon the legal or natural guardian and next of kin of the inmate, patient or individual resident. If no near relative is known, the copy and notice shall be sent to the solicitor of the county in which the inmate, patient or individual resident resides, and it shall be his duty to protect the rights and best interests of the said inmate, patient or individual resident.

If there is no next of kin and no solicitor in said county, or if there is no known guardian of said inmate, patient, or individual resident and the said inmate, patient or individual resident is of such mental condition as not to be competent reasonably to conduct his own affairs, then the said prosecutor shall apply to the superior court of the county in which the inmate, patient or individual resident resides or to the judge thereof in vacation, who shall appoint some suitable person to act as guardian of the said inmate during and for the purposes of proceedings under this article, to defend the rights and interests of the said inmate, patient or individual resident. And such guardian shall be served likewise with a copy of the aforesaid petition and notice, and shall under all circumstances be given at least fifteen days' notice of said hearing. Such guardian may be removed or discharged at any time by the said court or the judge thereof in vacation and a new guardian appointed and substituted in his place.

If the said inmate or patient be under twenty-one years of age and have a living parent or parents whose names and addresses are known or can by reasonable investigation be learned by said prosecutor, they or either of them, as the case may be, shall be served likewise with a copy of said petition and notice and shall be entitled to at least fifteen days' notice of the said hearing: Provided, that the procedure described in this section shall not be necessary in the case of any operation for sterilization or asexualization provided for in this article if the parent, legal or natural guardian, or spouse or next of kin of the inmate, patient or non-institutional individual shall submit to the superintendent of the institution of which the subject is a patient or inmate or to the superintendent of public welfare of the county in which the subject is residing, regardless of whether the subject is a legal resident of such county, a duly witnessed petition requesting that sterilization or asexualization be performed upon said inmate, patient or non-institutional individual, provided the other provisions of this article are complied with. Any operation authorized in accordance with this proviso may be performed immediately upon receipt of the authorization from the eugenics board. (1933, c. 224, s. 9; 1935, c. 463, ss. 3, 6.)

§ 35-45. Consideration of matter by board.—The said board at the time and place named in said notice, with such reasonable continuances from time to time and from place to place as the said board may determine, shall proceed to hear and consider the said petition and evidence offered in support of and against the same: Provided, that the said board shall give opportunity to said inmate, patient or individual resident to attend the said hearings in person if desired by him or if requested by his guardian or next of kin, or the solicitor.

The said board may receive and consider as evidence at the said hearings the commitment papers and other records of the said inmate or patient with or in any of the aforesaid institutions as certified by the superintendent or executive official, together with such other evidence as may be offered by any party to the proceedings.

Any member of the said board shall have power for the purposes of this article to administer oaths to any witnesses at such hearing.

Depositions may be taken, as in other civil cases, by any party after due notice and read in evidence, if otherwise pertinent.

Any party to the said proceedings shall have the right to be represented by counsel at such hearings.

A stenographic transcript of the proceedings at such hearings duly certified by the petitioner and the inmate, patient or individual resident, or his guardian or next of kin, or the solicitor, shall be made and preserved as part of the records of the case. (1933, c. 224, s. 10.)

§ 35-46. Board may deny or approve petition.—The said board may deny the prayer of the said petition or if, in the judgment of the board, the case falls within the intent and meaning of one or more of the circumstances mentioned in § 35-39, and an operation of asexualization or sterilization seems to said board to be for the best interest of the mental, moral or physical improvement of the said patient, inmate or individual resident or for the public good, it shall be the duty of the board to approve said recommendation in whole or in part or to make such order as under all the circumstances of the case may seem appropriate, within fifteen days after the conclusion of said hearings, and to send to the prosecutor a written order, signed by at least three members of the board, directing him to proceed with the operation as provided in this article. Said order shall contain the name of the specific operation which is to be performed and the date when said operation is to be performed.

If the board disapproves the petition, the case may not be brought up again except on the request of the inmate, patient, or individual resident, or his guardian, or one or more of his next of kin, husband, wife, father, mother, brother, or sister, until one year has elapsed.

Nothing in this article shall be construed to empower or authorize the board to interfere in any manner with the right of the patient, inmate, or individual resident, or his guardian or next of kin to select a competent physician of his own choice for consultation or operation at his own expense. (1933, c. 224, s. 11.)

§ 35-47. Orders may be sent parties by registered mail; consenting to operation.—Any order granting the prayer of the petition, in whole or in part, may be delivered to the petitioner by registered mail, return receipt demanded, to all parties in the case, including the legal guardian, the solicitor and the next of kin of the inmate, patient, or individual resident. It shall be the duty of the said guardian, the solicitor and the next of kin to protect by such measures as may seem to them in their sole discretion sufficient and appropriate the rights and best interests of the said inmate, patient, or individual resident.

If the inmate, patient or individual resident, or the next of kin, legal guardian, solicitor of the county, and guardian appointed as herein provided, after the said hearing but not before, shall consent in writing to the operation as ordered by the board, such operation shall take place at such time as the said prosecutor petitioning shall designate. (1933, c. 224, s. 12.)

§ 35-48. Right of appeal to superior court.—If it appears to the inmate, patient or individual resident, or to his or her representative, guardian, parent or next of kin, or to the solicitor, that the proceedings taken are not in accordance with the law, or that the reasons given for asexualization or sterilization are not adequate or well founded, or for any other reason the order is not legal, or is not legal as applied to this inmate, patient or individual resident, he or she may within fifteen days from the date of such order have an appeal of right to the superior court of the county in which said inmate or patient resided prior to admission to the institution, or the county in which the non-institutional individual resides. This appeal may be taken by giving notice in writing to any member of the board and to the other parties to the proceeding, including the doctor who is designated to perform the said operation. Upon the giving of this notice the petitioner within fifteen days thereafter shall cause a copy of the petition, notice, evidence and orders of the said board certified by any member thereof to be sent to the clerk of the said court, who shall file the same and docket the appeal to be heard and determined by the said court as soon thereafter as may be practicable.

The presiding judge of said superior court may hear the appeal upon affidavit or oral evidence and in determining such an appeal may consider the record of the proceedings before the eugenics board, including the evidence therein appearing together with such other legal evidence as may be offered to the said judge by any party to the appeal. In hearing such an appeal the general public may be excluded and only such persons admitted thereto as have direct interest in the case.

Upon such appeal the said superior court may affirm, revise, or reverse the orders of the said board appealed from and may enter such order as it deems just and right and which it shall certify to the said board.

The pendency of such appeal shall automatically, and without more, stay proceedings under the order of the said board until the appeal be completely determined. Should the decision of the superior court uphold the plaintiff's objection, such decision unless appealed from will annul the order of the board to proceed with the operation, and the matter may not be brought up again until one year has elapsed except by the consent of the plaintiff or his next of kin, or his legal representatives. Should the court affirm the order of the board, then, if no notice of appeal to the supreme court is filed within ten days after such decision, said board's recommendation as affirmed shall be put into effect at a time fixed by the original prosecutor or his successor in office and the inmate, patient or individual shall be asexualized or sterilized as provided in this article.

In this appeal the person for whom an order of asexualization or sterilization has been issued shall be designated as the plaintiff, and the prosecutor presenting the original petition shall be designated as defendant. (1933, c. 224, s. 13; 1935, c. 463, s. 4.)

§ 35-49. Appeal costs. — The cost of appeal, if any, to the superior or higher courts, shall be taxed as in civil cases. If the case is finally determined in favor of the plaintiff, the costs shall be paid by the county. (1933, c. 224, s. 14; 1935, c. 463, s. 5.)

§ 35-50. Appeal to supreme court.—Any party to such appeal to the superior court may, within ten days after the date of the final order therein, apply for an appeal to the supreme court, which shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the same upon the record of the proceedings in the superior court and to enter such order as it may find the superior court should have entered.

The pendency of an appeal in the supreme court shall operate as a stay of proceedings under any orders of the said board and the superior court until the appeal be determined by the said supreme court. (1933, c. 224, s. 15.)

§ 35-51. Civil or criminal liability of parties limited. — Neither the said petitioner nor any other person legally participating in the execution of the provisions of this article shall be liable, either civilly or criminally, on account of such participation, except in case of negligence in the performance of said operation. (1933, c. 224, s. 16.)

§ 35-52. Necessary medical treatment unaffected by article.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed so as to prevent the medical or surgical treatment for sound therapeutic reasons of any person in this state, by a physician or surgeon licensed in this state, which treatment may incidentally involve the nullification or destruction of the reproductive functions. (1933, c. 224, s. 17.)

§ 35-53. Permanent records of proceedings before board.—Records in all cases arising under this article shall be filed permanently with the secretary of the said eugenics board. Such records shall not be open to public inspection except for such purposes as the court may from time to time approve. (1933, c. 224, s. 18.)

§ 35-54. Construction of terms.—Where the inmates, patients, or non-institutional individuals are referred to in this article as of the masculine or feminine gender, the same shall be construed to include the feminine or masculine gender as well. Wherever the term individual resident appears in this article, it shall be construed to mean non-institutional individual. (1933, c. 224, s. 19.)

§ 35-55. Discharge of patient from institution. —Before any inmate or patient designated in §§ 35-36 and 35-39, shall be released, paroled or discharged, it shall be the duty of the governing body or responsible head of any institution above mentioned to comply with the procedure set out in this article, whenever a written request for the asexualization or sterilization of said inmate or patient is filed with the governing body or responsible head of the institution in which such inmate or patient has been legally confined. This written request may be made by any public official or by the legal guardian or next of kin of any inmate or patient not later than thirty days prior to the date of said parole or discharge. Upon the receipt of the signed approval of the eugenics board as described in this article, it shall be the duty of said governing board or responsible head to issue an order for the performance of the operation upon said inmate or patient, and the operation must be performed before the release, parole or discharge of any such inmate or patient. (1933, c. 224, s. 20.)

§ 35-56. Existing rights of surgeons unaffected.—Nothing in Public Laws 1935, chapter 463 shall, in any way, interfere with any surgeon in the removal of diseased pathological tissue from any patient. (1935, c. 463, s. 7.)

§ 35-57. Temporary admission to state hospitals for sterilization.—Any feeble-minded, epileptic, or mentally diseased person, for whom the eugenics board of North Carolina has authorized sterilization, may be admitted to the appropriate state hospital for the performance of such operation. The order of the eugenics board authorizing a surgeon on the regular or consulting staff of the hospital to perform the operation will be sufficient authority to the superintendent of such hospital to receive, restrain, and control the patient until such time as it is deemed wise to release such patient. All such admissions shall be at the discretion of the superintendent of the state hospital, and in making any agreement with any county or any state institution to perform such operations, the state hospital may collect a fee which shall not be greater than the cost of such operation and the cost of care and maintenance for the duration of the operation and the time required for the patient to recuperate.

The order of the eugenics board and the agreement of the superintendent of the state hospital to admit such patient shall be full and sufficient authority for the prosecutor or the sheriff of the county to deliver such patient to the proper state hospital. (1937, c. 221.)

Art. 8. Temporary Care and Restraint of Inebriates, Drug Addicts and Persons Insane.

§ 35-58. Hospitals and sanatoriums may restrain and treat alcohol and drug addicts.—The superintendent, manager, or owner of any public or private hospital, sanatorium, or institution, upon the written request of two duly licensed physicians, not connected with any hospital, public or private, and the husband, wife, guardian, or in the case of an unmarried person having no guardian, by some one of the next of kin, may receive, care for and restrain in such hospital, sanatorium, or institution, as a patient, for a period not exceeding twenty days. any insane person needing immediate care and treatment; or any person needing immediate care, restraint and treatment because such person has become addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics, hypnotic drugs or alcoholic drinks, to such an extent that he has lost the power of self control. Such request for the admission of such patient shall be in writing and filed at such hospital, sanatorium, or institution, at the time of the reception of such patient, or within twenty-four hours thereafter, and such written request shall be held and considered as a commitment of such patient or person to said hospital, sanatorium, or institution, for a period of not exceeding twenty days. The superintendent, manager, or owner of such hospital, sanatorium, or institution shall not detain or restrain any person received as above provided for more than twenty days and shall not be liable in damages to such person or his personal representative or guardian on account of such restraint: Provided, the same is exercised and administered in a humane manner, without violence or personal injury. (1933, c. 213, s. 1.)

§ 35-59. Use of restraining devices limited. — No restraint in the form of muffs or mitts with lock buckles, or waist straps, wristlets, anklets, or camisoles, head-straps, protection sheets or simple sheets when used for restraint or other device interfering with freedom shall be imposed upon any patient in such hospital, sanatorium, or institution, unless applied in the presence of the superintendent, or of the physician, or of an assistant physician of such hospital, sanatorium, or institution. Such device shall be applied only in cases of extreme violence, active homicidal or suicidal intent, physical exhaustion, infectious disease, or following an operation, or accident which has caused serious bodily injury, or to prevent injury to such patient or others, except that in cases of emergency restraint may be imposed without the presence of the superintendent, physician or assistant physician; every such emergency case, after the imposition of such restraint, shall immediately be reported to the superintendent, or manager, physician, or assistant physician of such hospital, sanatorium or institution, who shall immediately investigate the case and approve or disapprove the restraint imposed. (1933, c. 213, s. 2.)

§ 35-60. Civil liability for corrupt admissions.—Nothing contained in this article shall be held or construed to relieve from liability in any suit or action, instituted in the courts of this state, any husband, wife, guardian, physician, or assistant physician, to such person or patient on account of collusion of such husband, wife, guardian, physician or assistant physician to unlawfully, wrongfully and corruptly commit any such person or patient to such hospital, sanatorium, or institution, under the provisions of this article. (1933, c. 213, s. 3.)

Art. 1. Investment and Deposit of Trust Funds.

§ 36-1. Certain investments deemed cash. — Guardians, executors, administrators, and others acting in a fiduciary capacity, having surplus funds of their wards, estates and cestuis que trustent to loan, may invest in United States bonds, or any securities for which the United States are responsible, farm loan bonds issued by Federal land banks, or in bonds of the state of North Carolina issued since the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two; or in drainage bonds duly issued under the provisions of article 8 of chapter entitled Drainage; and in settlements by guardians, executors, administrators, trustees, and others acting in a fiduciary capacity, such bonds or other securities of the United States, and such bonds of the state of North Carolina, and such drainage bonds, shall be deemed cash to the amount actually paid for same, including the premium, if any, paid for such bonds or other securities, and may be paid as such by the transfer thereof to the persons entitled. (Rev., s. 1792; Code, s. 1594; 1870-1, c. 197; 1885, c. 389; 1917, c. 6, s. 9; 1917, c. 67, s. 1; 1917, c. 152, s. 7; 1917, c. 191, s. 1; 1917, c. 269, s. 5; C. S. 4018.)

§ 36-2. Investment of trust funds in county, city, town, or school district bonds.—Guardians, executors, administrators, trustees, and others acting in a fiduciary capacity, are authorized to invest funds in their hands as such fiduciaries in bonds issued by any county, city, town or school district, of the state of North Carolina subsequent to January first, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, provided that the net debt of such county, city, town or school district does not exceed ten (10%) per cent of the assessed valuation of the property therein subject to taxation for the payment of such bonds, in the same manner, to the same extent and with the same legal consequence as fiduciaries are now authorized to invest such funds in bonds of the state of North Carolina under the provisions of § 36-1. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 63; 1931, c. 257; C. S. 4018(a).)

§ 36-3. Investment in building and loan and federal savings and loan associations.—Guardians, executors, administrators, clerks of the superior court and others acting in a fiduciary capacity may invest funds in their hands as such fiduciaries in stock of any building and loan association organized and licensed under the laws of this state: Provided, that no such funds may be so invested unless and until authorized by the insurance commissioner. Provided further, that such funds may be invested in stock of any federal savings and loan association organized under the laws of the United States, upon approval of an officer of the Home Loan Bank at Winston-Salem, or such other governmental agency as may hereafter have supervision of such associations. (1933, c. 549, s. 1; 1937, c. 14.)

§ 36-4. Investment in registered securities. — Any guardian having in hand surplus funds belonging to a minor ward may, if he so elects, invest the same in registered securities within the classes designated by §§ 36-1 and 36-2, the registration of said securities as to principal only to be in the name of said minor ward.

Upon delivery of such registered securities to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the estate of said minor ward is being administered, said clerk of the superior court shall give said guardian a receipt for the same and said clerk of the superior court shall thereafter hold said securities for said ward, subject only to final disposition thereof to be approved by the resident judge or presiding judge of the superior court: Provided, however, all income accruing therefrom shall be paid to said guardian in the same manner and for the same purposes as any other income of said estate derived from other sources.

Whenever any guardian shall have delivered to the clerk of the superior court registered securities as hereinbefore provided, he shall be entitled to credit in his account as guardian for the amount actually expended for such securities, and his bond as such guardian shall thereupon be reduced in an amount equal to twice the amount of the funds actually invested in said securities. (1935, c. 449.)

Local Modification.—Craven: 1935, c. 449.

§ 36-5. Trust funds deposited at trustee's risk.—No provision in any charter or certificate of organization of any corporation permitting deposits therein by any guardian, executor or other trustee or fiduciary, or by any county, bonded or other officer, shall operate or be construed to relieve or discharge them, or either of them, from official responsibility, or to relieve them, or either of them, or their sureties, from liability on their official bonds. (Rev., s. 1793; 1889, c. 470; C. S. 4019.)

Art. 2. Removal of Trust Funds from State.

§ 36-6. Proceeding to remove trust funds of nonresidents.—When any personal estate in this state is vested in a trustee resident therein, and those having the beneficial interest in the said estate are nonresidents of this state, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the said trustee resides may, on a petition filed for that purpose, order him or his personal representative to pay, transfer, and deliver the said estate, or any part of it, to a nonresident trustee appointed by some court of record in the state in which the said beneficiary or beneficiaries reside. No such order of any clerk shall be valid and in force until approved by the resident judge of said judicial district, or the judge holding court in such district. (1911, c. 161, s. 1; C. S. 4020.)

§ 36-7. Removal ordered on notice; bond of nonresident trustee. — No such order shall be made, in the case of a petition, until notice of the application shall have been given to all persons interested in such trust estate, as now required by law in other special proceedings, nor until the court shall be satisfied by authentic documentary evidence that the nonresident trustee, appointed as aforesaid, has given bond, with sufficient surety, for the faithful execution of the trust, nor until it is satisfied that the payment and removal of such estate out of the state will not prejudice the right of any person interested or to become interested therein. (1911, c. 161, s. 2; C. S. 4021.)

§ 36-8. Order of removal discharges resident trustee.—When any guardian or committee, trustee or other person in this state, shall pay over, transfer, or deliver any estate in his hands or vested in him, under any order or decree made in pursuance of this article, he shall be discharged from all responsibility therefor. (1911, c. 161, s. 3; C. S. 4022.)

Art. 3. Resignation of Trustee.

§ 36-9. Clerk's power to accept resignations.—The clerks of the superior courts of this state have power and jurisdiction to accept the resignation of executors, administrators, guardians, trustees, and other fiduciaries and to appoint their successors in the manner provided by this article. (1911, c. 39, s. 1; C. S. 4023.)

§ 36-10. Petition; contents and verification. — When any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary desires to resign his trust, he shall file his petition in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he qualified or in which the instrument under which he claims is registered. The petition shall set forth all the facts in connection with the appointment and qualification of the applicant as such fiduciary, with a copy of the instrument under which he acts; shall state the names, ages, and residences of all the cestuis que trustent and other parties interested in the trust estate; shall contain a full and complete statement of all debts or liabilities due by the estate, and a full and complete statement of all assets belonging to said estate, and a full and complete statement of all moneys, securities, or assets in the hands of the fiduciary and due the estate, together with a full statement of the reasons why the applicant should be permitted to resign his trust. The petition shall be verified by the oath of the applicant. (1911, c. 39, s. 2; C. S. 4024.)

§ 36-11. Parties; hearing; successor appointed. —Upon the filing of the petition, the clerk shall docket the cause as a special proceeding, with the fiduciary as plaintiff and the cestuis que trustent as defendants, and shall issue summons for the defendants, and the procedure shall be the same as in other special proceedings. If any of the defendants be nonresidents, summons may be served by publication; and if any be infants, a guardian ad litem must be appointed by the court to represent their interests in the manner now provided by law. The cestuis que trustent, creditors, or any other person interested in the trust estate, have the right to answer said petition or traverse the same and to offer evidence why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. The clerk shall then proceed to hear and determine the matter, and if it appears to the court that the best interests of the creditors and the cestuis que trustent demand that the resignation of the fiduciary be accepted, or if it appears to the court that sufficient reasons exist for allowing the resignation, and that the resignation can be allowed without prejudice to the rights of creditors or the cestuis que trustent, the clerk may, in the exercise of his discretion, allow the applicant to resign; and in such case the clerk shall proceed to appoint the successor of the petitioner in the manner provided in this article. (1911, c. 39, s. 3; C. S. 4025.)

§ 36-12. Resignation allowed; costs; judge's approval.—In making an order allowing the fiduciary to resign the clerk shall make such order concerning the costs of the proceedings and commissions to the fiduciary as may be just. If there is no appeal from the decision and order of the clerk within the time prescribed by law, the proceedings shall be submitted to the judge of the superior court and approved by him before the same become effective. (1911, c. 39, s. 3; C. S. 4026.)

§ 36-13. Appeal; stay effected by appeal.—Any party in interest may appeal from the decision of the clerk to the judge at chambers, and in such event the procedure shall be the same as in other special proceedings as now provided by law. If the clerk allows the resignation, and an appeal is taken from his decision, such appeal shall have the effect to stay the judgment and order of the clerk until the cause is heard and determined by the judge upon the appeal taken. (1911, c. 39, s. 4; C. S. 4027.)

§ 36-14. On appeal judge determines facts.—Upon an appeal taken from the clerk to the judge, the judge shall have the power to review the findings of fact made by the clerk and to find the facts or to take other evidence, but the facts found by the judge shall be final and conclusive upon any appeal to the supreme court. (1911, c. 39, s. 5; C. S. 4028.)

§ 36-15. Final accounting before resignation.—No executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary shall be allowed or permitted to resign his trust until he shall first file with the court his final account of the trust estate, and until the court shall be satisfied that the said account is true and correct. (1911, c. 39, s. 6; C. S. 4029.)

§ 36-16. Resignation effective on settlement with successor.—In case the resignation of the fiduciary is accepted by the court, the same shall not go into effect, or release or discharge the fiduciary from liability, until he shall have accounted to his successor in full for all moneys, securities, property or other assets or things of value in his possession or under his control or which should be in his possession or under his control belonging to the trust estate. (1911, c. 39 s. 6; C. S. 4030.)

§ 36-17. Court to appoint successor; bond required.—If the court shall allow any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary to resign his trust upon compliance with the provisions of this article, it shall be the duty of the court to proceed to appoint some fit and suitable person as the successor of such executor, administrator, guardian, trustee or other fiduciary; and the court shall require the person so appointed to give bond with sufficient surety, approved by the court, in a sum double the value of the property to come into his hands, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as such fiduciary and for the payment to the persons entitled to receive the same of all moneys, assets, or other things of value which may come into his hands. All bonds executed under the provisions of this article shall be filed with the clerk, and shall be recorded in his office in a book kept for that purpose. (1911, c. 39, s. 7; C. S. 4031.)

§ 36-18. Rights and duties devolve on successor.—Upon the acceptance by the court of the resignation of any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary, and upon the appointment by court of his successor in the manner provided by this article, the substituted trustee shall succeed to all the rights, powers, and privileges, and shall be subject to all the duties, liabilities, and responsibilities that were imposed upon the original trustee. (1911, c. 39, s. 8; C. S. 4032.)

Art. 4. Charitable Trusts.

§ 36-19. Trustees to file accounts.—When real or personal property has been granted by deed, will, or otherwise, for such charitable purposes as are allowed by law, it shall be the duty of those to whom are confided the management of the property and the execution of the trust, to deliver in writing a full and particular account thereof to the clerk of the superior court of the county where the charity is to take effect, on the first Monday in February in each year, to be filed among the records of the court, and spread upon the record of accounts. (Rev., s. 3922; Code, s. 2342; R. C., c. 18, s. 1; 1832, c. 14, s. 1; 43 Eliz., c. 4; C. S. 4033.)

§ 36-20. Action for account; court to enforce trust.—If § 36-19 be not complied with, or there is reason to believe that the property has been mismanaged through negligence or fraud, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to give notice thereof to the attorney-general or solicitor who represents the state in the superior court for that county; and it shall be his duty to bring an action in the name of the state against the grantees, executors, or trustees of the charitable fund, calling on them to render a full and minute account of their proceedings in relation to the administration of the fund and the execution of the trust. The attorney-general or solicitor may also, at the suggestion of two reputable citizens, commence an action as aforesaid; and, in either case, the court may make such order and decree as shall seem best calculated to enforce the performance of the trust. (Rev., s. 3923; Code, ss. 2343, 2344; R. C., c. 18, ss. 2, 3; 1832, c. 14, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 4034.)

§ 36-21. Not void for indefiniteness; title in trustee; vacancies.—No gift, grant, bequest or devise, whether in trust or otherwise, to religious, educational, charitable or benevolent uses or for the purpose of providing for the care or maintenance of any part of any cemetery, public or private, shall be invalid by reason of any indefiniteness or uncertainty of the objects or beneficiaries of such trust, or because said instrument confers upon the trustee or trustees discretionary powers in the selection and designation of the objects or beneficiaries of such trust or in carrying out the purpose thereof, or by reason of the same in contravening any statute or rule against perpetuities. If a trustee or trustees are named in the instrument creating such a gift, grant, bequest or devise, the legal title to the property given, granted, bequeathed or devised for such purpose shall vest in such trustee or trustees and its or their successor or successors duly appointed in accordance with the terms of such instrument. If no trustee or trustees be named in said instrument, or if a vacancy or vacancies shall occur in the trusteeship, and no method is provided in such instrument for filling such vacancy or vacancies, then the Superior Court of the proper county shall appoint a trustee or trustees, pursuant to § 36-9, to execute said trust in accordance with the true intent and meaning of the instrument creating the same. Such trustee or trustees when so appointed shall be vested with all the power and authority, discretionary or otherwise, conferred by such instrument. (1925, c. 264, s. 1.)

§ 36-22. Trusts created in other states valid.—Every such religious, educational or charitable trust created by any person domiciled in another state, which shall be valid under the laws of the state of the domicile of such creator or donor, shall be deemed and held in all respects valid under the laws of this State, even though one or more of the trustees named in the instrument creating said trust shall be domiciled in another state or one or more of the beneficiaries named in said trust shall reside or be located in a foreign state. (1925, c. 264, s. 2.)

§ 36-23. Application of section 36-22.—Section 36-22 shall apply to all trusts heretofore or hereafter created in which one or more of the beneficiaries or objects of such trust shall reside or be located in this State. (1925, c. 264, s. 3.)

Art. 5. Uniform Trusts Act.

§ 36-24. Definitions. — As used in this article unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires:

1. "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a business trust, an unincorporated organization, or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

2. "Trustee" includes trustees, a corporate as well as a natural person and a successor or substitute trustee.

3. "Relative" means a spouse, ancestor, descendant, brother or sister.

4. "Affiliate" means any person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by another person, as hereinabove defined, or any person under direct or indirect common control with another person. It includes any person with whom a trustee has an express or implied agreement regarding the purchase of trust investments by each from the other, directly or indirectly, except a broker or stock exchange.

5. "Trust" means an express trust only. (1939, c. 197, s. 1.)

§ 36-25. Bank account to pay special debts.—1. Whenever a bank account shall, by entries made on the books of the depositor and the bank at the time of the deposit, be created exclusively for the purpose of paying dividends, interest or interest coupons, salaries, wages, or pensions or other benefits to employees, and the depositor at the time of opening such account does not expressly otherwise declare, the depositor shall be deemed a trustee of such account for the creditors to be paid therefrom, subject to such power of revocation as the depositor may have reserved by agreement with the bank.

2. If any beneficiary for whom such a trust is created does not present his claim to the bank for payment within one year after it is due, the depositor who created such trust may revoke it as to such creditor. (1939, c. 197, s. 2.)

§ 36-26. Loan of trust funds.—Except as provided in § 36-27, no corporate trustee shall lend trust funds to itself or an affiliate, or to any director, officer, or employee of itself or of an affiliate; nor shall any noncorporate trustee lend trust funds to himself, or to his relative, employer, employee, partner, or other business associate. (1939, c. 197, s. 3.)

§ 36-27. Funds held by bank for investment or distribution.—Funds received or held by a bank as fiduciary awaiting investment or distribution shall be promptly invested, distributed or deposited to the credit of the trust department as a demand deposit in the commercial department of the bank or another bank: Provided, that the bank or the commercial department shall first deliver to the trust department, as collateral security, securities eligible for the investment of the sinking funds of the state of North Carolina equal in market value to such deposited funds, or readily marketable commercial bonds having not less than a recognized "A" rating equal to one hundred and twenty-five per cent (125%) of the funds so deposited; and such collateral security shall be held by the trust department in trust and for the special benefit of the estate or fund for which the deposit was made, or, in case the deposit consists of uninvested or undistributed funds belonging to several estates or trust funds, then in trust for the special benefit of said estates or funds in proportion to their respective interest in such deposits. The said securities shall at all times be kept separate and apart from the other assets of the trust department and proper records shall be kept by the proper officer in connection therewith. If such funds are deposited in a bank insured under the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the above collateral security will be required only for that portion of uninvested balances of each trust which are not fully insured under the provisions of that corporation. "Investment" and/or "invested" shall not be construed to include savings accounts or certificates or deposits in any bank. (1939, c. 197, s. 4.)

§ 36-28. Trustee buying from or selling to self.—No trustee shall directly or indirectly buy or sell any property for the trust from or to itself or an affiliate; or from or to a director, officer, or employee of such trustee or of an affiliate; or from or to a relative, employer, partner, or other business associate. (1939, c. 197, s. 5.)

§ 36-29. Trustee selling from one trust to another trust.—No trustee shall as trustee of one trust sell property to itself as trustee of another trust. (1939, c. 197, s. 6.)

§ 36-30. Corporate trustee buying its own stock.—No corporate trustee shall purchase for a trust shares of its own stock, or its bonds or other securities, or the stock, bonds or other securities of an affiliate. (1939, c. 197, s. 7.)

§ 36-31. Voting stock.—A trustee owning corporate stock may vote it by proxy, but shall be liable for any loss resulting to the beneficiaries from a failure to use reasonable care in deciding how to vote the stock and in voting it. (1939, c. 197, s. 8.)

§ 36-32. Banks holding stock in name of nominee.—A bank holding stock as fiduciary may hold it in the name of a nominee, without mention of the trust in the stock certificate or stock registration book: Provided, that (1) the trust records and all reports or accounts rendered by the fiduciary clearly show the ownership of the stock by the fiduciary and the facts regarding its holdings; (2) the nominee shall not have possession of the stock certificate or access thereto except under the immediate supervision of the fiduciary. The fiduciary shall personally be liable for any loss to the trust resulting from any act of such nominee in connection with such stock so held. (1939, c. 197, s. 9.)

§ 36-33. Powers attached to office.—Unless it is otherwise provided by the trust instrument, or an amendment thereof, or by court order, all powers of a trustee shall be attached to the office and shall not be personal. (1939, c. 197, s. 10.)

§ 36-34. Powers exercisable by majority. — 1. Unless it is otherwise provided by the trust instrument, or an amendment thereof, or by court order, any power vested in three or more trustees may be exercised by a majority of such trustees; but no trustee who has not joined in exercising a power shall be liable to the beneficiaries or to others for the consequences of such exercise, nor shall a dissenting trustee be liable for the consequences of an act in which he joins at the direction of the majority trustees, if he expressed his dissent in writing to any of his cotrustees at or before the time of such joinder.

2. Nothing in this section shall excuse a cotrustee from liability for inactivity in the administration of the trust nor for failure to attempt to prevent a breach of trust. (1939, c. 197, s. 11.)

§ 36-35. Contracts of trustee. — 1. Whenever a trustee shall make a contract which is within his powers as trustee, or a predecessor trustee shall have made such a contract, and a cause of action shall arise thereon, the party in whose favor the cause of action has accrued may sue the trustee in his representative capacity, and any judgment rendered in such action in favor of the plaintiff shall be collectible (by execution) out of the trust property. In such an action the plaintiff need not prove that the trustee could have secured reimbursement from the trust fund if he had paid the plaintiff's claim.

2. No judgment shall be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in such action unless he proves that within thirty days after the beginning of such action, or within such other time as the court may fix, and more than thirty days prior to obtaining the judgment, he notified each of the beneficiaries known to the trustee who then had a present interest, or in the case of a charitable trust the attorney general and any corporation which is a beneficiary or agency in the performance of such charitable trust, of the existence and nature of the action. Such notice shall be given by mailing copies thereof in postpaid envelopes addressed to the parties to be notified at their last known addresses. The trustee shall furnish the plaintiff a list of the parties to be notified, and their addresses, within ten days after written demand therefor, and notification of the persons on such list shall constitute compliance with the duty placed on the plaintiff by this section. Any beneficiary, or in the case of charitable trusts the attorney general and any corporation which is a beneficiary or agency in the performance of such charitable trust, may intervene in such action and contest the right of the plaintiff to recover.

3. The plaintiff may also hold the trustee who made the contract personally liable on such contract, if the contract does not exclude such personal liability. The addition of the word "trustee" or the words "as trustee" after the signature of a trustee to a contract shall be deemed prima facie evidence of an intent to exclude the trustee from personal liability. (1939, c. 197, s. 12.)

§ 36-36. Exoneration or reimbursement for torts. —1. A trustee who has incurred personal liability for a tort committed in the administration of the trust is entitled to exoneration therefor from the trust property if he has not discharged the claim, or to be reimbursed therefor out of trust funds if he has paid the claim, if (1) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee was properly engaged for the trust or, (2) although the tort was not a common incident of such activity if neither the trustee nor any officer or employee of the trustee was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability.

2. If a trustee commits a tort which increases the value of the trust property, he shall be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement with respect thereto to the extent of such increase in value, even though he would not otherwise be entitled to exoneration or reimbursement.

3. Nothing in this section shall be construed to change the existing law with regard to the liability of trustees of charitable trusts for torts of themselves or their employees. (1939, c. 197, s. 13.)

§ 36-37. Tort liability of trust estate.—1. Where a trustee of his predecessor has incurred personal liability for a tort committed in the course of his administration, the trustee in his representative capacity may be sued and collection had from the trust property, if the court shall determine in such action that (1) the tort was a common incident of the kind of business activity in which the trustee or his predecessor was properly engaged for the trust; or (2) that, although the tort was not a common incident of such activity, neither the trustee nor his predecessor, nor any officer or employee of the trustee or his predecessor, was guilty of personal fault in incurring the liability; or (3) that, although the tort did not fall within classes (1) or (2) above, it increased the value of the trust property. If the tort is within classes (1) or (2) above, collection may be had of the full amount of damage proved; and if the tort is within class (3) above, collection may be had only to the extent of the increase in the value of the trust property.

2. In an action against the trustee in his representative capacity under this section the plaintiff need not prove that the trustee could have secured reimbursement from the trust fund if he had paid the plaintiff's claim.

3. No judgment shall be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in such action unless he proves that within thirty days after the beginning of the action, or within such other period as the court may fix and more than thirty days prior to obtaining the judgment, he notified each of the beneficiaries known to the trustees who then had a present interest of the existence and nature of the action. Such notice shall be given by mailing copies thereof in postpaid envelopes addressed to such beneficiaries at their last known addresses. The trustees shall furnish the plaintiff a list of such beneficiaries and their addresses, within ten days after written demand therefor, and notification of the persons on such list shall constitute compliance with the duty placed on the plaintiff by this section. Any beneficiary may intervene in such action and contest the right of the plaintiff to recover.

4. The trustee may also be held personally liable for any tort committed by him, or by his agents or employees in the course of their employments, subject to the rights of exoneration or reimbursement provided in § 36-36.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to change the existing law with regard to the liability of trustees of charitable trusts for torts of themselves or their employees. (1939, c. 197, s. 14.)

§ 36-38. Withdrawals from mingled trust funds.—Where a person who is a trustee of two or more trusts has mingled the funds of two or more trusts in the same aggregate of cash, or in the same bank or brokerage account or other investment, and a withdrawal is made therefrom by the trustee for his own benefit, or for the benefit of a third person not a beneficiary or creditor of one or more of the trusts, or for an unknown purpose, such a withdrawal shall be charged first to the amount of cash, credit, or other property of the trustee in the mingled fund, if any, and after the exhaustion of the trustee's cash, credit, or other property, then to the several trusts in proportion to their several interests in the cash, credit, or other property at the time of the withdrawal. (1939, c. 197, s. 15.)

§ 36-39. Unenforceable oral trust created by deed.—1. When an interest in real property is conveyed by deed to a person on a trust which is unenforceable on account of the statute of frauds and the intended trustee or his successor in interest still holds title but refuses to carry out the trust on account of the statute of frauds, the intended trustee or his successor in interest, except to the extent that the successor in interest is a bona fide purchaser of a legal interest in the real property in question, shall be under a duty to convey the interest in real property to the settlor or his successor in interest. A court having jurisdiction may prescribe the conditions upon which the interest shall be conveyed to the settlor or his successor in interest.

2. Where the intended trustee has transferred part or all of his interest and it has come into the hands of a bona fide purchaser, the intended trustee shall be liable to the settlor or his successor in interest for the value of the interest thus transferred at the time of its transfer, less such offsets as the court may deem equitable. (1939, c. 197, s. 16.)

§ 36-40. Power of settlor.—The settlor of any trust affected by this article may, by provision in the instrument creating the trust if the trust was created by a writing, or by oral statement to the trustee at the time of the creation of the trust if the trust was created orally, or by an amendment of the trust if the settlor reserved the power to amend the trust, relieve his trustee from any or all of the duties, restrictions, and liabilities which would otherwise be imposed upon him by this article; or alter or deny to his trustee any or all of the privileges and powers conferred upon the trustee by this article; or add duties, restrictions, liabilities, privileges, or powers, to those imposed or granted by this article; but no act of the settlor shall relieve a trustee from the duties, restrictions, and liabilities imposed upon him by §§ 36-26, 36-27 and 36-28. (1939, c. 197, s. 17.)

§ 36-41. Power of beneficiary.—Any beneficiary of a trust affected by this article may, if of full legal capacity and acting upon full information, by written instrument delivered to the trustee relieve the trustee as to such beneficiary from any or all of the duties, restrictions, and liabilities which would otherwise be imposed on the trustee by this article, except as to the duties, restrictions, and liabilities imposed by §§ 36-26, 36-27 and 36-28. Any such beneficiary may release the trustee from liability to such beneficiary for past violations of any of the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 197, s. 18.)

§ 36-42. Power of the court.—A court of competent jurisdiction may, for cause shown and upon notice to the beneficiaries, relieve a trustee from any or all of the duties and restrictions which would otherwise be placed upon him by this article, or wholly or partly excuse a trustee who has acted honestly and reasonably from liability for violations of the provisions of this article. (1939, c. 197, s. 19.)

§ 36-43. Liabilities for violations of article.—If a trustee violates any of the provisions of this article, he may be removed and denied compensation in whole or in part; and any beneficiary, cotrustee, or successor trustee may treat the violation as a breach of trust. (1939, c. 197, s. 20.)

§ 36-44. Uniformity of interpretation. — This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1939, c. 197, s. 21.)

§ 36-45. Short title.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Trusts Act. (1939, c. 197, s. 22.)

§ 36-46. Time of taking effect. — This article shall take effect the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine and shall apply in the construction of and operation under (a) all agreements containing trust provisions entered into subsequent to March 15, 1941; (b) all wills made by testators who shall die subsequent to March 15, 1941; and (c) all other wills and trust agreements and trust relations in so far as such terms do not impair the obligation of contract or deprive persons of property without due process of law under the Constitution of the State of North Carolina or of the United States of America. (1939, c. 197, s. 25; 1941, c. 269.)

Art. 6. Uniform Common Trust Fund Act.

§ 36-47. Establishment of common trust funds.—Any bank or trust company qualified to act as fiduciary in this state may establish one or more common trust funds for the purpose of furnishing investments to itself as fiduciary, or to itself and another or others, as co-fiduciaries; and may, as such fiduciary or co-fiduciary, invest funds which it lawfully holds for investment in interests in such common trust fund or funds, if such investment is not prohibited by the instrument, judgment, decree, or order creating such fiduciary relationship or by an amendment thereof, and if, in the case of co-fiduciaries, the bank or trust company procures the consent of its co-fiduciary or co-fiduciaries to such investment. (1939, c. 200, s. 1.)

§ 36-48. Court accountings. — Unless ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction the bank or trust company operating such common trust fund or funds shall not be required to render a court accounting with regard to such fund or funds; but it may, by application to the superior court, secure approval of such an accounting on such conditions as the court may establish. This section shall not affect the duties of the trustees of the participating trusts under the common trust fund to render accounts of their several trusts. (1939, c. 200, s. 2.)

§ 36-49. Supervision of state banking commission.—All common trust funds established under the provisions of this article shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the state banking commission. (1939, c. 200, s. 3.)

§ 36-50. Uniformity of interpretation. — This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1939, c. 200, s. 4.)

§ 36-51. Short title.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Common Trust Fund Act. (1939, c. 200, s. 5.)

§ 36-52. Time of taking effect. — This article shall be in full force and effect on and after July first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine and shall apply to fiduciary relationships then in existence or thereafter established. (1939, c. 200, s. 8.)

Chapter 37. Uniform Principal and Income Act.

Sec.
37-1. Definition of terms.
37-2. Application of the chapter; powers of settlor.
37-3. Income and principal; disposition.
37-4. Apportionment of income.
37-5. Corporate dividends and share rights.
37-6. Premium and discount bonds.
37-7. Principal used in business.
37-8. Principal comprising animals.
37-9. Disposition of natural resources.
37-10. Principal subject to depletion.
37-11. Unproductive estate.
37-12. Expenses; trust estates.
37-13. Expenses; non-trust estates.
37-14. Uniformity of interpretation.
37-15. Short title.

§ 37-1. Definition of terms.—"Principal" as used in this chapter means any realty or personalty which has been so set aside or limited by the owner thereof or a person thereto legally empowered that it and any substitutions for it are eventually to be conveyed, delivered or paid to a person, while the return therefrom or use thereof or any part of such return or use is in the meantime to be taken or received by or held for accumulation for the same or another person;

"Income" as used in this chapter means the return derived from principal;

"Tenant" as used in this chapter means the person to whom income is presently or currently payable, or for whom it is accumulated or who is entitled to the beneficial use of the principal presently and for a time prior to its distribution;

"Remainderman" as used in this chapter means the person ultimately entitled to the principal, whether named or designated by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established or determined by operation of law;

"Trustee" as used in this chapter includes the original trustee of any trust to which the principal may be subject and also any succeeding or added trustee. (1937, c. 190, s. 1.)

§ 37-2. Application of the chapter; powers of settlor.—This chapter shall govern the ascertainment of income and principal, and the apportionment of receipts and expenses between tenants and remaindermen, in all cases where a principal has been established with, or, unless otherwise stated hereinafter, without the interposition of a trust; except that in the establishment of the principal provision may be made touching all matters covered by this chapter, and the person establishing the principal may himself direct the manner of ascertainment of income and principal and the apportionment of receipts and expenses or grant discretion to the trustee or other person to do so, and such provision and direction, where not otherwise contrary to law, shall control notwithstanding this chapter. (1937, c. 190, s. 2.)

§ 37-3. Income and principal; disposition. — (1) All receipts of money or other property paid or delivered as rent of realty or hire of personalty or dividends on corporate shares payable other than in shares of the corporation itself, or interest on money loaned, or interest on or the rental or use value of property wrongfully withheld or tortiously damaged, or otherwise in return for the use of principal, shall be deemed income unless otherwise expressly provided in this chapter.

(2) All receipts of money or other property paid or delivered as the consideration for the sale or other transfer, not a leasing or letting, or property forming a part of the principal, or as a repayment of loans, or in liquidation of the assets of a corporation, or as the proceeds of property taken on eminent domain proceedings where separate awards to tenant and remainderman are not made, or as proceeds of insurance upon property forming a part of the principal except where such insurance has been issued for the benefit of either tenant or remainderman alone, or otherwise as a refund or replacement or change in form of principal, shall be deemed principal unless otherwise expressly provided in this chapter. Any profit or loss resulting upon any change in form of principal shall inure to or fall upon principal.

(3) All income after payment of expenses properly chargeable to it shall be paid and delivered to the tenant or retained by him if already in his possession or held for accumulation where legally so directed by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established, while the principal shall be held for ultimate distribution as determined by the terms of the transaction by which it was established or by law. (1937, c. 190, s 3.)

§ 37-4. Apportionment of income. — Whenever a tenant shall have the right to income from periodic payments, which shall include rent, interest on loans and annuities, but shall not include dividends on corporate shares, and such right shall cease and determine by death or in any other manner at a time other than the date when such periodic payments should be paid, he or his personal representative shall be entitled to that portion of any such income next payable which amounts to the same percentage thereof as the time elapsed from the last due date of such periodic payments to and including the day of the determination of his right is of the total period during which such income would normally accrue. The remaining income shall be paid to the person next entitled to income by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established. But no action shall be brought by the trustee or tenant to recover such apportioned income or any portion thereof until after the day on which it would have become due to the tenant but for the determination of the right of the tenant entitled thereto. The provisions of this section shall apply whether an ultimate remainderman is specifically named or not. Likewise when the right of the first tenant accrues at a time other than the payment dates of such periodic payments, he shall only receive that portion of such income which amounts to the same percentage thereof as the time during which he has been so entitled is of the total period during which such income would normally accrue; the balance shall be a part of the principal. (1937, c. 190, s. 4.)

§ 37-5. Corporate dividends and share rights. —(1) All dividends on shares of a corporation forming a part of the principal which are payable in the shares of the corporation shall be deemed principal. Subject to the provisions of this section, all dividends payable otherwise than in the shares of the corporation itself, including ordinary and extraordinary dividends and dividends payable in shares or other securities or obligations of corporations, other than the declaring corporation, shall be deemed income. Where the trustee shall have the option of receiving a dividend, either in cash or in the shares of the declaring corporation, it shall be considered as a cash dividend and deemed income, irrespective of the choice made by the trustee.

(2) All rights to subscribe to the shares or other securities or obligations of a corporation accruing on account of the ownership of shares or other securities in such corporation, and the proceeds of any sale of such rights, shall be deemed principal. All rights to subscribe to the shares or other securities or obligations of a corporation accruing on account of the ownership of shares or other securities in another corporation, and the proceeds of any sale of such rights, shall be deemed income.

(3) Where the assets of a corporation are liquidated, amounts paid upon corporate shares as cash dividends declared before such liquidation occurred or as arrears of preferred or guaranteed dividends shall be deemed income; all other amounts paid upon corporate shares on disbursements of the corporate assets to the stockholders shall be deemed principal. All disbursements of corporate assets to the stockholders, whenever made, which are designated by the corporation as a return of capital or division of corporate property shall be deemed principal.

(4) Where a corporation succeeds another by merger, consolidation or reorganization or otherwise acquires its assets, and the corporate shares of the succeeding corporation are issued to the shareholders of the original corporation in like proportion to, or in substitution for, their shares of the original corporation, the two corporations shall be considered a single corporation in applying the provisions of this section. But two corporations shall not be considered a single corporation under this section merely because one owns corporate shares of or otherwise controls or directs the other.

(5) In applying this section the date when a dividend accrues to the person who is entitled to it shall be held to be the date specified by the corporation as the one on which the stockholders entitled thereto are determined, or in default thereof the date of declaration of the dividend. (1937, c. 190, s. 5.)

§ 37-6. Premium and discount bonds.—Where any part of the principal consists of bonds or other obligations for the payment of money, they shall be deemed principal at their inventory value or in default thereof at their market value at the time the principal was established, or at their cost where purchased later, regardless of their par or maturity value; and upon their respective maturities or upon their sale any loss or gain realized thereon shall fall upon or inure to the principal. (1937, c. 190, s. 6.)

§ 37-7. Principal used in business.—(1) Whenever a trustee or a tenant is authorized by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established, or by law, to use any part of the principal in the continuance of a business which the original owner of the property comprising the principal had been carrying on, the net profits of such business attributable to such principal shall be deemed income.

(2) Where such business consists of buying and selling property, the net profits for any period shall be ascertained by deducting from the gross returns during and the inventory value of the property at the end of such period, the expenses during and the inventory value of the property at the beginning of such period.

(3) Where such business does not consist of buying and selling property, the net income shall be computed in accordance with the customary practice of such business, but not in such way as to decrease the principal.

(4) Any increase in the value of the principal used in such business shall be deemed principal, and all losses in any one calendar year, after the income from such business for that year has been exhausted, shall fall upon principal. (1937, c. 190, s. 7.)

§ 37-8. Principal comprising animals. — Where any part of the principal consists of animals employed in business, the provisions of § 37-7 shall apply; and in other cases where the animals are held as a part of the principal, partly or wholly because of the offspring or increase which they are expected to produce, all offspring or increase shall be deemed principal to the extent necessary to maintain the original number of such animals and the remainder shall be deemed income; and in all other cases such offspring or increase shall be deemed income. (1937, c. 190, s. 8.)

§ 37-9. Disposition of natural resources.—Where any part of the principal consists of property in lands from which may be taken timber, minerals, oils, gas or other natural resources, and the trustee or tenant is authorized by law or by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established to sell, lease or otherwise develop such natural resources, and no provision is made for the disposition of the net proceeds thereof after the payment of expenses and carrying charges on such property, such proceeds, if received as rent on a lease, shall be deemed income, but if received as consideration, whether as royalties or otherwise, for the permanent severance of such natural resources from the lands, shall be deemed principal to be invested to produce income. Nothing in this section shall be construed to abrogate or extend any right which may otherwise have accrued by law to a tenant to develop or work such natural resources for his own benefit. (1937, c. 190, s. 9.)

§ 37-10. Principal subject to depletion.—Where any part of the principal consists of property subject to depletion, such as leaseholds, patents, copyrights and royalty rights, and the trustee or tenant in possession is not under a duty to change the form of the investment of the principal, the full amount of rents, royalties or return from the property shall be income to the tenant; but where the trustee or tenant is under a duty, arising either by law or by the terms of the transaction by which the principal was established, to change the form of the investment, either at once or as soon as it may be done without loss, then the return from such property not in excess of five per centum per annum of its fair inventory value, or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established, or at its cost where purchased later, shall be deemed income and the remainder principal. (1937, c. 190, s. 10.)

§ 37-11. Unproductive estate.—(1) Where any part of a principal in the possession of a trustee consists of realty or personalty which for more than a year, and until disposed of as hereinafter stated, has not produced an average net income of at least one per centum per annum of its fair inventory value, or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established, or of its cost where purchased later, and the trustee is under a duty to change the form of the investment as soon as it may be done without sacrifice of value and such change is delayed, but is made before the principal is finally distributed, then the tenant, or in case of his death his personal representative, shall be entitled to share in the net proceeds received from the property as delayed income to the extent hereinafter stated.

(2) Such income shall be the difference between the net proceeds received from the property and the amount which, had it been placed at simple interest at the rate of five per centum per annum for the period during which the change was delayed, would have produced the net proceeds at the time of change, but in no event shall such income be more than the amount by which the net proceeds exceed the fair inventory value of the property or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established or its cost where purchased later. The net proceeds shall consist of the gross proceeds received from the property, less any expenses incurred in disposing of it and less all carrying charges which have been paid out of principal during the period while it has been unproductive.

(3) The change shall be taken to have been delayed from the time when the duty to make it first arose, which shall be presumed, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, to be one year after the trustee first received the property if then unproductive, otherwise one year after it became unproductive.

(4) If the tenant has received any income from the property or has had any beneficial use thereof during the period while the change has been delayed, his share of the delayed income shall be reduced by the amount of such income received or the value of the use had.

(5) In the case of successive tenants the delayed income shall be divided among them or their representatives according to the length of the period for which each was entitled to income. (1937, c. 190, s. 11.)

§ 37-12. Expenses; trust estates.—(1) All ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the trust estate or with its administration and management, including regularly recurring taxes assessed against any portion of the principal, water rates, premiums on insurance taken upon the estates of both tenant and remainderman, interest on mortgages on the principal, ordinary repairs, trustees' compensation except commissions computed on principal, compensation of assistants, and court costs and attorneys' and other fees on regular accountings, shall be paid out of income. But such expenses where incurred in disposing of, or as carrying charges on, unproductive estate as defined in § 37-11, shall be paid out of principal, subject to the provisions of sub-section two of § 37-11.

(2) All other expenses, including trustee's commissions computed upon principal, cost of investing or reinvesting principal, attorneys' fees and other costs incurred in maintaining or defending any action to protect the trust or the property or assure the title thereof, unless due to the fault or cause of the tenant, and cost of, or assessments for, improvements to property forming part of the principal, shall be paid out of principal. Any tax levied by any authority, federal, state or foreign, upon profit or gain defined as principal under the terms of sub-section two of § 37-3 shall be paid out of principal, notwithstanding said tax may be denominated a tax upon income by the taxing authority.

(3) Expenses paid out of income according to sub-section one which represent regularly recurring charges shall be considered to have accrued from day to day, and shall be apportioned on that basis whenever the right of the tenant begins or ends at some date other than the payment date of the expenses. Where the expenses to be paid out of income are of unusual amount, the trustee may distribute them throughout an entire year or part thereof, or throughout a series of years. After such distribution, where the right of the tenant ends during the period, the expenses shall be apportioned between tenant and remainderman on the basis of such distribution.

(4) Where the costs of, or special taxes or assessments for, an improvement representing an addition of value to property held by the trustee as part of principal are paid out of principal, as provided in sub-section two, the trustee shall reserve out of income and add to the principal each year a sum equal to the cost of the improvement divided by the number of years of the reasonably expected duration of the improvement. (1937, c. 190, s. 12.)

§ 37-13. Expenses; non-trust estates.—(1) The provisions of § 37-12, so far as applicable and excepting those dealing with costs of, or special taxes, or assessments for, improvements to property, shall govern the apportionment of expenses between tenants and remaindermen where no trust has been created, subject, however, to any legal agreement of the parties or any specific direction of the taxing or other statutes; but where either tenant or remainderman has incurred an expense for the benefit of his own estate, and without the consent or agreement of the other, he shall pay such expense in full.

(2) Subject to the exceptions stated in sub-section one the cost of, or special taxes or assessments for, an improvement representing an addition of value to property forming part of the principal shall be paid by the tenant, where such improvement cannot reasonably be expected to outlast the estate of the tenant. In all other cases a portion thereof only shall be paid by the tenant, while the remainder shall be paid by the remainderman. Such portion shall be ascertained by taking that percentage of the total which is found by dividing the present value of the tenant's estate by the present value of an estate of the same form as that of the tenant, except that it is limited for a period corresponding to the reasonably expected duration of the improvement. The computation of present values of the estates shall be made on the expectancy basis set forth in the "American Experience Tables of Mortality," and no other evidence of duration or expectancy shall be considered. (1937, c. 190, s. 13.)

§ 37-14. Uniformity of interpretation. — This chapter shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1937, c. 190, s. 14.)

§ 37-15. Short title.—This chapter may be cited as the Uniform Principal and Income Act. (1937, c. 190, s. 15.)

Chapter 38. Boundaries.

Sec.
38-1. Special proceeding to establish.
38-2. Occupation sufficient ownership.
38-3. Procedure.
38-4. Surveys in disputed boundaries.

§ 38-1. Special proceeding to establish. — The owner of land, any of whose boundary lines are in dispute, may establish any of such lines by special proceedings in the superior court of the county in which the land or any part thereof is situated. (Rev., s. 325; 1893, c. 22; C. S. 361.)

§ 38-2. Occupation sufficient ownership. — The occupation of land constitutes sufficient ownership for the purposes of this chapter. (Rev., s. 326; 1893, c. 22; 1903, c. 21; C. S. 362.)

§ 38-3. Procedure. — 1. Petition; Summons; Hearing.—The owner shall file his petition under oath stating therein facts sufficient to constitute the location of such line as claimed by him and making defendants all adjoining owners whose interest may be affected by the location of said line. The clerk shall thereupon issue summons to the defendants as in other cases of special proceedings. If the defendants fail to answer, judgment shall be given establishing the line according to petition. If the answer deny the location set out in the petition, the clerk shall issue an order to the county surveyor or, if cause shown, to any competent surveyor to survey said line or lines according to the contention of both parties, and make report of the same with a map at a time to be fixed by the clerk, not more than thirty days from date of order; to which time the cause shall be continued. The cause shall then be heard by the clerk upon the location of said line or lines and judgment given determining the location thereof.

2. Appeal to Term.—Either party may within ten days after such determination by the clerk serve notice of appeal from the ruling of the clerk determining the said location. When notice of appeal is served it shall be the duty of the clerk to transmit the issues raised before him to the next term of the superior court of the county for trial by a jury, when the question shall be heard de novo.

3. Survey After Judgment.—When final judgment is given in the proceeding the court shall issue an order to the surveyor to run and mark the line or lines as determined in the judgment. The surveyor shall make report including a map of the line as determined, which shall be filed with the judgment roll in the cause and entered with the judgment on the special proceedings docket.

4. Procedure as in Special Proceedings.—The procedure under this chapter, the jurisdiction of the court, and the right of appeal shall, in all respects, be the same as in special proceedings except as herein modified. (Rev., s. 326; 1893, c. 22; 1903, c. 21; C. S. 363.)

§ 38-4. Surveys in disputed boundaries.—When in any suit pending in the superior court the boundaries of lands are drawn in question, the court may, if deemed necessary, order a survey of the lands in dispute, agreeable to the boundaries and lines expressed in each party's titles, and such other surveys as shall be deemed useful; which surveys shall be made by two surveyors appointed by the court, one to be named by each of the parties, or by one surveyor, if the parties agree; and the surveyors shall attend according to the order of the court, and make the surveys, and shall make as many accurate plans thereof as shall be ordered by the court; and for such surveys the court shall make a proper allowance, to be taxed as among the costs of the suit. (Rev., s. 1504; Code, s. 939; R. C., c. 31, s. 119; 1779, c. 157; 1786, c. 252; C. S. 364.)

39-30. Investigation by clerk; bond.
39-31. Application, certificate, bond and order filed as permanent record.
39-32. Penalty for violation.

Art. 1. Construction and Sufficiency.

§ 39-1. Fee presumed, though word "heirs" omitted.—When real estate is conveyed to any person, the same shall be held and construed to be a conveyance in fee, whether the word "heir" is used or not, unless such conveyance in plain and express words shows, or it is plainly intended by the conveyance or some part thereof, that the grantor meant to convey an estate of less dignity. (Rev., s. 946; Code, s. 1280; 1879, c. 148; C. S. 991.)

§ 39-2. Vagueness of description not to invalidate.—No deed or other writing purporting to convey land or an interest in land shall be declared void for vagueness in the description of the thing intended to be granted by reason of the use of the word "adjoining" instead of the words "bounded by," or for the reason that the boundaries given do not go entirely around the land described: Provided, it can be made to appear to the satisfaction of the jury that the grantor owned at the time of the execution of such deed or paper-writing no other land which at all corresponded to the description contained in such deed or paper-writing. (Rev., s. 948; 1891, c. 465, s. 2; C. S. 992.)

§ 39-3. Conveyances to slaves.—When it is made to appear that any gift or conveyance has been made to any person, while a slave, of any lands or tenements, whether the same was conveyed by deed or parol, and the bargainee or donee has been placed in actual possession of the same, such gift or conveyance shall have the force and effect of transferring the legal title to the lands and tenements to such bargainee or donee: Provided, such possession shall have continued for the term of ten years prior to the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and seventy: Provided, further, that any absence from the premises from the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, shall not be held as an abandonment or discontinuance of the possession: Provided, also, that this section shall not affect the interest of a bona fide purchaser for value from the grantor or bargainor of the lands or tenements in dispute. (Rev., s. 949; Code, s. 1278; 1869-70, c. 77; C. S. 993.)

§ 39-4. Conveyances by infant trustees.—When an infant is seized or possessed of any estate in trust, whether by way of mortgage or otherwise, for another person who may be entitled in law to have a conveyance of such estate, or may be declared to be seized or possessed, in the course of any proceeding in the superior court, the court may decree that the infant shall convey and assure such estate, in such manner as it may direct, to such other person; and every conveyance and assurance made in pursuance of such decree shall be as effectual in law as if made by a person of full age. (Rev., s. 1036; Code, s. 1265; R. C., c. 37, s. 27; 1821, c. 1116, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 994.)

§ 39-5. Official deed, when official selling or empowered to sell is not in office.—When a sheriff, coroner, constable or tax collector, in virtue of his office, sells any real or personal property and goes out of office before executing a proper deed therefor, he may execute the same after his term of office has expired; and when he dies or removes from the state before executing the deed, his successor in office shall execute it. When a sheriff or tax collector dies having a tax list in his hands for collection, and his personal representative or surety, in collecting the taxes, makes sale according to law, his successor in office shall execute the conveyance for the property to the person entitled. (Rev., ss. 950, 951; Code, s. 1267; R. C., c. 37, s. 30; 1891, c. 242; C. S. 995.)

§ 39-6. Revocation of deeds of future interest made to persons not in esse.—The grantor in any voluntary conveyance in which some future interest in real estate is conveyed or limited to a person not in esse may, at any time before he comes into being, revoke by deed such interest so conveyed or limited. This deed of revocation shall be registered as other deeds; and the grantor of like interest for a valuable consideration may, with the joinder of the person from whom the consideration moved, revoke said interest in like manner. The grantor, maker or trustor who has heretofore created or may hereafter create a voluntary trust estate in real or personal property for the use and benefit of himself or of any other person or persons in esse with a future contingent interest to some person or persons not in esse or not determined until the happening of a future event may at any time, prior to the happening of the contingency vesting the future estates, revoke the grant of the interest to such person or persons not in esse or not determined by a proper instrument to that effect; and the grantor of like interest for a valuable consideration may, with the joinder of the person from whom the consideration moved, revoke said interest in like manner: Provided that in the event the instrument creating such estate has been recorded, then the deed of revocation of such estate shall be likewise recorded before it becomes effective. (Rev., s. 1045; 1893, c. 498; 1929, c. 305; 1941, c. 264; C. S. 996.)

Art. 2. Conveyances by Husband and Wife.

§ 39-7. Instruments affecting married woman's title; husband to execute; privy examination. — Every conveyance, power of attorney or other instrument affecting the estate, right or title of any married woman in lands, tenements or hereditaments must be executed by such married woman and her husband, and due proof or acknowledgment thereof must be made as to the husband and due acknowledgment thereof must be made by the wife, and her private examination, touching her voluntary assent to such instrument, shall be taken separate and apart from her husband, and such acknowledgment or proof as to the execution by the husband and such acknowledgment by the wife and her private examination shall be taken and certified as provided by law. Any conveyance, power of attorney, contract to convey, mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument executed by any married woman in the manner by this chapter provided, and executed by her husband also, shall be valid in law to pass, bind or charge the estate, right, title and interest of such married woman in and to all such lands, tenements and hereditaments or other estate, real or personal, as shall constitute the subject-matter or be embraced within the terms and conditions of such instrument or purport to be passed, bound, charged or conveyed thereby. (Rev., s. 952; Code, s. 1256; 1899, c. 235, s. 9; C. C. P., s. 429, subsec. 6; 1868-9, c. 277, s. 15; C. S. 997.)

§ 39-8. Acknowledgment at different times and places; before different officers; order immaterial. —In all cases of deeds or other instruments executed by husband and wife and requiring registration, the probate of such instruments as to the husband and acknowledgment and private examination of the wife may be taken before different officers authorized by law to take probate of deeds, and at different times and places, whether both of said officials reside in this state or only one in this state and the other in another state or country. And in taking the probate of such instruments executed by husband and wife, including the private examination of the wife, it is immaterial whether the execution of the instrument was proven as to or acknowledged by the husband before or after the acknowledgment and private examination of the wife. (Rev., s. 953; 1899, c. 235, s. 9; 1895, c. 136; C. S. 998.)

§ 39-9. Absence of wife's examination does not affect deed as to husband.—When an instrument purports to be signed by a husband and wife the instrument may be ordered registered, if the acknowledgment of the husband is duly taken, whether the private examination of the wife is properly taken or not, but no such instrument shall be the act or deed of the wife unless her private examination is taken according to law. (Rev., s. 954; 1899, c. 235, s. 8; 1901, c. 637; C. S. 999.)

§ 39-10. Officers authorized to take privy examination.—The officials authorized by law to take proofs and acknowledgments of the execution of any instrument are empowered to take the private examination of any married woman, when her private examination is necessary, touching her free and voluntary assent to the execution of any instrument to which her assent is or may be necessary, and to certify the fact of such private examination. (Rev., s. 955; 1899, c. 235, s. 6; C. S. 1000.)

§ 39-11. Certain conveyances not affected by fraud if privy examination regular. — No deed conveying lands nor any instrument required or allowed by law to be registered, executed by husband and wife since the eleventh of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, if the private examination of the wife is thereto certified as prescribed by law, shall be invalid because its execution or acknowledgment was procured by fraud, duress or undue influence, unless it is shown that the grantee or person to whom the instrument was made participated in the fraud, duress or undue influence, or had notice thereof before the delivery of the instrument. Where such participation or notice is shown, an innocent purchaser for value under the grantee or person to whom the instrument was made shall not be affected by such fraud, duress or undue influence. (Rev., s. 956; 1889, c. 389; 1899, c. 235, s. 10; C. S. 1001.)

§ 39-12. Power of attorney of married woman.— All conveyances which may be made by any person under a power of attorney from any feme covert, freely executed by her with her husband, shall be valid to all intents and purposes to pass the estate, right and title which said feme covert may have in such lands, tenements and hereditaments as are mentioned or included in such power of attorney. (Rev., s. 957; Code, s. 1257; R. C., c. 37, s. 11; 1798, c. 510; C. S. 1002.)

§ 39-13. Wife need not join in purchase-money mortgage. — The purchaser of real estate who does not pay the whole of the purchase money at the time when he takes a deed for title may make a mortgage or deed of trust for securing the payment of such purchase money, or such part thereof as may remain unpaid, which shall be good and effectual against his wife as well as himself, without requiring her to join in the execution of such mortgage or deed of trust. (Rev., s. 958, Code, s. 1272; 1868-9, c. 204; 1907, c. 12; C. S. 1003.)

§ 39-14. Wife insane, husband's deed transfers her interest.—Every man whose wife is a lunatic or insane and whose homestead has been allotted, may bargain, sell, lease, mortgage, transfer and convey any of his real estate by deed, mortgage deed, deed of trust or lease, except his homestead, without the signature or private examination of his wife: Provided, that the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the wife was adjudged a lunatic or declared insane, or the superintendent of an insane institution of the state, or any other state, shall certify under his hand and seal that she has been adjudged a lunatic or declared insane, and that her sanity has not been declared restored as is provided by law, and this certificate must be attached to the husband's deed, mortgage deed, deed of trust, or lease.

Such deed, mortgage deed, deed of trust or lease executed, probated and registered in accordance with law shall convey all the estate and interest as therein intended of the grantor in the land conveyed free and exempt from the dower rights and all other interests of his wife: Provided, this section shall not apply to the homestead of the husband. (Rev., s. 959; 1905, c. 138, ss. 1, 3; 1919, c. 20; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 94; C. S. 1004.)

Art. 3. Fraudulent Conveyances.

§ 39-15. Conveyance with intent to defraud creditors void.—For avoiding and abolishing feigned, covinous and fraudulent gifts, grants, alienations, conveyances, bonds, suits, judgments and executions, as well of lands and tenements as of goods and chattels, which may be contrived and devised of fraud, to the purpose and intent to delay, hinder and defraud creditors and others of their just and lawful actions and debts, every gift, grant, alienation, bargain and conveyance of lands, tenements and hereditaments, goods and chattels, by writing or otherwise, and every bond, suit, judgment and execution, at any time had or made, to or for any intent or purpose last before declared and expressed, shall be deemed and taken (only as against that person, his heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, whose actions, debts, accounts, damages, penalties and forfeitures, by such covinous or fraudulent devices and practices aforesaid, are, shall, or might be in anywise disturbed, hindered, delayed or defrauded) to be utterly void and of no effect; any pretense, color, feigned consideration, expressing of use, or any other matter or thing to the contrary notwithstanding; and in all actions by creditors to set aside gifts, grants, alienations and conveyances of lands and tenements and judgments purporting to be liens on the same on the ground that such gifts, grants, alienations, conveyances and judgments are feigned, covinous and fraudulent hereunder, it shall be no defense to the action to allege and prove that the lands and tenements alleged to be so conveyed or encumbered do not exceed in value the homestead allowed by law as an exemption: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the sale under execution or other final process, obtained on any debt during the continuance of the homestead, of any interest in such land as may be exempt as a homestead. (Rev., s. 960; Code, s. 1545; 1893, c. 78; R. C., c. 50, s. 1; 50 Edw. III, c. 6; 13 Eliz., c. 5, s. 2; 1715, c. 7, s. 4; C. S. 1005.)

§ 39-16. Conveyance with intent to defraud purchasers void.—Every conveyance, charge, lease or encumbrance of any lands or hereditaments, goods and chattels, if the same be made with the actual intent in fact to defraud such person who has purchased or shall purchase in fee simple or for lives or years the same lands or hereditaments, goods and chattels, or to defraud such as shall purchase any rent or profit out of the same, shall be deemed utterly void against such person and others claiming under him who shall purchase for the full value thereof the same lands or hereditaments, goods and chattels, or rents or profits out of the same, without notice before and at the time of his purchase of the conveyance, charge, lease or encumbrance, by him alleged to have been made with intent to defraud; and possession taken or held by or for the person claiming under such alleged fraudulent conveyance, charge, lease or encumbrance shall be always deemed and taken as notice in law of the same. (Rev., s. 961; Code, s. 1546; R. C., c. 50, s. 2; 27 Eliz., c. 4, s. 2; 1840, c. 28, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1006.)

§ 39-17. Voluntary conveyance evidence of fraud as to existing creditors.—No voluntary gift or settlement of property by one indebted shall be deemed or taken to be void in law, as to creditors of the donor or settler prior to such gift or settlement, by reason merely of such indebtedness, if property, at the time of making such gift or settlement, fully sufficient and available for the satisfaction of his then creditors, be retained by such donor or settler; but the indebtedness of the donor or settler at such time shall be held and taken, as well with respect to creditors prior as creditors subsequent to such gift or settlement, to be evidence only from which an intent to delay, hinder or defraud creditors may be inferred; and in any trial shall, as such, be submitted by the court to the jury, with such observations as may be right and proper. (Rev., s. 962; Code, s. 1547; R. C., c. 50, s. 3; 1840, c. 28, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 1007.)

§ 39-18. Marriage settlements void as to existing creditors.—Every contract and settlement of property made by any man and woman in consideration of a marriage between them, for the benefit of such man or woman, or of their issue, whether the same be made before or after marriage, shall be void as against creditors of the parties making the same respectively, existing at the time of such marriage if the same is antenuptial, or at the time of making such contract or settlement if the same is postnuptial. (Rev., s. 963; Code, ss. 1270, 1820; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 11; R. C., c. 37, s. 25; 1785, c. 238, s. 2; C. S. 1008.)

§ 39-19. Purchasers for value and without notice protected.—Nothing contained in the preceding sections shall be construed to impeach or make void any conveyance, interest, limitation of use or uses, of or in any lands or tenements, goods or chattels, bona fide made, upon and for good consideration, to any person not having notice of such fraud. (Rev., s. 964; Code, s. 1548; R. C., c. 50, s. 4; 13 Eliz., c. 5, s. 6; 1785, c. 7, s. 6; C. S. 1009.)

§ 39-20. Bona fide purchaser of mortgaged property not affected by illegal consideration of note secured.—No conveyance or mortgage, made to secure the payment of any debt or the performance of any contract or agreement, shall be deemed void as against any purchaser for valuable or other good consideration of the estate or property conveyed, sold, mortgaged or assigned, by reason that the consideration of such debt, contract or agreement is forbidden by law, if such purchaser, at the time of his purchase, did not have notice of the unlawful consideration of such debt, contract or agreement. (Rev., s. 965; Code, s. 1549; R. C., c. 50, s. 5; 1842, c. 70; C. S. 1010.)

conveyed property treated as creditor.—Purchasers of estates previously conveyed in fraud of creditors or purchasers shall have like remedy and relief as creditors might have had before the sale and purchase. (Rev., s. 966; Code, s. 1550; R. C., c. 50, s. 6; C. S. 1011.)

§ 39-22. Persons aiding debtor to remove to defraud creditors liable for debts.—If any person removes or aids and assists in removing any debtor out of any county in which he has resided for the space of six months, or more, with the intent, by such removing, aiding or assisting, to delay, hinder or defraud the creditors, or any of them, of such debtor, the person so removing, aiding or assisting therein, and his executors or administrators, shall be liable to pay all the debts which the debtor removed may justly owe in the county from which he was so removed; and the same may be recovered by the creditors, their executors or administrators, by a civil action. (Rev., s. 1939; Code, s. 1551; R. C., c. 50, s. 14; 1820, c. 1063; C. S. 1012.)

§ 39-23. Sales in bulk presumed fraudulent.—The sale in bulk of a large part or the whole of a stock of merchandise, otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade and in regular and usual prosecution of the seller's business, shall be prima facie evidence of fraud, and void as against the creditors of the seller, unless the seller, at least seven days before the sale, makes an inventory showing the quantity and, so far as possible, the cost price to the seller of such articles included in the sale, and shall seven days before the proposed sale notify the creditors of the proposed sale, and the price, terms and conditions thereof. If the owner of said stock of goods shall at any time before the sale execute a good and sufficient bond, to a trustee therein named, in an amount equal to the actual cash value of the stock of goods, and conditioned that the seller will apply the proceeds of the sale, subject to the right of the owner or owners to retain therefrom the personal property exemption or exemptions as are allowed by law, so far as they will go in payment of debts actually owing by the owner or owners, then the provisions of this section shall not apply. Such sale of merchandise in bulk shall not be presumed to be a fraud as against any creditor or creditors who shall not present his or their claim or make demand upon the purchaser in good faith of such stock of goods and merchandise, or to the trustee named in any bond given as provided herein, within twelve months from the date of maturity of his claim, and any creditor who does not present his claim or make demand either upon the purchaser in good faith or on the trustee named in a bond within twelve months from the date of its maturity shall be barred from recovering on his claim on such bond, or as against the purchaser, in good faith, of such stock of goods in bulk. Nothing in this section shall prevent voluntary assignments or deeds of trust for the benefit of creditors as now allowed by law, or apply to sales by executors, administrators, receivers or assignees under a voluntary assignment for the benefit of creditors, trustees in bankruptcy, or by any public officers under judicial process. (1907, c. 623; 1913, c. 30, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 66, s. 1; 1933, c. 190; C. S. 1013.)

Art. 4. Voluntary Organizations and Associations.

§ 39-24. Authority to acquire and hold real estate.—Voluntary organizations and associations of individuals organized for charitable, fraternal, religious, or patriotic purposes, when organized for the purposes which are not prohibited by law, are hereby authorized and empowered to acquire real estate and to hold the same in their common or corporate names: Provided, that voluntary organizations and associations of individuals, within the meaning of this article, shall not include associations, partnerships or copartnerships which are organized to engage in any business, trade, or profession. (1939, c. 133, s. 1.)

§ 39-25. Title vested; conveyance; probate. — Where real estate has been or may be hereafter conveyed to such organizations or associations in their common or corporate name the said title shall vest in said organizations, and may be conveyed by said organization in its common name, when such conveyance is authorized by resolution of the body duly constituted and held, by a deed signed by its chairman or president, and its secretary or treasurer, or such officer as is the custodian of its common seal with its official seal affixed, the said conveyance to be proven and probated in the same manner as provided by law for deeds by corporations, and conveyances thus made by such organizations, and associations shall convey good and fee simple title to said land. (1939, c. 133, s. 2.)

§ 39-26. Effect as to conveyances by trustees.—Nothing in this article shall be deemed in any manner to change the law with reference to the holding and conveyance of land by the trustees of churches or other voluntary organizations where such land is conveyed to and held by such trustees. (1939, c. 133, s. 3.)

§ 39-27. Prior deeds validated.—All deeds heretofore executed in conformity with this article are declared to be sufficient to pass title to real estate held by such organizations. (1939, c. 133, s. 4.)

Art. 5. Sale of Building Lots in North Carolina.

§ 39-28. Application for permit to sell.—After March 9, 1927, before a building lot or lots in a new sub-division of real estate is offered for sale or sold in North Carolina wherein it is represented or agreed that streets, sidewalks, water, sewer, lights or other improvements are to be made for the benefit of the purchaser or purchasers, the person, firm or corporation desiring to offer the same for sale shall first apply to the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county wherein the building lot or lots are situated for a permit to so sell said lots. (1927, c. 210, s. 1.)

§ 39-29. Contents of application.—The application for a permit to sell must state the location of the lots or lot with an estimate of the cost of the improvement proposed to be made on each lot as a whole; the estimate of cost so made shall be certified as approximately correct by a civil engineer or county surveyor licensed to practice in the State of North Carolina. (1927, c. 210, s. 2.)

§ 39-30. Investigation by clerk; bond. — Upon the filing of said application and the certificate of the cost of the improvement, the clerk of the court shall satisfy himself that the land or lots are located in his county and he shall also satisfy himself of the genuineness of the application and certificate of the engineer or county surveyor, and shall, if so satisfied, require a good and sufficient bond, in a sum equal to the amount certified by the engineer or county surveyor as the approximate cost of the improvement or improvements, with a corporation licensed to do business in the State of North Carolina as surety thereon, conditioned to save the purchaser or purchasers of each lot or lots harmless to the amount of the estimated and certified cost of the proposed improvement on each lot or lots so purchased. (1927, c. 210, s. 3.)

§ 39-31. Application, certificate, bond and order filed as permanent record.—The clerk of the Superior Court shall preserve the application, certificate and bond and his orders thereon as a permanent record for the benefit of any party whose rights are affected thereby and shall, when the provisions of this article have been fully complied with, and when a filing fee of one dollar has been paid, issue a permit to the applicant to sell said lot or lots. (1927, c. 210, s. 4.)

§ 39-32. Penalty for violation. — Any person, firm or corporation selling or offering for sale any building lot or lots in violation of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 210, s. 5.)

Art. 1. Right of Eminent Domain.

§ 40-1. Corporation in this chapter defined.—For the purposes of this chapter, unless the context clearly indicates the contrary, the word "corporation" includes the bodies politic and natural persons, enumerated in the following section, which possess the power of eminent domain. (C. S. 1705.)

§ 40-2. By whom right may be exercised.—The right of eminent domain may, under the provisions of this chapter, be exercised for the purpose of constructing their roads, canals, pipe lines originating in North Carolina for the transportation of petroleum products, lines of wires, or other works, which are authorized by law and which involve a public use or benefit, by the bodies politic, corporation, or persons following:

1. Railroads, street railroads, plankroad, tramroad, turnpike, canal, pipe lines originating in North Carolina for the transportation of petroleum products, telegraph, telephone, electric power or lighting, public water supply, flume, or incorporated bridge companies.

2. Municipalities operating water systems and sewer systems and all water companies operating under charter from the state or license from municipalities, which may maintain public water supplies, for the purpose of acquiring and maintaining such supplies.

3. Person or persons, firms, corporations or copartnerships operating or authorized by law to operate electric light plants, or distributing electric current for lights or power, or for the purpose of constructing wires, poles or other necessary things, and for such purposes or things.

4. Public institutions of the state for the purpose of providing water supplies, or for other necessary purposes of such institutions.

5. School committees of public school districts, county boards of education, boards of trustees or of directors of any corporation holding title to real estate upon which any public school, private school, high school, academy, university or college is situated, in order to obtain a pure and adequate water supply for such school, college or university.

6. The department of conservation and development in the administration of the laws relating to fish and fisheries.

7. Any educational, penal, hospital or other institution incorporated or chartered by the state of North Carolina, for the furtherance of any of its purposes, such institution being wholly or partly dependent upon the state for maintenance, and such institution shall be in need of land for its location, or such institution shall be in need of adjacent land for necessary enlargement or extension, or for land for the building of a road or roads or a side-track for railroads, necessary to the proper operations and completion of any such institution, and shall so declare through its board of directors, trustees or other governing boards by a resolution inserted in the minutes at a regular meeting or special meeting called for that purpose, such institution shall have all the powers, rights and privileges of eminent domain given under this chapter, to condemn and procure such land, and shall follow the procedure established under this chapter.

8. Franchised motor vehicle carriers or union bus station companies organized by authority of the utilities commission, for the purpose of constructing and operating union bus stations: Provided, that this subsection shall not apply to any city or town having a population of less than sixty thousand. (Rev., s. 2575; Code, s. 1698; R. C., c. 61, s. 9; 1852, c. 92, s. 1; 1874-5, c. 83; 1907, cc. 39, 458, 783; 1911, c. 62, ss. 25, 26, 27; 1917, cc. 51, 132; 1923, c. 205; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 118; 1937, c. 108, s. 1; 1939, c. 228, s. 4; 1941, c. 97, s. 1; 1941, c. 254; C. S. 1706.)

§ 40-3. Right to enter on and purchase lands.—Such bodies politic, corporation, or persons, may at any time enter upon the lands through which they may desire to conduct the roads or works authorized under § 40-2 and lay out the same, and they may also enter upon such contiguous land along the route as may be necessary for depots, warehouses, engine sheds, workshops, water stations, tool-houses, and other buildings necessary for the accommodation of their officers, servants and agents, horses, mules and other cattle, and for the protection of their property; and shall pay to the proprietors of the land so entered on such sum as may be agreed on between them. (Rev., s. 2575; Code, s. 1698; R. C., c. 61, s. 9; 1852, c. 92, s. 1; 1874-5, c. 83; C. S. 1707.)

§ 40-4. Power of railroad companies to condemn land for union depots, double-tracking, etc.—Any railroad company operating a line of railroad in North Carolina whenever it shall find it necessary to occupy any land for the purpose of getting to a union depot which has been ordered by the utilities commission, or for the purpose of maintaining, operating, improving, or of straightening its line, or of altering its location, or of constructing double tracks, or of enlarging its yard or terminal facilities, or of connecting two of its lines already in operation not more than six miles apart, shall have the power to condemn all lands needed for such purpose under the provisions of this chapter. More than two acres may be condemned for yard or terminal facilities if required for due operation of the railroad. No lands in any incorporated towns shall be condemned under this section until approved by the utilities commission, nor shall any yard, garden or dwelling-house be condemned, unless the utilities commission, upon petition filed by the railroad seeking to condemn, shall, after due inquiry, find that the railroad company cannot make the desired improvement without condemning the yard, garden or dwelling-house, except at an excessive cost. The power to condemn land under this section shall be enforceable and matters arising in regard thereto shall be tried only in the courts created by or under the constitution of this state. No rights granted or acquired under the provisions of this section shall in any way destroy or abridge the rights of the state to regulate or control such railroad company or to exclude foreign corporations from doing business in this state. (1907, c. 458, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1933, c. 134, s. 8; 1941, c. 97, s. 1; C. S. 1708.)

§ 40-5. Condemning land for industrial sidings.—Any railroad company doing business in this state, whether such railroad be a domestic or foreign corporation, which has been or shall be ordered by the utilities commission to construct an industrial siding as provided in § 62-45, is empowered to exercise the right of eminent domain for such purpose, to condemn property as provided in this chapter, and to acquire such right of way as may be necessary to carry out the orders of the utilities commission. Whenever it is necessary for any railroad company doing business in this state to cross the streets or streets in a town or city in order to carry out the orders of the utilities commission, to construct an industrial siding, the power is hereby conferred upon such railroad company to occupy such street or streets of any such town or city within the state: Provided, license so to do be first obtained from the board of aldermen, board of commissioners, or other governing authorities of such town or city. (1911, c. 203; 1933, c. 134, s. 8; 1941, c. 97, s. 1; C. S. 1709.)

§ 40-6. Condemnation by schools for water supply.—If the school authorities mentioned in subsection 5 of § 40-2 shall be unable to agree with the owners of any lands which, or the use of which, it is necessary to appropriate in obtaining a pure and adequate water supply for the school, they shall file a petition for the condemnation of such lands in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. In addition to the particulars required to be set out in § 40-12, the petition shall state whether the water supply is desired to be obtained from a spring, from a stream, or by digging artesian wells. The proceedings for such condemnation shall conform to the requirements of this chapter. No greater amount of land in area or width shall be condemned under this section than is necessary to obtain a pure and adequate water supply.

Any person holding title to land upon which any school, public or private, is located is empowered to obtain water supplies from the springs, streams or artesian wells the use of which is acquired under this section by building intakes, reservoirs, digging ditches, laying pipes or doing such other things as may be needful to obtain the water supply. (1907, c. 671; C. S. 1710.)

§ 40-7. Condemnation for steamboat wharves and warehouses.—Upon the order of the utilities commission that any steamboat company provide wharf and warehouse facilities as may be deemed reasonable and just, at any particular point, such company shall have power to condemn land for such purpose in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 52; 1933, c. 134, s. 8; 1941, c. 97, s. 1; C. S. 1711.)

§ 40-8. May take material from adjacent lands.—For the purpose of constructing and operating its works and necessary appurtenances thereto, or of repairing them after they shall have been made, or of enlarging or otherwise altering them, the corporation entitled to exercise the powers of eminent domain may, at any time, enter on any adjacent lands, and cut, dig, and take therefrom any wood, stone, gravel, water or earth, which may be deemed necessary: Provided, that they shall not, without the consent of the owner, destroy or injure any ornamental or fruit trees. (Rev., s. 2576; Code, s. 1702; R. C., c. 61, s. 22; 1874-5, c. 83; 1907, c. 39, s. 2; C. S. 1712.)

§ 40-9. How material paid for.—If for the value of the damages done to the owner by reason of the acts mentioned in § 40-8 the parties may be unable to agree, the same shall be valued in the manner hereinafter provided. (Rev., s. 2577; Code, s. 1703; R. C., c. 61, s. 23; 1874-5, c. 83; C. S. 1713.)

§ 40-10. Dwelling-houses and burial grounds cannot be condemned.—No such corporation shall be allowed to have condemned to its use, without the consent of the owner, his dwelling-house, yard, kitchen, garden or burial ground, unless condemnation of such property is expressly authorized in its charter or by some provision of this code. (Rev., s. 2578; C. S. 1714.)

Art. 2. Condemnation Proceedings.

§ 40-11. Proceedings when parties cannot agree.—If any corporation, enumerated in § 40-2, possessing by law the right of eminent domain in this state, is unable to agree for the purchase of any real estate required for purposes of its incorporation or for the purposes specified in this chapter, it shall have the right to acquire title to the same in the manner and by the special proceedings herein prescribed. (Rev., s. 2579; Code, ss. 1943, 2009; 1885, c. 168; 1893, c. 63; 1901, cc. 6, 41, s. 2; 1899, c. 64; 1903, cc. 562, 159, s. 16; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 13; C. S. 1715.)

§ 40-12. Petition filed; contains what; copy served.—For the purpose of acquiring such title the corporation, or the owner of the land sought to be condemned, may present a petition to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the real estate described in the petition is situated, praying for the appointment of commissioners of appraisal. Such petition shall be signed and verified according to the rules and practice of such court; and if filed by the corporation it must contain a description of the real estate which the corporation seeks to acquire; and it must, in effect, state that the corporation is duly incorporated, and that it is its intention in good faith to conduct and carry on the public business authorized by its charter, stating in detail the nature of such public business, and the specific use of such land; that the land described in the petition is required for the purpose of conducting the proposed business, and that the corporation has not been able to acquire title thereto, and the reason of such inability. The petition, whether filed by the corporation or the owner of the land, must also state the names and places of residence of the parties, so far as the same can by reasonable diligence be ascertained, who own or have, or claim to own or have, estates or interests in the said real estate; and if any such persons are infants, their ages, as near as may be, must be stated; and if any such persons are idiots or persons of unsound mind or are unknown, that fact must be stated, together with such other allegations and statements of liens or encumbrances on said real estate as the corporation or the owner may see fit to make. A summons as in other cases of special proceedings, together with a copy of the petition, must be served on all persons whose interests are to be affected by the proceedings, at least ten days prior to the hearing of the same by the court. (Rev., s. 2580; Code, s. 1944; 1893, c. 396; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 14; 1907, c. 783, s. 3; C. S. 1716.)

§ 40-13. How process served.—The summons and a copy of the petition shall be served in the same manner as in special proceedings. (Rev., s. 2581; Code, s. 1944; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 14; C. S. 1717.)

§ 40-14. Service where parties unknown.—If the person on whom such service of summons and petition is to be made is unknown, or his residence is unknown and cannot by reasonable diligence be ascertained, then such service may be made under the direction of the court, by publishing a notice, stating the time and place within which such person must appear and plead, the object thereof, with a description of the land to be affected by the proceedings, in a paper, if there be one, printed in the county where the land is situated, once in each week, for four weeks previous to the time fixed by the court, and if there be no paper printed in such county, then in a newspaper printed in the city of Raleigh. (Rev., s. 2582; Code, s. 1944, subsec. 5; C. S. 1718.)

§ 40-15. Orders served as in special proceedings in absence of other provisions.—In all cases not herein otherwise provided for, service of orders, notices, and other papers in the special proceedings authorized by this chapter may be made as in other special proceedings. (Rev., s. 2583; Code, s. 1944, subsec. 7; C. S. 1719.)

§ 40-16. Answer to petition; hearing; commissioners appointed.—On presenting such petition to the superior court, with proof of service of a copy thereof, and of the summons, all or any of the persons whose estates or interests are to be affected by the proceedings may answer such petition and show cause against granting the prayer of the same, and may disprove any of the facts alleged in it. The court shall hear the proofs and allegations of the parties, and if no sufficient cause is shown against granting the prayer of the petition, it shall make an order for the appointment of three disinterested and competent freeholders who reside in the county where the premises are to be appraised, for the purposes of the company, and shall fix the time and place for the first meeting of the commissioners. (Rev., s. 2584; Code, s. 1945; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 15; C. S. 1720.)

§ 40-17. Powers and duties of commissioners.—The commissioners, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, shall take and subscribe an oath that they will fairly and impartially appraise the lands mentioned in the petition. Any one of them may issue subpœnas, administer oaths to witnesses, and any two of them may adjourn the proceedings before them from time to time, in their discretion. Whenever they meet, except by the appointment of the court or pursuant to adjournment, they shall cause ten days notice of such meeting to be given to the parties who are to be affected by their proceedings, or their attorney or agent. They shall view the premises described in the petition, hear the proofs and allegations of the parties, and reduce the testimony, if any is taken by them, to writing; and after the testimony is closed in each case, and without any unnecessary delay, and before proceeding to the examination of any other claim, a majority of them all being present and acting, shall ascertain and determine the compensation which ought justly to be made by the corporation to the party or parties owning or interested in the real estate appraised by them. They shall report the same to the court within ten days. (Rev., s. 2585; Code, s. 1946; 1871-2, c. 138, ss. 16-18; 1891, c. 160; C. S. 1721.)

§ 40-18. Form of commissioners' report.—When the commissioners shall have assessed the damages, they shall forthwith make and subscribe a written report of their proceedings, in substance as follows:

To the Clerk of the Superior Court of ..... County:

We, ..., commissioners appointed by the court to assess the damages that have been and will be sustained by ....., the owner of certain land lying in the county of ....., which the ..... corporation proposes to condemn for its use, do hereby certify that we met on ..... (or the day to which we were regularly adjourned), and, having first been duly sworn, we visited the premises of the owner, and after taking into full consideration the quality and quantity of the land aforesaid, the additional fencing likely to be occasioned by the work of the corporation, and all other inconveniences likely to result to the owner, we have estimated and do assess the damages aforesaid at the sum of $.....

We have estimated the special benefits which the said owner will receive from the construction of said works to be the sum of $.....

Given under our hands, the ..... day of ....., A. D. 19..... (Rev., s. 2586; Code, s. 1700; R. C., c. 61, s. 17; 1874-5, c. 83; C. S. 1722.)

§ 40-19. Exceptions to report; hearing; appeal; when title vests; restitution.—Within twenty days after filing the report the corporation or any person interested in the said land may file exceptions to said report, and upon the determination of the same by the court, either party to the proceedings may appeal to the court at term, and thence, after judgment, to the supreme court. The court or judge on the hearing may direct a new appraisal, modify or confirm the report, or make such order in the premises as to him shall seem right and proper. If the said corporation, at the time of the appraisal, shall pay into court the sum appraised by the commissioners, then and in that event the said corporation may enter, take possession of, and hold said lands, notwithstanding the pendency of the appeal, and until the final judgment rendered on said appeal. And if there shall be no appeal, or if the final judgment rendered upon said petition and proceedings shall be in favor of the corporation, and upon the payment by said corporation of the sum adjudged, together with the costs and counsel fees allowed by the court, into the office of the clerk of the superior court, then and in that event all persons who have been made parties to the proceedings shall be divested and barred of all right, estate and interest in such easement in such real estate during the corporate existence of the corporation aforesaid. A certified copy of such judgment under the seal of the court shall be registered in the county where the land is situated, and a copy of the same, or the original certified, may be given in evidence in all actions and proceedings as deeds for land are now allowed to be read in evidence. All real estate acquired by any corporation under and pursuant to the provisions of this chapter for its purposes shall be deemed to be acquired for the public use. But if the court shall refuse to condemn the land, or any portion thereof, to the use of such corporation, then, and in that event, the money paid into court, or so much thereof as shall be adjudged, shall be refunded to the corporation. And the corporation shall have no right to hold said land not condemned, but shall surrender the possession of the same, on demand, to the owner or owners, or his or their agent or attorney. And the court or judge shall have full power and authority to make such orders, judgments and decrees, and issue such executions and other process as may be necessary to carry into effect the final judgment rendered in such proceedings. If the amount adjudged to be paid the owner of any property condemned under this chapter shall not be paid within one year after final judgment in the proceeding, the right under the judgment to take the property or rights condemned shall ipso facto cease and determine, but the claimant under the judgment shall still remain liable for all amounts adjudged against him except the consideration for the property. (Rev., s. 2587; Code, s. 1946; 1893, c. 148; 1915, c. 207; C. S. 1723.)

§ 40-20. Provision for jury trial on exceptions to report.—In any action or proceeding by any railroad or other corporation to acquire rights of way or real estate for the use of such railroad or corporation, and in any action or proceeding by any city or town to acquire rights of way for streets, any person interested in the land, or the city, town, railroad or other corporation shall be entitled to have the amount of damages assessed by the commissioners or jurors heard and determined upon appeal before a jury of the superior court in term, if upon the hearing of such appeal a trial by a jury be demanded. (Rev., s. 2588; 1893, c. 148; C. S. 1724.)

§ 40-21. When benefits exceed damage, corporation pays costs.—In any case where the benefits to the land caused by the erection of the railroad, street railway, telephone, telegraph, water supply, bridge, or electric power or lighting plant or other structure, are ascertained to exceed the damages to the land, then the corporation acquiring the same by right of eminent domain shall pay the costs of the proceeding except as provided by law, and shall not have a judgment for the excess of benefits over the damage. (Rev., s. 2589; 1891, c. 160; C. S. 1725.)

§ 40-22. Title of infants, persons non compos, and trustees without power of sale, acquired.—In case any title or interest in real estate required by any corporation for its purposes shall be vested in any trustee not authorized to sell, release and convey the same, or in any infant, idiot, or person of unsound mind, the superior court shall have power, by a special proceeding, on petition, to authorize and empower such trustee or the general guardian or committee of such infant, idiot, or person of unsound mind, to sell and convey the same to such corporation, on such terms as may be just; and in case any such infant, idiot, or person of unsound mind has no general guardian or committee, the said court may appoint a special guardian or committee for the purpose of making such sale, release or conveyance, and may require such security from such general or special guardian or committee as said court may deem proper. But before any conveyance or release authorized by this section shall be executed, the terms on which the same is to be executed shall be reported to the court on oath; and if the court is satisfied that such terms are just to the party interested in such real estate, the court shall confirm the report and direct the proper conveyance or release to be executed, which shall have the same effect as if executed by an owner of said land having legal power to sell and convey the same. (Rev., s. 2590; Code, s. 1956; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 28; C. S. 1726.)

§ 40-23. Rights of claimants of fund determined.—If there are adverse and conflicting claimants to the money, or any part of it, to be paid as compensation for the real estate taken, the court may direct the money to be paid into the said court by the corporation, and may determine who is entitled to the same and direct to whom the same shall be paid, and may in its discretion order a reference to ascertain the facts on which such determination and order are to be made. (Rev., s. 2591; Code, s. 1947; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 19; C. S. 1727.)

§ 40-24. Attorney for unknown parties appointed; pleadings amended; new commissioners appointed.—The court shall appoint some competent attorney to appear for and protect the rights of any party in interest who is unknown or whose residence is unknown, and who has not appeared in the proceedings by an attorney or agent, and shall make an allowance to said attorney for his services, which shall be taxed in the bill of costs. The court shall also have power at any time to amend any defect or informality in any of the special proceedings authorized by this chapter as may be necessary, or to cause new parties to be added, and to direct such further notices to be given to any party in interest as it deems proper; and also to appoint other commissioners in place of any who shall die, refuse or neglect to serve or be incapable of serving. (Rev., s. 2592; Code, s. 1948; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 20; C. S. 1728.)

§ 40-25. Court may make rules of procedure in.—In all cases of appraisal under this chapter where the mode or manner of conducting all or any of the proceedings to the appraisal and the proceedings consequent thereon are not expressly provided for by the statute, the courts before whom such proceedings may be pending shall have the power to make all the necessary orders and give the proper directions to carry into effect the object and intent of this chapter, and the practice in such cases shall conform as near as may be to the ordinary practice in such courts. (Rev., s. 2593; Code, s. 1949; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 21; C. S. 1729.)

§ 40-26. Change of ownership pending proceeding.—When any proceedings of appraisal shall have been commenced, no change of ownership by voluntary conveyance or transfer of the real estate or other subject-matter of the appraisal, or any interest therein, shall in any manner affect such proceedings, but the same may be carried on and perfected as if no such conveyance or transfer had been made or attempted to be made. (Rev., s. 2594; Code, s. 1950; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 22; C. S. 1730.)

§ 40-27. Defective title; how cured.—If at any time after an attempt to acquire title by appraisal of damages or otherwise it shall be found that the title thereby attempted to be acquired is defective, the corporation may proceed anew to acquire or perfect such title in the same manner as if no appraisal had been made, and at any stage of such new proceedings the court may authorize the corporation, if in possession, to continue in possession, and if not in possession, to take possession and use such real estate during the pendency and until the final conclusion of such new proceedings, and may stay all actions or proceedings against the corporation on account thereof, on such corporation paying into court a sufficient sum or giving security as the court may direct to pay the compensation therefor when finally ascertained, and in every such case the party interested in such real estate may conduct the proceedings to a conclusion if the corporation delays or omits to prosecute the same. (Rev., s. 2595; Code, s. 1951; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 23; C. S. 1731.)

§ 40-28. Title to state lands acquired.—The secretary of state shall have power to grant to any railroad company any land belonging to the people of this state which may be required for the purposes of its road, on such terms as may be agreed on by them, or such company may acquire title thereto by appraisal, as in the case of lands owned by individuals; and if any land belonging to a county or town is required by any company for the purposes of the road, the county or town officers having the charge of such land may grant such land to such company for such compensation as may be agreed upon. (Rev., s. 2596; Code, s. 1955; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 27; C. S. 1732.)

§ 40-29. Quantity which may be condemned for certain purposes:

1. Right of way of railroad.—The width of the land condemned for any railroad shall not be less than eighty feet nor more than one hundred, except where the road may run through a town, when it may be of less width; or where there may be deep cuts or high embankments, when it may be of greater width.

2. Plankroads, etc.—No greater width of land than sixty feet shall be condemned for the use of any plankroad, tramroad, canal, street railway or turnpike; or greater width than sixteen feet for the use of any flume.

3. Depot or station.—No greater quantity of land than two acres, contiguous to any railroad, plankroad, tramroad, turnpike, flume, or canal, shall be condemned at one place for a depot or station. (Rev., s. 2597; Code, ss. 1707, 1708, 1709; R. C., c. 61, ss. 27, 28, 29; 1852, c. 92; 1874-5, c. 83; 1907, c. 39; C. S. 1733.)

Art. 3. Public Works Eminent Domain Law.

§ 40-30. Title of article.—This article may be referred to as the "Public Works Eminent Domain Law." (1935, c. 470, s. 1.)

§ 40-31. Finding and declaration of necessity.—(a) It is hereby declared that widespread unemployment exists throughout the State, making it impossible for many people in the State to support themselves and their families; that these conditions create a public emergency and constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals and welfare of the people of the State; that it is essential that public works projects, financed in whole or in part by the United States of America or by the State, be commenced as soon as possible in order to reduce and relieve this unemployment and prevent irreparable injury to the people of the State; that to this end, it is necessary to provide a method for the expeditious acquisition of any lands necessary for such public works projects; that such public works projects are hereby declared to be in furtherance of the public welfare and to be public uses and purposes for which public money may be spent and private property acquired; and the necessity in the public interest for the provision hereinafter enacted is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

(b) Without limitation upon the generality of the foregoing paragraph hereof, it is hereby declared that insanitary or unsafe dwelling accommodations exist in various areas of the State and that consequently many persons of low income are forced to reside therein; that these conditions cause an increase in and spread of disease and crime, constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals and welfare of the citizens of the State, impair economic values and are not being, and cannot within a reasonable time be corrected by the investment of private capital available for profit-making enterprises; that the clearance, replanning and reconstruction of the areas in which insanitary or unsafe conditions exist and the provision of safe and sanitary dwelling accommodations for persons of low income are public uses and purposes for which private property may be acquired. (1935, c. 470, s. 2.)

§ 40-32. Definitions.—The following terms whenever used or referred to in this article shall have the following respective meanings unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) "Public works project" shall mean any work or undertaking which is financed in whole or in part by a federal agency, as herein defined, or by a state public body, as herein defined.

(b) "Federal agency" shall mean the United States of America, the federal emergency administration of public works, or any other agency or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, of the United States of America.

(c) "State public body" shall mean this State or any county, city, town, municipal corporation, authority, or any other subdivision, agency, or instrumentality, corporate or otherwise, thereof.

(d) "Authorized corporation" shall mean any corporation or association engaged or about to engage in any public works project, as herein defined, for a public use: Provided, that the construction of said public works project and its conduct thereafter by the corporation or association shall be subject to regulation or supervision by a federal agency, as heretofore defined, or a state public body, as herein defined, whether by virtue of an agreement, provision of law, or otherwise.

(e) "Real property" or "property" or "land" shall include all lands, including improvements and fixtures thereon, lands under water, all easements and hereditaments, corporeal or incorporeal, and every estate, interest and right, legal or equitable, in lands or water, and all rights, interests, privileges, easements, encumbrances, and franchises relating to the same, including terms for years and liens by way of judgment, mortgage or otherwise.

(f) "Court" shall mean the court in which jurisdiction over proceedings hereunder is vested by the provisions of § 40-33.

(g) "Petitioner" shall mean the one by whom proceedings for the acquisition of real property, as herein defined, are instituted hereunder pursuant to the provisions of § 40-33. (1935, c. 470, s. 3.)

§ 40-33. Filing of petition; jurisdiction of court; entry upon land by petitioner. — Any federal agency, state public body or authorized corporation may institute proceedings hereunder for the acquisition of any real property necessary for any public works project.

Such proceedings may be instituted in the superior court in any county in which any part of the real property or of the proposed public works project is situate. The court, whether during a term or during a vacation, shall cause said proceedings to be heard and determined without delay. All condemnation proceedings shall be preferred cases, and shall be entitled to precedence over all other civil cases.

The petitioner may enter upon the land proposed to be acquired for the purpose of making a survey and of posting any notice thereon which is required by this article: Provided, that such survey and posting of notice shall be done in such manner as will cause the least possible inconvenience to the owners of the real property. (1935, c. 470, s. 4.)

§ 40-34. Form of petition.—A proceeding may be instituted hereunder by the filing of a petition which shall be sufficient if it sets forth:

(a) The name of the petitioner.

(b) A description of the property, sufficient for the identification thereof, to which there may be attached a plat or map thereof.

(c) A statement that the acquisition of such property by the petitioner is necessary for a public works project and a brief general description of said public works project.

(d) A statement that the proceedings are being instituted under this article.

(e) A suitable prayer for relief. (1935, c. 470, s. 5.)

§ 40-35. Inclusion of several parcels. — Any number of parcels of land, whether owned by the same or different persons and whether contiguous or not, may be included and condemned in one proceeding: Provided, such parcels are to be used for a single public works project. (1935, c. 470, s. 6.)

§ 40-36. Notice of proceedings.—Notice of such proceedings shall be given by one publication in a newspaper having a general circulation in each county in which any part of the property sought to be condemned is located. Such publication shall be at least twenty days and not more than thirty days prior to the date set for the hearing of the validity of the proceedings. Such notice shall be in substantially the following form (the blanks being appropriately filled):

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that..... (here insert name of petitioner) has filed a petition in the above court under the Public Works Eminent Domain Law to acquire by condemnation for ..... (here give brief general description of the public works project for which the land is sought to be acquired) the following described land:

(Here describe the land sufficiently for the identification thereof. Such description may be by use of a plat or map.)

Notice is further given that on.....(here insert date of hearing, which must be at least twenty days and not more than thirty days after the date of publication) there will be a hearing in this court, at the opening thereof, for (1) determining the validity of said proceedings and the right of the petitioner, if it so elects, to take title to and possession of such property prior to final judgment, as authorized by § 40-45, of the Public Works Eminent Domain Law, and any persons having any interest in or lien upon the above described property shall be deemed to have waived their rights thereafter to object to the court's decision with respect to such issues, unless prior to said date they shall have filed in writing with the clerk of said court their objections thereto; (2) the appointment of a special master to determine the compensation to be awarded for such property and the persons entitled thereto; (3) the fixing of the date and place at which said special master shall hear and determine the compensation to be paid for such property and the person entitled thereto.

Notice is further given that all claims or demands for compensation because of the taking and condemnation of such property must be filed with the above court before.....(here insert date fifteen days after the date above specified for the court hearing), or the same shall be deemed waived.

Dated, the.....day of....., A. D., ...

Clerk of said Court.

Notice of such proceedings shall also be given (a) by posting a copy of the above notice in conspicuous places on the real property sought to be condemned, (b) by filing a copy thereof in the office of the clerk of the court in which such proceedings are pending, and (c) by filing a copy thereof in the proper office or offices for the filing of lis pendens in each county in which any part of the real property is situated.

Such publication, posting and filing shall constitute a legal and sufficient notice to all persons having any interest in or lien upon the property described in said notice. The filing of such notice in the aforesaid county office shall also be a constructive notice of the proceeding to any person who subsequently acquires any interest in or lien upon said property, and the petitioner shall take all property condemned under this article free of the claims of any such person. (1935, c. 470, s. 7.)

§ 40-37. Determination of issues raised by objections; waiver by failure to file; final judgment; guardian ad litem.—All persons who have not filed written objections with the court prior to the time of the hearing specified in the notice prescribed by § 40-36 shall be deemed to have waived the right to file objections as to the sufficiency and validity of the petition, the proceedings and the relief sought thereby, and as to the right of the petitioner to take title and possession prior to final judgment, as authorized by § 40-45.

The court, at the time specified in said notice, after hearing and determining all issues of fact and law raised by the objections which have been filed, if any there be, shall enter a final judgment with respect to such issues, and thereafter there shall remain for determination only the amount of the compensation to be paid and the persons entitled thereto.

If any infant or other person under a legal disability shall not have appeared in the proceedings by his duly authorized legal representative, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent such person's interest in the proceedings before the special master. (1935, c. 470, s. 8.)

§ 40-38. Appointment of special master.—The court, at the time of said hearing, shall appoint a special master to fix the amount of damages and compensation for the taking and condemnation of the property described in the petition and the persons entitled thereto, and to report thereon to the court. The special master shall be a disinterested person not related to any one having an interest in or lien upon the property sought to be condemned. The compensation of said special master shall not exceed fifteen ($15.00) dollars per day plus travel and subsistence expenses. The special master immediately after his appointment shall subscribe to an oath that to the best of his ability he will truly find and return the compensation for the taking and condemnation of the property and the persons entitled thereto. (1935, c. 470, s. 9.)

§ 40-39. Notice of hearing by special master.—Immediately after his appointment and taking of oath, the special master shall cause notice to be sent by registered mail to all persons who have appeared in the proceedings or to their attorneys of record and to all others having any interest in or lien upon the property sought to be condemned, as shown by the record of the proper county office or offices for the recording of documents pertaining to such real estate, and to all guardians ad litem appointed pursuant to the provisions of § 40-37, such notice to be addressed to such persons at their respective last known addresses. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form (with the blanks appropriately filled):

IN THE.....COURT FOR THE..... OF.....

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that..... (here insert name of petitioner) has filed a petition in the above court under the Public Works Eminent Domain Law to acquire by condemnation for ..... (here give brief general description of the public works project for which the land is sought to be acquired), the following described land:

(Here describe the land sufficiently for the identification thereof. Such description may be by use of a plat or map.)

All persons having an interest in or lien upon the above described property, for which compensation will be demanded, are hereby notified that all claims or demands for compensation by reason of the taking and condemnation of such property shall be filed in writing with said court before ..... (here insert date at least fifteen days after the date set for the court hearing in the notice specified in § 40-36 hereof), and shall be deemed waived unless so filed, and that on..... .....a hearing will be held by the special master at..... (insert time and place fixed by the court for such hearing in blanks) with respect to (1) the amount of compensation to be paid for the property sought to be condemned, and (2) the persons entitled to such compensation.

Dated.....day of ....., A. D., ...

Special master appointed by said Court.

The special master shall also cause a copy of said notice to be posted in conspicuous places on the property sought to be condemned.

After such notice by mailing and posting, the special master, on the date for hearing specified in the aforesaid notice, shall proceed immediately to hear and determine the question of just compensation for the taking and condemnation of the property and the persons entitled to such compensation. To this end, the special master may issue subpoenas, administer oaths to witnesses, and receive evidence and cause same to be recorded. (1935, c. 470, s. 10.)

§ 40-40. Evidence admissible; increase in value; improvements.—For the purpose of determining the value of the land sought to be condemned and fixing just compensation therefor, the following evidence (in addition to other evidence which is relevant, material and competent) shall be relevant, material and competent and shall be admitted and considered by the special master:

(a) Evidence that a building or improvement is unsafe or insanitary or a public nuisance, or is in a state of disrepair, and of the cost to correct any such condition, notwithstanding that no action has been taken by local authorities to remedy any such condition.

(b) Evidence that any state public body, charged with the duty of abating or requiring the correction of nuisances or like conditions or demolishing unsafe or insanitary structures, issued an order directing the abatement or correction of any conditions existing with respect to said building or improvement or the demolition of said building or improvement, and of the cost which compliance with any such order would entail.

(c) Evidence of the last assessed valuation of the property for purposes of taxation and of any affidavits or tax returns made by the owner in connection with such assessment which state the value of such property and of any income tax returns of the owner showing sums deducted on account of obsolescence or depreciation of such property.

(d) Evidence that such buildings and improvements are being used for illegal purposes or are being so overcrowded as to be dangerous or injurious to the health, safety, morals or welfare of the occupants thereof and the extent to which the rentals therefrom are enhanced by reason of such use.

(e) Evidence of the price and other terms upon any sale or the rent reserved and other terms of any lease or tenancy relating to such property or to any similar property in the vicinity when the sale or leasing occurred or the tenancy existed within a reasonable time of the hearing.

The award of compensation shall not be increased by reason of any increase in the value of the property resulting from the public works project to be placed thereon.

No allowance shall be made for improvements begun on property after the publication of the notice specified in § 40-36, except upon good cause being shown. (1935, c. 470, s. 11.)

§ 40-41. Report of special master. — The report of the special master must be filed with the clerk of the court in which said proceeding is pending within thirty days after the date of the taking of the oath, unless further time is granted by the court. The court shall grant additional time for the filing of the report only on a showing that the report cannot, with all due diligence, be prepared within the time fixed. (1935, c. 470, s. 12.)

§ 40-42. Notice of report. — Upon the filing of such report by the special master, the court, without delay, shall fix a date for the hearing of any objections filed thereto. Notice that said report has been filed, that all objections thereto must be filed with the court within ten days after the date of the mailing of such notice and that the court has fixed a certain date (which shall be stated therein) for the hearing of such objections, shall be given by sending a copy of such notice by registered mail to all persons who have appeared in the proceeding or their attorneys of record at their last known addresses. Upon the expiration of ten days after the mailing of such notice, all objections to the report shall be deemed waived by all persons who have not filed written objections with the court. (1935, c. 470, s. 13.)

§ 40-43. Hearing of objections by the court. —If no objections are filed to the special master's report, the court (but only on motion of the petitioner unless title to the property has vested in the petitioner) shall enter a final judgment fixing the compensation to be paid for the property and the persons entitled to such compensation. If any objections are filed to the special master's report, the court on the date specified in the aforesaid order shall hear and determine such questions of law and fact as are raised by such exceptions and may approve, disapprove or modify the special master's findings or may reject the special master's report in toto. In the event the special master's report is rejected in toto, the court shall at once appoint another special master in the same manner that the first special master was appointed, and such special master shall have the same powers and duties as the special master first appointed, except that notice of the time for filing claims and of the hearing of the special master may be given by registered mail to all persons who have appeared in the proceedings or their attorneys of record at their last known addresses, and no other notice shall be necessary. If the court shall approve the special master's report, with or without modification, the court (but only on motion of the petitioner unless title to the property has previously vested in the petitioner) shall enter a final judgment, fixing the compensation to be paid for such property and the persons entitled to such compensation.

If title to said property has not previously been vested in the petitioner, the title and right to possession of said property shall vest in the petitioner immediately upon the entry of such final judgment and upon the deposit in court by the petitioner of the amount of the judgment fixed by the court as the compensation for such property. Upon the entry of such judgment and the vesting of title aforesaid, the court shall designate the day (not exceeding thirty days thereafter, except upon good cause shown) on which the parties in possession of said property shall be required to surrender possession to the petitioner. (1935, c. 470, s. 14.)

§ 40-44. Certified copy of judgment. — Upon the rendition of the final judgment vesting title in the petitioner, the clerk of the court shall make and certify, under the seal of the court, a copy or copies of such judgment, which shall be filed or recorded in the proper county office or offices for the recording of documents pertaining to the real property described therein, and such filing or recording shall constitute notice to all persons of the contents thereof. A copy of the judgment certified by the clerk of the court as aforesaid shall be competent and admissible evidence in any proceedings at law or in equity. (1935, c. 470, s. 15.)

§ 40-45. Declaration of taking; property deemed condemned; fixing day for surrender of property; security for compensation and payment of award. —At any time at or after the filing of the petition referred to in § 40-34, and before the entry of final judgment, the petitioner may file with the clerk of the court a declaration of taking signed by the duly authorized officer or agent of the petitioner declaring that all or any part of the property described in said petition is to be taken for the use of the petitioner.

Said declaration of taking shall be sufficient if it sets forth: (1) a description of the property, sufficient for the identification thereof, to which there may be attached a plat or map thereof; (2) a statement of the estate or interest in said property being taken; and (3) a statement of the sum of money estimated by the petitioner to be just compensation for the property taken.

Upon the filing of said declaration of taking and the deposit in court, to the use of the persons entitled thereto, of the amount of the estimated compensation stated in said declaration title to the property specified in said declaration shall vest in the petitioner and said property shall be deemed to be condemned and taken for the use of the petitioner, and the right to just compensation for the same shall vest in the persons entitled thereto. Upon the filing of the declaration of taking, the court shall designate a day (not exceeding thirty days after such filing, except upon good cause shown) on which the parties in possession shall be required to surrender possession to the petitioner. In the event that the petitioner is an authorized corporation, the court, prior to directing surrender of possession to the petitioner, shall require such security to be given, in addition to the amount deposited in court, as will reasonably assure the payment of any amount ultimately determined as the compensation to be paid.

The ultimate amount of compensation shall be fixed in the manner heretofore specified. If the amount so fixed shall exceed the amount so deposited in court by the petitioner, the court shall enter judgment against the petitioner in the amount of such deficiency, together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum on such deficiency from the date of the vesting of title to the date of the entry of the final judgment (subject, however, to abatement for use, income, rents or profits derived from such property by the owner thereof subsequent to the vesting of title in the petitioner) and the court shall order the petitioner to deposit the amount of such deficiency in court. (1935, c. 470, s. 16.)

§ 40-46. Right to dismiss petition. — At any time prior to the vesting of title to the property in the petitioner, the petitioner may withdraw or dismiss its petition with respect to any or all of the property therein described. (1935, c. 470, s. 17.)

§ 40-47. Divesting title of owner.—Upon vesting of title to any property in the petitioner, all the right, title and interest of all persons having any interest therein or lien thereupon shall be divested immediately, and such persons thereafter shall be entitled only to receive compensations for such property. (1935, c. 470, s. 18.)

§ 40-48. Payment of award into court and disbursement thereof.—The payment into court by the petitioner of the amount of any award or the deposit into court by the petitioner of the amount of any award or the deposit in court of the amount estimated by the petitioner to be the just compensation for the property taken or condemned shall be deemed to be a payment or deposit of money for the use of the persons entitled thereto. Such payment or deposit shall constitute a payment to the persons entitled thereto to the extent of the moneys so paid or deposited into court.

Any such payment shall be as valid and effectual in all respects as if it were made by the petitioner directly to the person entitled thereto or, in the case of a person under legal disability, to his guardian, whether or not (a) such person or his whereabouts is known or unknown, (b) such person is under a legal disability, or (c) there are adverse or conflicting claims to such awards.

The money paid into court shall be secured in such manner as may be directed by the court and shall be paid out by the special master to the persons found to be entitled thereto by the final judgment of the court. (1935, c. 470, s. 19.)

§ 40-49. Recovery of award.—If an award shall be paid to a person not entitled thereto, the sole recourse of the person to whom it should have been paid shall be against the person to whom it shall have been paid. In such event the person entitled to the award may sue for and recover the same, with the lawful interest and costs of suit, as such money had and received to his use by the person to whom the same shall have been paid. (1935, c. 470, s. 20.)

§ 40-50. Appeal.—Any time within thirty days from the filing of any interlocutory or final order or judgment by the court, any person or persons of record in the proceedings, who shall have filed exceptions at any stage of the proceedings within the time and in the manner specified, may appeal therefrom, but only with respect to those questions or issues which were raised by such exceptions.

The taking of an appeal shall not operate to stay the proceedings under this article except when the person or persons appealing shall have obtained a stay of the execution of the judgment or order appealed from, in which event the proceedings shall be stayed only with respect to the person or persons appealing and their respective interests in the proceedings. Upon the taking of an appeal the proceedings shall be deemed severed as to the person or persons appealing and their respective interests in the proceedings.

Any interlocutory or final order or judgment shall be final and conclusive upon all persons affected thereby who have not appealed within the time herein prescribed.

Any petitioner, other than an authorized corporation, may appeal without giving bond; but any other person or persons appealing shall give bond, with good and sufficient surety, to be approved by the court, conditioned to pay all costs taxed against appellant on such appeal. (1935, c. 470, s. 21.)

§ 40-51. Costs.—If the petitioner, prior to the making of the award, shall have tendered to an interested person for his property or deposited in court for such property an amount which such interested person refused to accept or agree to as just compensation, all costs shall be assessed against such person in the event that the aforesaid amount tendered or deposited is equal to or in excess of the award fixed or confirmed by the court with respect to such parcel. (1935, c. 470, s. 22.)

§ 40-52. Powers conferred are supplemental.—The powers conferred by this article shall be in addition and supplemental to and not in substitution for the power conferred by any other law. The power of eminent domain may be exercised hereunder, notwithstanding that any other law may provide for the exercise of said power for like purposes and without regard to the requirements, restrictions or procedural provisions contained in any other law.

Procedure hereunder, which is not prescribed herein, shall be that which is otherwise prescribed by the law of the State. (1935, c. 470, s. 23.)

§ 40-53. Necessity for certificate of public convenience and necessity from utilities commission. — Notwithstanding any finding of public convenience and necessity, either in general or specific, by the terms of this article, the right of eminent domain shall not be exercised unless and until a certificate of public convenience and necessity for such project has been issued by the utilities commission of North Carolina, and the proceedings leading up to the issuing of such certificate of public convenience and necessity, and the right to appeal therefrom shall be as now provided by law and said rights are hereby expressly reserved to all interested parties in said proceedings. In addition to the powers now granted by law to the utilities commission of North Carolina, the said utilities commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to investigate and examine all projects set up or attempted to be set up under the provisions of this article and determine the question of the public convenience and necessity for said project. (1935, c. 470, s. 25.)

41-9. Spendthrift trusts.
41-10. Titles quieted.
41-11. Sale, lease or mortgage in case of remainders.
41-12. Sales or mortgages of contingent remainders validated.
41-13. Freeholders in petition for special taxes defined.

§ 41-1. Fee tail converted into fee simple. — Every person seized of an estate in tail shall be deemed to be seized of the same in fee simple. (Rev., s. 1578; Code, s. 1325; R. C., c. 43, s. 1; 1784, c. 204, s. 5; C. S. 1734.)

§ 41-2. Survivorship in joint tenancy abolished; proviso as to partnership.— In all estates, real or personal, held in joint tenancy, the part or share of any tenant dying shall not descend or go to the surviving tenant, but shall descend or be vested in tne heirs, executors, or administrators, or assigns, respectively, of the tenant so dying, in the same manner as estates held by tenancy in common: Provided, that estates held in joint tenancy for the purpose of carrying on and promoting trade and commerce, or any useful work or manufacture, established and pursued with a view of profit to the parties therein concerned, are vested in the surviving partner, in order to enable him to settle and adjust the partnership business, or pay off the debts which may have been contracted in pursuit of the joint business; but as soon as the same is effected, the survivor shall account with, and pay, and deliver to the heirs, executors, administrators and assigns respectively of such deceased partner all such part, share, and sums of money as he may be entitled to by virtue of the original agreement, if any, or according to his share or part in the joint concern, in the same manner as partnership stock is usually settled between joint merchants and the representatives of their deceased partners. (Rev., s. 1579; Code, s. 1326; R. C., c. 43, s. 2; 1784, c. 204, s. 6; C. S. 1735.)

§ 41-3. Survivorship among trustees. — In all cases where only a naked trust not coupled with a beneficial interest has been created or exists, or shall be created, and the conveyance is to two or more trustees, the right to perform the trust and make estates under the same shall be exercised by any one of such trustees, in the event of the death of his cotrustee or cotrustees or the refusal or inability of the cotrustee or cotrustees to perform the trust; and in cases of trusts herein named the trustees shall hold as joint tenants, and in all respects as joint tenants held before the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty-four. (Rev., s. 1580; 1885, c. 327, s. 1; C. S. 1736.)

§ 41-4. Limitations on failure of issue.—Every contingent limitation in any deed or will, made to depend upon the dying of any person without heir or heirs of the body, or without issue or issues of the body, or without children, or offspring, or descendant, or other relative, shall be held and interpreted a limitation to take effect when such person dies not having such heir, or issue, or child, or offspring, or descendant, or other relative (as the case may be) living at the time of his death, or born to him within ten lunar months thereafter, unless the intention of such limitation be otherwise, and expressly and plainly declared in the face of the deed or will creating it: Provided, that the rule of construction contained in this section shall not extend to any deed or will made and executed before the fifteenth of January, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-eight. (Rev., s. 1581; Code, s. 1327; R. C., c. 43, s. 3; 1827, c. 7; C. S. 1737.)

§ 41-5. Unborn infant may take by deed or writing.—An infant unborn, but in esse, shall be deemed a person capable of taking by deed or other writing any estate whatever in the same manner as if he were born. (Rev., s. 1582; Code, s. 1328; R. C., c. 43, s. 4; C. S. 1738.)

§ 41-6. "Heirs" construed "children" in certain limitations.—A limitation by deed, will, or other writing, to the heirs of a living person, shall be construed to be to the children of such person, unless a contrary intention appear by the deed or will. (Rev., s. 1583; Code, s. 1329; R. C., c. 43, s. 5; C. S. 1739.)

§ 41-7. Possession transferred to use in certain conveyances.—By deed of bargain and sale, or by deeds of lease and release, or by covenant to stand seized to use, or deed operating by way of covenant to stand seized to use, or otherwise, by any manner or means whatsoever it be, the possession of the bargainor, releasor, or covenanter shall be deemed to be transferred to the bargainee, releasee, or person entitled to the use, for the estate or interest which such person shall have in the use, as perfectly as if the bargainee, releasee or person entitled to the use had been enfeoffed at common law with livery of seizin of the land intended to be conveyed by such deed or covenant. (Rev., s. 1584; Code, s. 1330; R. C., c. 43, s. 6; 27 Hen. VIII, c. 10; C. S. 1740.)

§ 41-8. Collateral warranties abolished; warranties by life tenants deemed covenants.—All collateral warranties are abolished; and all warranties made by any tenant for life of lands, tenements or hereditaments, the same descending or coming to any person in reversion or remainder, shall be void; and all such warranties, as aforesaid, shall be deemed covenants only, and bind the covenanter in like manner as other obligations. (Rev., s. 1587; Code, s. 1334; R. C., c. 43, s. 10; 4 Anne, c. 16, s. 21; 1852, c. 16; C. S. 1741.)

§ 41-9. Spendthrift trusts. — It is lawful for any person by deed or will to convey any property, which does not yield at the time of the conveyance a clear annual income exceeding five hundred dollars, to any other person in trust to receive and pay the profits annually or oftener for the support and maintenance of any child, grandchild or other relation of the grantor, for the life of such child, grandchild or other relation, with remainder as the grantor shall provide; and the property so conveyed shall not be liable for or subject to be seized or taken in any manner for the debts of such child, grandchild or other relation, whether the same be contracted or incurred before or after the grant. (Rev., s. 1588; Code, s. 1335; 1871-2, c. 204, s. 1; C. S. 1742.)

§ 41-10. Titles quieted. — An action may be brought by any person against another who claims an estate or interest in real property adverse to him for the purpose of determining such adverse claims; and by any man or woman against his or her wife or husband or alleged wife or husband who have not lived together as man and wife within the two years preceding, and who at the death of such plaintiff might have or claim to have an interest in his or her estate, and a decree for the plaintiff shall debar all claims of the defendant in the property of the plaintiff then owned or afterwards acquired: Provided, that no such relief shall be granted against such husband or wife or alleged wife or husband, except in case the summons in said action is personally served on such defendant.

If the defendant in such action disclaim in his answer any interest or estate in the property, or suffer judgment to be taken against him without answer, the plaintiff cannot recover costs. In any case in which judgment has been or shall be docketed, whether such judgment is in favor of or against the person bringing such action, or is claimed by him, or affects real estate claimed by him, or whether such judgment is in favor of or against the person against whom such action may be brought, or is claimed by him, or affects real estate claimed by him, the lien of said judgment shall be such claim of an estate or interest in real estate as is contemplated by this section. (Rev., s. 1589; 1893, c. 6; 1903, c. 763; 1907, c. 888; C. S. 1743.)

§ 41-11. Sale, lease or mortgage in case of remainders.—In all cases where there is a vested interest in real estate, and a contingent remainder over to persons who are not in being, or when the contingency has not yet happened which will determine who the remaindermen are, there may be a sale, lease or mortgage of the property by a proceeding in the superior court, which proceeding shall be conducted in the manner pointed out in this section. Said proceeding may be commenced by summons by any person having a vested interest in the land, and all persons in esse who are interested in said land shall be made parties defendant and served with summons in the way and manner now provided by law for the service of summons in other civil actions, as provided by § 1-94, and service of summons upon nonresidents, or persons whose names and residences are unknown, shall be by publication as now required by law or such service in lieu of publication as now provided by law. In cases where the remainder will or may go to minors, or persons under other disabilities, or to persons not in being, or whose names and residences are not known, or who may in any contingency become interested in said land, but because of such contingency cannot be ascertained, the clerk of the superior court shall, after due inquiry of persons who are in no way interested in or connected with such proceeding, designate and appoint some discreet person as guardian ad litem, to represent such remainderman, upon whom summons shall be served as provided by law for other guardians ad litem, and it shall be the duty of such guardian ad litem to defend such actions, and when counsel is needed to represent him, to make this known to the clerk, who shall by an order give instructions as to the employment of counsel and the payment of fees.

The court shall, if the interest of all parties require or would be materially enhanced by it, order a sale of such property or any part thereof for reinvestment, either in purchasing or in improving real estate, less expense allowed by the court for the proceeding and sale, and such newly acquired or improved real estate shall be held upon the same contingencies and in like manner as was the property ordered to be sold. The court may authorize the loaning of such money subject to its approval until such time when it can be reinvested in real estate. And after the sale of such property in all proceedings hereunder, where there is a life estate in lieu of said interest or investment of proceeds to which the life tenant would be entitled to, or to the use of, the court may in its discretion order the value of said life tenants' share during the probable life of such life tenant, to be ascertained as now provided by law, and paid out of the proceeds of such sale absolutely, and the remainder of such proceeds be reinvested as herein provided. Any person or persons owning a life estate in lands which are unproductive and from which the income is insufficient to pay the taxes on and reasonable upkeep of said lands shall be entitled to maintain an action, without the joinder of any of the remaindermen or reversioners as parties plaintiff, for the sale of said property for the purpose of obtaining funds for improving other non-productive and unimproved real estate so as to make the same profit-bearing, all to be done under order of the court, or reinvestment of the funds under the provisions of this section, but in every such action when the rights of minors or other persons not sui juris are involved, a competent and disinterested attorney shall be appointed by the court to file answer and represent their interests. The provisions of the preceding sentence, being remedial, shall apply to cases where any title in such lands shall have been acquired before, as well as after, its passage—March 7, 1927.

The clerk of the superior court is authorized to make all orders for the sale, lease or mortgage of property under this section, and for the reinvestment or securing and handling of the proceeds of such sales, but no sale under this section shall be held or mortgage given until the same has been approved by the resident judge of the district, or the judge holding the courts of the district at the time said order of sale is made.

The court may authorize the temporary reinvestment, pending final investment in real estate, of funds derived from such sale in coupon or registered bonds of the United States of America (commonly called liberty bonds) issued incident to the late war between the United States and the imperial German government or bonds of the state of North Carolina issued since the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two; but in the event of such reinvestment, the commissioners, trustees or other officers appointed by the court to hold such funds shall hold the bonds in their possession and shall pay to the life tenant and owner of the vested interest in the lands sold only the interest accruing on the bonds, and the principal of the bonds shall be held subject to final reinvestment and to such expense only as is provided in this section. Temporary reinvestments, as aforesaid, in liberty bonds or state bonds heretofore made with the approval of the court of all or a part of the funds derived from such sales are ratified and declared valid.

The court shall, if the interest of the parties require it and would be materially enhanced by it, order such property mortgaged for such term and on such condition as to the court seems proper and to the best interest of the interested parties. The proceeds derived from the mortgage shall be used for the purpose of adding improvements to the property or to remove existing liens on the property as the court may direct, but for no other purpose. The mortgagees shall not be held responsible for determining the validity of the liens, debts and expenses where the court directs such liens, debts and expenses to be paid. In all cases of mortgages under this section the court shall authorize and direct the guardian representing the interest of minors and the guardian ad litem representing the interest of those persons unknown or not in being to join in the mortgage for the purpose of conveying the interest of such person or persons. In all cases of mortgages under this section the owner of the vested interest or his or her legal representative shall within six months from the date of the mortgage file with the court an itemized statement showing how the money derived from the said mortgage has been expended, and shall exhibit to the court receipts for said money. Said report shall be audited in the same manner as provided for the auditing of guardian's accounts. The owner of the vested interest or his or her legal representative shall collect the rents and income from the property mortgaged and apply the proceeds first to taxes and discharge of interest on the mortgage and the annual curtailment as provided thereby, or if said person uses or occupies said premises he or she shall pay the said taxes, interest and curtailments and said party shall enter into a bond to be approved by the court for the faithful performance of the duties hereby imposed, and such person shall annually file with the court a report and receipts showing that taxes, interest and the curtailment as provided by the mortgage have been paid.

The mortgagee shall not be held responsible for the application of the funds secured or derived from the mortgage. The word mortgage whenever used herein shall be construed to include deeds in trust. (Rev., s. 1590; 1903, c. 99; 1905, c. 548; 1907, cc. 956, 980; 1919, c. 17; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 88; 1923, c. 69; 1925, c. 281; 1927, cc. 124, 186; 1933, c. 123; 1935, c. 299; 1941, c. 328; C. S. 1744.)

§ 41-12. Sales or mortgages of contingent remainders validated.—In all cases where property has been conveyed by deed, or devised by will, upon contingent remainder, executory devise, or other limitations, where a judgment of a superior court has been rendered authorizing the sale or mortgaging, including execution of deeds of trust, of such property discharged of such contingent remainder, executory devise, or other limitations in actions or special proceedings where all persons in being who would have taken such property if the contingency had then happened were parties, such judgment shall be valid and binding upon the parties thereto and upon all other persons not then in being or whose estates had not then vested: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to impair or destroy any vested right or estate. (Rev., s. 1591; 1905, c. 93; 1923, c. 64; 1935, c. 36; C. S. 1745.)

§ 41-13. Freeholders in petition for special taxes defined.—In all cases where a petition by a specific number of freeholders is required as a condition precedent to ordering an election to provide for the assessment or levy of taxes upon realty, all residents of legal age owning realty for life or longer term, irrespective of sex, shall be deemed freeholders within the meaning of such requirement. (1915, c. 22; C. S. 1746.)

Art. 4. Forms.

42-37. Forms sufficient.

Art. 1. General Provisions.

§ 42-1. Lessor and lessee not partners. — No lessor of property, merely by reason that he is to receive as rent or compensation for its use a share of the proceeds or net profits of the business in which it is employed, or any other uncertain consideration, shall be held a partner of the lessee. (Rev., s. 1982; Code, s. 1744; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 3; C. S. 2341.)

§ 42-2. Attornment unnecessary on conveyance of reversions, etc.—Every conveyance of any rent, reversion, or remainder in lands, tenements or hereditaments, otherwise sufficient, shall be deemed complete without attornment by the holders of particular estates in said lands: Provided, no holder of a particular estate shall be prejudiced by any act done by him as holding under his grantor, without notice of such conveyance. (Rev., s. 947; Code, s. 1764; 4 Anne, c. 16, s. 9; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 17; C. S. 2342.)

§ 42-3. Term forfeited for nonpayment of rent. —In all verbal or written leases of real property of any kind in which is fixed a definite time for the payment of the rent reserved therein, there shall be implied a forfeiture of the term upon failure to pay the rent within ten days after a demand is made by the lessor or his agent on said lessee for all past-due rent, and the lessor may forthwith enter and dispossess the tenant without having declared such forfeiture or reserved the right of reëntry in the lease. (1919, c. 34; C. S. 2343.)

§ 42-4. Recovery for use and occupation. — When any person occupies land of another by the permission of such other, without any express agreement for rent, or upon a parol lease which is void, the landlord may recover a reasonable compensation for such occupation, and if by such parol lease a certain rent was reserved, such reservation may be received as evidence of the value of the occupation (Rev., s. 1986; Code, s. 1746; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 5; C. S. 2344.)

§ 42-5. Rent apportioned, where lease terminated by death.—If a lease of land, in which rent is reserved, payable at the end of the year or other certain period of time, is determined by the death of any person during one of the periods in which the rent was growing due, the lessor or his personal representative may recover a part of the rent which becomes due after the death, proportionate to the part of the period elapsed before the death, subject to all just allowances; and if any security was given for such rent it shall be apportioned in like manner. (Rev., s. 1987; Code, s. 1747; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 6; C. S. 2345.)

§ 42-6. Rents apportioned, where right to payment terminated by death.—In all cases where rents, rent charges, annuities, pensions, dividends, or any other payments of any description, are made payable at fixed periods to successive owners under any instrument, or by any will, and where the right of any owner to receive payment is terminable by a death or other uncertain event, and where such right so terminates during a period in which a payment is growing due, the payment becoming due next after such terminating event, shall be apportioned among the successive owners according to the parts of such periods elapsing before and after the terminating event. (Rev., s. 1988; Code, s. 1748; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 7; C. S. 2346.)

§ 42-7. In lieu of emblements, farm lessee holds out year, with rents apportioned.—When any lease for years of any land let for farming on which a rent is reserved determines during a current year of the tenancy, by the happening of any uncertain event determining the estate of the lessor, or by a sale of said land under any mortgage or deed of trust, the tenant in lieu of emblements shall continue his occupation to the end of such current year, and shall then give up such possession to the succeeding owner of the land, and shall pay to such succeeding owner a part of the rent accrued since the last payment became due, proportionate to the part of the period of payment elapsing after the termination of the estate of the lessor to the giving up such possession; and the tenant in such case shall be entitled to a reasonable compensation for the tillage and seed of any crop not gathered at the expiration of such current year from the person succeeding to the possession. (Rev., s. 1990; Code, s. 1749; 1868-9, 156, s. 8; 1931, c. 173, s. 1; C. S. 2347.)

§ 42-8. Grantees of reversion and assigns of lease have reciprocal rights under covenants.—The grantee in every conveyance of reversion in lands, tenements or hereditaments has the like advantages and remedies by action or entry against the holders of particular estates in such real property, and their assigns, for nonpayment of rent, and for the nonperformance of other conditions and agreements contained in the instruments by the tenants of such particular estates, as the grantor or lessor or his heirs might have; and the holders of such particular estates, and their assigns, have the like advantages and remedies against the grantee of the reversion, or any part thereof, for any conditions and agreements contained in such instruments, as they might have had against the grantor or his lessors or his heirs. (Rev., s. 1989; Code, s. 1765; 32 Hen. VIII, c. 34; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 18; C. S. 2348.)

§ 42-9. Agreement to rebuild, how construed in case of fire.—An agreement in a lease to repair a demised house shall not be construed to bind the contracting party to rebuild or repair in case the house shall be destroyed or damaged to more than one-half of its value, by accidental fire not occurring from the want of ordinary diligence on his part. (Rev., s. 1985; Code, s. 1752; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 11; C. S. 2349.)

§ 42-10. Tenant not liable for accidental damage.—A tenant for life, or years, or for a less term, shall not be liable for damage occurring on the demised premises accidentally, and notwithstanding reasonable diligence on his part, unless he so contract. (Rev., s. 1991; Code, s. 1751; 1868-9, C. 156, s. 10; C. S. 2350.)

§ 42-11. Willful destruction by tenant misdemeanor.—If any tenant shall, during his term or after its expiration, wilfully and unlawfully demolish, destroy, deface, injure or damage any tenement house, uninhabited house or other outhouse, belonging to his landlord or upon his premises by removing parts thereof or by burning, or in any other manner, or shall unlawfully and willfully burn, destroy, pull down, injure or remove any fence, wall or other inclosure or any part thereof, built or standing upon the premises of such landlord, or shall wilfully and unlawfully cut down or destroy any timber, fruit, shade or ornamental tree belonging to said landlord, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3686; Code, s. 1761; 1883, c. 224; C. S. 2351.)

§ 42-12. Lessee may surrender, where building destroyed or damaged.—If a demised house, or other building, is destroyed during the term, or so much damaged that it cannot be made reasonably fit for the purpose for which it was hired, except at an expense exceeding one year's rent of the premises, and the damage or destruction occur without negligence on the part of the lessee or his agents or servants, and there is no agreement in the lease respecting repairs, or providing for such a case, and the use of the house damaged or destroyed was the main inducement to the hiring, the lessee may surrender his estate in the demised premises by a writing to that effect delivered or tendered to the landlord within ten days from the damage or destruction, and by paying or tendering at the same time all rent in arrear, and a part of the rent growing due at the time of the damage or destruction, proportionate to the time between the last period of payment and the occurrence of the damage or destruction, and the lessee shall be thenceforth discharged from all rent accruing afterwards; but not from any other agreement in the lease. This section shall not apply if a contrary intention appear from the lease. (Rev., s. 1992; Code, s. 1753; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 12; C. S. 2352.)

§ 42-13. Wrongful surrender to other than landlord misdemeanor.—Any tenant or lessee of lands who shall willfully, wrongfully and with intent to defraud the landlord or lessor, give up the possession of the rented or leased premises to any person other than his landlord or lessor, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3682; Code, s. 1760; 1883, c. 138; C. S. 2353.)

§ 42-14. Notice to quit in certain tenancies.—A tenancy from year to year may be terminated by a notice to quit given one month or more before the end of the current year of the tenancy; a tenancy from month to month by a like notice of seven days; a tenancy from week to week, of two days. (Rev., s. 1984; Code, s. 1750; 1891, c. 227; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 9; C. S. 2354.)

Local Modification.—Forsyth: 1935, c. 119; Halifax: 1935, c. 22; Hertford: 1939, c. 367; Montgomery: 1925, c. 196, s. 2; Perquimans: 1935, c. 472; Pitt: 1925, c. 196, s. 2; Randolph: 1925, c. 196, s. 2; Wake: 1931, c. 20.

Art. 2. Agricultural Tenancies.

§ 42-15. Landlord's lien on crops for rents, advances, etc., enforcement. — When lands are rented or leased by agreement, written or oral, for agricultural purposes, or are cultivated by a cropper, unless otherwise agreed between the parties to the lease or agreement, any and all crops raised on said lands shall be deemed and held to be vested in possession of the lessor or his assigns at all times, until the rents for said lands are paid and until all the stipulations contained in the lease or agreement are performed, or damages in lieu thereof paid to the lessor or his assigns, and until said party or his assigns is paid for all advancements made and expenses incurred in making and saving said crops. A landlord, to entitle himself to the benefit of the lien herein provided for, must conform as to the prices charged for the advance to the provisions of the article Agricultural Liens, in the chapter Liens.

This lien shall be preferred to all other liens, and the lessor or his assigns is entitled, against the lessee or cropper, or the assigns of either, who removes the crop or any part thereof from the lands without the consent of the lessor or his assigns, or against any other person who may get possession of said crop or any part thereof, to the remedies given in an action upon a claim for the delivery of personal property.

Provided, that when advances have been made by the federal government or any of its agencies, to any tenant or tenants on lands under the control of any guardian, executor and/or administrator for the purpose of enabling said tenant or tenants to plant, cultivate and harvest crops grown on said land, the said guardian, executor, and/or administrator may waive the above lien in favor of the federal government, or any of its agencies, making said advances. (Rev., s. 1993; Code, s. 1754; 1876-7, c. 283; 1917, c. 134; 1933, c. 219; C. S. 2355.)

§ 42-16. Rights of tenant. — When the lessor or his assigns gets the actual possession of the crop or any part thereof otherwise than by the mode prescribed in § 42-15, and refuses or neglects, upon a notice, written or oral, of five days, given by the lessee or cropper or the assigns of either, to make a fair division of said crop, or to pay over to such lessee or cropper or the assigns of either, such part thereof as he may be entitled to under the lease or agreement, then and in that case the lessee or cropper or the assigns of either is entitled to the remedies against the lessor or his assigns given in an action upon a claim for the delivery of personal property to recover such part of the crop as he, in law and according to the lease or agreement, may be entitled to. The amount or quantity of such crop claimed by said lessee or cropper or the assigns of either, together with a statement of the grounds upon which it is claimed, shall be fully set forth in an affidavit at the beginning of the action. (Rev., s. 1994; Code, s. 1755; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 2; C. S. 2356.)

§ 42-17. Action to settle disputes between parties.—When any controversy arises between the parties, and neither party avails himself of the provisions of this chapter, it is competent for either party to proceed at once to have the matter determined in the court of a justice of the peace, if the amount claimed is two hundred dollars or less, or in the superior court of the county where the property is situate if the amount so claimed is more than two hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1995; Code, s. 1756; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 3; C. S. 2357.)

§ 42-18. Tenant's undertaking on continuance or appeal.—In case there is a continuance or an appeal from the justice's decision to the superior court, the lessee or cropper, or the assigns of either, shall be allowed to retain possession of said property upon his giving an undertaking to the lessor or his assigns, or the adverse party, in a sum double the amount of the claim, if such claim does not amount to more than the value of such property, otherwise to double the value of such property, with good and sufficient surety, to be approved by the justice of the peace or the clerk of the superior court, conditioned for the faithful payment to the adverse party of such damages as he shall recover in said action. (Rev., s. 1995; Code, s. 1756; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 3; C. S. 2358.)

§ 42-19. Crops delivered to landlord on his undertaking. — In case the lessee or cropper, or the assigns of either, at the time of the appeal or continuance mentioned in § 42-18, fails to give the undertaking therein required, then the constable or other lawful officer shall deliver the property into the actual possession of the lessor or his assigns, upon the lessor or his assigns giving to the adverse party an undertaking in double the amount of said property, to be justified as required in § 42-18, conditioned for the forthcoming of such property, or the value thereof, in case judgment is pronounced against him. (Rev., s. 1996; Code, s. 1757; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 4; C. S. 2359.)

§ 42-20. Crops sold, if neither party gives undertaking.—If neither party gives the undertaking described in § 42-18 and § 42-19, it is the duty of the justice of the peace or the clerk of the superior court to issue an order to the constable or sheriff, or other lawful officer, directing him to take into his possession all of said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the claimant's demand and costs, and to sell the same under the rules and regulations prescribed by law for the sale of personal property under execution, and to hold the proceeds thereof subject to the decision of the court upon the issue or issues pending between the parties. (Rev., s. 1997; Code, s. 1758; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 5; C. S. 2360.)

§ 42-21. Tenant's crop not subject to execution against landlord.—Whenever servants and laborers in agriculture shall by their contracts, oral or written, be entitled, for wages, to a part of the crops cultivated by them, such part shall not be subject to sale under executions against their employers, or the owners of the land cultivated. (Rev., s. 1998; Code, s. 1796; C. S. 2361.)

§ 42-22. Unlawful seizure by landlord or removal by tenant misdemeanor.—If any landlord shall unlawfully, willfully, knowingly and without process of law, and unjustly seize the crop of his tenant when there is nothing due him, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. If any lessee or cropper, or the assigns of either, or any other person, shall remove a crop, or any part thereof, from land without the consent of the lessor or his assigns, and without giving him or his agent five days notice of such intended removal, and before satisfying all the liens held by the lessor or his assigns, on said crop, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3664, 3665; Code, s. 1759; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 6; 1883, c. 83; C. S. 2362.)

§ 42-23. Terms of agricultural tenancies in certain counties.—All agricultural leases and contracts hereafter made between landlord and tenant for a period of one year or from year to year, whether such tenant pay a specified rental or share in the crops grown, such year shall be from December first to December first, and such period of time shall constitute a year for agricultural tenancies in lieu of the law and custom heretofore prevailing, namely from January first to January first. In all cases of such tenancies a notice to quit of one month as provided in § 42-14 shall be applicable. If on account of illness or any other good cause, the tenant is unable to harvest all the crops grown on lands leased by him for any year prior to the termination of his lease contract on December first, he shall have a right to return to the premises vacated by him at any time prior to December thirty-first of said year, for the purpose only of harvesting and dividing the remaining crops so ungathered. But he shall have no right to use the houses or outbuildings or that part of the lands from which the crops have been harvested prior to the termination of the tenant year, as defined in this section.

This section shall only apply to the counties of Anson, Ashe, Bladen, Brunswick, Columbus, Cumberland, Duplin, Gaston, Lincoln, Pender, Robeson, Sampson, and Yadkin. (Pub. Loc. 1929, c. 40; Pub. Loc. 1935, c. 288; Pub. Loc. 1937, cc. 96, 600; Pub. Loc. 1941, c. 41.)

§ 42-24. Turpentine and lightwood leases.—This chapter shall apply to all leases or contracts to lease turpentine trees, or use lightwood for purposes of making tar, and the parties thereto shall be fully subject to the provisions and penalties of this chapter. (Rev., s. 1999; Code, s. 1762; 1893, c. 517; 1876-7, c. 283, s. 7; C. S. 2363.)

§ 42-25. Mining and timber land leases. — If in a lease of land for mining, or of timbered land for the purpose of manufacturing the timber into goods, rent is reserved, and if it is agreed in the lease that the minerals, timber or goods, or any portion thereof, shall not be removed until the payment of the rent, in such case the lessor shall have the rights and be entitled to the remedy given by this chapter. (Rev., s. 2000; Code, s. 1763; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 16; C. S. 2364.)

Art. 3. Summary Ejectment.

§ 42-26. Tenant holding over may be dispossessed in certain cases.—Any tenant or lessee of any house or land, and the assigns under the tenant or legal representatives of such tenant or lessee, who holds over and continues in the possession of the demised premises, or any part thereof, without the permission of the landlord, and after demand made for its surrender, may be removed from such premises in the manner hereinafter prescribed in any of the following cases:

1. When a tenant in possession of real estate holds over after his term has expired.

2. When the tenant or lessee, or other person under him, has done or omitted any act by which, according to the stipulations of the lease, his estate has ceased.

3. When any tenant or lessee of lands or tenements, who is in arrear for rent or has agreed to cultivate the demised premises and to pay a a part of the crop to be made thereon as rent, or who has given to the lessor a lien on such crop as a security for the rent, deserts the demised premises, and leaves them unoccupied and uncultivated. (Rev., s. 2001; Code, ss. 1766, 1777; 4 Geo. II, c. 28; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 19; 1905, cc. 297, 299, 820; C. S. 2365.)

Local Modification.—Johnston: 1933, c. 390.

§ 42-27. Local: Refusal to perform contract ground for dispossession.—When any tenant or cropper who enters into a contract for the rental of land for the current or ensuing year willfully neglects or refuses to perform the terms of his contract without just cause, he shall forfeit his right of possession to the premises. This section applies only to the following counties: Alleghany, Anson, Beaufort, Bertie, Bladen, Burke, Cabarrus, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Chowan, Cleveland, Columbus, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Duplin, Edgecombe, Franklin, Gaston, Gates, Greene, Guilford, Halifax, Harnett, Hertford, Hyde, Jackson, Johnston, Jones, Lenoir, Martin, Mecklenburg, Montgomery, Nash, Northampton, Onslow, Pasquotank, Pender, Perquimans, Pitt, Polk, Randolph, Robeson, Rockingham, Rowan, Rutherford, Sampson, Swain, Tyrrell, Union, Wake, Wayne, Washington, Wilson, Yadkin, Moore, Surry and Stokes. (Rev., s. 2001, subsec. 4; Code, ss. 1766, 1777; 4 Geo. II, c. 28; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 19; 1905, cc. 297, 299, 820; 1907, cc. 43, 153; 1909, cc. 40, 550; Pub. Loc. Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 66; 1931, cc. 50, 194, 446; 1933, cc. 86, 485; 1935, c. 39; C. S. 2366.)

§ 42-28. Summons issued by justice on verified complaint.—When the lessor or his assigns, or his or their agent or attorney, makes oath in writing, before any justice of the peace of the county in which the demised premises are situated, stating such facts as constitute one of the cases described in § 42-26 and § 42-27, and describing the premises and asking to be put in possession thereof, the justice shall issue a summons reciting the substance of the oath, and requiring the defendant to appear before him or some other justice of the county, at a certain place and time (not to exceed five days from the issuing of the summons, without the consent of the plaintiff or his agent or attorney), to answer the complaint. The plaintiff or his agent or attorney may in his oath claim rent in arrear, and damage for the occupation of the premises since the cessation of the estate of the lessee: Provided, the sum claimed shall not exceed two hundred dollars; but if he omits to make such claim, he shall not be thereby prejudiced in any other action for their recovery. (Rev., s. 2002; Code, s. 1767; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 20; 1869-70, c. 212; C. S. 2367.)

§ 42-29. Service of summons.—The officer receiving such summons shall immediately serve it by the delivery of a copy to the defendant or by leaving a copy at his usual or last place of residence, with some adult person, if any such be found there; or, if the defendant has no usual place of residence in the county and cannot be found therein, by fixing a copy on some conspicuous part of the premises claimed. (Rev., s. 2003; Code, s. 1768; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 21; C. S. 2368.)

§ 42-30. Judgment by default or confession.—The summons shall be returned according to its tenor, and if on its return it appears to have been duly served, and if the defendant fails to appear, or admits the allegations of the complaint, the justice shall give judgment that the defendant be removed from, and the plaintiff be put in possession of, the demised premises; and if any rent or damages for the occupation of the premises after the cessation of the estate of the lessee, not exceeding two hundred dollars, be claimed in the oath of the plaintiff as due and unpaid, the justice shall inquire thereof, and give judgment as he may find the fact to be. (Rev., s. 2004; Code, s. 1769; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 22; C. S. 2369.)

§ 42-31. Trial by justice; jury trial; judgment; execution.—If the defendant by his answer denies any material allegation in the oath of the plaintiff, the justice shall hear the evidence and give judgment as he shall find the facts to be. If either party demands a trial by jury, it shall be granted under the rules prescribed by law for other trials by jury before a justice; and if the jury finds that the allegation in the plaintiff's oath, which entitles him to be put in possession, is true, the justice shall give judgment that the defendant be removed from and the plaintiff put in possession of the demised premises, and also for such rent and damages as shall have been assessed by the jury, and for costs; and shall issue his execution to carry the judgment into effect. (Rev., s. 2005; Code, s. 1770; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 23; C. S. 2370.)

§ 42-32. Damages assessed to trial.—On appeal to the superior court, the jury trying the issue joined shall assess the damages of the plaintiff for the detention of his possession to the time of the trial in that court, and judgment for the rent in arrear and for the damages assessed may, on motion, be rendered against the sureties to the appeal. (Rev., s. 2006; Code, s. 1775; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 28; C. S. 2371.)

§ 42-33. Rent and costs tendered by tenant.—If, in any action brought to recover the possession of demised premises upon a forfeiture for the nonpayment of rent, the tenant, before judgment given in such action, pays or tenders the rent due and the costs of the action, all further proceedings in such action shall cease. If the plaintiff further prosecutes his action, and the defendant pays into court for the use of the plaintiff a sum equal to that which shall be found to be due, and the costs, to the time of such payment, or to the time of a tender and refusal, if one has occurred, the defendant shall recover from the plaintiff all subsequent costs; the plaintiff shall be allowed to receive the sum paid into court for his use, and the proceedings shall be stayed. (Rev., s. 2007; Code, s. 1773; 4 Geo. II, c. 28, s. 4; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 26; C. S. 2372.)

§ 42-34. Undertaking on appeal; when to be increased.—Either party may appeal from the judgment of the justice, as is prescribed in other cases of appeal from the judgment of a justice; upon appeal to the superior court either plaintiff or defendant may demand that the same shall be tried at the first term of said court after said appeal is docketed in said court, and said trial shall have precedence in the trial of all other cases, except the cases of exceptions to homesteads: Provided, that said appeal shall have been docketed at least ten days prior to the convening of said court: Provided, further, that the presiding judge, in his discretion, may take up for trial in advance any pending case in which the rights of the parties or the public require it; but no execution commanding the removal of a defendant from the possession of the demised premises shall be suspended until the defendant gives an undertaking in an amount not less than one year's rent of the premises, with sufficient surety, who shall justify and be approved by the justice, to be void if the defendant pays any judgment which in that or any other action the plaintiff may recover for rent, and for damages for the detention of the land. At any term of the superior court of the county in which such appeal is docketed after the lapse of one year from the date of the filing of the undertaking above mentioned, the tenant, after legal notice to that end has been duly executed on him, may be required to show cause why said undertaking should not be increased to an amount sufficient to cover rents and damages for such period as to the court may seem proper, and if such tenant fails to show proper cause and does not file such bond for rents and damages as the court may direct, or make affidavit that he is unable so to do and show merits, his appeal shall be dismissed and the judgment of the justice of the peace shall be affirmed. (Rev., s. 2008; Code, s. 1772; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 25; 1883, c. 316; 1921, c. 90; Ex. Sess., 1921, c. 17; 1933, c. 154; 1937, c. 294; C. S. 2373.)

Local Modification.—Burke: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 57, Davie, Granville, Iredell, Mecklenburg, Swain, Watauga: C. S. 2373.

§ 42-35. Restitution of tenant, if case quashed, etc., on appeal.—If the proceedings before the justice are brought before a superior court and quashed, or judgment is given against the plaintiff, the superior or other court in which final judgment is given shall, if necessary, restore the defendant to the possession, and issue such writs as are proper for that purpose. (Rev., s. 2009; Code, s. 1774; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 27; C. S. 2374.)

§ 42-36. Damages to tenant for dispossession, if proceedings quashed, etc.—If, by order of the justice, the plaintiff is put in possession, and the proceedings shall afterwards be quashed or reversed, the defendant may recover damages of the plaintiff for his removal. (Rev., s. 2010; Code, s. 1776; 1868-9, c. 156, s. 30; C. S. 2375.)

Art. 4. Forms.

§ 42-37. Forms sufficient.—The following forms, or substantially similar, shall be sufficient in all proceedings under this chapter:

Oath of Plaintiff

North Carolina, ... County.

A. B., plaintiff, against C. D., defendant. } Summary proceedings in ejectment.

The plaintiff (his agent or attorney) maketh oath that the defendant entered into the possession of a piece of land in said county (describe the land) as a lessee of the plaintiff (or as lessee of E. F., who, after the making of the lease, assigned his estate to the plaintiff, or otherwise, as the fact may be); that the term of the defendant expired on the....day of.....19.... (or that his estate has ceased by nonpayment of rent, or otherwise, as the fact may be); that the plaintiff has demanded the possession of the premises of the defendant, who refused to surrender it, but holds over; that the estate of the plaintiff is still subsisting, and the plaintiff asks to be put in possession of the premises.

The plaintiff claims.....dollars for rent of the premises from the.....day of ..... 19....to the.....day of.....19...., and also.....dollars for the occupation of the premises since the ..... day of ..... 19.... to the date hereof.

A. B., plaintiff.

Summons

North Carolina,.....County.

A. B., plaintiff, against C. D., defendant. } Summary proceedings in ejectment.

A. B. (his agent or attorney) having made and subscribed before me the oath, a copy of which is annexed, you are required to appear before me on the....day of.....,19...., at....., then and there to answer the complaint; otherwise judgment will be given that you be removed from the possession of the premises.

Witness my hand and seal this ..... day of....., 19.....

J. K., J. P. (Seal).

To C. D., defendant.

The justice attaches the oath of the plaintiff to the summons and delivers them, and a copy of both of them to the officer, and makes the following entry on his docket, or varies it according to the facts:

Docket Entries

Summons issued the....day of....., 19...., to....., constable (or sheriff, as the case may be).

The officer serves the summons and returns it to the justice with the oath of the plaintiff, and with his return indorsed:

Return of Officer

On this day I served the within summons on the defendant, C. D., by delivering to him a copy thereof, and of the oath of A. B., annexed (or by leaving a copy thereof and of the oath of A. B., annexed, at the usual place of residence of the defendant, C. D., with an adult found there) (or the said C. D. not being found in my county, and having no usual or last place of residence therein) (or no adult person being found at his usual or last place of residence, by posting a copy of the summons and of the oath of A. B., annexed, on a conspicuous part of the premises claimed).

The....day of ....., 19.....

Record to Be Entered on Docket

A. B., plaintiff, against C. D., defendant. } Summary proceedings in ejectment.

It appearing that the summons, with a copy of the oath of the plaintiff (his agent or attorney), was duly served on defendant,* and whereas the defendant fails to appear (or admits the allegations of the plaintiff), I adjudge that the defendant be removed from and the plaintiff put in possession of the premises described in the oath of the plaintiff. I also adjudge that the plaintiff recover of defendant.....dollars for rent from the ..... day of ....., 19.....to the .... day of....., 19...., and....., dollars for damages for occupation of the premises from the....day of....., 19...., to this day, and.....dollars for his costs; the....day of....., 19.....

If the defendant admits part of the allegations of plaintiff, but not all, the judgment must be varied accordingly; for example: follow the foregoing to the asterisk (*), and then proceed:

And whereas the defendant appears and admits the first and second allegations of the plaintiff, and denies the residue; and whereas both parties waived a trial by jury, I heard evidence upon the matters in issue, and find (here state the findings on the matters in issue separately).

Supposing the findings are for the plaintiff, the record would proceed:

I therefore adjudge that the defendant (and so on from the asterisk (). If either party demands a jury, the record will proceed from the asterisk () as follows:

And whereas the plaintiff (or defendant, as the case may be) demanded a trial of the issues joined by a jury, I caused a jury to be summoned, to wit: (here give the names of the jurors summoned) from whom the following jury was duly impaneled, to wit: (here state the names of the six jurors impaneled), who find (here state the verdict of the jury; if they find all the issues for the plaintiff, say so; if any particular issues, say so; also state the sums assessed by them for rent and for occupation to trial). Therefore, I adjudge, etc. (as in form No. 5, from asterisk (*).

If either party appeals, the justice will enter on his docket as follows, altering the entry according to the facts:

Record of Appeal

From the foregoing judgment the plaintiff (or defendant, as the case may be) prayed an appeal to the next superior court of said county, which is allowed.

Execution on Judgment for Plaintiff

Art. 1. Nature of Proceeding.

§ 43-1. Jurisdiction in superior court.—For the purpose of enabling all persons owning real estate within this state to have the title thereto settled and registered, as prescribed by the provisions of this chapter, the superior court of the county in which the land lies in the state shall have exclusive original jurisdiction of all petitions and proceedings had thereupon, under the rules of practice and procedure prescribed for special proceedings except as herein otherwise provided. (1913, c. 90, s. 1; C. S. 2377.)

§ 43-2. Proceedings in rem; vests title. — The proceedings under any petition for the registration of land, and all proceedings in the court in relation to registered land, shall be proceedings in rem against the land, and the decrees of the court shall operate directly on the land, and vest and establish title thereto in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. (1913, c. 90, s. 2; C. S. 2378.)

§ 43-3. Rules of practice prescribed by attorney-general. — The attorney-general, with the approval of the supreme court, shall from time to time make, change, revise and revoke rules of practice in the superior court for the administration of this chapter. He shall in like manner prescribe forms for use in such court, and in the notation of the registry of titles of memorials, claims, liens, lis pendens, and all other involuntary charges upon and to such registered lands. Whenever a question shall arise in the administration of this chapter as to the proper method of protecting or asserting any right or interest under the law, and the method of procedure is in doubt, it shall be the duty of the clerk or register of deeds to notify the attorney-general, who, with the approval of the supreme court, shall prescribe a rule covering such case. (1913, c. 90, s. 31; C. S. 2379.)

Art. 2. Officers and Fees.

§ 43-4. Examiners appointed by clerk. — The clerk of the superior court of each county shall appoint three or more examiners of titles, who shall be licensed attorneys at law, residing in the state of North Carolina. They shall qualify by taking oath before the clerk to faithfully discharge the duties of such office, which oath shall be filed in the office of the clerk. The term of office shall be two years. Examiners of titles shall have and exercise the jurisdiction and perform the duties hereinafter prescribed, and receive the fees herein provided. They shall not appear in or have any connection with any proceeding instituted under the provisions of this chapter, and they shall be subject to removal at will by such clerk or judge of the superior court. (1913, c. 90, s. 3; 1917, c. 63; C. S. 2380.)

§ 43-5. Fees of officers.—The fees to be allowed the clerks and sheriffs in this proceeding shall be the same as now allowed by law to clerks and sheriffs in other special proceedings. The examiner hereinbefore provided for shall receive, as may be allowed by the clerk, a minimum fee of five dollars for such examination of each title of property assessed upon the tax books at the amount of five thousand dollars or less; for each additional thousand dollars of assessed value of property so examined he shall receive fifty cents; for examination outside of the county he shall receive a reasonable allowance. There shall be allowed to the register of deeds for copying the plot upon registration of titles book one dollar; for issuing the certificate and new certificates under this chapter, fifty cents for each; for noting the entries or memorandum required and for the entries noting the cancellation of mortgages and all other entries, if any, herein provided for, a total of twenty-five cents for the entry or entries connected with one transaction. The county or other surveyor employed under the provisions of this chapter shall not be allowed to charge more than forty cents per hour for his time actually employed in making the survey and the map, except by agreement with the petitioner: Provided, however, that a minimum fee of two dollars in any case may be allowed.

There shall be no other fees allowed of any nature except as herein provided, and the bond of the register, clerk and sheriff shall be liable in case of any mistake, malfeasance, or misfeasance as to the duties imposed upon them by this chapter in as full a manner as such bond is now liable by law. (1913, c. 90, s. 30; C. S. 2381.)

Art. 3. Procedure for Registration.

§ 43-6. Who may institute proceedings.—Any person, being in the peaceable possession of land within the state and claiming an estate of inheritance therein, may prosecute a special proceeding in rem against all the world in the superior court for the county in which such land is situate, to establish his title thereto, to determine all adverse claims and have the title registered. Any number of the separate parcels of land claimed by the petitioner may be included in the same proceeding, and any one parcel may be established in several parts, each of which shall be clearly and accurately described and registered separately, and the decree therein shall operate directly upon the land and establish and vest an indefeasible title thereto. Any person in like possession of lands within the state, claiming an interest or estate less than the fee therein, may have his title thereto established under the provisions of this chapter, without the registration and transfer features herein provided. (1913, c. 90, s. 4; C. S. 2382.)

§ 43-7. Land lying in two or more counties.—In every proceeding to register title, in which it is alleged in the petition or made to appear that the land therein described, whether in one or more parcels, is situated partly in one county and partly in another, or is situated in two or more counties, that is to say, when an entire tract, or two or more entire tracts, are situated in two or more counties (but not separate or several tracts situated in different counties) it shall be competent to institute the proceedings before the clerk of the superior court of any county in which any part of such tract lying in two or more counties is situated, and said clerk shall have jurisdiction both of the parties and of the subject-matter as fully as if said land was situated wholly in his county; but upon the entry of a final decree of registration of title, the clerk by or before whom the same was rendered shall certify a copy thereof to the register of deeds of every county in which said land or any part thereof is situated, and the same shall be there filed and recorded; and every such register of deeds, upon demand of the person entitled and payment of requisite fees therefor, shall issue and deliver a certificate of title for that part of said land situated in his county. This section shall apply and become effective in all cases or proceedings heretofore conducted before any clerk of the superior court of this state for registration of title, as in this chapter authorized, when the land described in the petition as an entire tract was situated in two or more counties, as aforesaid; and upon the filing and recording of a certified copy of the final decree or decree of registration therein, the register of deeds shall issue and deliver a certificate of title to the present owner or person entitled to the same, for that part of the land situated in his county, as aforesaid, upon payment or tender of proper fees therefor. (1919, c. 82, s. 1; C. S. 2383.)

§ 43-8. Petition filed; contents.—Suit for registration of title shall be begun by a petition to the court by the persons claiming, singly or collectively, to own or have the power of appointing or disposing of an estate in fee simple in any land, whether subject to liens or not. Infants and other persons under disability may sue by guardian or trustee, as the case may be, and corporations as in other cases now provided by law; but the person in whose behalf the petition is made shall always be named as petitioner. The petition shall be signed and sworn to by each petitioner, and shall contain a full description of the land to be registered as hereinafter provided, together with a plot of same by metes and bounds, corners to be marked by permanent markers of iron, stone or cement; it shall show when, how and from whom it was acquired, and whether or not it is now occupied, and if so, by whom; and it shall give an account of all known liens, interests, equities and claims, adverse or otherwise, vested or contingent, upon such land. Full names and addresses, if known, of all persons who may be interested by marriage or otherwise, including adjoining owners and occupants, shall be given. If any person shall be unable to state the metes and bounds, the clerk may order a preliminary survey. (1913, c. 90, s. 5; C. S. 2384.)

§ 43-9. Summons issued and served; disclaimer.—The clerk of the court shall issue a summons directed to the sheriff of every county in which persons named as interested may reside, such persons being made defendants, and the summons shall be returnable as in other cases of special proceedings, except that the return shall be at least sixty days from the date of the summons. The summons shall be served at least ten days before the return thereof and the return recorded in the same manner as in other special proceedings; and all parties under disabilities shall be represented by guardian, either general or ad litem. If the persons named as interested are not residents of the state of North Carolina, and their residence is known, which must appear by affidavit, the summons must be served on such nonresidents as is now prescribed by law for service of summons on nonresidents.

Any party defendant to such proceeding may file a disclaimer of any claim or interest in the land described in the petition, which shall be deemed an admission of the allegations of the petition, and the decree shall bar such party and all persons thereafter claiming under him, and such party shall not be liable for any costs or expenses of the proceeding except such as may have been incurred by reason of his delay in pleading. (1913, c. 90, s. 6; C. S. 2385.)

§ 43-10. Notice of petition published.—In addition to the summons issued, prescribed in the foregoing section, the clerk of the court shall, at the time of issuing such summons, publish a notice of the filing thereof containing the names of the petitioners, the names of all persons named in the petition, together with a short but accurate description of the land and the relief demanded, in some secular newspaper published in the county wherein the land is situate, and having general circulation in the county; and if there be no such paper, then in a newspaper in the county nearest thereto and having general circulation in the county wherein the land lies, once a week for eight issues of such paper. The notice shall set forth the title of the cause and in legible or conspicuous type the words "To whom it may concern," and shall give notice to all persons of the relief demanded and the return day of the summons: Provided, that no final order or judgment shall be entered in the cause until there is proof and adjudication of publication as in other cases of publication of notice of summons. The provisions of this section, in respect to the issuing and service of summons and the publication of the notice, shall be mandatory and essential to the jurisdiction of the court to proceed in the cause: Provided, that the recital of the service of summons and publication in the decree or in the final judgment in the cause, and in the certificate issued to the petitioner as hereinafter provided, shall be conclusive evidence thereof. The clerk of the court shall also record a copy of said notice in the lis pendens docket of his office and cross-index same as other notices of lis pendens and shall also certify a copy thereof to the Superior Court of each county in which any part of said land lies, and the clerk thereof shall record and cross index same in the lis pendens records of his office as other notices of lis pendens are recorded and cross-indexed. (1913, c. 90, s. 7; 1915, c. 128, s. 1; 1919, c. 82, s. 2; 1925, c. 287; C. S. 2386.)

§ 43-11. Hearing and decree.—1. Referred to Examiner.—Upon the return day of the summons the petition shall be set down for hearing upon the pleadings and exhibits filed. If any person claiming an interest in the land described in the petition, or any lien thereon, shall file an answer, the petition and answer, together with all exhibits filed, shall be referred to the examiner of titles, who shall proceed, after notice to the petitioner and the persons who have filed answer or answered, to hear the cause upon such parol or documentary evidence as may be offered or called for and taken by him, and in addition thereto make such independent examination of the title as may be necessary. Upon his request the clerk shall issue a commission under the seal of the court for taking such testimony as shall be beyond the jurisdiction of such examiner.

2. Examiner's Report.—The examiner shall, within thirty days after such hearing, unless for good cause the time shall be extended, file with the clerk a report of his conclusions of law and fact, setting forth the state of such title, any liens or encumbrances thereon, by whom held, amount due thereon, together with an abstract of title to the lands and any other information in regard thereto affecting its validity.

3. Exceptions to Report.—Any of the parties to the proceeding may, within twenty days after such report is filed, file exceptions, either to the conclusions of law or fact. Whereupon the clerk shall transmit the record to the judge of the superior court for his determination thereof; such judge may on his own motion certify any issue of fact arising upon any such exceptions to the superior court of the county in which the proceeding is pending, for a trial of such issue by jury, and he shall so certify such issue of fact for trial by jury upon the demand of any party to the proceeding. If, upon consideration of such record, or the record and verdict of issues to be certified and tried by jury, the title be found in the petitioner, the judge shall enter a decree to that effect, ascertaining all limitations, liens, etc., declaring the land entitled to registration accordingly, and the same, together with the record, shall be docketed by the clerk of the court as in other cases, and a copy of the decree certified to the register of deeds of the county for registration as hereinafter provided. Any of the parties may appeal from such judgment to the supreme court, as in other special proceedings.

4. No Judgment by Default.—No judgment in any proceeding under this chapter shall be given by default, but the court must require an examination of the title in every instance except as respects the rights of parties who, by proper pleadings, admit the petitioner's claim. If, upon the return day of the summons and the day upon which the petition is set down for hearing, no answer be filed, the clerk shall refer the same to the examiner of titles, who shall, after notice to the petitioner, proceed to examine the title, together with all liens or encumbrances set forth or referred to in the petition and exhibits, and shall examine the registry of deeds, mortgages, wills, judgments, mechanic liens and other records of the county, and upon such examination he shall, as hereinbefore provided, report to the clerk the condition of the title, with a notice of liens or encumbrances thereon. The examiner shall have power to take and call for evidence in such case as fully as if the application were being contested. If the title shall be found to be in the petitioner, the clerk shall enter a decree to that effect and declaring the land entitled to registration, with entry of any limitations, liens, etc., and shall certify the same for registration, as hereinbefore provided, after approval by the judge of the superior court. (1913, c. 90, s. 8; C. S. 2387.)

§ 43-12. Effect of decree; approval of judge.—Every decree rendered as hereinbefore provided shall bind the land and bar all persons and corporations claiming title thereto or interest therein; quiet the title thereto, and shall be forever binding and conclusive upon and against all persons and corporations, whether mentioned by name in the order of publication, or included under the general description, "to whom it may concern"; and every such decree so rendered, or a duly certified copy thereof, as also the certificate of title issued thereon to the person or corporation therein named as owner, or to any subsequent transferee or purchaser, shall be conclusive evidence that such person or corporation is the owner of the land therein described, and no other evidence shall be required in any court of this state of his or its right or title thereto. It shall not be an exception to such conclusiveness that the person is an infant, lunatic or is under any disability, but such person may have recourse upon the indemnity fund hereinafter provided for, for any loss he may suffer by reason of being so concluded. Such decrees shall not be binding on and include the State of North Carolina or the State Board of Education unless notice of said proceeding and copy of petition, etc., as provided in this chapter, are served on the Governor and on the State Board of Education severally and personally. Such decree shall, in addition to being signed by the clerk of the court, be approved by the judge of the superior court, who shall review the whole proceeding and have power to require any reformation of the process, pleading, decrees or entries. (1913, c. 90, s. 9; 1919, c. 82, s. 3; 1925, c. 263; C. S. 2388.)

Art. 4. Registration and Effect.

§ 43-13. Manner of registration.—The county commissioners of each county shall provide for the register of deeds in the county a book, to be called Registration of Titles, in which the register shall enroll, register and index, as hereinafter provided, the decree of title before mentioned and the copy of the plot contained in the petition, and all subsequent transfers of title, and note all voluntary and involuntary transactions in any wise affecting the title to the land, authorized to be entered thereon. If the title be subject to trust, condition, encumbrance or the like, the words "in trust," "upon condition," "subject to encumbrance," or like appropriate insertion shall indicate the fact and fix any person dealing with such certificate with notice of the particulars of such limitations upon the title as appears upon the registry. No erasure, alteration, or amendment shall be made upon the registry after entry and issuance of a certificate of title except by order of a court of competent jurisdiction. (1913, c. 90, s. 10; 1919, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2389.)

§ 43-14. Cross-indexing of lands by registers of deeds. — Where any land is brought into the Torrens' System and under said system is registered in the public records of the register's office, said register shall cross-index the registration in the general cross-index for deeds in his office. (1931, c. 286, s. 2.)

§ 43-15. Certificate issued. — Upon the registration of such decree the register of deeds shall issue an owner's certificate of title, under the seal of his office, which shall be delivered to the owner or his agent duly authorized, and shall be substantially as follows:

State of North Carolina—County of .....

The certificate of .....

I hereby certify that the title is registered in the name of ..... to and situate in said county and state, described as follows: (Here describe land as in decree.)

Estate ..... (here name the estate and any limitation or encumbrance thereon, as fee simple, upon condition, in trust, subject to incumbrance, and the like).

Under decree of the land court of ..... county, entitled .....

Registered No. ...., Book No. ....., page .....

Witness my hand and seal, at office at ....., this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19..... (Seal) ..... Register of Deeds. (1913, c. 90, s. 10; C. S. 2390.)

§ 43-16. Certificates numbered; entries thereon.—All certificates of title to land in the county shall be numbered consecutively, which number shall be retained as long as the boundaries of the land remain unchanged, and a separate page or more, with appropriate space for subsequent entries, shall be devoted to each title in the registration of titles book for the county. Every entry made upon any certificate of title in such book or upon the owner's certificate, under any of the provisions of this chapter, shall be signed by the register of deeds and minutely dated in conformity with the dates shown by the entry book. (1913, c. 90, s. 11; C. S. 2391.)

§ 43-17. New certificate issued, if original lost. —Whenever an owner's certificate of title is lost or destroyed, the owner or his personal representative may petition the court for the issuance of a new certificate. Notice of such petition shall be published once a week for four successive weeks, under the direction of the court, in some convenient newspaper, and noted upon the registry of titles, and upon satisfactory proof having been exhibited before it that the certificate has been lost or destroyed the court may direct the issuance of a new certificate, which shall be appropriately designated and take the place of the original, but at least thirty full days shall elapse between the filing of the petition and making the decree for such new certificate. (1913, c. 90, s. 24; C. S. 2392.)

§ 43-18. Registered owner's estate free from adverse claims; exceptions.—Every registered owner of any estate or interest in land bought under this chapter shall, except in cases of fraud to which he is a party or in which he is a privy, without valuable consideration paid in good faith, and except when any registration has been procured through forgery, hold the land free from any and all adverse claims, rights or encumbrances not noted on the certificate of title, except (1) liens, claims or rights arising or existing under the laws or constitution of the United States which the statutes of this state cannot require to appear of record under registry laws; (2) taxes and assessments thereon due the state or any county, city or town therein, but not delinquent; (3) any lease for a term not exceeding three years, under which the land is actually occupied. (1913, c. 90, s. 25; C. S. 2393.)

§ 43-19. Adverse claims existing at initial registry; affidavit; limitation of action.—Any person making any claim to or asserting any lien or charge upon registered land, existing at the initial registry of the same and not shown upon the register or adverse to the title of the registered owner, and for which no other provision is herein made for asserting the same in the registry of titles, may make an affidavit thereof setting forth his interest, right, title, lien or demand, and how and under whom derived, and the character and nature thereof. The affidavit shall state his place of residence and designate a place at which all notices relating thereto may be served. Upon the filing of such affidavit in the office of the clerk of the superior court, the clerk shall order a note thereof as in the case of charges or encumbrances, and the same shall be entered by the register of deeds. Action shall be brought upon such claim within six months after the entry of such note, unless for cause shown the clerk shall extend the time. Upon failure to commence such action within the time prescribed therefor, the clerk shall order a cancellation of such note. If any person shall wantonly or maliciously or without reasonable cause procure such notation to be entered upon the registry of titles, having the effect of a cloud upon the registered owner's title, he shall be liable for all damages the owner may suffer thereby. (1913, c. 90, s. 25; C. S. 2394.)

§ 43-20. Decree and registration run with the land.—The obtaining of a decree of registration and the entry of a certificate of title shall be construed as an agreement running with the land, and the same shall ever remain registered land, subject to the provisions of this chapter and all amendments thereof. (1913, c. 90, s. 26; C. S. 2395.)

§ 43-21. No right by adverse possession.—No title to nor right or interest in registered land in derogation of that of the registered owner shall be acquired by prescription or adverse possession. (1913, c. 90, s. 27; C. S. 2396.)

§ 43-22. Jurisdiction of courts; registered land affected only by registration.—Except as otherwise specially provided by this chapter, registered land and ownership therein shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts in the same manner as if it had not been registered; but the registration shall be the only operative act to transfer or affect the title to registered land, and shall date from the time the writing, instrument or record to be registered is duly filed in the office of the register of deeds, subject to the provisions of this chapter; no voluntary or involuntary transaction shall affect the title to registered lands until registered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter: Provided, that all mortgages, deeds, surrendered and canceled certificates, when new certificates are issued for the land so deeded, the other paper-writings, if any, pertaining to and affecting the registered estate or estates herein referred to, shall be filed by the register of deeds for reference and information, but the registration of titles book shall be and constitute sole and conclusive legal evidence of title, except in cases of mistake and fraud, which shall be corrected in the methods now provided for the correction of papers authorized to be registered. (1913, c. 90, s. 28; C. S. 2397.)

§ 43-23. Priority of right.—In case of conflicting claims between the registered owners the right, title or estate derived from or held under the older certificate of title shall prevail. (1913, c. 90, s. 29; C. S. 2398.)

§ 43-24. Compliance with this chapter due registration. — When the provisions of this chapter have been complied with, all conveyances, deeds, contracts to convey or leases shall be considered duly registered, as against creditors and purchasers, in the same manner and as fully as if the same had been registered in the manner heretofore provided by law for the registration of conveyances. (1913, c. 90, s. 32; C. S. 2399.)

§ 43-25. Release from registration.—Whenever the record owner of any estate in lands, the title to which has been registered or attempted to be registered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, desires to have such estate released from the provisions of said chapter in so far as said chapter relates to the form of conveyance, so that such estate may ever thereafter be conveyed, either absolutely or upon condition or trust, by the use of any desired form of conveyance other than the certificate of title prescribed by said chapter, such owner may present his owner's certificate of title to such registered estate to the register of deeds of the county wherein such land lies, with a memorandum or statement written by him on the margin thereof in the words following, or words of similar import, to wit: "I (or we), ..., being the owner (or owners) of the registered estate evidenced by this certificate of title, do hereby release said estate from the provisions of chapter forty-three of the North Carolina Code in so far as said chapter relates to the form of conveyance, so that hereafter the said estate may, and shall be forever until again hereafter registered in accordance with the provisions of said chapter and acts amendatory thereof, conveyed, either absolutely or upon condition or trust, by any form of conveyance other than the certificate of title prescribed by said chapter, and in the same manner as if said estate had never been registered." Which said memorandum or statement shall further state that it is made pursuant to the provisions of this section, and shall be signed by such record owner and attested by the register of deeds under his hand and official seal, and a like memorandum or statement so entered, signed and attested upon the margin of the record of the said owner's certificate of title in the registration of titles book in said register's office, with the further notation made and signed by the register of deeds on the margin of the certificate of title in the registration of titles book showing that such entry has been made upon the owner's certificate of title; and thereafter any conveyance of such registered estate, or any part thereof, by such owner, his heirs or assigns, by means of any desired form of conveyance other than such certificate of title shall be as valid and effectual to pass such estate of the owner according to the tenor and purport of such conveyance in the same manner and to the same extent as if such estate had never been so registered. (1924, c. 40.)

Art. 5. Adverse Claims and Corrections after Registration.

§ 43-26. Limitations. — No decree of registration heretofore entered, and no certificate of title heretofore issued pursuant thereto, shall be adjudged invalid, revoked, or set aside, unless the action or proceeding in which the validity of such decree of registration or certificate of title issued pursuant thereto is attacked or called in question be commenced or the defense alleging the invalidity thereof be interposed within twelve months from March 10, 1919.

No decree of registration hereafter entered and no certificate of title hereafter issued pursuant thereto shall be adjudged invalid or revoked or set aside, unless the action or proceeding in which the validity of such decree or of the certificate of title issued pursuant thereto is attacked or called in question be commenced or the defense alleging the invalidity thereof be interposed within twelve months from the date of such decree.

No action or proceeding for the recovery of any right, title, interest, or estate in registered land adverse to the title established and adjudicated by any decree of registration heretofore entered shall be maintained unless such action or proceeding be commenced within twelve months from the date last mentioned; and no action or proceeding for the recovery of any right, title, interest, estate in registered land, adverse to the right established by any decree of registration hereafter shall be maintained unless such action or proceeding be commenced within twelve months from the date of such decree.

No action or proceeding for the enforcement or foreclosure of any lien upon or charge against registered land which existed at the date when any decree of registration was heretofore entered, and which was not recognized or established by such decree, shall be maintained, unless such action or proceeding be commenced within twelve months from the date above mentioned; and no action or proceeding for the enforcement or foreclosure of any lien upon or charge against registered land in existence at the date of any decree of registration hereafter entered, and which is not recognized and established by such decree, shall be maintained, unless such action or proceeding be commenced within twelve months from the date of such decree. (1919, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2400.)

§ 43-27. Adverse claim subsequent to registry; affidavit of claim prerequisite to enforcement; limitation. — Any person claiming any right, title, or interest in registered land adverse to the registered owner thereof, arising subsequent to the date of the original decree of registration, may, if no other provision is made for registering the same, file with the register of deeds of the county in which such decree was rendered or certificate of title thereon was issued, a verified statement in writing, setting forth fully the right, title, or interest so claimed, how or from whom it was acquired, and a reference to the number, book, and page of the certificate of title of the registered owner, together with a description of the land by metes and bounds, the adverse claimant's place of residence and his post-office address, and, if a nonresident, he shall designate or appoint the said register of deeds to receive all notices directed to or to be served upon such adverse claimant in connection with the claim by him made, and such statement shall be noted and filed by said register of deeds as an adverse claim; but no action or proceeding to enforce such adverse claim shall be maintained unless the same be commenced within six months of the filing of the statement thereof. (1919, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2401.)

§ 43-28. Suit to enforce adverse claim; summons and notice necessary. — Upon the institution of any action or proceeding to enforce such adverse claim, notice thereof shall be served upon the register of deeds, who shall enter upon the registry a memorandum that suit has been brought or proceeding instituted to determine the validity of such adverse claim; and summons or notice shall be served upon the holder or claimant of the registered title or certificate or other person against whom such adverse claim is alleged, as provided by law for the institution of suits or proceedings in the courts of this state.

If no notice of the institution of an action or proceeding to enforce an adverse claim be served upon the register of deeds and upon the holder of the registered title or certificate, or other person, as aforesaid, within seven months from the date of filing the statement of adverse claim, the register of deeds shall cancel upon the registry the adverse claim so filed and make a memorandum setting out that no notice of suit or proceeding to enforce the same had been served upon him within seven months as herein required, and that such adverse claim was therefore canceled; and thereafter no action or proceeding shall be begun or maintained to enforce such adverse claim in any of the courts of this state. (1919, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2402.)

§ 43-29. Judgment in suit to enforce adverse claim; register to file. — The court shall certify its judgment to the register of deeds; if such adverse claim be held valid, the register of deeds shall make such entry upon the registry and upon the owner's certificate of title as may be directed by the court, or he may file and record a certified copy of the judgment or order of the court thereon; if such adverse claim be held invalid the register of deeds shall cancel such adverse claim upon the registry, noting thereon that the same was done by order or judgment of the court, or he may file and record a certified copy of the judgment or order of the court thereon. (1919, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2403.)

§ 43-30. Correction of registered title; limitation of adverse claims. — Any registered owner or other claimant under the registered title may at any time apply to the court in which the original decree was entered, by petition, setting out that registered interests of any description, whether vested, contingent, expectant or inchoate, have terminated and ceased, or that new interests have arisen or been created which do not appear upon the certificate, or that any error or omission was made in entering or issuing the certificate or any duplicate thereof, or that the name of any person on the certificate has been changed, or that the registered owner had married or, if registered as married, that the marriage has been terminated, or that a corporation which owned registered lands has been dissolved, without conveying the same or transferring its certificate within three years after the dissolution, or any other reasonable and proper ground of correction or relief; and such court may hear and determine the petition after notice to all parties in interest, and may make such order or decree as may be appropriate and lawful in the premises; but nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize any such court to open any original decree of registration which was entered more than twelve months prior to the filing of such petition, and nothing shall be done or ordered by the court to divest or impair the title or other interest of a purchaser who holds a transfer or certificate of title for value and in good faith. No action or proceeding shall be commenced or maintained to set up or establish any right, claim, interest or estate adverse to the order or decree or certificate of title issued thereon made or entered upon any petition or other proceeding authorized by this section, unless the same shall be brought and instituted within six months from the date of such order or decree authorized by this section. (1919, c. 236, s. 1; C. S. 2404.)

Art. 6. Method of Transfer.

§ 43-31. When whole of land conveyed.—Whenever the whole of any registered estate is transferred or conveyed the same shall be done by a transfer or conveyance upon or attached to the certificate substantially as follows:

A B and wife (giving the names of the parties owning land described in the certificate and their wives) hereby, in consideration of ..... dollars, sell and convey to C D (giving name of purchaser) the lot or tract of land, as the case may be, described in the certificate of title hereto attached.

The same shall be signed and properly acknowledged by the parties and their wives and shall have the full force and effect of a deed in fee simple: Provided, that if the sale shall be in trust, upon condition, with power to sell or other unusual form of conveyance, the same shall be set out in the deed, and shall be entered upon the registration of titles book as hereinafter provided; that upon presentation of the transfer, together with the certificate of title, to the register of deeds, the transaction shall be duly noted and registered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and certificate of title so presented shall be cancelled and a new certificate with the same number issued to the purchaser thereof, which new certificate shall fully refer by number and also by name of holder to former certificate just canceled. (1913, c. 90, s. 12; C. S. 2405.)

§ 43-32. Conveyance of part of registered land.—The transfer of any part of a registered estate, either of an undivided interest therein or of a separate lot or parcel thereof, shall be made by an instrument of the transfer or conveyance similar in form to that herein provided for the transfer of the whole of any registered estate, to which shall be attached the certificate of title of such registered estate. In case of the transfer of an undivided interest in a registered estate, such instrument or transfer or conveyance shall accurately specify and describe the extent and amount of the interest transferred and of the interest retained, respectively. In case of a transfer of a separate lot or parcel of a registered estate, such instrument of transfer or conveyance shall describe the lot or parcel transferred either by metes and bounds or by reference to the map or plat attached thereto, and shall in every case be accompanied by a map or plat having clearly indicated thereon the boundaries of the whole of the registered estate and of the lot or parcel to be transferred. (1919, c. 82, s. 4; C. S. 2406.)

§ 43-33. Duty of register of deeds upon part conveyance. — Upon presentation to the register of deeds of an instrument of transfer or conveyance of an undivided interest in a registered estate, in proper form as above prescribed, it shall be his duty to cancel the certificate of title attached thereto and to issue to each owner a new certificate of title, each bearing the same number as the original certificate of title and accurately specifying and describing the extent and the amount of the interest retained or of the interest transferred, as the case may be. Upon presentation to the register of deeds of an instrument of transfer or conveyance of a separate lot or parcel of a registered estate, in proper form as above prescribed, it shall be his duty to cancel the certificate of the title attached thereto and to issue to each owner a new certificate of title bearing a new number and describing the separate lot or parcel retained or transferred, as the case may be, either by metes and bounds or by reference to a map or plat thereto attached. (1919, c. 82, s. 4; C. S. 2407.)

§ 43-34. Subdivision of registered estate.—Any owner of a registered estate who may desire to subdivide the same may make application in writing to the register of deeds for the issuance of a new certificate of title for each subdivision, to which application shall be attached a map or plat having clearly indicated thereon the boundaries of the whole of the registered estate in question and of each lot or parcel for which he desires a new certificate of title. Thereupon it shall be the duty of the register of deeds, upon payment by such applicant of necessary surveyor's fees, if any are required, and of the amount herein provided for issuing the certificates of title and recording the map, to cancel the certificate of title attached to said application and to issue to such owner new certificates of title, each bearing a new number, for each lot or parcel shown upon the said map, describing such lot or parcel in such certificates either by metes and bounds or by reference to a map or plat attached thereto. (1919, c. 82, s. 4; C. S. 2408.)

§ 43-35. References and cross-references entered on register. — In all cases the register of deeds shall place upon the registry of title books and upon the certificate of title of such registered estate therein, references and cross-references to the new certificates issued as above provided, in accordance with the provisions of this article, and the new certificates issued shall fully refer by number and by name of the holder to the canceled certificate in place of which they are issued. (1919, c. 82, s. 4; C. S. 2409.)

§ 43-36. When land conveyed as security. — 1. Whole land conveyed. Whenever the owner of any registered estate shall desire to convey same as security for debt, it may be done in the following manner, by a short form of transfer, substantially as follows, to wit:

A B and wife (giving names of all owners or holders of certificates and their wives) hereby transfer to C. D. the tract or lot of land described as No. ..... in registration of titles book for ..... county, a certificate for the title for same being hereto attached, to secure a debt of ..... dollars, due to ....., of ..... county and state, on the .... day of ....., 19...., evidenced by bond (or otherwise as the case may be) dated the .... day of ....., 19..... In case of default in payment of said debt with accrued interest, ... days notice of sale required.

The same shall be signed and properly acknowledged by the parties making same, and shall be presented, together with the owner's certificate, to the register of deeds, whose duty it shall be to note upon the owner's certificate and upon the certificate of title in the registration of titles book the name of the trustee, the amount of debt, and the date of maturity of same.

2. Part of land conveyed. When a part of the registered estate shall be so conveyed, the register of deeds shall note upon the book and owner's certificate the part so conveyed, and if the same be required and the proper fee paid by the trustee, shall issue what shall be known as a partial certificate, over his hand and seal, setting out the portion so conveyed.

3. Effect of transfer. All transfers by such short form shall convey the power of sale upon due advertisement at the county courthouse and in some newspaper published in the county, or adjourning county, in the same manner and as fully as is now provided by law in the case of mortgages and deeds of trust and default therein.

4. Other encumbrances noted. All registered encumbrances, rights or adverse claims affecting the estate represented thereby shall continue to be noted, not only upon the certificate of title in the registration book, but also upon the owner's certificate, until same shall have been released or discharged. And in the event of second or other subsequent voluntary encumbrances the holder of the certificate may be required to produce such certificate for the entry thereon or attachment thereto of the note of such subsequent charge or encumbrance as provided in this article.

5. Other forms of conveyance may be used. Nothing in this section nor this chapter shall be construed to prevent the owner from conveying such land, or any part of the same, as security for a debt by deed of trust or mortgage in any form which may be agreed upon between the parties thereto, and having such deed of trust or mortgage recorded in the office of the register of deeds as other deeds of trust and mortgages are recorded: Provided, that the book and page of the record at which such deed of trust or mortgage is recorded shall be entered by the register of deeds upon the owner's certificate and also on the registration of titles book.

6. Sale under lien; new certification. Upon foreclosure of such deed of trust or mortgage, or sale under execution for taxes or other lien on the land, the fact of such foreclosure or sale shall be reported by the trustee, mortgagee or other person authorized to make the same, to the register of deeds of the county in which the land lies, and, upon satisfactory evidence thereof, it shall be his duty to call in and cancel the outstanding certificate of title for the land so sold, and to issue a new certificate in its place to the purchaser or other person entitled thereto; and the production of such outstanding certificate and its surrender by the holder thereof may be compelled, upon notice to him, by motion before and order of the clerk of the superior court in the original proceeding or the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land lies; but the right of appeal from such order may be exercised and shall be allowed as in other special proceedings, and pending any such appeal the rights of all parties shall be preserved. (1913, c. 90, s. 14; 1915, c. 245; 1919, c. 82, s. 5; C. S. 2410.)

§ 43-37. Owner's certificate presented with transfer. — In voluntary transactions the owner's certificate of title must be presented along with the writing or instrument conveying or effecting the sale, and thereupon and not otherwise the register shall be authorized to register the conveyance or other transaction upon proof of payment of all delinquent taxes or liens, if any, or if such payment be not shown the entry and new certificate shall note such taxes or liens as having priority thereto. (1913, c. 90, s. 15; C. S. 2411.)

§ 43-38. Transfers probated; partitions; contracts. — All transfers of registered land shall be duly executed and probated as required by law upon like conveyances of other lands, and in all cases of change in boundary by partition, subtraction or addition of land there shall be an accurate survey and permanent marking of boundaries and accurate plots, showing the courses, distances and markings of every portion thereof, which shall be duly proved and registered as upon the initial registration. Such transfers shall be presented to the register of deeds for entry upon the registration of titles book and upon the owner's certificate within thirty days from the date thereof, or become subject to any rights which may accrue to any other person by a prior registration. All leases or contracts affecting land for a period exceeding three years shall be in writing, duly proved before the clerk of the superior court, recorded in the register's office, and noted upon the registry and upon the owner's certificate. (1913, c. 90, ss. 15, 32; C. S. 2412.)

§ 43-39. Certified copy of order of court noted. —In voluntary transactions a certificate from the proper state, county or court officer, or certified copy of the order, decree or judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction shall be authority for him to order a proper notation thereof upon the registration of titles book, and for the register of deeds to note the transaction under the direction of the court. (1913, c. 90, s. 16; C. S. 2413.)

§ 43-40. Production of owner's certificate required. — Whenever owner's certificate is not presented to the register along with any writing, instrument or record filed for registration under this chapter, he shall forthwith send notice by registered mail to the owner of such certificate, requesting him to produce the same in order that a memorial of the transaction may be made thereon; and such production may be required by subpœna duces tecum or by other process of the court, if necessary. (1913, c. 90, s. 17; C. S. 2414.)

§ 43-41. Registration notice to all persons. — Every voluntary or involuntary transaction, which if recorded, filed or entered in any clerk's office would affect unregistered land, shall, if duly registered in the office of the proper register as the case may be, and not otherwise, be notice to all persons from the time of such registration, and operate, in accordance with law and the provisions of this chapter, upon any registered land in the county of such registration. (1913, c. 90, s. 18; C. S. 2415.)

§ 43-42. Conveyance of registered land in trust. —Whenever a writing, instrument or record is filed for the purpose of transferring registered land in trust, or upon any equitable condition or limitation expressed therein, or for the purpose of creating or declaring a trust or other equitable interest in such land, the particulars of the trust, condition, limitation or other equitable interest shall not be entered on the certificate, but it shall be sufficient to enter in the book and upon the certificates a memorial thereof by the terms "in trust" or "upon condition" or in other apt words, and to refer by number to the writing, instrument or record authorizing or creating the same. And if express power is given to sell, encumber or deal with the land in any manner, such power shall be noted upon the certificates by the term "with power to sell" or "with power to encumber," or by other apt words. (1913, c. 90, s. 19; C. S. 2416.)

§ 43-43. Authorized transfer of equitable interests registered. — No writing or instrument for the purpose of transferring, encumbering or otherwise dealing with equitable interests in registered land shall be registered unless the power thereto enabling has been expressly conferred by or has been reserved in the writing or instrument creating such equitable instrument, or has been declared to exist by the decree of some court of competent jurisdiction, which decree must also be registered. (1913, c. 90, s. 20; C. S. 2417.)

§ 43-44. Validating conveyance by entry on margin of certificate. — In all cases where the owner of any estate in lands, the title to which has been registered or attempted to be registered in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, has before August 21, 1924, and subsequent to such registration made any conveyance of such estate, or any portion thereof, by any form of conveyance sufficient in law to pass the title thereto if the title to said lands had not been so registered, the record owner and holder of the certificate of title covering such registered estate may enter upon the margin of his certificate of title in the registration of titles book a memorandum showing that such registered estate, or a portion thereof, has been so conveyed, and further showing the name of the grantee or grantees and the number of the book and the page thereof where such conveyance is recorded in the office of the register of deeds, and make a like entry upon the owner's certificate of title held by him, both of such entries to be signed by him and witnessed by the register of deeds, and attested by the seal of office of the register of deeds upon said owner's certificate, with the further notation made and signed by the register of deeds on the margin of the certificate of title in the registration of titles book showing that such entry has been made upon the owner's certificate of title, and thereupon such conveyance shall become and be as valid and effectual to pass such estate of the owner according to the tenor and purport of such conveyance as if the title to said lands had never been so registered, whether such conveyance be in form absolute or upon condition of trust; and in all cases where such conveyance has been made before August 21, 1924, upon the making of the entries herein authorized by the record owner and holder of such owner's certificate of title, the grantee and his heirs and assigns shall thereafter have the same right to convey the said estate or any part of the same in all respects as if the title to said lands had never been so registered. (1924, c. 41.)

Art. 7. Liens upon Registered Lands.

§ 43-45. Docketed judgments.—Whenever any judgment of the superior court of the county in which the registered estate is situated shall be duly docketed in the office of the clerk of the superior court, it shall be the duty of the clerk to certify the same to the register of deeds. The register of deeds shall thereupon enter the certificate of title, the date, and the amount of the judgment, and the same shall be a lien upon such land as fully as such docketed judgment would be a lien upon unregistered lands of the judgment debtor. (1913, c. 90, s. 22; C. S. 2418.)

§ 43-46. Notice of delinquent taxes filed. — It shall be the duty of the sheriff or other collector of taxes or assessments of each county and town, not later than the first day of March in each year, to file an exact memorandum of the delinquency, if any, of any registered land for the nonpayment of the taxes or assessments thereon, including the penalty therefor, in the office of the register of deeds for registration; and if such officer fails to perform such duty, and there shall be subsequent to such day a transfer of the land as hereinbefore provided, the grantee shall acquire a good title free from any lien for such taxes and assessments, and such sheriff or other collector of taxes and his sureties shall be liable for the payment of the taxes and assessments with the penalty and interest thereon. (1913, c. 90, s. 21; C. S. 2419.)

§ 43-47. Sale of land for taxes; redemption.— Whenever any sale of registered land is made for delinquent taxes or levies, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or other officer making such sale to file forthwith a memorandum thereof for registration in the office of the register of deeds; and thereupon the registered owner shall be required to produce his certificate for cancellation, and a new owner's certificate shall be issued in favor of the purchaser, and the land shall be transferred on the land books to the name of such purchaser, unless such delinquent charges and all penalties and interest thereon be paid in full within ninety days after date of such sale; but a note shall be entered upon the certificate of title and also upon any such new owner's certificate, reserving the privilege of redemption in accordance with the law. In case of any redemption under this section of land sold for taxes, a note of the fact shall be duly registered, and if an owner's certificate has been issued to any purchaser, the same shall be canceled and a new one shall be issued to the person who has redeemed. (1913, c. 90, ss. 22, 23; C. S. 2420.)

§ 43-48. Sale of unredeemed land; application of proceeds. — If there be no redemption of land under the preceding section, in accordance with the law, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or other collector of taxes in the county or town in which the land lies to sell the same at public auction for cash, first giving such notice of the time and place of sale as is prescribed for execution sales, and the proceeds of sale shall be applied, first, to the payment of all taxes and assessments then due to the state, county and town, with interest, penalty and costs; second, to the payment of all sums paid by any person who purchased at the former tax sale, with interest and the additional sum of five dollars; third, to the payment of a commission to the officer making the sale of five per centum on the first three hundred dollars and two per centum on the residue of the proceeds; fourth, to the satisfaction of any liens other than the taxes and assessments registered against the land in the order of their priorities; fifth, and the surplus, if any, to the person in whose name the land was previous to sale for taxes, subject to redemption as provided herein, his heirs, personal representatives or assigns. A note of the sale under this section shall be duly registered, and a certificate shall be entered and an owner's certificate issued in favor of the purchaser in whom title shall be thereby vested as registered owner, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to affect or divert the title of a tenant in reversion or remainder to any real estate which has been returned delinquent and sold on account of the default of the tenant for life in paying the taxes or assessments thereon. (1913, c. 90, s. 23; C. S. 2421.)

Art. 8. Assurance Fund.

§ 43-49. Assurance fund provided; investment.—Upon the original registration of land and also upon the entry of certificate showing the title as registered owners in heirs or devisees, there shall be paid to the clerk of the court one-tenth of one per cent of the assessed value of the land for taxes, as an assurance fund, which shall be paid over to the state treasurer, who shall be liable therefor upon his official bond as for other moneys received by him in his official capacity. He shall keep all the principal and interest of such fund invested, except as required for the payment of indemnities, in bonds and securities of the United States, of this state, or of counties and other municipalities within the state. Such investment shall be made upon the advice and concurrence of the governor and council of state, and he shall make report of such funds and the investment thereof to the general assembly biennially. (1913, c. 90, s. 33; C. S. 2422.)

§ 43-50. Action for indemnity.—Any person who, without negligence on his part, sustains loss or damage or is deprived of land, or of any estate or interest therein, through fraud or negligence or in consequence of any error, omission, mistake, misfeasance, or misdescription in any certificate of title or in any entry or memorandum in the registration book, and who, by the provisions of this chapter, is barred or in any way precluded from bringing an action for the recovery of such land or interest or estate therein or claim upon same, may bring an action in the superior court of the county in which the land is situate for the recovery of compensation for such loss or damage from the assurance fund. Such action shall be against the state treasurer and all other persons who may be liable for the fraud, negligence, omission, mistake or misfeasance; but if such claimant has the right of action or other remedy for the recovery of the land, or of the estate or interest therein, or of the claim upon same, he shall exhaust such remedy before resorting to the assurance fund. (1913, c. 90, s. 34; C. S. 2423.)

§ 43-51. Satisfaction by third person or by treasurer.—If there are defendants other than the state treasurer, and judgment is rendered in favor of the plaintiff and against the treasurer and some or all of the other defendants, execution shall first be issued against the other defendants, and if such execution is returned unsatisfied in whole or in part, and the officer returning the same shall certify that it cannot be collected from the property and effects of the other defendants, or if the judgment be against the treasurer only, the clerk of the court shall certify the amount due on the execution to the state auditor, who shall issue his warrant therefor upon the state treasurer, and the same shall be paid. In all such cases the treasurer may employ counsel who shall receive reasonable compensation for his services from the assurance fund. (1913, c. 90, s. 35; C. S. 2424.)

§ 43-52. Payment by treasurer, if assurance fund insufficient.—If the assurance fund shall be insufficient at any time to meet the amount called for by any such certificate, the treasurer shall pay the same from any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated; and in such case any amount thereafter received by the treasurer on account of the assurance fund shall be transferred to the general funds of the treasury until the amount advanced shall have been paid. (1913, c. 90, s. 36; C. S. 2425.)

§ 43-53. Treasurer subrogated to right of claimant.—In every case of payment by the treasurer from the assurance funds under the provisions of this chapter the treasurer shall be subrogated to all the rights of the plaintiff against all and every other person or property or securities to a trustee, or by the improper exercise of any power of sale in benefit of the assurance fund. (1913, c. 90, s. 37; C. S. 2426.)

§ 43-54. Assurance fund not liable for breach of trust; limit of recovery.—The assurance fund shall not be liable to pay any loss, damage or deprivation occasioned by a breach of trust, whether expressed, constructive or implied, by any registered owner who is a trustee, or by the improper exercise of any power of sale in a mortgage or deed of trust. Nor shall any plaintiff recover as compensation under the provisions of this chapter more than the fair market value of the land at the time when he suffered the loss, damage or deprivation thereof. (1913, c. 90, s. 38; C. S. 2427.)

§ 43-55. Statute of limitation as to assurance fund.—Action for compensation from the assurance fund shall be begun within three years from the time the cause of action accrued. In cases of infancy or other disability now recognized by law, persons under such disability shall have one year after the removal of such disability within which to begin the action. (1913, c. 90, s. 39; C. S. 2428.)

Art. 9. Removal of Land from Operation of Torrens Law.

§ 43-56. Proceedings.—Any land brought under the provisions and operation of this chapter before April 16, 1931, may be removed and excluded therefrom by a motion in writing filed in the original cause wherein said land was brought under the provisions and operation of said chapter, and upon the filing of a petition therein showing the names of all persons owning an interest in said land and of all lien holders, mortgagees and trustees of record, and the description of said land. Upon the filing of said petition the Clerk of the Superior Court shall issue a citation to all parties interested and named in the petition, and upon the return date of said citation and upon the hearing of said motion, the said Clerk of the Superior Court may enter a decree in said cause removing and excluding said land from the provisions and operation of this chapter, and transfer and conveyance of said land may be made thereafter as other common law conveyances. (1931, c. 286, s. 1.)

§ 43-57. Existing liens unaffected.—Nothing in § 43-56 shall be construed to impair or remove any lien or encumbrance existing against said land. (1931, c. 286, s. 3.)

Art. 1. Mechanics', Laborers' and Materialmen's Liens.

§ 44-1. On buildings and property, real and personal.—Every building built, rebuilt, repaired or improved, together with the necessary lots on which such building is situated, and every lot, farm or vessel, or any kind of property, real or personal, not herein enumerated, shall be subject to a lien for the payment of all debts contracted for work done on the same, or material furnished. (Rev., 2016; Code, s. 1781; 1901, c. 617; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 1; C. S. 2433.)

§ 44-2. On personal property repaired. — Any mechanic or artisan who makes, alters or repairs any article of personal property at the request of the owner or legal possessor of such property has a lien on such property so made, altered or repaired for his just and reasonable charge for his work done and material furnished, and may hold and retain possession of the same until such just and reasonable charges are paid; and if not paid for within thirty days, if it does not exceed fifty dollars, or within ninety days if over fifty dollars, after the work was done, such mechanic or artisan may proceed to sell the property so made, altered or repaired at public auction, by giving two weeks public notice of such sale by advertising in some newspaper in the county in which the work may have been done, or if there is no such newspaper, then by posting up notice of such sale in three of the most public places in the county, town or city in which the work was done, and the proceeds of the said sale shall be applied first to the discharge of the said lien and the expenses and costs of keeping and selling such property, and the remainder, if any, shall be paid over to the owner thereof. (Rev., s. 2017; Code, s. 1783; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 3; C. S. 2435.)

§ 44-3. Laborer's lien on lumber and its products.—Every person doing the work of logging or of cutting or sawing logs into lumber, or of getting out wood pulp, acid wood or tan bark, has a lien upon the said logs or lumber for the amount of wages due him, and the said lien shall have priority over all other claims or liens upon said lumber, except as against a purchaser for full value and without notice thereof: Provided, any such laborer whose wages for thirty or less number of days performed are due and unpaid shall file notice of such claim before the nearest justice of the peace in the county in which said work has been done, stating the number of days of labor performed, the price per day, and the place where the lumber is situate, and the person for whom said labor was performed, which said statement shall be signed by the said laborer or his attorney, and the said laborer shall also give to the owner thereof, within five days after the lien has been filed with the justice of the peace, as aforesaid, a copy of said notice as filed with the said justice of the peace. If the owner cannot be located, then notice shall be given by attaching said notice on the logs or lumber, wood pulp, acid wood or tan bark upon which the labor sued for was performed, and any person buying said lumber or logs, wood pulp, acid wood or tan bark after such notice has been filed with the nearest justice of the peace, shall be deemed to have bought the same with notice thereof, but no action shall be maintained against the owner of said logs or lumber, wood pulp, acid wood or tan bark or the purchaser thereof under the provisions of this section unless same is commenced within thirty days after notice is filed with the justice of the peace by such laborer, as above provided. (1913, c. 150, s. 6; 1929, c. 69; C. S. 2436.)

Local Modification.—Avery, Mitchell, Yancey: 1941, c. 129.

§ 44-4. Lien for processing certain goods. — All persons, firms, partnerships and corporations engaged in the business of finishing, bleaching, mercerizing, manufacturing, dyeing, weighing and printing or otherwise processing cotton, wool, silk, artificial silk or goods of which cotton, wool, silk, or artificial silk forms a component part, shall be entitled to a lien upon the property and goods of others, which may come into their possession for work, labor, and materials furnished in any of said processing and said lien shall extend to any unpaid balance on account for work, labor and materials furnished in the course of any of said processing in respect to any of said goods of the same owner whereof the lienor's possession is terminated. The word "owner", as used in this and the following sections shall include a factor, consignee, or other agent entrusted with the possession of the goods held under said lien or with the bill of lading consigning the same to him with authority to sell the same or to deliver them to the lienor for the purpose of being processed. (1931, c. 48, s. 1.)

§ 44-5. Sale of goods at public auction. — If any part of the amount for which goods are held under said lien remains unpaid for a period of sixty days after the earliest item of said amount became due and payable the lienor may sell such goods at public auction first publishing a notice of the time and place of said sale once in each of two successive weeks in a newspaper published in the town, if any, otherwise in the county, in which the said goods are situated and at the court house door, the last publication not to be less than five days prior to the sale, and also giving five days' notice of said sale by posting in five or more public places in said county, one whereof shall be in the town or city ward in which said goods are situated, and, if the residence or past address of owner of said goods is known or can be established, sending by registered mail a copy of said notice to said owner at said address at least five days before the date of sale: Provided, that if said goods are readily divisible no more thereof shall be so sold than is necessary to discharge the underlying indebtedness and to cover the expenses of the sale. The proceeds of sale shall be applied to payment of said indebtedness and said expenses, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the owner or person entitled thereto. The remedy herein provided to enforce said lien shall be in addition to any other provided by law. (1931, c. 48, s. 2.)

Art. 2. Subcontractors', etc., Liens and Rights against Owners.

§ 44-6. Lien given subcontractors, etc., on real estate.—All subcontractors and laborers who are employed to furnish or who do furnish labor or material for the building, repairing or altering any house or other improvement on real estate, have a lien on said house and real estate for the amount of such labor done or material furnished, which lien shall be preferred to the mechanics' lien now provided by law, when notice thereof shall be given as hereinafter provided, which may be enforced as other liens in this chapter, except where it is otherwise provided; but the sum total of all the liens due subcontractors and material men shall not exceed the amount due the original contractor at the time of notice given. (Rev., s. 2019; Code, ss. 1801, 1803; 1880, c. 44, ss. 1, 3; C. S. 2437.)

§ 44-7. Notice to owner; liability. — Any subcontractor, laborer or material man, who claims a lien as provided in § 44-6, may give notice to the owner or lessee of the real estate who makes the contract for such building or improvement at any time before the settlement with the contractor, and if the said owner or lessee refuses or neglects to retain out of the amount due the said contractor under the contract as much as is due or claimed by the subcontractor, laborer or material man, the subcontractor, laborer, or material man may proceed to enforce his lien, and after such notice is given, no payment to the contractor shall be a credit on or discharge of the lien herein provided. (Rev., s. 2020; Code, s. 1802; 1880, c. 44, s. 2; C. S. 2438.)

§ 44-8. Statement of contractor's indebtedness to be furnished to owner; effect. — When any contractor, architect or other person makes a contract for building, altering or repairing any building or vessel, or for the construction or repair of a railroad, with the owner thereof, it is his duty to furnish to the owner or his agent, before receiving any part of the contract price, as it may become due, an itemized statement of the amount owing to any laborer, mechanic or artisan employed by such contractor, architect or other person, or to any person for materials furnished, and upon delivery to the owner or his agent of the itemized statement aforesaid, it is the duty of the owner to retain from the money then due the contractor a sum not exceeding the price contracted for, which will be sufficient to pay such laborer, artisan or mechanic for labor done, or such person for material furnished, which said amount the owner shall pay directly to the laborer, mechanic, artisan or person furnishing materials. The owner may retain in his hands until the contract is completed such sum as may have been agreed on between him and the contractor, architect or other person employing laborers, as a guaranty for the faithful performance of the contract by such contractor. When such contract has been performed by the contractor such fund reserved as a guaranty shall be liable to the payment of the sum due the laborer, mechanic or artisan for labor done, or the person furnishing the materials as hereinbefore provided. (Rev., s. 2021; 1887, c. 67; 1891, c. 203; 1899, c. 335; 1903, c. 478; C. S. 2439.)

§ 44-9. Laborer, etc., may furnish statement of claim to owner; effect. — Any laborer, mechanic, artisan or person furnishing materials may furnish to such owner or his agents before he shall have paid the contractor an itemized statement of the amount owing to such laborer, mechanic or artisan employed by said contractor, architect or other person for work or labor on such building, vessel or railroad, and any person may furnish to such owner or his agents an itemized statement of the amount due him for materials furnished for such purposes. Upon the delivery of such notice to such owner or his agent the person giving such notice is entitled to all the liens and benefits conferred by law in as full and ample a manner as though the statement was furnished by the contractor, architect or such other person. And after the notice herein provided is given, no payment to the contractor shall be a credit or a discharge of the lien herein provided. (Rev., s. 2021; 1891, c. 203; 1899, c. 335; 1903, c. 478; 1913, c. 150, s. 4; C. S. 2440.)

§ 44-10. Sums due by statement to constitute lien. — The sums due to the laborer, mechanic or artisan for labor done, or due the person furnishing materials, as shown in the itemized statement rendered to the owner, shall be a lien on the building, vessel or railroad built, altered or repaired, without any lien being filed before a justice of the peace or the superior court. (Rev., s. 2022; 1887, c. 67, s. 2; C. S. 2441.)

§ 44-11. Where sums due contractor from owner insufficient; payment pro rata. — If the amount due the contractor by the owner is insufficient to pay in full the laborer, mechanic or artisan, for his labor, and the person furnishing materials, for materials furnished, it is the duty of the owner to distribute the amount pro rata among the several claimants, as shown by the itemized statement furnished the owner, or of which notice has been given the owner by the claimant. (Rev., s. 2023; 1887, c. 67, s. 3; 1913, c. 150, s. 5; C. S. 2442.)

§ 44-12. Contractor failing to furnish statement, or not applying owner's payments to laborer's claims, misdemeanor. — If any contractor or architect shall fail to furnish to the owner an itemized statement of the sums due to every one of the laborers, mechanics or artisans employed by him, or the amount due for materials, before receiving any part of the contract price, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. If any contractor shall fail to apply the contract price paid him by the owner or his agent to the payment of bills for labor and material, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3663; 1887, c. 67, s. 4; 1913, c. 150, s. 8; C. S. 2443.)

§ 44-13. Laborer for railroad contractor may sue company; conditions of action. — As often as any contractor for the construction of any part of a railroad which is in progress of construction is indebted to any laborer for thirty or less number of days labor performed in constructing said road, or is indebted for more than thirty days to any person furnishing material for the construction of said road, such laborer or material man may give notice of such indebtedness to said company in a manner herein provided, and said company shall thereupon become liable to pay such laborer or material man the amount so due for labor or material, and action may be maintained against said company therefor. Such notice shall be given by said laborer to said company within twenty days after the performance of the number of days labor for which the claim is made, and such notice shall be given by the material man to said company within thirty days after the materials have been furnished. Such notice to be given by the laborer shall be in writing and shall state the amount and the number of days labor and the time when the labor was performed for which the claim is made, and the name of the contractor from whom due, and shall be signed by such laborer or his attorney; and such notice of the material man shall be in writing and shall state the amount of material furnished and when furnished, and the name of the contractor to whom furnished and by whom due, and shall be signed by such material man or his attorney. The notice shall be served on an engineer, agent or superintendent employed by said company having charge of the section of road on which such labor was performed or material furnished, personally or by leaving the same at the office or usual place of business of said engineer, agent, or superintendent, with some person of suitable age. But no action shall be maintained against any company under the provisions of this section unless the same is commenced within ninety days after notice is given to the company by such laborer or material man as above provided. (Rev., s. 2018; Code, s. 1942; 1871-2, c. 138, s. 12; 1913, c. 150, s. 1; C. S. 2444.)

§ 44-14. Contractor on municipal building to give bond; action on bond. — Every county, city, town or other municipal corporation which lets a contract for the building, repairing or altering any building, public road, or street, shall require the contractor for such work (when the contract price exceeds five hundred dollars) to execute bond with one or more solvent sureties before beginning any work under said contract, payable to said county, city, town or other municipal corporation, and conditioned for the payment of all labor done on and material and supplies furnished for the said work under a contract or agreement made directly with the principal contractor or subcontractor. The amount of the said bond to be given by said contractor shall be equal to the contract price up to two thousand dollars, and when the contract price is between two and ten thousand dollars the amount of said bond shall be two thousand dollars plus thirty-five per cent of the excess of the contract price over two thousand dollars and under ten thousand; when the contract is over ten thousand dollars, the amount of the said bond shall be two thousand dollars plus twenty-five per cent of the excess of the contract price over the sum of two thousand dollars. If the official of the said county, city, town or other municipal corporation, whose duty it is to take said bond, fails to require the said bond herein provided to be given, he is guilty of a misdemeanor. Any laborer doing work on said building and material man furnishing material therefor and used therein, under a contract or agreement between said laborer or material man and the principal contractor or subcontractor has the right to sue on said bond, the principal and sureties thereof, in the courts of this state having jurisdiction of the amount of said bond, and any number of laborers or material men whose claims are unpaid for work done and material furnished in said building have the right to join in one suit upon said bond for the recovery of the amounts due them respectively. Every bond given by any contractor to any county, city, town or other municipal corporation for the building, repairing or altering of any building, public road or street, as required by this section, shall be conclusively presumed to have been given in accordance therewith, whether such bond be so drawn as to conform to the statute or not, and this statute shall be conclusively presumed to have been written into every such bond so given. Only one action or suit may be brought upon such bond, which said suit or action shall be brought in the county in which the building, road, or street is located, and not elsewhere. In all suits instituted under the provisions of this statute, the plaintiff or plaintiffs shall give notice to all persons, informing them of the pendency of the suit, the name of the parties, with a brief recital of the purposes of the action, which said notice shall be published at least once a week for four successive weeks in some newspaper published and circulating in the county in which the action is brought, and if there be no newspaper, then by posting at the courthouse door and three other public places in such county for thirty days. Proof of such service shall be made by affidavit as provided in case of the service of summons by publication. All persons entitled to bring and prosecute an action on the bond shall have the right to intervene in said action, set up their respective claims, provided that such intervention shall be made within six months from the bringing of the action, and not later. If the recovery on the bond shall be inadequate to pay the amounts found due to all of the claimants, judgment shall be given to each claimant pro rata of the amount of the recovery.

The surety on such bond may pay into court for distribution among the claimants the full amount of his liability, to wit, the penalty named in the bond, and upon so doing, such surety shall be relieved from further liability. (1913, c. 150, s 2; 1915, c. 191, s. 1; 1923, c. 100; 1927, c. 151; 1935, c. 55; C. S. 2445.)

Art. 3. Liens on Vessels.

§ 44-15. For towage and for supplies at home port. — Every vessel, boat, scow, lighter, flat, raft or other water craft is subject to a lien for the payment of towage done by any steamboat or tugboat; and every vessel and boat is subject to a lien for debts due for materials and supplies furnished to such vessel or boat in her home port. These liens shall be filed and enforced as is provided for other liens. (Rev., s. 2040; 1893, c. 357; 1909, c. 147; C. S. 2446.)

§ 44-16. For labor in loading and unloading.— Every vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture, is subject to a lien for all labor done by contractors or others in loading or discharging the cargo of such vessel, and also for all labor done by any subcontractor or laborer employed in discharging or loading any such vessel, when such labor is done under contract with a contractor or stevedore who may be employed by the master, agent or owner of such vessel. (Rev., s. 2041; Code, s. 1804; 1881, c. 356, s. 1; C. S. 2447.)

§ 44-17. Filing lien; laborer's notice to master. —The liens provided for in the preceding sections shall be filed as is provided for other liens. The subcontractor or laborer may give notice to the master, agent or owner of such vessel, that the contractor or stevedore is or will become indebted to him. It shall then be the duty of such master, agent or owner of such vessel to retain out of the amount due to such contractor or stevedore under his contract as much as is due or claimed by the person giving the notice, and after such notice is given no payment to the contractor or stevedore shall be a credit on or a discharge of the lien herein provided. (Rev., s. 2042; Code, s. 1805; 1881, c. 356, s. 2; C. S. 2448.)

§ 44-18. Enforcement of lien. — The enforcement of such lien shall be by summons against the contractor or stevedore, and also against the master, agent or owner of such vessel, who made the contract with such contractor or stevedore, if over two hundred dollars, to be issued by the clerk of the superior court, and if under two hundred dollars, by a justice of the peace. (Rev., s. 2043; Code, s. 1806; 1881, c. 356, s. 3; C. S. 2449.)

§ 44-19. Judgment against contractor binds master and vessel. — The judgment against the contractor or stevedore shall also be a judgment against the master, agent or owner of such vessel, and also against such vessel itself, her tackle, apparel and furniture, which shall be seized, held and sold under execution for the satisfaction of such judgment. (Rev., s. 2044; Code, s. 1807; 1881, c. 356, s. 4; C. S. 2450.)

§ 44-20. Liens not to exceed amount due contractor. — The sum total of all the liens due to different subcontractors and laborers, performed for any contractor or stevedore under any contract with any master, agent or owner of any vessel, shall not exceed the amount due to the contractor or stevedore at the time of notice given to the owner, agent or master, or the amount due to the contractor or stevedore at the time of the service of summons upon the master, agent or owner, when no notice has been given. (Rev., s. 2045; Code, s. 1808; 1881, c. 356, s. 5; C. S. 2451.)

§ 44-21. Owner to see laborers paid. — In all cases where steamships or vessels of any kind are loaded or unloaded or where any work is done in or about the same by the contractors to do the same known as stevedores or "boss stevedores," who in doing the same employ laborers to assist or do the work by the hour, day, week or month, it is the duty of the owner or agent of the vessel to see that the laborers employed in or about the same by the stevedore, contractor or "boss stevedore" are fully paid the wages that may be due such laborer before he makes final settlement with the contractor, stevedore or "boss stevedore." (Rev., s. 2046; 1887, c. 145, s. 1; C. S. 2452.)

§ 44-22. Owner may refuse to settle with contractor till laborers paid.—Any owner or agent referred to in the preceding section may refuse final settlement with the "boss stevedore" or contractor until he or they satisfy the said owner or agent, by written oath if necessary, that the same has been done. (Rev., s. 2047; 1887, c. 145, s. 2; C. S. 2453.)

§ 44-23. Owner may pay orders for wages.—It is lawful for the owner or agent of such vessel to pay off from time to time such orders for wages as may be due and given therefor in favor of the laborers by the contractor or stevedore, which on final settlement may be deducted from the contract price. (Rev., s. 2048; 1887, c. 145, s. 3; C. S. 2454.)

§ 44-24. Laborer's right of action against owner. —Any owner or agent of such vessel who neglects or refuses to comply with the preceding provisions is liable to such laborer in a civil action for the amount of the wages so due him by the contractor, stevedore or "boss stevedore." (Rev., s. 2049; 1887, c. 145, s. 4; C. S. 2455.)

§ 44-25. Stevedore's false oath punishable as perjury.—If any contractor, stevedore or boss stevedore shall make any false oath or false representation with intent to wrong, cheat or defraud any laborer in violation of the four preceding sections, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished as is now prescribed by law for perjury. (Rev., s. 3613; 1887, c. 145, s. 5; C. S. 2456.)

§ 44-26. Stevedores to be licensed; omission misdemeanor.—No person shall engage in the business of loading or unloading vessels upon contract, nor shall any person solicit or make any contract for himself or for any other person to load or unload any vessel either by day's work or by the job, without having previously obtained a license therefor, in the manner provided by law for other licenses for trades and occupations. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., ss. 2050, 3791; 1891, c. 450; 1899, c. 595; C. S. 2457.)

§ 44-27. Tax and bond on procuring license.—Before the sheriff shall issue the said license the applicant shall pay to the sheriff an annual tax of fifty dollars, and shall execute a bond with two or more approved sureties in the sum of two thousand dollars, payable to the state of North Carolina, and conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and the due and lawful payment of all sums due to laborers assisting in the work of loading or unloading any vessels upon which the applicant may be engaged. And every bond so taken shall be renewed annually, and shall be filed with and preserved by the register of deeds in trust for every person that shall be injured by the breach of his contracts, who may severally bring suit thereon for the damages by each one sustained. (Rev., s. 2051; 1891, c. 450; C. S. 2458.)

Art. 4. Warehouse Storage Liens.

§ 44-28. Liens on goods stored for charges.—Every person, firm or corporation who furnishes storage room for furniture, tobacco, goods, wares or merchandise and makes a charge for storing the same, has the right to retain possession of and a lien upon all furniture, tobacco, goods, wares or merchandise until such storage charges are paid. (1913, c. 192, s. 1; 1915, c. 190, s. 1; C. S. 2459.)

§ 44-29. Enforcement by public sale.—If such charges are not paid within ten days after they become due, then such person, firm or corporation is authorized to sell said furniture, tobacco, goods, wares or merchandise at the county courthouse door, after first advertising such sale for ten days at said courthouse door and three other public places in said county, or in some newspaper published in said county where the goods or tobacco are stored, and out of the proceeds of such sale to pay the costs and expenses of sale and all costs and charges due for storage, and the surplus, if any, pay to the owner of such furniture, tobacco, goods, wares or merchandise. (1913, c. 192, s. 2; 1915, c. 190, s. 2; C. S. 2460.)

Art. 5. Liens of Hotel, Boarding and Lodging-House Keeper.

§ 44-30. Lien on baggage.—Every hotel, boarding-house keeper and lodging-house keeper who furnishes board, bed or room to any person has the right to retain possession of and a lien upon all baggage or other property of such person that may have been brought to such hotel, boarding-house or lodging-house, until all reasonable charges for such room, bed and board are paid. (Rev., s. 2037; 1899, c. 645, s. 1; 1917, c. 26, s. 1; C. S. 2461.)

§ 44-31. Baggage may be sold.—If such charges are not paid within ten days after they become due, then the hotel, boarding-house or lodging-house keeper is authorized to sell said baggage or other property at the courthouse door, or in front of any public building in the town in which the lien attaches, after first advertising such sale for ten days at said courthouse door and three other public places in the county, and out of the proceeds of sale to pay the costs and expenses of sale and all costs and charges due for said board, bed or room, and the surplus, if any, pay to the owner of said baggage or other property. (Rev., s. 2038; 1899, c. 645, s. 2; 1917, c. 26, s. 2; 1935, c. 364; C. S. 2462.)

§ 44-32. Notice of sale.—Written notice of such sale shall be served on the owner of such baggage or other property ten days before such sale, if he is a resident of the state; but if he is a nonresident of the state, or if his residence is unknown, the publication of such notice for ten days at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county shall be sufficient service of the same. (Rev., s. 2039; 1887, c. 645, s. 3; C. S. 2463.)

Art. 6. Liens of Livery-Stable Keepers.

§ 44-33. Lien for ninety days keep on animals in possession. — Every keeper of livery, sale, or boarding stables has a lien upon and the right to retain the possession of every horse, mule, or other animal belonging to the owner or person contracting for the board and keep of any horse, mule, or other animal, for any and all unpaid amounts due for board of any horse, mule, or other animal. This lien shall not attach for amounts accruing for a longer period than ninety days from the reception of such property or from the last full settlement; nor does this lien apply if the property is removed from the possession of said keeper of said livery, sale, or boarding stable (1911, c. 141, s. 1; C. S. 2464.)

§ 44-34. Enforcement by public sale.—If such charges are not paid within fifteen days after they become due and demand is made for the same, then the keeper of such livery, sale or boarding stable is authorized to sell the property at the county courthouse door, after first advertising said sale for ten days at the county courthouse door and three other public places in said county, and out of the proceeds of such sale to pay the costs and charges due for the board and keep of said horse, mule, or other animal, including the charges for keeping said animal until said sale, and the surplus, if any, pay to the owner of said animal. (1911, c. 141, s. 2; C. S. 2465.)

§ 44-35. Notice of sale to owner.—Written notice of such sale shall be served on the owner of such horse, mule, or other animal ten days before such sale, if he is a resident of the state; but if he be a nonresident of the state, or if his residence is unknown, the publication of such notice for ten days at the county courthouse door and three other public places in the county shall be sufficient service of the same. (1911, c. 141, s. 3; C. S. 2466.)

Art. 7. Liens on Colts, Calves and Pigs.

§ 44-36. Season of sire a lien.—In all cases where the owner, or any agent for or employee of the owner, of any mare, jennet, cow or sow, turns the same to a studhorse, jack, bull, or boar, for the purpose of raising colts, calves, or pigs, the price charged for the season of the studhorse, jack, bull, or boar constitutes a lien on the colt, calf, or pigs until the price so charged for the season is paid. (Rev., s. 2024; Code, s. 1797; 1885, c. 72; 1887, c. 14; 1872-3, c. 94, s. 1; 1915, c. 18, s. 1; C. S. 2467.)

§ 44-37. Colts, etc., not exempt from execution for season price.—The colt, calf, or pigs shall not be exempt from execution for the payment of said season price by reason of the operation of the personal property exemption: Provided, the person claiming such lien institutes action to enforce the same within twelve months from the foaling of the colt, dropping the calf, or farrowing of the pigs. (Rev., s. 2025; Code, s. 1798; 1885, c. 72; 1872-3, c. 94, s. 2; 1879, c. 47; 1915, c. 18; 1917, c. 229; C. S. 2468.)

Art. 8. Perfecting, Enforcing and Discharging Liens.

§ 44-38. Claim of lien to be filed; place of filing.—All claims against personal property, of two hundred dollars and under, may be filed in the office of the nearest justice of the peace; if over two hundred dollars or against any real estate or interest therein, in the office of the superior court clerk in any county where the labor has been performed or the materials furnished; but all claims shall be filed in detail, specifying the materials furnished or labor performed, and the time thereof. If the parties interested make a special contract for such labor performed, or if such material and labor are specified in writing, in such cases it shall be decided agreeably to the terms of the contract, provided the terms of such contract do not affect the lien for such labor performed or materials furnished. (Rev., s. 2026; Code, s. 1784; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 4; 1876-7, c. 53, s. 1; C. S. 2469.)

§ 44-39. Time of filing notice.—Notice of lien shall be filed as hereinbefore provided, except in those cases where a shorter time is prescribed, at any time within six months after the completion of the labor or the final furnishing of the materials, or the gathering of the crops. (Rev., s. 2028; Code, s. 1789; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 4; 1876-7, c. 53, s. 2; 1881, c. 65; 1883, c. 101; 1909, c. 32; 1913, c. 150, s. 7; C. S. 2470.)

§ 44-40. Date of filing fixes priority.—The liens created and established by this chapter shall be paid and settled according to the priority of the notice of the lien filed with the justice or the clerk. (Rev., s. 2035; Code, s. 1792; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 11; C. S. 2471.)

§ 44-41. Laborer's crop lien dates from work begun.—The lien for work on crops given by this chapter shall be preferred to every other lien or encumbrance which attached to the crops subsequent to the time at which the work was commenced. (Rev., s. 2034; Code, s. 1782; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 2; C. S. 2472.)

§ 44-42. Duly filed claims of prior creditors not affected.—Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to affect the rights of any person to whom any debt may be due for any work done for which priority of claim is filed with the proper officer. (Rev., s. 2036; Code, s. 1786; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 6; C. S. 2473.)

§ 44-43. Action to enforce lien.—Action to enforce the lien created must be commenced in the court of a justice of the peace, and in the superior court, according to the jurisdiction thereof, within six months from the date of filing the notice of the lien. But if the debt is not due within six months, but becomes due within twelve months, suit may be brought or other proceedings instituted to enforce the lien in thirty days after it is due. (Rev., s. 2027; Code, ss. 1785, 1790; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 7; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 5; 1876-7, c. 250; 1876-7, c. 251; C. S. 2474.)

§ 44-44. When attachment available to plaintiff.—In all cases where the owner or employer attempts to remove the crop, houses or appurtenances from the premises, without the permission, or with the intent to defraud the lienor of his lien, the claimant may have a remedy by attachment. (Rev., s. 2031; Code, s. 1795; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 14; C. S. 2475.)

§ 44-45. Defendant entitled to counterclaim.—The defendant in any suit to enforce the lien is entitled to any set off arising between the contractors during the performance of the contract, or counterclaim allowed by law. (Rev., s. 2032; Code, s. 1788; 1869-70, c. 206, s. 8; C. S. 2476.)

§ 44-46. Execution.—Upon judgment rendered in favor of the claimant, an execution for the collection and enforcement thereof shall issue in the same manner as upon other judgments in actions arising on contract for the recovery of money only, except that the execution shall direct the officer to sell the right, title and interest which the owner had in the premises or the crops thereon, at the time of filing notice of the lien, before such execution shall extend to the general property of the defendant. (Rev., s. 2029; Code, s. 1791; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 9; C. S. 2477.)

§ 44-47. No justice's execution against land.—No execution issued by a justice of the peace, under this chapter, shall be enforced against real estate or any interest therein, but justices' judgments may be docketed on the judgment docket of superior court for the purpose of selling such estate or any interest therein. (Rev., s. 2030; Code, s. 1794; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 13; C. S. 2478.)

§ 44-48. Discharge of liens.—All liens created by this chapter may be discharged as follows:

1. By filing with the justice or clerk a receipt or acknowledgment, signed by the claimant, that the lien has been paid or discharged.

2. By depositing with the justice or clerk money equal to the amount of the claim, which money shall be held by said officer for the benefit of the claimant.

3. By an entry in the lien docket that the action on the part of the claimant to enforce the lien has been dismissed, or a judgment rendered against the claimant in such action.

4. By a failure of the claimant to commence an action for the enforcement of the lien within six months from the notice of lien filed. (Rev., s. 2033; Code, s. 1793; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 12; C. S. 2479.)

Art. 9. Liens upon Recoveries for Personal Injuries to Secure Sums Due for Medical Attention, etc.

§ 44-49. Lien created; applicable to persons non sui juris.—From and after March 26, 1935, there is hereby created a lien upon any sums recovered as damages for personal injury in any civil action in this State, the said lien in favor of any person or corporation to whom the person so recovering, or the person in whose behalf the recovery has been made, may be indebted for drugs, medical supplies, and medical services rendered by any physician, dentist, trained nurse, or hospitalization, or hospital attention and/or services rendered in connection with the injury in compensation for which the said damages have been recovered. Where damages are recovered for and in behalf of minors or persons non compos mentis, such liens shall attach to the sum recovered as fully and effectively as if the said person were sui juris. (1935, c. 121, s. 1.)

§ 44-50. Receiving person charged with duty of retaining funds for purpose stated; evidence; attorney's fees; charges.—A like lien shall attach to all funds paid to any person in compensation for or settlement of the said injuries, whether in litigation or otherwise; and it shall be the duty of any person receiving the same before disbursement thereof to retain out of any recovery or any compensation so received a sufficient amount to pay the just and bona fide claims for such drugs, medical supplies, and medical attention and/or hospital service, after having received and accepted notice thereof: Provided, that evidence as to the amount of such charges shall be competent in the trial of any such action: Provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to interfere with any amount due for attorney's services: Provided, further, that the lien hereinbefore provided for shall in no case, exclusive of attorneys' fees, exceed fifty per cent of the amount of damages recovered. (1935, c. 121, s. 2.)

§ 44-51. Disputed claims to be settled before payments.—Whenever the sum or amount or amounts demanded for medical services or hospital fees shall be in dispute, nothing in this article shall have any effect of compelling payment thereof until the claim is fully established and determined, in the manner provided by law: Provided, however, that when such sums are in dispute the amount of the judgment against which the lien shall lie shall in no case exceed the amount of the bills in dispute. (1935, c. 121, s. 3.)

Art. 10. Agricultural Liens for Advances.

§ 44-52. Lien on crops for advances.—If any person makes any advance either in money or supplies to any person who is engaged in or about to engage in the cultivation of the soil, the person making the advances is entitled to a lien on the crops made within one year from the date of the agreement in writing herein required upon the land in the cultivation of which the advance has been expended, in preference to all other liens, except laborer's and landlord's liens, to the extent of such advances. Before any advance is made an agreement in writing for the advance shall be entered into, specifying the amount to be advanced, or fixing a limit beyond which the advance, if made from time to time during the year, shall not go; and this agreement shall be registered in the office of the register of the county or counties where the land is situated on which the crops of the person advanced are to be grown. Provided, that where a county line divides a farm the crop lien may be recorded in the county where the owner of said farm resides; Provided, he resides on said farm; Provided, that the lien shall continue to be good and effective as to any crop or crops which may be harvested after the end of the said year, and referred to in the said lien. (Rev., s. 2052; Code, s. 1799; 1893, c. 9; 1866-7, c. 1, s. 1; 1872-3, c. 133, s. 1; 1925, c. 302, s. 1; 1927, c. 22; 1935, c. 205; C. S. 2480.)

Local Modification.—Bertie: Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 173.

§ 44-53. Contract for advances to mortgagor in possession. — The preceding section shall apply to all contracts made for the advancement of money and supplies, or either, for the purposes herein specified by mortgagors or trustors, their tenants, lessees or croppers, who may be in possession of the lands mortgaged or conveyed in trust at the time of the making of the contract for such advancement of money or supplies, either in case the debts secured in said mortgage or deed of trust be due or not. (Rev., s. 2053; 1889, c. 476; 1931, c. 173, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 2481.)

§ 44-54. Price to be charged for articles advanced limited. — In order to be entitled to the benefits of the lien on crops in favor of landlords and other persons advancing supplies under the article, Agricultural Tenancies, of the chapter, Landlord and Tenant, and under the present article, or on a chattel mortgage on crops, such landlord or person shall charge for such supplies a price or prices of not more than ten per cent over the retail cash price or prices of the article or articles advanced, and the said ten per cent shall be in lieu of interest on the debt for such advances: Provided, however, that coupon books and trade checks commonly used by time merchants shall be considered as supplies advanced, when sold by merchants to customers, and charged for in the same manner. If more than ten per cent over the retail cash price is charged on any advances made under the lien or mortgage given on the crop, then the lien or mortgage shall be null and void as to the article or articles upon which such overcharge is made. At the time of each sale there shall be delivered to the purchaser a memorandum showing the cash prices of the articles advanced. (1917, c. 134, s. 1; 1921, c. 89; C. S. 2482.)

Local Modification.—Columbus and Scotland: 1931, c. 95; Greene: 1941, c. 210; Lenoir: 1929, c. 262; Robeson: 1929, c. 20.

§ 44-55. "Cash prices" defined and determined. —In the case of retail merchants, the retail cash price or prices shall be the regular cash price or prices charged by the same merchant to cash customers for the same article or articles in like quantities at the same time. In the case of advances of supplies by landlords or other persons not engaged in business as retail merchants, or by retail merchants who have no regular cash prices, if the prices charged are called into question by the purchaser the retail cash price or prices of the supplies advanced may be determined by taking the average between the cash price or prices for the same class or classes of goods of two neighboring merchants, one selected by the landlord or other person making the advance and the other by the one to whom the advance is made. (1917, c. 134, s. 2; C. S. 2483.)

Local Modification.—Columbus and Scotland: 1931, c. 95; Greene: 1941, c. 210; Lenoir: 1929, c. 262; Robeson: 1929, c. 20.

§ 44-56. Person advanced not estopped by agreement. — No agreement or understanding between the parties as to the price or prices to be charged shall work an estoppel against the person to whom supplies have been advanced from showing that the price or prices charged were in fact more than ten per cent over the average retail cash price or prices in that locality at the time the advance or advances were made. If the price or prices charged by the merchants or landlord were in fact more than ten per cent, then the lien shall be null and void as to the article or articles upon which such overcharge is made. (1917, c. 134, s. 2; C. S. 2484.)

Local Modification.—Columbus and Scotland: 1931, c. 95; Greene: 1941, c. 210; Lenoir: 1929, c. 262; Robeson: 1929, c. 20.

§ 44-57. Commission in lieu of interest, where advance in money. — Any person, firm, or corporation, including any bank or credit union, making any advancement in money to any person for the purpose of enabling such person to cultivate a crop, and taking as sole security for the advance so made a lien or mortgage on the crops to be cultivated and the personal property of the person to whom the advances are made, may charge, in lieu of interest, a commission of not more than ten per cent of the amount of money actually advanced: Provided, that money advanced under the provisions of this section shall be advanced in installments agreed upon at the time of the contract, and the ten per cent commission herein allowed shall not be deducted, but shall be added to the amount of money agreed to be advanced. (1917, c. 134, s. 3; C. S. 2485.)

Local Modification.—Lenoir: 1929, c. 262; Robeson: 1929, c. 20.

§ 44-58. Disposition of commission, where advanced by credit union. — In case the money is advanced by a credit union, the funds derived from the ten per cent commission allowed in the preceding section shall be used to pay such interest as the union may pay for the money borrowed by it for the benefit of its members, and to cover losses sustained by the union on account of loans made to members, and to further cover any reasonable expenses incurred by the union in connection with the loans made to members, and the balance of said fund shall be returned to the borrowers at the end of each year. (1917, c. 134, s. 4; C. S. 2486.)

Local Modification.—Lenoir: 1929, c. 262; Robeson: 1929, c. 20.

§ 44-59. Purchasers for value protected. — All liens or mortgages made under the provisions of this article shall be valid for their face value in the hands of purchasers for value and before maturity, even though the charges made are in excess of those allowed herein; but in such cases the party to whom the advances are made has the right to recover from the party making the advances any sum he may be compelled to pay a third party in excess of the charges allowed by this article. (1917, c. 134, ss. 5, 6; C. S. 2487.)

Local Modification.—Lenoir: 1929, c. 262; Robeson: 1929, c. 20.

§ 44-60. Crop seized and sold to preserve lien. —If the person making such advances makes an affidavit before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such crops are, that the amount secured by said lien for such advances, or any part thereof, is due and unpaid, that the person to whom such advances have been made, or any other person having the said crop in his possession, is about to sell or dispose of his crop, or in any other way is about to defeat the lien hereinbefore provided for, accompanied with a statement of the amount then due, it is lawful for him to issue his warrant, directed to any of the sheriffs of this state, requiring them to seize the said crop, and, after due notice, sell the same for cash and pay over the net proceeds thereof, or so much thereof as may be necessary in the extinguishment of the amount then due. This proceeding shall not affect the rights of landlords or laborers. (Rev., s. 2054; Code, s. 1800; 1893, c. 9; 1866-7, c. 1, s. 2; 1872-3, c. 133, s. 2; 1883, c. 88; C. S. 2488.)

§ 44-61. Lienor's claim disputed; proceeds of sale held; issue made for trial. — If the person to whom the advances have been made, or who claims an interest in the crops, within thirty days after such sale has been made, gives notice in writing to the sheriff, accompanied with an affidavit, to the effect that the amount claimed is not justly due, it is the duty of the sheriff to hold the proceeds of such sale subject to the decision of the court upon an issue which shall be made up and set for trial at the next succeeding term of the superior court for the county in which the person to whom such advances have been made resides. (Rev., s. 2054; Code, s. 1800; 1866-7, c. 1, s. 2; 1872-3, c. 133, s. 2; 1883, c. 88; 1893, c. 9; C. S. 2489.)

§ 44-62. Local: Short form of liens.—For the purpose of creating a valid agricultural lien under the preceding sections for supplies to be advanced, and also to constitute a valid chattel mortgage as additional security thereto, and to secure a pre-existing debt, the following or a substantially similar form shall be deemed sufficient, and for those purposes legally effective, in the counties of Alamance, Alleghany, Anson, Ashe, Bladen, Brunswick, Buncombe, Burke, Cabarrus, Carteret, Caswell, Catawba, Chowan, Columbus, Craven, Cumberland, Davie, Davidson, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Forsyth, Franklin, Gaston, Gates, Granville, Halifax, Harnett, Hertford, Hyde, Iredell, Johnston, Jones, Lenoir, Lincoln, Martin, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Moore, Nash, New Hanover, Northampton, Onslow, Pender, Pamlico, Person, Pitt, Polk, Randolph, Richmond, Robeson, Rockingham, Rowan, Rutherford, Sampson, Scotland, Transylvania, Tyrell, Union, Vance, Wake, Watauga, Washington, Wayne and Wilson: North Carolina, ... Local Modification.—Beaufort: 1933, c. 101.

§ 44-63. Local: Rights on lienee's failure to cultivate. — If any person in the counties mentioned in the preceding section, after executing a lien as aforesaid for advances, fails to cultivate the lands described therein, or does any other act calculated to impair the security therein given, then the person to whom the lien was executed is relieved from any further obligation to furnish supplies, and the debts and advances theretofore made become due and collectible at once, and the person to whom the instrument was executed may proceed to take possession of, cultivate and harvest said crops, and to sell the other property described therein. It is not necessary to incorporate such power in the instrument, but this section is sufficient authority for the same. The sale of any property described in any instrument executed under the provisions of this chapter may be made at any place in the county where such property is situated after ten days notice published at the courthouse door and three other public places in said county. (Rev., s. 2056; 1899, c. 17, s. 3; 1901, c. 329, s. 3; C. S. 2491.)

§ 44-64. Local: Commissioners to furnish blank records.—The board of commissioners of the said counties shall have record books made with the aforesaid forms printed therein, and the cost of said books and of the printing of said forms, and of such other said books as may be hereafter required, shall be paid by the respective counties, and furnished to the register of deeds. (Rev., s. 2057; 1899, c. 17, s. 4; 1901, c. 329, s. 4; C. S. 2492.)

Art. 11. Liens for Internal Revenue.

§ 44-65. Filing notice of lien.—Notices of liens for internal revenue taxes payable to the United States of America and certificates discharging such liens may be filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county or counties within which the property subject to such lien is situated. (1924, c. 44, s. 1.)

§ 44-66. Duty of register of deeds.—When a notice of such tax lien is filed, the register of deeds shall forthwith enter the same in alphabetical Federal lien tax index to be provided by the board of county commissioners, showing on one line the name and residence of the taxpayer named in such notice, the collector's serial number of such notice, the date and hour of filing, and the amount of tax and penalty assessed. He shall file and keep all original notices so filed in numerical order in a file or files to be provided by the board of county commissioners and designated Federal tax lien notices. This service shall be performed without fee. (1924, c. 44, s. 2.)

§ 44-67. Certificate of discharge.—When a certificate of discharge of any tax lien, issued by the collector of internal revenue or other proper officer, is filed in the office of the register of deeds where the original notice of lien is filed, said register of deeds shall enter the same with date of filing in said Federal tax lien index on the line where the notice of the lien so discharged is entered, and permanently attach the original certificate of discharge to the original notice of lien. This service shall be performed without fee. (1924, c. 44, s. 3.)

§ 44-68. Purpose of article. — This article is passed for the purpose of authorizing the filing of notices of liens in accordance with the provisions of section three thousand one hundred eighty-six of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended by the act of March fourth, one thousand nine hundred thirteen, thirty-seven Statutes at Large, page one thousand sixteen. (1924, c. 44, s. 4.)

Art. 1. Chattel Mortgages: Form and Sufficiency.

§ 45-1. Form of chattel mortgage.—Any person indebted to another in a sum to be secured may execute a chattel mortgage in form substantially as follows:

I, ..., of the county of ..... in the state of North Carolina, am indebted to ....., of ..... county, in said state, in the sum of ..... dollars, for which he holds my note to be due the .... of ....., A. D. 19...., and to secure the payment of the same, I do hereby convey to him these articles of personal property, to wit: ..... but on this special trust, that if I fail to pay said debt and interest on or before the .... day of ....., A. D. 19...., then he may sell said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, by public auction for cash, first giving twenty days notice at three public places, and apply the proceeds of such sale to the discharge of said debt and interest on the same, and pay any surplus to me.

Given under my hand and seal this .... day of ....., A. D. 19.....

..... (Seal).

(Rev., s. 1039; Code, s. 1273; 1870-1, c. 277; 1911, c. 69, s. 1; C. S. 2575.)

§ 45-2. Registration. — Chattel mortgages substantially in the form provided in § 45-1 are good to all intents and purposes when the same are duly registered according to law. (Rev., s. 1040; Code, ss. 1273, 1274; 1870-1, c. 277, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 2576.)

§ 45-3. Mortgage of household and kitchen furniture. — All conveyances of household and kitchen furniture by a married man, made to secure the payment of money or other things of value, are void, unless the wife joins therein and her privy examination is taken in the manner prescribed by law in conveyances of real estate, except when said mortgage or conveyance is executed for the purchase money thereof. (Rev., s. 1041; 1891, c. 91; 1931, c. 211; C. S. 2577.)

Art. 2. Right to Foreclose or Sell under Power.

§ 45-4. Representative succeeds on death of mortgagee or trustee in deeds of trust; parties to action.—When the mortgagee in a mortgage, or the trustee in a deed in trust, executed for the purpose of securing a debt, containing a power of sale, dies before the payment of the debt secured in such mortgage or deed in trust, all the title, rights, powers and duties of such mortgagee or trustee pass to and devolve upon the executor or administrator or collector of such mortgagee or trustee, including the right to bring an action of foreclosure in any of the courts of this state as prescribed for trustees or mortgagees, and in such action it is unnecessary to make the heirs at law of such deceased mortgagee or trustee parties thereto. (Rev., s. 1031; 1901, c. 186; 1887, c. 147; 1895, c. 431; 1905, c. 425; 1933, c. 199; C. S. 2578.)

§ 45-5. Foreclosures by representatives validated. — In all actions which were brought or prosecuted prior to the fourth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and five, for the foreclosure of any mortgage or deed in trust by any executor or administrator of any deceased mortgagee or trustee where the heirs of the mortgagee were duly made parties and regular and orderly decrees of foreclosure entered by the court and sale had by a commissioner appointed by the court for that purpose and deed made after confirmation, the title so conveyed to purchaser at such judicial sale shall be deemed and held to be vested in such purchaser, whether the heir of such deceased mortgagee or trustee was a party to such foreclosure proceeding or not, and such heir of any deceased mortgagee is estopped to bring or prosecute any further action against such purchaser for the recovery of such property or foreclosure of such mortgage or deed in trust. (Rev., s. 1032; 1905, c. 425, s. 2; C. S. 2579.)

§ 45-6. Renunciation by representative; clerk appoints trustee.—The executor or administrator of any deceased mortgagee or trustee in any mortgage or deed of trust heretofore or hereafter executed may renounce in writing, before the clerk of the superior court before whom he qualifies, the trust under the mortgage or deed of trust at the time he qualifies as executor or administrator, or at any time thereafter before he intermeddles with or exercises any of the duties under said mortgage or deed of trust, except to preserve the property until a trustee can be appointed. In every such case of renunciation the clerk of the superior court of any county wherein the said mortgage or deed of trust is registered has power and authority, upon proper proceedings instituted before him, as in other cases of special proceedings, to appoint some person to act as trustee and execute said mortgage or deed of trust. The clerk, in addition to recording his proceedings in his book of orders and decrees, shall enter the name of the substituted trustee or mortgagee on the margin of the deed in trust or the mortgage in the book of the office of the register of deeds of said county. (Rev., s. 1038; 1905, c. 128; C. S. 2580.)

§ 45-7. Agent to sell under power may be appointed by parol.—All sales of property, real or personal, under a power of sale contained in any mortgage or deed of trust to secure the payment of money, by any mortgagee or trustee, through an agent or attorney for that purpose, appointed orally or in writing by such mortgagee or trustee, whether such writing has been or shall be registered or not, shall be valid, whether or not such mortgagee or trustee was or shall be present at such sale. (Rev., s. 1035; 1895, c. 117; C. S. 2581.)

§ 45-8. Survivorship among donees of power of sale.—In all mortgages and deeds of trust wherein two or more persons, as trustees or other wise, are given power to sell the property therein conveyed or embraced, and one or more of such persons dies, any one of the persons surviving having such power may make sale of such property in the manner directed in such deed, and execute such assurances of title as are proper and lawful under the power so given; and the act of such person, in pursuance of said power, shall be as valid and binding as if the same had been done by all the persons on whom the power was conferred. (Rev., s. 1033; 1885, c. 327, s. 2; C. S. 2582.)

§ 45-9. Clerk appoints successor to incompetent trustee.—When the sole or last surviving trustee named in a will or deed of trust dies, removes from the county where the will was probated or deed executed and/or recorded and from the state, or in any way becomes incompetent to execute the said trust, or is a nonresident of this state, or has disappeared from the community of his residence and his whereabouts remains unknown in such community for a period of three months and cannot, after diligent inquiry be ascertained, the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the will was probated or deed of trust was executed and/or recorded is authorized and empowered, in proceedings to which all persons interested shall be made parties, to appoint some discreet and competent person to act as trustee and execute the trust according to its true intent and meaning, and as fully as if originally appointed: Provided, that in all actions or proceedings had under this section prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred, before the clerks of the superior court in which any trustee was appointed to execute a deed of trust where any trustee of a deed of trust has died, removed from the county where the deed was executed and from the state, or in any way become incompetent to execute the said trust, whether such appointment of such trustee by order or decree, or otherwise, was made upon the application or petition of any person or persons ex parte, or whether made in proceedings where all the proper parties were made, are in all things confirmed and made valid so far as regards the parties to said actions and proceedings to the same extent as if all proper parties had originally been made in such actions or proceedings (Rev., s. 1037; Code, s. 1276; 1869-70, c. 188; 1873-4, c. 126; 1901, c. 576; 1933, c. 493; C. S. 2583.)

§ 45-10. Substitution of trustees in mortgages and deeds of trust.—In addition to the rights and remedies now provided by law, the holder and/or owners of all or a majority, in amount, of the indebtedness, notes, bonds, or other instruments evidencing a promise or promises to pay money and secured by mortgages, deeds of trust, or other instruments conveying real or personal property, or creating a lien thereon, may exercise the following powers:

To substitute a trustee by the execution of a paper writing whenever it shall appear that the trustee then named in such mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument, securing the payment of money, whether such then named trustee shall be the original trustee named therein or a substituted trustee, has removed from the State, become incompetent to act mentally or physically, or has been committed to any institution, private or public, on account of inebriacy, or conviction of a criminal offense, or has refused to accept such appointment as trustee or refuses to act or has been declared a bankrupt, or against whom a petition in involuntary bankruptcy has been filed, or against whom a suit has been instituted in any court of this State in which relief is asked against him on account of insolvency, or a cause of action has been asserted against him on account of fraud against his creditors, or has died, and if such named trustee in such mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument as aforesaid, is a corporation and such corporation has ceased to do business, or has ceased to exercise trust powers, or has excluded from its regular business the performance of such trusts, or has been declared a bankrupt, or has been placed in the hands of a receiver, or insolvency proceedings have been instituted in any court of this State or in any court of the United States against it, or any action has been instituted in either of said courts against it in which relief is asked on the ground of insolvency or fraud against its creditors, or when any officer or commission of this State, or any employee of such commission or officer, has taken charge of its affairs for the purpose of liquidation pursuant to any statute, or when it is a foreign corporation, or the trustee is not a resident of this State or cannot be found in this State, or has disappeared from the community of his residence and his whereabouts remains unknown in such community for a period of three months or more. The powers recited in this section shall be construed and held to be cumulative and optional. (1931, c. 78, ss. 1, 2; 1935, c. 227.)

§ 45-11. Appointment of substitute trustee upon application of subsequent or prior lienholders; effect of substitution.—When any person, firm, corporation, county, city or town holding a lien on real or personal property upon which there is a subsequent or prior lien created by a mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument, the mortgagee or trustee therein named being dead or having otherwise become incompetent to act, files a written application with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said property is located, setting forth the facts showing that said mortgagee or trustee is then dead or has become incompetent to act, the said clerk of the superior court, upon a proper finding of fact that said mortgagee or trustee is dead or has become incompetent to act, shall enter an order appointing some suitable and competent person, firm or corporation as substitute trustee upon whom service of process may be made, and said substitute trustee shall thereupon be vested with full power and authority to defend any action instituted to foreclose said property as fully as if he had been the original mortgagee or trustee named; but the substitute trustee shall have no power to cancel said mortgage or deed of trust without the joinder of the holder of the notes secured thereby. Said application shall not be made prior to the expiration of thirty days from the date the original mortgagee or trustee becomes incompetent to act. (1941, c. 115, s. 1.)

§ 45-12. Certificate by clerk of superior court.—Whenever the powers set out in § 45-10 shall be exercised the clerk of the superior court shall certify that the instrument has been executed by the owner or owners of a majority in amount of the indebtedness, notes, bonds or other instruments secured therein, have executed the same, and that it has been made to appear to him that the cause of substitution as set forth therein is true and that the substituted trustee is a fit and proper person or corporation to perform the duties of said trust, and unless such certificate is attached to said instrument before registration and registered therewith the same shall be invalid and of no effect. (1931, c. 78, s. 3.)

§ 45-13. Right of appeal by any person interested; judge to review findings of clerk de novo.—Whenever the power contained in § 45-10 or in § 45-11 is exercised in respect to any deed of trust, mortgage or other instrument creating the lien which was executed prior to March 4, 1931, then, at any time within twelve months from the registration of the instrument designating the new trustee but within thirty days from actual knowledge of the same, any person interested therein may appeal from the findings of the clerk of the superior court pursuant to § 45-12, and such appeal shall be duly constituted when a written notice signed by, or on behalf of such person, shall have been served in any of the methods of service of summons provided by law on all other parties interested therein, including the said substituted trustee. The notice shall state that a motion will be made before the judge of the superior court of the county of the clerk who made such certificate at the next regular term of such superior court beginning more than ten days after the service of said notice on all interested parties, and the docketing of such notices on the civil issue docket of said county. On the hearing of said motion it shall be open to all parties to contest and defend the findings of said clerk, and the judge shall review said findings de novo and make such findings in respect thereof as shall appear to him from the evidence to be true, and if the said substituted trustee shall be removed at said hearing another trustee shall be substituted in his stead by the court upon a finding that he or it is a proper person or corporation to perform the functions of said trusteeship, but only one such appeal shall be allowed as to each appointment. (1931, c. 78, s. 4; 1941, c. 115, s. 2.)

§ 45-14. Acts of trustee prior to removal not invalidated. — If any such trustee who has been substituted as provided in § 45-10 or in § 45-11 shall have performed any functions as such trustee and shall thereafter be removed as provided in §§ 45-10 to 45-17, such removal shall not invalidate or affect the validity of such acts in so far as any purchaser or third person shall be affected or interested, and any conveyances made by such trustee before removal if otherwise valid, shall be and remain valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, but if any trustee upon such hearing is declared to have been wrongfully removed, he shall have his right of action against the substituted trustee for any compensation that he would have received in case he had not been wrongfully removed from such trust. (1931, c. 78, s. 5; 1941, c. 115, s. 3.)

§ 45-15. Registration of substitution constructive notice.—The registration of such paper writing designating a new trustee under § 45-10 or under § 45-11 shall be from and after registration, constructive notice to all persons, and no appeal or other proceedings shall be instituted to contest the same after one year from and after such registration. (1931, c. 78, s. 6; 1941, c. 115, s. 4.)

§ 45-16. Register of deeds to make marginal entry of substituted trustee.—Whenever any substituted trustee shall be appointed as provided in §§ 45-10 to 45-17 and such designation of such substituted trustee shall have been registered, together with the certificates required in §§ 45-10 to 45-17, then it shall be the duty of the register of deeds to make an appropriate notation on the margin of the registration of the said mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument securing the payment of money, indicating the place of registration of such appointment of a substituted trustee, and this shall be done as many times as a trustee may be substituted as provided for in §§ 45-10 to 45-17. It shall be competent for the holder of such deed of trust, or deeds of trust, mortgage or mortgages, wherein the same trustee is named, to execute one instrument applying to all such deeds of trust or mortgages, in the substitution of a trustee for any of the causes set forth in § 45-10, and in said instrument to recite and name the mortgages and/or deeds of trust affected by giving the names of the grantors, the trustee and, if registered, the book and page of such registration. This may be done as many times as a trustee may be substituted as provided for in §§ 45-10 to 45-17, and in which cases the register of deeds shall make, as to each recited instrument, mortgage or deed of trust, the notation provided for in this section. (1931, c. 78, s. 7.)

§ 45-17. Substitution made as often as justifiable.—The powers set out in § 45-10 and in § 45-11 may be exercised as often and as many times as the right to make such substitution may arise under the terms of such section, and all the privileges and requirements and rights to contest the same as set out in §§ 45-10 to 45-17 shall apply to each deed of trust or mortgage and to each substitution. (1931, c. 78, s. 8.)

§ 45-18. Validation of certain acts of substituted trustees.—Whenever before February 3, 1939, a trustee has been substituted in a deed of trust in the manner provided by §§ 45-10 to 45-17, but the instrument executed by the holder and/or owners of all or a majority in amount of the indebtedness, notes, bonds, or other instruments secured by said deed of trust, and the certificate of the clerk of the superior court executed in connection therewith under the provisions of § 45-12, have not been registered as provided by said sections until after the substituted trustee has exercised some or all of the powers conferred by said deed of trust upon the trustee therein, including the advertising of the property conveyed by said deed of trust for sale, the sale thereof, and the execution of a deed by such substituted trustee to the purchaser at such sale, all such acts of said substituted trustee shall be deemed valid and effective in the same manner and to the same extent as if said instrument substituting said trustee, and the clerk's certificate thereon had been registered prior to the performance by said substituted trustee of any one or more of said acts, or other acts authorized by such deed of trust. (1939, c. 13.)

§ 45-19. Mortgage to guardian; powers pass to succeeding guardian.—When a guardian to whom a mortgage has been executed dies or is removed or resigns before the payment of the debt secured in such mortgage, all the rights, powers and duties of such mortgagee shall devolve upon the succeeding guardian. (Rev., s. 1034; 1905, c. 433; C. S. 2584.)

§ 45-20. Sales by mortgagees and trustees confirmed.—All sales of real property made prior to February tenth, nineteen hundred and five, by mortgagees and trustees under powers of sale contained in any mortgage or deed of trust in compliance with the powers, terms, conditions and advertisement set forth and required in any such mortgage or deed of trust, are hereby in all respects ratified and confirmed. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 27; C. S. 2584(a).)

§ 45-21. Validation of appointment of and conveyances to corporations as trustees.—In all deeds of trust made prior to March 15, 1941, wherein property has been conveyed to corporations as trustees to secure indebtedness, the appointment of said corporations as trustees, the conveyances to said corporate trustees, and the action taken under the powers of such deeds of trust by said corporate trustees are hereby confirmed and validated to the same extent as if such corporate trustees had been individual trustees. (1941, c. 245, s. 1.)

Art. 3. Mortgage Sales.

§ 45-22. Limitation of time for attacking certain foreclosures on ground trustee was agent, etc., of owner of debt.—1. No action or proceeding shall be brought or defense or counterclaim pleaded later than one year after March 14, 1941 in which a foreclosure sale which occurred prior to January 1, 1941, under a deed of trust conveying real estate as security for a debt is attacked or otherwise questioned upon the ground that the trustee was an officer, director, attorney, agent or employee of the owner of the whole or any part of the debt secured thereby, or upon the ground that the trustee and the owner of the debt or any part thereof have common officers, directors, attorneys, agents or employees.

2. This section shall not be construed to give or create any cause of action where none existed before March 14, 1941, nor shall the limitation provided in subsection one hereof have the effect of barring any cause of action based upon grounds other than those mentioned in said section, unless the grounds set out in subsection one are an essential part thereof.

3. This section shall not be construed to enlarge the time in which to bring any action or proceeding or to plead any defense or counterclaim; and the limitation hereby created is in addition to all other limitations now existing. (1941, c. 202.)

§ 45-23. Personal property; notice and place of sale.—All personal property sold under the terms of any mortgage or other contract, expressed or implied, whether advertised in some newspaper or otherwise, shall be advertised by posting a notice at some conspicuous place at the courthouse door in the county where the property is situated, such notice to be posted for at least twenty days before the sale, unless a shorter time be expressed in the contract. (Rev., s. 1042; 1889, c. 70; 1909, c. 49, s. 1; C. S. 2585.)

§ 45-24. Foreclosure of conditional sales.—In all sales of personal property wherein the title is retained by the seller to secure the purchase money, or any part thereof, and no power of sale is conferred, and default is made in the payment of said obligation by the purchaser, then in all such cases it is lawful for the owner of such debt thereby secured, without an order of court, to sell such property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay off said indebtedness, at public auction for cash, after first giving twenty days notice at three or more public places in the county wherein the sale is to be made, and apply the proceeds of such sale to the discharge of said debt, interest on the same, and costs of foreclosure, and pay any surplus to the person legally entitled thereto. Before making any such sale, in addition to the advertisement above required, the owner of said debt shall, at least ten days before the day of sale, mail a copy of the notice of sale to the last known postoffice address of the original purchaser or his assigns. (1913, c. 60, s. 1; C. S. 2587.)

§ 45-25. Real property; notice of sale must describe premises.—In sales of real estate under deeds of trust or mortgages it is the duty of the trustee or mortgagee making such sale to fully describe the premises in the notice required by law substantially as the same is described in the deed of authority under which said trustee or mortgagee makes such sale. (Rev., s. 1043; 1895, c. 294; C. S. 2588.)

§ 45-26. Real property; power of sale barred when foreclosure barred.—The power of sale of real property contained in any mortgage or deed of trust for the benefit of creditors shall become inoperative, and no person shall execute any such power, when an action to foreclose such mortgage or deed of trust for the benefit of creditors would be barred by the statute of limitations. (Rev., s. 1044; C. S. 2589.)

§ 45-27. Land lying in two or more counties; place of sale.—When a mortgage or deed in trust conveying lands lying partly in two or more counties confers upon the mortgagee or mortgagees, trustee or trustees, therein named, any power for the sale of such lands, without naming the place of sale, or conferring upon such mortgagee or mortgagees, trustee or trustees, the right to select the same, in the exercise of such power, any sale thereunder may be made at the courthouse door of any one of the counties in which such lands are situate, and at no other place except as hereinafter provided; but when such lands consist of two or more detached parcels, lying wholly within the limits of different counties, the sale of each and every one of such parcels shall be made at the courthouse door of the county in which the same is situate. (1911, c. 165, s. 1; C. S. 2590.)

§ 45-28. Reopening judicial sales, etc., on advanced bid.—In the foreclosure of mortgages or deeds of trust on real estate, or by order of court in foreclosure proceedings either in the superior court or in actions at law, or in the case of the public sale of real estate by an executor, administrator, or administrator with the will annexed, or by any person by virtue of the power contained in a will or sale under execution duly issued, the sale shall not be deemed to be closed under ten days. A report of such sale shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court within five days from the date thereof: Provided, that failure to file such report prescribed shall not invalidate said sale. If in ten days from the date of the sale, the sale price is increased ten per cent where the price does not exceed five hundred dollars, and five per cent where the price exceeds five hundred dollars, and the same is paid to the clerk of the superior court, the mortgagee, trustee, executor, or person offering the real estate for sale shall reopen the sale of said property and advertise the same in the same manner as in the first instance. It shall only be necessary to give fifteen days' notice of a resale. The clerk may, in his discretion, require the person making such advance bid to execute a good and sufficient bond in a sufficient amount to guarantee compliance with the terms of sale should the person offering the advance bid be declared the purchaser at the resale. Where the bid or offer is raised as prescribed herein, and the amount paid to the clerk, he shall issue an order to the mortgagee or other person and require him to advertise and resell said real estate. Resales may be had as often as the bid may be raised in compliance with this section. Upon the final sale of the real estate, the clerk shall issue his order to the mortgagee or other person, and require him to make title to the purchaser. If upon any resale the person making an advance bid or his agent shall become the last and highest bidder at such resale and upon confirmation of his bid shall fail to comply therewith within ten days, the clerk shall order a resale of the property; and in such event the deposit made with the clerk of said court shall be forfeited as damages for failure to comply with the bid at such resale and shall be applied, under order of the clerk, first to the payment of all costs and expenses in advertising and conducting the resale, and the balance of said deposit, if any, shall be applied as a credit on the indebtedness on account of which the sale was authorized: Provided, however, that no such forfeiture shall be allowed if, at the resale ordered because of such failure to comply, the property shall sell for an amount equal to or more than said advance bid so offered but not complied with, plus the costs of such resale. The clerk shall make all such orders as may be just and necessary to safeguard the interest of all parties, and he shall keep a record which will show in detail the amount of each bid, the purchase price, and the final settlement between parties. This section shall not apply to the foreclosure of mortgages or deeds of trust executed prior to April first, nineteen hundred and fifteen. (1915, c. 146; 1917, c. 127, ss. 3, 4; 1919, c. 124; 1929, c. 16; 1931, c. 69; 1933, c. 482; 1939, cc. 36, 397; C. S. 2591.)

§ 45-29. Surplus after sale to be paid to clerk, in certain cases.—It is competent for any trustee or mortgagee who sells any real, personal or mixed property under the power of sale contained in any deed of trust or mortgage of any kind and who has in his hands any surplus money, after paying the debt or debts secured by such deed of trust or mortgage and costs and expenses of such sale, to pay into the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the sale was had, any surplus moneys in his hands as aforesaid in all cases where the grantor in such deed of trust or mortgage is dead and there is no executor or administrator of his estate, and in all other cases where such trustee or mortgage is, for any cause, in doubt as to who is the proper party or parties to whom to pay such surplus moneys. Such payment to the clerk shall have the effect to discharge such trustee or mortgagee from all liability to the extent of the amount so paid. The clerk shall receive such money from such trustee or mortgagee and execute a receipt for the same under the seal of his office. The failure of any clerk, however, to place his seal upon such receipt shall not invalidate the receipt if it bears the genuine signature of the clerk. The official bond of such clerk shall be responsible for the safe keeping of such moneys until the same shall be paid to the party or parties entitled thereto, or be paid out under the order of a court of competent jurisdiction. (1913, c. 15, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 2592.)

§ 45-30. Special proceedings to determine ownership of surplus.—Special proceedings may be instituted before the clerk of the superior court to determine who is the rightful party to whom any fund paid into his office under § 45-29 shall be paid. All persons claiming an interest in such funds shall be made parties, and if an answer is filed raising issues as to the ownership of said moneys, the case shall be transferred to the civil issue docket of the superior court for trial. Any party in interest may appeal to the judge of the superior court from any order made by the clerk. The clerk may require bond of parties when action is transferred to civil issue docket, as in other civil actions. The court may, in its discretion, order the costs and a reasonable attorney's fee to be paid out of the funds in controversy. (1913, c. 15, s. 3; 1919, c. 111, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 2593.)

§ 45-31. Orders signed on days other than first and third Mondays validated; force and effect of deeds.—In all actions for the foreclosure of any mortgage or deed of trust which has heretofore been instituted and prosecuted before the clerk of the superior court of any county in North Carolina, wherein the judgment confirming the sale made by the commissioner appointed in said action, and ordering the said commissioner to execute a deed to the purchaser, was signed by such clerk on a day other than the first or third Monday of a month, such judgment of confirmation shall be and is hereby declared to be valid and of the same force and effect as though signed and docketed on the first or third Monday of any month, and any deed made by any commissioner or commissioners in any such action where the confirmation of sale was made on a day other than a first or third Monday of the month shall be and is hereby declared to have the same force and effect as if the same were executed and delivered pursuant to a judgment of confirmation properly signed and docketed by the clerk of the superior court on a first or third Monday of the month. (1923, c. 53, s. 1; C. S. 2593(a).)

§ 45-32. Injunction of mortgage sales on equitable grounds.—Any owner of real estate, or other person, firm or corporation having a legal or equitable interest therein, may apply to a judge of the superior court, prior to the confirmation of any sale of such real estate by a mortgagee, trustee, commissioner or other person authorized to sell the same, to enjoin such sale or the confirmation thereof, upon the ground that the amount bid or price offered therefor is inadequate and inequitable and will result in irreparable damage to the owner or other interested person, or upon any other legal or equitable ground which the court may deem sufficient: Provided, that the court or judge enjoining such sale or the confirmation thereof, whether by a temporary restraining order or injunction to the hearing, shall, as a condition precedent, require of the plaintiff or applicant such bond or deposit as may be necessary to indemnify and save harmless the mortgagee, trustee, cestui que trust, or other person enjoined and affected thereby against costs, depreciation, interest and other damages, if any, which may result from the granting of such order or injunction: Provided further, that in other respects the procedure shall be as is now prescribed by law in cases of injunction and receivership, with the right of appeal to the supreme court from any such order or injunction. (1933, c. 275, s. 1.)

§ 45-33. Ordering resales before confirmation; receivers for property; tax payments.—The court or judge granting such order or injunction, or before whom the same is returnable, shall have the right before, but not after, any sale is confirmed to order a resale by the mortgagee, trustee, commissioner, or other person authorized to make the same in such manner and upon such terms as may be just and equitable: Provided, the rights of all parties in interest, or who may be affected thereby, shall be preserved and protected by bond or indemnity in such form and amount as the court may require, and the court or judge may also appoint a receiver of the property or the rents and proceeds thereof, pending any sale or resale, and may make such order for the payment of taxes or other prior lien as may be necessary, subject to the right of appeal to the supreme court in all cases. (1933, c. 275, s. 2.)

§ 45-34. Right of mortgagor to prove in deficiency suits reasonable value of property by way of defense.—When any sale of real estate or personal property has been made by a mortgagee, trustee, or other person authorized to make the same, at which the mortgagee, payee or other holder of the obligation thereby secured becomes the purchaser and takes title either directly or indirectly, and thereafter such mortgagee, payee or other holder of the secured obligation, as aforesaid, shall sue for and undertake to recover a deficiency judgment against the mortgagor, trustor or other maker of any such obligation whose property has been so purchased, it shall be competent and lawful for the defendant against whom such deficiency judgment is sought to allege and show as matter of defense and off-set, but not by way of counter-claim, that the property sold was fairly worth the amount of the debt secured by it at the time and place of sale or that the amount bid was substantially less than its true value, and, upon such showing, to defeat or off-set any deficiency judgment against him, either in whole or in part: Provided, this section shall not affect nor apply to the rights of other purchasers or of innocent third parties, nor shall it be held to affect or defeat the negotiability of any note, bond or other obligation secured by such mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument: Provided, further, this section shall not apply to foreclosure sales made pursuant to an order or decree of court nor to any judgment sought or rendered in any foreclosure suit nor to any sale made and confirmed prior to April 18, 1933. (1933, c. 275, s. 3.)

§ 45-35. Sections 45-32 to 45-35 not applicable to tax suits.—All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with §§ 45-32 to 45-35, to the extent of such conflict only, are hereby repealed, but said sections shall not apply to tax foreclosure suits or tax sales. (1933, c. 275, s. 4.)

§ 45-36. Deficiency judgments abolished where mortgage represents part of purchase price.—In all sales of real property by mortgagees and/or trustees under powers of sale contained in any mortgage or deed of trust executed after February 6, 1933, or where judgment or decree is given for the foreclosure of any mortgage executed after February 6, 1933, to secure payment of the balance of the purchase price of real property, the mortgagee or trustee or holder of the notes secured by such mortgage or deed of trust shall not be entitled to a deficiency judgment on account of such mortgage, deed of trust or obligation secured by the same: Provided, said evidence of indebtedness shows upon the face that it is for balance of purchase money for real estate: Provided, further, that when said note or notes are prepared under the direction and supervision of the seller or sellers, he, it, or they shall cause a provision to be inserted in said note disclosing that it is for purchase money of real estate; in default of which the seller or sellers shall be liable to purchaser for any loss which he might sustain by reason of the failure to insert said provision as herein set out. (1933, c. 36.)

Art. 4. Discharge and Release.

§ 45-37. Discharge of record of mortgages and deeds of trust.—Any deed of trust or mortgage registered as required by law may be discharged and released in the following manner.

1. The trustee or mortgagee or his or her legal representative, or the duly authorized agent or attorney of such trustee, mortagee or legal representative, may, in the presence of the register of deeds or his deputy, acknowledge the satisfaction of the provisions of such deed of trust or mortgage, whereupon the register or his deputy shall forthwith make upon the margin of the record of such deed of trust or mortgage an entry of such acknowledgment of satisfaction, which shall be signed by the trustee, mortgagee, legal representative or attorney, and witnessed by the register or his deputy, who shall also affix his name thereto.

2. Upon the exhibition of any mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument intended to secure the payment of money, accompanied with the bond or note, to the register of deeds or his deputy, where the same is registered, with the endorsement of payment and satisfaction appearing thereon by the payee, mortgagee, trustee, or assignee of the same, or by any chartered active banking institution in the state of North Carolina, when so endorsed in the name of the bank by an officer thereof, the register or his deputy shall cancel the mortgage or other instrument by entry of "satisfaction" on the margin of the record; and the person so claiming to have satisfied the debt may retain possession of the bond or mortgage or other instrument: Provided, that if such mortgage or deed of trust provides in itself for the payment of money and does not call for or recite any note secured by it, then the exhibition of such mortgage or deed of trust alone to the register of deeds or his deputy, with endorsement of payment and satisfaction, shall be sufficient. But if the register or his deputy requires it, he shall file a receipt to him showing by whose authority the mortgage or other instrument was canceled.

3. Upon the exhibition of any mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument intended to secure the payment of money by the grantor or mortgagor, his agent or attorney, together with the notes or bonds secured thereby, to the register of deeds or his deputy of the county where the same is registered, the deed of trust, mortgage, notes or bonds being at the time of said exhibition more than ten years old, counting from the date of maturity of the last note or bond, the register or his deputy shall make proper entry of cancellation and satisfaction of said instrument on the margin of the record where the same is recorded, whether there be any such entries on the original papers or not.

4. Upon the presentation of any deed of trust given to secure the bearer or holder of any negotiable instruments transferable by delivery, together with all the evidences of indebtedness secured thereby, marked paid and satisfied in full and signed by the bearer or holder thereof, to the register of deeds or his deputy of the county in which same is recorded, the said register or his deputy shall cancel such deed of trust by entry of satisfaction upon the record and such entry of satisfaction shall be valid and binding upon all persons: Provided that prior to such presentation and cancellation, any person rightfully entitled to any such deed of trust, or evidences of indebtedness, which have been lost or stolen, may notify the register of deeds, or his deputy, in writing of such loss or theft, and said register, or his deputy, shall make a marginal entry in writing thereof, together with the date such notice is given, upon the record of the deed of trust concerned, and thereafter same shall not be cancelled as above provided until the ownership of said instruments shall have been lawfully determined: Provided that nothing herein shall be construed so as to impair the negotiability of any instrument otherwise properly negotiable, nor to impair the rights of any innocent purchaser for value thereof.

5. The conditions of every mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument securing the payment of money shall be conclusively presumed to have been complied with or the debts secured thereby paid as against creditors or purchasers for a valuable consideration from the trustor, mortgagor, or grantor, from and after the expiration of fifteen years from the date when the conditions of such instrument by the terms thereof are due to have been complied with, or the maturity of the last installment of debt or interest secured thereby, unless the holder of the indebtedness secured by such instrument or party secured by any provision thereof shall file an affidavit with the register of deeds of the county where such instrument is registered, in which shall be specifically stated the amount of debt unpaid, which is secured by said instrument, or in what respect any other condition thereof shall not have been complied with, whereupon the register of deeds shall record such affidavit and refer on the margin of the record of the instrument referred to therein the fact of the filing of such affidavit, and a reference to the book and page where it is recorded. Or in lieu of such affidavit the holder may enter on the margin of the record any payments that have been made on the indebtedness secured by such instrument, and shall in such entry state the amount still due thereunder. This entry must be signed by the holder and witnessed by the register of deeds. Provided, however, that this subsection shall not apply to any deed, mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument made or given by any railroad company, or to any agreement of conditional sale, equipment trust agreement, lease, chattel mortgage or other instrument relating to the sale, purchase or lease of railroad equipment on rolling stock, or of other personal property.

Every such entry thus made by the register of deeds or his deputy, and every such entry thus acknowledged and witnessed, shall operate and have the same effect to release and discharge all the interest of such trustee, mortgagee or representative in such deed or mortgage as if a deed of release or reconveyance thereof had been duly executed and recorded. (Rev., s. 1046; Code, s. 1271; 1870-1, c. 217; 1891, c. 180; 1893, c. 36; 1901, c. 46; 1917, c. 49, s. 1; 1917, c. 50, s. 1; 1923, c. 192, s. 1; 1923, c. 195; 1935, c. 47; C. S. 2594.)

§ 45-38. Entry of foreclosure.—In case of foreclosure of any deed of trust, or mortgage, the trustee or mortgagee shall enter upon the margin of the record thereof the fact of such foreclosure and the date when, and the person to whom, a conveyance was made by reason thereof. (1923, c. 192, s. 2; C. S. 2594(a).)

§ 45-39. Trustees or mortgagees making sales to file accounts.—It shall be the duty of any trustee or mortgagee making sale under the provisions of any power to file an account with the clerk of the superior court in the county where the land lies as is required by commissioners making sales for partition, and for the auditing and recording of said account the clerk shall be allowed the same fees as are provided for auditing accounts of such commissioners. (1923, c. 192, s. 3; C. S. 2594(b).)

§ 45-40. Register to enter satisfaction on index.—When satisfaction of the provisions of any deed of trust or mortgage is acknowledged and entry of such acknowledgment of satisfaction is made upon the margin of the record of said deed of trust or mortgage, or when the register of deeds or his deputy shall cancel the mortgage or other instrument by entry of satisfaction, then the register of deeds or his deputy shall enter upon the alphabetical indexes kept by him, as required by law, and opposite the names of the grantor and grantee and on a line with the names of said grantor and grantee, the words "satisfied mortgage," if the instrument of which satisfaction has been acknowledged or entered is a mortgage, and the words "satisfied deed of trust," if the instrument of which satisfaction has been acknowledged or entered is a deed of trust. (1909, c. 658, s. 1; C. S. 2595.)

§ 45-41. Recorded deed of release of mortgagee's representative. — The personal representative of any mortgagee or trustee in any mortgage or deed of trust which has heretofore or which may hereafter be registered in the manner required by the laws of this state may discharge and release the same and all property thereby conveyed by deed of quit claim, release or conveyance executed, acknowledged and recorded as is now prescribed by law for the execution, acknowledgment and registration of deeds and mortgages in this state. (1909, c. 283, s. 1; C. S. 2596.)

§ 45-42. Release of corporate mortgages by corporate officers.—All mortgages and deeds in trust executed to a corporation may be satisfied and so marked of record, as by law provided for the satisfaction of mortgages and deeds in trust, by the president, any vice-president, cashier, assistant cashier, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer, assistant treasurer, trust officer or assistant trust officer of such corporation signing the name of such corporation by him as such officer. Where mortgages or deeds in trust were marked "satisfied" on the records before the twenty-third day of February, nineteen hundred and nine, by any president, secretary, treasurer or cashier of any corporation by such officer writing his own name and affixing thereto the title of his office in such corporation, such satisfaction is validated, and is as effective to all intents and purposes as if a deed of release duly executed by such corporation had been made, acknowledged and recorded. (1909, c. 283, ss. 2, 3; 1935, c. 271; C. S. 2597.)

Art. 5. Real Estate Mortgage Loans.

§ 45-43. Real estate mortgage loans; commissions.—Any individual or corporation authorized by law to do a real estate mortgage loan business may make or negotiate loans of money on notes secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on real estate bearing legal interest payable semi-annually at maturity or otherwise, and in addition thereto, may charge, collect and receive such commission or fee as may be agreed upon for making or negotiation of any such loan, not exceeding, however, an amount equal to one and one-half per cent of the principal amount of the loan for each year over which the repayment of the said loan is extended: Provided, however, the repayment of such loan shall be in annual installments extending over a period of not less than three nor more than fifteen years, and that no annual installment, other than the last, shall exceed thirty-three and one-third per cent of the principal amount of loans which are payable in installments extending over a period of as much as three years and less than four years, twenty-five per cent of the principal amount of loans which are payable in installments extending over a period of not less than four years nor more than five years, and fifteen per cent of the principal amount of loans which are payable in installments extending over a period of more than five years and not more than fifteen years. This section shall only apply to the counties of Ashe, Buncombe, Caldwell, Forsyth, Gaston, Henderson, McDowell, Madison, Rutherford, Watauga, and Yancey. (Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 35; 1925, cc. 28, 209; Pub. Loc. 1925, c. 592; modified by 1927, c. 5; Pub. Loc. 1927, c. 187.)

46-43. Report of commissioners.
46-44. Sale of personal property on partition; report of officer.
46-45. Confirmation and impeachment of reports of commissioners or officer.
46-46. Notice of sale of personal property.

Art. 1. Partition of Real Property.

§ 46-1. Partition is a special proceeding.—Partition under this chapter shall be by special proceeding, and the procedure shall be the same in all respects as prescribed by law in special proceedings, except as modified herein. (Rev., s. 2485; Code, s. 1923; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 33; C. S. 3213.)

§ 46-2. Venue in partition.—The proceeding for partition, actual or by sale, must be instituted in the county where the land or some part thereof lies. If the land to be partitioned consists of one tract lying in more than one county, or consists of several tracts lying in different counties, proceedings may be instituted in either of the counties in which a part of the land is situated, and the court of such county wherein the proceedings for partition are first brought shall have jurisdiction to proceed to a final disposition of said proceedings, to the same extent as if all of said land was situate in the county where the proceedings were instituted. (Rev., s. 2486; Code, s. 1898; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 7; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 62, s. 1; C. S. 3214.)

§ 46-3. Petition by cotenant. — One or more persons claiming real estate as joint tenants or tenants in common may have partition by petition to the superior court. (Rev., s. 2487; Code, s. 1892; 1886-9, c. 122, s. 1; C. S. 3215.)

§ 46-4. Surface and minerals in separate owners; partitions distinct. — When the title to the mineral interests in any land has become separated from the surface in ownership, the tenants in common or joint tenants of such mineral interests may have partition of the same, distinct from the surface, and without joining as parties the owner or owners of the surface; and the tenants in common or joint tenants of the surface may have partition of the same, in manner provided by law, distinct from the mineral interest and without joining as parties the owner or owners of the mineral interest. In all instances where the mineral interests and surface interests have thus become separated in ownership, the owner or owners of the mineral interests shall not be compelled to join in a partition of the surface interests, nor shall the owner or owners of the surface interest be compelled to join in a partition of the mineral interest, nor shall the rights of either owner be prejudiced by a partition of the other interests. (Rev., s. 2488; 1905, c. 90; C. S. 3216.)

§ 46-5. Petition by judgment creditor of cotenant; assignment of homestead.—When any person owns a judgment duly docketed in the superior court of a county wherein the judgment debtor owns an undivided interest in fee in land as a tenant in common, or joint tenant, and the judgment creditor desires to lay off the homestead of the judgment debtor in the land and sell the excess, if any, to satisfy his judgment, the judgment creditor may institute before the clerk of the court of the county wherein the land lies a special proceeding for partition of the land between the tenants in common, making the judgment debtor, the other tenants in common and all other interested persons parties to the proceeding by summons. The proceeding shall then be in all other respects conducted as other special proceedings for the partition of land between tenants in common. Upon the actual partition of the land the judgment creditor may sue out execution on his judgment, as allowed by law, and have the homestead of the judgment debtor allotted to him and sell the excess, as in other cases where the homestead is allotted under execution. The remedy provided for in this section shall not deprive the judgment creditor of any other remedy in law or in equity which he may have for the enforcement of his judgement lien. (Rev., s. 2489; 1905, c. 429; C. S. 3217.)

§ 46-6. Unknown parties; summons and representation.—If, upon the filing of a petition for partition, it be made to appear to the court by affidavit or otherwise that there are any persons interested in the premises whose names are unknown to and cannot after due diligence be ascertained by the petitioner, the court shall order notices to be given to all such persons by a publication of the petition, or of the substance thereof, with the order of the court thereon, in one or more newspapers to be designated in the order. If after such general notice by publication any person interested in the premises and entitled to notice fails to appear, the court shall in its discretion appoint some disinterested person to represent the owner of any shares in the property to be divided, the ownership of which is unknown and unrepresented. (Rev., s. 2490; 1887, c. 284; C. S. 3218.)

§ 46-7. Commissioners appointed. — The superior court shall appoint three disinterested commissioners to divide and apportion such real estate, or so much thereof as the court may deem best, among the several tenants in common, or joint tenants. Provided, in cases where the land to be partitioned lies in more than one county, then the court may appoint such additional commissioners as it may deem necessary from counties where the land lies other than the county where the proceedings are instituted. (Rev., s. 2487; Code, s. 1892; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 62, s. 2; C. S. 3219.)

§ 46-8. Oath of commissioners.—The commissioners shall be sworn by a justice of the peace, or other person authorized to administer oaths, to do justice among the tenants in common, in respect to such partition, according to their best skill and ability. (Rev., s. 2492; Code, s. 1893; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 2; C. S. 3220.)

§ 46-9. Delay or neglect of commissioner penalized.—If, after accepting the trust, any of the commissioners unreasonably delay or neglect to execute the same, every such delinquent commissioner shall be liable for contempt and may be removed, and shall be further liable to a penalty of fifty dollars, to be recovered by the petitioner. (Rev., s. 2498; Code, s. 1901; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 10; C. S. 3221.)

§ 46-10. Commissioners to meet and make partition; equalizing shares. — The commissioners, who shall be summoned by the sheriff, or any constable, must meet on the premises and partition the same among the tenants in common, or joint tenants, according to their respective rights and interests therein, by dividing the land into equal shares in point of value as nearly as possible, and for this purpose they are empowered to subdivide the more valuable tracts as they may deem best, and to charge the more valuable dividends with such sums of money as they may think necessary, to be paid to the dividends of inferior value, in order to make an equitable partition. (Rev., s. 2491; Code, s. 1894; 1887, c. 284, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 3; C. S. 3222.)

§ 46-11. Owelty to bear interest.—The sums of money due from the more valuable dividends shall bear interest until paid. (Rev., s. 2496; Code, s. 1899; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 8; C. S. 3223.)

§ 46-12. Owelty from infant's share due at majority.—When a minor to whom a more valuable dividend shall fall is charged with the payment of any sum, the money shall not be payable until such minor arrives at the age of twenty-one years, but the general guardian, if there be one, must pay such sum whenever assets shall come into his hands, and in case the general guardian has assets which he did not so apply, he shall pay out of his own proper estate any interest that may have accrued in consequence of such failure. (Rev., s. 2497; Code, s. 1900; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 9; C. S. 3224.)

§ 46-13. Partition where shareowners unknown or title disputed.—If there are any of the tenants in common, or joint tenants, whose names are not known or whose title is in dispute, the share or shares of such persons shall be set off together as one parcel. If, in any partition proceeding, two or more appear as defendants claiming the same share of the premises to be divided, or if any part of the share claimed by the petitioner is disputed by any defendant or defendants, it shall not be necessary to decide on their respective claims before the court shall order the partition or sale to be made, but the partition or sale shall be made, and the controversy between the contesting parties may be afterwards decided either in the same or an independent proceeding. If two or more tenants in common, or joint tenants, by petition or answer, request it, the commissioners may, by order of the court, allot their several shares to them in common, as one parcel, provided such division shall not be injurious or detrimental to any co-tenant or joint tenant. (Rev., ss. 2491, 2511; Code, s. 1894; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 3; 1887, c. 284, ss. 2, 4; 1937, c. 98; C. S. 3225.)

§ 46-14. Judgments in partition of remainders validated.—In all cases where land has been conveyed by deed, or devised by will, upon contingent remainder, executory devise, or other limitation, where a judgment of partition has been rendered by the superior court authorizing a division of said lands upon the petition of the life tenant or tenants and all other persons then in being who would have taken such land if the contingency had then happened, and those unborn being duly represented by guardian ad litem, such judgment of partition authorizing a division of said lands among the respective life tenants and remaindermen, or executory devisees, shall be valid and binding upon the parties thereto and upon all other persons not then in being. (1933, c. 215, s. 1.)

§ 46-15. Dower claims settled on partition; dower valued.—When there is dower or right of dower on any land, petitioned to be sold or divided in severalty by actual partition, the woman entitled to dower or right of dower therein may join in the petition. The land to be divided in severalty shall be allotted to the tenants in common, or joint tenants, subject to the dower right or dower, and either may be asked and assigned at the same time that partition thereof is made and by same commissioners. On a decree of sale, the interest of one-third of the proceeds shall be secured and paid to her annually; or in lieu of such annual interest, the value of an annuity of six percent on such third, during her probable life, shall be ascertained and paid to her absolutely out of the proceeds. (Rev., s. 2517; Code, s. 1909; 1893, c. 341; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 18; C. S. 3226.)

§ 46-16. Partial partition; balance sold or left in common.—In all proceedings under this chapter actual partition may be made of a part of the land sought to be partitioned and a sale of the remainder; or a part only of any land held by tenants in common, or joint tenants, may be partitioned and the remainder held in cotenancy. (Rev., s. 2506; 1887, c. 214, s. 1; C. S. 3227.)

§ 46-17. Report of commissioners; contents; filing.—The commissioners, within a reasonable time, not exceeding sixty days after the notification of their appointment, shall make a full and ample report of their proceedings, under the hands of any two of them, specifying therein the manner of executing their trust and describing particularly the land or parcels of land divided, and the share allotted to each tenant in severalty, with the sum or sums charged on the more valuable dividends to be paid to those of inferior value. The report shall be filed in the office of the superior court clerk. (Rev., s. 2494; Code, s. 1896; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 5; C. S. 3228.)

§ 46-18. Map embodying survey to accompany report.—The commissioners are authorized to employ the county surveyor or, in his absence or if he be connected with the parties, some other surveyor, who shall make out a map of the premises showing the quantity, courses and distances of each share, which map shall accompany and form a part of the report of the commissioners. (Rev., s. 2493; Code, s. 1895; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 4; C. S. 3229.)

§ 46-19. Confirmation and impeachment of report.—If no exception to the report of the commissioners is filed within twenty days, the same shall be confirmed. Any party after confirmation may impeach the proceedings and decrees for mistake, fraud or collusion by petition in the cause: Provided, innocent purchasers for full value and without notice shall not be affected thereby. (Rev., s. 2494; Code, s. 1896; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 5; C. S. 3230.)

§ 46-20. Report and confirmation enrolled and registered; effect.—Such report, when confirmed, together with the decree of confirmation, shall be enrolled and certified to the register of deeds and registered in the office of the county where such real estate is situated, and shall be binding among and between the claimants, their heirs and assigns. (Rev., s. 2495; Code, s. 1897; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 6; C. S. 3231.)

§ 46-21. Clerk to docket owelty charges; no release of land and no lien.—In case owelty of partition is charged in favor of certain parts of said land and against certain other parts, the clerk shall enter on the judgment docket the said owelty charges in like manner as judgments are entered on said docket, persons to whom parts are allotted in favor of which owelty is charged being marked plaintiffs on the judgment docket, and persons to whom parts are alloted against which owelty is charged being marked defendants on said docket; said entry on said docket shall contain the title of the special proceeding in which the land was partitioned, and shall refer to the book and page in which the said special proceeding is recorded; when said owelty charges are paid said entry upon the judgment docket shall be marked satisfied in like manner as judgments are canceled and marked satisfied; and the clerk shall be entitled to the same fees for entering such judgment of owelty as he is entitled to for docketing other judgments: Provided, that the docketing of said owelty charges as hereinbe-fore set out shall not have the effect of releasing the land from the owelty charged in said special proceeding: Provided, any judgment docketed under this section shall not be a lien on any property whatever, except that upon which said owelty is made a specific charge. (1911, c. 9, s. 1; C. S. 3232.)

Art. 2. Partition Sales of Real Property.

§ 46-22. Sale in lieu of partition.—Whenever it appears by satisfactory proof that an actual partition of the lands cannot be made without injury to some or all of the parties interested, the court shall order a sale of the property described in the petition, or any part thereof. (Rev., s. 2512; Code, ss. 1904, 1921; 1868-9, c. 122, ss. 13, 31; C. S. 3233.)

§ 46-23. Remainder or reversion sold for partition; outstanding life estate.—The existence of a life estate in any land shall not be a bar to a sale for partition of the remainder or reversion thereof, and for the purposes of partition the tenants in common or joint tenants shall be deemed seized and possessed as if no life estate existed. But this shall not interfere with the possession of the life tenant during the existence of his estate. (Rev., s. 2508; 1887, c. 214, s. 2; C. S. 3234.)

§ 46-24. Life tenant as party; valuation of life estate.—In all proceedings for partition of land whereon there is a life estate, the life tenant may join in the proceeding and on a sale the interest on the value of the share of the life tenant shall be received and paid to such life tenant annually; or in lieu of such annual interest, the value of such share during the probable life of such life tenant shall be ascertained and paid out of the proceeds to such life tenant absolutely. (Rev., s. 2509; 1887, c. 214, s. 3; C. S. 3235.)

§ 46-25. Sale of standing timber on partition; valuation of life estate.—When two or more persons own, as tenants in common, joint tenants, or copartners, a tract of land, either in possession, or in remainder or reversion, subject to a life estate, on which there may be standing timber trees, a sale of said timber trees, separate from the land, may be had upon the petition of one or more of said owners, or the life tenant, for partition among the owners thereof, including the life tenant, upon such terms as the court may order, and under like proceedings as are now prescribed by law for the sale of land for partition: Provided, that when the land is subject to a life estate, the life tenant shall be made a party to the proceedings, and shall be entitled to receive his portion of the net proceeds of sales, to be ascertained under the mortuary tables established by law. (Rev., s. 2510; 1895, c. 187; C. S. 3236.)

§ 46-26. Sale of mineral interests on partition.—In case of the partition of mineral interests, in all instances where it is made to appear to the court that it would be for the best interests of the tenants in common, or joint tenants, of such interests to have the same sold, or if actual partition of the same cannot be had without injury to some or all of such tenants (in common), then it is lawful for and the duty of the court to order a sale of such mineral interests and a division of the proceeds as the interests of the parties may appear. (Rev., s. 2507; 1905, c. 90, s. 2; C. S. 3237.)

§ 46-27. Sale of land required for public use on cotenant's petition.—When the lands of joint tenants or tenants in common are required for public purposes, one or more of such tenants, or their guardian for them, may file a petition verified by oath, in the superior court of the county where the lands or any part of them lie, setting forth therein that the lands are required for public purposes, and that their interests would be promoted by a sale thereof. Whereupon the court, all proper parties being before it, and the facts alleged in the petition being ascertained to be true, shall order a sale of such lands, or so much thereof as may be necessary, in the manner and on the terms it deems expedient. The expenses, fees and costs of this proceeding shall be paid in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 2518; Code, s. 1907; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 16; C. S. 3238.)

§ 46-28. Manner and terms of partition sale.—The sale shall be made by some person appointed by the court, on such terms as to size of lots, place or manner of sale, time of credit and security for payment of purchase money, as may be most advantageous to the parties concerned. (Rev., s. 2512; Code, ss. 1904, 1921; 1868-9, s. 122, ss. 13, 31; C. S. 3239.)

§ 46-29. Notice of partition sale. — The notice of sale, under this proceeding, shall be the same as required by law on sales of real estate by sheriff under execution: Provided, however, that in case a re-sale of such real property shall become necessary under such proceeding, that such real property shall then be re-sold only after notice of re-sale has been duly posted at the courthouse door in the county for fifteen days immediately preceding the re-sale and also published at any time during such fifteen day period once a week for two successive weeks of not less than eight days in some newspaper published in the county, if a newspaper is published in the county, but if there be no newspaper published in said county the notice of re-sale must be posted at the courthouse door and three other public places in the county for fifteen days immediately preceding the re-sale. (Rev., s. 2514; Code, s. 1905; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 14; 1933, c. 187; C. S. 3240.)

§ 46-30. Title made to purchaser; effect of deed.—On the coming in of the report of sale, and confirmation thereof, and payment of the purchase money, the title shall be made to the purchaser or purchasers at such time and by such person as the court may direct, and in all cases where the persons in possession have been made parties to the proceeding, the court may grant an order for possession. And the deed of the officer or person designated to make such sale shall convey to the purchaser such title and estate in the property as the tenants in common, or joint tenants, had. (Rev., s. 2512; Code, ss. 1904, 1921; 1868-9, c. 122, ss. 13, 31; C. S. 3241.)

§ 46-31. Who appointed to sell. — The court may authorize any officer thereof, or any other competent person, to be designated in the decree of sale, to sell the real estate under this proceeding; but no clerk of any court shall appoint himself or his deputy to make sale of real property or other property in any proceeding before him. (Rev., s. 2513; Code, s. 1906; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 15; 1899, c. 161; C. S. 3242.)

§ 46-32. Report of sale; filing; confirmation and impeachment. — Such officer or person shall file his report of sale, giving full particulars thereof, within ten days after the sale, in the office of the clerk of the superior court, and if no exception thereto is filed within ten days, the same shall be confirmed. Any party, after the confirmation, shall be allowed to impeach the proceedings and decrees for mistake, fraud or collusion, by petition in the cause: Provided, innocent purchasers for full value and without notice shall not be affected thereby. (Rev., s. 2513; Code, s. 1906; 1899, c. 161; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 15; 1937, c. 71; C. S. 3243.)

§ 46-33. Shares in proceeds to cotenants secured.—Upon confirmation of the report, the court shall secure to each tenant in common, or joint tenant, his ratable share in severalty of the proceeds of sale. (Rev., s. 2513; Code, s. 1921; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 31; C. S. 3244.)

§ 46-34. Shares to persons unknown or not sui juris secured.—When a sale is made under this chapter, and any party to the proceedings be an infant, non compos mentis, imprisoned, or beyond the limits of the state, or when the name of any tenant in common is not known, it is the duty of the court to decree the share of such party, in the proceeds of sale, to be so invested or settled that the same may be secured to such party or his real representative. (Rev., s. 2516; Code, s. 1908; 1887, c. 284, s. 3; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 17; C. S. 3245.)

Art. 3. Partition of Lands in Two States.

§ 46-35. Petition to partition lands in two states descended or devised.—Whenever on the death of any person his lands in this state, and in another state, descend or are devised to several persons, who, by the law of this and the other state, hold in the lands undivided estates as tenants in common, or by any other undivided tenancy, and such heirs or devisees cannot, without suit, have partition for want of consent, or because of inability in any of the cotenants, then, if such deceased person was at the time of his death a resident of the state, or not then a resident of any of the states in which his lands lie, and in the last case the most valuable part of such lands lie in this state, such heir or devisee, or any person claiming under him, may file a petition in the superior court for the county where the deceased resided at his death, or where any part of the land lies in this state, setting forth all the lands in which the plaintiff has an undivided estate, without and within the state, described by their names and boundaries, or by the adjoining tracts, and also the estate the deceased had in them, and the supposed value of the lands in each state, and the share, in severalty, to which the plaintiff and each of his cotenants is entitled under the laws of the several states, and praying for partition to be made of all the tracts, according to their respective interests. The material facts set forth in the petition shall be verified by the affidavit of the plaintiff or his guardian, or other person, at the discretion of the court; and all persons concerned in interest in the lands shall be made parties, according to the practice of the superior court in this state. (Rev., s. 2499; Code, s. 1911, 1868-9, c. 122, s. 20; C. S. 3246.)

§ 46-36. Court may decree partition.—On the hearing of the petition, the court may decree a partition; and shall allot in severalty to each tenant his just share of the lands, according to the value of his interest in the same, by the laws of the several states in which they are situated. (Rev., s. 2500; Code, s. 1912; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 21; C. S. 3247.)

§ 46-37. Commissioners appointed; how partition made; report and confirmation.—The court making such decrees shall issue a commission to three respectable freeholders in this or any other state where any part of the land may lie, unconnected by blood or interest with the parties, directing them or a majority of them to make partition between the cotenants, plaintiffs and defendants in said petition, and to assign each his respective share in the value, in severalty, in any tract or tracts, in any or all the states. Before making the allotment the commissioners shall make a valuation of all the lands held by the cotenants in all the said states; and where they cannot, without injury to the value of some shares, make an exact division of the lands, they shall charge the more valuable dividends with money to be paid to the tenants of a less valuable dividend to make equality of partition. They shall report their proceedings as they may be directed, and the report shall contain a valuation of all the estate in this and the other states, and the division among the cotenants according to such valuation. The court may confirm such report, or on sufficient cause shown may correct and alter, or set it aside and order a new commission. (Rev., s. 2501; Code, s. 1913; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 22; C. S. 3248.)

§ 46-38. Provisions as to owelty.—Where any sum is charged on a more valuable dividend, it shall be a charge on the land into whose hands soever it may come, although it may be taken without notice, and shall bear interest at a rate not greater than allowed in this state. The tenant of the larger dividend may discharge himself from accruing interest by paying the whole amount due at any time. The court may direct, if the tenant taking such a dividend is an infant, that the sum charged shall not be paid till a future day. (Rev., s. 2501; Code, s. 1913; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 22; C. S. 3249.)

§ 46-39. Final decree; enrollment and registry; service on parties; effect.—The court shall, upon the confirmation of any report of the commissioners, make a final decree. And where all the parties are within the jurisdiction of this court, the court shall, by the usual proceedings, direct and compel the parties to execute and deliver deeds and assurances, sufficient, by the laws of this state and the other states, to give the partition full force and validity in all the states; and in case any of the parties are under such disabilities that they cannot execute such assurances, or are without the jurisdiction of the court, then the court, upon receiving evidence from the plaintiff that, by a law of the other state in which lie the parts of the lands described in the petition to be without this state, the decree can have effect thereon, shall direct the decree to be enrolled, and a copy of it shall be registered in the register's office of all the counties within this state where any of the lands lie; and a copy shall also be furnished to the plaintiff or other party interested, duly certified, to the end that, as to the lands without this state, it may be carried into effect in the state in which the said lands may be, in such manner as said state may direct; and on satisfactory evidence being made to the court in this state that the decree may have full effect by the law of such other state, the court in this state shall by its decree declare the partition in the land in this state to be final and conclusive. The decree shall be firm and irreversible, as hereinafter provided; and shall, on registration as aforesaid, pass to the tenants the title in severalty to the lands in this state in the same manner as if all the land mentioned in the decree were situate within this state. (Rev., s. 2501; Code, s. 1913; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 22; C. S. 3250.)

§ 46-40. Effectuating decree of sister state; enrollment; registry and confirmation; effect.—Where real estate may be partly in this state and partly in another state, and the deceased person from whom it was derived by descent or devise was, at the time of his death, a resident of some other state, or was a resident of none of the states in which he held lands, and in this last case the lands of which he was seized in this state were of less value than the lands of which he was seized in any other state, the courts of the state in which such deceased person had his residence at his death, or in which he held lands of greater value than those he held in this state, shall have full power and authority, under any law passed by the legislature of such state substantially in accordance with the provisions herein made on this subject, to decree partition of the lands in this state, together with those within such other state, in the same manner as if the whole real estate were within the jurisdiction of such court, and in the same manner as the courts in this state are directed and authorized to do by the preceding section, as to the lands of deceased persons resident here at their death, or leaving lands of greater value here than in any other state. In case any person having an interest in the final decree, made as aforesaid in another state, as to lands in this state, shall, within twelve months after the same may be entered up in the courts of said state, produce the records and proceedings of such courts of record duly certified to a superior court of any county in this state where any of the lands of this state lie, the court, on petition ex parte in such case, shall order such proceedings to be entered of record in the court of this state, and order that the said decree shall be of the same force and validity as if it had been a decree of the court in this state in which the petition is filed, upon a petition and regular proceedings had thereon, and the decree of the court of such other state, and the proceedings on it by petition in the superior court in this state confirming it and giving it validity, being enrolled in the said court of this state and registered in all the counties where the lands lie in this state, shall pass the lands in this state, according to the decree, and shall vest estates in severalty therein declared, as to said lands, in the same manner and with the same effect in law as if the lands in this state had been so allotted on a petition for partition, according to the provisions of the former sections of this chapter. (Rev., s. 2502; Code, s. 1914; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 23; C. S. 3251.)

§ 46-41. When court may decide whether statute passed in another state.—Where a copy of a decree and proceedings of a suit in any other state is produced, as in § 46-40, and also when it is necessary for a superior court to be certified that its decree of a partition of lands without this state and within the territory of another state can have effect therein, it is competent for the judge of the superior court before which the existence of a law in such other state is to be proved, to decide whether any act of the legislature of such state has been passed. (Rev., s. 2503; Code, s. 1915; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 24; C. S. 3252.)

Art. 4. Partition of Personal Property.

§ 46-42. Personal property may be partitioned; commissioners appointed.—When any persons entitled as tenants in common, or joint tenants, of personal property desire to have a division of the same, they, or either of them, may file a petition in the superior court for that purpose; and the court, if it think the petitioners entitled to relief, shall appoint three disinterested commissioners, who, being first duly sworn, shall proceed within twenty days after notice of their appointment to divide such property as nearly equally as possible among the tenants in common, or joint tenants. (Rev., s. 2504; Code, s. 1917; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 27; C. S. 3253.)

§ 46-43. Report of commissioners. — The commissioners shall report their proceedings under the hands of any two of them, and shall file their report in the office of the clerk of the superior court within five days after the partition was made. (Rev., s. 2505; Code, s. 1918; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 28; C. S. 3254.)

§ 46-44. Sale of personal property on partition; report of officer.—If a division of personal property owned by any persons as tenants in common, or joint tenants, cannot be had without injury to some of the parties interested, and a sale thereof is deemed necessary, the court shall order a sale to be made by some officer of the court or other competent person, who shall file his report of sale in the office of the clerk of the court within ten days after sale. (Rev., s. 2519; Code, s. 1919; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 29; C. S. 3255.)

§ 46-45. Confirmation and impeachment of reports of commissioners or officer.—If no exception to the report of the commissioners making partition, or to the report of the officer making sale, as the case may be, is filed within twenty days, the same shall be confirmed. Any party, after confirmation, shall be allowed to impeach the proceedings and decrees for mistake, fraud or collusion, by petition in the cause: Provided, innocent purchasers for full value and without notice shall not be affected thereby. (Rev., ss. 2505, 2519; Code, ss. 1918, 1919; 1868-9, c. 122, ss. 28, 29; C. S. 3256.)

§ 46-46. Notice of sale of personal property.—The sale shall be made after twenty days notice, by advertisement in three or more public places in the county, and shall be on such terms as the court may direct. (Rev., s. 2520; Code, s. 1920; 1868-9, c. 122, s. 30; C. S. 3257.)

Art. 1. Probate.

§ 47-1. Officials of state authorized to take probate.—The execution of all deeds of conveyance, contracts to buy, sell or convey lands, mortgages, deeds of trust, assignments, powers of attorney, covenants to stand seized to the use of another, leases for more than three years, releases and any and all instruments and writings of whatsoever nature and kind which are required or allowed by law to be registered in the office of the register of deeds or which may hereafter be required or allowed by law to be so registered, may be proved or acknowledged before any one of the following officials of this state: the several justices of the supreme court, the several judges of the superior court, commissioners of affidavits appointed by the governor of this state, the clerk of the supreme court, the several clerks of the superior court, the deputy clerks of the superior court, the several clerks of the criminal courts, notaries public, and the several justices of the peace. (Rev., s. 989; Code, s. 1246; 1895, c. 161, ss. 1, 3; 1897, c. 87; 1899, c. 235; C. S. 3293.)

§ 47-2. Officials of the United States, foreign countries, and sister states.—The execution of all such instruments and writings as are permitted or required by law to be registered may be proved or acknowledged before any one of the following officials of the United States, of the District of Columbia, of the several states and territories of the United States, of countries under the dominion of the United States and of foreign countries: Any judge of a court of record, any clerk of a court of record, any notary public, any commissioner of deeds, any mayor or chief magistrate of an incorporated town or city, any ambassador, minister, consul, vice consul, consul general, vice consul general, or commercial agent of the United States, any justice of the peace of any state or territory of the United States. If the proof or acknowledgment of the execution of an instrument is had before a justice of the peace of any state of the United States other than this state or of any territory of the United States, the certificate of such justice of the peace shall be accompanied by a certificate of the clerk of some court of record of the county in which such justice of the peace resides, which certificate of the clerk shall be under his hand and official seal, to the effect that such justice of the peace was at the time the certificate of such justice bears date an acting justice of the peace of such county and state or territory and that the genuine signature of such justice of the peace is set to such certificate. (Rev., s. 990; 1899, c. 235, s. 5; 1905, c. 451; 1913, c. 39, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 72, s. 1; C. S. 3294.)

§ 47-3. Commissioner appointed by clerk for nonresident maker.—When it appears to the clerk of the superior court of any county that any person nonresident of this state desires to acknowledge a power of attorney, deed or other conveyance touching any real estate situated in the county of said clerk, he may issue a commission to a commissioner for receiving such acknowledgment, or taking such proof, and said commissioner may likewise take the acknowledgment and privy examination of a married woman separate and apart from her husband, touching her assent to any power of attorney, deeds or other conveyances, touching real estate in said county. The commissioner shall make certificate of the acknowledgments or proof and privy examination made by him, and shall return the same to the clerk of the superior court, whereupon he shall adjudge that such conveyance, power of attorney or other instrument is duly acknowledged or proved, and that such examination is in due form, and shall order the same to be registered. (Rev., s. 991; Code, s. 1258; 1869-70, c. 185; C. S. 3295.)

§ 47-4. By justice of peace of other than registering county.—If the proof or acknowledgment of any instrument is had before a justice of the peace of any county other than the county in which such instrument is offered for registration, the certificate of proof or acknowledgment made by such justice of the peace shall be accompanied by the certificate of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said justice of the peace resides, that such justice of the peace was at the time his certificate bears date an acting justice of the peace of such county, and that such justice's genuine signature is set to his certificate. The certificate of the clerk of the superior court herein provided for shall be under his hand and official seal. (Rev., s. 992; 1899, c. 235, s. 4; C. S. 3296.)

§ 47-5. When seal of officer necessary to probate.—When proof or acknowledgment of the execution of any instrument by any maker of such instrument, whether a married woman or other person or corporation, is had before any official authorized by law to take such proof and acknowledgment, and such official has an official seal, he shall set his official seal to his certificate. If the official before whom the instrument is proved or acknowledged has no official seal he shall certify under his hand, and his private seal shall not be essential. When the instrument is proved or acknowledged before the clerk or deputy clerk of the superior court of the county in which the instrument is to be registered, the official seal shall not be necessary. (Rev., s. 993; 1899, c. 235, s. 8; C. S. 3297.)

§ 47-6. Officials may act although land or maker's residence elsewhere.—The execution of all instruments required or permitted by law to be registered may be proved or acknowledged before any of the officials authorized by law to take probates, regardless of the county in this state in which the subject-matter of the instrument may be situated and regardless of the domicile, residence or citizenship of the person who executes such instrument, or of the domicile, residence or citizenship of the person to whom or for whose benefit such instrument may be made. (Rev., s. 994; 1899, c. 235, s. 13; C. S. 3298.)

§ 47-7. Probate where clerk is a party.—All instruments required or permitted by law to be registered to which clerks of the superior court are parties, or in which such clerks are interested, may be proved or acknowledged and privy examination of any married woman may be taken before any justice of the peace or notary public of the county of said clerk, which clerk may then under his hand and official seal certify to the genuineness thereof. Such proofs, acknowledgments and examinations may also be taken before any judge of the superior court or justice of the supreme court, and the instruments may be probated and ordered to be registered by such judge or justice, in like manner as is provided by law for probates by clerks of the superior court in other cases. Provided, that nothing contained herein shall prevent the clerk of the superior court who is a party to any instrument, or who is a stockholder or officer of any bank or other corporation which is a party to any instrument, from adjudicating and ordering such instruments for registration as have been acknowledged or proved before some justice of the peace or notary public. All probates, adjudications, and orders of registration made prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred thirty, by any such clerk of conveyances or other papers in which said clerk is an interested party, or other papers by any corporation in which such clerk also is an officer or stockholder, are hereby validated and declared sufficient for all such purposes. (Rev., s. 995; 1891, c. 102; 1893, c. 3; 1913, c. 148, s. 1; 1921, c. 92; 1921, c. 106, s. 2; 1939, c. 210, s. 1; C. S. 3299.)

§ 47-8. Attorney in action not to probate papers therein.—No practicing attorney at law has power to administer any oaths to a person to any paper writing to be used in any legal proceedings in which he appears as attorney. (Rev., s. 2350; Ex. Sess. 1908, c. 105, s. 2; C. S. 3300.)

§ 47-9. Probates before stockholders in building and loan associations.—No acknowledgment or proof of execution, including the privy examination of any married woman, of any mortgage or deed of trust executed to secure the payment of any indebtedness to any building and loan association shall hereafter be held invalid by reason of the fact that the officer taking such acknowledgment, proof or privy examination, is a stockholder in said building and loan association. This section does not authorize any officer or director of a building and loan association to take acknowledgments, proofs and privy examinations. The provisions of this section shall apply to federal savings and loan associations having their principal offices in this state. Acknowledgments and proofs of execution, including private examinations of any married woman taken before March 20, 1939 by an officer who is or was a stockholder in any federal savings and loan association, are hereby validated. (1913, c. 110, ss. 1, 3; 1939, c. 136; C. S. 3301.)

§ 47-10. Probate before stockholders in banking corporations. — No acknowledgment or proof of execution, including privy examination of married women, of any mortgage, or deed of trust executed to secure the payment of any indebtedness to any banking corporation, taken prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine, shall be held invalid by reason of the fact that the officer taking such acknowledgment, proof or privy examination, was a stockholder or director in such banking corporation. (1929, c. 302, s. 1.)

§ 47-11. Subpœnas to maker and subscribing witnesses.—The grantee or other party to an instrument required or allowed by law to be registered may at his own expense obtain from the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the instrument is required to be registered a subpoena for any or all of the makers of or subscribing witnesses to such instrument, commanding such maker or subscribing witness to appear before such clerk at his office at a certain time to give evidence concerning the execution of the instrument. The subpœna shall be directed to the sheriff of the county in which the person upon whom it is to be served resides. If any person refuses to obey such subpœna he is liable to a fine of forty dollars or to be attached for contempt by the clerk, upon its being made to appear to the satisfaction of the clerk that such disobedience was intentional, under the same rules of law as are prescribed in the cases of other defaulting witnesses. (Rev., s. 996; Code, s. 1268; 1899, c. 235, s. 16; 1897, c. 28; C. S. 3302.)

§ 47-12. Proof of attested writing.—If an instrument required or permitted by law to be registered has a subscribing witness and such witness is dead or out of the state, or of unsound mind, the execution of the same may be proved before any official authorized to take the proof and acknowledgment of such instrument by proof of the handwriting of such subscribing witness or of the handwriting of the maker, but this shall not be proof of the execution of instruments by married women. Provided, that no instrument required or permitted by law to be registered shall be proved, probated or ordered to be registered upon the oath and examination of a subscribing witness who is also the grantee named in said instrument, and the registration of any instrument which has been proven and admitted to probate upon the oath and examination of a subscribing witness who is the grantee in said instrument shall be void: Provided further, that nothing herein shall invalidate the registration of any instrument registered prior to the ninth day of April, A.D. one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five. (Rev., s. 997; 1899, c. 235, s. 12; 1935, c. 168; 1937, c. 7; C. S. 3303.)

§ 47-13. Proof of unattested writing.—If an instrument required or permitted by law to be registered has no subscribing witness, the execution of the same may be proved before any official authorized to take the proof and acknowledgment of such instrument by proof of the handwriting of the maker, but this shall not apply to proof of execution of instruments by married women. (Rev., s. 998; 1899, c. 235, s. 11; C. S. 3304.)

§ 47-14. Clerk to pass on certificate and order registration. — When the proof or acknowledgment of the execution of any instrument, required or permitted by law to be registered, is had before any other official than the clerk or deputy clerk of the superior court of the county in which such instrument is offered for registration, the clerk or deputy clerk of the superior court of the county in which the instrument is offered for registration shall, before the same is registered, examine the certificate or certificates of proof or acknowledgment appearing upon the instrument, and if it appears that the instrument has been duly proved or acknowledged and the certificate or certificates to that effect are in due form, he shall so adjudge, and shall order the instrument to be registered, together with the certificates. (Rev., s. 999; 1899, c. 235, s. 7; 1905, c. 414; 1921, c. 91; 1939, c. 210, s. 2; C. S. 3305.)

§ 47-15. Probate of husband's deed where wife insane.—When a deed executed by a married man whose wife is insane or a lunatic, and whose homestead has been allotted, together with the certificate of the clerk of the superior court or with the certificate of the superintendent of the insane institution of the state where the wife is confined in conformity to section 1004 under the chapter Conveyances, is offered for probate before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land conveyed is situated, and the execution of such deed is acknowledged or proved, the clerk shall adjudge whether the certificate of the superintendent or the clerk is in due form, and if adjudged to be in due form he shall order the registration of the deed and certificate. (Rev., s. 1000; 1905, c. 138, s. 2; 1919, c. 20; C. S. 3306.)

§ 47-16. Probate of corporate deeds, where corporation has ceased to exist.—It is competent for the clerk of the superior court in any county in this state, on proof before him upon the oath and examination of the subscribing witness to any contract or instrument required to be registered under the laws of this state, to adjudge and order that such contract or instrument be registered as by law provided, when such contract or instrument is signed by any corporation in its corporate name by its president, and when such corporation has been out of existence for more than ten years when the said contract or instrument is offered for probate and registration, and when the grantee and those claiming under any such grantee have been in the uninterrupted possession of the property described in said contract or instrument since the date of its execution; and said contract or instrument so probated and registered shall be as effective to all intents and purposes as if signed, sealed, and acknowledged, or proven, as provided under the existing laws of this state. (1911, c. 44, s. 1; C. S. 3307.)

Art. 2. Registration.

§ 47-17. Probate and registration sufficient without livery.—All deeds, contracts or leases, before registration, except those executed prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and seventy, shall be acknowledged by the grantor, lessor or the person executing the same, or their signature proven on oath by one or more witnesses in the manner prescribed by law, and all deeds executed and registered according to law shall be valid, and pass title and estates without livery of seizin, attornment or other ceremony. (Rev., s. 979; Code, s. 1245; 1885, c. 147, s. 3; 29, Ch. II, c. 3; R. C., c. 37, s. 1; 1715, c. 7; 1756, c. 58, s. 3; 1838-9, c. 33; 1905, c. 277; C. S. 3308.)

§ 47-18. Conveyances, contracts to convey, and leases of land.—No conveyance of land, or contract to convey, or lease of land for more than three years shall be valid to pass any property, as against creditors or purchasers for a valuable consideration, from the donor, bargainor or lessor, but from the registration thereof within the county where the land lies: Provided, the provisions of this section shall not apply to contracts, leases or deeds executed prior to March first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, until the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six; and no purchase from any such donor, bargainor or lessor shall avail or pass title as against any unregistered deed executed prior to the first day of December, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, when the person holding or claiming under such unregistered deed shall be in the actual possession and enjoyment of such land, either in person or by his tenant, at the time of the execution of such second deed, or when the person claiming under or taking such second deed had at the time of taking or purchasing under such deed actual or constructive notice of such unregistered deed, or the claim of the person holding or claiming thereunder. (Rev., s. 980; Code, s. 1245; 1885, c. 147, s. 1; C. S. 3309.)

§ 47-19. Unregistered deeds prior to January, 1890, registered on affidavit.—Any person holding any unregistered deed or claiming title thereunder, executed prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety, may have the same registered without proof of the execution thereof by making an affidavit, before the officer having jurisdiction to take probate of such deed, that the grantor, bargainor or maker of such deed, and the witnesses thereto, are dead or cannot be found, that he cannot make proof of their handwriting, and that affiant believes such deed to be a bona fide deed and executed by the grantor therein named. Said affidavit shall be written upon or attached to such deed, and the same, together with such deed, shall be entitled to registration in the same manner and with the same effect as if proved in the manner prescribed by law for other deeds. (Rev., s. 981; 1885, c. 147, s. 2; 1905, c. 277; 1913, c. 116; 1915, cc. 13, 90; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 56; C. S. 3310.)

§ 47-20. Deeds of trust and mortgages, real and personal.—No deed of trust or mortgage for real or personal estate shall be valid at law to pass any property as against creditors or purchasers for a valuable consideration from the donor, bargainor or mortgagor, but from the registration of such deed of trust or mortgage in the county where the land lies; or in case of personal estate, where the donor, bargainor or mortgagor resides; or in case the donor, bargainor or mortgagor resides out of the state, then in the county where the said personal estate, or some part of the same, is situated; or in case of choses in action, where the donee, bargainee or mortgagee resides. For the purposes mentioned in this section the principal place of business of a domestic corporation is its residence. (Rev., s. 982; Code, s. 1254; R. C., c. 37, s. 22; 1829, c. 20; 1909, c. 874, s. 1; C. S. 3311.)

§ 47-21. Blank or master forms of mortgages, etc., embodiment by reference in instruments later filed.—It shall be lawful for any person, firm or corporation to have a blank or master form of mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument conveying an interest in, or creating a lien on, real and/or personal property, filed, indexed and recorded in the office of the register of deeds. When any such blank or master form is filed with the register of deeds, he shall record the same, and shall index the same in the manner now provided by law for the indexing of instruments recorded in his office, except that the name of the person, firm or corporation whose name appears on such blank or master form shall be inserted in the indices as grantor and also as grantee. The fee for filing, recording and indexing such blank or master form shall be five ($5.00) dollars.

When any deed, mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument conveying an interest in, or creating a lien on, real and/or personal property, refers to the provisions, terms, covenants, conditions, obligations, or powers set forth in any such blank or master form recorded as herein authorized, and states the office of recordation of such blank or master form, book and page where same is recorded such reference shall be equivalent to setting forth in extenso in such deed, mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument conveying an interest in, or creating a lien on, real and/or personal property, the provisions, terms, covenants, conditions, obligations and powers set forth in such blank or master form. Provided this section shall not apply to Chowan, Stanly, Iredell, Yates, Watauga, Guilford, Camden, Transylvania, Jackson, Washington, Alleghany, Bladen, Halifax, Ashe, Dare, Beaufort, Moore, Swain, Orange, Granville, Perquimans, Martin, Vance, Columbus, Cartaret, Cleveland, Avery, Sampson counties. (1935, c. 153.)

§ 47-22. Counties may provide for photographic or photostatic registration.—The board of county commissioners of any county is hereby authorized and empowered to provide for photographic or photostatic recording of all instruments filed in the office of the register of deeds and in the office of the clerk of the superior court and in other offices of such county where said board may deem such recording feasible. The board of county commissioners may also provide for filing such copies of said instruments in loose leaf binders. (1941, c. 286.)

§ 47-23. Conditional sales of personal property. —All conditional sales of personal property in which the title is retained by the bargainor shall be reduced to writing and registered in the same manner, for the same fees and with the same legal effect as is provided for chattel mortgages, in the county where the purchaser resides, or, in case the purchaser shall reside out of the state, then in the county where the personal estate or some part thereof is situated, or in case of choses in action, where the donee, bargainee or mortgagee resides. (Rev., s. 983; Code, s. 1275; 1891, c. 240; 1883, c. 342; C. S. 3312.)

§ 47-24. Conditional sales or leases of railroad property. — When any railroad equipment and rolling stock is sold, leased or loaned on the condition that the title to the same, notwithstanding the possession and use of the same by the vendee, lessee, or bailee, shall remain in the vendor, lessor or bailor until the terms of the contract, as to the payment of the installments, amounts or rentals payable, or the performance of other obligations thereunder, shall have been fully complied with, such contract shall be invalid as to any subsequent judgment creditor, or any subsequent purchaser for a valuable consideration without notice, unless—

1. The same is evidenced by writing duly acknowledged before some person authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds.

2. Such writing is registered as mortgages are registered, in the office of the register of deeds in at least one county in which such vendee, lessee or bailee does business.

3. Each locomotive or car so sold, leased or loaned has the name of the vendor, lessor, or bailor, or the assignee of such vendor, lessor or bailor plainly marked upon both sides thereof, followed by the word owner, lessor, bailor or assignee as the case may be.

This section shall not apply to or invalidate any contract made before the twelfth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three. (Rev., s. 984; Code, s. 2006; 1883, c. 416; 1907, c. 150, s. 1; C. S. 3313.)

§ 47-25. Marriage settlements. — All marriage settlements and other marriage contracts, whereby any money or other estate is secured to the wife or husband, shall be proved or acknowledged and registered in the same manner as deeds for lands, and shall be valid against creditors and purchasers for value only from registration. (Rev., s. 985; Code, ss. 1269, 1270, 1281; 1885, c. 147; R. C., c. 37, ss. 24, 25; 1785, c. 238; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 12; C. S. 3314.)

§ 47-26. Deeds of gift.—All deeds of gift of any estate of any nature shall within two years after the making thereof be proved in due form and registered, or otherwise shall be void, and shall be good against creditors and purchasers for value only from the time of registration. (Rev., s. 986; Code, s. 1252; 1885, c. 147; R. C., c. 37, s. 18; 1789, c. 315, s. 2; C. S. 3315.)

§ 47-27. Deeds of easements. — All persons, firms, or corporations now owning or hereafter acquiring any deed or agreement for rights of way and easements of any character whatsoever shall record such deeds and agreements in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the land affected is situated. Where such deeds and agreements may have been acquired, but no use has been made thereof, the person, firm, or corporation holding such instrument, or any assignment thereof, shall not be required to record them until within ninety days after the beginning of the use of the easements granted thereby. If after ninety days from the beginning of the easement granted by such deeds and agreements the person, firm, or corporation holding such deeds or agreements has not recorded the same in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the land affected is situated, then the grantor in the said deed or agreement may, after ten days notice in writing served and returned by the sheriff or other officer of the county upon the said person, firm, or corporation holding such lease or agreement, file a copy of the said lease or agreement for registration in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the original should have been recorded, but such copy of the lease or agreement shall have attached thereto the written notice above referred to, showing the service and return of the sheriff or other officer. The registration of such copy shall have the same force and effect as the original would have had if recorded: Provided, said copy shall be duly probated before being registered.

Nothing in this section shall require the registration of the following classes of instruments or conveyances, to wit:

1. It shall not apply to any deed or instrument executed prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and ten.

2. It shall not apply to any deed or instrument so defectively executed or witnessed that it cannot by law be admitted to probate or registration, provided that such deed or instrument was executed prior to the ratification of this section.

3. It shall not apply to decrees of a competent court awarding condemnation or confirming reports of commissioners, when such decrees are on record in such courts.

4. It shall not apply to local telephone companies, operating exclusively within the state, or to agreements about alley-ways.

Any person, firm, or corporation knowingly and willfully violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and each day's continuance of this violation shall be a separate offense. (1917, c. 148; 1919, c. 107; C. S. 3316.)

Local Modification.—Alleghany, Harnett, Lee, Surry, Wilkes: C. S. 3316; Halifax, Martin: 1939, c. 45.

§ 47-28. Powers of attorney.—Every power of attorney, wherever made or concerning whatsoever matter, may, on acknowledgment or proof of the same before any competent official, be registered in the county wherein the property or estate which it concerns is situate, if such power of attorney relate to the conveyance thereof; if it does not relate to the conveyance of any estate or property, then in the county in which the attorney resides or the business is to be transacted. (Rev., s. 987; Code, s. 1249; 1899, c. 235, s. 15; C. S. 3317.)

§ 47-29. Recording of bankuptcy records. — A copy of the petition with the schedules omitted beginning a proceeding under the United States Bankruptcy Act, or of the decree of adjudication in such proceeding, or of the order approving the bond of the trustee appointed in such proceeding, shall be recorded in the office of any register of deeds in North Carolina, and it shall be the duty of the register of deeds, on request, to record the same. The register of deeds shall be entitled to the same fees for such registration as he is now entitled to for recording conveyances. (1939, c. 254.)

§ 47-30. Plats and subdivisions.—Any person, firm or corporation owning land in this State may have a plat thereof recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which such land or any part thereof is situated, upon proof upon oath by the surveyor making such plat that the same is in all respects correct and was prepared from an actual survey by him made, giving the date of such survey, or if the surveyor making such plat is dead, or where land has been sold and conveyed according to an unrecorded plat, upon the oath of a duly licensed surveyor that said map is in all respects correct and that the same was actually and fully checked and verified by him, giving the date on which the same was verified and checked. Such plat, when so proven and probated as deeds and other conveyances, shall be recorded either by transcribing a correct copy thereof upon or by permanently attaching the original to the records or in a book to be designated the "Book of Plats"; and when so recorded shall be duly indexed. Reference in any instrument heretofore or hereafter executed to the record of any plat herein authorized or validated shall have the same effect as if the description of the lands as indicated on the record of the plat were set out in the instrument.

Where any map or plat has been recorded, either by transcribing a correct copy thereof upon or by permanently attaching the original to the records or in a book designated "Book of Plats," such map or plat shall be deemed to have been recorded in full compliance with this section, notwithstanding the fact that the same has not been probated in accordance with the provisions hereof; and the registration of all plats and maps which have been recorded by transcribing a correct copy thereof upon or by permanently attaching the original to the records or in a book designated "Book of Plats" is hereby validated as fully as if the statute had been fully and completely complied with. (1911, c. 55, s. 2; 1923, c. 105; 1935, c. 219; 1941, c. 249; C. S. 3318.)

§ 47-31. Certified copies may be registered; used as evidence.—A duly certified copy of any deed or writing required or allowed to be registered may be registered in any county; and the registry or duly certified copy of any deed or writing when registered in the county where the land is situate may be given in evidence in any court of the state. (Rev., s. 988; Code, s. 1253; 1858-9, c. 18, s. 2; C. S. 3319.)

§ 47-32. Photostatic copies of plats, etc.; fees of clerks.—In all special proceedings in which a plat, map or blue-print shall be filed as a part of the papers, the Clerk of the Superior Court may have a photostatic copy of said plat, map or blue-print made on a sheet of the same size as the leaves in the book in which the special proceeding is recorded, and when made, shall place said photostatic copy in said book at the end of the report of the commissioners or other document referring to said plat, map or blue-print. The Clerk of Superior Court shall be allowed a fee to be fixed by the County Commissioners not exceeding the sum of five dollars to be taxed in the bill of costs, which fee shall cover the cost of making said photostatic copy and all services of the clerk in connection therewith. (1931, c. 171.)

§ 47-33. Certified copies of deeds made by alien property custodian may be registered.—Any copy of a deed made, or purporting to be made, by the United States alien property custodian duly certified pursuant to Title twenty-eight, section six hundred sixty-one of United States Code by the department of justice of the United States, with its official seal impressed thereon, when the said certified copy reveals the fact that the execution of the original was acknowledged by the alien property custodian before a notary public of the District of Columbia, and that the official seal of the alien property custodian by recital was affixed or impressed on the original, and further reveals it to have been approved, as to form, by general counsel, and the copy also shows that the original was signed and approved by the acting chief, division of trusts, and was witnessed by two witnesses, shall, when presented to the register of deeds of any county wherein the land described therein purports to be situate, be recorded by the register of deeds of such county without other or further proof of the execution and/or delivery of the original thereof, and the same when so recorded shall be indexed and cross-indexed by the register of deeds as are deeds made by individuals upon the payment of the usual and lawful fees for the registration thereof. (1937, c. 5, s. 1.)

§ 47-34. Certified copies of deeds made by alien property custodian admissible in evidence. — The record of all such recorded copies of such instruments authorized in § 47-33 shall be received in evidence in all the courts of this state and the courts of the United States in the trial of any cause pending therein, the same as though and with like effect as if the original thereof had been probated and recorded as required by the law of North Carolina, and the record in the office of register of deeds of such recorded copy of such an instrument shall be presumptive evidence that the original of said copy was executed and delivered to the vendee, or vendees therein named, and that the original thereof has been lost or unintentionally destroyed without registration, and in the absence of legal proof to the contrary said so registered copy shall be conclusive evidence that the United States alien property custodian conveyed the lands and premises described in said registered copy to the vendees therein named, as said copy reveals, and title to such land shall pass by such recorded instrument. (1937, c. 5, s. 2.)

§ 47-35. Register to fill in deeds on blank forms with lines.—Registers of deeds shall, in registering deeds and other instruments, where printed skeletons or forms are used by the register, fill all spaces left blank in such skeletons or forms by drawing or stamping a line or lines in ink through such blank spaces. (1911, c. 6, s. 1; C. S. 3320.)

§ 47-36. Errors in registration corrected on petition to clerk.—Every person who discovers that there is an error in the registration of his grant, conveyance, bill of sale or other instrument of writing, may prefer a petition to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which said writing is registered, in the same manner as is directed for petitioners to correct errors in grants or patents, and if on hearing the same before said clerk it appears that errors have been committed, the clerk shall order the register of the county to correct such errors and make the record conformable to the original. The petitioner must notify his grantor and every person claiming title to or having lands adjoining those mentioned in the petition, thirty days previous to preferring the same. Any person dissatisfied with the judgment may appeal to the superior court as in other cases. (Rev., s. 1008; Code, s. 1266; R. C., c. 37, s. 28; 1790, c. 326, ss. 2, 3, 4; C. S. 3321.)

Art. 3. Forms of Acknowledgment, Probate and Order of Registration.

§ 47-37. Adjudication and order of registration.—The form of adjudication and order of registration required by § 47-14 shall be substantially as follows:

North Carolina, ... County.

§ 47-41. Corporate conveyances.—The following forms of probate for deeds and other conveyances executed by a corporation shall be deemed sufficient, but shall not exclude other forms of probate which would be deemed sufficient in law. If the instrument is executed by the president or presiding member or trustee and two other members of the corporation, and sealed with the common seal, the following form shall be sufficient:

North Carolina, ... County.

This ..... day of ....., A. D. ....., personally came before me (here give the name and official title of the officer who signs this certificate), A. B. (here give the name of the subscribing witness), who, being by me duly sworn, says that he knows the common seal of the (here give the name of the corporation), and is also acquainted with C. D., who is the president (or presiding member or trustee), and also with E. F. and G. H., two other members of said corporation; and that he, the said A. B., saw the said president (or presiding member or trustee) and the two said other members sign the said instrument, and saw the said president (or presiding member or trustee) affix the said common seal of said corporation thereto, and that he, the said subscribing witness, signed his name as such subscribing witness thereto in their presence. Witness my hand and (when an official seal is required by law) official seal, this.... day of ..... (year).

(Official seal.)

.....
(Signature of officer.)

If the deed or other instrument is executed by the president, presiding member or trustee of the corporation, and sealed with its common seal, and attested by its secretary or assistant secretary, either of the following forms of proof and certificate thereof shall be deemed sufficient:

North Carolina, ... County.

This .... day of ....., A. D. ....., personally came before me (here give name and official title of the officer who signs the certificate) A. B. (here give the name of the attesting secretary or assistant secretary), who, being by me duly sworn, says that he knows the common seal of (here give the name of the corporation), and is acquainted with C. D., who is the president of said corporation, and that he, the said A. B., is the secretary (or assistant secretary) of the said corporation, and saw the said president sign the foregoing (or annexed) instrument, and saw the said common seal of said corporation affixed to said instrument by said president (or that he, the said A. B., secretary or assistant secretary as aforesaid, affixed said seal to said instrument), and that he, the said A. B., signed his name in attestation of the execution of said instrument in the presence of said president of said corporation. Witness my hand and (when an official seal is required by law) official seal, this the ..... day of ..... (year).

(Official seal.)

.....

North Carolina, ... County.

This is to certify that on the .... day of ....., 19...., before me personally came ..... (president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary, as the case may be), with whom I am personally acquainted, who, being by me duly sworn, says that ..... is the president (or vice-president), and ..... is the secretary (or assistant secretary) of the ....., the corporation described in and which executed the foregoing instrument; that he knows the common seal of said corporation; that the seal affixed to the foregoing instrument is said common seal, and the name of the corporation was subscribed thereto by the said president (or vice-president), and that said president (or vice-president) and secretary (or assistant secretary) subscribed their names thereto, and said common seal was affixed, all by order of the board of directors of said corporation, and that the said instrument is the act and deed of said corporation. Witness my hand and (when an official seal is required by law) official seal, this the .... day of ..... (year).

If the deed or other instrument is executed by the signature of the president, presiding member or trustee of the corporation, and sealed with its common seal and attested by its secretary, or assistant secretary, the following form of proof and certificate thereof shall be deemed sufficient:

This .... day of ....., A. D. ....., personally came before me (here give name and official title of the officer who signs the certificate) A. B., who, being by me duly sworn, says that he is president (presiding member or trustee) of the ..... Company, and that the seal affixed to the foregoing (or annexed) instrument in writing is the corporate seal of the company, and that said writing was signed and sealed by him in behalf of said corporation by its authority duly given. And the said A. B. acknowledged the said writing to be the act and deed of said corporation.

.....
(Signature of officer.)

If the officer before whom the same is proven be the clerk or deputy clerk of the superior court of the county in which the instrument is offered for registration, he shall add to the foregoing certificate the following: "Let the instrument with the certificate be registered."

All corporate conveyances probated and recorded prior to February 14, 1939, wherein the same was attested by the assistant secretary, instead of the secretary, and otherwise regular, are hereby validated as if attested by the secretary of the corporation. (Rev., s. 1005; 1899, c. 235, s. 17; 1901, c. 2, s. 110; 1905, c. 114; 1907, c. 927, s. 1; 1939, c. 20, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3326.)

§ 47-42. Attestation of banking corporation conveyances by cashier.—In all forms of proof and certificate for deeds and conveyances executed by banking corporations, which corporations have no secretary, the cashier of said banking corporation shall attest such instruments; all deeds and conveyances executed prior to February 14, 1939, by banking corporations, where the cashier of said banking corporation has attested said instruments, which deeds and conveyances are otherwise regular, are hereby validated. (1939, c. 20, s. 2½.)

§ 47-43. Form of certificate of acknowledgment of instrument executed by attorney in fact.—When an instrument purports to be signed by parties acting through another by virtue of the execution of a power of attorney, the following form of certificate shall be deemed sufficient, but shall not exclude other forms which would be deemed sufficient in law:

"North Carolina, ...County.

I (here give name of the official and his official title), do hereby certify that (here give name of attorney in fact), attorney in fact for (here give names of parties who executed the instrument through attorney in fact), personally appeared before me this day, and being by me duly sworn, says that he executed the foregoing and annexed instrument for and in behalf of (here give names of parties who executed the instrument through attorney in fact), and that his authority to execute and acknowledge said instrument is contained in an instrument duly executed, acknowledged, and recorded in the office of (here insert name of official in whose office power of attorney is recorded, and the County and State of recordation), on the (day of month, month, and year of recordation), and that this instrument was executed under and by virtue of the authority given by said instrument granting him power of attorney; that the said (here give name of attorney in fact) acknowledged the due execution of the foregoing and annexed instrument for the purposes therein expressed for and in behalf of the said (here give names of parties who executed the instrument through attorney in fact).

WITNESS my hand and official seal, this .... day of ....., (year) .....

(Official Seal). ....."

§ 47-44. Clerk's certificate upon probate by justice of peace. — When the proof or acknowledgment of any instrument is had before a justice of the peace of some other state or territory of the United States, or before a justice of the peace of this state, but of a county different from that in which the instrument is offered for registration, the form of certificate as to his official position and signature shall be substantially as follows:

North Carolina, ... County.

I, A. B. (here give name and official title of a clerk of a court of record), do hereby certify that C. D. (here give the name of the justice of the peace taking the proof, etc.), was at the time of signing the foregoing (or annexed) certificate an acting justice of the peace in and for the county of ..... and state (or territory) of ....., and that his signature thereto is in his own proper handwriting.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and official seal, this ..... day of ....., A. D. .....

(Official seal.)

(Rev., s. 1006; 1899, c. 235, s. 8; C. S. 3327.)

§ 47-45. Clerk's certificate upon probate by nonresident official without seal.—When the proof or acknowledgment of any instrument is had before any official of some other state, territory or country and such official has no official seal, then the certificate of such official shall be accompanied by the certificate of a clerk of a court of record of the state, territory or country in which the official taking the proof or acknowledgment resides, of the official position and signature of such official; such certificate of the clerk shall be under his hand and official seal and shall be in substance as follows:

.....County.

I, A. B. (here give name and official title of the clerk of a court of record as provided herein), do hereby certify that C. D. (here give name of the official taking the proof, etc.) was at the time of signing the foregoing (or annexed) certificate a (here give the official title of the officer taking proof, etc.) in and for the county of .... and state of ..... (or other political division of the state, territory or country, as the case may be), and that his signature thereto is in his own proper handwriting.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and official seal, this .... day of ....., A. D. .....

(Rev., s. 1007; 1899, c. 235, s. 8; C. S. 3328.)

§ 47-46. Verification; form of entry.—The registers of deeds in the several counties of the State shall, after each instrument or document has been transcribed on the record, verify the record with the original and the entry of record shall read "Recorded and Verified," and the same shall be without extra charge. (1929, c. 320, s. 1.)

Art. 4. Curative Statutes; Acknowledgments; Probates; Registration.

§ 47-47. Defective order of registration; "same" for "this instrument."—Where instruments were admitted to registration prior to March 2, 1905, and the clerk's order for the registration used the word "same" in place of "this instrument," the said registrations are good and valid. (Rev., s. 1010; 1905, c. 344; C. S. 3329.)

§ 47-48. Clerk's certificate failing to pass on all prior certificates.—When it appears that the clerk of the superior court or other officer having the power to probate deeds, in passing upon deeds or other instruments, and the certificates thereto, having more than one certificate of the same or a prior date, by other officer or officers taking acknowledgment or probating the same, has in his certificate or order mentioned only one or more of the preceding or foregoing certificates or orders, but not all of them, but has admitted the same deed or other instrument to probate, it shall be conclusively presumed that he has passed upon all the certificates of said deed or instrument necessary to the admission of the same to probate, and the certificate of said clerk or other probating officer shall be deemed sufficient and the probate and registration of said deed or instrument is hereby made and declared valid for all intents and purposes. (1917, c. 237; C. S. 3330.)

§ 47-49. Defective certification or adjudication of clerk, etc., admitting to registration. — In all cases where, prior to January first, nineteen hundred and nineteen, instruments by law required or authorized to be registered, with certificates showing the acknowledgment or proof of execution thereof as required by the laws of the state of North Carolina, have been ordered registered by the clerk of the superior court or other officer qualified to pass upon probates and admit instruments to registration, and actually put upon the books in the office of the register of deeds as if properly proven and ordered to be registered, all such probates and registrations are hereby validated and made as good and sufficient as though such instruments had been in all respects properly proved and recorded, notwithstanding the failure of clerks or other officers qualified to pass upon the proofs or acknowledgments of instruments and to admit such instruments to registration to adjudge or certify that said instruments were duly proven, and notwithstanding the failure of such officers to adjudge or certify that the certificates of proof or acknowledgment of said instruments were correct or in due form. (1919, c. 248; C. S. 3331.)

§ 47-50. Order of registration omitted.—In all cases prior to January 1, 1941, where it appears from the records in the office of the register of deeds of any county in this state that the execution of a deed of conveyance or other instrument by law required or authorized to be registered was duly acknowledged, as required by the laws of the state of North Carolina, and the clerk or deputy clerk of the superior court of such county has properly proved and adjudged that the certificate or certificates of the official before whom such acknowledgment was taken is in due form, except that the order for registration by said clerk was omitted, any and all such probates and registration are hereby validated, and the record of such deeds of conveyance, or other instruments authorized or required to be registered, may be read in evidence upon the trial or hearing of any cause with the same force and effect as if the same had been duly ordered registered. (1911, cc. 91, 166; 1913, c. 61; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 73; 1915, c. 179, s. 1; 1941, cc. 187, 229; C. S. 3332.)

§ 47-51. Official deeds omitting seals.—All deeds executed prior to July 1, 1939, by any sheriff, commissioner, receiver, or other officer authorized to execute a deed by virtue of his office or appointment, in which the officer has omitted to affix his seal after his signature, shall not be invalid on account of the omission of such seal. (1907, c. 807; 1917, c. 69, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 64; 1941, c. 13; C. S. 3333.)

§ 47-52. Defective acknowledgment on old deeds validated. — The clerk of the superior court may order registered any deed, or other conveyance of land, in all cases where the instrument and probate bears date prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and seven (1907) where the acknowledgment, private examination, or other proof of execution, has been taken or had before a notary public residing in the county where the land is situate, where said officer failed to affix his official seal, and where the certificate of said officer appears otherwise to be genuine. (1933, c. 439.)

§ 47-53. Probates omitting official seals. — In all cases where the acknowledgment, private examination, or other proof of the execution of any deed, mortgage, or other instrument authorized or required to be registered has been taken or had by or before any commissioner of affidavits and deeds of this state, or clerk or deputy clerk of a court of record, or notary public of this or any other state, territory, or district, and such deed, mortgage, or other instrument has heretofore been recorded in any county in this state, but such commissioner, clerk, deputy clerk, or notary public has omitted to attach his or her official or notarial seal thereto, or it does not appear of record that such seal was attached to the original deed, mortgage, or other instrument, or such commissioner, clerk, deputy clerk, or notary public has certified the same as under his or her "official seal," "notarial seal," or words of similar import, and no such seal appears of record, then all such acknowledgments, private examinations or other proofs of such deeds, mortgages, or other instruments, and the registration thereof, are hereby made in all respects valid and binding. The provisions of this section apply to acknowledgments, private examinations, or proofs taken prior to January first, 1929. (Rev., s. 1012; 1907, cc. 213, 665, 971; 1911, c. 4; 1915, c. 36; 1929, c. 8, s. 1; C. S. 3334.)

§ 47-54. Registrations by register's clerks or deputies.—All registration of deeds and other instruments heretofore made by the several registers of deeds of the several counties of the state by their deputies and clerks, and signed in the name of the register of deeds by a deputy or clerk, and when said registration is in all other respects regular, are hereby validated and declared of the same force and effect as if signed in the name of the register and not by a deputy or clerk. (1911, c. 184, s. 1; C. S. 3335.)

§ 47-55. Before officer in wrong capacity or out of jurisdiction.—All deeds, conveyances, or other instruments permitted by law to be registered in this state, which have been probated or ordered to be registered previous to January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, before any officer of this or any other state or country, authorized by law to take acknowledgments or to order registration, where the certificate of the probate or order of registration is sufficient in form, but appears to have been certified by the officer in some capacity other than that in which such officer was authorized to act, or appears to have been made out of the county or district authorized by law, but within the state, and where the instrument with such certificate has been recorded in the proper county, are hereby declared to have been duly proved, probated and recorded, and to be valid. (Rev., ss. 1017, 1030; 1913, c. 125, s. 1; C. S. 3336.)

§ 47-56. Before justices of peace, where clerk's certificate or order or registration defective.—In every case where it appears from the record of the office of any register of deeds in this state that a justice of the peace in this state has taken and certified the proof of any instrument required by law to be registered, or the privy examination of a married woman thereto, and the deed and certificate have been registered, prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and seven, in the county where the lands described in the instrument are located, without or with a defective certificate of the clerk of the official character of the justice, or as to the genuineness of his signature, or without the order of registration of the clerk, or his adjudication of due probate, or with a defective adjudication thereof, such proofs, certificates and registration are validated; but as against creditors or purchasers from donor, bargainor or lessor, only from February first, nineteen hundred and seven. (1907, c. 83, s. 1; C. S. 3337.)

Local Modification.—Clay: 1933, c. 530.

§ 47-57. Probates on proof of handwriting of maker refusing to acknowledge.—All registrations of instruments, prior to February fifth, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven, permitted or required by law to be registered, which were ordered to registration upon proof of the handwriting of the grantor or maker who refused to acknowledge the execution, are hereby validated. (Rev., s. 1026; 1897, c. 28; C. S. 3338.)

§ 47-58. Before judges of supreme or superior courts or clerks before 1889.—Wherever the judges of the supreme or the superior court, or the clerks or deputy clerks of the superior court, or courts of pleas and quarter sessions, mistaking their powers, have essayed previously to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine, to take the probate of any instrument required or allowed by law to be registered, and the privy examination of femes covert, whose names are signed to such deeds, and have ordered said deeds to registration, and the same have been registered, all such probates, privy examinations and registrations are validated. (Rev., s. 1009; Code, s. 1260; 1871-2, c. 200, s. 1; 1889, c. 252; 1891, c. 484; C. S. 3339.)

§ 47-59. Before clerks of inferior courts.—All probates and orders of registration made by and taken before any clerk of any inferior or criminal court prior to the twentieth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five, and valid in form and substance, shall be valid and effectual, and all deeds, mortgages or other instruments requiring registration, registered upon such probate and order of registration, shall be valid. This section shall apply only to the counties of Halifax, Northampton, Hertford, Buncombe, Mecklenburg, Granville, Beaufort, Lenoir, Robeson, Cumberland, Ashe, Martin, Wayne, Greene, Iredell, Bertie, Edgecombe, Duplin and New Hanover. This section applies to probates and private examinations taken before the clerks of the criminal court of Buncombe prior to February second, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three. (Rev., ss. 1020, 1021; 1885, cc. 105, 108; 1889, c. 143; 1889, c. 463; C. S. 3340.)

§ 47-60. Order of registration by judge, where clerk party.—All deeds, mortgages or other instruments which prior to the twentieth day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, have been probated by a justice of the peace and ordered to registration by a judge of the superior court or justice of the supreme court, to which clerks of the superior court are parties, are hereby confirmed, and the probates and orders for registration declared to be valid. (Rev., s. 1011; 1893, c. 3, s. 2; C. S. 3342.)

§ 47-61. Order of registration by interested clerk.—The probate and registration of all deeds, mortgages and other instruments requiring registration prior to the fifteenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, to which the clerks of the superior courts are parties, or in which they have an interest, and which have been registered on the order of such clerks or their deputies, or by assistant clerks of the superior courts, on proof of acknowledgment taken before such clerks, assistant clerks, deputy clerks, justices of the peace or notaries public, be, and the same are declared valid. (Rev., s. 1015; 1891, c. 102; 1899, c. 258; 1905, c. 427; 1907, c. 1003, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1908, c. 105, s. 1; 1935, c. 235; C. S. 3343.)

§ 47-62. Probates before interested notaries.—The proof and acknowledgment of instruments required by law to be registered in the office of the register of deeds of a county, and all privy examinations of a feme covert to such instruments made before any notary public on or since March eleventh, one thousand nine hundred and seven, are hereby declared valid and sufficient, notwithstanding the notary may have been interested as attorney, counsel or otherwise in such instruments. (Ex. Sess. 1908, c. 105, s. 2; C. S. 3344.)

§ 47-63. Probates before officer of interested corporation.—In all cases when acknowledgment or proof of any conveyance has been taken before a clerk of superior court, justice of the peace or notary public, who was at the time a stockholder or officer in any corporation, bank or other institution which was a party to such instrument, the certificates of such clerk, justice of the peace, or notary public shall be held valid, and are so declared. (Rev., s. 1015; 1907, c. 1003, s. 1; C. S. 3345.)

§ 47-64. Probates before officers, stockholders or directors of corporations prior to January 1, 1929.—No acknowledgment or proof of execution, including privy examination of married women, of any deed, mortgage or deed of trust to which instrument a corporation is a party, executed prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, shall be held invalid by reason of the fact that the officer taking such acknowledgment, proof or privy examination was an officer, stockholder, or director in said corporation; but such proofs and acknowledgments and the registration thereof, if in all other respects valid, are declared to be valid. Nor shall the registration of any such instrument ordered to be registered be held invalid by reason of the fact that the clerk or deputy clerk ordering the registration was an officer, stockholder or director in any corporation which is a party to any such instrument. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 41; 1929, c. 24, s. 1; C. S. 3346.)

§ 47-65. Clerk's deeds, where clerk appointed himself to sell.—All deeds made by any clerk of the superior court of any county or his deputy, prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and five, in any proceeding before him in which he has appointed himself or his deputy to make sale of real property or other property are hereby validated. (1911, c. 146, s. 1; C. S. 3347.)

§ 47-66. Certificate of wife's "previous" examination.—All probates of deeds, letters of attorney or other instruments requiring registration to which married women were parties, had and taken prior to the fourteenth day of February, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, in which probate it appears that such married women were "previously examined" instead of "privately examined," are hereby validated and confirmed. (Rev., s. 1016; 1893, c. 130; C. S. 3348.)

§ 47-67. Probates of husband and wife in wrong order.—All probates prior to March 6, 1893, of instruments executed by a husband and wife in which the probate as to the husband has been taken before or subsequent to the privy examination of his wife are validated. (Rev., s. 1017; 1893, c. 293; C. S. 3349.)

§ 47-68. Probates of husband and wife before different officers.—Where, prior to the second day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the probate of a deed or other instrument, executed by husband and wife, has been taken as to the husband and the wife by different officers having the power to take probates of deeds, whether both officers reside in this state or one in this state and the other in another state, or foreign country, the said probate, in the cases mentioned, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, and all deeds and other instruments required to be registered, and which have been ordered to registration by the proper officer in this state, and upon such probate or probates, and have been registered, shall be taken and considered as duly registered, and the word "probate," as used in this section, shall include privy examination of the wife. (Rev., s. 1018; 1895, c. 120; 1907, c. 34, s. 1; C. S. 3350.)

§ 47-69. Wife free trader; no examination or husband's assent. — In all cases prior to the twenty-fourth day of September, nineteen hundred and thirteen, where a married woman who was at the time a free trader by her husband's consent has executed and delivered a deed conveying her land, without her privy examination having been taken, and without the written assent of her husband other than his written assent contained in the instrument making her a free trader, such deed shall be valid and effectual to convey her land as if she had been, at the time of the execution and delivery of such deed, a feme sole. This section does not validate such deed where it would affect the title to land or property of purchasers or their grantees or assignees from such married woman and free trader subsequent to the execution of such deed. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 54, s. 1; C. S. 3351.)

§ 47-70. By president and attested by treasurer under corporate seal.—All deeds and conveyances for lands in this state, made by any corporation of this state, which have heretofore been proved or acknowledged before any notary public in any other state, or before any commissioner of deeds and affidavits for the state of North Carolina in any other state, and sealed with the common seal of the corporation and attested by the treasurer, are hereby ratified and declared to be good and valid deeds for all purposes. Where such deeds have been executed for the corporation by its president and attested, sealed and acknowledged or probated as aforesaid, and the acknowledgment or probate has been duly adjudged sufficient by any deputy clerk and ordered registered, the acknowledgment, probate and registration are ratified, and said deed is declared valid. Such deeds, or certified copies thereof, may be used as evidence of title to the lands therein conveyed in the trial of any suits in any of the courts of this state where the title of said lands shall come in controversy. (Rev., s. 1028; 1905, c. 307; C. S. 3352.)

§ 47-71. By president and attested by witness before January, 1900.—Any deed or conveyance for land in this state, made prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred, by the president of any corporation duly chartered under the laws of this state, and attested by a witness, is hereby declared to be a good and valid deed by such corporation for all purposes, and shall be admitted to probate and registration and shall pass title to the property therein conveyed to the grantee as fully as if said deed were executed according to provisions and forms of law in force in this state at the date of the execution of said deed. (1909, c. 859, s. 1; C. S. 3353.)

§ 47-72. Corporate name not affixed, but signed otherwise prior to January, 1927.—In all cases prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven, where any deed conveying lands purported to be executed by a corporation, but the corporate name was in fact not affixed to said deed, but same was signed by the president and secretary of said corporation, or by the president and two members of the governing body of said corporation, and said deed has been registered in the county where the land conveyed by said deed is located, said defective execution above described shall be and the same is hereby declared to be in all respects valid, and such deed shall be deemed to be in all respects the deed of said corporation. (1919, c. 53, s. 1; 1927, c. 126; C. S. 3354.)

§ 47-73. Probated and registered on oath of subscribing witness.—In all cases prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, where any deed conveying lands was executed by a corporation, and said deed was probated and ordered registered upon the oath and examination of a subscribing witness, by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land conveyed by said deed is located, and said deed has been duly registered by the register of deeds of said county, such probate and order of registration shall be, and the same is hereby, declared to be in all respects valid. (1919, c. 53, s. 2; C. S. 3355.)

§ 47-74. Certificate alleging examination of grantor instead of witness.—Wherever any deed of conveyance registered prior to January first, eighteen hundred and eighty-six, purports to have been attested by two witnesses and in the certificate of probate and acknowledgment it is stated that the execution of such deed was proven by the oath and examination of one of the grantors in said deed instead of either of the witnesses named, all such probates and certificates are hereby validated and confirmed, and any such deed shall be taken and considered as duly acknowledged and probated. (1925, c. 84.)

§ 47-75. Proof of corporate articles before officer authorized to probate.—All proofs of articles of agreement for the creation of corporations which were, prior to the eighteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and one, made before any officer who was at that time authorized by the law to take proofs and acknowledgments of deeds and mortgages are ratified. (Rev., s. 1027; 1901, c. 170; C. S. 3356.)

§ 47-76. Before officials of wrong state. — In all cases where the acknowledgment, examination and probate of any deed, mortgage, power of attorney or other instrument required or authorized to be registered has been taken before any judge, clerk of a court of record, notary public having a notarial seal, mayor of a city having a seal, or justice of the peace of a state other than the state in which the grantor, maker or subscribing witness resided at the time of the execution, acknowledgment, examination or probate thereof, and such acknowledgment, examination or probate is in other respects according to law, and such instrument has been duly ordered to registration and has been registered, then such acknowledgment, examination, probate and registration are hereby in all respects made valid and binding. This section applies to probates and acknowledgments of deputy clerks of other states when such probate and acknowledgment has been attested by the official seal of said office and adjudged sufficient and in due form of law by the clerk of the court in the state where the instrument is required to be registered. (Rev., s. 1013; 1905, c. 505; C. S. 3357.)

§ 47-77. Before notaries and clerks in other states.—All deeds and conveyances made for lands in this state which have, previous to February fifteenth, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, been proved before a notary public or clerk of a court of record, or before a court of record, not including mayor's court, of any other state, where such proof has been duly certified by such notary or clerk under his official seal, or the seal of the court, or in accordance with the act of congress regulating the certifying of records of the courts of one state to another state, or under the seal of such courts, and such deed or conveyance, with the certificate, has been registered in the office of register of deeds in the book of records thereof for the county in which such lands were situate at the time of such registration, are declared to be validly registered, and the proof and registration is adjudged valid. All deeds and conveyances so proved, certified and registered, or certified copies of the same, may be used as evidence of title for the lands on the trial of any suit in any courts where title to the lands come into controversy. (Rev., ss. 1022, 1023; Code, ss. 1262, 1263; 1883, c. 129, ss. 1, 2; 1885, c. 11; 1915, c. 213; C. S. 3358.)

§ 47-78. Acknowledgment by resident taken out of state.—When prior to the ninth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, a deed or mortgage executed by a resident of this state has been proved or acknowledged by the maker thereof before a notary public of any other state of the United States, and has been ordered to be registered by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land conveyed is situated, and said deed or mortgage has been registered, such registration is valid. (Rev., s. 1019; 1895, c. 181; C. S. 3359.)

§ 47-79. Before deputy clerks of courts of other states.—Where any deed or conveyance of lands in this state, executed prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, has been acknowledged by the grantor or the privy examination of any married woman has been taken before the deputy clerk of a court of record of any other state, and the certificate of acknowledgment and privy examination is otherwise sufficient under the laws of this state, except that it appears to have been signed in the name of the clerk of said court, by the deputy clerk, and the seal of the court has been affixed thereto, and such certificate has been duly approved by the clerk of the superior court of this state in the county where the lands conveyed are situated and the instrument ordered to be recorded, such certificate and probate and the registration made thereon is validated, and the conveyance, if otherwise sufficient, is declared valid. (1913, c. 57, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3360.)

§ 47-80. Sister state probates without governor's authentication. — In all cases where any deed concerning lands or any power of attorney for the conveyance of the same, or any other instrument required or allowed to be registered, has been, prior to the twenty-ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and one, acknowledged by the grantor therein, or proved and the private examination of any married woman, who was a party thereto, taken according to law, before any judge of a supreme, superior or circuit court of any other state or territory of the United States where the parties to such instrument resided, and the certificate of such judge as to such acknowledgment, probate or private examination, and also the certificate of the secretary of state of said state or territory instead of the governor thereof (as required by the laws of this state then in force) that the judge, before whom the acknowledgment or probate and private examination were taken, was at the time of taking the same a judge as aforesaid, are attached to said deed, or other instrument, and the said deed or other instrument, having said certificates attached, has been exhibited before the former judge of probate, or the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the property is situated, and such acknowledgment, or probate and private examination have been adjudged by him to be sufficient and said deed or other instrument ordered to be registered and has been registered accordingly, such probate and registration shall be valid. Nothing herein contained affects the rights of third parties who are purchasers for value, without notice, from the grantor in such deed or other instrument. (Rev., s. 1014; 1901, c. 39; C. S. 3361.)

§ 47-81. Before commissioners of deeds.—Any deed or other instrument permitted by law to be registered, and which has prior to the third day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, been proved or acknowledged before a commissioner of deeds, is validated; and its registration is authorized and validated. (1913, c. 39, s. 2; C. S. 3362.)

§ 47-82. Foreign probates omitting seals.—In all cases where the acknowledgment, privy examination or other proof of the execution of any instrument authorized or required to be registered has been taken by or before any ambassador, minister, consul, vice consul, vice consul general or commercial agent of the United States in any country beyond the limits of the United States, and such instrument has heretofore been recorded in any county in this state, but the official before whom it was taken has omitted to attach his seal of office, or it does not appear of record that such seal was attached to the instrument, or such official has certified the same as under his "official seal" or seal of his office, or words of similar import, and no such seal appears of record, then all such acknowledgments, privy examinations or other proof of such instruments, and the registration thereof, are hereby made in all respects valid, and such instruments, after the ratification hereof, shall be competent to be read in evidence. (1913, c. 69, s. 1; C. S. 3363.)

§ 47-83. Before consuls general.—Any deed or other instrument permitted by law to be registered, and which has prior to the thirteenth day of October, nineteen hundred and thirteen, been proved or acknowledged before a "consul general," is validated; and its registration is authorized and validated. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 72, s. 2; C. S. 3364.)

§ 47-84. Before vice consuls and vice consuls general.—The order for registration by the clerk of the superior court and the registration thereof of all deeds of conveyance and other instruments in any county of this state prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and five, upon the certificate of any vice consul or vice consul general of the United States residing in a foreign country, certifying in due form under his name and the official seal of the United States consul or United States consul general of the same place and country where such vice consul or vice consul general resided and acted, that he has taken the proof or acknowledgments of the parties to such instruments, together with the privy examinations of married women parties thereto, are hereby, together with such proof and acknowledgments, privy examinations and certificates, validated. (Rev., s. 1024; 1905, c. 451, s. 2; C. S. 3365.)

§ 47-85. Before masters in chancery.—All probates, acknowledgments, and private examinations of deeds and conveyances of land heretofore taken before masters in equity or masters in chancery in any other state are declared to be valid, and all registrations of such deeds or conveyances upon such probates, acknowledgments and private examinations, or any of them, are hereby declared to be sufficient. All such deeds and conveyances and registration thereof, and all certified copies of such registrations, shall be received in evidence or otherwise used in the same manner and with the same force and effect as other deeds and conveyances with probates, acknowledgments, or private examinations made in accordance with provisions of statutes of this state in force at the time and as registrations thereof and certified copies of such registrations. Nothing in this section contained shall have effect to deprive any one of any legal rights acquired, before its passage, from the grantors in such deeds or conveyances subsequently to their execution, where the deeds or conveyances by which such rights were acquired have been duly acknowledged or probated and registered. (1911, c. 10; C. S. 3366.)

§ 47-86. Validation of probate of deeds by clerks of courts of record of other states, where official seal is omitted.—In all cases where, prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one, the acknowledgment, privy examination of a married woman, or other proof of the execution of any deed, mortgage, other instrument authorized to be registered has been taken before a clerk of a court of record in another state, and such clerk has failed or neglected to affix his official seal to his certificate of such acknowledgment, privy examination, or other proof of execution, of such deed, mortgage or other instrument, or where such court had no official seal and no official seal was affixed to such certificate by reason of that fact, and such deed, mortgage, or other instrument has been ordered to registration by the clerk of the superior court of any county in this state and has been registered, the probate of any and every such deed, mortgage, or other instrument authorized to be registered shall be and hereby is to all intents and purposes validated. (1921, c. 15, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 3366(a).)

§ 47-87. Validation of probates by different officers of deeds by wife and husband.—In all cases where, prior to the second day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five, the acknowledgment, privy examination of a married woman, or other proof of the execution of any deed, mortgage, or other instrument, authorized to be registered, executed by husband and wife, has been taken as to the husband and wife in different states and by different officers having power to take acknowledgments, any and every such acknowledgment, privy examination of a married woman, or other proof of execution, and the probate of any and every such deed, mortgage or other instrument shall be and hereby is, to all intents and purposes validated. (1921, c. 19, ss. 1, 4; C. S. 3366(b).)

§ 47-88. Registration without formal order validated. — In all cases where the acknowledgment, privy examination of a married woman, or other proof of the execution of any deed, mortgage or other instrument, authorized to be registered, has been taken before a commissioner in another state appointed by the probate judge of any county of this state, under the provisions of section twenty of chapter thirty-five of Battle's Revisal, during the time said chapter remained in force and effect, and such commissioner has certified to such acknowledgment, privy examination or other proof, and has returned such deed, mortgage or other instrument to said probate judge, with his certificate endorsed thereon, and such deed, mortgage or other instrument, together with such certificate, has been registered, without any adjudication or order of registration by such probate judge, the probate and registration of any and every such deed shall be, and hereby is, to all intents and purposes validated. (1921, c. 19, ss. 2, 4; C. S. 3366(c).)

§ 47-89. Same.—In all cases where any deed, mortgage or other instrument has heretofore been acknowledged or probated in accordance with the provisions of §§ 47-87 and 47-88, and such deed, mortgage or other instrument has been registered, without any order of registration by the probate judge or clerk of the superior court appearing thereon, the probate and registration of any and every such deed, mortgage or other instrument shall be, and hereby is to all intents and purposes validated. (1921, c. 19, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 3366(d).)

§ 47-90. Validation of acknowledgments taken by notaries public holding other office.—In every case where deeds or other instruments have been acknowledged before a notary public, when the notary public, at the time was also holding some other office, and the deed or other instrument has been duly probated and recorded, such acknowledgment taken by such notary public is hereby declared to be sufficient and valid. (1921, c. 21; C. S. 3366(e).)

§ 47-91. Validation of certain probates of deeds before consular agents of the United States.—In all cases where the acknowledgment, privy examination of a married woman, or other proof of the execution of any deed, mortgage or other instrument authorized or required to be registered has been taken before any consular agent of the United States, during the time chapter thirty-five of Battle's Revisal remained in force and effect, and such acknowledgment, privy examination, or other proof of the execution of such deed, mortgage, or other instrument is in other respects regular and in proper form, and such deed, mortgage, or other instrument has been duly ordered to registration and registered in the proper county, the acknowledgment, probate, and registration of any and every such deed, mortgage, or other instrument is hereby validated as fully and to the same effect as though such acknowledgment, privy examination, or other proof of execution had been taken before one of the officers named in subsection five of section two of said chapter thirty-five of Battle's Revisal. (1921, c. 157; C. S. 3366(f).)

§ 47-92. Probates before stockholders and directors of banks.—No acknowledgment or proof of execution, including privy examination of married women, of any mortgage, or deed of trust executed to secure the payment of any indebtedness to any banking corporation, taken prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (1923), shall be held invalid by reason of the fact that the officer taking such acknowledgment, proof, or privy examination was a stockholder or director in such banking corporation. (1923, c. 17; C. S. 3366(g).)

§ 47-93. Acknowledgments taken by stockholder, officer, or director of bank.—No acknowledgment or proof of execution, including privy examination of married women, of any mortgage or deed of trust executed to secure the payment of any indebtedness to any banking corporation taken prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, shall be held invalid by reason of the fact that the officer taking such acknowledgment, proof, or privy examination was a stockholder, officer, or director in such banking corporation. (1924, c. 68.)

§ 47-94. Acknowledgment and registration by officer or stockholder in building and loan association.—All acknowledgments and proofs of execution, including privy examination of married women, of any mortgage or deed of trust executed to secure the payment of any indebtedness to any building and loan association prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, shall not be, nor held to be, invalid by reason of the fact that the clerk of the Superior Court, justice of the peace, notary public, or other officer taking such acknowledgment, proof of execution or privy examination, was an officer or stockholder in such building and loan association; but such proofs and acknowledgments of all such instruments, and the registration thereof, if in all other respects valid, are hereby declared to be valid.

Nor shall the registration of any such mortgage or deed of trust ordered to be registered by the clerk of the Superior Court, or by any deputy or assistant clerk of the Superior Court, be or held to be invalid by reason of the fact that the clerk of the Superior Court, or deputy, or assistant clerk of the Superior Court, ordering such mortgages or deeds of trust to be registered was an officer or stockholder in any building and loan association, whose indebtedness is secured in and by such mortgage or deed of trust. (1924, c. 108; 1929, c. 146, s. 1.)

§ 47-95. Acknowledgments taken by notaries interested as trustee or holding other office.—In every case where deeds and other instruments have been acknowledged and privy examination of wives had before notaries public, or justices of the peace, prior to January 1, 1939, when the notary public or justice of the peace at the time was interested as trustee in said instrument or at the time was also holding some other office, and the deed or other instrument has been duly probated and recorded, such acknowledgment and privy examination taken by such notary public or justice of the peace is hereby declared to be sufficient and valid. (1923, c. 61; 1931, cc. 166, 439; 1939, c. 321; C. S. 3366(h).)

§ 47-96. Validation of instruments registered without probate.—In every case where it shall appear from the records in the office of the register of deeds of any county in the state that any instrument of writing required or allowed by law to be registered prior to January first, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, without any acknowledgment, proof, privy examination, or probate, or upon a defective acknowledgment, proof, privy examination, or probate, the record of such instrument may, notwithstanding, be read in evidence in any of the courts of this state, if otherwise competent. (1923, c. 215, s. 1; C. S. 3366(i).)

Local Modification.—Cherokee, Graham: 1935, c. 92.

§ 47-97. Validation of corporate deed with mistake as to officer's name. — In all cases where the deed of a corporation executed before the first day of January, 1918, is properly executed, properly recorded and there is error in the probate of said corporation's deed as to the name or names of the officers in said probate, said deed shall be construed to be a deed of the same force and effect as if said probate were in every way proper. (1933, c. 412, s. 1.)

§ 47-98. Registration on defective probates beyond state.—In every case where it shall appear from the records in the office of the register of deeds of any county in this state that any instrument required or allowed by law to be registered, bearing date prior to the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five, executed by any person or persons residing in any of the United States, other than this state, or in any of the territories of the United States, or in the District of Columbia, has been proven or acknowledged, or the privy examination of any feme covert taken thereto, before any officer or person authorized by any of the laws of this state in force prior to the said year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five to take such proofs, privy examinations and acknowledgments, and the said instrument has been registered in the proper county without the certificate of the governor of the state or territory in which such proofs, acknowledgments or privy examinations were taken, or of the secretary of state of the United States, when such certificate or certificates were required, as to the official character of the person taking such acknowledgment, proof or privy examination, as aforesaid, and without an order of registration made by a court or judge in this state having jurisdiction to make such order, then and in all such cases such proofs, privy examinations, acknowledgments and registrations are hereby in all respects fully validated and confirmed and declared to be sufficient in law, and such instruments so registered may be read in evidence in any of the courts of this state. (1923, c. 215, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 3366(j).)

§ 47-99. Certificate of clerks without seal.—All certificates of acknowledgment and all verifications of pleadings, affidavits, and other instruments executed by clerks of the Superior Court of the State prior to March 10, 1925, and which do not bear the official seal of such clerks, are hereby validated in all cases in which the instruments bearing such acknowledgment or certification are filed or recorded in any county in the State other than the county in which the clerk executing such certificates of acknowledgment or vertifications resides, and such acknowledgments and verifications are hereby made and declared to be binding, valid and effective to the same extent and in the same manner as if said official seal had been affixed. (1925, c. 248.)

§ 47-100. Acknowledgments taken by officer who was grantor.—In all cases where a deed or deeds dated prior to the first day of January, 1910, purporting to convey lands, have been registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county where the lands conveyed in said deed or deeds are located, prior to said first day of January, nineteen hundred and ten, and the acknowledgments or proof of execution of such deed or deeds has been taken as to some of the grantors by an officer who was himself one of the grantors named in such deed or deeds, such defective execution, acknowledgment and proof of execution and probate of such deed or deeds thereon and the registration thereof as above described, shall be, and the same are hereby declared to be in all respects valid, and such deed or deeds shall be declared to be in all respects duly executed, probated and recorded to the same effect as if such officer taking such proof or acknowledgment of execution had not been named as a grantor therein, or in anywise interested therein. (1929, c. 48, s. 1.)

§ 47-101. Seal of acknowledging officer omitted; deeds made presumptive evidence.—In all cases where deeds appear to have been executed for land prior to January 1, 1900, and appear to have been recorded in the offices of the registers of deeds in the proper counties in this state, and the same appear to have been acknowledged before commissioners of affidavits (or deeds) of North Carolina, residing in the District of Columbia or elsewhere in the different states, or appear to have been recorded without any certificate being recorded on the record of such deed or deeds, such record or records shall be presumptive evidence of the execution of such deed or deeds by the grantor or the grantors to the grantee or grantees therein named for the lands therein described, and the record of such deed or deeds may be offered or read in evidence upon the trial or hearing of any cause in any of the courts of this state as if the same had been properly probated and recorded. Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent such record or records from being attacked for fraud, and provided further that this section shall not apply to creditors or purchasers, but as to them the same shall stand as if this section had not been passed, and shall only apply to deeds executed prior to January first, nineteen hundred. (1929, c. 14, s. 1.)

§ 47-102. Absence of notarial seal.—Any deed executed prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred and ten, and duly acknowledged before a North Carolina notary public, and the probate recites "witness my hand and notarial seal," or words of similar import, and no seal was affixed to the said deed, shall be ordered registered by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the land lies, upon presentation to him: Provided, the probate is otherwise in due form. (1935, c. 130.)

§ 47-103. Deeds probated and registered with notary's seal not affixed, validated.—Any deed conveying or affecting real estate executed prior to January 1, 1932, and ordered registered and recorded in the county in which the land lies prior to said date, from which deed and the acknowledgment and privy examination thereof the seal of the notary public taking the acknowledgment or privy examination of the grantor or grantors thereof was omitted, is hereby declared to be sufficient and valid, and the probate and registration thereof are hereby in all respects validated and confirmed to the same effect as if the seal of said notary was affixed to the acknowledgment or privy examination thereof. (1941, c. 20.)

§ 47-104. Acknowledgments of notary holding another office.—In every case where deeds or other instruments have been acknowledged before a notary public, when the notary public at the time was also holding some other office, and the deed or other instrument has been duly probated and recorded, such acknowledgment taken by such notary public is hereby declared to be sufficient and valid. (1935, c. 133; 1937, c. 284.)

§ 47-105. Acknowledgment and private examination of married woman taken by officer who was grantor.—In all cases where a deed or deeds of mortgages or other conveyances of land dated prior to the first (1st) day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six (1926), purporting to convey lands have been registered in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the lands conveyed in said deeds are located prior to said first (1st) day of January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six (1926), and the acknowledgments or proof of execution of such deed or deeds and the private examination of any married woman who is a grantor in such deed or deeds have been taken as to some of the grantors, and the private examination of any married woman grantor in such deed has been taken by an officer who was himself one of the grantors named in such deed or deeds, such defective execution, acknowledgment, proof of execution and the private examination of such married woman, evidenced by the certificate thereof on such deed and the registration thereof as above described and set forth, shall be and the same are hereby declared to be in all respects valid, and such deed or deeds or other conveyances of land are declared to be in all respects duly executed, probated and recorded to the same effect as if such officer taking such proof or acknowledgment of execution or taking the private examination of such married woman and certifying thereto upon such deed or deeds had not been named as grantor therein and had not been interested therein in any way whatsoever. (1937, c. 91.)

§ 47-106. Certain instruments in which clerk of superior court was a party, validated.—In all cases where a deed, or other conveyance of land dated prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, purporting to convey land, wherein the grantor or one of the grantors therein was at the time clerk of the superior court of the county where the land purporting to be conveyed was located, was acknowledged, proof of execution, privy examination of a married woman, and, or, order of registration had and taken before a deputy clerk of the superior court of said county, and the instrument registered upon the order of said deputy clerk of the superior court in the office of the register of deeds of said county, within two years from the date of said instrument, such instrument and its probate are hereby in all respects validated and confirmed; and such instrument, together with such defective acknowledgment, proof of execution, privy examination of a married woman, order of registration, and the certificate of such deputy clerk of the superior court, and the registration thereof, are hereby declared in all respects to be valid and binding upon the parties of such instrument and their privies, and such instrument so probated and recorded together with its certificates may be read in evidence as a muniment of title, for all intents and purposes, in any of the courts of this state. (1939, c. 261.)

§ 47-107. Validation of probate and registration of certain instruments where name of grantor omitted from record.—All deeds, deeds of trust, conveyances or other instruments permitted by law to be registered in this state, which have been registered prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four, and in which a clerk of the superior court has adjudged the certificate of the officer before whom the acknowledgment was taken to be in due form and correct and has ordered the instrument to be recorded, but in which the name of a grantor which appears in the body of the instrument and as a signer of the instrument has been omitted from the record of the certificate of the officer before whom the acknowledgment was taken, are hereby declared to have been duly proved, probated and recorded and to be valid. (1941, c. 30.)

§ 47-108. Acknowledgments before notaries under age.—All acts of notaries public for the state of North Carolina who were not yet twenty-one years of age at the time of the performance of such acts are hereby validated; and in every case where deeds or other instruments have been acknowledged before such notary public who was not yet twenty-one years of age at the time of taking of said acknowledgment, such acknowledgment taken before such notary public is hereby declared to be sufficient and valid. (1941, c. 233.)

Art. 5. Registration of Official Discharges from the Military and Naval Forces of the United States.

§ 47-109. Book for record of discharges in office of register of deeds; specifications.—There shall be provided, and at all times maintained, in the office of the register of deeds of each county in North Carolina a special and permanent book, in which shall be recorded official discharges from the military and naval forces of the United States. Said book shall be securely bound, and the pages of the same shall be printed in the form of discharge papers, with sufficient blank lines for the recording of such dates as may be contained in the discharge papers offered for registration. (1921, c. 198, s. 1; C. S. 3366(k).)

§ 47-110. Registration of official discharge or certificate of lost discharge; fee.—Upon the presentation of any official discharge, or official certificate of lost discharge, from the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States, and the payment of a fee of twenty-five (25) cents therefor, it shall be the duty of the register of deeds of the several counties of the state to record such discharge in the book provided for in the preceding section. (1921, c. 198, s. 2; C. S. 3366(l).)

§ 47-111. Inquiry by register of deeds; oath of applicant.—If any register of deeds shall be in doubt as to whether or not any paper so presented for registration is an official discharge from the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States, or an official certificate of lost discharge, he shall have power to examine, under oath, the person so presenting such discharge, or otherwise inquire into its validity; and every register of deeds to whom a discharge or certificate of lost discharge is presented for registration shall administer to the person offering such discharge or certificate of lost discharge for registration the following oath, to be recorded with and form a part of the registration of such discharge or certificate of lost discharge:

"I, ..., being duly sworn, depose and say that the foregoing discharge (or certificate of lost discharge) is the original discharge (or certificate of lost discharge) issued to me by the Government of the United States; and that no alterations have been made therein by me, or by any person to my knowledge.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this .....; day of ....., 19 ...."
(1921, c. 198, s. 3; C. S. 3366(m).)

§ 47-112. Forgery or alteration of discharge or certificate; punishment. — Any person who shall forge, or in any manner alter any discharge or certificate of lost discharge issued by the Government of the United States, and offer the same for registration or secure the registration of the same under the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 198, s. 4; C. S. 3366(n).)

§ 47-113. Certified copy of registration; fee. —Any person desiring a certified copy of any such discharge, or certificate of lost discharge, registered under the provisions of this article shall apply for the same to the register of deeds of the county in which such discharge or certificate of lost discharge is registered; and it shall be the duty of the register of deeds to furnish such certified copy upon the payment of a fee of fifty (50) cents therefor. (1921, c. 198, s. 5; C. S. 3366(o).)

48-15. Construction of 1941 Amendment.

§ 48-1. Petition for adoption and change of name.—Any proper adult person or husband and wife, jointly, who have legal residence in North Carolina may petition the superior court of the county in which he or they have legal residence or the county in which the child resides, or of the county in which the child had legal residence when it became a public charge, or of the county in which is located any agency or institution operating under the laws of this state having guardianship and custody of the child, for leave to adopt a minor child and for a change of the name of such child. Provided, that in every instance when the parent, guardian or custodian of the child is not a citizen or resident of the state of North Carolina at the time of filing of petition for adoption, or where the child has been brought into the state for the purpose of placement and adoption by a parent, person, agency, institution or association, the provisions of chapter two hundred twenty-six of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one [§§ 110-50 to 110-56] must be complied with before the child is eligible for adoption. Such petition for adoption shall be filed in duplicate on standard form to be supplied by the state board of charities and public welfare, one form to be held in the files of the said superior court, and the other to be sent to said state board of charities and public welfare. (1935, c. 243; 1937, c. 422; 1939, cc. 32, 132, s. 1.)

§ 48-2. Use of true name of child unnecessary; identification.—It shall not be necessary in the petition for adoption or other papers, except the report on investigation of the conditions and antecedents of the child, to give the true or legal name of the child to be adopted, but it shall be competent to name or identify the child to be adopted by such name as may be presented in the petition of adoption, and the adoption proceedings shall not be invalidated by reason thereof. In every case, however, the true name of the child proposed to be adopted shall be set forth in, and made known to the court through, the report upon the conditions and antecedents of the child to be made by the superintendent or superintendents of public welfare or duly authorized representative of a child-placing agency as hereinafter provided. (1935, c. 243.)

§ 48-3. Investigation of conditions and antecedents of child and of suitableness of foster home.—Upon the filing of a petition for the adoption of a minor child the court shall instruct the county superintendent of Public Welfare, or a duly authorized representative of a child-placing agency, licensed by the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare, to investigate the conditions and antecedents of the child for the purpose of ascertaining whether he is a proper subject for adoption, and to make appropriate inquiry to determine whether the proposed foster home is a suitable one for the child; or the court may instruct the superintendent of public welfare of one county to make an investigation of the conditions and antecedents of the child and the superintendent of public welfare of another county or counties to make any other part of the necessary investigation. The county superintendent or superintendents of public welfare or the duly authorized representative of such agency described hereinbefore shall make a written report of his or their findings, on a standard form supplied by the state board of charities and public welfare, for examination by the court of adoption. (1935, c. 243.)

§ 48-4. Necessary parties to proceeding. — The parents or surviving parent or guardian, or the person or persons having charge of such child, or with whom it may reside, must be a party or parties of record to this proceeding: Provided, that where the parents or surviving parent or guardian of the child whose adoption is sought cannot be found within this state for the service of process, that fact shall be made known to the court either by affidavit or return of the sheriff of the county in which such person or persons were last known to reside. It shall be competent to make such service by publication of summons as provided by §§ 1-98, et seq., and such person shall be bound in every respect by such service: Provided, that when the parent, parents, or guardian of the person of the child has signed a release of all rights to the child, the person, agency, or institution to which said rights were released shall be made a party to this proceeding and it shall not be necessary to make the parent, parents or guardian parties: Provided, further, that when such parent, parents, or guardian has consented to an adoption as specified in § 48-5, he shall not be a necessary party of record to this proceeding. (1935, c. 243; 1939, c. 32; 1941, c. 281, s. 1.)

tion; completion of adoption within two years.—Upon the examination of the written report of the Superintendent of Public Welfare or of a duly authorized representative of said agency described hereinbefore and with the consent of the parent or parents if living or of the guardian, if any, or of the person with whom such child resides, or who may have charge of such child, except in cases hereinafter provided for, the Court, if it be satisfied that the petitioner is a proper and suitable person and that the child is a proper subject for adoption and that the adoption is for the best interests of the child, may tentatively approve the adoption and issue an order giving the care and custody of the child to the petitioner: Provided, that when the parent, parents, or guardian of the person of the child has in writing surrendered the child to a duly licensed child-placing agency, or the Superintendent of Public Welfare of the County and has in writing consented to adoption of the child by any person or persons to be designated by said agency or officer, this shall be deemed a sufficient consent for the purposes of this chapter, and no further consent of the parent, parents, or guardian to a subsequent specific adoption shall be necessary: Provided, however, that if any child is placed in any home or institution referred to in this chapter by its mother, then said mother shall give her written consent that said child may be adopted without further consent upon her part. Such consent shall not be revocable by the consenting party. For the purpose of this chapter, a parent under the age of twenty-one shall be deemed to have capacity for the purposes of giving consent, releasing rights in the child, and for all other purposes of this chapter, and shall be as fully bound thereby as if the parent had been twenty-one. Within two years of the interlocutory order, but not earlier than one year from the date of such order, the Court shall complete the proceeding by an order granting letters of adoption or, in its discretion, by an order dismissing the proceeding, and the effect of any adoption so completed shall be retroactive to the date of application. During this interval the child shall remain the ward of the Court and shall be subject to such supervision as the Court may direct. Upon making the interlocutory order the written report of the investigation made by the Superintendent or Superintendents of Public Welfare or representative of the child-placing agency described hereinbefore shall be forwarded by the Clerk of the Superior Court to the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare. Upon receipt of the same the said Board shall cause said report to be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose, which book shall be properly indexed showing the name of the child, the names of its natural parents, the names of its adoptive parents, and the new legal name, if any, given to said child; and said Board shall also cause the original report to be permanently indexed and filed. Neither the original report nor the record thereof in the aforesaid book shall be made public, nor shall any information concerning the contents of either of them be disclosed by any person except upon order of a Judge of the Superior Court, made upon application of any party requiring such information, and when in the opinion of the said Judge it may be to the interests of the said child or to the public to have such information disclosed. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person having charge of the said report or record to allow said report or records to be examined by anyone or to give any information concerning the contents of either except upon order of a Judge of the Superior Court as herein provided. No party to a completed and final adoption proceeding nor anyone claiming under such a party may later question the validity of the adoption proceeding, by reason of any defect or irregularity therein, jurisdictional or otherwise, but shall be fully bound thereby, save for such appeal as may be allowed by law. Further, no adoption may be questioned by reason of any procedural or other defect by anyone not injured by such defect. Such order granting letters of adoption shall have the force and effect of, and shall be entitled to, all the presumptions attaching to a judgment rendered by a court of general jurisdiction in a common law action. A parent who has not consented to nor been made a party to an adoption proceeding where such steps are required may have the adoption vacated provided he bring action to vacate within one year of actual notice of the adoption, and provided he failed to appear in the adoption proceedings because he did not know of such proceedings. In any case where a parent or parents in writing surrenders a child for adoption (other than to a duly licensed child-placing agency or the Superintendent of Public Welfare of the County, which situation is governed by an earlier part of this section), and the child is taken by prospective adoptive parents in reliance thereon and kept for a period of six months or more, the surrender shall not be revocable by the surrendering parent or parents. (1935, c. 243; 1941, c. 281, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 48-6. Form and contents of adoption order; parent-child relationship established; rights of inheritance, etc.—Such order granting letters of adoption shall be made upon a standard form supplied by the state board of charities and public welfare, and shall state whether for the minority or for the life-time of such child and shall have the effect forthwith to establish the relation of parent and child between the petitioner and the child. A child adopted for its minority shall not be deemed a relative of its adopted parents when determining succession of property to, through or from it. But where adoptions are for life succession by, through, and from adopted children and their adoptive parents shall be the same as if the adopted children were the natural, legitimate children of the adoptive parents. Succession by children adopted for life and their lineal descendants from or through their natural parents or by or through the natural parents from such adopted children or their lineal descendants shall take place only where but for such succession the state of North Carolina would succeed to the intestate's property. Further, for all other purposes whatsoever a child adopted for life and his adoptive parents shall be in the same legal position as they would be if he had been born to his adoptive parents. No defect or irregularity, jurisdictional or otherwise, in an adoption proceedings shall prevent inheritance by a child, adopted for life, who has after the adoption continuously lived as the adopted child of the adoptive parents. (1935, c. 243; 1939, c. 132, s. 2; 1941, c. 281, s. 4.)

§ 48-7. Change of name; report to bureau of vital statistics; entry on birth certificate. — For proper cause shown the court may decree that the name of the child shall be changed to such name as may be prayed in the petition: Provided, that whenever the name of any child is so changed, the court shall immediately report such change to the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health, authorizing said bureau to enter change of name on the original birth certificate of the child and to issue upon request a certificate of birth bearing the new name of a child as shown in the decree of adoption, the name of the foster parents of said child, age, sex, date of birth, but no reference in any certified copy of the birth certificate shall be made to the adoption of the said child. However, original registration of birth shall remain a part of the record of the said bureau of vital statistics. The provisions of this section shall apply to all minors heretofore adopted in accordance with the laws existing at the time of such adoptions in as full a manner as to adoptions hereunder. (1935, c. 243.)

§ 48-8. Surety bond required of petitioner where child with estate is without guardian. — When the court grants the petitioner the custody of the child, if the child is an orphan and without guardian and possesses any estate, the court shall require from the petitioner such bond as is required by law to be given by guardians. (1935, c. 243.)

§ 48-9. Recordation of adoption proceedings; revocation of orders.—All papers, except the report upon the conditions and antecedents of the child and consent of natural parents or guardian to the adoption, shall be recorded in the book or books in which other special proceedings are recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court in the county in which the adoption is made; and all orders made in the proceedings may be revoked at any time by the court for good cause shown. On issuing such order granting letters of adoption, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the order is issued shall send a copy of such order to the state board of charities and public welfare and likewise a copy of the revocation of the order to said board to be held as a permanent record. (1935, s. 243.)

§ 48-10. Parents, etc., not necessary parties to adoption proceedings upon finding of unfitness or abandonment.—In all cases where a juvenile court has declared the parent or parents or guardians unfit to have the care and custody of such child, or has declared the child to be an abandoned child, such parent, parents, or guardians shall not be necessary parties to any action or proceeding under this chapter nor shall their consent be required. But in the event that the child be of age beyond the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, and the juvenile court has not theretofore determined that an abandonment has taken place, then on notice to the parent, parents, or guardian the court in the adoption proceedings is hereby authorized to determine that an abandonment has taken place, provided that if the parent, parents, or guardian deny that an abandonment has taken place, this issue of fact shall be determined as provided in § 1-273, and if abandonment be determined, then the consent of the parent, parents, or guardian shall not be required. (1935, c. 243; 1941, c. 281, s. 5.)

§ 48-11. Past adoption proceedings validated. —All proceedings for the adoption of minors in courts of this State are hereby validated and confirmed, and the orders and judgments therein are declared to be binding upon all parties to said proceedings and their privies and all other persons, until the orders or judgments shall be vacated as provided by law. (1935, c. 243.)

§ 48-12. Procuring custody of child by forfeiting parents declared crime.—Any parent whose rights and privileges have been forfeited as provided by § 48-10 and who shall procure the possession and custody of such child, with respect to whom his rights and privileges are forfeited, otherwise than by law provided, shall be guilty of a crime, and shall be punished as for abduction. (1935, c. 243.)

§ 48-13. "Legal resident" defined.—For the purpose of this chapter a legal resident is any person who has had his domicile anywhere in the state of North Carolina for a period of at least twelve consecutive months after entering said state for the purpose of residence. (1939, c. 132, s. 3.)

§ 48-14. Rights of adoptive parents. — When a child is duly adopted pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, the adoptive parents shall not thereafter be deprived of any rights in the child, at the instance of the natural parents or otherwise, except in the same fashion and for the same causes as are applicable in proceedings to deprive natural parents of their children. (1941, c. 281, s. 6.)

§ 48-15. Construction of 1941 Amendment. — The provisions of § 48-6 except for the last sentence, shall apply only to adoptions made after March 15, 1941. All other provisions of chapter 281 of the Public Laws of 1941, amending §§ 48-4, 48-5, 48-10, adding § 48-14, including the last sentence of § 48-6, referred to above, shall apply to all adoptions heretofore and hereafter made. No adoption proceeding had before March 15, 1941, shall be declared void because of procedural defects therein, and all adoption proceedings theretofore conducted substantially in accordance with the provisions of §§ 48-1 to 48-13, are hereby validated and declared to be as binding as if said procedural defects did not exist. (1941, c. 281, s. 8.)

Chapter 49. Bastardy.

Art. 1. Support of Illegitimate Children.

Sec.
49-1. Title.
49-2. Non-support of illegitimate child by parents made misdemeanor.
49-3. Place of birth of child no consideration.
49-4. Action must be commenced within three years after birth.
49-5. Prosecution; indictments; death of mother no bar; determination of fatherhood.
49-6. Mother not excused on ground of self-incrimination; not subject to penalty.
49-7. Jurisdiction of inferior courts; issues and orders.
49-8. Power of court to modify orders; suspend sentence, etc.
49-9. Bond for future appearance of defendant.

Art. 2. Legitimation of Illegitimate Children.

49-10. Legitimation.
49-11. Effects of legitimation.
49-12. Legitimation by subsequent marriage.

Art. 1. Support of Illegitimate Children.

§ 49-1. Title.—This article shall be referred to as "An act concerning the support of children of parents not married to each other." (1933, c. 228, s. 11.)

§ 49-2. Non-support of illegitimate child by parents made misdemeanor.—Any parent who willfully neglects or who refuses to support and maintain his or her illegitimate child shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to such penalties as are hereinafter provided. A child within the meaning of this article shall be any person less than fourteen years of age and any person whom either parent might be required under the laws of North Carolina to support and maintain as if such child were the legitimate child of such parent. (1933, c. 228, s. 1; 1937, c. 432, s. 1; 1939, c. 217, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 49-3. Place of birth of child no consideration.—The provisions of this article shall apply whether such child shall have been begotten or shall have been born within or without the state of North Carolina: Provided, that the child to be supported is a bona fide resident of this state at the time of the institution of any proceedings under this article. (1933, c. 228, s. 2.)

§ 49-4. Action must be commenced within three years after birth.—Proceedings under this article to establish the paternity of such child may be instituted at any time within three years next after the birth of the child, and not thereafter: Provided, however, that where the reputed father has acknowledged the paternity of the child by payments for the support of such child within three years from the date of the birth thereof, and not later, then, in such case, prosecution may be brought under the provisions of said sections within three years from the date of such acknowledgment of the paternity of such child by the reputed father thereof. (1933, c. 228, s. 3; 1939, c. 217, s. 3.)

§ 49-5. Prosecution; indictments; death of mother no bar; determination of fatherhood.—Proceedings under this article may be brought by the mother or her personal representative, or, if the child is likely to become a public charge, the superintendent of public welfare or such person as by law performs the duties of such official in said county where the mother resides or the child is found. Indictments under this article may be returned in the county where the mother resides or is found, or in the county where the putative father resides or is found, or in the county where the child is found. The fact that the child was born outside of the state of North Carolina shall not be a bar to indictment of the putative father in any county where he resides or is found, or in the county where the mother resides or the child is found. The death of the mother shall in no wise affect any proceedings under this article. Preliminary proceedings under this article to determine the paternity of the child may be instituted prior to the birth of the child but when the judge or court trying the issue of paternity deems it proper, he may continue the case until the woman is delivered of the child. When a continuance is granted, the courts shall recognize the person accused of being the father of the child with surety for his appearance, either at the next term of the court or at a time to be fixed by the judge or court granting a continuance, which shall be after the delivery of the child. (1933, c. 228, s. 4.)

§ 49-6. Mother not excused on ground of self-incrimination; not subject to penalty.—No mother of an illegitimate child shall be excused, on the ground that it may tend to incriminate her or subject her to a penalty or a forfeiture, from attending and testifying, in obedience to a subpoena of any court, in any suit or proceeding based upon or growing out of the provisions of this article, but no such mother shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forefeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing as to which, in obedience to a subpoena and under oath, she may so testify. (1933, c. 228, s. 5; 1939, c. 217, s. 5.)

§ 49-7. Jurisdiction of inferior courts; issues and orders.—Proceedings under this article shall be instituted only in the superior court of any county of this state, or in any court inferior to the superior court of this state, except courts of justices of the peace and courts whose criminal jurisdiction does not exceed that of justices of the peace. Justices of the peace may issue warrants for violations of this article made returnable to any court having jurisdiction of such violations under the terms of this article.

The court before which the matter may be brought shall determine whether or not the defendant is a parent of the child on whose behalf the proceeding is instituted. After this matter has been determined in the affirmative, the court shall proceed to determine the issue as to whether or not the defendant has neglected or refused to support and maintain the child who is the subject of the proceeding. After this matter shall have been determined in the affirmative, the court shall fix by order, subject to modification or increase from time to time, a specific sum of money necessary for the support and maintenance of the particular child who is the object of the proceedings. The court in fixing this sum shall take into account the circumstances of the case, the financial ability to pay and earning capacity of the defendant, and his or her willingness to cooperate for the welfare of the child. The order fixing the sum shall require the defendant to pay it either as a lump sum or in periodic payments as the circumstances of the case may appear to the court to require. Compliance by the defendant with any or all of the further provisions of this article or the order or orders of the court requiring additional acts to be performed by the defendant shall not be construed to relieve the defendant of his or her responsibility to pay the sum fixed or any modification or increase thereof. (1933, c. 228, s. 6; 1937, c. 432, s. 2; 1939, c. 217, ss. 1, 4.)

§ 49-8. Power of court to modify orders; suspend sentence, etc.—Upon the determination of the issues set out in the foregoing section and for the purpose of enforcing the payment of the sum fixed, the court is hereby given discretion, having regard for the circumstances of the case and the financial ability and earning capacity of the defendant and his or her willingness to coöperate, to make an order or orders upon the defendant and to modify such order or orders from time to time as the circumstances of the case may in the judgment of the court require. The order or orders made in this regard may include any or all of the following alternatives:

(a) Commit the defendant to prison for a term not to exceed six months;

(b) Suspend sentence and continue the case from term to term;

(c) Release the defendant from custody on probation conditioned upon the defendant's compliance with the terms of the probation and the payment of the sum fixed for the support and maintenance of the child;

(d) Order the defendant to pay to the mother of the said child the necessary expenses of birth of the child and suitable medical attention for her;

(e) Require the defendant to sign a recognizance with good and sufficient security, for compliance with any order which the court may make in proceedings under this article. (1933, c. 228, s. 7; 1939, c. 217, s. 6.)

§ 49-9. Bond for future appearance of defendant.—At the preliminary hearing of any case arising under this article it shall be the duty of the court, if it finds reasonable cause for holding the accused for a further hearing, to require a bond in the sum of not less than one hundred dollars, conditioned upon the reappearance of the accused at the further hearing under this article. This bond and all other bonds provided for in this article shall be justified before, and approved by, the court or the clerk thereof. (1933, c. 228, s. 8.)

Art. 2. Legitimation of Illegitimate Children.

§ 49-10. Legitimation.—The putative father of any illegitimate child may apply by petition in writing to the superior court of the county in which he resides, praying that such child may be declared legitimate; and if it appears that the petitioner is reputed the father of the child, the court may thereupon declare and pronounce the child legitimated; and the clerk shall record the decree. (Rev., s. 263; Code, s. 39; C. S. 277.)

§ 49-11. Effects of legitimation.—The effect of such legitimation shall extend no further than to impose upon the father all the obligations which fathers owe to their lawful children, and to enable the child to inherit from the father only his real estate, and also to entitle such child to the personal estate of his father, in the same manner as if he had been born in lawful wedlock. In case of death and intestacy, the real and personal estate of such child shall be transmitted and distributed according to the statute of descents and distribution among those who would be his heirs and next of kin in case he had been born in lawful wedlock. (Rev., s. 264; Code, s. 40; C. S. 278.)

§ 49-12. Legitimation by subsequent marriage.—When the mother of any illegitimate child and the reputed father of such child shall intermarry or shall have intermarried at any time after the birth of such child, the child shall in all respects after such intermarriage be deemed and held to be legitimate and entitled to all the rights in and to the estate, real and personal, of its father and mother that it would have had had it been born in lawful wedlock. (1917, c. 219, s. 1; C. S. 279.)

Chapter 50. Divorce and Alimony.

Sec.
50-1. Jurisdiction.
50-2. Bond for costs unnecessary.
50-3. Venue.
50-4. What marriages may be declared void on application of either party.
50-5. Grounds for absolute divorce.
50-6. Divorce after separation of two years on application of either party.
50-7. Grounds for divorce from bed and board.
50-8. Affidavit to be filed with complaint; affidavit of intention to file complaint.
50-9. Effect of answer of summons by defendant.
50-10. Material facts found by jury; parties cannot testify to adultery.
50-11. Effects of absolute divorce.
50-12. Resumption of maiden name authorized; adoptions of name of prior deceased husband validated.
50-13. Custody of children in divorce.
50-14. Alimony on divorce from bed and board.
50-15. Alimony pendente lite; notice to husband.
50-16. Alimony without divorce.
50-17. Alimony in real estate, writ of possession issued.

§ 50-1. Jurisdiction.—The superior court shall have jurisdiction of complaints for divorce and alimony, or either. (Rev., s. 1557; Code, s. 1282; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 45; C. S. 1655.)

§ 50-2. Bond for costs unnecessary.—It shall not be necessary for either party to a proceeding for divorce or alimony to give any undertaking to the other party to secure such costs as such other party may recover. (Rev., s. 1558; Code, s. 1294; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 41; C. S. 1656.)

§ 50-3. Venue.—In all proceedings for divorce, the summons shall be returnable to the court of the county in which either the plaintiff or defendant resides. (Rev., s. 1559; Code, s. 1289; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 40; 1915, c. 229, s. 1; C. S. 1657.)

§ 50-4. What marriages may be declared void on application of either party.—The superior court in term time, on application made as by law provided, by either party to a marriage contracted contrary to the prohibitions contained in the chapter entitled Marriage, or declared void by said chapter, may declare such marriage void from the beginning, subject, nevertheless, to the proviso contained in § 51-3. (Rev., s. 1560; Code, s. 1283; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 33; C. S. 1658.)

§ 50-5. Grounds for absolute divorce. — Marriages may be dissolved and the parties thereto divorced from the bonds of matrimony, on application of the party injured, made as by law provided, in the following cases:

1. If the husband or wife commits adultery.
2. If either party at the time of the marriage was and still is naturally impotent.
3. If the wife at the time of the marriage is pregnant, and the husband is ignorant of the fact of such pregnancy and is not the father of the child with which the wife was pregnant at the time of the marriage.
4. If there has been a separation of husband and wife, whether voluntary or involuntary, provided such involuntary separation is in consequence of a criminal act committed by the defendant prior to such divorce proceeding, and they have lived separate and apart for two successive years, and the plaintiff in the suit for divorce has resided in this state for one year.
5. If any person shall commit the abominable and detestable crime against nature, with mankind, or beast.

It shall not be necessary to set forth in the affidavit filed with the complaint in suits brought under subsection four of this section that the grounds for divorce have existed at least six months prior to the filing of the complaint, nor to allege or prove such fact. (Rev., s. 1561; Code, s. 1285; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 35; 1879, c. 132; 1887, c. 100; 1889, c. 442; 1899, c. 29; 1903, c. 490; 1905, c. 499; 1907, c. 89; 1911, c. 117; 1913, c. 165; 1917, cc. 25, 57; 1921, c. 63; 1929, c. 6; 1931, c. 397; 1933, c. 71, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1659.)

§ 50-6. Divorce after separation of two years on application of either party.—Marriages may be dissolved and the parties thereto divorced from the bonds of matrimony on the application of either party, if and when the husband and wife have lived separate and apart for two years, and the plaintiff in the suit for divorce has resided in the state for a period of one year. This section shall be in addition to other acts and not construed as repealing other laws on the subject of divorce. (1931, c. 72; 1933, c. 163; 1937, c. 100, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 50-7. Grounds for divorce from bed and board.—The superior court may grant divorces from bed and board on application of the party injured, made as by law provided, in the following cases:

1. If either party abandons his or her family.
2. Maliciously turns the other out of doors.
3. By cruel or barbarous treatment endangers the life of the other.
4. Offers such indignities to the person of the other as to render his or her condition intolerable and life burdensome.
5. Becomes an habitual drunkard. (Rev., s. 1562; Code, s. 1286; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 36; C. S. 1660.)

§ 50-8. Affidavit to be filed with complaint; affidavit of intention to file complaint.—The plaintiff in a complaint seeking either divorce or alimony, or both, shall file with his or her complaint an affidavit that the facts set forth in the complaint are true to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief, and that the said complaint is not made out of levity or by collusion between husband and wife; and if for divorce, not for the mere purpose of being freed and separated from each other, but in sincerity and truth for the causes mentioned in the complaint. The plaintiff shall also set forth in such affidavit, either that the facts set forth in the complaint, as grounds for divorce, have existed to his or her knowledge at least six months prior to the filing of the complaint, and that complainant has been a resident of the state for one year next preceding the filing of the complaint; or, if the wife be the plaintiff, that the husband is removing, or about to remove, his property and effects from the state, whereby she may be disappointed in her alimony: Provided, however, that if the cause for divorce is two years separation then it shall not be necessary to set forth in the affidavit that the grounds for divorce have existed at least six months prior to the filing of the complaint, it being the purpose of this proviso to permit a divorce after a separation of two years without waiting an additional six months for filing the complaint. If any wife files in the office of the superior court clerk of the county where she resides an affidavit, setting forth the fact that she intends to file a petition or bring an action for divorce against her husband, and that she has not had knowledge of the facts upon which the petition or action will be based for six months, she may reside separate and apart from her husband. If she fails to file her petition or bring her action for divorce within ninety days after the six months have expired since her knowledge of the facts upon which she intends to file her said petition or bring her said action, then she shall not be entitled any longer to the benefit of this section. (Rev., s. 1563; Code, s. 1287; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 46; 1869-70, c. 184; 1907, c. 1008, s. 1; 1925, c. 93; 1933, c. 71, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 1661.)

§ 50-9. Effect of answer of summons by defendant.—In all cases upon an action for a divorce absolute, where the plaintiff had caused to be served upon the defendant in person a legal summons, whether by verified complaint or unverified complaint, and such defendant answered such summons, and where the trial of said action was duly and legally had in all other respects and judgments rendered by a Judge of the Superior Court upon issues answered by a judge and jury, in accordance with law, such judgments are hereby declared to have the same force and effect as any judgment upon an action for divorce otherwise had legally and regularly. (1929, c. 290, s. 1.)

§ 50-10. Material facts found by jury; parties cannot testify to adultery.—The material facts in every complaint asking for a divorce shall be deemed to be denied by the defendant, whether the same shall be actually denied by pleading or not, and no judgment shall be given in favor of the plaintiff in any such complaint until such facts have been found by a jury, and on such trial neither the husband nor wife shall be a competent witness to prove the adultery of the other, nor shall the admissions of either party be received as evidence to prove such fact. (Rev., s. 1564; Code, s. 1288; 1868-9, c. 93, s. 47; C. S. 1662.)

§ 50-11. Effects of absolute divorce.—After a judgment of divorce from the bonds of matrimony, all rights arising out of the marriage shall cease and determine, and either party may marry again unless otherwise provided by law: Provided, that no judgment of divorce shall render illegitimate any children in esse, or begotten of the body of the wife during coverture; and, Provided further, that a decree of absolute divorce upon the ground of separation for two successive years as provided in § 50-5 or § 50-6 shall not impair or destroy the right of the wife to receive alimony under any judgment or decree of the court rendered before the commencement of the proceeding for absolute divorce. (Rev., s. 1569; Code, s. 1295; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 43; 1919, c. 204; C. S. 1663.)

§ 50-12. Resumption of maiden name authorized; adoptions of name of prior deceased husband validated.—Any woman at any time after the bonds of matrimony theretofore existing between herself and her husband have been dissolved by a decree of absolute divorce, may resume the use of her maiden name or the name of a prior deceased husband, or a name composed of her given name and the surname of a prior deceased husband upon application to the clerk of the court of the county in which she resides, setting forth her intention so to do. Said application shall be addressed to the clerk of the court of the county in which such divorced woman resides, and shall set forth the full name of the former husband of the applicant, the name of the county in which said divorce was granted, and the term of court at which such divorce was granted, and shall be signed by the applicant in her full maiden name. The clerks of court of the several counties of the state shall provide a permanent book in which shall be recorded all such applications herein provided for, which shall be indexed under the name of the former husband of the applicant and under the maiden name of such applicant. The clerk of the court of the county in which said application shall be recorded shall charge a fee of one ($1.00) dollar for such registration. In every case where a married woman has heretofore been granted a divorce and has, since the divorce, adopted the name of a prior deceased husband, or a name composed of her given name and the surname of a prior deceased husband, the adoption by her of such name is hereby validated. (1937, c. 53; 1941, c. 9.)

§ 50-13. Custody of children in divorce.—After the filing of a complaint in any action for divorce, whether from the bonds of matrimony or from bed and board, both before and after final judgment therein, it is lawful for the judge of the court in which such application is or was pending to make such orders respecting the care, custody, tuition and maintenance of the minor children of the marriage as may be proper, and from time to time to modify or vacate such orders, and may commit their custody and tuition to the father or mother, as may be thought best; or the court may commit the custody and tuition of such infant children, in the first place, to one parent for a limited time, and after the expiration of that time, then to the other parent; and so alternately: Provided, that no order respecting the children shall be made on the application of either party without five days notice to the other party, unless it shall appear that the party having the possession or control of such children has removed or is about to remove the children, or himself, beyond the jurisdiction of the court.

Provided, custody of children of parents who have been divorced outside of North Carolina may be determined in a special proceeding instituted by either of said parents in the superior court of the county wherein the petitioner, or the respondent or child at the time of filing said petition, is a resident. The resident judge of the district wherein the petition is filed may hear the facts and determine the custody of said children at any place that may be designated in his district after five days notice of said proceedings to the defendant. Notice of the summons and petition in said proceedings may be served on a nonresident defendant by publishing a notice thereof setting forth the grounds and nature of the proceedings in a newspaper published in the county wherein the petitioner resides once a week for a period of four successive weeks and by posting a copy thereof at the courthouse door of said county for a period of thirty days. Service as aforesaid in said action will be deemed complete thirty days after the date of the first publication of said notice. (Rev., s. 1570; Code, ss. 1296, 1570; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 46; 1939, c. 115; 1941, c. 120; C. S. 1664.)

§ 50-14. Alimony on divorce from bed and board.—When any court adjudges any two married persons divorced from bed and board, it may also decree to the party upon whose application such judgment was rendered such alimony as the circumstances of the several parties may render necessary; which, however, shall not in any case exceed the one-third part of the net annual income from the estate, occupation or labor of the party against whom the judgment shall be rendered. (Rev., s. 1565; Code, s. 1290; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 37; C. S. 1665.)

§ 50-15. Alimony pendente lite; notice to husband.—If any married woman applies to a court for a divorce from the bonds of matrimony, or from bed and board, with her husband, and sets forth in her complaint such facts, which upon application for alimony shall be found by the judge to be true and to entitle her to the relief demanded in the complaint, and it appears to the judge of such court, either in or out of term, by the affidavit of the complainant, or other proof, that she has not sufficient means whereon to subsist during the prosecution of the suit, and to defray the necessary and proper expenses thereof, the judge may order the husband to pay her such alimony during the pendency of the suit as appears to him just and proper, having regard to the circumstances of the parties; and such order may be modified or vacated at any time, on the application of either party or of any one interested: Provided, that no order allowing alimony pendente lite shall be made unless the husband shall have had five days notice thereof, and in all cases of application for alimony pendente lite under this or § 50-16, whether in or out of term, it shall be admissible for the husband to be heard by affidavit in reply or answer to the allegations of the complaint: Provided further, that if the husband has abandoned his wife and left the state or is in parts unknown, or is about to remove or dispose of his property for the purpose of defeating the claim of his wife, no notice is necessary. (Rev., s. 1566; Code, s. 1291; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 38; 1883, c. 67; C. S. 1666.)

§ 50-16. Alimony without divorce.—If any husband shall separate himself from his wife and fail to provide her and the children of the marriage with the necessary subsistence according to his means and condition in life, or if he shall be a drunkard or spendthrift, or be guilty of any misconduct or acts that would be or constitute cause for divorce, either absolute or from bed and board, the wife may institute an action in the superior court of the county in which the cause of action arose to have a reasonable subsistence and counsel fees allotted and paid or secured to her from the estate or earnings of her husband. Pending the trial and final determination of the issues involved in such action, and also after they are determined, if finally determined, in favor of the wife, such wife may make application to the resident judge of the superior court, or the judge holding the superior courts of the district in which the action is brought, for an allowance for such subsistence and counsel fees, and it shall be lawful for such judge to cause the husband to secure so much of his estate or to pay so much of his earnings, or both, as may be proper, according to his condition and circumstances, for the benefit of his said wife and the children of the marriage, having regard also to the separate estate of the wife. Such application may be heard in or out of term, orally or upon affidavit, or either or both. No order for such allowance shall be made unless the husband shall have had five days notice thereof; but if the husband shall have abandoned his wife and left the state, or shall be in parts unknown, or shall be about to remove or dispose of his property for the purpose of defeating the claim of his wife, no notice shall be necessary. The order of allowance herein provided for may be modified or vacated at any time, on the application of either party or of any one interested. In actions brought under this section, the wife shall not be required to file the affidavit provided in § 50-8, but shall verify her complaint as prescribed in the case of ordinary civil actions: Provided further, that in all applications for alimony under this section it shall be competent for the husband to plead the adultery of the wife in bar of her right to such alimony, and if the wife shall deny such plea, and the issue be found against her by the judge, he shall make no order allowing her any sum whatever as alimony, or for her support, but only her reasonable counsel fees. (Rev., s. 1567; Code, s. 1292; 1919, c. 24; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 39; 1921, c. 123; 1923, c. 52; C. S. 1667.)

§ 50-17. Alimony in real estate, writ of possession issued. — In all cases in which the court grants alimony by the assignment of real estate, the court has power to issue a writ of possession when necessary in the judgment of the court to do so. (Rev., s. 1568; Code, s. 1293; 1868-9, c. 123, s. 1; C. S. 1668.)

Art. 1. General Provisions.

§ 51-1. Requisites of marriage; solemnization.—The consent of a male and female person who may lawfully marry, presently to take each other as husband and wife, freely, seriously and plainly expressed by each in the presence of the other, and in the presence of an ordained minister of any religious denomination, minister authorized by his church, or of a justice of the peace, and the consequent declaration by such minister or officer that such persons are man and wife, shall be a valid and sufficient marriage: Provided, that the rite of marriage among the Society of Friends, according to a form and custom peculiar to themselves, shall not be interfered with by the provisions of this chapter: Provided further, marriages solemnized before March 9, 1909, by ministers of the gospel licensed, but not ordained, are validated from their consummation. (Rev., s. 2081; Code, s. 1812; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 3; 1908, c. 47; 1909, c. 704, s. 2; 1909, c. 897; C. S. 2493.)

§ 51-2. Capacity to marry.—All unmarried male persons of sixteen years, or upwards, of age, and all unmarried females of sixteen years, or upwards, of age, may lawfully marry, except as hereinafter forbidden: Provided, that females over fourteen years of age and under sixteen years of age may marry under a special license to be issued by the register of deeds, which said special license shall only be issued after there shall have been filed with the register of deeds a written consent to such marriage, signed by one of the parents of the female or signed by that person standing in loco parentis to such female, and the fact of the filing of such written consent shall be set out in said special license: Provided, that when the special license is procured by fraud and misrepresentation, the parent or person standing in loco parentis of the female shall be a proper party plaintiff in an action to annul said marriage: Provided, that all couples resident of the state of North Carolina who marry in another state must file a copy of their marriage certificate in the office of the register of deeds of the home county of the groom within thirty days from the date of their return to the state, as residents, which certificate shall be indexed on the marriage license record of the office of the register of deeds and filed with marriage license in his office; the fee for the filing and indexing said certificate shall be fifty cents: Provided, the failure to file said certificate shall not invalidate the marriage. (Rev., s. 2082; Code, s. 1809; R. C., c. 68, s. 14; 1871-2, c. 193; 1923, c. 75; 1933, c. 269, s. 1; 1939, c. 375; C. S. 2494.)

§ 51-3. Want of capacity; void and voidable marriages.—All marriages between a white person and a negro or indian, or between a white person and person of negro or indian descent to the third generation, inclusive, or between a Cherokee indian of Robeson county and a negro, or between a Cherokee indian of Robeson county and a person of negro descent to the third generation, inclusive, or between any two persons nearer of kin than first cousins, or between a male person under sixteen years of age and any female, or between a female person under fourteen years of age and any male, or between persons either of whom has a husband or wife living at the time of such marriage, or between persons either of whom is at the time physically impotent, or is incapable of contracting from want of will or understanding, shall be void: Provided, double first cousins may not marry; and Provided further, that no marriage followed by cohabitation and the birth of issue shall be declared void after the death of either of the parties for any of the causes stated in this section, except for that one of the parties was a white person and the other a negro or indian, or of negro or indian descent to the third generation, inclusive, and for bigamy. (Rev., s. 2083; Code, s. 1810; R. C., c. 68, ss. 7, 8, 9; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 2; 1887, c. 245; 1911, c. 215, s. 2; 1913, c. 123; 1917, c. 135; C. S. 2495.)

§ 51-4. Prohibited degrees of kinship. — When the degree of kinship is estimated with a view to ascertain the right of kinspeople to marry, the half-blood shall be counted as the whole-blood: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to invalidate any marriage heretofore contracted in case where by counting the half-blood as the whole-blood the persons contracting such marriage would be nearer of kin than first cousins; but in every such case the kinship shall be ascertained by counting relations of the half-blood as being only half so near kin as those of the same degree of the whole-blood. (Rev., s. 2084; Code, s. 1811; 1879, c. 78; C. S. 2496.)

§ 51-5. Marriages between slaves validated. — Persons, both or one of whom were formerly slaves, who have complied with the provisions of section five, chapter forty, of the acts of the general assembly, ratified March tenth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, shall be deemed to have been lawfully married. (Rev., s. 2085; Code, s. 1842; 1866, c. 40, s. 5; C. S. 2497.)

Art. 2. Marriage License.

§ 51-6. Solemnization without license unlawful.—No minister or officer shall perform a ceremony of marriage between any two persons, or shall declare them to be man and wife, until there is delivered to him a license for the marriage of the said persons, signed by the register of deeds of the county in which the marriage is intended to take place, or by his lawful deputy. (Rev., s. 2086; Code, s. 1813; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 4; C. S. 2498.)

§ 51-7. Penalty for solemnizing without license.—Every minister or officer who marries any couple without a license being first delivered to him, as required by law, or after the expiration of such license, or who fails to return such license to the register of deeds within two months after any marriage celebrated by virtue thereof, with the certificate appended thereto duly filled up and signed, shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars to any person who sues therefor, and he shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 2087, 3372; Code, s. 1817; R. C., c. 68, ss. 6, 13; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 8; C. S. 2499.)

§ 51-8. License issued by register of deeds.—Every register of deeds shall, upon application, issue a license for the marriage of any two persons, if it appears to him probable that there is no legal impediment to such marriage. Where either party to the proposed marriage is under eighteen years of age, and resides with the father, or mother, or uncle, or aunt, or brother, or elder sister, or resides at a school, or is an orphan and resides with a guardian, the register shall not issue a license for such marriage until the consent in writing of the relation with whom such infant resides, or, if he or she resides at a school, of the person by whom said infant was placed at school, and under whose custody and control he or she is, is delivered to him, and such written consent shall be filed and preserved by the register. When it appears to the register of deeds that it is probable there is a legal impediment to the marriage of any person for whom a license is applied, he has power to administer to the person so applying an oath touching the legal capacity of said parties to contract a marriage. (Rev., s. 2088; Code, s. 1814; 1887, c. 331; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 5; C. S. 2500.)

§ 51-9. Health certificates required of applicants for licenses.—No license to marry shall be issued by the register of deeds of any county to a male or female applicant therefor except upon the following conditions: The said applicant shall present to the register of deeds a certificate executed within thirty days from the date of presentation showing that, by the usual methods of examination made by a regularly licensed physician, no evidence of any venereal disease in the infectious or communicable stage was found. Such certificate shall be accompanied by the original report from a laboratory approved by the state board of health for making such tests showing that the Wassermann or any other approved test of this nature is negative, such tests to have been made within thirty days of the time application for license is made.

Furthermore, such certificate shall state that, by the usual methods of examination made by a regularly licensed physician, no evidence of tuberculosis in the infectious or communicable stage was found.

And, furthermore, such certificate shall state that, by the usual methods of examination made by a regularly licensed physician, the applicant was found to be not subject to epileptic attacks, an idiot, an imbecile, a mental defective, or of unsound mind. (1939, c. 314, s. 1; 1941, c. 218, s. 1.)

§ 51-10. Exceptions to foregoing section.—Exceptions to the above section are permissible only under the conditions hereinafter named:

When the medical history and physical examination of either applicant shows syphilis to be present, or when the laboratory test for syphilis is positive, and provided both applicants are informed that syphilitic infection is present, certificate may be issued and license granted only in the following instances: (1) When the applicant with syphilis has been under continuous weekly treatment with adequate dosage of standard arsenical and bismuth preparation given by a regularly licensed physician for a period of one year, and when such applicant also signs an agreement to continue such treatment until cured or probated. It is specified that the condition stipulated in subparagraph one above may be waived in instances in which the female applicant is pregnant and it is necessary to protect the legitimacy of the offspring. In such a case certificate may be granted and license issued provided the applicant with syphilis signs an agreement to take adequate, approved treatment until cured or probated. (2) When the female applicant is past the childbearing age, and provided the applicant with syphilis signs an agreement to take adequate treatment until cured or probated. (1939, c. 314, s. 2.)

§ 51-11. Who may execute certificate; form; filing copy with department of health.—Such certificate, upon the basis of which license to marry is granted, shall be executed by any reputable physician licensed to practice in the state of North Carolina, whose duty it shall be to examine such applicants and to issue such certificate in conformity with the requirements of §§ 51-9 to 51-14. If applicants are unable to pay for such examination, certificate without charge may be obtained from the local health officer or county physician.

Such certificate form shall be designed by the state board of health and shall be obtained by the register of deeds from the state board of health upon request.

Every examining physician under the provision of §§ 51-9 to 51-14 shall make and immediately file with the department of health of North Carolina a true copy of such certificate. (1939, c. 314, s. 3.)

§ 51-12. Eugenic sterilization for persons adjudged of unsound mind, etc.—If either applicant has been adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction as being an idiot, imbecile, mental defective, subject to epileptic attacks, or of unsound mind, license to marry shall be granted only after eugenic sterilization has been performed on the applicant in accordance with state laws governing eugenic sterilization. (1939, c. 314, s. 3.)

§ 51-13. Penalty for violation.—Any violation of §§ 51-9 to 51-14, or any part thereof, by any person charged herein with the responsibility of its enforcement shall be declared a misdemeanor and shall be punishable by a fine of fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisonment for thirty days, or both. (1939, c. 314, s. 3.)

§ 51-14. Compliance with requirement by residents who marry outside of state. — Residents of the state who are married outside of North Carolina, shall, within sixty days after they return to said state, file with the register of deeds of the county in which they live, a certificate showing that they have conformed to the requirements of the examination required by §§ 51-9 to 51-14 for those who are married in the state. (1939, c. 314, s. 2½.)

§ 51-15. Obtaining license by false representation misdemeanor.—If any person shall obtain a marriage license for the marriage of persons under the age of eighteen years by misrepresentation or false pretenses, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3371; 1885, c. 346; C. S. 2501.)

§ 51-16. Form of license.—License shall be in the following or some equivalent form:

To any ordained minister of any religious denomination, minister authorized by his church, or to any justice of the peace for.....county: A. B. having applied to me for a license for the marriage of C. D. (the name of the man to be written in full) of (here state his residence), aged .....years (race, as the case may be), the son of (here state the father and mother, if known; state whether they are living or dead, and their residence, if known; if any of these facts are not known, so state), and E. F. (write the name of the woman in full) of (here state her residence), aged.....years (race, as the case may be), the daughter of (here state names and residences of the parents, if known, as is required above with respect to the man). (If either of the parties is under eighteen years of age, the license shall here contain the following:) And the written consent of G. H., father (or mother, etc., as the case may be) to the proposed marriage having been filed with me, and there being no legal impediment to such marriage known to me, you are hereby authorized, at any time within sixty days from the date hereof, to celebrate the proposed marriage at any place within the said county. You are required, within sixty days after you shall have celebrated such marriage, to return this license to me at my office with your signature subscribed to the certificate under this license, and with the blanks therein filled according to the facts, under penalty of forfeiting two hundred dollars to the use of any person who shall sue for the same.

Issued this .... day of ....., 19.. L. M.,
Register of Deeds of.....County

Every register of deeds shall designate in every marriage license issued the race of the persons proposing to marry by inserting in the blank after the word "race" the words "white," "colored" or "indian," as the case may be. The certificate shall be filled up and signed by the minister or officer celebrating the marriage, and also be signed by one or more witnesses present at the marriage, who shall add to their names their place of residence, as follows:

I, N. O., an ordained or authorized minister of (here state to what religious denomination, or justice of the peace, as the case may be), united in matrimony (here name the parties), the parties licensed above, on the ..... day of ....., 19...., at the house of P. R., in (here name the town, if any, the township and county), according to law.

Witness present at the marriage: .....N. O.
S. T., of (here give residence). (Rev., 2089; Code, s. 1815; 1899. c. 541. ss. 1, 2; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 6; 1909, c. 704, s. 3; 1917, c. 38; C. S. 2502.)

Local Modification.—Bladen: 1941, c. 95.

§ 51-17. Penalty for issuing license unlawfully.—Every register of deeds who knowingly or without reasonable inquiry, personally or by deputy, issues a license for the marriage of any two persons to which there is any lawful impediment, or where either of the persons is under the age of eighteen years, without the consent required by law, shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars to any parent, guardian, or other person standing in loco parentis, who sues for the same. (Rev., s. 2090; Code, s. 1816; 1895, c. 387; 1901, c. 722; R. C., c. 68, s. 13; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 7; C. S. 2503.)

§ 51-18. Record of licenses and returns; originals filed.—Every register of deeds shall keep a book (which shall be furnished on demand by the board of county commissioners of his county) on the first page of which shall be written or printed:

Record of marriage licenses and of returns thereto, for the county of ....., from the ..... day of ....., 19...., to the ..... day of ....., 19...., both inclusive.

In said book shall be entered alphabetically, according to the names of the proposed husbands, the substance of each marriage license and the return thereupon, as follows: The book shall be divided by lines with columns which shall be properly headed, and in the first of these, beginning on the left, shall be put the date of issue of the license; in the second, the name in full of the intended husband, with his residence; in the third, his age; in the fourth, his race and color; in the fifth, the name in full of the intended wife, with her residence; in the sixth, her age; in the seventh, her race and color; in the eighth, the name and title of the minister or officer who celebrated the marriage; in the ninth, the day of the celebration; in the tenth, the place of the celebration; in the eleventh, the names of all or at least three of the witnesses who signed the return as present at the celebration. The original license and return thereto shall be filed and preserved. (Rev., s. 2091; Code, s. 1818; 1899, c. 541, s. 3; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 9; C. S. 2504.)

§ 51-19. Penalty for failure to record.—Any register of deeds who fails to record, in the manner above prescribed, the substance of any marriage license issued by him, or who fails to record, in the manner above prescribed, the substance of any return made thereon, within ten days after such return made, shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars to any person who sues for the same. (Rev., s. 2092; Code, s. 1819; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 10; C. S. 2505.)

Art. 1. Powers and Liabilities of Married Women.

§ 52-1. Property of married woman secured to her.—The real and personal property of any female in this state, acquired before marriage, and all property, real and personal, to which she may, after marriage, become in any manner entitled, shall be and remain the sole and separate estate and property of such female, and shall not be liable for any debts, obligations or engagements of her husband, and may be devised and bequeathed, and, with the written assent of her husband, conveyed by her as if she were unmarried. (Rev., s. 2093; Const., Art. X, s. 6; C. S. 2506.)

§ 52-2. Capacity to contract.—Subject to the provisions of § 52-12, regulating contracts of wife with husband affecting corpus or income of estate, every married woman is authorized to contract and deal so as to affect her real and personal property in the same manner and with the same effect as if she were unmarried, but no conveyance of her real estate shall be valid unless made with the written assent of her husband as provided by section six of article ten of the constitution, and her privy examination as to the execution of the same taken and certified as now required by law. (Rev., s. 2094; Code, s. 1826; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 17; 1911, c. 109; C. S. 2507.)

§ 52-3. Capacity to draw checks.—Bank deposits made by or in the name of a married woman shall be paid only to her or on her order, and her check, receipt or acquittance shall be valid in law to fully discharge the bank from any and all liability on account thereof. (Rev., s. 2095; 1891, c. 221, s. 30; 1893, c. 344; C. S. 2508.)

§ 52-4. Conveyance or lease of wife's land requires husband's joinder.—No lease or agreement for a lease or sublease or assignment by any married woman of her lands or tenements, or chattels real, to run for more than three years, or to begin in possession more than six months after its execution, or any conveyance of any freehold estate in her real property, shall be valid, unless the same be executed by her and her husband, and proved or acknowledged by them, and her free consent thereto appear on her examination separate from her husband, as is now or may hereafter be required by law in the probate of deeds of femes covert. (Rev., s. 2096; Code, s. 1834; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 26; C. S. 2509.)

§ 52-5. Separation by divorce or deed; husband non compos.—Every woman who is living separate from her husband, either under a judgment of divorce by a competent court or under a deed of separation executed by said husband and wife and registered in the county in which she resides, or whose husband has been declared an idiot or a lunatic, shall be deemed and held, from the docketing of such judgment, or from the registration of such deed, or from the date of such idiocy or lunacy and during its continuance, a free trader, and may convey her personal estate and her real estate without the assent of her husband. (Rev., s. 2116; Code, s. 1831; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 23; 1880, c. 35; C. S. 2529.)

§ 52-6. Abandonment by husband. — Every woman whose husband abandons her, or maliciously turns her out of doors, shall be deemed a free trader, so far as to be competent to contract and be contracted with, and to bind her separate property, but the liability of her husband for her reasonable support shall not thereby be impaired. She may also convey her personal estate and her real estate without the assent of her husband. (Rev., s. 2117; Code, s. 1832; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 24; C. S. 2530.)

§ 52-7. Husband cannot convey, etc., wife's land without her consent; not liable for his debts.—No real estate belonging at the time of marriage to females, married since the third Monday of November, one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight, nor any real estate by them subsequently acquired, nor any real estate acquired on and since the first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine, by femes covert, who were such on the said third Monday of November, one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight, shall be subject to be sold or leased by the husband for the term of his own life or any less term of years, except by and with the consent of his wife first had and obtained, to be ascertained and effectuated by deed and privy examination, according to the rules required by law for the sale of lands belonging to femes covert. And no interest of the husband whatever in such real estate shall be subject to sale to satisfy any execution obtained against him; and every such sale is hereby declared null and void. (Rev., s. 2097; Code, s. 1840; R. C., c. 56; 1848, c. 41; C. S. 2510.)

§ 52-8. Capacity to make will.—Every married woman has power to devise and bequeath her real and personal estate as if she were a feme sole; and her will shall be proved as is required of other wills. (Rev., s. 2098; Code, s. 1839; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 31; C. S. 2511.)

§ 52-9. May insure husband's life.—Any feme covert in her own name, or in the name of a trustee with his assent, may cause to be insured for any definite time the life of her husband, for her sole and separate use, and she may dispose of the interest in the same by will, notwithstanding her coverture. (Rev., s. 2099; C. S. 2512.)

§ 52-10. Earnings and damages from personal injury are wife's property.—The earnings of a married woman by virtue of any contract for her personal service, and any damages for personal injuries, or other tort sustained by her, can be recovered by her suing alone, and such earnings or recovery shall be her sole and separate property as fully as if she had remained unmarried. (1913, c. 13, s. 1; C. S. 2513.)

§ 52-11. Savings from separate property; liability of husband for income.—The savings from the income of the separate estate of the wife are her separate property. But no husband who, during the coverture (the wife not being a free trader under this chapter), has received, without objection from his wife, the income of her separate estate, shall be liable to account for such receipt for any greater time than the year next preceding the date of a summons issued against him in an action for such income, or next preceding her death. (Rev., s. 2100; Code, s. 1837; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 29; C. S. 2514.)

§ 52-12. Contracts of wife with husband affecting corpus or income of estate.—No contract between a husband and wife made during coverture shall be valid to affect or change any part of the real estate of the wife, or the accruing income thereof for a longer time than three years next ensuing the making of such contract, or to impair or change the body or capital of the personal estate of the wife, or the accruing income thereof, for a longer time than three years next ensuing the making of such contract, unless such contract is in writing, and is duly proved as is required for conveyances of land; and upon the examination of the wife separate and apart from her husband, as is now or may hereafter be required by law in the probate of deeds of femes covert, it shall appear to the satisfaction of such officer that the wife freely executed such contract, and freely consented thereto at the time of her separate examination, and that the same is not unreasonable or injurious to her. The certificate of the officer shall state his conclusions, and shall be conclusive of the facts therein stated. But the same may be impeached for fraud as other judgments may be. (Rev., s. 2107; Code, s. 1835; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 27; C. S. 2515.)

§ 52-13. Contracts between husband and wife generally; releases.—Contracts between husband and wife not forbidden by § 52-12 and not inconsistent with public policy are valid, and any persons of full age about to be married, and, subject to § 52-12, any married person, may release and quitclaim dower, tenancy by the curtesy, and all other rights which they might respectively acquire or may have acquired by marriage in the property of each other; and such releases may be pleaded in bar of any action or proceeding for the recovery of the rights and estates so released. (Rev., s. 2108; Code, s. 1836; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 28; C. S. 2516.)

§ 52-14. Wife's antenuptial contracts and torts.—The liability of a feme sole for any debts owing, or contracts made or damages incurred by her before her marriage shall not be impaired or altered by such marriage. No man by marriage shall incur any liability for any debts owing, or contracts made, or for wrongs done by his wife before the marriage. (Rev., ss. 2101, 2106; Code, ss. 1822, 1823; 1871-2, c. 193, ss. 13, 14; C. S. 2517.)

§ 52-15. For wife's torts, husband not liable.—No husband shall be liable for damages accruing from any tort committed by his wife, or for any costs or fines incurred in any criminal proceeding against her. (Rev., s. 2105; Code, s. 1833; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 25; 1921, c. 102; C. S. 2518.)

§ 52-16. Estate by the curtesy.—Every man who has married or shall marry a woman, and by her has issue born alive, shall, after her death intestate as to the lands, tenements and hereditaments hereinafter mentioned, be entitled to an estate as tenant by the curtesy during his life, in all the lands, tenements and hereditaments whereof his said wife was beneficially seized in deed during the coverture, wherein the said issue was capable of inheriting, whether the said seizin was of a legal or of an equitable estate; except that when the wife has obtained a divorce a mensa et thoro, and is not living with her husband at her death, or when the husband has abandoned his wife, or has maliciously turned her out of doors, and they are not living together at her death; or if the husband has separated himself from his wife, and is living in adultery at her death, he shall not be tenant by the curtesy of her lands, tenements and hereditaments. (Rev., s. 2102; Code, s. 1838; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 30; C. S. 2519.)

§ 52-17. In actions against wife, husband served and may defend.—In all actions brought against a married woman, who is not a free trader (as hereinafter provided for), the summons shall be served upon the husband also, and on motion to the court in which the action is pending, he may be allowed, with her consent, to defend the same in her name and behalf, but no judgment shall be given against him upon any liability claimed against her arising before the marriage or upon any contract made by her alone after her marriage. (Rev., s. 2103; Code, s. 1824; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 15; C. S. 2520.)

§ 52-18. Discharge of husband from defense; liability for costs.—When a husband is allowed to defend for his wife, he may be ordered to pay costs for any misconduct, and may be discharged from the conduct of her defense, if it shall appear to the court that his defense is not bona fide in her interest. (Rev., s. 2104; Code, s. 1825; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 16; C. S. 2521.)

Art. 2. Acts Barring Reciprocal Property Rights of Husband and Wife.

§ 52-19. Divorce a vinculo and felonious slaying a bar.—When a marriage is dissolved a vinculo, the parties respectively, or when either party is convicted of the felonious slaying of the other or of being accessory before the fact of such felonious slaying, the party so convicted, shall thereby lose all his or her right to an estate by the curtesy, or dower, and all right to any year's provision or distributive share in the personal property of the other, and all right to administer on the estate of the other, and every right and estate in the real or personal estate of the other party, which by settlement before or after marriage was settled upon such party in consideration of the marriage only. (Rev., s. 2109; Code, s. 1843; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 42; C. S. 2522.)

§ 52-20. Wife's elopement or divorce a mensa at husband's suit a bar.—If a married woman elopes with an adulterer, or willfully and without just cause abandons her husband and refuses to live with him, and is not living with her husband at his death, or if a divorce from bed and board is granted on the application of the husband, she shall thereby lose all right to dower in the lands and tenements of her husband, and also all right to a year's provision, and to a distributive share from the personal property of her husband, and all right to administration on his estate, and also all right and estate in the property of her husband, settled upon her upon the sole consideration of the marriage, before or after marriage; and such elopement may be pleaded in bar of any action, or proceeding, for the recovery of such rights and estates; and in case of such elopement, abandonment, or divorce, the husband may sell and convey his real estate as if he were unmarried, and the wife shall thereafter be barred of all claim and right of dower therein. (Rev., s. 2110; Code, s. 1844; 1893, c. 153, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 44; C. S. 2523.)

§ 52-21. Husband's living in adultery, etc., or divorce a mensa at wife's suit a bar.—If a husband separates from his wife and lives in adultery, or willfully and without just cause abandons his wife and refuses to live with her, and such conduct on his part is not condoned by her, or if a divorce from bed and board is granted on the application of the wife, he shall thereby lose all right to curtesy in the real property of the wife, and also all right and estate of whatever character in and to her personal property, as administrator, or otherwise; and also any right and estate in the property of the wife which may have been settled upon him solely in consideration of the marriage by any settlement before or after marriage, and in case of such adultery and abandonment or divorce, the wife may sell and convey her real property as if she were unmarried, and the husband, if there has been no condonation at the time of the conveyance, shall thereafter be barred of all claim and right to curtesy in such real property. (Rev., s. 2111; Code, s. 1845; 1893, c. 153, s. 4; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 45; C. S. 2524.)

Art. 3. Free Traders.

§ 52-22. Requisites of writing to make her free trader.— Every married woman of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, with the consent of her husband, may become a free trader in the manner following:

1. By antenuptial contract, proved and registered, as hereinafter required; or,

2. By her and her husband signing a writing in the following or some equivalent form:

A. B., of the age of twenty-one years or upwards, wife of C. D., of ..... county, with his consent, testified by his signature hereto, enters herself as a free trader from the date of the registration hereof.

(Signed)

A. B.
C. D.

Witness: E. F.

Registered this ..... day of ....., 19....

The said writing may be proved by the subscribing witness or acknowledged by the parties before any officer authorized to take the probate of deeds, and shall be filed and registered in the office of the register of deeds for the county in which the woman proposes to have her principal or only place of business. (Rev., s. 2112; Code, s. 1827; 1871-2, c. 193, ss. 18, 19; C. S. 2525.)

§ 52-23. Writing effective from registration.— From the time of the registration of the writing mentioned in § 52-22, the married woman therein mentioned shall be a free trader, and authorized to contract and deal as if she were a feme sole. (Rev., s. 2113; Code, s. 1828; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 20; C. S. 2526.)

§ 52-24. Certified copy as evidence.—A copy of such writing, duly proved and registered and certified by the register of the county in which the same is registered, is admissible in evidence as certified copies of registered deeds are or may be allowed to be. (Rev., s. 2114; Code, s. 1829; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 21; C. S. 2527.)

§ 52-25. Revocation by entry on record and publication.—The right of a married woman to act as a free trader may be ended at any time by an entry by her, or by her attorney, in the margin of the registration of the writing above mentioned, to the effect that from the date of such marginal entry she ceases so to act, and by publication to that effect weekly for three weeks in some newspaper published in the county in which she had her principal or only place of business, or if there is none so published, then in any other convenient newspaper. But such entry and publication shall not impair any liabilities incurred previously thereto, nor prevent such married woman from becoming liable afterwards to any person whom she may fraudulently induce to deal with her as a free trader. (Rev., s. 2115; Code, s. 1830; 1871-2, c. 193, s. 22; C. S. 2528.)

Art. 1. Definitions.

§ 53-1. "Bank," "surplus," "undivided profits," and other words defined.—The following definitions shall be applied to the terms used in this chapter:

The term "bank" shall be construed to mean any corporation, partnership, firm, or individual receiving, soliciting, or accepting money or its equivalent on deposit as a business: Provided, however, this definition shall not be construed to include building and loan associations, Morris plan companies, industrial banks or trust companies not receiving money on deposit.

The term "surplus" means a fund created pursuant to the provisions of this chapter by a bank from payments by stockholders or from its net earnings or undivided profits which, to the amount specified and by any additions thereto set apart and designated as such, is not available for the payment of dividends, and cannot be used for the payment of expenses or losses so long as such bank has undivided profits.

The term "undivided profits" means the credit balance of the profit and loss account of any bank.

The term "net earnings" means the excess of the gross earnings of any bank over the expenses and losses chargeable against such earnings during any dividend period.

The term "time deposits" means all deposits, the payment of which cannot be legally required within thirty days.

The term "demand deposits" means all deposits, the payment of which can be legally required within thirty days.

The term "insolvency" means: (a) when a bank cannot meet its deposit liabilities as they become due in the regular course of business; (b) when the actual cash market value of its assets is insufficient to pay its liabilities to depositors and other creditors; (c) when its reserve shall fall under the amount required by this chapter, and it shall fail to make good such reserve within thirty days after being required to do so by the commissioner of banks; (d) whenever the undivided profits and surplus shall be inadequate to cover losses of the bank, whereby an impairment of the capital stock is created. (1921, c. 4, s. 1; 1927, c. 47, s. 1; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 216(a).)

Art. 2. Creation.

§ 53-2. How incorporated. — Any number of persons, not less than five, who may be desirous of forming a company and engaging in the business of establishing, maintaining, and operating banks of discount and deposit to be known as commercial banks, or engaging in the business of establishing, maintaining, and operating offices of loan and deposits to be known as savings banks, or of establishing, maintaining, and operating banks having departments for both classes of business, or operating banks engaged in doing a trust, fiduciary, and surety business, shall be incorporated in the manner following and in no other way; that is to say, such persons shall, by a certificate of incorporation under their hands and seals set forth:

1. The name of the corporation; no name shall be used already in use by another existing corporation organized under the laws of this state or of the congress, or so nearly similar thereto as to lead to uncertainty or confusion.

2. The location of its principal office in this state.

3. The nature of its business, whether that of a commercial bank, savings bank, trust company, or a combination of two or more or all of such classes of business.

4. The amount of its authorized capital stock which shall be divided into shares of ten, twenty, twenty-five, fifty or one hundred dollars each; the amount of capital stock with which it will commence business, which shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars in cities or towns of three thousand population or less; nor less than thirty thousand dollars in cities and towns whose population exceeds three thousand, but does not exceed ten thousand; nor less than fifty thousand dollars in cities and towns whose population exceeds ten thousand but does not exceed twenty-five thousand; nor less than one hundred thousand dollars in cities and towns having a population of more than twenty-five thousand; the population to be ascertained by the last preceding national census: Provided, that this subsection shall not apply to banks organized and doing business prior to its adoption. Provided, further, that fractional shares may be issued for the purpose of complying with the requirements of § 53-88.

5. The names and postoffice addresses of subscribers for stock, and the number of shares subscribed by each; the aggregate of such subscriptions shall be the amount of the capital with which the company will commence business.

6. Period, if any, limited for the duration of the company. (1921, c. 4, s. 2; 1927, c. 47, s. 2; 1929, c. 72, s. 1; C. S. 217(a).)

§ 53-3. Certificate of incorporation; how signed, proved, and filed.—The certificate of incorporation shall be signed by the original incorporators, or a majority of them, and shall be proved or acknowledged before an officer duly authorized under the laws of this state to take proof or acknowledgment of deeds, and shall be filed in the office of the secretary of the state. The secretary of state shall forthwith transmit to the commissioner of banks a copy of said certificate of incorporation, and shall not issue or record the same until duly authorized so to do by the commissioner of banks as hereinafter provided. (1921, c. 4, s. 3; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(b).)

§ 53-4. Examination by commissioner; when certification to be refused.—Upon receipt of a copy of the certificate of incorporation of the proposed bank, the commissioner of banks shall at once examine into all the facts connected with the formation of such proposed corporation, including its location and proposed stockholders, and if it appears that such corporation, if formed, will be lawfully entitled to commence the business of banking, the commissioner of banks shall so certify to the secretary of state, who shall thereupon issue and record such certificate of incorporation. But the commissioner of banks may refuse to so certify to the secretary of state, if upon examination and investigation he has reason to believe that the proposed corporation is formed for any other than legitimate banking business, or that the character, general fitness, and responsibility of the persons proposed as stockholders in such corporation are not such as to command the confidence of the community in which said bank is proposed to be located; or that the public convenience and advantage will not be promoted by its establishment, or that the name of the proposed corporation is likely to mislead the public as to its character or purpose; or if the proposed name is the same as one already adopted, or appropriated by an existing bank in this state, or so similar thereto as to be likely to mislead the public. (1921, c. 4, s. 4; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 56, s. 1; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(c).)

§ 53-5. Certificate of incorporation, when certified.—Upon receipt of such certificate from the commissioner of banks, the secretary of state shall, if said certificate of incorporation be in accordance with law, cause the same to be recorded in his office in a book to be kept for that purpose, and known as the corporation book, and he shall, upon the payment of the organization tax and fees, certify under his official seal two copies of the said certificate of incorporation and probates, one of which shall forthwith be recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the principal office of said corporation in this state shall or is to be located, in a book to be known as the record of incorporations, and the other certified copy shall be filed in the office of the commissioner of banks, and thereupon the said persons shall be a body politic and corporate under the name stated in such certificate. The said certificate of incorporation, or a copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state or the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the same is recorded, or by the commissioner of banks, under their respective seals, shall be evidence in all courts and places, and shall, in all judicial proceedings, be deemed prima facie evidence of the complete organization and incorporation of the company purporting thereby to have been established. The charter of any bank which fails to complete its organization and open for business to the public within six months after the date of filing its certificate of incorporation with the secretary of state shall be void: Provided, however, the commissioner of banks may for cause extend the limitation herein imposed. (1921, c. 4, s. 5; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(d).)

§ 53-6. Payment of capital stock.—The capital stock of every bank shall be fully paid in, in cash, before it shall be authorized by the commissioner of banks to commence business and the full payment in cash of the capital stock shall be certified to the commissioner of banks under oath by the president and cashier of the said bank. Provided, that the stock sold by any bank in process of organization, or for an increase of the capital stock, shall be accounted for to the bank in the full amount paid for the same. No commission or fee shall be paid to any person, association, or corporation for selling such stock. The commissioner of banks shall refuse authority to commence business to any bank if commissions or fees have been paid, or have been contracted to be paid by it, or by any one in its behalf, to any person, association, or corporation for securing subscriptions for or selling stock in such bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 6; 1927, c. 47, s. 3; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(e).)

§ 53-7. Statement filed before beginning business. — Before such company shall begin the business of banking, banking and trust, fiduciary, or surety business, there shall be filed with the commissioner of banks a statement under oath by the president or cashier, containing the names of all the directors and officers, with the date of their election or appointment, term of office, residence, and postoffice address of each, the amount of capital stock of which each is the owner in good faith and the amount of money paid in on account of the capital stock. Nothing shall be received in payment of capital stock but money. (1921, c. 4, s. 7; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(f).)

§ 53-8. Authorized to begin business. — Upon filing of such statement, the commissioner of banks shall examine into its affairs, ascertain especially the amount of money paid in on account of its capital, the name and place of residence of each director, the amount of capital stock of which each is the owner in good faith, and whether such corporation has complied with all the provisions of law required to entitle it to engage in business. If upon such examination it appears to the commissioner of banks that it is lawfully entitled to commence the business of banking, banking and trust, fiduciary, or surety business, he shall give to such corporation a certificate signed by the commissioner of banks, that such corporation has complied with all the provisions of the law required to be complied with, before commencing the business of banking, and that such corporation is authorized to commence business. (1921, c. 4, s. 8; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(g).)

§ 53-9. Transactions preliminary to beginning business.—No such corporation shall transact any business except such as is incidental and necessarily preliminary to its organization until it has been authorized to do so by the commissioner of banks. (1921, c. 4, s. 9; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(h).)

§ 53-10. Increase of capital stock.—A corporation doing business under the provisions of this chapter may increase its capital stock as provided by law for other corporations upon a vote in favor of the increase of two-thirds in interest of each class of stockholders in its voting powers. (1921, c. 4, s. 10; C. S. 217(i).)

§ 53-11. Decrease of capital stock.—A corporation doing business under the provisions of this chapter may reduce its capital stock in the manner provided for other corporations upon a vote in favor of the decrease of two-thirds in interest of each class of stockholders with voting powers: Provided, that no bank shall reduce its capital stock to an amount less than the minimum required by law. Such reduction shall not be valid or warrant the cancellation of stock certificates until it has been approved by the commissioner of banks. Such approval shall not be given except upon a finding by the commissioner of banks that the security of existing creditors of the corporation will not be impaired. (1921, c. 4, s. 11; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(j).)

§ 53-12. Consolidation of banks. — A bank may consolidate with or transfer its assets and liabilities to another bank. Before such consolidation or transfer shall become effective, each bank concerned in such consolidation or transfer shall file, or cause to be filed, with the commissioner of banks, certified copies of all proceedings had by its directors and stockholders, which said stockholders' proceedings shall set forth that holders of at least two-thirds of the stock voted in the affirmative on the proposition of consolidation or transfer. Such stockholders' proceedings shall also contain a complete copy of the agreement made and entered into between said banks, with reference to such consolidation or transfer. Upon the filing of such stockholders' and directors' proceedings as aforesaid, the commissioner of banks shall cause to be made an examination of each bank to determine whether the interests of the depositors, creditors, and stockholders of each bank are protected, and that such consolidation or transfer is made for legitimate purposes, and his consent to or rejection of such consolidation or transfer shall be based upon such examination. No such consolidation or transfer shall be made without the consent of the commissioner of banks. The expense of such examination shall be paid by such banks. Notice of such consolidation or transfer shall be published for four weeks before or after the same is to become effective, at the discretion of the commissioner of banks, in a newspaper published in a city, town, or county in which each of said banks is located, and a certified copy thereof shall be filed with the commissioner of banks. In case of either transfer or consolidation the rights of creditors shall be preserved unimpaired, and the respective companies deemed to be in existence to preserve such rights for a period of three years. (1921, c. 4, s. 12; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(k).)

§ 53-13. Consolidated banks deemed one bank.—In case of consolidation when the agreement of consolidation is made, and a duly certified copy thereof is filed with the secretary of state, together with a certified copy of the approval of the commissioner of banks to such consolidation, the banks, parties thereto, shall be held to be one company, possessed of the rights, privileges, powers, and franchises of the several companies, but subject to all the provisions of law under which it is created. The directors and other officers named in the agreement of consolidation shall serve until the first annual meeting for election of officers and directors, the date for which shall be named in the agreement. On filing such agreement, all and singular, the property and rights of every kind of the several companies shall thereby be transferred and vested in such new company, and be as fully its property as they were of the companies parties to the agreement. (1921, c. 4, s. 13; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(l).)

§ 53-14. Reorganization.—Whenever any bank under the laws of this state or of the United States is authorized to dissolve, and shall have taken the necessary steps to effect dissolution, it shall be lawful for a majority of the directors of such bank, upon authority in writing of the owners of two-thirds of its capital stock, with the approval of the commissioner of banks, to execute articles of incorporation as provided in this chapter, which articles, in addition to the requirements of law, shall further set forth the authority derived from the stockholders of such national bank or state bank, and upon filing the same as hereinbefore provided for the organization of banks, the same shall become a bank under the laws of this state, and thereupon all assets, real and personal, of the dissolved national or state bank shall by operation of law be vested in and become the property of such state bank, subject to all liabilities of such national or state bank not liquidated under the laws of the United States or this State before such reorganization. (1921, c. 4, s. 14; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 217(m).)

§ 53-15. Consolidation of banks and building and loan insurance corporations.—Banking corporations, with the approval of the commissioner of banks, and in conformity with such requirements and regulations as the state banking commission may prescribe, and building and loan and insurance corporations, with the approval of the insurance commissioner, and in conformity with such requirements and regulations as he may prescribe may merge and consolidate under the provisions of §§ 55-165 through 55-170. (1925, c. 77, s. 2; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2.)

§ 53-16. Consolidation of state banks or trust companies with national banking associations.—Any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of North Carolina may be consolidated with any national banking association, or associations, under the charter of such national banking association or under a new charter issued to such consolidated association, upon such terms and conditions as may be lawfully agreed upon, provided that the laws of North Carolina governing the consolidation of State banks shall be first complied with as to the consolidation of such bank or trust company. When such consolidation shall have been effected and approved, as provided by law, all the rights, franchises and interests of such bank or trust company so consolidated with the national banking association, or national banking associations, in and to every species of property, real, personal and mixed, and choses in action thereto belonging, shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in such national banking association into which it is consolidated, without any deed or other transfer, and the said consolidated national banking association shall hold and enjoy the same and all rights of property, franchises and interests, including the right of succession as trustee, executor, administrator, or in any other fiduciary capacity, in the same manner, and to the same extent, as was held and enjoyed by such bank or trust company so consolidated. In case of such consolidation the rights of creditors of such bank or trust company shall be preserved unimpaired and all lawful debts and liabilities of such bank or trust company shall be deemed to have been assumed by such consolidated national banking association. (1929, c. 148, s. 1.)

§ 53-17. Fiduciary powers and liabilities of banks or trust companies merging or transferring assets and liabilities.—Whenever any bank or trust company, organized under the laws of North Carolina or the Acts of Congress, and doing business in this state, shall consolidate or merge with or shall sell to and transfer its assets and liabilities to any other bank or trust company doing business in this state, as provided by the laws of North Carolina or the Acts of Congress, all the then existing fiduciary rights, powers, duties and liabilities of such consolidating or merging or transferring bank or banks and/or trust companies, including the rights, powers, duties and liabilities as executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, and/or any other fiduciary capacity, whether under appointment by order of court, will, deed, or other instrument, shall, upon the effective date of such consolidation or merger or sale and transfer, vest in, devolve upon, and thereafter be performed by, the transferee bank or the consolidated or merged bank or trust company, and such latter bank or trust company shall be deemed substituted for and shall have all the rights and powers of the transferring bank or trust company. (1931, c. 207; 1941, c. 80.)

Art. 3. Dissolution and Liquidation.

§ 53-18. Voluntary liquidation. — A bank may go into voluntary liquidation and be closed, and may surrender its charter and franchise as a corporation of this state by the affirmative votes of its stockholders owning two-thirds of its stock, such vote to be taken at a meeting of the stockholders duly called by resolution of the board of directors, written notice of which, stating the purpose of the meeting, shall be mailed to each stockholder, or in case of his death, to his legal representative or heirs at law, addressed to his last known residence ten days previous to the date of said meeting. Whenever stockholders shall by such vote at a meeting regularly called for the purpose, notice of which shall be given as herein provided, decide to liquidate such bank, a certified copy of all proceedings of the meeting at which said action shall have been taken, verified by the oath of the president and cashier, shall be transmitted to the commissioner of banks for his approval. If the commissioner of banks shall approve the same, he shall issue to the said bank, under his seal, a permit for such purpose. No such permit shall be issued by the commissioner of banks until said commissioner of banks shall be satisfied that provision has been made by such bank to satisfy and pay off all depositors and all creditors of such bank. If not so satisfied, the commissioner of banks shall refuse to issue a permit, and shall be authorized to take possession of said bank and its assets and business, and hold the same and liquidate said bank in the manner provided in this chapter. When the commissioner of banks shall approve the voluntary liquidation of a bank, the directors of said bank shall cause to be published in a newspaper in the city, town, or county in which such bank is located, a notice that the bank is closing up its affairs and going into liquidation, and notify its depositors and creditors to present their claims for payment. When any bank shall be in process of voluntary liquidation, it shall be subject to examination by the commissioner of banks, and shall furnish such reports from time to time as may be called for by the commissioner of banks. All unclaimed deposits and dividends remaining in the hands of such bank shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter as hereinafter provided. Whenever the commissioner of banks shall approve it, any bank may sell and transfer to any other bank, either State bank or national bank, all of its assets of every kind upon such terms as may be agreed upon and approved by the commissioner of banks and by two-thirds vote of its board of directors. A certified copy of the minutes of any meeting at which such action is taken, under the oath of the president and cashier, together with a copy of the contract of sale and transfer, shall be filed with the commissioner of banks. Whenever voluntary liquidation shall be approved by the commissioner of banks or the sale and transfer of the assets of any bank shall be approved by the commissioner of banks, a certified copy of such approval under seal of the commissioner of banks, filed in the office of the secretary of state, shall authorize the cancellation of the charter of such bank, subject, however, to its continued existence, as provided by this chapter and the general law relative to corporations. (1921, c. 4, s. 15; 1927, c. 47, s. 4; 1929, c. 73; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 218(a).)

§ 53-19. Commissioner of banks may take charge, when.—The commissioner of banks may forthwith take possession of the business and property of any bank to which this chapter is applicable whenever it shall appear that such bank:

1. Has violated its charter or any laws applicable thereto;
2. Is conducting its business in an unauthorized or unsafe manner;
3. Is in an unsafe or unsound condition to transact its business;
4. Has an impairment of its capital stock;
5. Has refused to pay its depositors in accordance with the terms on which such deposits were received, or has refused to pay its holders of certificates of indebtedness or investment in accordance with the terms upon which such certificates of indebtednesss or investment were sold;
6. Has become otherwise insolvent;
7. Has neglected or refused to comply with the terms of a duly issued lawful order of the commissioner of banks;
8. Has refused, upon proper demand, to submit its records, affairs, and concerns for inspection and examination to a duly appointed or authorized examiner of the commissioner of banks;
9. Its officers have refused to be examined upon oath regarding its affairs.
10. Has made a voluntary assignment of its assets to trustees;

Such banks may resume business as provided in § 53-37. (1911, c. 25, s. 4; 1921, c. 4, s. 16; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 218(b), 242.)

§ 53-20. Liquidation of banks.—(1) When Commissioner of Banks to Take Possession.—Whenever any State bank shall neglect or refuse for a period of sixty days to make a report to the commissioner of banks, as he may demand, or shall, after demand under seal of the commissioner of banks fail, neglect or refuse to comply with any of the rules, regulations or requirements of the state banking commission, or the provisions of the banking law, or if at any time the commissioner of banks shall find a bank subject to the supervision of the commissioner of banks, in an insolvent, unsafe or unsound condition to transact the business for which it was organized, or in an unsafe, or unsound condition to continue its business, or if such institution shall neglect or refuse to correct any irregularity which may be called to the attention of the president, cashier or board of directors, by the commissioner of banks, or any of his assistants; then, in either of such events, the commissioner of banks, or any duly authorized agent of the commissioner of banks appointed under seal of the commissioner of banks, shall forthwith take possession of such bank, and all of its assets and business and shall retain possession thereof until such bank shall be authorized by the commissioner of banks to resume business, or its affairs shall be fully liquidated as herein provided, or possession thereof shall have been surrendered under order of a judge of the Superior Court under the provisions of this section.

(2) Directors May Act.—Any bank may place its assets and business under the control of the commissioner of banks for liquidation by resolution of a majority of its directors upon notice to the said commissioner of banks, and, upon taking possession of said bank, the commissioner of banks, or duly appointed agent, shall retain possession thereof until such bank shall be authorized by the commissioner of banks to resume business or until the affairs of said bank shall be fully liquidated as herein provided, and no bank shall make any general assignment for the benefit of its creditors save and except by surrendering possession of its assets to the commissioner of banks, as herein provided. Whenever any bank for any reason shall suspend operations for any length of time, said bank shall, immediately upon such suspension of operations, be deemed in the possession of the commissioner of banks and subject to liquidation hereunder.

(3) Notice of Seizure to Court Bar to Attachment, etc.; Transfers Void.—When the commissioner of banks, or duly appointed agent, shall take possession of any bank under paragraph (1) or (2) hereof he shall, within forty-eight hours, file with the Clerk of the Superior Court in the county where said bank is located, a notice of his action which shall state the reason therefor; and such notice shall be deemed the equivalent of a summons and complaint against said bank in an action in the Superior Court except that it shall not be necessary to make service thereof, and the taking possession of any bank shall thereupon date from the time when such authority was exercised and from and after such time all assets and property of such bank, of whatever nature shall be deemed to be in possession of the commissioner of banks, and the exercise of such authority shall operate as a bar to any attachment, or other legal proceeding, against such bank or its assets and, after such exercise of authority, no lien shall be acquired, in any manner binding or affecting any of the assets of such bank and every transfer or assignment made thereafter by such bank, or by its authority, of the whole or any part of its assets, shall be null and void; and the commissioner of banks shall be substituted in place of the bank in all actions in the State or Federal Courts, pending at the time of the exercise of such authority.

(4) Notice to Banks; Corporation and Persons Holding Assets; Liens Not to Accrue.—On taking possession of the assets and business of any bank, the commissioner of banks, or duly appointed agent, shall forthwith give notice, by mail or otherwise, of such action to all banks or other persons or corporations holding, or having in possession, any assets of such bank. No bank or other person or corporation shall have a lien or charge for any payment, advance or clearance made, or liability incurred against any of the assets of said bank after possession has been taken as provided under this section, except as hereinafter provided.

(5) Permission to Resume Business.—After the commissioner of banks has taken possession of any bank, such bank may resume business as provided in § 53-37.

(6) Remedy by Bank for Seizure; Answer to Notice; Injunction, etc., Appeal.—Whenever any bank, of whose assets and business the commissioner of banks has taken possession as aforesaid, except where possession is taken under paragraph (2) hereof, shall deem itself aggrieved thereby, it may, at any time within ten (10) days after the filing of the notice with the clerk of the Superior Court, file an answer to said notice and may also upon notice to the commissioner of banks, apply to the resident or the presiding judge of the district for an injunction to enjoin further proceedings by the said commissioner of banks, and the said judge may cite the said commissioner of banks to show cause within ten days thereafter why further proceedings should not be enjoined, and after hearing the allegations and proof of the parties with respect to the condition of said bank, may dismiss such application for injunction or may enjoin further proceedings under this section by the commissioner of banks. If the judge shall enjoin further action of the commissioner of banks and permit the reopening of the bank, he shall have authority to require of the bank such surety bond as he may deem necessary to insure its solvency, payable to the commissioner of banks for the sole benefit of the general creditors of the bank, and upon such terms as said judge may deem proper. Either party shall have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court as in other actions.

(7) Collection of Debts and Claims; Sale or Compromise of Debts, Claims; Commissioner Succeeds to All Property of Bank.—Upon taking possession of the assets and business of any bank by the commissioner of banks, the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, is authorized to collect all money due such bank, and to do such other acts as are necessary to conserve its assets and property, and shall proceed to liquidate the affairs thereof, as hereinafter provided. The commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to such bank, by suit, if necessary; and, by motion in the pending action, and upon authority of an order of the presiding or resident judge of the district may sell, compromise or compound any bad or doubtful debt or claim, and may upon such order, sell the real and personal property of such bank on such terms as the order may provide or direct, except that, where the sale is made under power contained in any mortgage or lien bond or other paper wherein the title is retained for sale and the terms of sale set out, sale may be made under said authority. Upon taking possession of any bank under this section, the commissioner of banks and/or the duly appointed agent shall have the possession and the right to the possession of all the property, assets, choses in action, rights and privileges of the said bank, including the right to resign the trust or exercise the power in all mortgages, deeds of trust, and all other papers executed to secure the payment of money in any form in which the said bank shall have been named as trustee and/or pledgee, and such property rights and privileges shall vest in the said commissioner and/or duly appointed liquidating agent absolutely, for the purpose of liquidating, and sales and conveyance of the same, together with any and all other incidental rights, privileges, and powers necessary and convenient for the enjoyment of the right of conveyance and sale and for the exercise of the same. Upon the motion made, the bank or any person interested, may be heard, but the judge hearing the motion shall enter his order as in his discretion will best serve the parties interested.

The powers granted by the second preceding sentence shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any existing acts ratified at the 1931 session of the General Assemby.

The officers and directors of any bank, or any bank that is in liquidation as provided by law, shall not hereafter exercise any powers herein declared to be vested in the North Carolina commissioner of banks, and/or the duly appointed liquidating agent.

(8) Bond of Commissioner of Banks; Surety; Condition; Minimum Penalty.—Upon taking possession of any bank, the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, shall execute and file a bond payable to the State of North Carolina, with some surety company as surety thereon, with the clerk of the Superior Court of the county where the bank is located, conditioned upon the faithful performance of all duties imposed by reason of the liquidation of such bank by the said commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, or any agent or assistant assisting in the liquidation of the said bank, the penal sum of said bond to be fixed by order of the commissioner of banks, which in no case shall be less than five thousand ($5,000) dollars. Any person interested, by motion in the pending action, shall be heard by the resident or presiding judge as to the sufficiency of the bond; the judge hearing the motion may thereupon fix the bond; provided, that where such bank under this section is taken possession of by the commissioner of banks, he may, in his discretion with the approval of the state banking commission, appoint as his agent with the powers, duties and responsibilities of such agent under this section, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any corporation or agency established under and by virtue of the laws of the United States of America which is established for the purposes for which the said Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation was created under the banking act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three enacted by congress; and provided further that such appointment may be made when and only when the liabilities of such bank to its depositors are insured by said corporation or agency, either in whole or in part. In the event of such appointment such corporation or agency, with the approval of the commissioner of banks, may serve as such agent without giving the bond required under all other circumstances in this subsection.

(9) Inventory Necessary.—Within thirty days after the filing of the notice of the taking possession of any bank in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court, the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, shall make and state an inventory of the assets and liabilities of the said bank, and shall file one copy thereof with the clerk of the Superior Court in the pending action and shall keep one copy on file in the said bank. Such inventory shall be open for inspection during the usual banking hours, provided, that nothing herein shall require said bank to remain open unnecessarily.

(10) Notice and Time for Filing Claims; Copies Mailed.—Notice shall be given by advertisement for four weeks in a newspaper published in said county; if no newspaper is published in said county, then in some newspaper having a general circulation in said county, calling on all persons who may have claims against the bank to present the same to the commissioner of banks at the office of the bank, and within the time to be specified in the notice, not less, however, than ninety (90) days from the date of the first publication. A copy of this notice shall be mailed to all persons whose names appear as creditors upon the books of the bank. Affidavit by the commissioner of banks, or agent mailing the notice, to the effect that said notice was mailed shall be conclusive evidence thereof.

(11) Power to Reject Claims; Notice; Affidavit of Service; Action on Claim.—If the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, doubts the justice and validity of any claim or deposit, he may reject the same and serve notice of such rejection upon the claimant or depositor, either personally or by registered mail, and an affidavit of the service of such notice shall be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court in the pending action, and shall be conclusive evidence of such notice. Any action or suit upon such claim so rejected must be brought by the claimant against the commissioner of banks in the proper court of the county in which the bank is located within ninety days after such service, or the same shall be barred. Objections to any claim or deposit not rejected by the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, may be made by any person interested by filing such objection in the pending action and by serving a copy thereof on the commissioner of banks, or duly appointed agent, and the commissioner of banks or duly appointed agent, after investigation, shall either allow such objection and reject the claim or deposit, or disallow the objection. If the objection is not allowed and the claim or deposit not rejected, the commissioner of banks or the duly appointed agent, shall file a notice to this effect in the pending action; and within ten days thereafter, the person filing objection by motion in the pending action, a copy of which notice shall be served upon the person whose claim or deposit is objected to, may present to the court the question of the validity of said claim or deposit; and the questions of law and issues of fact shall thereupon be determined as in other civil actions.

(12) List of Claims Presented and Deposits; Copies; Proviso. — Upon the expiration of the time fixed for presentation of claims, the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, shall make a full and complete list of the claims presented and of the deposits as shown, including and specifying any claims or deposits which have been rejected by him, and shall file one copy in the office of the clerk of the superior court in the pending action, and shall keep one copy on file with the inventory in the office of the bank for examination. Any indebtedness against any bank which has been established or recognized as a valid liability of said bank before it went into liquidation, for which no claimant has filed claim, and/or any liability for which claim has been filed and disapproved, shall be listed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the bank is located, by the liquidating agent, and the dividends accruing thereto shall be paid into the said office and shall be held for a period of three months after said liquidation is completed, and shall then be paid to the escheator of the University of North Carolina. Any claim which may be presented after the expiration of the time fixed for the presentation of claims in the notice hereinbefore provided shall, if allowed, share pro rata in the distribution only of those assets of the bank in the hands of the commissioner of banks, and undistributed at the time the claim is presented: Provided, that when it is made to appear to the judge of the superior court, resident or presiding in the county, that the claim could not have been filed within said period, said judge may permit those creditors or depositors who subsequently file their claim to share as other creditors.

(13) Declaration of Dividends; Order of Preference in Distribution.—At any time after the expiration of the date fixed by the commissioner of banks, or the duly appointed agent, for the presentation of claims against the bank, and from time to time thereafter, the commissioner of banks, out of the funds in his hands, after the payment of expenses and priorities, may declare and pay dividends to the depositors and other creditors of such bank in the order now or hereafter provided by law; and a dividend shall be declared when and as often as the funds on hand subject to the payment of dividends shall be sufficient to pay ten (10) per centum of all claims entitled to share in such dividends. In paying dividends and calculating the same, all disputed claims and deposits shall be taken into account, but no dividend shall be paid upon such disputed claims and deposits until the same shall have been finally determined. The following shall be the order and preference in the distribution of the assets of any bank liquidated hereunder: (1) Taxes and fees due the commissioner of banks for examination or other services; (2) wages and salaries due officers and employees of the bank, for a period of not more than four months; (3) expenses of liquidation; (4) certified checks and cashier's checks in the hands of a third party as a holder for value and amounts due on collections made and unremitted for or for which final actual payment has not been made by the bank; (5) amounts due creditors other than stockholders. The word "asset" used herein shall not be deemed to include bailments or other property to which such bank has no title. Provided, that when any bank, or any officer, clerk, or agent thereof, receives by mail, express or otherwise, a check, bill of exchange, order to remit, note, or draft for collection, with request that remittance be made therefor, the charging of such item to the account of the drawer, acceptor, indorser, or maker thereof, or collecting any such item from any bank or other party, and failing to remit therefor, or the non-payment of a check sent in payment therefor, shall create a lien in favor of the owner of such item on the assets of such bank making the collection, and shall attach from the date of the charge, entry or collection of any such funds. A statement of all dividends paid shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court in the pending action, and said statements shall show the expenses deducted and the disputed claims and deposits considered in determining said dividend.

(14) Deposit of Funds Collected.—All funds collected by the commissioner of banks, in liquidating any bank, shall be deposited from time to time in such bank or banks as may be selected by him, and shall be subject to the check of the commissioner of banks. The payment of interest on the net average of such sums on deposit shall be controlled by the governor and council of state, who shall have full power and authority to determine for what periods of time payment of interest on such deposits shall or shall not be required, and to fix the rate of interest to be paid thereon.

(15) Employment of Local Attorneys; Expert Accountants and Other Experts; Compensation.—The commissioner of banks, for the purpose of liquidating banks as herein provided, shall employ such liquidating agents, competent local attorneys, accountants and clerks as may be necessary to properly liquidate and distribute the assets of said bank, and shall fix the compensation for all such agents, attorneys, accountants and clerks, and shall pay the same out of the funds derived from the liquidation of the assets of said bank: Provided, that all expenditure for the purpose herein provided shall be approved by the resident or presiding judge in the pending action at such time as the same may be reported, and such charges shall be a proper charge and lien on the assets of such bank until paid.

(16) Unclaimed Dividends Held in Trust.—The unclaimed dividends remaining in the hands of the commissioner of banks for six months after the order for final distributions shall be held in trust for the several depositors and creditors of the liquidated bank; and the money so held by him shall be paid over to the persons respectively entitled thereto as and when satisfactory evidence of their right to the same is furnished. In case of doubtful or conflicting claims the commissioner of banks shall have authority to apply to the superior court of the county, by motion in the pending action, for an order from the resident or presiding judge of the superior court directing the payment of the moneys so claimed. When issues of fact are raised by said motion, the same may, upon request of any claimant, be submitted to the jury for determination as other issues of fact are determined. The interest earned on the unclaimed dividend so held shall be applied toward defraying the expenses incurred in the distribution of such unclaimed dividends. The balance of interest, if any, shall be deposited and held as other funds of the banking department to the credit of the commissioner of banks.

(17) Report by Commissioner of Banks. — If the assets of any bank when fully collected by the commissioner of banks are not more than sufficient to pay the depositors and creditors of said bank, the commissioner of banks after he shall have fully distributed as herein provided the sums so collected, then he shall cause to be filed in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court in the pending action a full and complete report of all his transactions in said liquidation; and the filing of such report shall act as a full and complete discharge of the commissioner of banks from all further liabilities by reason of the liquidation of the bank.

(18) Action by Commissioner of Banks after Full Settlement.—Whenever the commissioner of banks shall have paid all the expenses of liquidation and shall have paid to each and every depositor and creditor of such bank, whose claims shall have been duly proven and allowed, the full amount of such claims, and shall have made proper provision for unclaimed and unpaid deposits and disputed claims and deposits, and shall have in hand other assets of said bank, he shall call a meeting of the stockholders of said bank by giving notice thereof by publication once a week for four weeks in a newspaper published in said county, or if no newspaper is published in said county, then in a newspaper having general circulation in said county, and by mailing a copy of such notice to each stockholder addressed to him at his address as the same shall appear upon the books of the bank. Affidavit of the officer mailing the notice herein required and of the printer as to the publication shall be conclusive evidence of notice hereunder. At such meeting any stockholders may be represented by proxy and the stockholders shall elect, by a majority vote of the stock present, an agent or agents who shall be authorized to receive from the commissioner of banks all the assets of said bank, then remaining in his hands; and the commissioner of banks shall cause to be transferred and delivered to the said agent, or agents, all such assets of said bank. The commissioner of banks shall thereupon cause to be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court in the pending actions a full and complete report of all his transactions, showing the assets of said bank so transferred, together with the name of the agent or agents receipting for the same; and the filing of such report shall act as a full and complete discharge of the commissioner of banks from all further liabilities by reason of the liquidation of the bank. Such agent, or agents, shall convert the assets coming into his hands, or their hands, into cash, and shall make distribution to the stockholders of said bank as herein provided. Said agent, or agents, shall file semi-annually a report of all transactions with the superior court of the county in which the bank is located, and with the commissioner of banks, and shall be allowed for such services such fees not in excess of five per cent, as may be fixed by the court. In case of death, removal or refusal to act, of any agent or agents elected by the stockholders, the commissioner of banks shall, upon report of such action on the part of such agent or agents to the superior court of the county in which the bank is located, turn over to said superior court for the stockholders of said bank, all the remaining assets of the bank, file his report and be discharged from any and all further liability to the stockholders as herein provided. Said assets, when turned over to the superior court hereunder, shall remain in the hands of the superior court until such time as, by order of Court or by action of the stockholders, distribution shall be provided for.

(19) Annual Report of Commissioner of Banks; Items in Report of; Publication.—The commissioner of banks shall file, as a part of his annual report to the governor, a list of the names of the banks so taken possession of and liquidated; and the commissioner of banks shall, from time to time, compile and make available for public inspection, reports showing the condition of each and all the banks so taken possession of; and the annual report of the commissioner of banks shall show the sum of unclaimed and unpaid deposits, with respect to each bank and shall show all depositories of all sums coming into the hands of the commissioner of banks under the provisions of this section.

(20) Compensation of Commissioner of Banks.—The commissioner of banks, for his services rendered in connection with the liquidation of banks hereunder, shall be entitled to actual expenses incurred in connection with the liquidation of each bank, including therein a reasonable sum for the time of the bank examiners and other agents of the commissioner of banks, which expenses shall be a prior lien on the assets of such bank so liquidated until paid in full; and the commissioner of banks shall have authority to prescribe reasonable rules and regulations for fixing such expenses.

(21) Exclusive Methods of Liquidation.—No bank created under the banking act or the industrial banking act, and under the supervision of the commissioner of banks, shall be liquidated in any other way or manner than that provided herein.

(22) Application of Act.—The applicable provisions of this section as enacted by chapter 113 of the Public Laws of 1927 shall apply to all banks which on March 7, 1927, have suspended operations or are in the process of liquidation but for which no permanent receiver has been appointed by the court.

(23) Liquidation by Commissioner of Banks of All Banks in Receivership Required.—On and after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, the provisions of this section shall apply to all banks included in the definition or classification of banking institutions under this chapter, and/or any amendment thereto, which at said time shall be in receivership in the State courts; and the said banks shall be liquidated exclusively in accordance with the provisions of this section and by said banking commissioner. The liquidation of said banks shall be made strictly in accordance with the terms of this section and the words "competent local attorneys," as set forth in subsection sixteen of this section shall be defined to be any attorney or attorneys resident of the county in which the bank is being liquidated. (1921, c. 4, s. 17; 1927, c. 113; 1931, c. 243, s. 5, cc. 385, 405; 1933, c. 175, s. 2, c. 546; 1935, c. 81, s. 4, c. 231, s. 1, c. 277; 1939, c. 91; C. S. 218(c).)

§ 53-21. Sale of stocks of defunct banks validated.—All private sales of stocks in resident corporations, joint stock companies and limited partnerships, made prior to March 20, 1935, by the commissioner of banks or a duly appointed agent in the course of the liquidation of a defunct bank, where such sale was made by and with the approval of a liquidation board duly selected by the creditors and stockholders of such bank and upon authority of an order of the presiding or resident judge of the district in which the principal office of such bank was located, are hereby in all respects validated, ratified and confirmed. (1935, c. 113.)

§ 53-22. Statute relating to receivers applicable to insolvent banks.—Article thirteen, chapter fifty-five relating to receivers, when not inconsistent with the provisions of § 53-20, shall apply to liquidation of insolvent banks. (1921, c. 4, s. 19; 1923, c. 148, s. 4; 1931, c. 215; C. S. 218(e).)

§ 53-23. Books, records, etc., disposition of.—All books, papers, and records of a bank which has been finally liquidated shall be deposited by the receiver in the office of the clerk of the superior court for the county in which the office of such bank is located, or in such other place as in his judgment will provide for the proper safekeeping and protection of such books, papers, and records. The books, papers, and records herein referred to shall be held subject to the orders of the commissioner of banks and the clerk of the superior court for the county in which such bank was located. (1921, c. 4, s. 20; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 218(f).)

§ 53-24. Destruction of records of liquidated insolvent banks.—After the expiration of ten years from the date of filing in the office of the clerk of the superior court of a final order approving the liquidation by the banking department of any insolvent bank and the delivery to the clerk or into his custody of the records of such bank, the said records may be destroyed by the clerk of the superior court holding said records by burning the same in the presence of the register of deeds and the sheriff of said county, who shall join with the clerk in the execution of a certificate as to the destruction of said records. The certificate shall be filed by the clerk in the court records of the liquidation of the bank whose records are thus destroyed.

After ten years from the filing by the commissioner of banks of a final report of liquidation of any insolvent bank, the said commissioner, by and with the consent of the state banking commission or its successor, may destroy by burning the records of any insolvent bank held in the department of the commissioner of banks in connection with the liquidation of such bank: Provided, that in connection with any unpaid dividends the commissioner of banks shall preserve the deposit ledger or other evidence of indebtedness of the bank with reference to the unpaid dividend until the dividend shall have been paid.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the destruction by the clerk of the superior court of any county or by the commissioner of banks of any of the formal records of liquidation, nor shall the commissioner of banks have authority under this section to destroy any of the records made in his office with reference to the liquidation of any insolvent bank. (1939, c. 91, s. 1; 1939, c. 135.)

§ 53-25. Trust terminated on insolvency of trustee bank.—Whenever any bank or trust company created under the laws of this State, which has heretofore been, or shall hereafter be, appointed trustee in any indenture, deed of trust or other instrument of like character, executed to secure the payment of any bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, has been or shall be by reason of insolvency, or for any other cause provided by law, taken over for liquidation by the commissioner of banks of this State or by any other legally constituted authority, the powers and duties of such bank or trust company as trustee in any such instrument shall, upon the entry of an order of the Clerk of the superior court appointing a successor trustee, upon a petition as hereinafter provided, immediately cease and determine. (1931, c. 250, s. 1.)

§ 53-26. Petition for new trustee; service upon parties interested.—In all cases of such insolvency and liquidation mentioned in § 53-25, the clerk of the superior court of any county in which such indenture, deed of trust or other instrument of like character is recorded shall, upon the verified petition of any person interested in any such trust, either as trustee, beneficiary or otherwise, which interest shall be set out in said petition, enter an order directing service on all interested parties either personally or by the publication in some newspaper published in the county, or in some adjoining county if no newspaper is published in the county where such application is made, of a notice directed to all persons concerned, commanding and requiring all persons having any interest in said trust, to be and appear at his office at a day designated in said order and notice, not less than thirty days from the date thereof, and show cause why a new trustee shall not be appointed. (1931, c. 250 s. 2.)

§ 53-27. Publication and contents of notice.—Such notice shall be published in the manner required by law for service of summons by publication, and shall set forth the names of the parties to the indenture, deed of trust or other such instrument, the date thereof, and the place or places where the same is recorded. (1931, c. 250, s. 3.)

§ 53-28. Appointment where no objection made.—If, upon the day fixed in said notice, no person shall appear and object to the appointment of a substitute trustee, the clerk shall, upon such terms as he deems advisable to the best interest of all parties, appoint some competent person, or corporation authorized to act as such, substituted trustee, who shall be vested with and shall exercise all the powers conferred upon the trustee named in said instrument. (1931, c. 250, s. 4.)

§ 53-29. Hearing where objection made; appeal from order.—If objection shall be made to the appointment of a new trustee, the clerk shall hear and determine the matter, and from his decision an appeal may be prosecuted as in case of special proceedings generally. (1931, c. 250, s. 5.)

§ 53-30. Registration of final order.—The final order of appointment of such new trustees shall be certified by the clerk of the superior court in which such order is entered and shall be recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county or counties in which the instrument under which such appointment has been made is recorded, and a minute of the same shall be entered by the register of deeds on the margin of the record where said original instrument is recorded. (1931, c. 250, s. 6.)

§ 53-31. Petition and order applicable to all instruments involved.—The petition and the order appointing such new trustee may include and relate and apply to any number of indentures, deeds of trust or other instruments, wherein the same trustee is named. (1931, c. 250, s. 7.)

§ 53-32. Additional remedy.—Sections 53-25 to 53-31 shall be in addition to and not in substitution for any other remedy provided by law. (1931, c. 250, s. 8.)

§ 53-33. Validation of acts of officers of insolvent banks as trustees in deeds of trust.—Whenever any state bank, prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, shall have become insolvent and its assets and business been placed in the hands of the corporation commission or taken control of by the corporation commission for liquidation, and the board of directors of said bank shall have thereafter by resolution authorized or directed the officers of said bank or some of them to perform or exercise in the name of the bank as trustee any power or duty of such bank as trustee under any deed in trust to it recorded in any county in this State, provided said resolution was passed prior to the eleventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, the performance or exercise of any such power or duty heretofore or hereafter by any officer or officers so authorized shall be effective and binding on all parties concerned as the act of such bank as trustee as aforesaid, to the same extent and in the same manner as if such bank had not become insolvent and its assets and business had not been placed in the hands of the corporation commission or taken control of by the corporation commission for liquidation. (1931, c. 403.)

§ 53-34. Validation of sales by corporation commission under mortgages, etc., giving banks power of sale.—Whenever it appears that either the North Carolina corporation commission, the chief state bank examiner, or any liquidating agent appointed pursuant to the provisions of § 53-20, has undertaken to exercise the power of sale set up in any mortgage, deed of trust, or other written instrument for the security of the payment of money in which any bank then in liquidation was named trustee, the said acts including the acts of resigning the trust, of the North Carolina corporation commission and/or chief state bank examiner, and/or liquidating agent appointed as aforesaid, are hereby validated and declared to be of the same force and effect as if done by the bank named as trustee in the mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument. (1931, c. 132.)

§ 53-35. Foreclosures and execution of deeds by commissioner of bank, validated.—Whereas, the commissioner of banks, created by chapter two hundred forty-three of the Public Laws of 1931, was given general supervision over the banks of this state; and

Whereas, the commissioner of banks, under authority of chapter three hundred and eighty-five of the Public Laws of 1931, succeeded to all the property of banks in liquidation, including fiduciary powers under the mortgages and deeds of trust; and

Whereas, the commissioner of banks, in his own name and in the name of a number of conservators or liquidating agents of banks in the process of liquidation under his supervision, has foreclosed a large number of deeds of trust in which such banks were the named trustee, and has executed under the powers contained therein a large number of trustee's deeds under authority thereof: Now, therefore,

All the deeds and acts of the commissioner of banks and/or conservators or liquidating agents of such banks in the process of liquidation, as in the preamble to this section described, are hereby in all respects ratified, validated and confirmed.

This section shall not effect litigation pending April 3, 1939. (1939, c. 368.)

§ 53-36. Commissioner to report to secretary of state certain matters relative to liquidation of closed banks; publication.—The commissioner of banks of the state of North Carolina shall on or before the first day of June, 1933, and on the first day of January and July of each year thereafter file with the secretary of the state of North Carolina a report showing all banks under liquidation in the state of North Carolina, and the names of any and all auditors together with the amounts paid to them for auditing each of said banks, and the names of any and all attorneys employed in connection with the liquidation of said banks together with the amount paid or contracted to be paid to each of said attorneys. If any attorney has been employed on a fee contingent upon recovery said report must state in substance the contract.

Within five days from the receipt of said report the secretary of the state of North Carolina shall cause same to be published one time in some newspaper published in each county in which a bank or banks are under liquidation, if there be a newspaper published in said county. If not, the secretary of the state of North Carolina shall cause a copy of said report to be posted at the courthouse door in said county. (1933, c. 483.)

Art. 4. Reopening of Closed Banks.

§ 53-37. Conditions under which banks may reopen.—Whenever the commissioner of banks has taken in possession any bank, such bank may, with the consent of the commissioner of banks, resume business upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the state banking commission. When such banks have been taken in possession under the provisions of § 53-20, paragraphs one or two, such conditions shall be fully stated in writing and a copy thereof shall be filed with the clerk of the superior court in the action required to be commenced in such cases against said bank under the provisions of § 53-20, paragraph three: Provided, however, no bank or banking institution which has been taken in possession by the commissioner of banks under the provisions of the state banking laws shall be reopened to receive deposits or for the transaction of a banking business unless and until:

(a) The bank has been completely restored to solvency;

(b) The capital stock, if impaired, has been entirely restored in cash;

(c) It shall clearly appear to the commissioner of banks that such bank may be reopened with safety to the public and such reopening is necessary to serve the business interests of the community.

(1921, c. 4, s. 16; 1927, c. 113, s. 1; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1931, c. 388, s. 1; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 218(q).)

§ 53-38. Certain contracts not affected.—Nothing in § 53-37 shall impair or affect any contracts made by banks and depositors of banks reopened prior to May 12, 1931, under the permission of the state banking department. (1931, c. 388, s. 4.)

Art. 5. Stockholders.

§ 53-39. New state banks to set up surplus fund.—The common stockholders of any bank organized after March 17, 1933, under the laws of the state of North Carolina shall pay in, in cash, a surplus fund equal to fifty per centum of its common capital stock before the bank shall be authorized to commence business. (1933, c. 159, s. 2; 1935, c. 79, s. 1.)

§ 53-40. Executors, trustees, etc., not personally liable.—Persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians, or trustees shall not personally be subject to any liabilities as stockholders, but the estate and funds in their hands shall be liable in like manner and to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward, or person interested in such trust fund would be if living and competent to hold stock in his own name. (1921, c. 4, s. 23; C. S. 219(c).)

§ 53-41. Stock sold if subscription unpaid. — Whenever any stockholder, or his assignee, fails to pay any installment on the stock, when the same is required by law to be paid, the directors of the bank shall sell the stock of such delinquent stockholder at public or private sale, as they may deem best, having first given the delinquent stockholder twenty days notice, personally or by mail, at his last known address. If no party can be found who will pay for such stock the amount due thereon to the bank with any additional indebtedness of such stockholder to the bank, the amount previously paid shall be forfeited to the bank, and such stock shall be sold, as the directors may order, within thirty days of the time of such forfeiture, and if not sold, it shall be canceled and deducted from the capital stock of the bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 25; C. S. 219(e).)

§ 53-42. Impairment of capital; assessments, etc.—The commissioner of banks shall notify every bank whose capital shall have become impaired from losses or any other cause, and the surplus and undivided profits of such bank are insufficient to make good such impairment, to make the impairment good within sixty days of such notice by an assessment upon the stockholders thereof, and it shall be the duty of the officers and directors of the bank receiving such notice to immediately call a special meeting of the stockholders for the pupose of making an assessment upon its stockholders sufficient to cover the impairment of the capital, payable in cash, at which meeting such assessment shall be made: Provided, that such bank may reduce its capital to the extent of the impairment, as provided in § 53-11. If any stockholder of such bank neglects or refuses to pay such assessment as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to cause a sufficient amount of the capital stock of such stockholder or stockholders to be sold at public auction, upon thirty days notice given by posting such notice of sale in the office of the bank and by publishing such notice in a newspaper in the place where the bank is located, and if none therein, a newspaper circulating in the county in which the bank is located, to make good the deficiency, and the balance, if any, shall be returned to the delinquent shareholder or shareholders. If any such bank shall fail to cause to be paid in such deficiency in its capital stock for three months after receiving such notice from the commissioner of banks, the commissioner of banks may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such bank until its affairs be finally liquidated as provided by law. A sale of stock, as provided in this section, shall effect an absolute cancellation of the outstanding certificate or certificates evidencing the stock so sold, and shall make the certificate null and void, and a new certificate shall be issued by the bank to the purchaser of such stock; but in the event the stock of any stockholder be sold as hereinbefore provided, and the said stock when sold fails to bring the amount of the assessment against said stockholder, then, and in such event, the said stockholder shall be personally liable for the difference between the amount of said assessment and the price brought by the sale of said stock. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 56, s. 3; 1925, c. 117; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 219(f).)

Art. 6. Powers and Duties.

§ 53-43. General powers.—In addition to the powers conferred by law upon private corporations, banks shall have the power:

1. To exercise by its board of directors, or duly authorized officers and agents, subject to law, all such powers as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking, by discounting and negotiating promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange, and other evidences of indebtedness, by receiving deposits, by buying and selling exchange, coin, and bullion, by loaning money on personal security or real and personal property. Such corporations at the time of making loans or discounts may take and receive interest or discounts in advance.

2. To adopt regulations for the government of the corporation not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state.

3. To purchase, hold, and convey real estate for the following purposes:

(a) Such as shall be necessary for the convenient transaction of its business, including furniture and fixtures, with its banking offices and other apartments to rent as a source of income, which investment shall not exceed fifty per cent of its paid-in capital stock and permanent surplus: Provided, that this provision shall not apply to any such investment made before the ninth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one. Provided further, that the commissioner of banks may in his discretion authorize the continuance of investments made prior to the first day of February, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, of the character described in this paragraph. Provided, further, that the commissioner of banks may, in his discretion, authorize any bank located in a city having a population of more than ten thousand, according to the last United States census, to invest more than fifty per cent of its capital and permanent surplus in its banking houses, furniture, and fixtures.

(b) Such as is mortgaged to it in good faith by way of security for loans made or moneys due to such banks.

(c) Such as has been purchased at sales upon foreclosures of mortgages and deeds of trust held or owned by it, or on judgments or decrees obtained and rendered for debts due to it, or in settlements affecting security of such debts. All real property referred to in this subsection shall be sold by such bank within one year after it is acquired, unless, upon application by the board of directors, the commissioner of banks extends the time within which such sale shall be made. Any and all powers and privileges heretofore granted and given to any person, firm, or corporation doing a banking business in connection with a fiduciary and insurance business, or the right to deal to any extent in real estate, inconsistent with this chapter, are hereby repealed.

4. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to authorize banking corporations to engage in the business of dealing in investment securities, either directly or through subsidiary corporations: Provided, however, that the term "dealing in investment securities" as used herein, shall not be deemed to include the purchasing and selling of securities without recourse, solely upon order, and for the account of, customers; and provided further, that "investment securities," as used herein, shall not be deemed to include obligations of the United States, or general obligations of any state or of any political subdivision thereof, or of cities, towns, or other corporate municipalities of any state or obligations issued under authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, or issued by the Federal Home Loan Banks or the Home Owners' Loan Corporation.

Any provision in conflict with this subsection contained in the Articles of Incorporation heretofore issued to any banking corporation is hereby revoked.

5. Subject to the approval of the commissioner of banks and on the authority of its board of directors, or a majority thereof, to enter into such contracts, incur such obligations and generally to do and perform any and all such acts and things whatsoever as may be necessary or appropriate in order to take advantage of any and all memberships, loans, subscriptions, contracts, grants, rights or privileges, which may at any time be available or inure to banking institutions, or to their depositors, creditors, stockholders, conservators, receivers or liquidators, by virtue of those provisions of section eight of the Federal Banking Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (section twelve B of the Federal Reserve Act as amended) which establish the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and provide for the insurance of deposits, or of any other provisions of that or any other act or resolution of congress to aid, regulate or safeguard banking institutions and their depositors, including any amendments of the same or any substitutions therefor; also, to subscribe for and acquire any stock, debentures, bonds or other types of securities of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and to comply with the lawful regulations and requirements from time to time issued or made by such corporation.

6. Any commercial bank, savings bank, or trust company, heretofore or hereafter organized under any general or special laws of this state and any national bank doing business in this state, shall have power, in addition to such other powers as it may have:

(a) Upon the making of a loan or discount, to deduct in advance, from the proceeds of such loan, interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum (6%) per annum upon the amount of the loan from the date thereof until the maturity of the final installment, notwithstanding that the principal amount of such loan is required to be repaid in installments: Provided, no loan made under the provisions of subsection 6 shall exceed fifteen hundred ($1,500.00) dollars to any one person, firm, partnership, or corporation.

(b) Nothing in subsection 6 shall be construed as in any wise extending or increasing or decreasing the powers of commercial banks, savings banks, or trust companies or national banks to make loans or discount notes other than as herein or by other laws expressly provided.

7. Maintain separate departments and deposit in its commercial department to the credit of its trust department all uninvested fiduciary funds of cash and secure, under rules and regulations of the state banking commission, all such deposits in the name of the trust department whether in consolidated deposits or for separate fiduciary accounts, by segregating and delivering to the trust department such securities as may be eligible for the investment of the sinking funds of the state of North Carolina, equal in market value to such deposited funds, or readily marketable commercial bonds having not less than a recognized "A" rating equal to one hundred and twenty-five per centum of such deposits. Such securities shall be held by the trust department as security for the full payment or repayment of all such deposits, and shall be kept separate and apart from other assets of the trust department. Until all of such deposits shall have been accounted for to the trust department or to the individual fiduciary accounts, no creditor of the bank shall have any claim or right to such security. When fiduciary funds are deposited by the trust department in the commercial department of the bank, the deposit thereof shall not be deemed to constitute a use of such funds in the general business of the bank and the bank in such instance shall not be liable for interest on such funds. To the extent and in the amount such deposits may be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the amount of security required for such deposits by this section may be reduced.

The banking commission shall have power to make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of the preceding paragraph, and such authority shall exist and is hereby conferred under the general authority heretofore conferred upon said commission as well as by this paragraph. (1921, c. 4, s. 26; 1923, c. 148, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 67; 1925, c. 279; 1927, c. 47, s. 5; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1933, c. 303; 1935, c. 81, s. 1, c. 82; 1937, c. 154; 1941, c. 77; C. S. 220(a).)

§ 53-44. Investment in bonds guaranteed by United States.—(1) Any bank, building and loan association, land and loan association, savings and loan association, insurance company, title insurance company, land mortgage company, fraternal order or benevolent association, or any other corporation incorporated under the laws of this state, and operating under the supervision of the commissioner of banks, insurance commissioner, or superintendent of savings and loan associations; the state treasurer, as custodian of the assurance fund provided under the Torrens Act, or any officer charged with the investment of sinking funds of the State, any county, city, town, incorporated village, township, school district, school taxing district, or other district or political subdivision of government of the State; the North Carolina State Thrift Society, any clerk of the court holding money by color of his office or as receiver; and any person, firm or corporation acting as executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, or other person acting in a fiduciary capacity may invest in bonds issued, or in bonds which are fully and unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States, to the same extent as the same are now or may be hereafter authorized to invest in any obligation of the United States: Provided that all investments authorized hereunder shall be guaranteed, both as to the payment of principal and interest thereon, by the United States treasury.

(2) Security for Loans and Deposits.—No bank shall be required to maintain a reserve against deposits secured by any of the above mentioned bonds equal in market value to the amount of such deposits, and such bonds shall be valid security for all loans and deposits to the same extent as are any obligations of the United States.

(3) Bonds Deemed Cash in Settlements by Fiduciaries.—In settlements by guardians, executors, administrators, trustees and others acting in a fiduciary capacity, the bonds and securities herein mentioned shall be deemed cash to the amount actually paid for same, including the premium, if any, paid for such bonds, and may be paid as such by the transfer thereof to the persons entitled and without any liability for a greater rate of interest than the amount actually accruing from such bonds. (1935, c. 164; 1937, c. 433.)

§ 53-45. Banks, fiduciaries, etc., authorized to invest in mortgages of federal housing administration, etc.—(1) Insured Mortgages and Obligations of National Mortgage Associations.—It shall be lawful for all commercial and industrial banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, and other financial institutions engaged in business in this state, and for guardians, executors, administrators, trustees or others acting in a fiduciary capacity in this state to invest, to the same extent that such funds may be invested in interest-bearing obligations of the United States, their funds or the moneys in their custody or possession which are eligible for investment, in bonds or notes secured by a mortgage or deed of trust insured by the federal housing administrator, in mortgages on real estate which have been accepted for insurance by the federal housing administrator, and in obligations of national mortgage associations.

(2) Insured Loans. — All such banks, trust companies, building and loan associations and insurance companies, and other financial institutions, and also all such guardians, executors, administrators, trustees or others acting in a fiduciary capacity in this state, may make such loans, secured by real estate, as the federal housing administrator has insured or has made a commitment to insure, and may obtain such insurance.

(3) Eligibility for Credit Insurance.—All banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies and other financial institutions, on being approved as eligible for credit insurance by the federal housing administrator, may make such loans as are insured by the federal housing administrator.

(4) Certain Securities Made Eligible for Collaterals, etc.—Wherever, by statute of this state, collateral is required as security for the deposit of public or other funds; or deposits are required to be made with any public official or department; or an investment of capital or surplus, or a reserve or other fund, is required to be maintained, consisting of designated securities, bonds, and notes secured by a mortgage or deed of trust insured by the federal housing administrator, debentures issued by the federal housing administrator and obligations of national mortgage associations shall be eligible for such purposes.

(5) General Laws Not Applicable.—No law of this state prescribing the nature, amount or form of security or requiring security upon which loans or investments may be made, or prescribing or limiting the rates or time of payment of the interest any obligation may bear, or prescribing or limiting the period for which loans or investments may be made, shall be deemed to apply to loans or investments made pursuant to the foregoing paragraphs. (1935, cc. 71, 378; 1937, c. 333.)

§ 53-46. Limitations on investments or securities.—The investment in any bonds or other interest-bearing securities of any one firm, individual or corporation, unless it be the interest-bearing obligations of the United States, obligations issued under authority of the Federal Farm Loan Act, as amended, or issued by the Federal Home Loan Banks, or the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, state of North Carolina, or other state of the United States, or of some city, town, township, county, school district, or other political subdivision of the state of North Carolina, shall at no time be more than twenty per cent of the unimpaired capital and permanent surplus of any bank to an amount not in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and not more than ten per cent of the unimpaired capital and permanent surplus in excess of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to compel any bank to surrender or dispose of any investment in the stocks or bonds of a corporation owning the lands or buildings occupied by such bank as its banking home, if such stocks or bonds were lawfully acquired prior to February 25, 1927. (1921, c. 4, s. 27; 1927,

c. 47, s. 6; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1933, c. 359; 1935, c. 199; 1937, c. 186; C. S. 220(b).)

§ 53-47. Stocks, limitations on investment in. —No bank shall make any investment in the capital stock of any other state or national bank: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent banks doing business under this chapter from subscribing to or purchasing, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, the capital stock of banks organized under that act of congress known as the "Edge Act" or the capital stock of central reserve banks whose capital stock exceeds one million dollars. To constitute a central reserve bank as contemplated by this chapter, at least fifty per cent of the capital stock of such bank shall be owned by other banks. The investment of any bank in the capital stock of such central reserve bank or bank organized under the act of congress commonly known as the "Edge Act," shall at no time exceed ten per cent of the paid-in capital and permanent surplus of the bank making same. No bank shall invest more than fifty per cent of its permanent surplus in the stocks of other corporations, firms, partnerships, or companies, unless such stock is purchased to protect the bank from loss. Any stocks owned or hereafter acquired in excess of the limitations herein imposed shall be disposed of at public or private sale within six months after the date of acquiring the same, and if not so disposed of they shall be charged to profit and loss account, and no longer carried on the books as an asset. The limit of time in which said stocks shall be disposed of or charged off the books of the bank may be extended by the commissioner of banks if in his judgment it is for the best interest of the bank that such extension be granted; Provided that the limitations imposed in this section on the ownership of stock in or securities of corporations is suspended to the extent (and to that extent only) that any bank operating under the supervision of the commissioner of banks may subscribe for and purchase shares of stock in or debentures, bonds or other types of securities of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States of America for the purpose of insuring to depositors a part or all of their funds on deposit in banks where and to such extent as such stock or security ownership is required in order to obtain the benefits of such deposit insurance for its depositors. (1921, c. 4, s. 28; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1935, c. 81, s. 3; C. S. 220(c).)

§ 53-48. Loans, limitations of.—The total direct and indirect liability to a bank for money borrowed incurred by any person, firm (including in the liabilities of a firm the liabilities of the several members thereof), or corporations other than a municipal corporation shall at no time exceed twenty per cent of the unimpaired capital and permanent surplus of the bank if the unimpaired capital and permanent surplus be two hundred and fifty thousand dollars or less; and, if the unimpaired capital and permanent surplus shall exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the aforesaid liability shall not exceed twenty per cent of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars plus ten per cent of the excess in unimpaired capital and permanent surplus above that amount. Provided, however, that the discount of bills of exchange, drawn in good faith against actual existing values, the discount of solvent trade acceptances, or other solvent commercial or business paper actually owned by the person, firm or corporation negotiating the same and the purchase of any notes, secured by not less than a like face amount of bonds of the United States or State of North Carolina or certificates of indebtedness of the United States, shall not be considered as money borrowed within the meaning of this section. Provided further, that the limitations of this section shall not apply to that portion of a loan or investment secured by a guarantee or a commitment made by the reconstruction finance corporation or by the federal reserve bank, or by them jointly. (1921, c. 4, s. 29; 1923, c. 148, s. 6; 1925, c. 119, s. 1; 1927, c. 47, s. 7; 1937, c. 419; C. S. 220(d).)

§ 53-49. Suspension of investment and loan limitation.—The board of directors of any bank, may by resolution duly passed at a meeting of the board, request the commissioner of banks to suspend temporarily the limitations on loans and investments as the same may apply to any particular loan or investment in excess of the limitations of §§ 53-46, 53-47, and 53-48 which the bank desires to make. Upon receipt of a duly certified copy of such resolution, the commissioner of banks may, in his discretion, suspend the limitations on loans and investments insofar as they would apply to the loan or investment which the bank desires to make: Provided, however, such loan shall be amply secured and shall be for a period not longer than one hundred and twenty days. (1921, c. 4, s. 30; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1933, c. 239, s. 1; C. S. 220(e).)

§ 53-50. Reserve. — Every bank shall at all times have on hand or on deposit with approved reserve depositories, instantly available funds in an amount equal to at least fifteen per cent of the aggregate amount of its demand deposits, and five per cent of the aggregate amount of its time deposits. But no reserve shall be required on deposits secured by a deposit of United States bonds or the bonds of the state of North Carolina. Any bank that is now or may hereafter become a member of the Federal Reserve Bank shall maintain the same reserve with respect to deposits as shall be required of other members of such Federal Reserve Bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 31; C. S. 220(f).)

§ 53-51. Reserve and cash defined. — Reserve shall consist of cash on hand and balances payable on demand, due from other approved solvent banks, which have been designated depositories as hereinafter provided in this chapter. Cash includes lawful money of the United States, and exchange of any clearing house association. (Rev., s. 232; 1903, c. 275, s. 29; 1919, c. 58; 1921, c. 4, s. 32; C. S. 220(g).)

§ 53-52. Forged check, payment of. — No bank shall be liable to a depositor for payment by it of a forged check or other order to pay money unless within sixty days after the receipt of such voucher by the depositor he shall notify the bank that such check or order so paid is forged. (1921, c. 4, s. 33; C. S. 220(h).)

§ 53-53. Minor, payment of deposit in the name of.—When money is held on deposit by any state, industrial or national bank in this state in the name of a minor under fifteen years of age, it may be paid, together with the interest, if there be any interest thereon, upon receipts or checks signed by such minor and one of the minor's parents. When money is held on deposit by any state, industrial or national bank in this state in the name of a minor fifteen years of age or upwards, it may be paid, together with the interest, if there be any interest thereon, upon receipts or checks signed by the minor. A written statement from the minor, if fifteen years of age or upward, or from one of the said minor's parents, if the minor is under fifteen years of age, shall be conclusive evidence of the age of the minor. (1921, c. 4, s. 34; 1939, c. 84; C. S. 220(i).)

§ 53-54. Tranactions not performed during banking hours.—Nothing in any law of this state shall in any manner whatsoever affect the validity of, or render void or voidable, the payment, certification, or acceptance of a check or other negotiable instrument or any other transaction by a bank in this state, because done or performed during any time other than regular banking hours: Provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to compel any bank in this state, which by law or custom is entitled to close at twelve noon on any Saturday, or for the whole or part day of any legal holiday, to keep open for the transaction of business, or to perform any of the acts or transactions aforesaid on any Saturday after such hour or on any legal holiday, except at its option. (1921, c. 4, s. 35; C. S. 220(j).)

§ 53-55. Commercial and business paper defined.—The term "commercial or business paper," as used in this chapter, is hereby defined to mean a promissory note, and the term "trade acceptance" to mean a draft or bill of exchange issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial, or commercial purposes, or the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for such purposes, but such definition shall not include notes, drafts, or bills of exchange covering merely investments, or issued or drawn for the purpose of carrying on or trading in stocks, bonds, or other investment securities, except bonds and notes of the government of the United States and state of North Carolina. (1921, c. 4, s. 36; 1923, c. 148, s. 7; 1941, c. 268; C. S. 220(k).)

§ 53-56. Bank acceptances defined.—Any bank doing business under this chapter may accept for payment at a future date, drafts or bills of exchange having not more than six months sight to run, drawn upon it by its customers under acceptance agreements, and which grow out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods; and issue letters of credit authorizing the holders thereof to draw upon it or its correspondents, provided that there is a definite bona fide contract for the shipment of goods within a specified reasonable time, and the existence of such contract is certified in the acceptance agreement; or which grow out of transactions involving the domestic shipment of goods, provided that shipping documents, conveying or securing to the accepting bank title to readily marketable goods, are attached or in the hands of an agent of the accepting bank, independent of the drawer, for his account, at the time of acceptance, or which are secured at the time of acceptance by warehouse receipts or other documents conveying or securing to the accepting bank title to readily marketable goods fully covered by insurance, the warehouse receipts or other documents to be those of a responsible warehouse, independent of the drawer, the acceptance to remain secured during the life of the acceptance unless suitable security of same character, or cash, be substituted: Provided, no bank shall accept drafts or bills of exchange under this section to an aggregate amount at any time more than equal to the sum of its capital and permanent surplus: Provided further, that no bank shall accept, whether in a foreign or domestic transaction, for any one person, firm, or corporation, to any amount at any time equal to more than twenty-five per cent of its capital and permanent surplus, unless the accepting bank is secured either by attached documents or those held for its account by its agent, independent of the drawer, or by some other actual security of the same character. Should the accepting bank purchase or discount its own acceptances, such acceptances will be considered as a direct loan to the drawer, and be subject to the limitation on loans hereinbefore provided in this chapter. The state banking commission may issue such further regulations as to such acceptances as it may deem necessary in conformity with this chapter. As used herein, the word "goods" shall be construed to mean and include goods, wares, merchandise, or agricultural products, including livestock. (1921, c. 4, s. 37; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 220(l).)

§ 53-57. Nonpayment of check in error, liability for.—No bank shall be liable to a depositor because of the nonpayment, through mistake or error, and without malice, of a check which should have been paid had the mistake or error of nonpayment not occurred, except for the actual damage by reason of such nonpayment that the depositor shall prove, and in such event the liability shall not exceed the amount of damage so proven. (1921, c. 4, s. 38; C. S. 220(m).)

§ 53-58. Checks sent direct to bank on which drawn.—Any bank receiving for collection or deposit any check, note, or other negotiable instrument drawn upon or payable at another bank, located in another town or city, whether within or without this state, may forward such instrument for collection, direct to the bank on which it is drawn, or at which it is payable, and such method of forwarding direct to the payer bank shall be deemed due diligence, and the failure of such payer bank, because of its insolvency or other default, to account for the proceeds thereof, shall not render the forwarding bank liable therefor: Provided, however, such forwarding bank shall have used due diligence in other respects in connection with the collection of such instrument. (1921, c. 4, s. 39; C. S. 220(n).)

§ 53-59. Deposits in trust, payment of. — Whenever any deposits shall be made in any bank or banking institution in this state by any person in trust for any other person who is a minor of the age of fifteen years and upward, and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust shall have been given to the bank, in event of the death of the trustee, the same, or any part thereof, together with the dividends or interest thereon, may be paid to the person for whom said deposit was made: Provided, that the amount of said deposit is not in excess of one hundred dollars. (1921, c. 4, s. 40; C. S. 220(o).)

§ 53-60. Farm loan bonds, authorized investment in.—Any bank or insurance company organized under the laws of this state, and any person acting as executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, may invest in federal farm loan bonds issued by any federal farm loan bank or joint-stock land bank organized pursuant to an act entitled "An act of Congress to provide capital for agricultural development, to create standard forms of investment based upon farm mortgages to equalize rates of interest upon farm loans, to furnish a market for United States bonds, to create government depositories, and financial agents for the United States, and for other purposes," approved the seventeenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen. (1921, c. 4, s. 41; C. S. 220(p).)

§ 53-61. Federal Reserve Bank, authority to join.—The words "Federal Reserve Act," as herein used, shall be held to mean and to include the act of Congress of the United States, approved December twenty-third, nineteen hundred thirteen, as heretofore and hereafter amended. The words "Federal Reserve Board" shall be held to mean the Federal Reserve Board created and described in the Federal Reserve Act. The words "Federal Reserve Banks" shall be held to mean Federal Reserve Banks created and organized under the authority of the Federal Reserve Act. The words "member bank" shall be held to mean any National or State bank or bank and trust company which has become or which becomes a member of one of the Federal Reserve Banks created by the Federal Reserve Act.

(a) Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state shall have the power to subscribe to the capital stock and become a member of a Federal Reserve Bank.

(b) Any bank incorporated under the laws of this state which is, or which may become, a member of the Federal Reserve Bank is by this chapter vested with all powers conferred upon member banks of the Federal Reserve Banks by terms of the Federal Reserve Act as fully and completely as if such powers were specifically enumerated and described therein, and such powers shall be exercised subject to all restrictions and limitations imposed by the Federal Reserve Act, or by regulations of the Federal Reserve Board made pursuant thereto. The right, however, is expressly reserved to revoke or to amend the powers herein conferred.

(c) A compliance on the part of any such bank with the reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve Act shall be held to be a full compliance with the provisions of the laws of this state, which require banks to maintain cash balances in their vaults or with other banks, and no such bank shall be required to carry or maintain reserve other than such as is required under the terms of the Federal Reserve Act.

(d) Any such bank shall continue to be subject to the supervision and examination required by the laws of this state, except that the Federal Reserve Board shall have the right, if it deems necessary, to make examinations; and the authorities of this state having supervision over such banks may disclose to the Federal Reserve Board, or to the examiners duly appointed by it, all information in reference to the affairs of any bank which has become, or desires to become, a member of a Federal Reserve Bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 42; C. S. 220(q).)

§ 53-62. Establishment of branches.—Any bank doing business under this chapter may establish branches in the cities in which they are located, or elsewhere, after having first obtained the written approval of the commissioner of banks, which approval may be given or withheld by the commissioner of banks, in his discretion, and shall not be given until he shall have ascertained to his satisfaction that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted by the opening of such branch. Such branch banks shall be operated as branches of and under the name of the parent bank, and under the control and direction of the board of directors and executive officers of said parent bank. The board of directors of the parent bank shall elect a cashier and such other officers as may be required to properly conduct the business of such branch, and a board of managers or loan committee shall be responsible for the conduct and management of said branch, but not of the parent bank or of any branch save that of which they are officers, managers, or committee: Provided, that the commissioner of banks shall not authorize the establishment of any branch, the paid-in capital stock of whose parent bank is not sufficient in an amount to provide for the capital of at least twenty-five thousand dollars for the parent bank, and at least twenty-five thousand dollars for each branch which it is proposed to establish in cities or towns of three thousand population or less; nor less than thirty thousand dollars in cities and towns whose population exceeds three thousand, but does not exceed ten thousand; nor less than fifty thousand dollars in cities and towns whose population exceeds ten thousand, but does not exceed twenty-five thousand; nor less than one hundred thousand dollars in cities and towns whose population exceeds twenty-five thousand. All banks operating branches prior to February 18, 1921, shall, within a time limit to be prescribed by the commissioner of banks, cause said branch bank to conform to the provisions of this section: Provided, however, that any bank with a capital stock (including both common and preferred) of one million ($1,000,000.00) dollars or more may without additional capital establish and operate such number of branches or agencies in the state of North Carolina as the commissioner of banks may in his discretion permit; but a bank operating branches under this proviso shall at all times maintain an unimpaired capital of at least one million ($1,000,000.00) dollars: Provided further, that the commissioner of banks shall not permit the establishment of additional branches, and/or agencies unless said bank maintains its capital stock and surplus in ratio of one to ten to its deposits; Provided that in small communities having no other banking facilities, and upon a finding by the commissioner of banks that the public convenience and advantage will be promoted thereby, the opening of "tellers window agencies or branches" of then existing banks may be permitted, but no more than one such agency or branch may be so opened in any one community nor shall any bank be permitted to open such an agency or branch when its unimpaired capital and surplus in proportion to deposits is below that herein required. (1921, c. 4, s. 43; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 56, s. 2; 1927, c. 47, s. 8; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1933, c. 451, s. 1; 1935, c. 139; C. S. 220(r).)

§ 53-63. Certificate of deposit, unlawful issuing of.—It shall be unlawful for any bank to issue any certificate of deposit or other negotiable instrument of its indebtedness to the holder thereof except for lawful money of the United States, checks, drafts, or bills of exchange which are the actual equivalent of such money; nor shall such moneys, checks, drafts, or bills of exchange be the proceeds of any note given in payment of the purchase price of any stock. Any officer or employee of any bank violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 4, s. 44; C. S. 220(s).)

§ 53-64. Bank's own stock, unlawful to loan on.—It shall be unlawful for any bank to make any loan secured by the pledge of its own shares of stock, nor shall any bank be the holder as pledgee, or as purchaser, of any portion of its capital stock unless such stock is purchased or pledged to it to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith. Provided, that whenever any bank shall have shares of its own stock sold to, or pledged to it, for the purpose of preventing a loss upon a debt previously contracted, it shall dispose of all such shares of stock within a period of six months from the date such stock was sold or pledged to it and if not so disposed of, the same shall be charged to profit and loss and no longer carried as an asset of the bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 45; 1927, c. 47, s. 9; C. S. 220(t).)

§ 53-65. Deposits payable on demand. — Any bank may receive deposits of funds subject to withdrawal or to be paid upon the checks of the depositor. All deposits in such banks shall be payable on demand, without notice, except when the contract of deposit shall otherwise provide. (1921, c. 4, s. 46; C. S. 220(u).)

§ 53-66. Savings deposits.—Any bank conducting a savings department may receive deposits on such terms as are authorized by its board of directors and agreed to by its depositors. The board of directors shall prescribe the terms upon which such deposits shall be received and paid out, and a passbook shall be issued to each depositor containing the rules and regulations adopted by the board of directors governing such deposits, in which shall be entered each deposit made, the interest allowed thereon, and each payment made to such depositor. By accepting such book the depositor assents and agrees to the rules and regulations therein contained. (1921, c. 4, s. 47; C. S. 220(v).)

§ 53-67. Boards of directors, banks controlled by.—The corporate powers, business, and property of banks doing business under this chapter shall be exercised, conducted, and controlled by its board of directors, which shall meet at least quarterly. Such board shall consist of not less than five directors, to be chosen by the stockholders, and shall hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The annual meeting of stockholders for the election of directors shall be held during the month of January of each year. (1921, c. 4, s. 48; 1925, c. 170; C. S. 220(w).)

§ 53-68. Statements showing deposits of state and state officials.—All banks in which any money is on deposit by the state of North Carolina or any of the officials thereof shall, in their published statements as by law required, show the amount of money on deposit in such bank to the credit of the state or of any official thereof; and no officials of the state shall deposit money in any bank which shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section. (1923, c. 211, s. 1; C. S. 220(x).)

§ 53-69. Deposits by state departments or institutions.—All moneys collected by any state department or institution shall be deposited with or to the credit of the state treasurer, as and when directed by the governor and council of state. (1923, c. 211, s. 2; C. S. 220(y).)

§ 53-70. Fees on remittances covering checks.—For the purpose of providing for the solvency, protection, and safety of the banking institutions and trust companies chartered by this state and having their principal offices in this state, it shall be lawful for all banks and trust companies in this state to charge a fee, not in excess of one-eighth of one per cent, on remittances covering checks, the minimum fee on any remittance therefor to be ten cents. (1921, c. 20, s. 1; C. S. 220(z).)

§ 53-71. Checks payable in exchange. — In order to prevent accumulation of unnecessary amounts of currency in the vaults of the banks and trust companies chartered by this state, all checks drawn on said banks and trust companies shall, unless specified on the face thereof to the contrary by the maker or makers thereof, be payable at the option of the drawee bank, in exchange drawn on the reserve deposits of said drawee bank when any such check is presented by or through any Federal Reserve Bank, post office, or express company, or any respective agents thereof. (1921, c. 20, s. 2; C. S. 220(aa).)

§ 53-72. Notation on checks forbidden. — It shall be unlawful for any person, or persons, other than the maker thereof to make, by rubber stamp or otherwise, any notation on any check drawn on any bank or trust company chartered in this state, the effect of which notation shall change or affect any condition or provision thereof, as created by §§ 53-70 through 53-74. Any person or persons violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall pay a fine of not more than two hundred dollars, ($200) or be imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1921, c. 20, s. 3; C. S. 220(bb).)

§ 53-73. Checks exempted.—All checks drawn on the banks and trust companies in this state in payment of obligations due the state of North Carolina or the federal government shall be exempt from the provisions of §§ 53-70 and 53-71. (1921, c. 20, s. 4; C. S. 220(cc).)

§ 53-74. No protest on checks refused for nonpayment of exchange charges. No action on refusal to pay checks.—No officer in this state shall protest for nonpayment any check or checks drawn on any bank or trust company chartered by this state when payment is refused by the drawee bank solely on account of failure or refusal of the holder or owner thereof to pay exchange charges authorized in §§ 53-70 through 53-74; and there shall be no right of action, either in law or equity, against any bank or trust company chartered by this state, for refusal to pay any such check when such action is based alone on the ground of refusal to pay exchange or collection charges authorized in §§ 53-70 through 53-74. (1921, c. 20, s. 5; C. S. 220(dd).)

§ 53-75. Statement of account from bank to depositor deemed final adjustment if not objected to within five years.—When a statement of account has been rendered by a bank to a depositor accompanied by vouchers, if any, which are the basis for debit entries in such account, or the depositor's passbook has been written up by the bank showing the condition of the depositor's account and delivered to such depositor with like accompaniment of vouchers, if any, such account shall, after the period of five years from the date of its rendition in the event no objection thereto has been theretofore made by the depositor, be deemed finally adjusted and settled and its correctness conclusively presumed and such depositor shall thereafter be barred from questioning the incorrectness of such account for any cause. (1929, c. 188, s. 1.)

§ 53-76. Depositor not relieved from exercising diligence as to errors.—Nothing in the preceding section shall be construed to relieve the depositor from the duty now imposed by law of exercising due diligence in the examination of such account and vouchers, if any, when rendered by the bank and of immediate notification to the bank upon discovery of any error therein, nor from the legal consequences of neglect of such duty; nor to prevent the application of § 53-52 to cases governed thereby. (1929, c. 188, s. 2.)

§ 53-77. Governor empowered to proclaim banking holidays.—The governor is hereby authorized and empowered, by and with the advice and consent of the council of state, to name and set apart such day or days, as he may from time to time designate, as banking holidays. During such period of holidays, all the ordinary and usual operations and business of all banking corporations, state or national, in this state shall be suspended, and during such period no banking corporation shall pay out or receive deposits, make loans or discounts, transfer credits, or transact any other banking business whatsoever: Provided, however, that during any such holiday, including the holiday validated in this section, the commissioner of banks, with the approval of the Governor, may permit any or all such banking institutions to perform any or all of the usual banking functions.

The banking holiday heretofore proclaimed by the governor of this state for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March sixth, seventh and eighth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, is hereby approved and validated, and the said days are hereby declared to be banking holidays in the state of North Carolina. (1933, c. 120, ss. 1, 2.)

Art. 7. Officers and Directors.

§ 53-78. Executive committee, directors shall appoint.—The board of directors shall appoint an executive committee or committees, each of which shall be composed of at least three of its members with such duties and powers as are defined by the regulations or by-laws, who shall serve until their successors are appointed. Such executive committee or committees shall meet as often as the board of directors may require, which shall not be less frequently than once each month, and approve or disapprove all loans and investments. All loans and investments shall be made under such rules and regulations as the board of directors may prescribe. (1921, c. 4, s. 49; C. S. 221(a).)

§ 53-79. Minutes of directors and executive committee meetings.—Minutes shall be kept of all meetings of the board of directors and of the executive committee or committees, and same shall be recorded in a book or books which shall be kept for that purpose; which book or books shall be kept on file in the bank. Such minutes shall show a record of the action taken by the board of directors and executive committee or committees, on all loans, discounts, and investments made, authorized or approved, and such further action as the board of directors and executive committee or committees shall make concerning the conduct, management, and welfare of the bank. The minutes of the executive committee or committees shall be submitted to the board of directors for approval at each meeting of the board. (1921, c. 4, s. 50; C. S. 221(b).)

§ 53-80. Directors, qualifications of. — Every director of a bank doing business under this chapter shall be the owner and holder of shares of stock in the bank having a par value of not less than five hundred dollars, provided, such bank shall have a capital stock of more than fifteen thousand dollars; and not less than two hundred dollars if such bank shall have a capital stock of fifteen thousand dollars or less. And every such director shall hold such shares in his own name unpledged and unencumbered in any way. The office of any director at any time violating any of the provisions of this section shall immediately become vacant, and the remaining directors shall declare his office vacant and proceed to fill such vacancy forthwith. Not less than three-fourths of the directors of every bank doing business under this chapter shall be residents of the state of North Carolina: Provided, that as to banks doing business before February 18, 1921, the requirements as to amount of stock owned by a director shall not apply unless the commissioner of banks shall rule that such director is not bona fide discharging his duties. (1921, c. 4, s. 51; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 221(c).)

§ 53-81. Directors shall take oath. — Every director shall, within thirty days after his election, take and subscribe, in duplicate, an oath that he will diligently and honestly perform his duties in such office; and that he is the owner in good faith of the shares of stock of the bank required to qualify him for such office, standing in his own name on its books, and one of such oaths shall forthwith be filed with the commissioner of banks, and the other shall be kept on file in the bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 52; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 221(d).)

§ 53-82. Directors, liability of. — Any director of any bank who shall knowingly violate, or who shall knowingly permit to be violated by any officers, agents, or employees of such bank, any of the provisions of this chapter shall be held personally and individually liable for all damages which the bank, its stockholders or any other person shall have sustained in consequence of such violation. Any aggrieved stockholder in any bank in liquidation may prosecute an action for the enforcement of the provisions of this section. Only one such action may be brought. The procedure shall follow as nearly as may be that prescribed by § 44-14, relative to suits on bonds of contractors with municipal corporations. (1921, c. 4, s. 53; 1935, c. 464; C. S. 221(e).)

§ 53-83. Directors, examining committee of. — A committee of at least three directors or stockholders shall be appointed annually to examine, or to superintend the examination of the assets and the liabilities of the bank, and to report to the board of directors the result of such examination. The committee, with the approval of the board of directors, may provide for such examinations by a certified public accountant or clearing-house examiner in any city where such examination is provided for by the rules of such clearing-house association. A copy of such report of examination, which is herein required to be made, attested, and verified under oath by the signature of at least three members of such committee, shall forthwith be filed with the commissioner of banks. (1921, c. 4, s. 54; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 221(f).)

§ 53-84. Depositaries, designated by directors. —By resolution of the board of directors, other banks organized under the laws of this state, or of another state, or of the national banking act of the United States, shall be designated as depositaries or reserve banks in which a part of such bank's reserve shall be deposited, subject to payment on demand. A copy of such resolution shall, upon its adoption, be forthwith certified to the commissioner of banks and the depositary so designated shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner of banks. For causes which he may deem adequate, the commissioner of banks shall have authority at any time to withdraw such approval. (1921, c. 4, s. 55; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 221(g).)

§ 53-85. Stockholders' book. — The directors shall provide a book in which shall be kept the name and resident address of each stockholder, the number of shares held by each, the time when such person became a stockholder, together with all transfer of stock, stating the time when made, the number of shares and by whom transferred, which book shall be subject to the inspection of the directors, officers, and stockholders of the bank at all times during the usual hours for the transaction of business. (1921, c. 4, s. 56; C. S. 221(h).)

§ 53-86. Directors, officers, etc., accepting fees, etc. — No gift, fee, commission, or brokerage charge shall be received, directly or indirectly, by any officer, director, or employee of any bank doing business under this chapter, on account of any transaction to which the bank is a party. Any officer, director, employee, or agent who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be and thereafter remain ineligible as an officer, director, or employee of any bank doing business under this chapter. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the payment of necessary and proper attorney's fees to any licensed attorney for professional services rendered. (1921, c. 4, s. 57; C. S. 221(i).)

§ 53-87. Dividends, directors may declare. — The board of directors of any bank may declare a dividend of so much of its undivided profits as they may deem expedient, subject to the requirements hereinafter provided. When the surplus of any bank having a capital stock of fifteen thousand dollars or more is less than fifty per cent of its paid-in capital stock, such bank shall not declare any dividend until it has transferred from undivided profits to surplus twenty-five per cent of said undivided profits, or any lesser percentage that may be required to restore the surplus to an amount equal to fifty per cent of the paid-in capital stock. When the surplus of any bank having a capital stock of less than fifteen thousand dollars is less than one hundred per cent of its paid-in capital stock, such bank shall not declare any dividend until it has transferred from undivided profits to surplus fifty per cent of said undivided profits, or any lesser percentage that may be required to restore the surplus to an amount equal to one hundred per cent of the paid-in capital stock. In order to ascertain the undivided profits from which such dividend may be made, there shall be charged and deducted from the actual profits:

(a) All ordinary and extraordinary expenses, paid or incurred, in managing the affairs and transacting the business of the bank;

(b) Interest paid or then due on debts which it owes;

(c) All taxes due;

(d) All overdrafts which have been standing on the books of the bank for a period of sixty days or longer;

(e) All losses sustained by the bank. In computing the losses, there shall be included debts owing the bank which have become due and are not in process of collection, and on which interest for one year or more is due and unpaid, unless said debts are well secured; and debts reduced to final judgments which have been unsatisfied for more than one year and on which no interest has been paid for a period of one year, unless said judgments are well secured.

(f) All investments carried on its books, which are prohibited under the provisions of this chapter, or rules and regulations made by the commissioner of banks, pursuant to the powers conferred under this chapter. (1921, c. 4, s. 58; 1927, c. 47, s. 10; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 221(j).)

§ 53-88. Surplus, shall not be used for.—The surplus of any bank doing business under this chapter shall not be used for the purpose of paying expenses or losses until the credit to undivided profits has been exhausted. But any portion of such surplus may be converted into capital stock and distributed as a stock dividend, provided that such surplus shall not thereby be reduced below fifty per cent of the paid-in capital of such bank, having a paid-in capital of fifteen thousand dollars or more. When the surplus of any bank having a capital stock of less than fifteen thousand dollars shall reach an amount equal to one hundred per cent of its paid-in capital, the board of directors of such bank shall declare a dividend of fifty per cent of said surplus and distribute the same as a stock dividend: Provided, that where the distribution of such a stock dividend would increase the capital stock of any bank to an amount greater than fifteen thousand dollars, the board of directors of such bank may, in its discretion, declare a stock dividend of only so much of said surplus as will be necessary to increase the stock of the said bank to fifteen thousand dollars. (1921, c. 4, s. 59; C. S. 221(k).)

§ 53-89. Overdrafts, payment by officer, etc.—Any officer (other than a director), or employee of a bank, who shall permit any customer or other person to overdraw his account, or who shall pay any check or draft, the paying of which shall overdraw any account, unless the same shall be authorized by the board of directors or by a committee of such board authorized to act, shall be personally and individually liable to such bank for the amounts of such overdrafts. (1921, c. 4, s. 60; C. S. 221(l).)

§ 53-90. Officers and employees shall give bond.—The active officers and employees of any bank before entering upon their duties shall give bond to the bank in a bonding company authorized to do business in North Carolina, in the amount required by the directors and upon such form as may be approved by the commissioner of banks, the premium for same to be paid by the bank. The commissioner of banks or directors of such bank may require an increase of the amount of such bond whenever they may deem it necessary. If injured by the breach of any bond given hereunder, the bank so injured may put the same in suit and recover such damages as it may have sustained. (1921, c. 4, s. 61; Ex. Sess., 1921, c. 18; 1927, c. 47, s. 11; 1929, c. 72, s. 2; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 221(m).)

§ 53-91. Officers and employees may borrow, when.—No officer or employee of a bank, nor a firm or partnership of which such officer or employee is a member, nor a corporation in which such officer or employee owns a controlling interest, shall borrow any amount whatever from the bank of which he is an officer or employee, except upon good collateral or other ample security or endorsement; and no such loan shall be made until the same has been approved by a majority of the board of directors and a resolution, duly entered upon the minutes of the board of directors and signed by them, showing the amount of the loan, the directors approving the same and a brief description of the security upon which said loan is made; and a certified copy of such resolution shall be attached to the instrument evidencing the indebtedness. Provided, however, this section shall not apply to directors who are neither officers nor employees of the bank. (1921, c. 4, s. 62; 1925, c. 119, s. 2; 1927, c. 47, s. 12; C. S. 221(n).)

Art. 8. Commissioner of Banks and Banking Department.

§ 53-92. Appointment of commissioner of banks; state banking commission.—On or before April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, after the ratification of this section, and quadrennially thereafter, the governor, with the advice and consent of the senate, shall appoint a commissioner of banks who shall hold his office for a term of four years or until his successor has been appointed and has qualified, subject, however, to the provisions herein made as to his removal. The commissioner of banks shall, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, enter into bond with some surety company authorized to do business in the State of North Carolina, in the sum of not less than fifty thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful and honest discharge of all duties and obligations imposed by statute upon him.

There is hereby created, to become effective on April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine, a state banking commission, which commission shall consist of the state treasurer and the attorney general, who shall serve as ex officio members thereof, and five members to be appointed by the governor, four of which said members shall be practical bankers and one shall be a business man who is not an executive official in any bank, said five members shall be appointed for a term of four years beginning on April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine; and said appointive members shall receive as compensation the same per diem and expenses paid to the members of the advisory budget commission, which compensation shall be paid from the fees collected for the examination of banks, as provided by law.

The banking commission shall meet at such time or times, and not less than once every three months, as the commission shall, by resolution, prescribe, and the commission may be convened in special session at the call of the governor, or upon the request of the commissioner of banks. The state treasurer shall be chairman of the said commission.

No member of said commission shall act in any matter affecting any bank in which he is financially interested, or with which he is in any manner connected. No member of said commission shall divulge or make use of any information coming into his possession as a result of his service on such commission, and shall not give out any information with reference to any facts coming into his possession by reason of his services on such commission in connection with the condition of any state banking institution, unless such information shall be required of him at any hearing at which he is duly subpoenaed, or when required by order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

The commissioner of banks shall act as the executive officer of the banking commission, but the commission shall provide, by rules and regulations, for hearings before the commission upon any matter or thing which may arise in connection with the banking laws of this state upon the request of any person interested therein, and review any action taken or done by the commissioner of banks.

The banking commission is hereby vested with full power and authority to supervise, direct and review the exercise by the commissioner of banks of all powers, duties, and functions now vested in or exercised by the commissioner of banks under the banking laws of this state. (1931, c. 243, s. 1; 1935, c. 266; 1939, c. 91, s. 1.)

§ 53-93. Powers and duties of commissioner.—The commissioner of banks shall have the powers, duties and functions herein given, and in addition thereto such other powers and rights as may be necessary or incident to the proper discharge of his duties. (1931, c. 243, s. 2.)

§ 53-94. Right to sue and defend in actions involving banks; liability to suit.—As commissioner of banks he is empowered to sue and prosecute or defend in any action or proceeding in any courts of this State or any other state and in any court of the United States for the enforcement or protection of any right or pursuit of any remedy necessary or proper in connection with the subjects committed to him for administration or in connection with any bank or the rights, liabilities, property or assets thereof, under his supervision; but nothing herein shall be construed to render the commissioner of banks liable to be sued except as other departments and agencies of the State may be liable under the general law. (1931, c. 243, s. 3.)

§ 53-95. Commissioner to exercise powers under supervision of banking commission.—All the powers, duties, and functions granted to or imposed upon the commissioner of banks by law shall be exercised by him under the direction and supervision of the banking commission, and wherever provision is made in any law now in effect authorizing and permitting the commissioner of banks to make rules and regulations with respect to any actions or things required to be done under the banking laws of this state, such rules and regulations shall be made by the banking commission, and the words "the commissioner of banks," used in such statutes authorizing him to make rules and regulations, shall be construed to mean the banking commission, and the words "banking commission" substituted in such statutes for "commissioner of banks." (1931, c. 243, s. 4; 1939, c. 91, s. 2.)

§ 53-96. Salary of commissioner; legal assistance and compensation.—The salary of the commissioner of banks shall be fixed by the advisory budget commission. The governor may in his discretion appoint and assign to the commissioner of banks such legal assistance as in his judgment may be necessary; and compensation therefor, when permanent, shall be fixed in like manner. (1931, c. 243, s. 6.)

§ 53-97. Vacancy appointments and removal.—Vacancies existing in the office of commissioner of banks by death, resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the governor; and he shall have the power of removal for sufficient cause. (1931, c. 243, s. 8.)

§ 53-98. Seal of office of commissioner; certification of documents.—The commissioner of banks shall have a seal of office bearing the legend "State of North Carolina—Commissioner of Banks," with such other appropriate device as he may adopt. (1931, c. 243, s. 9.)

§ 53-99. Official records.—The commissioner of banks shall keep a record in his office of his official acts, rulings and transactions: Provided, however, that where any disclosure of the records in his office, or of any report or other transaction, might injuriously affect any bank actually operating, such disclosure shall not be made or required except as may now be done under the provisions of law in similar cases. (1931, c. 243, s. 10.)

§ 53-100. General or special investigations of insolvent banks.—Whenever it may appear to be to the public interest, the governor may cause a general or special investigation to be made of the affairs of any insolvent bank or banks, singly or in related groups, with a view to discovering and establishing the causes of the failure of such bank or banks, and responsibility therefor; and of discovering the dealings with such banks of persons, officers, corporations or municipalities which may have led to such insolvency or which may have endangered or involved any public funds therein. The governor may assign counsel who shall prosecute such inquiry before the commissioner of banks, or a deputy or commissioner appointed by the commissioner of banks for the purpose; and the commissioner of banks is hereby empowered to conduct such investigation either in person or through such commissioner or deputy appointed by him. The inquiry shall be held at the office of commissioner of banks in the city of Raleigh or at any other place or places in the State designated by the commissioner of banks under such rules and regulations as the state banking commission may prescribe and may be adjourned from time to time as convenience may require. Attendance of witnesses and production of papers may be required by subpoena under the hand of the commissioner or his deputy, and on failure of any witness to appear as subpoenaed or his or her failure to produce any books or papers, as called for by such commissioner or deputy on subpoena or other order due notice shall be served, at the instance of such commissioner or deputy, of not less than three days to appear before a judge of the superior court residing in or holding courts within the district wherein such witness is subpoenaed or notified to appear or produce such records or papers, on a day certain and a place named, when such judge shall hear the matter and is authorized to punish such witness as for contempt as he may find on such hearing.

A summary of such investigation shall be made with the findings and recommendations of the commissioner thereon, and a copy thereof submitted to the governor, and when the facts shall disclose that any person or persons are criminally responsible, a summary shall be sent to the solicitor of the judicial district likely to have jurisdiction of the matter, whose duty it shall be to have the matter presented to the grand jury for its action. The governor may employ counsel to assist in the prosecution of any person or persons criminally responsible and fix his compensation and the manner of its payment. (1931, c. 243, s. 11.)

§ 53-101. Clerical help.—The commissioner of banks is empowered to employ sufficient clerical and secretarial help, and other necessary labor to conduct the affairs of his office with economy and efficiency. Persons so employed shall be paid as other employees in the departments of the State and shall be under the same rules and regulations. (1931, c. 243, s. 12.)

§ 53-102. Suitable offices; transfer of books, records, etc., by corporation commission.—Suitable offices shall be provided for the commissioner of banks in some State owned public building in Raleigh. (1931, c. 243, s. 13.)

§ 53-103. Acceptances. — Banking corporations and banking and trust companies doing a fiduciary business shall have power to accept drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon them, and to endorse drafts or bills of exchange drawn upon another, having not more than six months sight to run, exclusive of days of grace, which grow out of transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods, or which grow out of transactions involving the domestic shipment of goods. No such banking corporation or banking and trust company doing a fiduciary business shall accept or indorse, whether in a foreign or domestic transaction, for any one person, company, firm, or corporation to an amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than ten per centum of its paid-up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus, unless the banking corporation or banking and trust company doing a fiduciary business is secured either by attached documents or by some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance; and no such banking corporation or banking and trust company doing a fiduciary business shall accept or indorse such bills or drafts to an amount equal at any one time in the aggregate to more than one-half of its paid-up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus. The commissioner of banks, however, under such general regulations as the state banking commission may prescribe, which shall apply to all banking corporations or banking and trust companies doing a fiduciary business alike regardless of the amount of capital stock and surplus, may authorize any banking corporation or banking and trust company doing a fiduciary business to accept or indorse such bills or drafts to an amount not exceeding at any time in the aggregate one hundred per centum of its paid-up and unimpaired capital stock and surplus: Provided, that the aggregate of acceptances growing out of domestic transactions shall in no event exceed fifty per centum of such capital stock and surplus. (1919, c. 76; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 222.)

§ 53-104. Commissioner of banks shall have supervision over, etc.—Every bank, corporation, partnership, firm, company, or individual, now or hereafter transacting the business of banking, or doing a banking business in connection with any other business, under the laws of and within this state, shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, and shall be under the supervision of the commissioner of banks. The commissioner of banks shall exercise control of and supervision over the banks doing business under this chapter, and it shall be his duty to execute and enforce through the state bank examiners and such other agents as are now or may hereafter be created or appointed, all laws which are now or may hereafter be enacted relating to banks as defined in this chapter. For the more complete and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this chapter, the state banking commission is hereby empowered to promulgate such rules, regulations, and instructions, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, as may in its opinion be necessary to carry out the provisions of the laws relating to banks and banking as herein defined, and as may be further necessary to insure such safe and conservative management of the banks under its supervision as will provide adequate protection for the interests of the depositors, creditors, stockholders, and public in their relations with such banks. All banks doing business under the provisions of this chapter shall conduct their business in a manner consistent with all laws relating to banks and banking, and all rules, regulations, and instructions that may be promulgated or issued by the state banking commission. (1921, c. 4, s. 63; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 222(a).)

§ 53-105. Reports of condition. — Every bank shall make to the commissioner of banks not less than three reports during each year, according to the form which may be prescribed by said commissioner of banks; which report shall be verified by the oath or affirmation of the president, vice-president, cashier, secretary, or treasurer of said bank, and in addition thereto, two of the directors. Each such report shall exhibit in detail and under appropriate heads the resources, assets, and liabilities of such bank at the close of business on any past day by the commissioner of banks specified, and shall be transmitted to the commissioner of banks within ten days after the receipt of a request or requisition therefor from the commissioner of banks; and in a form prescribed by the commissioner of banks; a summary of such report shall be published in a newspaper published in the place where the bank is located, or if there is no newspaper in the place, then in the nearest one published thereto in the county in which such bank is established. Proof of such publication shall be furnished the commissioner of banks in such form as may be prescribed by him. (1921, c. 4, s. 64; 1923, c. 148, s. 2; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 222(b).)

§ 53-106. Special reports. — The commissioner of banks may call for special reports whenever in his judgment it is necessary to inform him of the condition of any bank, or to obtain a full and complete knowledge of its affairs. Said reports shall be in and according to the form prescribed by the commissioner of banks, and shall be verified in the manner provided in § 53-105, and shall be published as therein provided, if required by the commissioner of banks so to be. (1921, c. 4, s. 66; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 222(d).)

§ 53-107. Failure to make report, penalty for.—Every bank failing to make and transmit any report which the commissioner of banks is authorized to require by this chapter, and in and according to the form prescribed by said commissioner of banks, within ten days after the receipt of a request or requisition therefor, or failing to publish the reports as required, shall forthwith be notified by the commissioner of banks, and if such failure continue for five days after the receipt of such notice, such delinquent bank shall be subject to a penalty of two hundred dollars. The penalty herein provided for shall be recovered in a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to prosecute all such actions. (1921, c. 4, s. 67; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 222(e).)

§ 53-108. List of stockholders to be kept. — Every bank doing business under this chapter shall at all times keep a correct record of the names of all its stockholders, and once in each year, or whenever called upon, file in the office of the commissioner of banks a correct list of all its stockholders, the resident address of each, and the number of shares held by each. (1921, c. 4, s. 68; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 222(f).)

§ 53-109. Official communications of commissioner of banks. — Each official communication directed by the commissioner of banks, or any state bank examiner, to any bank, or to any officer thereof, relating to an examination or investigation conducted or made by the commissioner of banks, or containing suggestions or recommendations as to the conduct of the bank shall, if required by the authority submitting same, be submitted by the officer or director receiving it, to the executive committee or board of directors of such bank and duly noted in the minutes of such meeting. The receipt and submission of such notice to the executive committee or board of directors shall be certified to the commissioner of banks within such time as he may require, by three members of such committee or board. (1921, c. 4, s. 69; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 222(g).)

§ 53-110. Banking commission to prescribe books, records, etc.—Whenever in its judgment it may appear to be advisable, the state banking commission may issue such rules, instructions, and regulations prescribing the manner of keeping books, accounts, and records of banks as will tend to produce uniformity in the books, accounts, and records of banks of the same class. (1921, c. 4, s. 70; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 222(h).)

§ 53-111. Reserve, when below legal requirement.—When the reserve of any bank falls below the amount required by law, it shall not make new loans or discounts, otherwise than by discounting or purchasing bills of exchange, payable at sight or on demand, nor make dividends of its profits until the reserve required by law is restored. The commissioner of banks shall require any bank whose reserve falls below the amount herein required immediately to make good such reserve. In case the bank fails for thirty days thereafter to make good its reserve, the commissioner of banks may forthwith take possession of the property and business of such bank until its affairs be adjusted or finally liquidated as provided for in this chapter. (1921, c. 4, s. 71; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 222(i).)

§ 53-112. Appraisal of assets of doubtful value.—If any assets of a bank are of a doubtful or disputed value, an appraisal of such assets may be had by the commissioner of banks, and for the purpose of making such appraisal the commissioner of banks shall designate one agent as an appraiser and the bank shall designate an agent as an appraiser and the two so chosen shall designate a third. The appraisers so selected shall make an appraisal of the assets so designated as doubtful or disputed and file a written report of their appraisal with the bank and with the commissioner of banks. In making such appraisal the appraisers shall determine the actual cash market value of such assets. Such appraisal, when made, shall be accepted as the value of such assets for the purpose of examination or for the purpose of determining the actual cash market value of such assets. The appraisers designated shall not be interested, in any way, either in the bank or as an employee of the commissioner of banks and all expenses of such appraisal shall be paid by the bank whose assets are appraised. If any bank required to appoint an appraiser hereunder shall fail for ten (10) days to appoint an appraiser, the commissioner of banks may apply to the Clerk of the Superior Court of the county in which the bank is located for the appointment of such an appraiser, and the clerk shall thereupon make the appointment for the bank. (1927, c. 47, s. 13; 1931, c. 243, s. 5.)

§ 53-113. Certified copies of records as evidence.—In all civil actions in the courts of this state wherein are involved as evidence or otherwise any of the records of the commissioner of banks, a certified copy over the signature and under the seal of the commissioner of banks shall be admissible in evidence to the same effect as if produced in court at trial by the proper custodian of the records. (1927, c. 47, s. 14; 1931, c. 243, s. 5.)

§ 53-114. Other powers of state banking commission.—In addition to all other powers conferred upon and vested in the state banking commission, the said commission, with the approval of the governor, is hereby authorized, empowered and directed, whenever in its judgment the circumstances warrant it:

(a) To authorize, permit, and/or direct and require all banking corporations under its supervision, to extend for such period and upon such terms as it deems necessary and expedient, payment of any demand and/or time deposits.

(b) To direct, require or permit, upon such terms as it may deem advisable, the issuance of clearing house certificates or other evidences of claims against assets of such banking institutions.

(c) To authorize and direct the creation, in such banking institutions, of special trust accounts for the receipt of new deposits, which deposits shall be subject to withdrawal on demand without any restriction or limitation and shall be kept separate in cash or on deposit in such banking institutions as it shall designate or invested in such obligations of the United States and/or the state of North Carolina as it shall designate.

(d) To adopt for such banking institutions such regulations as are necessary in its discretion to enable such banking institutions to comply fully with the federal regulations prescribed for national or state banks. (1933, c. 120, s. 3; 1939, c. 91, s. 2.)

§ 53-115. State banking commission to make rules and regulations.—The state banking commission is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to make all necessary rules and regulations, and to give all necessary instructions with respect to such banking corporations which the commissioner of banks may authorize, permit and/or direct and require to be conducted under the provisions of §§ 53-77, 53-114, 53-115, and 53-116. And it shall be the duty of all such banking corporations and their officers, agents and employees, to comply fully with any and all such rules, regulations and instructions, established and promulgated by the state banking commission with respect to such banking corporations under the terms of §§ 53-77, 53-114, 53-115, and 53-116; and such orders, rules, and regulations shall have the same force and effect as rules, regulations and instructions promulgated under the existing banking laws. (1933, c. 120, s. 4; 1939, c. 91, s. 2.)

§ 53-116. Commissioner need not take over banks failing to meet deposit demands.—The commissioner of banks is authorized and directed not to take possession of any banking corporation under his supervision for failure to meet its deposit liabilities during the period in which such banking corporation is operating under the terms of § 53-114, paragraph (a); and he is hereby relieved from any and all liability for permitting such banking corporations to continue operations under the terms thereof. (1933, c. 120, s. 5.)

Art. 9. Bank Examiners.

§ 53-117. Appointment by commissioner of banks.—The commissioner of banks, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter, shall appoint from time to time such state bank examiners, assistant state bank examiners, clerks and stenographers as may be necessary to make a thorough examination of and into the affairs of every bank doing business under this chapter, as often as the commissioner of banks may deem necessary, and at least once each year. The commissioner of banks may at any time remove any person appointed by him under this chapter. (1921, c. 4, s. 72; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 223(a).)

§ 53-118. Duties and powers.—It shall be the duty of the examiners to verify all reports made to the commissioner of banks by the officers and directors, members, or individuals conducting any banking institution, as required by this chapter or by the commissioner of banks. The officers of every bank shall submit and surrender its books, assets, papers, and concerns to the examiners appointed under this chapter, who shall retain the custody and possession of such books, assets, papers, and concerns for such length of time as may be required for the purpose of making an examination as required by this chapter. If any officer shall refuse to surrender the books, assets, papers, and concerns as herein provided, or shall refuse to be examined under oath touching the affairs of such bank, the commissioner of banks may forthwith take possession of the property and business of the bank and liquidate its affairs in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. (1921, c. 4, s. 73; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 223(b).)

§ 53-119. Officers and employees, removal of.—The commissioner of banks shall have the right, and is hereby empowered, to require the immediate removal from office of any officer, director, or employee of any bank doing business under this chapter, who shall be found to be dishonest, incompetent, or reckless in the management of the affairs of the bank, or who persistently violates the laws of this state or the lawful orders, instructions, and regulations issued by the state banking commission. (1921, c. 4, s. 74; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 223(c).)

§ 53-120. Examiners may administer oath.—For the purpose of making examinations as required by this chapter, any duly appointed examiner may administer oaths to examine any officer, director, agent, employee, customer, depositor, shareholder of such bank, or any other person or persons, touching its affairs and business. Any examiner may summon in writing any officer, director, agent, employee, customer, depositor, shareholder, or any person or persons resident of this state to appear before him and testify in relation thereto. (1921, c. 4, s. 75; C. S. 223(d).)

§ 53-121. Examiners may make arrest.—When it shall appear to any examiner, by examination or otherwise, that any officer, agent, employee, director, stockholder, or owner of any bank has been guilty of a violation of the criminal laws of this state relating to banks, it shall be his duty, and he is hereby empowered to hold and detain such person or persons until a warrant can be procured for his arrest; and for such purposes such examiner shall have and possess all the powers of peace officers of such county, and may make arrest without warrant for past offenses. Upon report of his action to the commissioner of banks, said commissioner may direct the release of the person or persons so held, or, if in his judgment such person or persons should be prosecuted, the commissioner of banks shall cause the solicitor of the judicial district in which such detention is had to be promptly notified, and the action against such person or persons shall be continued a reasonable time to enable the solicitor to be present at the trial. (1921, c. 4, s. 76; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 223(e).)

§ 53-122. Fees for examinations and other services.—For the purpose of paying the salaries and necessary traveling expenses of the commissioner of banks, State bank examiners, assistant State bank examiners, clerks, stenographers and other employees of the commissioner of banks, the following fees shall be paid into the office of the commissioner of banks: (a) Each bank and each branch of any bank which under the laws of the State of North Carolina is subject to supervision and examination by the commissioner of banks and is authorized to do business or is in process of voluntary liquidation shall, within ten days after the assessment has been made, pay into the office of the commissioner of banks according to its total resources as shown by its report of condition made to the commissioner of banks at the close of business December thirty-first, nineteen hundred and twenty-six, and on the thirty-first day of December, or the date most nearly approximating same of each year thereafter on which a report of condition is made to the commissioner of banks not in excess of the following fees for its annual examination: Fifty dollars for the first one hundred thousand dollars of assets or less, seven dollars for each one hundred thousand dollars or fraction in excess thereof, and two dollars for each one hundred thousand dollars or fraction thereof of trust assets, which said trust assets shall not include real estate carried as such.

(b) All examinations made other than those provided for in subsection (a) hereof shall be deemed special examinations and for such special examination the bank shall pay into the office of the commissioner of banks the following fees for each special examination: Fifty dollars for the first one hundred thousand dollars of assets or less, seven dollars for each one hundred thousand dollars or fraction in excess thereof, and two dollars for each one hundred thousand dollars or fraction thereof of trust assets, which said trust assets shall not include real estate carried as such. The fees paid for special examination shall be based on the assets of the bank examined as of the date of such examination.

(c) For services performed for any bank other than examination, the commissioner of banks may make such charge as in his opinion is fair and just.

(d) In all criminal cases tried in any of the courts of this state wherein any of the employees of the commissioner of banks are used as witnesses, a fee of ten ($10.00) dollars per day and actual expenses incurred shall be allowed such witnesses and the same shall be paid to the commissioner of banks by the clerk of the court of the county in which the case is tried and thereafter charged in bill of costs as are other costs incurred in the trial; and in all civil actions tried in any of the courts of this State, wherein any of the employees of the commissioner of banks are required as witnesses, the party requiring such employee as witness shall deposit with the commissioner of banks when the subpoena is served a sufficient sum to cover the witness fee of ten ($10.00) dollars per day and expenses, and such sums as may thus be advanced shall thereafter be charged in the bill of costs as other costs are charged.

All sums paid under this subsection shall be paid to the commissioner of banks as are fees for examination and used in like manner.

(e) The total compensation and necessary traveling expenses of the employees of the commissioner of banks shall not in any one year exceed the total fees collected under the provisions of this section. (1921, c. 4, s. 77; 1927, c. 47, s. 15; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 223(f).)

§ 53-123. Examiners shall make report. — Examiners shall make a full and detailed report in writing to the commissioner of banks of the condition of each bank within ten days after each and every examination made by them. (1921, c. 4, s. 78; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 223(g).)

Art. 10. Penalties.

§ 53-124. Examiner making false report. — If any bank examiner shall knowingly and willfully make any false or fraudulent report of the condition of any bank, which shall have been examined by him, with the intent to aid or abet the officers, owners, or agents of such bank in continuing to operate an insolvent bank, or if any such examiner shall keep or accept any bribe or gratuity given for the purpose of inducing him not to file any report of examination of any bank made by him, or shall neglect to make an examination of any bank by reason of having received or accepted any bribe or gratuity, he shall be guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state prison for not less than four months nor more than ten years. (1921, c. 4, s. 79; C. S. 224(a).)

§ 53-125. Examiners disclosing confidential information.—If any bank examiner or other employee of the commissioner of banks fails to keep secret the facts and information obtained in the course of an examination of a bank, except when the public duty of such examiner or employee requires him to report upon or take official action regarding the affairs of such bank, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than twelve months, or both, in the discretion of the court. Nothing in this section shall prevent the proper exchange of information with the representatives of the banking departments of other states, with the Federal Reserve Bank or national bank examiners, or other authorities, with the creditors of such bank or others with whom a proper exchange of information is wise or necessary, or with the clearing-house officials and examiners. (1921, c. 4, s. 80; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 224(b).)

§ 53-126. Loans or gratuities forbidden.—No State bank, or any officer, director or employee thereof shall hereafter make any loan or grant any gratuity to the commissioner of banks, any bank examiner or assistant bank examiner of the commissioner of banks of North Carolina. Any such officer, director or employee violating this provision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and imprisoned not exceeding one year or fined not more than one thousand dollars, or both; and they may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given. If the commissioner of banks, or any bank examiner, or assistant bank examiner of the commissioner of banks of North Carolina shall accept a loan or gratuity from any State bank, or from any officer, director or employee thereof, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and imprisoned not exceeding one year, or fined not more than one thousand dollars, or both, and may be fined a further sum equal to the money so loaned or gratuity given. (1927, c. 29, s. 1; 1931, c. 243, s. 5.)

§ 53-127. Bank, unauthorized use of the word. —No corporation shall hereafter be chartered under the laws of this state with the words "bank," "banking," "banker," or "trust" as a part of its name except corporations reporting to the commissioner of banks and under his supervision, or under the supervision of the insurance commissioner; nor shall any corporate name be so amended as to include the words "bank," "banking," "banker," or "trust," unless the corporation be under such supervision. No person, association, firm, or corporation domiciled within the state of North Carolina, except corporations, persons, associations, or firms reporting to and under the supervision of the commissioner of banks, or under the supervision of the insurance commissioner, shall therein advertise or put forth any sign as bank, banking, banker, or trust company, or use the word bank, banking, banker, or trust as a part of its name and title: Provided, that this chapter shall not be held to prevent any individual as such from acting in any trust capacity as heretofore. Any violation of the provisions of this section shall be a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof the offender shall be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offense. (1921, c. 4, s. 81; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 224(c).)

§ 53-128. Derogatory reports, willfully and maliciously making.—Any person who shall willfully and maliciously make, circulate, or transmit to another or others any statement, rumor, or suggestion, written, printed, or by word of mouth, which is directly or by inference derogatory to the financial condition, or affects the solvency or financial standing of any bank, or who shall counsel, aid, procure, or induce another to state, transmit, or circulate any such statement or rumor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 4, s. 82; C. S. 224(d).)

§ 53-129. Misapplication, embezzlement of funds, etc. — Whoever being an officer, employee, agent or director of a bank, with intent to defraud or injure the bank, or any person or corporation, or to deceive an officer of the bank or an agent appointed to examine the affairs of such bank, embezzles, abstracts, or misapplies any of the money, funds, credit or property of such bank, whether owned by it or held in trust, or who, with such intent, wilfully and fraudulently issues or puts forth a certificate of deposit, draws an order or bill of exchange, makes an acceptance, assigns a note, bond, draft, bill of exchange, mortgage, judgment, decree or fictitiously borrows or solicits, obtains or receives money for a bank not in good faith, intended to become the property of such bank; or whoever being an officer, employee, agent, or director of a bank, makes or permits the making of a false statement or certificates, as to a deposit, trust fund or contract, or makes or permits to be made a false entry in a book, report, statement or record of such bank, or conceals or permits to be concealed by any means or manner, the true and correct entries of said bank, or its true and correct transactions, who knowingly loans, or permits to be loaned, the funds or credit of any bank to any insolvent company or corporation, or corporation which has ceased to exist, or which never had any existence, or upon collateral consisting of stocks or bonds of such company or corporation, or who makes or publishes or knowingly permits to be made or published a false report, statement or certificate as to the true financial condition of such bank, shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars or imprisoned in the State's prison not more than thirty years, or both. (1921, c. 4, s. 83; 1927, c. 47, s. 16; C. S. 224(e).)

§ 53-130. Making false entries in banking accounts; misrepresenting assets and liabilities of banks.—If any person shall willfully and knowingly subscribe to, or make, or cause to be made, any false statement or false entry in the books of any bank, or shall knowingly subscribe to or exhibit false papers, with intent to deceive any person authorized to examine into the affairs of such bank, or shall willfully and knowingly make, state or publish any false statement of the amount of the assets or liabilities of any bank, he shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state's prison not less than four months nor more than ten years. (Rev., s. 3326; 1903, c. 275, s. 27; C. S. 4402.)

§ 53-131. False certification of a check.—Whoever, being an officer, employee, agent, or director of a bank, certifies a check drawn on such bank, and willfully fails to forthwith charge the amount thereof against the account of the drawer thereof, or willfully certifies a check drawn on such bank unless the drawer of such check has on deposit with the bank an amount of money subject to the payment of such check an equivalent to the amount therein specified, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars or imprisoned in the state prison for not more than five years, or both. (1921, c. 4, s. 84; C. S. 224(f).)

§ 53-132. Insolvent banks, receiving deposits in.—Any person, being an officer or employee of a bank, who receives, or being an officer thereof, permits an employee to receive money, checks, drafts, or other property as a deposit therein when he has knowledge that such bank is insolvent, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars or imprisoned in the state prison not more than five years, or both. Provided, that in any indictment hereunder insolvency shall not be deemed to include insolvency as defined under subsection (d) in the definition of insolvency under § 53-1. (1921, c. 4, s. 85; 1927, c. 47, s. 17; C. S. 224(g).)

§ 53-133. Capital stock, advertising larger amount than that paid in.—It shall be unlawful for any bank to advertise in a newspaper, letterhead, or any other way, a larger capital stock than has been actually paid in in cash. Any bank violating this section shall be subject to a penalty of five hundred dollars for each and every offense. The penalty herein provided for shall be recovered by the state in a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general to prosecute all such actions. (1921, c. 4, s. 86; C. S. 224(h).)

§ 53-134. Offenses declared misdemeanors; prosecution; employment of counsel; punishment.—Any offense against the banking laws of the state of North Carolina which is not elsewhere specifically declared to be a crime, or for which elsewhere a penalty is not specifically provided, is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor, and shall be punishable at the discretion of the court. The commissioner of banks is authorized and directed to prosecute all offenses against the banking laws of the state, and to that end is expressly authorized to employ counsel to prosecute in the inferior courts and to aid the solicitor in the superior courts. The auditor of the state shall, upon the certificate of the commissioner of banks, accompanied by an itemized statement of the account, draw his warrant upon the state treasurer to compensate the counsel so employed, and the state treasurer shall pay the same out of the funds in the treasury and not otherwise appropriated. (Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 56, s. 4; 1927, c. 47, s. 18; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 224(i).)

§ 53-135. General corporation law to apply.— All provisions of the law relating to private corporations, and particularly those enumerated in the chapter entitled "Corporations," not inconsistent with this chapter or with the business of banking, shall be applicable to banks. (1921, c. 4, s. 87; C. S. 224(j).)

Art. 11. Industrial Banks.

§ 53-136. Industrial bank defined. — The term "industrial bank," as used in this article shall be construed to mean any corporation organized, or which may hereafter be organized, under the general corporation laws of this state, which is engaged in lending money to be repaid in weekly, or monthly, or other periodical installments, or principal sums as a business: Provided, however, this definition shall not be construed to include building and loan associations, or commercial or savings banks. (1923, c. 225, s. 1; C. S. 225(a).)

§ 53-137. Manner of organization. — Corporations may be organized under this article in the same manner as provided for corporations authorized under the chapter on corporations. (1923, c. 225, s. 2; C. S. 225(b).)

§ 53-138. Corporate title. — Every corporation incorporated or reorganized pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be known as an industrial bank, and may use the word "bank" as part of its corporate title. (1923, c. 225, s. 3; C. S. 225(c).)

§ 53-139. Capital stock.—The amount of capital stock with which any industrial bank shall commence business shall not be less than twenty-five thousand ($25,000.00), in cities or towns of fifteen thousand population or less; nor less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00), in cities or towns whose population exceeds fifteen thousand but does not exceed twenty-five thousand; nor less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00), in cities or towns whose population exceeds twenty-five thousand; the population to be ascertained by the last preceding national census: Provided, that this section shall not apply to industrial banks organized and doing business prior to March 3, 1923. (1923, c. 225, s. 4; C. S. 225(d).)

§ 53-140. Sales of capital stock; accounting; fees.—The capital stock sold by any industrial bank in process of organization, or for an increase of the capital stock, shall be accounted for to the bank in the full amount paid for the same. No commission or fee shall be paid to any person, association, or corporation for selling such stock. The commissioner of banks shall refuse authority to commence business to any industrial bank where commissions or fees have been paid, or have been contracted to be paid by it, or by any one in its behalf to any person, association, or corporation for securing subscriptions for or selling stock in such bank. (1923, c. 225, s. 5; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; C. S. 225(e).)

§ 53-141. Powers.—Industrial banks shall have the powers conferred by paragraphs one, two, three, five and seven of § 55-26, and paragraph three of § 53-43; such additional powers as may be necessary or incidental for the carrying out of their corporate purposes, and in addition thereto the following powers:

1. To loan money on real or personal security and reserve lawful interest in advance upon such loans, and to discount or purchase notes, bills of exchange, acceptances or other choses in action.

2. To sell or offer for sale its secured or unsecured evidences or certificates of indebtedness, or investment, and to receive from investors therein or purchasers thereof payments therefor in installments or otherwise, with or without an allowance of interest upon such payments, whether such evidence or certificates of indebtedness or of investment be hypothecated for a loan or not, and to enter into contracts in the nature of a pledge or otherwise with such investors or purchasers with regard to such evidences or certificates of indebtedness, or of investment; and no such transaction shall in any way be construed to affect the rate of interest on such loans.

3. To charge for a loan made pursuant to this section one dollar for each fifty dollars or a fraction thereof loaned, up to and including loans of two hundred and fifty dollars, and for loans in excess of two hundred and fifty dollars, one dollar for each two hundred and fifty dollars excess or fraction thereof, to cover expenses, including any examination or investigation of the character and circumstances of the borrower, comaker, or surety. An additional fee of five dollars may be charged on such loans where same are secured by mortgage on real estate. No charge shall be collected unless a loan shall have been made.

4. To establish branch offices or places of business within the county in which its principal office is located, and elsewhere in the state, after having first obtained the written approval of the commissioner of banks, which approval may be given or withheld by the commissioner of banks in his discretion: Provided, that the commissioner of banks shall not authorize the establishment of any branch the paid-in capital of whose parent bank is not sufficient in amount to provide for the capital of at least twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) for the parent bank and at least twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) for each branch which it is proposed to be established in cities or towns of fifteen thousand population or less; nor less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00) in cities or towns whose population exceeds fifteen thousand but does not exceed twenty-five thousand; nor less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) in towns whose population exceeds twenty-five thousand.

5. Subject to the approval of the commissioner of banks and on the authority of its board of directors, or a majority thereof, to enter into such contracts, incur such obligations and generally to do and perform any and all such acts and things whatsoever as may be necessary or appropriate in order to take advantage of any and all memberships, loans, subscriptions, contracts, grants, rights or privileges, which may at any time be available or inure to banking institutions, or to their depositors, creditors, stockholders, conservators, receivers or liquidators, by virtue of those provisions of section eight of the Federal Banking Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (section twelve B of the Federal Reserve Act as amended) which establish the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and provide for the insurance of deposits, or of any other provisions of that or any other act or resolution of Congress to aid, regulate or safeguard banking institutions and their depositors, including any amendments of the same or any substitutions therefor; also, to subscribe for and acquire any stock, debentures, bonds or other types of securities of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and to comply with the lawful regulations and requirements from time to time issued or made by such corporations.

6. To solicit, receive and accept money or its equivalent on deposit both in savings accounts and upon certificates of deposit. (1923, c. 225, s. 6; 1925, c. 199, s. 1; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1935, c. 81, s. 2; 1939, c. 244, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 225(f).)

§ 53-142. Restriction on powers. — No industrial bank shall deposit any of its funds in any banking corporation unless such corporation has been designated as such depositary by a vote of a majority of the directors, or of the executive committee, exclusive of any director who is an officer, director, or trustee of the depositary so designated, present at any meeting duly called at which a quorum is in attendance, and approved by the commissioner of banks. (1923, c. 225, s. 7; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1937, c. 220; C. S. 225(g).)

§ 53-143. Limit of loans.—The total liabilities to any industrial bank of any person, corporation, company, or firm, for money borrowed, including in the liabilities of the company or firm the liabilities of the several members thereof, shall at no time exceed ten per cent of the actually paid-up capital and surplus of such industrial bank, but the discount of bona fide bills of exchange or acceptances drawn against actually existing values, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by the person or persons, corporation, company, or firm negotiating the same, shall not be considered money so borrowed. (1923, c. 225, s. 8; C. S. 225(h).)

§ 53-144. Supervision and examination.—Every industrial bank now or hereafter transacting the business of an industrial bank as defined by this article, whether as a separate business or in connection with any other business under the laws of and within this state, shall be subject to the provisions of this article, and shall be under the supervision of the commissioner of banks. The commissioner of banks shall exercise control of and supervision over the industrial banks doing business under this article, and it shall be his duty to execute and enforce, through the state bank examiners and such other agents as are now or may hereafter be created or appointed, all laws which are now or may hereafter be enacted relating to industrial banks as defined in this article. For the more complete and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this article, the state banking commission is hereby empowered to promulgate such rules, regulations, and instructions, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, as may, in its opinion, be necessary to carry out the provisions of the laws relating to industrial banks as in this article defined, and as may be further necessary to insure such safe and conservative management of industrial banks under the supervision of the commissioner of banks as may provide adequate protection for the interest of creditors, stockholders, and the public, in their relations with such institutions. All industrial banks doing business under the provisions of this article shall conduct their business in a manner consistent with all laws relating to industrial banks, and all rules, regulations and instructions that may be promulgated or issued by the state banking commission. (1923, c. 225, s. 11; 1931, c. 243, s. 5; 1939, c. 91, s. 2; C. S. 225(k).)

§ 53-145. Sections of general law applicable.—Sections 53-1, 53-3, 53-4, 53-5, 53-7, 53-8, 53-9, 53-10, 53-11, 53-12, 53-13, 53-18, 53-20, 53-42, 53-47, 53-50, 53-51, 53-54, 53-63, 53-64, 53-67, 53-78, 53-79, 53-80, 53-81, 53-82, 53-83, 53-87, 53-88, 53-90, 53-91, 53-105, 53-106, 53-107, 53-109, 53-110, 53-117, 53-118, 53-119, 53-120, 53-121, 53-122, 53-123, 53-124, 53-125, 53-128, 53-129, 53-132, 53-134, relating to the supervision and examination of commercial banks, shall be construed to be applicable to industrial banks, insofar as they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this article. Sections 53-19, 53-24, 53-37, 53-39, 53-40, 53-41, 53-44, 53-45, 53-75, 53-76, 53-77, 53-86, 53-114, 53-115, 53-116, 53-146, and 53-148 through 53-158, relating to commercial banks, shall be construed to be applicable to industrial banks. (1923, c. 225, s. 13; 1927, c. 141; 1939, c. 244, s. 3; C. S. 225(m).)

Art. 12. Joint Deposits; Assignments as Evidence of Insolvency; Receivers.

§ 53-146. Deposits in two names.—When a deposit has been or is hereafter made in any bank, trust company, banking and trust company, or any other institution transacting business in this state, in the names of two persons, payable to either, or payable to either or the survivor, all or any part of the deposit, or any interest or dividend thereon, may be paid to either of said persons, whether the other is living or not; and the receipt or acquittance of the person so paid is a valid and sufficient discharge to the bank for payment so made. (1917, c. 243, s. 1; C. S. 230.)

§ 53-147. Commissioner of banks to sue and collect from stockholders. — The commissioner of banks, after taking possession of an insolvent bank, is empowered to demand, sue for, and collect by lawful process all indebtedness due from its stockholders, whether they reside within or without the state, and wherever they or their legal representatives may be served with process, or wherever any property belonging to them, or their estate, may be subject to attachment, garnishment, or other lawful process. All indebtedness due from such stockholders, their representatives or estates, is payable to the commissioner of banks as corporate assets, and the title thereto vests in and must be applied by him for the equal benefit of all persons entitled to share in the distribution of the fund and disbursed ratably under the orders of the court. The commissioner of banks may, within three years after an assessment on the stock, institute civil actions against the stockholders to reduce their liability thereon to final judgment, and in any such action the creditors of the bank may be proper, but are not necessary parties plaintiff. (1911, c. 25, ss. 2, 3, 6; 1931, c. 212; C. S. 240.)

Art. 13. Conservation of Bank Assets and Issuance of Preferred Stock.

§ 53-148. Provision for bank conservators; duties and powers.—Whenever he shall deem it necessary, in order to conserve the assets of any bank for the benefit of the depositors and other creditors thereof, the commissioner of banks may (with the approval of the governor), appoint a conservator for such bank and require of such conservator such bond with such security as he may deem necessary and proper. The conservator, under the direction of the commissioner of banks, shall take possession of the books, records and assets of every description of such bank, and take such action as may be necessary to conserve the assets of such bank pending further disposition of its business as provided by law. Such conservator shall have all such rights, powers and privileges, subject to the commissioner of banks, now possessed by or hereafter given to the commissioner of banks under § 53-20, as amended, as are necessary to conserve the assets of said bank. During the time that such conservator remains in possession of such bank, the rights of all parties with respect thereto, shall be the same as those provided in § 53-20, as amended. All expenses of any such conservator shall be paid out of the assets of such bank and shall be a lien thereon which shall be prior to any other lien provided by this article or otherwise. The conservator shall receive as salary an amount no greater than that paid at the present time to employees of departments of the state government for similar services. (1933, c. 155, s. 1.)

§ 53-149. Examination of bank.—The commissioner of banks shall cause to be made such examination of the affairs of such bank as shall be necessary to inform him as to the financial condition of such bank. (1933, c. 155, s. 2.)

§ 53-150. Termination of conservatorship.—If the commissioner of banks shall become satisfied that it may safely be done, he may, in his discretion, terminate the conservatorship and permit such bank to resume the transaction of its business, subject to such terms, conditions, restrictions and limitations as he may prescribe. (1933, c. 155, s. 3.)

§ 53-151. Special funds for paying depositors and creditors ratably; new deposits.—While such bank is in the hands of the conservator appointed by the commissioner of banks, the commissioner of banks may require the conservator to set aside from unpledged assets and make available for withdrawal by depositors and payment to other creditors on a ratable basis, such amounts as, in the opinion of the commissioner of banks, may safely be used for this purpose; and the commissioner of banks, may, in his discretion, permit the conservator to receive deposits, but deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator (as well as special or trust deposits received by any bank, under the orders of the commissioner of banks, since March 2, 1933), shall not be subject to any limitation as to payment or withdrawal, and such deposits shall be segregated and shall not be used to liquidate any indebtedness of such bank existing at the time that a conservator was appointed for it, or any subsequent indebtedness incurred for the purpose of liquidating any indebtedness of said bank existing at the time such conservator was appointed. Such deposits received while the bank is in the hands of the conservator, as well as the special or trust deposits received since March 2, 1933, shall be kept on hand in cash or on deposit with a federal reserve bank. In being transmitted to the federal reserve bank, said deposits shall be so marked and designated as to indicate to such federal reserve bank that they are special deposits. (1933, c. 155, s. 4.)

§ 53-152. Reorganization on agreement of depositors and stockholders.—By the agreement of (a) depositors and other creditors of any bank representing at least seventy-five per cent in amount of its total deposits and other liabilities as shown by the books of the banks, or (b) stockholders owning at least two-thirds of each class of its outstanding capital stock as shown by the books of the bank, or (c) both depositors and other creditors representing at least seventy-five per cent in amount of the total deposits and other liabilities, and stockholders owning at least two-thirds of its outstanding capital stock as shown by the books of the bank, any bank may effect such reorganization with the consent and approval of the commissioner of banks as by such agreement may be determined: Provided, however, that claims of depositors or other creditors which will be satisfied in full under the provisions of the plan of reorganization shall not be included among the total deposits and other liabilities of the bank in determining the per cent thereof as above provided.

When such reorganization becomes effective, all books, records and assets of such bank shall be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of the plan, and the affairs of the bank shall be conducted by its board of directors in the manner provided by the plan and under the conditions, restrictions and limitations which may have been prescribed by the commissioner of banks. In any reorganization which shall have been approved, and shall have become effective as provided herein, all depositors and other creditors and stockholders of such bank, whether or not they shall have consented to such plan of organization, shall be fully and in all respects subject to and bound by its provisions, and claims of all depositors and other creditors shall be treated as if they had consented to such plan of reorganization: Provided, however, that no reorganization shall affect the lien of secured creditors. (1933, c. 155, s. 5.)

§ 53-153. Segregation of recent deposits not effective after bank turned back to officers; notice of turning bank back to officers. — After fifteen days after the affairs of a bank shall have been turned back to its board of directors by the conservator, either with or without a reorganization as provided in § 53-152 hereof, the provisions of § 53-151 with respect to the segregation of deposits received while it is in the hands of the conservator, and with respect to the use of such deposits to liquidate the indebtedness of such bank, shall no longer be effective: Provided, that before the conservator shall turn back the affairs of the bank to its board of directors, he shall cause to be published in a newspaper published in the city, town or county in which such bank is located, and if no newspaper is published in such city, town or county, in a newspaper to be selected by the commissioner of banks, a notice in form approved by the commissioner of banks, stating the date on which the affairs of the bank will be returned to its board of directors, and that the said provisions of § 53-151 will not be effective after fifteen days after such date; and on the date of publication of such notice, the conservator shall immediately send to every person who is a depositor in such bank under § 53-151, a copy of such notice by registered mail, addressing it to the last known address of such persons shown by the records of the bank; and the conservator shall send similar notice in like manner to every person making deposit in such bank under § 53-151, after the date of such newspaper publication and before the time when the affairs of the bank are returned to its directors. (1933, c. 155, s. 6.)

§ 53-154. Issuance of preferred stock. — Notwithstanding any other provision of this article or any other law, and notwithstanding any of the provisions of its articles of incorporation or by-laws, any bank may, with the approval of the commissioner of banks, and by vote of stockholders owning a majority of the stock of such bank, upon not less than two days' notice given by registered mail pursuant to action taken at a meeting of its board of directors (which may be held upon not less than one day's notice) issue preferred stock in such amount and with such par value as shall be approved by said commissioner of banks. A copy of the minutes of such directors' and stockholders' meetings, certified by the proper officer and under the corporate seal of the bank, and accompanied by the written approval of the commissioner of banks shall be immediately filed in the office of the secretary of state, and when so filed, shall be deemed and treated as an amendment to the articles of incorporation of such bank.

No issue of preferred stock shall be valid until the par value of all stock so issued shall have been paid for in full in cash or in such manner as may be specifically approved by the commissioner of banks. (1933, c. 155, s. 7.)

§ 53-155. Rights and liabilities of preferred stockholders.—The holders of such preferred stock shall be entitled to cumulative dividends payable at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum, but shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts or engagements of such bank, and shall not be liable for assessments to restore impairments in the capital of such banks as now provided by law with reference to holders of common stock in banks. Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, the holders of such preferred stock shall have such voting rights and such stock shall be subject to retirement in such manner and on such terms and conditions as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or any amendment thereto, with the approval of the commissioner of banks.

No dividends shall be declared or paid on common stock until the cumulative dividends on the preferred stock shall have been paid in full; and if the bank is placed in liquidation, no payments shall be made to the holders of the common stock until the holders of the preferred stock shall have been paid in full the par value of such stock and all accumulated dividends. (1933, c. 155, s. 8.)

§ 53-156. Term "stock" not to include preferred stock; latter not to be used as collateral for loans. —Wherever in existing banking law, the words "stock," "stockholders," "capital" or "capital stock" are used, the same shall not be deemed to include preferred stock: Provided that no bank issuing preferred stock under the provisions hereof, shall be permitted at any time to make loans upon such preferred stock; Provided further that in determining whether or not the minimum capital or capital stock required in §§ 53-2, 53-11, 53-62, 53-139, and 58-116, has been supplied to such bank or banking corporation, the commissioner of banks shall include preferred stock as capital or capital stock. (1933, c. 155, s. 9; 1935, c. 80.)

§ 53-157. Rights and liabilities of conservator.— The conservator appointed pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be subject to the provisions of and to the penalties prescribed by §§ 53-43, 53-129, and 53-131. (1933, c. 155, s. 10.)

§ 53-158. Naming of conservator not liquidation. —No power conferred in this article upon the commissioner of banks, when exercised, shall be deemed an act of possession for the purposes of liquidation; and whenever the commissioner of banks shall, with reference to any bank for which a conservator is appointed, deem that liquidation is necessary, he shall exercise the powers for the purposes of liquidation as provided in § 53-20 as amended. (1933, c. 155, s. 11.)

SUBCHAPTER I. BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Art. 1. Organization.

§ 54-1. Application of term.—The term "building and loan association," as used in this subchapter, shall apply to and include all corporations, companies, societies, or associations organized for the purpose of making loans to their members only, and of enabling their members to acquire real estate, make improvements thereon and remove incumbrances therefrom by the payment of money in periodical installments or principal sums, and for the accumulation of a fund to be returned to members who do not obtain advances for such purposes. It shall be unlawful for any corporation, company, society, or association doing business in this state not so conducted to use in its corporate name the term "building and loan association" or "building association," or in any manner or device to hold itself out to the public as a building and loan association. (Rev., s. 3881; 1905, c. 435, s. 16; C. S. 5169.)

§ 54-2. Method of incorporation; powers. — It shall be lawful for any persons in any city, town, or county of this state, under any name by them to be assumed, to associate for the purpose of organizing and establishing a homestead and building and loan association, and, being so associated, they shall, on complying with this subchapter, be a body politic and corporate, and as such be capable in law to hold and dispose of property, both real and personal; may have and use a common seal; may choose a presiding and other officers; may enact by-laws for the regulation of the affairs of such corporation, and compel the due observance of the same by fines and penalties; may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, answer and be answered in any court in this state, and do all acts necessary for the well ordering and good government of the affairs of such corporation, and shall exercise all and singular the powers incident to bodies politic and corporate: Provided, that before any such corporation shall be entitled to the privileges of this subchapter it shall file with the clerk of the superior court of the county where such corporation is designed to act a copy of the certificate of incorporation of such corporation, signed by at least seven members, to be recorded in the office of such clerk, and shall pay a tax of twenty-five dollars to the clerk, which tax shall be paid over by the clerk to the treasurer of the county, to the use of the school fund of the county. The clerk shall certify a copy of the charter to the insurance commissioner. The clerk shall not issue or record the same until duly authorized to do so by the Insurance Commissioner as hereinafter provided.

(a) Upon receipt of a copy of the certificate of incorporation of the proposed association, the Insurance Commissioner shall at once examine into all the facts connected with the formation of such proposed corporation, including its location and proposed stockholders, and if it appears that such corporation, if formed, will be lawfully entitled to commence the business for which it is organized, the Insurance Commissioner shall so certify to the Clerk of Court in the county in which organized, who shall thereupon issue and record such certificate of incorporation. But the Insurance Commissioner may refuse to so certify, if upon examination and investigation he has reason to believe that the proposed corporation is formed for any purpose other than a mutual building and loan business, or that the character, general fitness, and responsibility of the persons proposed as stockholders in such corporation are not such as to command the confidence of the community in which said building and loan association is proposed to be located; or that the public convenience and advantage will not be promoted by its establishment; or that the name of the proposed corporation is likely to mislead the public as to its character or purpose; or if the proposed name is the same as one already adopted or appropriated by an existing association in the same county, or so similar thereto as to be likely to mislead the public.

(b) Upon receipt of such certificate from the Insurance Commissioner, the Clerk of Court shall, if said certificate of incorporation be in accordance with law, issue and cause same to be recorded in the records of his office as hereinabove provided. (Rev., s. 3877; 1905, c. 435, s. 1; 1931, c. 73; C. S. 5170.)

§ 54-3. Amendments to certificate.—Any addition, alteration or amendment of the certificate of incorporation of any building and loan association shall be made at any annual or special meeting of such association, held in pursuance of the provisions of § 54-10, by a majority of the shareholders present in person or represented by proxy at any such meeting, and any such addition, alteration or amendment shall be signed, certified, and recorded as is provided in § 54-2. (Rev., s. 3878; 1905, c. 435, s. 2; 1939, c. 128, s. 1; C. S. 5171.)

§ 54-4. Prior amendments validated.—All additions, alterations or amendments of the certificate of any building and loan association made prior to March 17, 1939, and which failed to comply with all of the provisions of the statutes of North Carolina applicable thereto, be, and the same are hereby declared to be sufficient and valid to the same extent as if the provisions of said statutes had been fully complied with. (1939, c. 128, s. 2.)

§ 54-5. Form of certificate.—Substantially the following form shall be used by associations to be formed under this chapter:

Certificate of Incorporation

This is to certify that we, the undersigned citizens of the state of North Carolina, hereby associate ourselves into a building and loan association under and by virtue of the provisions of subchapter I, entitled Building and Loan Associations, of chapter 54 of the North Carolina Code, and by this certificate do set forth:

Signed, sealed, and delivered in the presence of ..... (Rev., s. 3879; 1905, c. 435, s. 27; C. S. 5172.)

§ 54-6. When to begin business.—Upon filing the certificate of incorporation with the clerk of the superior court of the county where the principal office of the corporation is located, and with the insurance commissioner, the company shall become a body politic and corporate, and shall be authorized to begin business, when licensed by the insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 3880; Code, s. 2297; 1907, c. 959, s. 1; C. S. 5173.)

§ 54-7. Chapter on corporations applicable. — All of the provisions of law relating to private corporations, and particularly those enumerated in the chapter entitled Corporations, not inconsistent with this subchapter, or with the business of building and loan associations, shall be applicable to building and loan associations. (Rev., s. 3882; C. S. 5174.)

§ 54-8. Charters validated. — The charters of all building and loan associations heretofore organized are hereby in all respects validated and confirmed, and all such associations shall have the powers and privileges of associations formed under this subchapter. (Rev., s. 3883; 1905, c. 435, s. 27; C. S. 5175.)

§ 54-9. May become members of and hold stock in federal home loan bank.—Any building and loan association heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this state may subscribe to, purchase, hold, own and dispose of stock in any federal home loan bank, and may become members of any such bank authorized by or organized under an act of congress entitled "The Federal Home Loan Bank Act," approved July 22, 1932. (1933, c. 20.)

§ 54-10. Annual meetings.—The annual meeting of any such association shall be held at such time and place as shall be fixed in the notice of said meeting. There shall be published once a week for two weeks preceding such meeting, in a newspaper published in the county or town where the association has its principal office, a notice, signed by the secretary, of such meeting, and the time and place where the same is to be held; and such further notice shall be given as the charter or by-laws of the association may require. Notice of special meetings of shareholders shall be given in a like manner. Unless otherwise provided, twenty-five shareholders, present in person or represented by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at any regular or special shareholders' meeting. If no newspaper be published in the county or town in which any association has its principal office, then the notice above provided may be published by posting same at a conspicuous place in the office of the association, and a like notice at the door of the county court house. (1933, c. 19.)

§ 54-11. Conversion of building and loan associations into federal savings and loan associations.—Any corporation organized and existing under the laws of this State and operating as a building and loan association may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association pursuant to an act of Congress, approved June thirteenth, nineteen hundred and thirty-three, entitled "Home Owners' Loan Act of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-three," and any amendments thereto, with the same force and effect as though originally incorporated under such act of Congress, and the procedure to effect such conversion shall be as follows:

1. The directors shall submit a plan of conversion to the insurance commissioner, and he may approve the same, with or without amendment, or disapprove the plan. If he approve the plan, then same shall be submitted to the shareholders as provided in the next sub-section.

2. A meeting of the shareholders shall be held upon not less than ten days' written notice to each shareholder, served personally or sent by mail to the last known address of such shareholder, postage prepaid, such notice to contain a statement of the time, place and purpose for which such meeting is called. It shall be regarded as sufficient notice of the purpose of said meeting if the call contain the following statement: "The purpose of said meeting being to consider the matter of the conversion of this corporation into a federal savings and loan association, pursuant to act of Congress approved June thirteenth, nineteen hundred and thirty-three." The secretary or other officer of the corporation shall make proof by affidavit at such meeting of due service of the notice or call for said meeting.

3. At the meeting of the shareholders of such corporation, called and held as above provided, such shareholders may, by affirmative vote of a majority of shareholders present, in person or by proxy, declare by resolution the determination to convert said corporation into a federal savings and loan association. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of such meeting of the shareholders certified by the president or vice-president and secretary or assistant secretary of the corporation shall be filed in the office of the insurance commissioner of this State within five days after such meeting, and a like copy shall also be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such corporation has its principal office. Each of said certified copies when so filed shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and the action of such meeting.

4. Within a reasonable time after the receipt of a certified copy of the minutes of said meeting the insurance commissioner shall either approve or disapprove the same. If the proceedings be approved by him he shall so endorse the certified copy of the minutes in his office, and shall issue a certificate certifying his approval of the conversion and proceedings, and send same to the corporation. Such certificate shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of superior court of the county in which the corporation has its principal office, and the original shall be held by the corporation. If the commissioner disapproves such proceedings he shall mark the certified copy of minutes in his office disapproved and notify the corporation to that effect.

5. Within sixty days after the approval of the proposed proceedings by the insurance commissioner, the officers of said corporation shall take such action, in the manner prescribed or authorized by the laws of the United States, as shall make it a federal savings and loan association, and there shall thereupon be filed in the office of the insurance commissioner a copy of the charter or authorization issued to such corporation by the federal home loan bank board, or a certificate showing the organization or conversion of such corporation into a federal savings and loan association, and upon such filing with the insurance commissioner the corporation shall cease to be a state corporation and shall be deemed to be converted into a federal savings and loan association.

6. Whenever any such corporation shall so convert itself into a federal savings and loan association it shall thereupon cease to be a corporation under the laws of this State, except that its corporate existence shall be deemed to be extended for the purpose of prosecuting or defending suits by or against it and of enabling it to close its concerns as a state corporation, and to dispose of and convey its property. At the time when such conversion becomes effective all the property of the state corporation, including all its right, title and interest in and to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, belonging or pertaining to it, or which would inure to it, shall immediately by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer, and without any further act or deed, be vested in and become the property of the federal savings and loan association, which shall have, hold and enjoy the same in its right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held and enjoyed by the state corporation; and the federal savings and loan association as of the time of the taking effect of such conversion shall succeed to all the rights, obligations and relations of the state corporation.

7. Any such corporation may, instead of effecting the conversion above provided, at a meeting called and held as above outlined, authorize the sale of all or any portion of its assets, subject to the approval of the insurance commissioner, to a federal savings and loan association or to a building and loan association of this state, and subject to the approval of the insurance commissioner, may authorize the taking of stock in the association so buying the assets in payment thereof; and upon liquidation of the selling corporation the stock so received shall be distributed to its shareholders. In the event such sale shall be authorized, and approved by the insurance commissioner, the directors and officers shall have full power and authority to do any and everything necessary to carrying same into effect. (1935, c. 104.)

§ 54-12. Conversion of federal association into state association.—Any federal savings and loan association organized and existing under the Home Owners Loan Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, as amended, may convert into a building and loan association, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, with the same force and effect as though originally incorporated under the provisions of this sub-chapter, by complying with the acts of congress and the requirements of federal regulatory authority, and also by following the procedure as set out below:

1. The directors of such federal savings and loan association shall submit a plan of conversion to the federal home loan bank board (hereinafter referred to as "board") or other federal regulatory authority, and also to the insurance commissioner of the state of North Carolina. When such plan has been approved, either with or without amendment by both of said authorities, then said plan shall be submitted to the members of such association as provided in the next sub-section.

2. A meeting of the members shall be held upon not less than ten days' written notice to each member, served personally or sent by mail to the last known address of such member, postage prepaid, such notice to contain a statement of the time, place and purpose for which such meeting is called. It shall be regarded as sufficient notice of the purpose of said meeting if the call contain the following statement: "The purpose of said meeting being to consider the matter of the conversion of this association into a building and loan association, pursuant to the provisions of the laws of the state of North Carolina." The secretary or other officer of the association shall make proof by affidavit at such meeting of the due service of the notice or call for said meeting.

3. At the meeting of the members of such association, called and held as above provided, such members may, by affirmative vote of fifty-one per cent or more of members present, in person or by proxy, declare by resolution the determination to convert said association into a building and loan association operating under the laws of this state. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of such meeting of the members, certified by the president or vice-president and secretary or assistant secretary of the association, shall be filed with the federal home loan bank board within five days after such meeting. Such certified copy, when so filed, shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and the action of such meeting.

4. Within thirty days after the approval of said proceedings by the board the officers of said association shall file with the clerk of the superior court of the county where such association is designed to act a copy of the certificate of incorporation of such association, signed by at least seven members, to be recorded in the office of such clerk. Such certificate of incorporation shall conform to the provisions of the laws of this state. The clerk shall certify a copy of the certificate to the insurance commissioner, and shall not issue or record the same until duly authorized to do so by the insurance commissioner. Upon receipt of a copy of the certificate of incorporation the insurance commissioner shall at once examine into the facts connected with the conversion of such association, and, if it appears that such association if converted will be lawfully entitled to commence business as a building and loan association pursuant to the laws of this state, the insurance commissioner shall so certify to the clerk of the court in the county in which the association will be located, who shall thereupon issue and record such certificate of incorporation. Upon the issuance and recordation of such certificate of incorporation the association shall file with the board a certified copy of same. Thereupon the association shall cease to be a federal savings and loan association and shall be deemed to be converted into a building and loan association under the laws of this state, whose corporate existence shall be deemed then to begin.

5. At the time when the corporate existence of said state association begins all the property of the said federal association, including all its rights, title and interest in and to all property of whatsoever kind, whether real, personal or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, belonging or pertaining to it, or which would inure to it, shall immediately by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer, and without any further act or deed, be vested in and become the property of such state association, which shall have, hold and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as if the same was possessed, held or enjoyed by said federal association; and such state association shall be deemed to be a continuation of the entity and of the identity of said federal association, operating under and pursuant to the laws of this state, and all the rights, obligations and relations of said federal association to or in respect to any person, estate, or creditor, depositor, trustee or beneficiary of any trust, and in or in respect to any executorship or trusteeship or other trust or fiduciary function, shall remain unimpaired, and such state association, as of said beginning of its corporate existence, shall by operation of this section succeed to all such rights, obligations, relations and trusts, and the duties and liabilities connected therewith, and shall execute and perform each and every such trust and relation in the same manner as if such state association had itself assumed the trust or relation, including the obligations and liabilities connected therewith. (1937, c. 12.)

Art. 2. Shares and Shareholders.

§ 54-13. Number of shares and entrance fee prescribed.—Any corporation created under and by virtue of this subchapter shall have power to declare in its certificate of incorporation the maximum number of shares of which the corporation shall consist to be in force at any one time, the par value of the same, to prescribe the entrance fee per share to be paid by each shareholder at the time of subscribing, to regulate the amount of the installments to be paid on each share, and the time at which the same shall be paid and payable: Provided, that not more than one per cent of the par value of each share of stock subscribed, may be paid as commissions or other remuneration for the soliciting and sale of stock. (Rev., s. 3887; 1905, c. 435, s. 3; 1931, c. 75; C. S. 5176.)

§ 54-14. Different classes of shares; dividends; reserve fund.—Every building and loan association doing business in this state shall be authorized to issue as many series or classes and kinds of shares and at such stated periods as may be provided for in its charter or by-laws: Provided, the dividends on paid-up stock shall be less than the association is earning, and such stock may have the right to share in the dividends between the rate paid and the earned per centum. Every association shall at all times have on hand and unpledged, investments in obligations of the United States government or the government of the state of North Carolina, or stock in the federal home loan bank, or bonds issued by the federal home loan bank, or on deposit in such bank or banks as may have been approved by a majority of the entire board of directors, an amount equal to at least five per centum of the aggregate amount of paid-up stock outstanding, as shown by the books of the association. When the aggregate of investment or funds in hand or on deposit as herein provided falls below the amount required under this section, the association shall make no new real estate loans until the required amount has been accumulated: Provided, that the refinancing, recasting or renewal of loans previously made, and/or loans made as a result of foreclosure sales under instruments held by the interested building and loan association, shall not be considered as new loans within the meaning of this section. (Rev., s. 3889; 1905, c. 435, s. 6; 1907, c. 959, s. 3; 1919, c. 179, s. 3; 1931, c. 107; 1933, c. 26; 1941, c. 67; C. S. 5177.)

§ 54-15. Certificate issued and payment enforced.—Any such corporation shall have power to issue to each member a certificate of the shares held by him, and to enforce the payment of all installments and other dues due to the corporation from the members or shareholders by such fines and forfeitures as the corporation may from time to time provide in the by-laws or its certificate of incorporation. (Rev., s. 3888; 1905, c. 435, s. 4; C. S. 5178.)

§ 54-16. New members admitted. — Any person applying for membership or shares in any corporation after the end of a month from the date of its incorporation may be required to pay, on subscribing, such sums or assessments as may from time to time be fixed and assessed in the manner provided by the corporation, in order to place such new member or shareholdeer on like footing with the original members and others holding shares at the time of such application. (Rev., s. 3886; 1905, c. 435, s. 5; C. S. 5179.)

§ 54-17. Shareholders equally liable. — All shareholders shall occupy the same relative position as to debts, losses, and profits of the association: Provided, that this shall not prevent the payment of a lesser rate of dividend on paid-up stock as provided in § 54-14, but this provision shall not prevent any association from receiving dues in advance, allowing such a rate of interest for the anticipated payments of dues as may be agreed upon by the directors. No series or class of stock shall be paid off until fully matured: Provided, that this section shall not prevent the cashing in of any stock before maturity. (Rev., s. 3884; 1905, c. 435, s. 7; 1907, c. 959, s. 2; 1919, c. 179, s. 2; 1931, c. 109; C. S. 5180.)

§ 54-18. Minors as shareholders.—Minors of the age of twelve years and upwards are authorized and empowered to become shareholders in and buy, sell, hold, pay dues on, withdraw, transfer, and otherwise deal in the shares in any such association in the same manner and with the same powers, rights, and liabilities, force and effect as though such minors were of full age. The provisions of this section shall apply to federal savings and loan associations having their principal offices in this state. (Rev., s. 3885; 1903, c. 728; 1905, c. 435, s. 1; 1939, c. 179; C. S. 5181.)

Art. 3. Loans.

§ 54-19. Manner of making loans; security required.—At such times as the by-laws shall designate, not less frequently than once a month, the board of directors shall hold meetings at which the funds in the treasury applicable for loans may be loaned: Provided, that between meetings of the board of directors any three members of said board may act as an executive committee and may, by unanimous vote, make such loans. Any loans so made or approved by the executive committee shall be reported to the board of directors at its next meeting. No loans shall be made by such association to any one not a member thereof. Borrowers shall be required to give real estate security, either by way of mortgage or deed of trust, subject only to mortgages or deeds of trust to secure loans made by the association and undue taxes and special assessments: Provided, that the shares of any such association may be received as security for a loan on such shares of an amount not to exceed ninety per centum of the amount paid in as dues on such shares: Provided, further, that bonds issued as general obligations of the United States government and bonds issued as general obligations of the state of North Carolina may be received as security to an amount not exceeding ninety per centum of the face value of such bonds. (Rev., s. 3890; 1905, c. 435, s. 8; 1907, c. 959, s. 4; 1919, c. 249; 1937, c. 11; 1941, c. 65; C. S. 5182.)

§ 54-20. Direct reduction of principal.—The board of directors of any building and loan association, heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this state, may, unless specifically prohibited by the certificate of incorporation, constitution or by-laws of the association, by resolution or by-law, permit borrowing members to repay their indebtedness by a direct monthly or periodical reduction of principal method. In every such case the borrower shall in writing make such agreement with the association relative to the repayment of his indebtedness as the directors may require. The agreement shall stipulate that the borrower or debtor shall make periodical payments, not less frequently than once a month, until such mortgage indebtedness and advances, if any, made by the association for payment of taxes, assessments, insurance premiums and other purposes, as may be owing from the borrower to the association, with interest thereon, shall have been fully paid. The balance of any loan account under such direct reduction of principal method shall be determined monthly, quarterly or semiannually, in order to ascertain the amount then necessary to satisfy in full the mortgage obligation, and when so ascertained such amount shall be the amount due upon said loan at said time to said association or any representative or successor thereof. Any association permitting such method of repayment may adopt a plan by which the interest shall be computed periodically on the preceding balance, and such interest shall be added to that preceding balance, together with any and all advances and other charges above enumerated made for the benefit of the borrower during the said interest period, and then there shall be deducted from the total any and all payments made by the borrower to the association during said period, or since the preceding balance was set up.

All payments made on a loan under such plan of direct periodical reduction shall be applied first to interest, and then to the principal of advances made for the account of the borrower and charged thereto, and to the principal of the loan. The board of directors may adopt any other direct periodic reduction of principal plan that will require complete repayment of such loans: Provided, no plan of payment shall be adopted that will not mature and pay off the loan within twenty years from the date of the making thereof: Provided further, the board of directors may authorize the renewal or extension of the time of repayment of any loan theretofore made. No association shall make any loan upon this plan to any person unless he be a member of such association. (1937, c. 18.)

§ 54-21. Federal housing administration insured loans.—Notwithstanding any provision in this act any building and loan association, whether operating on the serial sinking fund plan or the direct reduction plan incorporated by and under this act, is authorized and empowered to make to its members loans under the provisions of Title I, Class two and three, and Title II of an Act of Congress of the United States entitled "National Housing Act," as amended, and all supplementary legislation thereto. (1941, c. 64.)

§ 54-22. Repayment at any time. — Any member of such association who shall borrow from it shall have the right at any time prior to the maturing of the shares pledged as collateral for such loan to pay off and discharge his loan by paying the amount received by him, including the cost and expenses of making the loan, if the same has been deducted therefrom, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on the whole sum received by him to the date of settlement and all fines and dues then remaining unpaid. Upon such settlement he shall be credited with only the withdrawal value of his shares as fixed by the charter or by-laws, or by the directors of such association. In case of default by a shareholder who has borrowed from the association and a foreclosure of his mortgage or deed of trust, the amount of his indebtedness to such association shall be ascertained in the manner provided by this section. (Rev., s. 3891; 1905, c. 435, s. 9; C. S. 5183.)

§ 54-23. Power to borrow money.—Any such association may in its certificate of incorporation, constitution or by-laws authorize the board of directors from time to time to borrow money, and the board of directors may from time to time, by resolution adopted by a vote of at least two-thirds of all the directors and duly recorded on the minutes, borrow money for the association on such terms and conditions as they may deem proper; but the total amount of money so borrowed shall at no time exceed thirty-five per centum of the gross assets of such association. In order to secure obligations for money borrowed under the provisions of this section, any such association may assign its notes, bonds and mortgages and/or other property, including the right to repledge the shares of stock pledged as collateral security, without securing the consent of the owner thereto, as security for the repayment of its indebtedness as evidenced by its bond, obligation or note given for such borrowed money. (Rev., s. 3892; 1905, c. 435, s. 10; 1909, c. 898; 1911, c. 61; 1913, c. 21; 1933, c. 18; 1941, c. 66; C. S. 5184.

Art. 4. Under Control of Insurance Commissioner.

§ 54-24. Power of insurance commissioner. — The insurance commissioner of the state is hereby empowered and directed to perform all the duties and exercise all the powers as to building and loan associations, unless herein otherwise provided. (Rev. s. 3893; 1905, c. 435, s. 24; C. S. 5185.)

§ 54-25. Annual license fees. — All domestic building and loan associations shall pay an annual license fee of twenty-five dollars and may be licensed upon filing with the insurance commissioner an application in such form as he may prescribe. Such license fee shall be used to defray the expenses incurred by the insurance commissioner in supervising building and loan associations. (1919, c. 179, s. 1; C. S. 5186.)

§ 54-26. Statement filed by association. — Every association doing business under this subchapter shall file in the office of the insurance commissioner, on or before the first day of February in each year, in such form as he shall prescribe, a statement of the business standing and financial condition of the applicant on the preceding thirty-first day of December, signed and sworn to by the principal, or chief managing agent, attorney, or officer thereof, before the insurance commissioner, or before a commissioner of affidavits for North Carolina, or before some notary public. (Rev., s. 3894; 1905, c. 435, s. 11; 1907, c. 959, s. 5; C. S. 5187.)

§ 54-27. Statement examined, approved, and published; fees.—It shall be the duty of the insurance commissioner to receive and thoroughly examine each annual statement required by this subchapter, and if made in compliance with the requirements thereof, to publish an abstract of the same in one of the newspapers of the state, to be selected by the general agent or attorney making such statement, and at the expense of his principal. The insurance commissioner shall be entitled to a fee of five dollars, to be paid by the association filing such statement. (Rev., s. 3895; 1905, c. 435, s. 12; C. S. 5188.)

§ 54-28. License revoked.—If the insurance commissioner shall become satisfied at any time that any statements made by any association licensed under this subchapter are untrue, or in case a general agent shall fail or refuse to obey the provisions of this subchapter, or if upon examination the insurance commissioner is of opinion that such association or company is insolvent, or has exceeded its powers, or has failed to comply with any provisions of law, or its mode of business is not feasible for the purposes of carrying out successfully its plan, or that its condition is such as to render its further proceedings hazardous to the stockholders, he shall thereupon have power to revoke and cancel such license. (Rev., s. 3896; 1905, c. 435, s. 13; 1907, c. 959, s. 6; C. S. 5189.)

§ 54-29. Examinations made; expense paid.—If at any time the insurance commissioner has good reason to think that the standing and responsibility of any building and loan association or company doing business in this state, or its mode of business, is of a doubtful character, or in his discretion whenever he deems it prudent to do so, it shall be his duty to examine and investigate everything relating to the business of such company, and to that end he is hereby authorized, if he deem it advisable, to appoint a suitable and competent person to make such investigation, who shall file with the insurance commissioner a full report of his finding in such case. The expenses and cost of such examination shall be defrayed by the company or association subjected to investigation, and each company or association doing business in this state shall stipulate in writing, to be filed with the insurance commissioner, that it will pay all reasonable cost and expenses of such examination when it shall become necessary. (Rev., s. 3897; 1905, c. 435, ss. 14, 15; 1919, c. 179, s. 4; C. S. 5190.)

§ 54-30. Failing to exhibit books or making false statement a misdemeanor.—If any person having in his possession or control any books, accounts, or papers of any building and loan association licensed by law, shall refuse to exhibit the same to the insurance commissioner, or his agents on demand, or shall knowingly or wilfully make any false statement in regard to the same, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined and imprisoned, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3329; 1893, c. 434; 1899, c. 164; C. S. 5191.)

§ 54-31. Agent must obtain certificate.—It shall be unlawful for any person to solicit business or act as agent for any building and loan association or company without having procured from the insurance commissioner a certificate that such association or company for which he offers to act is duly licensed by the state to do business for the current year in which such person solicits business or offers to act as agent. The fee for such license shall be $2.50, to be paid to the insurance commissioner at the time the certificate is issued; and no other license or fee shall be required for said business of an agent or solicitor so licensed. (Rev., s. 3898; 1895, c. 444, s. 3; 1899, c. 154, s. 2, subsec. 20; 1907, c. 959, s. 7; 1933, c. 17; C. S. 5192.)

§ 54-32. Penalties imposed and recovered.—Every general agent or attorney of any building and loan company or association who shall fail or refuse to perform any duty required of him by this subchapter shall forfeit and pay to the insurance commissioner fifty dollars for the state for every such refusal, to be recovered before any justice of the peace at the suit of the insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 3899; 1893, c. 434, s. 2300g; 1899, c. 154, s. 2, subsec. 20; C. S. 5193.)

§ 54-33. Notice required before appointment of receivers. — No judge or court shall appoint a receiver for any building and loan association organized and incorporated under the laws of this state unless five days' advance notice of the motion, petition or application for appointment of a receiver shall have been given to such association and to the insurance commissioner of the state. (1933, c. 38.)

Art. 5. Foreign Associations.

§ 54-34. Allowed to do business.—A building and loan association of another state may be admitted to transact business in this state in the manner hereinafter provided, and no association not so admitted shall transact business in this state. (Rev., s. 3900; 1905, c. 435, s. 17; C. S. 5194.)

§ 54-35. Copy of charter and list of officers filed.—Application for authority to transact business in this state shall be made to the insurance commissioner, and on making such application every such association shall file with the insurance commissioner a duly authenticated copy of its charter or certificate of incorporation, its constitution and by-laws, and thereafter certified copies of all amendments thereto, the names and addresses of its officers and directors, the compensation paid each officer, and a report of its condition, in such form as may be prescribed by the insurance commissioner, which shall be verified by oath of such officers and other persons as the commissioner shall designate, and the commissioner shall furnish blank forms for the report required, and may call for additional reports at such other times as may seem to him expedient. (Rev., s. 3902; 1905, c. 435, s. 19; C. S. 5195.)

§ 54-36. License granted. — If it shall appear to the insurance commissioner by the report aforesaid and by an examination of the affairs of such association that it has good assets of sufficient value to cover all liabilities, and that its methods of doing business are safe and not contrary to the laws governing building and loan associations of this state, it may be admitted to transact business in this state upon a certificate of authority to be issued by the insurance commissioner, which shall only be issued when such association shall have complied with the further requirements of this article. (Rev., s. 3903; 1905, c. 435, s. 20; C. S. 5196.)

§ 54-37. Securities deposited. — The insurance commissioner before issuing the certificate of authority aforesaid shall require every such association to deposit with the commissioner such securities as he may approve, amounting to at least thirty thousand dollars, which securities shall be held by him in trust for the exclusive benefit and security of the creditors and shareholders of such association resident in this state, and he shall have authority to require it to deposit additional securities and to order a change in any of the securities so deposited at any time, and no change or transfer of the same shall be made or be effectual without his consent. Such deposit shall be maintained intact in the full sum required at all times, but the association making such deposit, so long as it shall continue solvent and comply with all the provisions of this subchapter applicable to it, may receive the dividends or interest on the securities deposited, and may from time to time, with the assent of the commissioner, withdraw any of such securities on depositing with the commissioner other like securities the par value of which shall be equal to such as may be withdrawn. (Rev., s. 3904; 1905, c. 435, s. 21; C. S. 5197.)

§ 54-38. Annual certificate; service of process.— Such certificate of authority shall be for the current year only, and shall not be issued until such association shall, by a duly executed instrument filed with the insurance commissioner of the state, constitute the insurance commissioner and his successors in office its true and lawful attorney, upon whom all original process in any action or legal proceedings against it may be served, and therein shall agree that any original process against it which may be served upon the commissioner shall be of the same force and validity as if served on the association, and that the authority thereof shall continue in force irrevocable so long as any liability of the association remains outstanding in this state. The service of such process shall be made by leaving a copy of the same in the office of the insurance commissioner, with a fee of two dollars, to be taxed in the plaintiff's costs. When any original process is thus served, the commissioner, by letter directed to the secretary, shall within two days after such service forward to the secretary a copy of the process served upon him, and such service shall be deemed sufficient service upon the association. The commissioner shall keep a record of all such process, showing the day and hour of service. (Rev., s. 3906; 1905, c. 435, s. 23; C. S. 5198.)

§ 54-39. Agent must have certificate of license; fees.—It shall be unlawful for any person to solicit business or act as agent for any foreign building and loan association or company doing business in this state without having first procured from the insurance commissioner a certificate that such association or company for which he offers to act is duly licensed by the state to do business for the current year in which such person solicits business or offers to act as agent. The insurance commissioner shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar for issuing each such certificate, to be paid by the company for which the same was issued. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3327, 3901; 1895, c. 444, s. 3; 1905, c. 435, s. 18; C. S. 5199.)

§ 54-40. Fees and expenses.—Every such association shall pay for filing a certified copy of its charter or certificate of incorporation twenty dollars; for filing original annual reports, twenty dollars; for certificate of authority, annually, two hundred and fifty dollars; for certificate for each agency, five dollars; and shall defray all expenses incurred in making any examination of its affairs as herein provided for; and the insurance commissioner may maintain an action in the name of the state against such association for the recovery of such expenses in any court of competent jurisdiction. (Rev., s. 3905; 1905, c. 435, s. 22; C. S. 5200.)

§ 54-41. All contracts deemed made in this state. —Any contract made by any foreign association with any citizen of this state shall be deemed and considered a North Carolina contract, and shall be so construed by all the courts of this state according to the laws thereof. (1905, c. 435, s. 26; C. S. 5203.)

Art. 6. Withdrawals.

§ 54-42. Month's notice required for withdrawals.—Any shareholder in a building and loan association may withdraw all or any part of his or her holdings of unpledged or unhypothecated stock in such association by giving to the secretary of such association one month's written notice of his or her intention so to do, and the right of such shareholder to make such withdrawal shall accrue one month after the giving of such notice, subject to the conditions set out in § 54-43. (1933, c. 122, s. 1.)

§ 54-43. Withdrawal or maturity fund. — Whenever any shareholder whose stock has matured or whose right to withdraw his or her stock has accrued, as set out in § 54-42, has not been paid because of insufficiency of funds in the treasury of the association, the secretary of said association shall under instruction from the directors, create a separate fund to be known as the "withdrawal or maturity fund" and into such fund shall be paid one-half of the net receipts of the association monthly. Net receipts shall mean the receipts of the association from interest, installments, rent and other revenue producing sources, diminished by the expenses of the association, and by any sums directed by the board of directors to be set apart and held separately for the purpose of meeting bills payable or notes payable at the maturity thereof. From time to time as the board of directors may direct, the secretary shall make an equitable and ratable distribution of the funds in said "withdrawal or maturity fund" to the stockholders whose right to receive payment from said fund has accrued, as hereinbefore provided, at the date of such distribution. One-half of the net receipts of the association shall be added monthly to such fund so long as there remains any shareholder of the association entitled to receive a portion thereof as aforesaid. No shareholder whose stock has matured or whose right to withdraw his stock has accrued as hereinbefore set out, shall have the right to demand or receive any funds in excess of the amount equitably and ratably distributed as hereinbefore set out except on approval of board of directors of such association and/or the insurance commissioner. (1933, c. 122, s. 2.)

Art. 7. Statements of Financial Condition of Associations.

§ 54-44. Derogatory statements.—Any person who shall willfully and maliciously make, circulate, or transmit to another or others any statement, rumor, or suggestion, written, printed, or by word of mouth, which is directly or by inference derogatory to the financial condition, or affects the solvency or financial standing of any building and loan association, or who shall counsel, aid, procure, or induce another to state, transmit, or circulate any such statement or rumor shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 273; 1921, c. 4, s. 82; 1931, c. 12; C. S. 4231.)

SUBCHAPTER II. LAND AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Art. 8. Organization and Powers.

§ 54-45. Application of term.—The term "Land and Loan Associations" shall apply to and include all corporations, companies, societies or associations organized for the purpose of making loans to their members only, and of enabling their members to acquire real estate, make improvements thereon, and remove incumbrances therefrom by the payment of money in periodical installments or principal sums, and for the accumulation of a fund to be returned to members who do not obtain advances for such purposes, where the principles of building and loan associations and their work are adapted to the use of the farmers and the rural population.

It shall be unlawful for any corporation, company, society, or association doing business in this state not so conducted to use in its corporate name the term "land and loan association," or in any manner or device to hold itself out to the public as a land and loan association. (1915, c. 172, s. 1; C. S. 5204.)

§ 54-46. Incorporation and powers.—Land and loan associations shall be incorporated, supervised, and be subject to such regulations and have such privileges as are prescribed for building and loan associations under the laws of this state as they now are or may be hereafter enacted, except as prescribed in this article. (1915, c. 172, s. 2; C. S. 5205.)

§ 54-47. Loans. — The boards of directors of land and loan associations may contract for loans to the amount of seventy-five per cent of the securities used by them as collateral, where the loans are on long time (three or more years), and for at least one per cent less than is charged by such associations on their loans to shareholders; and they may make short loans to their shareholders on their shares and personal indorsement or personal property. (1915, c. 172, s. 3; C. S. 5206.)

§ 54-48. Reserve associations.—Associations to be known as "Reserve Land and Loan Associations" may be chartered and licensed as provided in this article, when they are organized and the stock therein is held by local land and loan associations, and shall have such powers, rights, and privileges as are accorded to other domestic associations, and they may conform to such laws, rules, and regulations as may be prescribed by the laws of the United States, or of this state, to enable them to receive moneys, bonds, or securities to be used in loans and to secure the same. Such reserve associations shall be under the supervision of the insurance commissioner as are building and loan associations. (1915, c. 172, s. 4; C. S. 5207.)

§ 54-49. Land conservation and development bureau; land mortgage associations. — Recognizing that agriculture is the most fundamental wealth-producing occupation of the State and that land is the basis of agriculture, the General Assembly of North Carolina does hereby authorize and direct the State Department of Agriculture to establish as a major division of its organization a land conservation and land development bureau. The function of this bureau shall be to promote conservation, rural home ownership, and the development of the land resources of the State through land mortgage associations under the following provisions. (1925, c. 223, s. 1.)

§ 54-50. Number of incorporators; capital stock. —Any number of persons, resident freeholders of the State, not less than fifteen, may associate to establish an association on the terms and conditions and subject to the liabilities hereinafter prescribed. The aggregate amount of the capital stock of any such association shall not be less than twenty thousand dollars ($20,000). Such association shall mean a corporation organized under the laws of the State for the purpose of making loans upon agricultural lands, forest lands and dwelling houses within this State and known as a land mortgage association. (1925, c. 223, s. 2.)

§ 54-51. Incorporation.—The articles of incorporation shall be in writing signed and acknowledged by the incorporators and shall contain the following:

(1) The declaration that they are associating for the purpose of forming a land mortgage association under the provisions of this article.

(2) The name of such association, which shall be in no material respect similar to any other association in the same county.

(3) The name of the village, town or city, and the county where such association is to be located.

(4) The amount of capital stock, which shall be divided into shares of one hundred dollars each.

(5) The period for which such association is organized. (1925, c. 223, s. 3.)

§ 54-52. Organization. — The incorporators at their first annual meeting shall elect by ballot from their number a board of trustees of not less than six members who shall adopt a code of by-laws and a plan of organization approved by the Commissioner of Agriculture and the Corporation Commission. (1925, c. 223, s. 4.)

§ 54-53. Corporate powers. — Said land mortgage association shall have power: (a) To make loans, the conditions of which shall be approved by the Corporation Commission if the security taken therefor is to be used as the basis for a bond issue under subsection (c) hereof, and to accept as security for any such loan a first mortgage upon improved or partially improved agricultural lands within this State. Such loan shall not exceed, however, sixty-five per cent of the value of such real estate so conveyed, according to the appraisal made as herein provided.

(b) To purchase first mortgages, heretofore or hereafter issued against North Carolina agricultural lands, either improved or partially improved, from persons or firms resident of this State or corporations organized under the laws of this State engaged in the colonization or settlement of North Carolina lands and to whom such mortgages were issued, if, after investigation, the plan of settlement or colonization followed by such person, firm or corporation is approved by the Commissioner of Agriculture as beneficial to the settler or colonist, and if the lands against which such mortgages are issued are found by the said commissioner to be in fact agricultural lands suitable for agricultural purposes and the terms and conditions of the loans made by such person, firm or corporation are just and reasonable, or from banks or trust companies organized under the laws of this State, or of the United States, to do business in this State, to which such mortgages were issued direct by the borrowers. Each such mortgage shall be payable on the amortization plan maturing in not less than twenty years. The request for an investigation leading to such a purchase of mortgages from persons, firms or corporations engaged in the settlement or colonization of North Carolina lands shall be accompanied by a deposit, the amount of such deposit to be determined by the Commissioner of Agriculture. Upon completion of the investigation the Commissioner of Agriculture shall render a statement of expense accompanied by a remittance of any unused balance of such deposit, but no mortgage shall be purchased until the lands against which the same is issued have been appraised as hereinafter provided for the appraisal of land for a loan by the land mortgage association and such mortgage is approved by all members of the loan committee.

(c) To issue bonds secured by the pledge of the mortgage so taken or purchased.

(d) To pledge the notes and mortgages so taken or purchased under the provisions of subdivisions (a) and (b) hereof as security for the bonds of the land mortgage association referred to in subdivision (c) hereof. (1925, c. 223, s. 5.)

§ 54-54. Restrictions.—All mortgage obligations acquired by the company shall be subject to the following restrictions:

(a) Each such mortgage shall be a first and valid lien upon improved or partially improved agricultural lands within the State of North Carolina;

(b) Each such mortgage shall be a first and valid lien upon the whole and undivided fee and upon no lesser estate;

(c) Each such mortgage shall be given to secure a principal indebtedness not exceeding in amount fifteen per cent of the capital and surplus of the company;

(d) All such mortgages shall contain provisions for soil conservation;

(e) All such mortgages shall contain provisions for the time of commencing payments for annual or semiannual reduction of the indebtedness secured thereby, subject to the requirements as to repayment of loans and interest hereinafter provided;

(f) The company shall make no loan secured by mortgage of any real estate in which any officer or trustee of the company is interested either directly or indirectly, except upon the approval of two-thirds of all the trustees;

(g) A sufficient amount of the proceeds of any loan made upon lands upon which are buildings in course of construction or upon which land clearing or other improvements are being made shall be retained by the association and paid out only upon construction or improvement vouchers, countersigned by a duly authorized agent of the association. (1925, c. 223, s. 6.)

§ 54-55. Mortgage forms; approval. — The mortgages to be given to the association, the bonds to be issued and the trust deed executed to secure the bonds shall be in such form and shall contain such conditions as will adequately protect all parties thereto. The trustees shall provide the forms subject to the joint approval of the Corporation Commission and the Attorney-General. (1925, c. 223, s. 7.)

§ 54-56. Repayment of loan and interest. — The prospective borrower may be required to pay all expenses incidental to the examination of title and appraisal of the property. The total amount shall include (a) the rate of interest agreed upon; and (b) a payment. (1925, c. 223, s. 8.)

§ 54-57. Terms of payment. — A borrower may repay his loan by installments of such frequency and amounts as may be agreed upon: Provided, that not less than one per cent of the original amount of the mortgage shall be paid upon the principal thereof annually, and commencing not later than the sixth year succeeding the year in which the loan was made the borrower may pay a larger installment upon the principal, or the whole of it, at any interest date, such payments to be in amounts equal to additions of one or more principal amortization payments. Such payment may be made in cash, or by tendering at par bonds of the associations. For failure to pay the interest or any installment required by the terms of the loan, the borrower may be fined as the by-laws may prescribe. But the borrower shall never be required to pay more than the specified installment, nor to pay the principal before it is due except as prescribed herein for partial repayment on account of depreciation and for foreclosure by the association. The borrower may on sixty days' notice repay the association his total indebtedness, or, without such notice, upon payment of sixty days' interest upon the principal unpaid. The borrower shall be entitled to a receipt for all installments as paid, and where the repayment is complete to a satisfaction of his note and mortgage. (1925, c. 223, s. 9.)

§ 54-58. Transfer of mortgaged lands.—The acquirer of any lands mortgaged to a land mortgage association shall enter at once, on the acquisition of the land, into a written agreement with the association, attested by a notary, or a justice, and assume the personal responsibility for the indebtedness to the association attaching to such lands. This document must be presented to the trustees within fourteen days after demand. (1925, c. 223, s. 10.)

§ 54-59. Calling in loans before due. — Every land mortgage association shall have the power to call in loans upon sixty days notice:

(a) When the person acquiring the lands upon which money has been loaned does not comply with the provisions of § 54-58 and fulfill the obligations incumbent upon him;

(b) When the debtor does not meet the obligation imposed upon him by his contract and the by-laws of the land mortgage association;

(c) When the mortgaged premises become subject to forced sale;

(d) When the mortgaged premises are depreciating in value because of lack of care, of failure to maintain and conserve or from other cause.

The trustees of the association, whenever necessary, shall provide for an inspection of mortgaged premises by the State Department of Agriculture for an investigation of the care which is being given said premises, and may employ an expert to inspect the soil with a view of determining whether or not the same is being depleted. (1925, c. 223, s. 11.)

§ 54-60. Partial recall of debt.—The association may require a suitable partial repayment of the debt if the mortgaged premises may have at any time become depreciated in value from any cause whatsoever. (1925, c. 223, s. 12.)

§ 54-61. Foreclosure. — Whenever any loan is called in and the borrower shall fail to pay the principal and interest due to the association as required by law and the notices given him, the land mortgage association may then foreclose upon the mortgaged premises as for a past due loan. But in no case shall a borrower be liable for a sum greater than the amount of the unpaid portion of the loan with any accretions of interest thereon and expenses incidental to the collection thereof. (1925, c. 223, s. 13.)

§ 54-62. Appraisal of lands.—Upon application for a loan the land mortgage association shall cause the lands which it is proposed to mortgage to the association to be appraised by a competent appraiser furnished it by the State Department of Agriculture. (1925, c. 223, s. 14.)

§ 54-63. Preference prohibited; association borrowing money. — No land mortgage association, and no officer or agent thereof, shall give any preference to any creditor by pledging any of the assets of such association as collateral security, except that any such association may borrow money for temporary purposes, and may pledge assets of the association as collateral security therefor. Whenever it shall appear that any land mortgage association has borrowed habitually for the purpose of reloaning, the Corporation Commission may require such association to pay off such amount so borrowed. (1925, c. 223, s. 15.)

§ 54-64. Bond issues.

(a) The bonds to be issued by any land mortgage association may be issued for such amounts, bearing such serial number, and date or dates, and be payable at such time and times, bear such rate of interest, and be redeemable at maturity or upon notice at such times and in such manner, as the land mortgage association may, subject to the approval of the banking commission, deem advisable.

(b) Each land mortgage association shall keep a register for the registration and transfer of bonds issued by it in which it shall register, or cause to be registered, all bonds upon presentation thereof for such purpose; and such register shall contain the post office address of all registered holders of bonds and shall, at all reasonable times, be open to the inspection of the banking commission, or any of its deputies, and to the State Treasurer. (1925, c. 223, s. 16.)

§ 54-65. Deed of trust.

(a) To secure the payment of such bonds, the land mortgage association shall issue a collateral deed of trust to the State Treasurer, pledging as security for such bonds the notes and mortgages taken or purchased, as provided herein, in an amount equal to or exceeding the aggregate amount of bonds issued or to be issued.

(b) The total amount of bonds actually outstanding shall not at anytime exceed the total amount unpaid upon the notes secured by the mortgages belonging to the association and pledged for the payment of the bonds, plus such securities and moneys as may be on deposit with the State Treasurer under the provisions hereof.

(c) The aggregate amount of the principal of all bonds issued by land mortgage associations and outstanding at any one time shall not exceed twenty times the amount of the capital and surplus of the company. (1925, c. 223, s. 17.)

§ 54-66. Collaterals deposited with State Treasurer.—All mortgages pledged to secure the payment of the bonds issued hereunder shall be deposited and left with the State Treasurer. The land mortgage association may, with the approval of the State Treasurer, remove such mortgages from the custody of the State Treasurer, substituting in place thereof other of its mortgages, or money or State of North Carolina bonds or certificates of deposit, endorsed in blank, issued by state or national banks located in North Carolina, farm mortgage bonds issued under the provisions of the Federal Farm Loan Act approved July seventeenth, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, or obligations of the United States Government, in an amount equal to or greater than the amount unpaid upon the notes secured by the mortgages withdrawn. (1925, c. 223, s. 18.)

§ 54-67. Redemption of bonds.

(a) Notice of redemption of bonds may on no account be given on the part of the holder thereof, but may be given by the association only for the purpose of affecting redemption in accordance with the conditions of the bonds and as provided by law and the by-laws.

(b) If the land mortgage association shall elect to redeem any bond prior to maturity, six months notice of redemption shall be given and shall be effected by personal service upon the owner and holder of the bond, by notice mailed to his address as registered or by advertising the same three times in a newspaper selected by the State Treasurer.

(c) The numbers of the bonds of which notice of redemption is to be given shall be determined by lot, to be drawn by the president or the vice-president at a meeting of the trustees. (1925, c. 223, s. 19.)

§ 54-68. Validity of bonds after maturity.—In case the holder of any bond outstanding shall not have presented the same for payment within the period of two years after its maturity or within two years after the date fixed for the redemption, as the case may be, then such bonds shall cease to be a lien upon the mortgages, moneys, and securities pledged to the State Treasurer and deposited with him as security therefor, but such bond shall still constitute, until the statute of limitation running against such bonds shall have expired, a single legal money claim or demand against the land mortgage association issuing the same, and be recoverable from it in a suit at law, and in no event shall any interest be collectible upon such bond after the maturity thereof or after the date fixed for its redemption. (1925, c. 223, s. 20.)

§ 54-69. Bonds as payment.—If the association gives notice to a debtor for repayment of the mortgage loan the latter must pay to the association in cash or in its bonds at par the face of the same so far as it has not yet been covered by his assets in the amortization and payments. (1925, c. 223, s. 21.)

§ 54-70. Bonds as investments.—The bonds of a land mortgage association shall be a legal investment for savings associations, trust companies, or other financial institutions chartered under the laws of this State and shall also be a legal investment for trustees, executors, administrators, or custodians of public or private funds, or corporations, partnerships or associations. (1925, c. 223, s. 22.)

§ 54-71. Applications of earnings; reserve fund.—The gross earnings of the association shall be ascertained annually, and there shall first be deducted therefrom the expenses incurred by the association for the preceding year and the balance thereof shall be set aside as a reserve fund for the payment of contingent losses, to an amount equal to two per cent of the capital stock outstanding, and until such reserve fund equals twenty per cent of the capital stock of such association. (1925, c. 223, s. 23.)

§ 54-72. Restriction on holding real estate.—No land mortgage association shall acquire real estate (other than for the occupation of its offices) except to protect its interests in case any of the mortgages owned by it are foreclosed and the property therein described sold to pay the indebtedness secured thereby. All real estate so acquired shall be promptly sold. (1925, c. 223, s. 24.)

§ 54-73. Banking laws applicable.—The statutes relating to banks and banking in this State, that is, §§ 53-1 to 53-158, in so far as applicable and not in conflict with the provisions hereof shall apply to land mortgage associations. (1925, c. 223, s. 25.)

SUBCHAPTER III. CREDIT UNIONS.

Art. 9. Superintendent of Credit Unions.

§ 54-74. Office created.—There shall be established in the State Department of Agriculture a superintendent of credit unions and such assistants as may be necessary. (1915, c. 115, s. 1; 1925, c. 73, s. 4; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5208.)

§ 54-75. Duties of the officer.—The duties of the superintendent of credit unions shall be as follows:

1. To organize and conduct, in the state department of agriculture, a bureau of information in regard to coöperative associations and rural and industrial credits.

2. Upon the application of three persons residing in the state of North Carolina, to furnish, without cost, such printed information and blank forms as, in his discretion, may be necessary for the formation and establishment of any local credit union in the state.

3. To maintain an educational campaign in the state looking to the promotion and organization of credit unions; and upon the written request of twelve bona fide residents of any particular locality in this state expressing a desire to form a local credit union at such locality, the superintendent or one of his assistants shall proceed as promptly as convenient to such locality and advise and assist such organizers to establish the institution in question.

4. To examine at least once a year, and oftener if such examination be deemed necessary by the superintendent or his assistant, the credit unions formed under this subchapter. A report of such examination shall be filed with the state department of agriculture, and a copy mailed to the credit union at its proper address. (1915, c. 115, s. 1; 1925, c. 73, ss. 2, 3, 5, 6; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5209.)

Art. 10. Incorporation of Credit Unions.

§ 54-76. Applications filed.—Seven or more persons employed or residing in the state may become a credit union by making, signing, and acknowledging a certificate which shall contain:

1. The name of the proposed credit union which shall include the words "credit union."
2. A statement that incorporation is desired under this article.
3. The conditions, whether of residence, of occupation, or otherwise, which shall qualify persons for membership.
4. The par value of the shares, which shall not exceed twenty-five dollars.
5. The city, village, or town in which its principal business office is to be located. If it is to be located in an incorporated city, the street address of the city shall be given. If the condition of its membership is employment by a certain individual, copartnership, or corporation, a statement that its office shall be with such individual, copartnership, or corporation may be substituted for the street address.
6. The number of its directors, not less than five, all of whom must be members of and shareholders in the corporation.
7. The names and postoffice addresses of the directors for the first year.
8. The names and postoffice addresses of the subscribers to the certificate, and a statement of the number of shares of stock which each agrees to take in the corporation. (1915, c. 115, s. 2; 1925 c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5210.)

§ 54-77. By-laws adopted.—At the time of filing the certificate the incorporators shall adopt by-laws which shall provide:

1. The name of corporation.
2. The purposes for which it is formed.
3. Qualifications for membership.
4. The date of the annual meeting; the manner in which members shall be notified of meetings; the manner of conducting the meetings; the number of members which constitute a quorum at the meetings, and the regulations as to voting.
5. The number of members of the board of directors, their powers and duties, and the compensation and duties of officers elected by the board of directors.
6. The number of members of the credit committee, their powers and duties.
7. The number of members of the supervisory committee, their powers and duties.
8. The par value of shares of capital stock.
9. The conditions upon which shares may be issued, paid in, transferred, and withdrawn.
10. The fines, if any, which shall be charged for failure to meet obligations to the corporation punctually.
11. The conditions upon which deposits may be received and withdrawn. Whether the proposed corporation shall, in addition, have power to borrow funds.
12. The manner in which the funds of the corporation shall be invested.
13. The conditions upon which loans may be made and repaid.
14. The maximum rate of interest that may be charged upon loans, not to exceed, however, the legal rate.
15. The method of receipting for money paid on account of shares, deposits, or loans.
16. The manner in which the reserve fund shall be accumulated.
17. The manner in which dividends shall be determined and paid to members.
18. The manner in which a voluntary dissolution of the corporation shall be effected. (1915, c. 115, s. 2; C. S. 5211.)

§ 54-78. Certificate of incorporation. — The by-laws acknowledged to have been adopted by all of the incorporators, together with the certificate of incorporation, shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of credit unions who shall approve the certificate of incorporation if he is satisfied that it is in conformity with this subchapter, and shall approve the by-laws if he is satisfied as to the character of the incorporators and that the by-laws are reasonable and will tend to give assurance that the affairs of the prospective credit union will be administered in accordance with this subchapter. Thereupon, the superintendent of credit unions shall issue to the corporation a certificate of approval, annexed to a duplicate of the certificate of incorporation and of the by-laws, which certificate of approval, together with the attached duplicate certificate of incorporation and duplicate by-laws, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the office of such credit union is situated, and upon such filing the incorporators shall become and be a corporation. The county clerk shall charge the same filing fee for filing the certificate of approval, certificate of incorporation and by-laws as he is now allowed to charge for filing a certificate of incorporation of a corporation organized under the business corporations law of the state. (1915, c. 115, s. 2; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5212.)

§ 54-79. Amendment of by-laws.—The by-laws adopted by the incorporators and approved by the superintendent of credit unions shall be the by-laws of the corporation, and no amendment to the by-laws shall become operative until such amendment shall have been approved by the superintendent of credit unions, and a copy thereof certified by him, with a certificate of his approval, shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the office of the credit union is located. Such approval may be given or withheld by the superintendent of credit unions at his discretion. The county clerk shall receive the same fee for filing as provided in § 54-78. (1915, c. 115, s. 3; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5213.)

§ 54-80. Restriction of use of terms.—The use by any person, copartnership, association, or corporation except corporations formed under the provisions of this subchapter, of any name or title which contains the words "credit union" shall be a misdemeanor: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to associations or credit union leagues, the membership of which is composed entirely of corporations formed under the provisions of this subchapter. (1915, c. 115, s. 4; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; 1941, c. 236; C. S. 5214.)

§ 54-81. Change of place of business.—A credit union may change its place of business on the written approval of the superintendent of credit unions, which written approval shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of credit unions and a duplicate of the approval in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where its office was located, and a second duplicate in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the new office is to be located. Such approval of the superintendent may be given or withheld at his discretion. (1915, c. 115, s. 25; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5215.)

Art. 11. Powers of Credit Unions.

§ 54-82. General nature of business.—A credit union may receive the savings of its members in payment for shares or on deposit; may loan to its members at reasonable rates of interest not exceeding the legal rate, or may invest as hereinafter provided the funds so accumulated, and may undertake such other activities relating to the purpose of the corporation as its by-laws may authorize. (1915, c. 115, s. 5; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5216.)

§ 54-83. Receive deposits.—A credit union may receive on deposit the savings of its members and also nonmembers in such amounts and upon such terms as the board of directors may determine and the by-laws shall provide. (1915, c. 115, s. 16; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5217.)

§ 54-84. Borrowing money.—If the by-laws so provide, a credit union shall have power to borrow money from any source in addition to receiving deposits, but the aggregate amount of such indebtedness shall not at any one time exceed more than four (4) times the sum of its capital, surplus and reserve fund. (1915, c. 115, s. 17; 1925, c. 73, s. 10; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5218.)

§ 54-85. Authority to execute contracts of guaranty in certain cases.—A credit union may execute such contracts of guaranty as may be necessary to procure credit for its members: Provided, that the said contracts of guaranty shall not place on the said local credit union a liability arising in any one year in excess of ten (10) per cent of the total credit under the said contracts of guaranty handled through that association in a particular year; and provided further, that all such contracts shall be approved by the superintendent of credit unions and each such contract must bear his approval in writing before becoming effective. In assuming such liability the said credit union may require of the individual members being served such security as the board of directors of each such credit union may determine upon. (1925, c. 73, s. 11; 1935, c. 87.)

§ 54-86. Investment of funds.—The capital, deposits, undivided profits and reserve fund of the corporation may be invested in one of the following ways, and in such way only:

1. They may be lent to the members of the corporation in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter.

2. They may be deposited to the credit of the corporation in savings banks, credit unions, building and loan associations, state banks or trust companies, incorporated under the laws of the state, or in National banks located therein. Funds of credit unions deposited in a savings bank, state bank, or trust company which may become insolvent, shall be preferred in the same way that funds of a "credit union" so deposited are preferred under the banking law of the state.

3. A credit union shall keep on deposit at interest in any of such depositories as are enumerated in the next preceding paragraph so much of the reserve fund and capital stock as shall equal five (5) per cent of the total liabilities.

4. Not more than ten per cent of the capital stock and reserve fund of a credit union may be invested in the stock of another local credit union and not more than twenty-five (25) per cent of the capital stock and reserve fund of a local association may be invested in the stock of a central association. (1915, c. 115, s. 18; 1917, c. 232, ss. 2, 3; 1925, c. 73, ss. 12, 13, 14; 1935, c. 87; 1939, c. 400, s. 1; C. S. 5219.)

§ 54-87. Loans.

1. To Members.—A credit union may lend to its members for such purposes and upon such security and terms as the by-laws shall provide and the credit committee shall approve; but security must be taken for any loan in excess of fifty dollars. An indorsed note shall be deemed to be security within the meaning of this section.

2. Installment Loans.— A member who needs funds with which to purchase necessary supplies for growing crops may receive a loan in fixed monthly installments instead of in one sum.

3. Loans to Members of Committee.—The supervisory committee shall appoint a substitute to act on the credit committee in the place of any member in case such member makes application to borrow money from the credit union or becomes surety for any other member whose application for a loan is under consideration.

4. Loans to Persons Not Members Forbidden.—All officers and members of any committees in any way knowingly permitting or participating in making a loan of funds of a credit union to one not a member thereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The credit union shall have the right to recover the amount of such illegal loans from the borrower or from any officers or members of committees who knowingly permitted or participated in the making thereof, or from all of them jointly.

5. Repayment of Loans.—A borrower may repay the whole or any part of his loan on any day on which the office of the corporation is open for the transaction of business. (1915, c. 115, s. 19; 1917, c. 232, s. 4; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5220.)

§ 54-88. Rate of interest; penalty.—No corporation organized pursuant to this subchapter shall directly or indirectly charge or receive any interest, discount, or consideration, other than the entrance fee, greater than the legal rate.

Any corporation, any person, the several officers of any corporation, and the members of committees who shall violate the foregoing prohibition shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The corporation shall also be subject to procedure by the superintendent of credit unions as prescribed herein in article fourteen. (1915, c. 115, s. 20; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5221.)

§ 54-89. Interest or discount rate charged by agricultural association. — An agricultural credit corporation or association, organized under the laws of the State of North Carolina, may charge and collect by way of interest or discount on all loans made for agricultural purposes to farmers, growers and truckers of staple agricultural crops, fruits and vegetables respectively, or for the purpose of raising, breeding, fattening, or marketing of live stock, a rate of interest or discount not to exceed three per centum per annum in excess of the rate of interest or rediscount rate charged by any Federal intermediate credit bank to such agricultural credit corporation or association when rediscounting or purchasing from it the notes of such farmers, growers and truckers: Provided, that the total rate, both interest and rediscount, to the borrower shall not exceed eight per centum (8%) per annum. (1927, c. 101; 1929, c. 43, s. 1; 1931, c. 329.)

§ 54-90. Reserve fund.—All entrance fees, transfer fees, and fines shall, after the payment of organization expenses, be known as reserve income, and shall be added to the reserve fund of the corporation.

At the close of each fiscal year there shall be set apart to the reserve fund twenty per centum of the net income of the corporation which has accumulated during the year. But upon the recommendation of the board of directors, the members at an annual meeting may increase, and whenever such funds equal the amount of the capital may decrease, the proportion of profits which is required by this section to be set apart to the reserve fund. Nor shall the reserve fund in any case exceed the capital of the corporation plus fifty per centum of its other liabilities.

The reserve fund shall belong to the corporation and shall be held to meet contingencies, and shall not be distributed to the members except upon the dissolution of the corporation. (1915, c. 115, s. 21; 1939, c. 400, s. 2; C. S. 5222.)

§ 54-91. Dividends.—At the close of the fiscal year a credit union may declare a dividend not to exceed six per cent per annum from the income during the year and which remains after the deduction of expenses, losses, interest on deposits, and the amount required to be set apart to the reserve fund. Dividends shall be paid on all fully paid shares outstanding at the close of the fiscal year, but shares which become fully paid during the year shall be entitled to a proportional part of such dividend calculated from the first day of the month following such payment in full. (1915, c. 115, s. 22; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5223.)

§ 54-92. Voluntary dissolution.—At any meeting specially called to consider the subject, three-fourths of the members present and represented may vote to dissolve the corporation and upon such vote shall signify their consent to such dissolution in writing. Such corporation shall then file in the office of the superintendent of credit unions such consent, attested by its secretary or treasurer and its president or vice-president, with a statement of the names and residences of the existing board of directors of the corporation and the names and residences of its officers duly verified. The superintendent of credit unions, upon receipt of satisfactory proof of the solvency of the corporation, shall issue to such corporation, in duplicate, a certificate to the effect that such consent and statement have been filed and that it appears therefrom that such corporation has complied with this section. Such duplicate certificate shall be filed by the corporation in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the corporation has its place of business, and thereupon such corporation shall be dissolved and shall cease to carry on business except for the purpose of adjusting and winding up of its affairs. The corporation, by its board of directors, shall then proceed to adjust and wind up its business and affairs, with power to carry out its contracts, collect its accounts receivable, and to liquidate its assets and apply the same in discharge of debts and obligations of such corporation, and after paying and adequately providing for the payment of such debts and obligations, each share, according to the amount paid thereon, shall be entitled to its proportion of the balance of the assets. The corporation shall continue in existence for the purpose of paying, satisfying, and discharging any existing debts or obligations, collecting and distributing its assets, and doing all other acts required in order to adjust and wind up its business and affairs, and may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing such debts and obligations until its business and affairs are fully adjusted and wound up. (1915, c. 115, s. 24; 1925, c. 73, ss. 3, 15; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5224.)

§ 54-93. Savings institution; restriction of taxation.—The corporation shall be deemed an institution for savings, and together with all accumulations therein shall not be taxable under any law which shall exempt building and loan associations or institutions for savings from taxation; nor shall any law passed taxing corporations in any form, or the shares thereof, or the accumulations therein, be deemed to include corporations doing business in pursuance of the provisions of this sub-chapter, unless they are specifically named in such law. The shares of credit unions, being hereby regarded as a system for saving, shall not be subject to any stock-transfer tax either when issued by the corporation or transferred from one member to another. (1915, c. 115, s. 26; 1925, c. 73, ss. 3, 16; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5225.)

Art. 12. Shares in the Corporation.

§ 54-94. Ownership and transfer of shares. — The capital of a credit union shall consist of the payments that have been made to it by the several members thereof on the shares. Shares may be subscribed for and paid in such manner as the by-laws shall prescribe. The credit union shall have a lien on the shares of any member and upon any dividends payable thereon for and to the extent of any loan made to him and of any dues or fines payable by him. The credit union may, upon the resignation or expulsion of a member, cancel the shares of such member and apply the withdrawal value of such shares towards the liquidation of the member's indebtedness.

A credit union may, if the by-laws so provide, charge an entrance fee for each share subscribed, to be paid by the shareholder upon his election to membership.

Fully paid shares of a credit union may be transferred to any person eligible for membership, upon such terms as the by-laws may provide, and the payment of a transfer fee shall not exceed twenty-five cents per share. (1915, c. 115, s. 13; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5226.)

§ 54-95. Shares and deposits for minors and in trust.—Shares may be issued and deposits received in the name of a minor, and such shares and deposits may, in the discretion of the directors, be withdrawn by such minor or his parent or guardian, and in either case payments made on such withdrawals shall be valid. If shares are held or deposits made in trust, the name and residence of the beneficiary shall be disclosed and the account shall be kept in the name of such holder as trustee for such person. Such shares or deposits may, upon the death of the trustee, be withdrawn by the person for whom the shares were held or for whom such deposits were made, or by his legal representatives. (1915, c. 115, s. 14; C. S. 5227.)

§ 54-96. Fines and penalties.—For failure by any member of a credit union to meet his payments on obligations when due, such fines and other penalties may be imposed upon the delinquent member as the by-laws provide. Such fines shall not exceed two per centum per month or a fraction thereof on amounts due, except that a minimum fine of five cents may be imposed. (1915, c. 115, s. 15; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; 1939, c. 400, s. 3; C. S. 5228.)

§ 54-97. Liability of shareholders. — A shareholder of any such corporation, unless the by-laws so provide, shall not be individually liable for the payment of its debts for an amount in excess of the par value of the shares which he owns or for which he has subscribed. (1915, c. 115, s. 26; C. S. 5229.)

Art. 13. Members and Officers.

§ 54-98. Who may become members. — The membership of the corporation shall consist of those persons who have been duly elected to membership and who have subscribed for one or more shares and have paid for the same in whole or in part, together with the entrance fee as provided in the by-laws, and have complied with such other requirements as the by-laws may contain. No credit union shall ever pay any commission or offer compensation for the securing of members or on the sale of shares. (1915, c. 115, s. 6; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5230.)

§ 54-99. Expulsion and withdrawal of members.—The board of directors may expel from the corporation any member who has not carried out his engagement with the corporation, or has been convicted of a criminal offense, or neglects or refuses to comply with the provisions of this subchapter or of the by-laws, or who habitually neglects to pay his debts, or shall become insolvent or bankrupt. The members at a regularly called meeting may expel from the corporation any member who has become intemperate or in any way financially irresponsible; no member shall be expelled until he has been informed in writing of the charges against him and an opportunity has been given him, after reasonable notice, to be heard thereon.

A member may withdraw from a credit union by filing a written notice of his intention to withdraw.

The amounts paid in on shares or deposits by an expelled or withdrawing member, with any dividends credited to his shares and any interest accrued on his deposits to the date of expulsion or withdrawal, shall be paid to such member, but in the order of expulsion or withdrawal and only as funds therefor become available, after deducting any amounts due to the corporation by such member. The member shall have no other or further right in the credit union or to any of its benefits, but such expulsion or withdrawal shall not operate to relieve the member from any remaining liability to the corporation. (1915, c. 115, s. 23; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5231.)

§ 54-100. Meetings; right of voting.—The fiscal year of every such corporation shall end at the close of business on the thirty-first day of December. The annual meeting of the corporation shall be held at such time and place as the by-laws prescribe. Special meetings may be held by order of the directors or of the supervisory committee, and shall be held upon request in writing of ten per cent of the members. Notice of all meetings of the corporation shall be given in the manner prescribed in the by-laws. At all meetings of members or shareholders a member shall have one vote and but one vote, irrespective of the number of shares that may be held by him, and in case of sickness or other unavoidable absence of a member he shall be allowed to vote by proxy in writing, but no member present shall vote more than one such proxy. At any meeting the members may decide upon any question of interest to the corporation, and overrule the board of directors, and by a three-fourths vote of those present and represented, provided the notice of the meeting shall have specified the question to be considered, may vote to amend the by-laws. (1915, c. 115, s. 8; C. S. 5232.)

§ 54-101. Election of directors and committees.

1. Number Elected.—At the annual meeting the members shall elect a board of directors of not less than five members, a credit committee and a supervisory committee of not less than three members each. However, in credit unions whose business offices are located in places other than incorporated cities, the board of directors as such may also be the credit committee. Except as herein specified, no member of the board shall be a member of either of such committees, nor shall one person be a member of more than one of such committees. All members of committees and all directors, as well as all officers whom they may elect, shall be sworn, and shall hold their several offices for such term as may be determined by the by-laws.

2. Oath of Office.—The oath required of each director, officer, and member of committee shall be the oath of the individual taking the same that he will, so far as the duty devolves on him, diligently and honestly administer the affairs of such corporation, and will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any of the provisions of law applicable to such corporation, and that he is the owner in good faith and in his own right on the books of the corporation of at least one share therein. Such oath shall be subscribed by the individual making it and certified by the officer before whom it is taken, and shall immediately be transmitted to the superintendent of credit unions and filed and preserved in his office. (1915, c. 115, s. 9; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5233.)

§ 54-102. Duties of board of directors.

1. Elect Executive Officers.—At their first meeting and at each first meeting in the fiscal year, the board of directors shall elect from their number a president, vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer, who shall be the executive officers of the corporation. The offices of secretary and treasurer may, if the by-laws so provide, be held by one person.

2. General Management.—The board of directors shall have the general management of the affairs, funds, and records of the corporation, shall meet as often as may be necessary, and, unless the by-laws shall specifically reserve all or any of these duties to the members, it shall be the special duty of the directors:

1. To act upon all applications for membership and the expulsion of members.

2. To fix the amount of the surety bond which shall be required of each officer having the custody of funds.

3. To determine from time to time the rate of interest which shall be allowed on deposits and charged on loans.

4. To fix the maximum number of shares which may be held by and the maximum amount which may be lent to any one member; to declare dividends; and to recommend amendments to the by-laws.

5. To fill vacancies in the board of directors or in the credit committees until the election and qualification of successors.

6. To have charge of the investment of the funds of the corporation except loans to members, and to perform such other duties as the members may from time to time authorize.

3. Compensation.—No member of the board of directors or of the credit or supervisory committees shall receive any compensation for his services as a member of the board or committees. But the officers elected by the board of directors may receive such compensation as the members may authorize. (1915, c. 115, s. 10; C. S. 5234.)

§ 54-103. Duties of credit committee.—The credit committee shall approve every loan or advance made by the corporation to members. Every application for a loan shall be made in writing and shall state the purpose for which the loan is desired and the security offered. No loan shall be made unless it has received the unanimous approval of those members of the committee who were present when it was considered, who shall constitute at least a majority of the committee, nor if any member of the committee shall disapprove thereof; but the applicant for a loan may appeal from the decisions of the credit committee to the board of directors. The credit committee shall meet as often as may be required after due notice has been given to each member. (1915, c. 115, s. 11; C. S. 5235.)

§ 54-104. Duties of supervisory committee.—The supervisory committee shall inspect the securities, cash, and accounts of the corporation and supervise the acts of its board of directors, credit committee, and officers. At any time the supervisory committee, by a unanimous vote, may suspend the credit committee or any member of the board of directors, or any officer elected by the board, and by a majority vote may call a meeting of the shareholders to consider any violation of this subchapter or of the by-laws, or any practice of the corporation which, in the opinion of said committee, is unsafe and unauthorized. Within seven days after the suspension of the credit committee the supervisory committee shall cause notice to be given of a special meeting of the members to take such action relative to such suspension as may seem necessary. The supervisory committee shall fill vacancies in their own number until the next regular meeting of the members.

At the close of each fiscal year the supervisory committee shall make a thorough audit of the receipts, disbursements, income, assets, and liabilities of the corporation for the fiscal year, and shall make a full report thereon to the directors. This report shall be read at the annual meeting of the members and shall be filed and preserved with the records of the corporation. (1915, c. 115, s. 12; C. S. 5236.)

Art. 14. Supervision and Control.

§ 54-105. Subject to superintendent of credit unions.—Corporations organized under the provisions of this subchapter shall be subject to the supervision of the superintendent of credit unions. (1915, c. 115, s. 7; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5237.)

§ 54-106. Reports; penalties; fees.—1. Every corporation organized under this subchapter shall, in January and in July of each year, make a report of condition to the superintendent of credit unions giving such information as he shall require, which reports shall be verified by oath of the treasurer and by oath of a majority of the supervisory committee, and shall make such other and further reports under like oath as the superintendent shall demand at any time.

2. Each credit union applying on or after July first, one thousand nine hundred forty-one, for a certificate to do business under the provisions of this subchapter shall, before receiving such certificate, pay into the office of the superintendent of credit unions a charter fee of five dollars ($5.00).

3. Each credit union subject to supervision and examination by the superintendent of credit unions, including credit unions in process of voluntary liquidation, shall pay into the office of the superintendent of credit unions supervisory fees as follows: (a) two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for the first one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of assets and fifty cents ($.50) for each additional thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of assets, or fraction thereof, payable during the month of July each year on the basis of total assets as shown by its report of condition made to the superintendent of credit unions as of the previous June thirtieth, or the date most nearly approximately same of each year; and (b) two dollars and fifty ($2.50) for the first one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of assets and fifty cents ($.50) for each additional thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of assets, or fraction thereof, payable during the month of January each year on the basis of total assets as shown by its report of condition made to the superintendent of credit unions as of the previous December thirty-first, or the date most nearly approximating same of each year: Provided, that no credit union shall be required to pay any supervisory fee until the expiration of twelve months from the date of the issuance of a certificate of incorporation to such credit union.

4. Any such corporation which neglects to make semi-annual reports as provided in paragraph 1 of this section, or any of the other reports required by the superintendent of credit unions at the time fixed by the superintendent, shall forfeit to the superintendent of credit unions five dollars ($5.00) for each day such neglect continues; and, furthermore, the superintendent of credit unions shall have authority, in his discretion, to revoke the certificate of incorporation and take possession of the assets and business of any corporation failing to pay the fees required in this section after serving notice of at least fifteen (15) days upon such corporation of his intention so to do.

5. Moneys collected under this section shall be deposited with the state treasurer of North Carolina and expended, under the terms of the Executive Budget Act, to defray expenses incurred by the office of the superintendent of credit unions in carrying out its supervisory and auditing functions. (1915, c. 115, s. 7; 1925, c. 73, ss. 3, 7; 1935, c. 87; 1941, c. 235; C. S. 5238.)

§ 54-107. Annual examinations required. — The superintendent of credit unions shall cause every such corporation to be examined once a year and whenever he deems it necessary. The examiners appointed by him shall be given free access to all books, papers, securities, and other sources of information in respect to the corporation; and for the purpose of such examination the superintendent shall have power and authority to subpœna and examine personally, or by one of his deputies or examiners, witnesses on oath and documents, whether such witnesses are members of the corporation or not, and whether such documents are documents of the corporation or not. (1915, c. 115, s. 7; 1925, c. 73, s. 3; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5239.)

§ 54-108. Revocation of certificate; liquidation.— If any such corporation shall neglect to make its annual report, as provided in this article, or any other report required by the superintendent of credit unions, for more than fifteen days, or shall fail to pay the charges required, including the fines for delay in filing reports, the superintendent of credit unions shall give notice to such corporation of his intention to revoke the certificate of approval of the corporation for such neglect or failure, and if such neglect or failure continues for fifteen days after such notice, the said superintendent shall, at his discretion, revoke the certificate, and he, personally or by one of his deputies, shall take possession of the property and business of the corporation and retain possession until such time as he may permit it to resume business, or until its affairs be finally liquidated as provided in the banking laws of the state. (1915, c. 115, s. 7; 1925, c. 73, ss. 3, 8; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5240.)

§ 54-109. Deficits supplied; business discontinued.—If it shall appear to the superintendent of credit unions by any examination or report that any such corporation is insolvent, or that it has violated any of the provisions of this subchapter or any other law of the state, he may, by an order made over his hand and official seal, after a hearing or an opportunity for a hearing given the accused corporation, direct any such corporation to discontinue the illegal methods or practices mentioned in the order to make good any deficit. A deficit, in the discretion of the superintendent of credit unions, may be made good by an assessment on the members in proportion to the shares held by each member. If any such corporation shall not comply with such order within the time stipulated after the same shall have been delivered in person or shall have been mailed to the last address filed by such corporation in the office of the superintendent of credit unions (provided, that not more than thirty (30) days shall be allowed) the superintendent shall thereupon take possession of the property and business of such corporation and retain such possession until such time as he may permit it to resume business or its affairs be finally liquidated, as provided in the banking law of the state. (1915, c. 115, s. 7; 1925, c. 73, ss. 3, 9; 1935, c. 87; C. S. 5241.)

Art. 15. Central Associations.

§ 54-110. Central association.—(1) Upon application of seven or more credit unions for a central corporation for the purpose of securing credit and discounting notes with any outside agency, and to act as a clearing house in the settlement of these accounts, the superintendent of credit unions shall, upon receipt and investigation of charters and by-laws signed by the secretary-treasurers of the several credit unions, approve same if he is satisfied they are in conformity with and give reasonable assurance that the affairs of the corporation will be administered in accordance with this article.

(2) The procedure and plan of organization, method of operation, officers and their duties, supervision, liquidation and dissolution shall be the same as with any local credit union; except that the membership of a central credit union shall be institutional and only local credit unions can become members, unless the by-laws otherwise prescribe.

(3) Any local credit union can become a member of a central association by subscribing to any number of shares and paying for same, in whole or in part, not to be in excess of twenty-five per cent (25%) of their share capital and reserve fund.

(4) Deposits in the central association may be accepted from any source in such amounts and upon such terms as the board of directors may determine and the by-laws shall prescribe.

(5) The secretary-treasurer shall cast the one vote of local member credit unions in its annual election of officers and at all meetings of the member associations unless the by-laws otherwise prescribe.

(6) A central credit union shall not charge more than three-fourths (¾) of one per cent for discounting paper, provided that no discount rate shall make the interest higher than the legal rate.

(7) Section 54-84 shall not apply to a central association, and such an association shall have power to borrow money from any source in amounts not in excess of ten times the amount of its capital and reserve fund.

(8) A central credit union shall not be taxable under any law which shall exempt any local credit union. (1925, c. 73, s. 17; 1935, c. 87.)

SUBCHAPTER IV. CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATIONS.

Art. 16. Organization of Associations.

§ 54-111. Nature of the association.—Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves as a mutual association, society, company, or exchange, for the purpose of conducting any agricultural, horticultural, forestry, dairy, mercantile, mining, manufacturing, telephone, electric light, power, storage, refrigeration, flume, irrigation, water, sewerage, or mechanical business on the mutual plan. For the purposes of this subchapter, the words association, company, corporation, exchange, society, or union shall be construed to mean the same; Provided, that the membership of agricultural organizations incorporated under this subchapter shall consist of producers of agricultural products, handled by such organizations or by organizations owned and controlled by such producers. (1915, c. 144, s. 1; 1925, c. 179, ss. 1, 2; 1931, c. 447; C. S. 5242.)

§ 54-112. Use of term restricted.—No corporation or association hereinafter organized for doing business for profit in this state shall be entitled to use the term "mutual" as part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it has complied with the provisions of this subchapter; and any corporation or association violating the provisions of this section may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any shareholder of any association legally organized under this subchapter. (1915, c. 144, s. 18; 1925, c. 179, s. 1; C. S. 5243.)

§ 54-113. Articles of agreement.—The persons desiring to organize such association shall sign and acknowledge written articles which shall contain the name of the association and the names and residences of the persons forming the same. Such articles shall also contain a statement of the purposes of the association and shall designate the city, town, or village where its principal place of business shall be located. The articles shall also state the amount of authorized capital stock, the number of shares subscribed, and the par value of each. No shareholder in any corporation organized under this subchapter shall be personally liable for any debt of the corporation. (1915, c. 144, s. 2; C. S. 5244.)

§ 54-114. Certificate of incorporation. — The original articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this subchapter, or a true copy thereof, verified as such by the affidavits of two of the signers thereof, shall be filed with the secretary of state. A like verified copy of such articles and certificate of the secretary of state, showing the date when such articles were filed with and accepted by the secretary of state, within thirty days of such filing and acceptance, shall be filed with and recorded by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation is to be located, and no corporation shall, until such articles be left for record, have legal existence. The clerk of court shall forthwith transmit to the secretary of state a certificate stating the time when such copy was recorded. Upon a receipt of such certificate, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation. (1915, c. 144, s. 3; C. S. 5245.)

§ 54-115. Fees for incorporation. — For filing the articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this subchapter, there shall be paid the secretary of state ten dollars and his fees allowed by law, and for the filing of an amendment to such articles, five dollars and his fees allowed by law: Provided, that when the authorized capital stock of such corporations shall be less than one thousand dollars, such fee for filing either the articles of incorporation or amendments thereto shall be two dollars. For recording copy of such articles, the clerk of court shall receive a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the person presenting such papers for record. (1915, c. 144, s. 4; C. S. 5246.)

§ 54-116. By-laws adopted. — At the time of making the articles of incorporation the incorporators shall make by-laws which shall provide:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purposes for which it is formed.
3. Qualifications for membership.
4. The date of the annual meeting; the manner in which members shall be notified of meetings; the manner of conducting the meetings; the number of members which shall constitute a quorum at the meetings, and regulations as to voting.
5. The number of members of the board of directors; powers and duties; the compensation and duties of officers elected by the board of directors.
6. In the case of selling agencies or productive societies, regulations for grading.
7. In the case of selling agencies or productive societies, regulations governing the sale of products by the members through the organization.
8. The par value of the shares of capital stock.
9. The conditions upon which shares may be issued, paid in, transferred, and withdrawn.
10. The manner in which the reserve fund shall be accumulated.
11. The manner in which the dividends shall be determined and paid to members.
12. Associations, societies, companies or exchanges, organized hereunder to engage in the telephone or electric light business upon a mutual basis, shall adopt a by-law limiting the patrons and subscribers to members of the association. (1915, c. 144, s. 5; 1925, c. 179, s. 4; C. S. 5247.)

§ 54-117. General corporation law applied; dealing in products of non-members. — All mutual associations shall be maintained in accordance with the general corporation law, except as otherwise provided for in this subchapter. And no corporation or association hereafter organized under this subchapter for doing business in this State shall be permitted to deal in the products of non-members to an amount greater in value than such as are handled by it for members. (1915, c. 144, s. 17; 1925, c. 179, s. 1; 1931, c. 447, s. 2; C. S. 5248.)

§ 54-118. Other corporations admitted.—All mutual corporations, companies, or associations heretofore organized and doing business under prior statutes, or which have attempted to so organize and do business, shall have the benefit of all of the provisions of this subchapter, and be bound thereby on filing with the secretary of state a written declaration, signed and sworn to by the president and secretary, to the effect that the mutual company or association has by a majority vote of its shareholders decided to accept the benefits of and to be bound by the provisions of this subchapter. No association organized under this subchapter shall be required to do or perform anything not specifically required herein, in order to become a corporation. (1915, c. 144, s. 16; 1925, c. 179, s. 1; C. S. 5249.)

Art. 17. Stockholders and Officers.

§ 54-119. Certificate for stock fully paid. — Certificates of stock shall not be issued to any subscriber until fully paid, but the by-laws of the association may allow subscribers to vote as shareholders: Provided, part of the stock subscribed for has been paid in cash. (1915, c. 144, s. 11; C. S. 5250.)

§ 54-120. Ownership of shares limited. — No shareholder in any such association shall own shares of a greater aggregate par value than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital stock, except as hereinafter provided, or be entitled to more than one vote. A mutual association shall reserve the right of purchasing the stock of any member whose stock is for sale, and may restrict the transfer of stock to such persons as are made eligible to membership in the by-laws. (1915, c. 144, s. 9; 1925, c. 179, s. 1; C. S. 5251.)

§ 54-121. Shares issued on purchase of business. —Whenever an association, created under this subchapter, shall purchase the business of another association or person, it may pay for the same in whole or in part by issuing to the selling association or persons shares of its capital stock to an amount which at par value would equal the fair market value of the business so purchased, and in such case the transfer to the association of such business at such valuation shall be equivalent to payment in cash for the shares of stock so issued. (1915, c. 144, s. 10; C. S. 5252.)

§ 54-122. Absent members voting.—At any regularly called general or special meeting of the shareholders a written vote received by mail from any absent shareholder, and signed by him, may be read in such meeting, and shall be equivalent to a vote of such of the shareholders so signing: Provided, he has been previously notified in writing of the exact motion or resolution upon which such vote is taken, and a copy of same is forwarded with and attached to the vote so mailed by him. In case of sickness or other unavoidable absence of a member, he shall be allowed to vote by proxy in writing; but no member shall vote more than one such proxy. (1915, c. 144, s. 12; C. S. 5253.)

§ 54-123. Directors and other officers. — Every such association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors. The directors shall be elected by and from the stockholders of the association at such time and for such term of office as the by-laws may prescribe, and shall hold office for time for which elected and until their successors are elected and shall enter upon the discharge of such duties as are prescribed in the by-laws; but a majority of the stockholders shall have the power at any regular or special stockholders' meeting, legally called, to remove any director or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy, and thereupon the director or officer so removed shall cease to be a director or officer of the association. The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice-presidents, a secretary and treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the directors, and each of the officers must be a director of the association. The office of secretary and treasurer may be combined, and when so combined the person filling the office shall be secretary-treasurer. (1915, c. 144, s. 6; C. S. 5254.)

Art. 18. Powers and Duties.

§ 54-124. Nature of business authorized. — An association created under this subchapter shall have power to conduct any agricultural, horticultural, forestry, dairy, mercantile, mining, manufacturing, telephone, electric light, power, storage, refrigeration, flume, irrigation, water, sewerage, or mechanical business, on the mutual plan. (1915, c. 144, s. 8; 1925, c. 179, ss. 1, 3; C. S. 5255.)

§ 54-125. Amendment of articles.—The association may amend its articles of incorporation by a majority vote of its shareholders at any regular shareholders' meeting, or any special shareholders' meeting called for that purpose, on ten days notice to the shareholders. The power to amend shall include the power to increase or diminish the amount of capital stock and the number of shares: Provided, the amount of the capital stock shall not be diminished below the amount of the paid up capital at the time the amendment is adopted. Within thirty days after the adoption of an amendment to its articles of incorporation, an association shall cause a copy of such amendment adopted to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state and of the clerk of court of the county where the principal place of business is located. (1915, c. 144, s. 7; C. S. 5256.)

§ 54-126. Apportionment of earnings. — The directors, subject to revision by the association at any general or special meeting, shall apportion the earnings by first paying dividends on the paid-up capital stock, not exceeding six per cent per annum, then setting aside not less than ten per cent of the net profits for a reserve fund, until an amount has been accumulated in the reserve fund equal to thirty per cent of the paid-up capital stock, and not less than two per cent thereof for an educational fund to be used in teaching coöperation, and the remainder of the net profits by uniform dividend upon the amount of purchases of shareholders and upon the wages and salaries of employees, and one-half of such uniform dividend to nonshareholders on the amount of their purchase, which may be credited to the account of such nonshareholders on account of capital stock of the association; but in selling agencies such as fruit, truck, peanuts, and cotton growers' associations, and in productive associations such as creameries, canneries, warehouses, factories, and the like, dividends shall be prorated on raw materials delivered instead of on goods purchased. In case the association is both a selling and productive concern, or a service and distributing association the dividends may be on both raw material delivered and on goods or service purchased by patrons. (1915, c. 144, s. 13; 1925, c. 179, s. 5; C. S. 5257.)

§ 54-127. Time of distribution. — The profits or net earnings of such associations shall be distributed to those entitled thereto, at such times as the by-laws shall prescribe, which shall be as often as once in twelve months. (1915, c. 144, s. 14; C. S. 5258.)

§ 54-128. Annual reports.—Every association organized under the provisions of this subchapter shall annually, on or before the first day of March of each year, make a report to the secretary of state; such report shall contain the name of the company, its principal place of business in this state, and generally a statement as to its business, showing total amount of business transacted, amount of capital stock subscribed for and paid in, number of shareholders, total expenses of operation, amount of indebtedness or liabilities, and its profits and losses. A copy of such report shall also be filed with the division of markets in the Department of Agriculture. (1915, c. 144, s. 15; C. S. 5259.)

SUBCHAPTER V. MARKETING ASSOCIATIONS.

Art. 19. Purpose and Organization.

§ 54-129. Declaration of policy.—In order to promote, foster, and encourage the intelligent and orderly producing and marketing of agricultural products through coöperation, and to eliminate speculation and waste; and to make the distribution of agricultural products as direct as can be efficiently done between producer and consumer; and to stabilize the marketing problems of agricultural products this subchapter is enacted. (1921, c. 87, s. 1; 1935, c. 230, s. 1; C. S. 5259(a).)

§ 54-130. Definitions.—As used in this subchapter—

(a) The term "agricultural products" shall include horticultural, viticultural, forestry, dairy, livestock, poultry, bee, and any farm products;

(b) The term "member" shall include actual members of associations without capital stock and holders of stock in associations organized with capital stock;

(c) The term "association" means any corporation organized under this subchapter; and

(d) The term "person" shall include individuals, firms, partnerships, corporations, and associations.

Associations organized hereunder shall be deemed nonprofit, inasmuch as they are not organized to make profits for themselves, as such, or for their members, as such, but only for their members as producers.

This subchapter shall be referred to as the "Coöperative Marketing Act." (1921, c. 87, s. 2; 1935, c. 436, s. 1; C. S. 5259(b).)

§ 54-131. Who may organize. — Five (5) or more persons engaged in the production of agricultural products may form a nonprofit, coöperative association, with or without capital stock, under the provisions of this subchapter. (1921, c. 87, s. 3; C. S. 5259(c).)

§ 54-132. Purposes. — An association may be organized to engage in any activity in connection with the producing, marketing or selling of the agricultural products of its members and other farmers, or with the harvesting, preserving, drying, processing, canning, packing, storing, handling, shipping, or utilization thereof, of the manufacturing or marketing of the by-products thereof; or in connection with the manufacturing, selling, or supplying to its members of machinery, equipment, or supplies; or in the financing of the above enumerated activities; or in any one or more of the activities specified herein. (1921, c. 87, s. 4; 1933, c. 350, s. 2; 1935, c. 230, s. 2; C. S. 5259(d).)

§ 54-133. Preliminary investigation. — Every group of persons contemplating the organization of an association under this subchapter is urged to communicate with the chief of the division of markets, who will inform it whatever a survey of the marketing conditions affecting the commodities to be handled by the proposed association indicates regarding probable success. (1921, c. 87, s. 5; C. S. 5259(e).)

§ 54-134. Articles of incorporation. — Each association formed under this subchapter must prepare and file articles of incorporation, setting forth:

(a) The name of the association.

(b) The purposes for which it is formed.

(c) The place where its principal business will be transacted.

(d) The term for which it is to exist, not exceeding fifty (50) years.

(e) The names and addresses (not less than five) of those who are to serve as directors for the first term or until the election of their successors.

(f) If organized without capital stock, whether the property rights and interest of each member shall be equal or unequal; and if unequal, the article shall set forth the general rule or rules applicable to all members by which the property rights and interests, respectively, of each member may and shall be determined and fixed; and this association shall have the power to admit new members who shall be entitled to share in the property of the association with the old members, in accordance with such general rule or rules. This provision of the articles of incorporation shall not be altered, amended, or repealed except by the written consent or the vote of three-fourths of the members.

(g) If organized with capital stock, the amount of such stock and the number of such shares into which it is divided and the par value thereof. The capital stock may be divided into preferred and common stock. If so divided, the articles of incorporation must contain a statement of the number of shares of stock to which preference is granted and the number of shares of stock to which no preference is granted and the nature and extent of the preference and the privileges granted to each.

In addition to the foregoing, the petition for articles of incorporation may contain any provision consistent with law with respect to management, regulation, government, financing, indebtedness, membership, the establishment of voting districts and the election of delegates for representative purposes, the issuance, retirement and transfer of its stock, if formed with capital stock, or any provisions relative to the way or manner in which it shall operate with respect to its members, officers, or directors, and any other provisions relating to its affairs; provided that nothing set forth in this paragraph shall be construed as limiting any of the rights or powers otherwise given to such associations.

The articles must be subscribed by the incorporators and acknowledged by one of them before an officer authorized by the law of this state to take and certify acknowledgments of deeds and conveyances; and shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of the general corporation law of this state; and when so filed the said articles of incorporation, or certified copies thereof, shall be received in all the courts of this state, and other places, as prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein, and of the due incorporation of such association. A certified copy of the articles of incorporation shall also be filed with the chief of the division of markets. (1921, c. 87, s. 8; 1935, c. 230, ss. 3, 4; C. S. 5259(f).)

§ 54-135. Amendments to articles of incorporation.—The articles of incorporation may be altered or amended at any regular meeting, or any special meeting called for that purpose. An amendment must first be approved by two-thirds of the directors and then adopted by a vote representing a majority of a quorum of the members attending a meeting of which notice of the proposed amendment shall have been given. Amendments to the articles of incorporation, when so adopted, shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of the general corporation law of this state. (1921, c. 87, s. 9; 1935, c. 230, s. 5; C. S. 5259(g).)

§ 54-136. By-laws. — Each association incorporated under this subchapter must, within thirty (30) days after its incorporation, adopt for its government and management a code of by-laws, not inconsistent with the powers granted by this subchapter. A majority vote of a quorum of the members or stockholders attending a meeting, of which notice of the proposed by-law or by-laws shall have been given, is sufficient to adopt or amend the by-laws. Each association under its by-laws may also provide for any or all of the following matters:

(a) The time, place, and manner of calling and conducting its meetings.

(b) The number of stockholders or members constituting a quorum.

(c) The right of members or stockholders to vote by proxy or by mail, or by both, and the conditions, manner, form, and effects of such votes.

(d) The number of directors constituting a quorum.

(e) The qualifications, compensations, and duties and terms of office of directors and officers; time of their election, and the mode and manner of giving notice thereof.

(f) Penalties for violations of the by-laws.

(g) The amount of entrance, organization, and membership fees, if any; the manner and method of collection of the same, and the purposes for which they may be used.

(h) The amount which each member or stockholder shall be required to pay annually or from time to time, if at all, to carry on the business of the association, the charge, if any, to be paid by each member or stockholder for services rendered by the association to him, and the time of payment and the manner of collection; and the marketing contract between the association and its members or stockholders which every member or stockholder may be required to sign.

(i) The number and qualification of members or stockholders of the association and the conditions precedent to membership or ownership of common stock; the method, time, and manner of permitting members to withdraw or the holders of common stock to transfer their stock; the manner of assignment and transfer of the interest of members, and of the shares of common stock; the conditions upon which, and the time when membership of any member shall cease; the automatic suspension of the rights of a member when he ceases to be eligible to membership in the association, and mode, manner, and effect of the expulsion of a member; manner of determining the value of a member's interest and provision for its purchase by the association upon the death or withdrawal of a member or stockholder, or upon the expulsion of a member or forfeiture of his membership, or at the option of the association, by conclusive appraisal by the board of directors. In case of the withdrawal or expulsion of a member the board of directors shall equitably and conclusively appraise his property interests in the association, and shall fix the amount thereof in money, which shall be paid to him within one year after such expulsion or withdrawal. (1921, c. 87, s. 10; 1935, c. 230, s. 6; C. S. 5259(h).)

§ 54-137. General and special meetings; how called.—In its by-laws each association shall provide for one or more regular meetings annually. The board of directors shall have the right to call a special meeting at any time, and ten per cent of the members or stockholders may file a petition stating the specific business to be brought before the association, and demand a special meeting at any time. Such meeting must thereupon be called by the directors. Notice of all meetings, together with a statement of the purposes thereof, shall be mailed to each member at least ten days prior to the meeting: Provided, however, that the by-laws may require instead that such notice may be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation, published at the principal place of business of the association. (1921, c. 87, s. 11; C. S. 5259(i).)

§ 54-138. Conflicting laws not to apply.—Any provisions of law which are in conflict with this subchapter shall not be construed as applying to the associations herein provided for. (1921, c. 87, s. 20; C. S. 5259(j).)

§ 54-139. Limitation of use of term "coöperative".—No person, firm, or corporation, or association hereafter organized or doing business in this state shall be entitled to use the word "coöperative" as part of its corporate or other business name or title unless it has complied with the provisions of this subchapter. (1921, c. 87, s. 21; C. S. 5259(k).)

§ 54-140. Association heretofore organized may adopt the provisions of this subchapter.—Any corporation or association organized under previously existing statutes may, by a majority vote of its stockholders or members, be brought under the provisions of this subchapter by limiting its membership and adopting the other restrictions as provided herein. It shall make out in duplicate a statement signed and sworn to by its directors, upon forms supplied by the secretary of state, to the effect that the corporation or association has by a majority vote of its stockholders or members decided to accept the benefits and be bound by the provisions of this subchapter. Articles of incorporation shall be filed as required in § 54-134, except that they shall be signed by the members of the board of directors. The filing fee shall be the same as for filing an amendment to articles of incorporation. (1921, c. 87, s. 24; C. S. 5259(l).)

§ 54-141. Associations not in restraint of trade.—No association organized hereunder shall be deemed to be a combination in restraint of trade or an illegal monopoly; or an attempt to lessen competition or fix prices arbitrarily, nor shall the marketing contracts or agreements between the association and its members, or any agreements authorized in this subchapter be considered illegal or in restraint of trade. (1921, c. 87, s. 26; C. S. 5259(m).)

§ 54-142. Application of general corporation laws.—The provisions of the general corporation laws of this state, and all powers and rights thereunder, shall apply to the associations organized hereunder, except where such provisions are in conflict with or inconsistent with the express provisions of this subchapter. (1921, c. 87, s. 28; C. S. 5259(o).)

§ 54-143. Annual license fees.—Each association organized hereunder shall pay an annual license fee of ten dollars ($10), but shall be exempted from all franchise or license taxes. (1921, c. 87, s. 29; C. S. 5259(p).)

§ 54-144. Filing fees.—For filing articles of incorporation, an association organized hereunder shall pay ten dollars ($10); and for filing an amendment to the articles, two dollars and one-half ($2.50). (1921, c. 87, s. 30; C. S. 5259(q).)

Art. 20. Members and Officers.

§ 54-145. Members.—(a) Under the terms and conditions prescribed in its by-laws, an association may admit as members, or issue common stock, only to persons engaged in the production of the agricultural products to be handled by or through the association, including the lessees and tenants of land used for the production of such products and any lessors and landlords who receive as rent part of the crop raised on the leased premises.

(b) If a member of a nonstock association be other than a natural person, such member may be represented by any individual, associate, officer, or member thereof, duly authorized in writing.

(c) One association organized hereunder may become a member or stockholder of any other association or associations, organized hereunder. (1921, c. 87, s. 7; C. S. 5259(r).)

§ 54-146. Directors; election.—(a) The affairs of the association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, elected by the members or stockholders from their own number. The by-laws may provide that the territory in which the association has members shall be divided into districts, and that the directors shall be elected according to such districts. In such case the by-laws shall specify the number of directors to be elected by each district, the manner and method of reapportioning the directors and of redistricting the territory covered by the association. The by-laws may provide that primary elections should be held in each district to elect the directors apportioned to such districts, and the result of all such primary elections must be ratified by the next regular meeting of the association.

(b) The by-laws shall provide that one or more directors shall be appointed by the director of agricultural extension or any other public official or commission. The directors so appointed need not be members or stockholders of the association, but shall have the same powers and rights as other directors.

(c) An association may provide a fair remuneration for the time actually spent by its officers and directors in its service. No director, during the term of his office, shall be a party to a contract for profit with the association differing in any way from the business relations accorded regular members or holders of common stock of the association, or to any other kind of contract differing from terms generally current in that district.

(d) When a vacancy on the board of directors occurs, other than by expiration of term, the remaining members of the board, by a majority vote, shall fill the vacancy, unless the by-laws provide for an election of directors by districts. In such case the board of directors shall immediately call a special meeting of the members or stockholders in that district to fill the vacancy: Provided, that this subsection shall not apply to the director or directors appointed under the provisions of subsection (b) of this section: Provided further, that any vacancy occurring in the office of a director appointed under subsection (b) of this section shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment was made. (1921, c. 87, s. 12; C. S. 5259(s).)

§ 54-147. Election of officers.—The directors shall elect from their number a president and one or more vice presidents. They shall also elect a secretary and treasurer, who need not be directors, and they may combine the two latter offices and designate the combined office as secretary-treasurer. The treasurer may be a bank or any depository, and as such shall not be considered an officer, but as a function of the board of directors. In such case the secretary shall perform the usual accounting duties of the treasurer, excepting that the funds shall be deposited only as authorized by the board of directors. (1921, c. 87, s. 13; C. S. 5259(t).)

§ 54-148. Stock; membership certificates; when issued; voting; liability; limitation on transfer of ownership.—

(a) When a member of an association established without capital stock has paid his membership fee in full, he shall receive a certificate of membership.

(b) No association shall issue stock to a member until it has been fully paid for. The promissory notes of the members may be accepted by the association as full or partial payment. The association shall hold the stock as security for the payment of the note, but such retention as security shall not affect the members' right to vote.

(c) Except for debts lawfully contracted between him and the association, no member shall be liable for the debts of the association to an amount exceeding the sum remaining unpaid on his membership fee or his subscription to the capital stock, including any unpaid balance on any promissory notes given in payment thereof.

(d) A coöperative association, incorporated under this subchapter, may fix or limit in its by-laws the amount of stock which one member might own in said association.

(e) No member or stockholder shall be entitled to more than one vote.

(f) Any association organized with stock under this subchapter may issue preferred stock, with or without the right to vote. Such stock may be redeemable or retirable by the association on such terms and conditions as may be provided for by the articles of incorporation and printed on the face of the certificate.

(g) The by-laws shall prohibit the transfer of the common stock of the association to persons not engaged in the production of the agricultural products handled by the association, and such restrictions must be printed upon every certificate of stock subject thereto.

(h) The association may at any time, except when the debts of the association exceed fifty per cent (50%) of the assets thereof, buy in or purchase its common stock at book value thereof as conclusively determined by the board of directors, and pay for it in cash within one (1) year thereafter. (1921, c. 87, s. 14; 1935, c. 436, s. 2; C. S. 5259(u).)

§ 54-149. Removal of officer or director.—Any member may bring charges against an officer or director by filing them in writing with the secretary of the association, together with a petition signed by ten per cent of the members, requesting the removal of the officer or director in question. The removal shall be voted upon at the next regular or special meeting of the association, and by a vote of a majority of the members, the association may remove the officer or director and fill the vacancy. The director or officer against whom such charges have been brought shall be informed in writing of the charges previous to the meeting, and shall have an opportunity at the meeting to be heard in person or by counsel, and to present witnesses; and the person or persons bringing the charges against him shall have the same opportunity.

In case the by-laws provide for election of directors by districts, with primary elections in each district, then the petition for removal of a director must be signed by twenty per cent of the members residing in the district from which he was elected. The board of directors must call a special meeting of the members residing in that district to consider the removal of the director. By a vote of the majority of that district, the director in question shall be removed from office: Provided, that this section shall not apply to directors appointed under subsection (b) of § 54-146. (1921, c. 87, s. 15; C. S. 5259(v).)

§ 54-150. Referendum.—Upon demand of one-third of the entire board of directors, any matter that has been approved or passed by the board must be referred to the entire membership of the stockholders for decision at the next special or regular meeting: Provided, however, that a special meeting may be called for the purpose. (1921, c. 87, s. 16; C. S. 5259(w).)

Art. 21. Powers, Duties, and Liabilities.

§ 54-151. Powers. — Each association incorporated under this subchapter shall have the following powers:

(a) To engage in any activity in connection with the producing, marketing, selling, harvesting, preserving, drying, processing, canning, packing, storing, handling, or utilization of any agricultural products produced or delivered to it by its members and other farmers; or the manufacturing or marketing of the by-products thereof; or in connection with the purchase, hiring, or use by its members of supplies, machinery, or equipment; or in the financing of any such activities; or in any one or more of the activities specified in this section. No such association, during any fiscal year thereof, shall deal in or handle products, machinery, equipment, supplies, and/or perform services for and on behalf of non-members to an amount greater in value than such as are dealt in, handled, and/or performed by it for and on behalf of members during the same period.

(b) To borrow money and to make advances to members and other farmers who deliver agricultural products to the association.

(c) To act as the agent or representative of any member or members in any of the above mentioned activities.

(d) To purchase or otherwise acquire, and to hold, own, and exercise all rights or ownership in, and to sell, transfer, or pledge shares of the capital stock or bonds of any corporation or association engaged in any related activity or in the handling or marketing of any of the products handled by the association, or engaged in the financing of the association.

(e) To establish reserves and to invest the funds thereof in bonds or such other property as may be provided in the by-laws.

(f) To buy, hold, and exercise all privileges of ownership, over such real or personal property as may be necessary or convenient for the conducting and operation of any of the business of the association, or incidental thereto.

(g) To do each and everything necessary, suitable, or proper for the accomplishment of any one of the purposes or the attainment of any one or more of the objects herein enumerated; or conducive to or expedient for the interest or benefit of the association; and to contract accordingly; and in addition, to exercise and possess all powers, rights, and privileges necessary or incidental to the purposes for which the association is organized or to the activities in which it is engaged; and in addition, any other rights and powers, and privileges granted by the laws of this state to ordinary corporations, except such as are inconsistent with the express provisions of this subchapter; and to do any such thing anywhere. (1921, c. 87, s. 6; 1933, c. 350, ss. 3, 4; 1935, c. 230, ss. 7-9; C. S. 5259(x).)

§ 54-152. Marketing contract.—(a) The association and its members may make and execute marketing contracts, requiring the members to sell, for any period of time, not over ten years, all or any specified part of their agricultural products or specified commodities exclusively to or through the association or any facilities to be created by the association. The contract may provide that the association may sell or resell the products of its members, with or without taking title thereto, and pay over to its members the resale price, after deducting all necessary selling, overhead, and other costs and expenses, including interest on preferred stock, not exceeding eight per cent per annum, and reserve for retiring the stock, if any; and other proper reserves; and interest not exceeding eight per cent per annum upon common stock.

(b) The by-laws and the marketing contract may fix, as liquidated damages, specific sums to be paid by the member or stockholder to the association upon the breach by him of any provision of the marketing contract regarding the sale or delivery or withholding of products; and may further provide that the member will pay all costs, premiums for bonds, expenses and fees in case any action is brought upon the contract by the association; and any such provisions shall be valid and enforceable in the courts of this state.

(c) In the event of any such breach or threatened breach of such marketing contract by a member, the association shall be entitled to an injunction to prevent the further breach of the contract, and to a decree of specific performance thereof. Pending the adjudication of such an action, and upon filing a verified complaint showing the breach or threatened breach, and upon filing a sufficient bond, the association shall be entitled to a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction against the member. (1921, c. 87, s. 17; C. S. 5259(y).)

§ 54-153. Purchasing business of other associations, persons, firms, or corporations; payment; stock issued.—Whenever an association organized hereunder with preferred capital stock, shall purchase the stock or any property, or any interest in any property of any person, firm, or corporation or association, it may by agreement with the other party or parties to the transaction discharge the obligations so incurred, wholly or in part, by exchanging for the acquired interest shares of its preferred capital stock to an amount which at par value would equal a fair market value of the stock or interest so purchased, as determined by the board of directors. In that case the transfer to the association of the stock or interest purchased shall be equivalent to payment in cash for shares of stock issued. (1921, c. 87, s. 18; C. S. 5259(z).)

§ 54-154. Annual reports.—Each association formed under this subchapter shall prepare and make out an annual report on forms furnished by the division of markets, containing the name of the association, its principal place of business, and a general statement of its business operations during the fiscal year, showing the amount of capital stock paid up, and the number of stockholders of a stock association or the number of members and the amount of membership fees received, if a nonstock association; the total expenses of the operations; the amount of its indebtedness, or liability, and its balance sheets. (1921, c. 87, s. 19; C. S. 5259(aa).)

§ 54-155. Interest in other corporations or associations. — An association may organize, form, operate, own, control, have interest in, own stock of, or be a member of any other corporation or corporations, with or without capital stock, and engaged in preserving, drying, processing, canning, packing, storing, handling, shipping, utilizing, manufacturing, marketing, or selling of the agricultural products handled by the association, or the by-products thereof. If such corporations are warehousing corporations, they may issue legal warehouse receipts to the association, or to any other person, and such legal warehouse receipts shall be considered as adequate collateral to the extent of the current value of the commodity represented thereby. In case such warehouse is licensed or licensed and bonded under the laws of this state or the United States, its warehouse receipt shall not be challenged or discriminated against because of ownership or control, wholly or in part, by the association. (1921, c. 87, s. 22; C. S. 5259(bb).)

§ 54-156. Contracts and agreements with other associations.—Any association may, upon resolution adopted by its board of directors, enter into all necessary and proper contracts and agreements, and make all necessary and proper stipulations, agreements and contracts and arrangements with any other coöperative corporation, association, or associations, formed in this or in any other state, for the coöperative and more economical carrying on of its business, or any part or parts thereof. Any two or more associations may by agreement between them, unite in employing and using or may separately employ and use the same methods, means, and agencies for carrying on and conducting their respective businesses. (1921, c. 87, s. 23; C. S. 5259(cc).)

§ 54-157. Breach of marketing contract of coöperative association; spreading false reports about the finances or management thereof; misdemeanor.—Any person or persons, or any corporation whose officers or employees knowingly induces or attempts to induce any member or stockholder of an association organized hereunder to breach his marketing contract with the association, or who maliciously and knowingly spreads false reports about the finances or management thereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100), and not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), for such offense and shall be liable to the association aggrieved in a civil suit in the penal sum of five hundred dollars ($500) for each such offense: Provided, that this section shall not apply to a bona fide creditor of any member or stockholder of such association, or the agents or attorney of any such bona fide creditor, endeavoring to make collection of the indebtedness. (1921, c. 87, s. 25; C. S. 5259(dd).)

§ 54-158. Coöperative associations may form subsidiaries.—Nothing in this subchapter shall prevent an association organizing, forming, operating, owning, controlling, having an interest in, owning stock of, or being a member of any other corporation (hereinafter referred to as a subsidiary corporation) from including or having included in the charter or by-laws of such subsidiary corporation provisions for the control or management of said subsidiary corporation by such association to such extent as shall by votes of the board of directors of such association, and the majority of the stockholders of such subsidiary corporation, be declared to be for the best interests of said association and said subsidiary corporation respectively. Such provisions may be so included in any such charter or by-laws and may by way of illustration, but not of limitation, include the following:

1. Representation of said association on the board of directors or other governing body of said subsidiary corporation, upon such terms as may be deemed advisable.

2. Ownership by an association of an interest or interests in a subsidiary corporation represented by stock of any class thereof, or otherwise, to such extent and upon such terms, and with such voting power, as may be deemed advisable.

3. Participation by said association in the profits of such subsidiary corporation to such extent and upon such terms as shall be deemed advisable. (1933, c. 350, s. 1.)

Art. 1. Definitions.

§ 55-1. Definitions.—The following words and phrases where used in this chapter, unless differently defined or described, have the meanings and references stated below:

1. "Corporation" refers to a corporation which may be created and organized under this chapter, or under any other general or any special act.

2. "Certificate of incorporation" is the instrument filed by the incorporators and by which the corporation is formed.

3. The words "special act" refer to the act of the legislature enacted for the purpose of creating the corporation.

4. The word "charter" means either "certificate of incorporation" or "special act," together with all appropriate parts of this chapter and its amendments.

5. "Court," "superior court," or "judge of the superior court" means the judge of the superior court resident in the district or holding the courts of the district in which the corporation affected has its principal place of business.

6. "Receiver" as used in this chapter includes receivers and trustees appointed by the court, as herein provided. (Rev., ss. 1136, 1222, 1247; Code, s. 668; 1901, c. 2, ss. 7, 74, 111; C. S. 1113.)

Art. 2. Formation.

§ 55-2. How created.—Three or more persons who desire to engage in any business, or to form any company, society, or association, not unlawful, except railroads other than street railways, or banking or insurance, or building and loan associations, may be incorporated in the following manner only (except corporations created for charitable, educational or reformatory purposes that are to be and remain under the patronage and control of the state): Such persons shall, by a certificate of incorporation, under their hands and seals, set forth—

1. The name of the corporation. No name can be assumed which is already in use by (a) a domestic corporation, or (b) a foreign corporation authorized to do business under the laws of this State, or (c) a corporation which has heretofore or may hereafter sell its good will to any other person, firm or corporation, and notice thereof has been or may hereafter be filed in the office of the Secretary of State of North Carolina, and the filing fee of twenty-five dollars paid to the said Secretary of State: Provided, however, that the purchaser of the good will of such corporation, or his or its assigns, may be permitted to use the same name, or one similar thereto, of the corporation whose good will it has purchased. The prohibition of this paragraph shall extend to names so nearly resembling or deceptively similar to such existing corporate names as may be likely to mislead or deceive the public or tend to confusion of identity. The name adopted must end with the word "company," "corporation," "incorporated" or the abbreviation "inc.," and will not be accepted for filing unless approved by the secretary of state.

2. The location of its principal office in the state.

3. The object or objects for which the corporation is to be formed.

4. The amount of the total authorized capital stock, the number of shares into which it is divided, the par value of each share, the amount of capital stock with which it will commence business, and, if there is more than one class of stock, a description of the different classes. The provisions of this subsection shall not apply to religious, charitable, nonprofit social or literary corporations, unless they desire to have a capital stock. If they desire to have no capital stock, that fact and the conditions of membership shall be stated.

5. The names and postoffice addresses of the subscribers for stock and the number of shares subscribed for by each; the aggregate of the subscriptions shall be the amount of capital with which the corporation will commence business. If there is to be no capital stock, the certificate must contain the names and postoffice addresses of the incorporators.

6. The period, if any, limited for the duration of the corporation.

7. The certificate of incorporation may also contain any provision, consistent with the laws of this state, for the regulation of the affairs of the corporation, or creating, defining, limiting and regulating its powers, directors and stockholders, or any class or classes of the latter. (Rev., s. 1137; Code, s. 677; 1885, cc. 19, 190; 1889, c. 170; 1891, c. 257; 1893, cc. 244, 318; 1897, c. 204; 1899, c. 618; 1901, c. 2, s. 8, cc. 6, 41, 47; 1903, c. 453; 1911, c. 213, s. 1; 1913, c. 5, s. 1; Const., Art. 8, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 55; 1924, c. 98; 1935, cc. 166, 320; 1939, c. 222; C. S. 1114.)

§ 55-3. Requirements as to certificate of incorporation.—The certificate of incorporation shall be signed by the original stock subscribers, or a majority of them, and must be acknowledged before an officer duly authorized under the laws of this state to take the proof or acknowledgment of deeds. The certificate shall then be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and there remain of record, and he shall, if it is in accordance with law, cause it to be recorded in his office in a book to be kept for that purpose and known as the Corporation Book. Upon the payment of the organization tax and fees, the secretary of state shall certify under his official seal a copy of the certificate of incorporation and probates, which certified copy shall be forthwith recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county where the principal office of the corporation in this state is, or is to be, established, in a book to be known as the Record of Incorporations. The certificate, or a copy thereof, duly certified by the secretary of state, or by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which it is recorded, is evidence in all courts and places, and in all judicial proceedings is prima facie evidence of the complete incorporation and organization of the corporation purporting thereby to have been established. (Rev., s. 1139; Code, ss. 678, 679, 682; 1901, c. 2, s. 9; 1903, c. 343; C. S. 1115.)

§ 55-4. When incorporators become corporation.—From the date the certificate of incorporation is filed in the office of the secretary of state, the stock subscribers, their successors and assigns, are a body corporate by the name specified in the certificate, subject to amendment and dissolution as provided in this chapter. (Rev., s. 1140; 1901, c. 2, s. 10; C. S. 1116.)

§ 55-5. Incorporators act until directors elected.—Until directors are elected the signers of the certificate of incorporation shall have the direction of the affairs of the corporation, and may take proper steps to obtain the necessary subscription to stock and to perfect the organization of the corporation. (Rev., s. 1141; 1901, c. 2, s. 11; C. S. 1117.)

§ 55-6. First meeting; notice.—The first meeting of every corporation shall be called by a notice, signed by a majority of the incorporators, designating the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, which notice shall be published at least two weeks before the meeting, in a newspaper of the county where the corporation is established; or the meeting may be called without publication, if two days notice is personally served on all the incorporators; or if all the incorporators in writing waive notice and fix a time and place of meeting, no notice or publication is required. (Rev., s. 1142; Code, s. 665; 1901, c. 2, s. 18; C. S. 1118.)

§ 55-7. Death of incorporators; vacancy filled.—When one or more of the incorporators of any corporation die before the corporation has been organized pursuant to law, the survivor or survivors may, in writing, designate others who may take the place and act instead of the deceased, in the organization; and the organization so effected by their aid is as effectual in law as if it had been effected by all the original incorporators. (Rev., s. 1143; 1901, c. 2, s. 36; C. S. 1119.)

§ 55-8. Errors or omissions in certificate of incorporation.—Whenever in the certificate of incorporation under any general law there is an error or omission in the recital of the act under which the corporation is created or an error or omission of any matter required to be stated therein, it is lawful for the corporation to correct the error or supply the omission in the following manner: The board of directors shall pass a resolution declaring that the error or omission exists and that the corporation desires to correct it, and shall call a meeting of the stockholders to take action upon the resolution. The stockholders' meeting shall be held upon such notice as the by-laws provide, and in the absence of such provision, upon ten days notice, given personally or by mail. If two-thirds in interest of all the stockholders vote in favor of the correction of the error or omission, a certificate of their action shall be made and signed by the president and secretary under the corporate seal; which certificate shall be acknowledged as in the case of deeds of real estate, and, together with the written consent in person or by proxy of two-thirds in interest of all the stockholders of the corporation, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Upon the filing thereof, in conformity with this section, the certificate of incorporation has the same force and effect as if it had been originally drafted in conformity with the amendment so made. (Rev., s. 1144; 1901, c. 2, s. 109; C. S. 1120.)

§ 55-9. Street railways.—Corporations may be organized under the provisions of this chapter for the purpose of building, maintaining or operating street railways. The term street railways, wherever used in this chapter, includes railways operated either by steam or electricity, or other motive power, used and operated as means of communication between different points in the same municipality, or between points in municipalities lying adjacent or near to each other, or between the municipality in which is the home office of the company and the territory contiguous thereto, and such railways may carry and deliver freights. No such railway may operate a line extending in any direction more than one hundred miles from the municipality in which is located its home office, or in any city or town without the consent of the municipal authorities thereof. (Rev., s. 1138; 1901, cc. 6, 41; 1903, c. 350; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 70, s. 1; C. S. 1121.)

§ 55-10. Securities and loan companies.—Corporations may be formed under the provisions of this chapter to conduct the business of selling securities and bonds of any kind, including its own bonds and choses in action, on the partial payment, installment, or other plan of payment, and to loan money on mortgage, personal, or other security, and to collect interest in advance on the same, and to charge a fee of $1 for investigating the loan, but no fee shall be charged for a renewal of the loan. A corporation chartered by another state or by a foreign state, kingdom, or government, having in its charter the power to conduct the business described in this section, may become domesticated in this state in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided in § 55-118; but such company must also file with the secretary of state a statement, verified by its president and secretary, showing that its paid-up cash capital is at least $100,000 and that it has complied with all the requirements of the laws of the state of its creation. The business of such corporation in this state is restricted to the business described in this section. Such corporation is liable to pay the franchise tax imposed by the chapter entitled Taxation, and also an ad valorem tax on all of its real and personal property situate in this state. No foreign corporation domesticated under this section is required to pay any other taxes or license fees than those named herein. (1909, c. 502; 1915, c. 189; C. S. 1122.)

§ 55-11. Public parks and drives.—Three or more persons may be incorporated under this chapter for the purpose of creating and maintaining public parks and drives. It is not necessary, however, to set forth in the certificate of incorporation of any corporation created for such purpose the amount of authorized capital stock, the number of shares into which the same is divided, the par value of such stock, or the amount of capital stock with which it will commence business. Any corporation created hereunder shall have full power and authority to lay out, manage, and control parks and drives within the state, under such rules and regulations as the corporation may prescribe, and shall have power to purchase and hold property and take gifts or donations for such purpose. It may hold property and exercise such powers and trust for any town, city, township, or county, in connection with which said parks and drives shall be maintained. Any city, town, township, or county, holding such property, may vest and transfer the same to any such corporation for the purpose of controlling and maintaining the same as public parks and drives under such regulations and subject to such conditions as may be determined upon by such city, town, township, or county. All such lands as the corporation may acquire shall be held in trust as public parks and drives, and shall be held open to the public under such rules, laws, and regulations as the corporation may adopt through its board of directors; and it shall have power and authority to make and adopt all such laws and regulations as it may determine upon for the reasonable management of such parks and drives. All property owned by it and appropriated exclusively for public parks and drives shall not be subject to taxation, and no such corporation shall be liable in damages on account of the construction or maintenance of any such parks or drives. (1911, c. 155, ss. 1, 2, 3, 4; C. S. 1123.)

Local Modification.—Scotland: 1939, c. 359, s. 1.

§ 55-12. Word "trust" in corporate name.—No corporation may be chartered under the laws of North Carolina with the word "trust" as a part of its name except those reporting to and under the supervision of the commissioner of banks; nor may any corporate name be amended to include the word "trust" unless the corporation is under such supervision. (1915, c. 196, s. 2; 1931, c. 243, ss. 4, 5; C. S. 1124.)

§ 55-13. Certain religious, etc., associations deemed incorporated.—In all cases where a religious, educational or charitable association has been formed prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and has since said date been acting as a corporation, exercising the powers and performing the duties of religious, educational or charitable corporations as prescribed by the laws of this state, then such association shall be conclusively presumed to have been duly and regularly organized and existing as a corporation under the laws of this state on January first, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four, and all of its acts as a corporation from and after said date, if otherwise valid, are hereby declared to be valid corporate acts. (1919, c. 137; C. S. 1125.)

Art. 3. North Carolina State Thrift Society.

§ 55-14. North Carolina state thrift society incorporated.—In order the better to provide for the education of the school children of the state in the principles and practice of thrift and saving and in order to aid them in making better provision for their future advanced education, there is hereby created under the patronage and control of the state a non-stock corporation to be known as the North Carolina state thrift society. (1933, c. 385, s. 1.)

§ 55-15. Charter perpetual.—The charter of the society shall be perpetual. (1933, c. 385, s. 2.)

§ 55-16. Membership and directors.—The membership of the society shall be identical with the membership of the governing board, which shall consist of sixteen directors. The state treasurer, the superintendent of public instruction, the president of the North Carolina bankers association and the president of the University of North Carolina shall throughout their terms of office be ex officio members of the board. The remaining twelve members of the board shall be appointed by the governor for successive terms of four years each, and shall be equally divided between the business and financial and the educational interests of the state, six members to each of the named groups: Provided that at least four of those representing business must be experienced bankers. (1933, c. 385, s. 3.)

§ 55-17. Vacancies.—In the event of a vacancy occurring before the expiration of the terms of office of any director, the board by a majority vote of its full membership, including ex officio members, shall have power to elect persons to fill out the unexpired terms. (1933, c. 385, s. 4.)

§ 55-18. Officers of society.—The officers of the society shall be elected by the board, and shall include a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer and auditor. The treasurer of the society shall be responsible for the funds of the society, and shall furnish good and sufficient surety in such amount as may be fixed from time to time by the board of directors. (1933, c. 385, s. 5; 1935, c. 489, s. 1.)

§ 55-19. Powers of purchase and sale.—The society shall have power and authority to purchase, lease and otherwise acquire such real and personal property as may be deemed useful to the prosecution of the objects for which it is created. It may sell and dispose of the same and may hold or may sell and convey such property also as may be taken in whole or partial satisfaction of any debt due to it. It may also receive gifts of money and property to be applied to its corporate purposes. (1933, c. 385, s. 6.)

§ 55-20. Deposits of school children.—The society may receive deposits of the funds of children and others attending any of the public schools or colleges of North Carolina, as provided in § 55-25, and subject to repayment on terms established by the board, provided that no individual account may exceed $1,000. (1933, c. 385, s. 7.)

§ 55-21. Depositories.—The funds in the treasurer's hands may be deposited by him, to his credit, with banks which are members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. In no case may the amount in any one bank exceed the amount covered by insurance. The interest accruing and paid on such deposits shall be added to the funds of the society. (1933, c. 385, s. 8; 1935, c. 489, s. 2.)

§ 55-22. Exemption from taxation.—Neither deposits in the society nor its property, investments and assets shall at any time be subject to taxation by the state of North Carolina or any of its sub-divisions, except that gift, inheritance or estate taxes may be levied on the transfer of private deposits in the society. (1933, c. 385, s. 9.)

§ 55-23. Investments.—The funds of the society may, at the discretion of the board, be invested in obligations of the United States Government, or of the State of North Carolina, or deposited as previously provided in § 55-21. (1933, c. 385, s. 11; 1935, c. 489, s. 4.)

§ 55-24. No expense to state.—Provided, that no liability of any kind shall rest on the state of North Carolina by reason of this article. (1933, c. 385, s. 12; 1935, c. 489, s. 5.)

§ 55-25. Thrift instruction provided by superintendent of public instruction in schools. — Within 150 days from May 13, 1933, the state superintendent of public instruction shall provide in the public schools of the state for instruction in thrift and the principles, practice and advantage of saving.

In connection with the instruction so provided arrangements shall be made at each school for the receiving of students' savings deposits into the North Carolina state thrift society, subject to its rules and on the terms provided therein.

The administration of the system in each school shall be in charge of one or more of the teachers in said school to be designated by the principal.

The savings deposits shall be transmitted to the treasurer of the said society from time to time, in accordance with rules to be established by the governing board of the North Carolina state thrift society, and shall be held for the purposes declared in the charter of the said society. (1933, c. 481, ss. 1-4; 1935, c. 489, s. 6.)

Art. 4. Powers and Restrictions.

§ 55-26. Express powers.—Every corporation has power—

1. To have succession, by its corporate name, for the period limited in its charter, and when the charter contains no time limit, for a period of sixty years.

2. To sue and be sued in any court.

3. To make, use, and alter a common seal.

4. To purchase, acquire by devise or bequest, hold and convey real and personal property in or out of the state, and to mortgage the same and its franchises.

5. To elect and appoint, in such manner as it determines to be proper, all necessary officers and agents, fix their compensation, and define their duties and obligations. And when there devolves upon an officer or agent of a corporation such duties and responsibilities that a financial loss would result to the corporation from the death and consequent loss of the services of such officer or agent, the corporation has an insurable interest in, and the power to insure the life of, the officer or agent for its benefit and in all cases where a religious, educational or charitable corporation or institution shall be, or has been, named as beneficiary in any policy of life insurance by a friend, student, former student or any person who for any reason is loyal to such corporation or institution and has himself or herself paid the premiums on said policy, then such corporation or institution shall be deemed to have an insurable interest in the life of such person.

6. To conduct business in this state, other states, the District of Columbia, the territories, dependencies and colonies of the United States, and in foreign countries, and have offices in or out of the state.

7. To make by-laws and regulations, consistent with its charter and the laws of the state, for its own government, and for the due and orderly conduct of its affairs and management of its property.

8. To wind up and dissolve itself, or be wound up and dissolved, in the manner hereafter mentioned.

9. To sell, transfer and convey any part of its corporate property in the course of its regular business.

10. To sell, transfer and convey any part of its corporate real or personal property when authorized so to do by its board of directors.

11. To sell, transfer and convey all of its corporate property when authorized so to do by its board of directors and approved by a two-thirds vote of the stock entitled to vote at any stockholders meeting, notice of which contains notice of the proposed sale: Provided, paragraph nine, ten and eleven of this section shall not be construed as authorizing any public utility corporation to sell or convey all of its property otherwise than under the terms prescribed in its charter, or as authorizing the sale of stock in bulk, in violation of the Bulk Sales Law. (Rev., s. 1128; Code, ss. 663, 666, 691, 692, 693; 1893, c. 159; 1901, c. 2, s. 1; 1909, c. 507, s. 1; 1925, c. 235; 1925, c. 298; 1929, c. 269; 1939, c. 279; C. S. 1126.)

§ 55-27. By-laws.—A corporation may, by its by-laws, when consistent with its charter, determine the manner of calling and conducting all meetings; the number of members that constitute a quorum, but in no case shall more than a majority of shares or amount of interest be required to be represented at any meeting in order to constitute a quorum, and if the quorum is not so determined by the corporation, a majority in interest of the stockholders, represented either in person or by proxy, constitutes a quorum; the number of shares that will entitle the members to one or more votes; the mode of voting by proxy; the mode of selling shares for the nonpayment of assessments; the tenure of office of the several officers, and the manner in which vacancies in any of the offices shall be filled till a regular election; and they may annex suitable penalties to such by-laws, not exceeding in any case the sum of twenty dollars for any one offense. The power to make and alter by-laws is in the stockholders, but a corporation may, in the certificate of incorporation, confer that power upon the directors. By-laws made by the directors under power so conferred may be altered or repealed by the stockholders. (Rev., ss. 1145, 1146; Code, s. 664; 1901, c. 2, ss. 12, 13; C. S. 1127.)

§ 55-28. Implied powers.—In addition to the powers enumerated in §§ 55-26 and 55-27 and the powers specified in its charter, every corporation, its officers, directors and stockholders, possess all the powers and privileges contained in this chapter so far as they are necessary or convenient to the attainment of the objects set forth in such charter, and shall be governed by the provisions and be subject to the restrictions and liabilities in this chapter contained, so far as they are applicable to and not inconsistent with such charter; and no corporation may possess or exercise any other corporate powers, except such incidental powers as are necessary to the exercise of the powers so given. Nothing in this chapter shall authorize or empower corporations organized under this chapter to lease, operate, maintain, manage or control any railroad except street railways. (Rev., s. 1129; Code, s. 701; 1897, c. 204; 1901, c. 2, s. 4; 1901, c. 6; C. S. 1128.)

§ 55-29. Banking powers not conferred by this chapter.—No corporation created under the provisions of this chapter shall have the power to carry on the business of discounting bills, notes or other evidences of debt, of receiving deposits of money, of buying gold or silver bullion or foreign coins, of buying and selling bills of exchange, or of issuing bills, notes or other evidences of debt, upon loan, or for circulation as money; but in the transaction of its business it may make and take and indorse, when necessary, all such bonds, notes and bills of exchange as the business may require. (Rev., s. 1134; Code, s. 684; 1901, c. 2, s. 5; C. S. 1129.)

§ 55-30. Amendments before payment of stock.—The incorporators of a corporation, before the payment of any part of its capital, may file with the secretary of state an amended certificate of incorporation, duly signed and acknowledged by the incorporators named in the original certificate, changing the original certificate of incorporation, in whole or in part, which amended certificate takes the place of the original one, and when recorded in the proper county is deemed to have been filed and recorded on the date of filing and recording the original certificate. The officers are entitled to the same fees for filing and recording the amended certificate of incorporation as if it were original; but there shall be charged no additional organization tax, except when the certificate is amended by increasing the capital stock, in which event such tax shall be paid upon the increase. (Rev., s. 1174; 1901, c. 2, s. 28; C. S. 1130.)

§ 55-31. Amendments, generally.—A corporation, whether organized under a special act or general laws, and which might now be created under the provisions of this chapter, may, in the manner set out below—

1. Change the nature or relinquish one or more branches of its business, or extend its business to such other branches as might have been inserted in its original certificate of incorporation.
2. Change its name.
3. Extend its corporate existence.
4. Increase or decrease its capital stock.
5. Change the par value of the shares of its capital stock.
6. Create one or more classes of preferred stock.
7. Make any other desired amendment. In all cases the certificate of amendment can contain only such provisions as could be lawfully and properly inserted in an original certificate of incorporation filed at the time of making the amendment.

The board of directors shall pass a resolution declaring that the amendment is advisable, and call a meeting of the stockholders to take action thereon; the meeting shall be held upon such notice as the by-laws provide, and in the absence of such provision, upon ten days notice, given personally or by mail; if the holders of a majority of the shares of stock with voting powers vote in favor of the amendment, a certificate thereof shall be signed by the president and secretary, under the corporate seal, acknowledged as in the case of deeds to real estate, and this certificate, together with the written assent, in person or by proxy, of said stockholders, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state. Upon such filing the secretary of state shall issue a certified copy thereof, which shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is recorded, and thereupon the certificate of incorporation is amended accordingly. The certificate of the secretary of state, under his official seal, that such certificate of amendment and assent have been filed in his office, is evidence of the amendment in all courts and places. A corporation which cannot now be created under the provisions of this chapter may, except as otherwise provided by law, in like manner increase or decrease its capital stock, or change its name, or extend its corporate existence: Provided, that before the Secretary of State shall issue a certificate of such amendment to any corporation possessing powers, franchises, privileges or immunities, which could not be obtained under this chapter, he shall forthwith transmit to the Commissioner of Banks or the Utilities Commission, as the case may be, a copy of said certificate and shall not issue or record the same until duly authorized so to do by the Commissioner of Banks or the Utilities Commission, as the case may be, as provided for the issuing of certificates of incorporation of banks in the chapter entitled, "Banks", provided that nothing herein shall be construed to require the increase of the capital stock of a bank renewing its charter over the capital of such bank at the time such renewal is applied for.

Any corporation organized on or after March 4, 1925, may insert a provision in its charter that amendments to said charter may be made or amendments to said charter in certain specified respects may be made only when such amendments shall be approved by the holders of such amount of the stock of the corporation (not less than a majority of the shares of stock with voting powers) or such amount of each class of stock as may be specified in said charter and any corporation heretofore organized may by vote of the holders of a majority of the stock entitled to vote amend its charter at any stockholders' meeting, notice of which contains notice of the proposed amendment so as to provide the vote of stockholders (not less than a majority of the stock entitled to vote) required to enable the corporation to amend its charter or to amend it in certain specified respects: Provided, however, that no new class of stock shall hereafter be created by amendment of the charter or otherwise entitled to dividends or shares in distribution of assets in priority to any class of preferred stock already outstanding except with the consent of the holders of record of two-thirds (or such greater amount as may be specified in the charter) of the number of shares of such outstanding preferred stock having voting powers: Provided, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to banks and building and loan associations. (Rev., ss. 1175, 1178; 1893, c. 380; 1899, c. 618; 1901, c. 2, ss. 29, 30, 37; 1903, c. 516; 1925, c. 118, ss. 1, 2a; 1927, c. 142; 1931, c. 243, ss. 4, 5; 1933, c. 134, ss. 7, 8; 1941, c. 97, s. 5; C. S. 1131.)

§ 55-32. Inadvertent omission to file amendment extending corporate existence.—Any private corporation chartered under the general laws of the State of North Carolina whose period of existence fixed in its charter has expired and which corporation has continued to act and do business as a corporation, but has through inadvertence, omitted to file an amendment extending the period of its corporate existence, may at any time after the expiration of the period of corporate existence set forth in its original charter, file an amended certificate in the office of the Secretary of State as provided by § 55-31 to extend or renew its corporate existence, as provided for in the amended certificate; provided, this section shall not serve to impair the validity of any contract or vested right in existence at the time of the filing of said amended charter. All acts of such a corporation, purporting to be the acts of the corporation, done or performed after the expiration of its period of existence and before the amendment to its charter, shall be legal and valid as the acts and deeds of said corporation. (1929, c. 271; 1935, c. 6.)

§ 55-33. Amendments by charitable, educational, penal, reformatory, etc., corporations.—A charitable, educational, social, ancestral, historical, penal, or reformatory corporation not under the patronage or control of the state, and any corporation, without capital stock, organized for the purpose of aiding in the work of any church, religious society or organization, or fraternal order whether organized under a special act or general laws, may change its name, extend its corporate existence, change the manner in which its directors, trustees or managers are elected or appointed, abolish its present method of electing such officers and create a different method of election, and generally reorganize the manner of conducting such corporation, and make any other amendment of its charter desired, in the following manner: The board of directors, trustees, or managers shall pass a resolution declaring that the amendment is advisable, and call a meeting of trustees, managers, and directors to take action thereon. The meeting shall be held upon such notice as the by-laws provide, and in the absence of such provision, upon ten days notice given personally or by mail. If two-thirds of the directors, trustees, or managers of the corporation vote in favor of the amendment, a certificate thereof shall be signed by the president and secretary under the corporate seal, acknowledged as provided in the case of deeds to real estate, and such certificate, together with the written assent in person or proxy of two-thirds of the directors, trustees, or managers, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and upon filing it he shall issue a certified copy thereof, which shall be recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the original certificate of incorporation is recorded, or in which the corporation is doing business, and thereupon the certificate of incorporation shall be deemed amended accordingly. Such certificate of amendment may contain only such provision as it would be lawful and proper to insert in an original certificate of incorporation made at the time of making the amendment, and the certificate of the secretary of state, under his official seal, that such certificate and assent has been filed in his office shall be taken and accepted as evidence of such amendment in all courts. (1917, c. 62, s. 1; 1925, c. 42; 1925, c. 257; C. S. 1132.)

§ 55-34. Change of location of principal office.—The board of directors of a corporation organized under the laws of this state may, by resolution adopted at a regular or special meeting by a two-thirds vote of its members, change the location of the principal office of the corporation in the state. A copy of the resolution, signed by the president and secretary of the corporation and sealed with the corporate seal, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. No certificate need be filed of the removal of an office from one point to another in the same town, city, or township. (Rev., s. 1176; 1901, c. 2, s. 31; C. S. 1133.)

§ 55-35. Curative act; amendments prior to 1901.—All amendments to the plan of incorporation of any corporation organized under the provisions of the general laws of North Carolina prior to the passage of the act entitled "An act to revise the corporation law of North Carolina," being chapter two, public laws of nineteen hundred and one, are declared to be valid in all respects, whether such amendments were made in accordance with the provisions of chapter three hundred and eighty of the public laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-three or in accordance with the provisions of chapter two of the public laws of nineteen hundred and one; but no amendment shall be validated by this section unless it is an amendment of such nature as is authorized to be made under the provisions of chapter two of the public laws of nineteen hundred and one. (Rev., s. 1248; 1905, c. 316; C. S. 1134.)

§ 55-36. Amendment or repeal of this chapter; a part of all charters.—This chapter may be amended or repealed by the legislature, and every corporation is bound thereby; but such amendment or repeal shall not take away or impair any remedy against the corporation, or its officers, for any liability which has been previously incurred. This chapter and all amendments are a part of the charter of every corporation formed hereunder, so far as the same are applicable and appropriate to the objects of the corporation. (Rev., s. 1136; 1901, c. 2, s. 7; C. S. 1135.)

§ 55-37. Name must be displayed.—The name of every corporation must be at all times conspicuously displayed at the entrance of its principal office in this state, and in default thereof for sixty days the corporation is liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars, to be recovered with costs, by the state, in an action to be prosecuted by or under the direction of the attorney-general. (Rev., s. 1242; 1901, c. 2, s. 50; C. S. 1136.)

§ 55-38. Resident process agent.—Every corporation having property or doing business in this state, whether incorporated under its laws or not, shall have an officer or agent in the state upon whom process in all actions or proceedings against it can be served. A corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section is liable to a forfeiture of its charter, or to the revocation of its license to do business in this state. In the latter event, process in an action or proceeding against the corporation may be served upon the secretary of state by leaving a true copy thereof with him, and he shall mail the copy to the president, secretary or other officer of the corporation upon whom, if residing in this state, service could be made. For this service to be performed by the secretary, he shall receive a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the party at whose instance the service was made. (Rev., s. 1243; 1901, c. 5; C. S. 1137.)

§ 55-39. Process agent in county where principal office located; service on inactive corporations.—Every corporation chartered under the laws of North Carolina shall have an officer or agent in the county where its principal office is located upon whom process can be had, and shall at all times keep on file with the secretary of state the name and address of such process officer or agent, and upon the return of any sheriff or other officer of such county that such corporation or process officer or agent cannot be found, service may be had upon such corporation by leaving a copy with the secretary of state, who shall mail the copy so served upon him to the process agent or officer at the address last given and on file with him, or if none, to the corporation at the address given in its charter; and any such corporation so served shall be in court for all purposes from and after the date of such service on the secretary of state.

For service as above provided to be performed by the secretary of state he shall receive a fee of one dollar ($1.00), to be paid by the party at whose instance the service is made.

This section shall not be in derogation of any other act or law pertaining to the service of summons or process, but shall be in addition thereto. (1937, c. 133, ss. 1-3.)

§ 55-40. Corporate conveyances; when void as to torts.—Any corporation may convey lands, and other property which is transferable by deed, by deed sealed with the common seal and signed in its name by the president, a vice-president, presiding member or trustee, and two other members of the corporation, and attested by a witness, or by deed sealed with the common seal and signed in its name by the president, a vice-president, presiding member or trustee, and attested by the secretary or assistant secretary of the company. But any conveyance of its property, whether absolutely or upon condition, executed by a public service corporation, is void as to torts committed by such corporation prior to the execution of said deed, if persons injured, or their representatives, commence proceedings or actions to enforce their claims against said corporation within sixty days after the registration of said deed as required by law. (Rev., s. 1130; Code, s. 685; 1891, c. 118; 1893, c. 95, s. 2; 1899, c. 235, s. 17; 1901, c. 2, s. 2; 1903, c. 660, s. 1; 1905, c. 114; 1929, cc. 28, 189, 256; 1931, c. 238; C. S. 1138.)

§ 55-41. Certain corporate conveyances validated.—All deeds and conveyances of land in this state, made by any corporation of this state prior to January first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, executed in its corporate name and signed and attested by its proper officers, from which the corporate seal was omitted, shall be good and valid, notwithstanding the failure to attach said corporate seal. (1939, c. 23.)

§ 55-42. Conveyances by corporations owned by the United States government.—The home owners' loan corporation and any corporation, the majority of whose stock is owned by the United States government, may convey lands, and/or other property which is transferable by deed which is duly executed by either an officer, manager, or agent of said corporation, sealed with the common seal and has attached thereto a signed and attested resolution under seal of the board of directors of said corporation authorizing the said officer, manager, or agent to execute, sign, seal and attest deeds, conveyances and/or other instruments.

All deeds, conveyances and/or other instruments which have been executed prior to March 15, 1941 in the manner prescribed above, if otherwise sufficient, shall be valid, and shall have the effect to pass the title to the real and/or personal property described therein.

To the extent as modified in this section the provisions of § 55-40 shall not apply to conveyances executed by the corporations herein referred to. (1941, c. 294.)

§ 55-43. Conditional sale contracts.—Contracts, in writing, for the purchase of personal property by corporations, providing for a lien on the property or the retention of the title thereto by the vendor as a security for the purchase price, or any part thereof, are sufficiently executed if signed in the name of the corporation by the president, secretary or treasurer in his official capacity, and may be acknowledged and ordered to registration as is provided by law for the execution, acknowledgment and registration of deeds by natural persons. (1909, c. 335, s. 1; C. S. 1139.)

§ 55-44. Mortgaged property subject to execution for labor, clerical services, and torts.—Mortgages of public service corporations upon their property or earnings cannot exempt said property or earnings from execution for the satisfaction of any judgment obtained in courts of the state against such corporations for labor and clerical services performed, or torts committed whereby any person is killed or any person or property injured. (Rev., s. 1131; Code, s. 1255; 1879, c. 101; 1897, c. 334; 1901, c. 2, s. 3; 1915, c. 201, s. 1; 1929, cc. 29, 256; 1931, c. 238; C. S. 1140.)

§ 55-45. Gas and electric power companies.—Gas and electric light and power companies have power to lay, extend, construct, erect, maintain, repair and remove all necessary or convenient towers, poles, cable wires, conductors, lamps, fixtures, appliances, and appurtenances upon, through and over any roads, streets, avenues, lanes, alleys and bridges within and near any city, town or village where said company is located; and all such roads, streets, lanes, alleys and bridges shall be left in as good condition as they were in at the time of using them as aforesaid: Provided, that the rights and privileges conferred in this section shall not be exercised unless the authorities of such city, town or village first give their consent, and afterwards the said authorities shall have full power to control the location of all towers, poles, wires, conductors and all other fixtures, appliances and appurtenances belonging to or operated by any of said companies. (Rev., s. 1133; 1889 (Pr.), c. 35, s. 2; C. S. 1141.)

§ 55-46. Trust companies and word "trust."—No person, firm, association or corporation domiciled in the state of North Carolina, except corporations reporting to and under the supervision of the Commissioner of Banks of this state, may therein advertise any sign as a trust company or in any way solicit or receive deposits or transact business as a trust company, or use the word "trust" as a part of his or its name or title. This section shall not prevent any individual, as such, from acting in any trust capacity as heretofore. A violation of this section is a misdemeanor, and on conviction the offender shall be fined not exceeding five hundred dollars for each offense: Provided, however, that it shall be lawful for any corporation incorporated prior to January 1, 1905, to retain the word "trust" in the name of said corporation, though it does not transact a banking business or such other business as requires its examination by the Commissioner of Banks. (1915, c. 196, s. 3; 1919, c. 108; 1931, c. 243, ss. 4, 5; C. S. 1142.)

§ 55-47. Actions by attorney-general to prevent ultra vires acts, etc.—In the following cases the attorney-general may, in the name of the state, upon his own information, or upon the complaint of a private party, bring an action against the offending parties for the purpose of—

1. Restraining by injunction a corporation from assuming or exercising any franchise or transacting any business not allowed by its charter.
2. Restraining any person from exercising corporate franchises not granted.
3. Bringing directors, managers, and officers of a corporation, or the trustees of funds given for a public or charitable purpose, to an account for the management and disposition of the property confided to their care.
4. Removing such officers or trustees upon proof of gross misconduct.
5. Securing, for the benefit of all interested, the said property or funds.
6. Setting aside and restraining improper alienations of the said property or funds.
7. Generally compelling the faithful performance of duty and preventing all fraudulent practices, embezzlement, and waste. (Rev., s. 1197; Code, ss. 607, 686; 1901, c. 2, s. 107; C. S. 1143.)

Art. 5. Directors and Officers.

§ 55-48. Directors.—The business of every corporation shall be managed by its directors, who must be at least three in number, and at all times bona fide stockholders or the guardian of a bona fide stockholder, or the executor or administrator of the estate of a deceased bona fide stockholder, or a director in a corporation which is a bona fide stockholder, in case the corporation is one issuing stock. A corporation may, by its certificate of incorporation or by-laws, determine the number of shares a stockholder must own to qualify him as a director. The directors shall be chosen annually by the stockholders at the time and place provided in the by-laws, and shall hold office for one year and until others are chosen and qualified in their stead; but by so providing in its certificate of incorporation, a corporation may classify its directors in respect to the time for which they will severally hold office, the several classes to be elected for different terms, but no class may be elected for a shorter period than one year, or for a longer period than five years, and the term of office of at least one class must expire in each year. A corporation which has more than one kind of stock may, by so providing in its certificate of incorporation, confer the right to choose the directors of any class upon the stockholders of such class, to the exclusion of the others. One director of every corporation of this state shall be, and only one need be, an actual resident of the state, notwithstanding the provisions of the charter or any other act. (Rev., ss. 1147, 1148; 1901, c. 2, ss. 14, 44; 1937, c. 179; C. S. 1144.)

§ 55-49. Officers, agents, and vacancies.—Every corporation organized under this chapter shall have a president, secretary, and treasurer, to be chosen either by the directors or stockholders, as the by-laws direct, and they shall hold office until others are chosen and qualified in their stead; the president shall be chosen from among the directors; the secretary shall record all the votes of the corporation and directors in a book to be kept for that purpose, and perform such other duties as are assigned to him; the treasurer may be required to give bond for the faithful discharge of his duty in such sum, and with such surety or sureties, as are required by the by-laws. Any two of these offices may be held by the same person, if the body electing so determine. The corporation may have such other officers and agents, who shall be chosen in the manner and hold office for the terms, and upon the conditions, prescribed by the by-laws or determined by the board of directors. Any vacancy occurring among the directors, or in the office of president, secretary or treasurer, shall be filled in the manner provided for in the by-laws; in the absence of such provision the vacancy shall be filled by the board of directors. (Rev., ss. 1149, 1150, 1151; 1901, c. 2, ss. 15, 16, 17; C. S. 1145.)

§ 55-50. Books to be audited on request of stockholders.—Upon request of twenty-five per cent of the stockholders, or of any stockholder or stockholders owning twenty-five per cent of the capital stock, of a private corporation organized under the laws of North Carolina and doing business in this state, it is the duty of the officers of the corporation to have all of its books audited by a competent accountant, so that its financial status may be ascertained. Upon refusal or failure of the corporation to commence the auditing of its books within thirty days after such request, the requesting stockholder or stockholders, after ten days notice to the corporation, may apply to the judge of the district, or to the judge holding the courts of the district, in which the corporation has its residence, either at chambers or term time, at any place in the district, and the judge shall appoint an auditor and require the books to be audited at the expense of the corporation. The officers of the corporation shall render to the auditor any assistance or information they can, and give him access to all of the assets, books, papers, etc., relating to the affairs of the corporation, in order that a proper audit may be made. Upon completion of the audit the auditor shall render a statement to the corporation, and to the petitioning stockholder or stockholders. (1911, c. 174, s. 1; 1913, c. 76, s. 1; C. S. 1146.)

§ 55-51. Loans to stockholders.—No loan of money may be made to a stockholder or officer of a corporation, and if any is made, the officers who made it or assented thereto are jointly and severally liable, to the extent of such loan and interest, for all the debts of the corporation until the repayment of the sum loaned. (Rev., s. 1160; 1901, c. 2, s. 53; C. S. 1147.)

§ 55-52. Forfeiture of corporate charter and organization of new corporation. — Wherever a corporation created under the laws of the state of North Carolina has, on account of failure to make reports to the different state authorities, for such a length of time as to lose its charter and where thereafter, under the laws of the state of North Carolina, a new charter is issued, in the same name as the original corporation, and on behalf of the same corporation, such new corporation shall succeed to the same properties, to the same rights as the original corporation before losing its charter on account of neglect hereinbefore mentioned.

Whenever such new corporation shall have been created, under the laws of this state, all the title, rights and emoluments to the property held by the original corporation shall inure to the benefit of the newer corporation and the new corporation shall issue its stock to the stockholders in the defunct corporation, in the same number and with the same par value as held by the stockholders of the defunct corporation.

Such new corporation shall have the rights and privileges of maintaining any action or cause of action which the defunct corporation might maintain, bring or defend and to all intents and purposes the new corporation shall take the place of the defunct corporation to the same intent and purposes as if the defunct corporation had never expired by reason of its failure to make the reports hereinbefore referred to. (1933, c. 124.)

§ 55-53. Secretary of state may call for special reports.—The secretary of state has power to call for special reports from corporations, of the same character as their regular reports, at such times as he may deem the public interest requires, but no fees shall be charged for filing these special reports. (Rev., s. 1153; C. S. 1149.)

§ 55-54. Secretary of state to publish list of corporations created. — The secretary of state shall annually compile and publish from the records of his office a complete alphabetical list of the original and amended certificates of incorporation filed during the preceding year, together with the location of the principal office of each in this state, the name of the agent in charge thereof, the amount of authorized capital stock, the amount with which business is to be commenced, the amount issued, the date of filing the certificate, and the period for which the corporation is to continue; but the secretary of state and the Commissioner of Banks or the Utilities Commission, as the case may be, shall confer and arrange the statistics so as to prevent the same facts being embodied in the reports of both departments. (Rev., s. 1244; 1901, c. 2, s. 104; 1911, c. 211, s. 10; 1913, c. 198, s. 5; 1931, c. 243, ss. 4, 5; 1933, c. 134, ss. 7, 8; 1941, c. 97, s. 5; C. S. 1150.)

§ 55-55. Liability of officers failing to make reports or making false reports.—If any of the officers neglect or refuse to make any report required of them by law for thirty days after written request so to do by a creditor or stockholder of the corporation, they are jointly and severally liable to the person demanding such report, for the amount of his debt if he is a creditor, or for the amount of his loss if he is a stockholder. If any report or certificate made, or any public notice given, by the officers in pursuance of the provisions of this chapter, is false in any material representation, all the officers who signed the same, knowing it to be false, are jointly and severally liable for all the debts of the corporation contracted while they were stockholders or officers thereof, as a penalty enforceable in the courts of this state only. (Rev., ss. 1154, 1163; 1901, c. 2, ss. 27, 56; C. S. 1151.)

§ 55-56. Liability for fraud.—In case of fraud by the president, directors, managers, or stockholders, in a corporation, the court shall adjudge personally liable to creditors and others injured thereby the directors and stockholders who were concerned in the fraud. (Rev., s. 1155; Code, s. 686; 1901, c. 2, s. 107; C. S. 1152.)

§ 55-57. Joint and several liability of officers, etc., contribution.—When the officers, directors or stockholders of a corporation are liable to pay its debts, or any part thereof, any person to whom they are liable has a right of action against any one or more of them. And any such officer, director or stockholder has the right of equitable contribution in any action for that purpose against any other officer, director or stockholder who is liable with him for any amount which he has been compelled to pay as provided in this section. (Rev., s. 1156; 1901, c. 2, s. 90; C. S. 1153.)

§ 55-58. Officers paying may enforce exoneration against corporation.—An officer, director or stockholder who pays a debt of a corporation for which he is made liable by the provisions of this chapter may recover the amount paid, in an action against the corporation for money paid for its use, in which action only the property of the corporation is liable to be taken, and not the property of any stockholder, except as provided in the preceding section. (Rev., s. 1157; 1901, c. 2, s. 91; C. S. 1154.)

§ 55-59. Assets of corporation first exhausted.—No sale or other satisfaction shall be had of the property of a director or stockholder for a debt of the corporation of which he is director or stockholder until judgment be obtained therefor against the corporation and execution thereon returned unsatisfied, or until it is shown to the court that the corporation has no property available for the satisfaction of the indebtedness. (Rev., s. 1158; 1901, c. 2, s. 92; C. S. 1155.)

§ 55-60. No personal liability on corporate manager of partnership.—Any corporation created under this chapter which is a member of a partnership may have its interests in such partnership managed, and may be engaged in or have charge of the management and affairs of such partnership, by and through any of its officers, directors, stockholders, agents and servants, and no such person acting as manager of the interests of any corporation in such partnership, or engaged in or having charge of the management and affairs of such partnership, whether as executive, member of an executive committee or board, employee or otherwise, shall be personally subject to any liability for the debts of such partnership or such corporation. (1933, c. 354, s. 2.)

Art. 6. Capital Stock.

§ 55-61. Classes of stock.—Every corporation has power to create two or more kinds of stock of such classes, with such designations, preferences, and voting powers or restrictions or qualifications thereof as are prescribed by those holding a majority of its outstanding capital stock entitled to vote; and the power to increase or decrease the stock as herein elsewhere provided applies to all or any of the classes of stock; and the preferred stock may, if desired, be made subject to redemption in whole or in part on a pro rata basis at not less than par, at a fixed time or times and price, to be expressed in the certificate thereof; and the holders thereof are entitled to receive, and the corporation is bound to pay thereon, a fixed yearly dividend, to be expressed in the certificate, payable quarterly, half-yearly or yearly, before any dividend is set apart or paid on the common stock, and such dividends may be made cumulative. In case of insolvency, its debts or other liabilities shall be paid in preference to the preferred stock. No corporation shall create preferred stock except by authority given to the board of directors by a vote of at least a majority of the stock entitled to vote at a meeting of the stockholders, duly called for that purpose. Provided, that no new class of stock shall hereafter be created entitled to dividends or shares in distribution of assets in priority to any class of preferred stock already outstanding except with the consent of the holders of record of two-thirds (or such greater amount as may be specified in the charter) of the number of shares of such outstanding preferred stock having voting powers. The terms "general stock" and "common stock" are synonymous. (Rev., s. 1159; 1901, c. 2, s. 19; 1903, c. 660, ss. 2, 3; 1923, c. 155; 1925, c. 118, ss. 2, 2a; 1939, c. 199; C. S. 1156.)

§ 55-62. Stock to be paid in money or money's worth; issue for labor or property.—Nothing but money shall be considered as payment for any part of the capital stock of any corporation organized under this chapter, except as herein provided in case of the purchase of property or labor performed. Any corporation may issue stock for labor done or personal property or real estate, or leases thereof, and, in the absence of fraud in the transaction, the judgment of the directors as to the value of such labor, property, real estate or leases shall be conclusive. (Rev., ss. 1159, 1160; 1901, c. 2, ss. 19, 53; 1903, c. 660, ss. 2, 3; C. S. 1157.)

§ 55-63. Stock issued for property; how value ascertained; how stock reported.—Any corporation formed under this chapter may purchase any property necessary for its business, and issue stock to the amount of the value thereof in payment therefor. The stock so issued shall be full-paid stock, and not liable to any further call, nor shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payment under any of the provisions of this chapter; and in the absence of actual fraud the judgment of the directors as to the value of the property shall be conclusive. In all statements and reports of the corporation to be published or filed, this stock shall not be stated or reported as being issued for cash paid to the corporation, but shall be reported in this respect according to the facts. (Rev., s. 1161; 1901, c. 2, s. 54; C. S. 1158.)

§ 55-64. Construction companies building railroads, etc., may take stock therein; how issued, valued, and reported.—Corporations having for their object the building or repairing of railroads, water, gas or electric works, tunnels, bridges, viaducts, canals, hotels, wharves, piers, or any like works of internal improvement or public use, may subscribe for, take, pay for, hold, use and dispose of stock or bonds in any corporation formed for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating any such public works; and the directors of any such corporation formed for the purpose of constructing, maintaining and operating any public work of the description aforesaid may accept in payment of any such subscription, or purchase, real or personal property, necessary for the purposes of such corporation, or work, labor and services performed, or materials furnished to, or for, such corporation to the amount of the value thereof, and from time to time issue upon any such subscription or purchase, in such installments or proportions as such directors may agree upon, full-paid stock, in full or partial performance of the whole, or any part of such subscription or purchase, and the stock so issued shall be full-paid stock, and not liable to any further call, nor shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payments. And in all statements and reports of the corporation to be published or filed, this stock shall not be stated, or reported, as being issued for cash paid to the corporation, but shall be reported and published in this respect according to the fact. (Rev., s. 1172; 1901, c. 2, s. 55; C. S. 1159.)

§ 55-65. Liability for unpaid stock.—Where the capital stock of a corporation has not been paid in and the assets are insufficient to satisfy its debts and obligations, each stockholder is bound to pay on each share held by him the sum necessary to complete the amount of such share, as fixed by the charter, or such proportion of that sum as is required to satisfy such debts and obligations; but no person holding stock in any corporation in this state as executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, or as collateral security, is personally subject to any liability as a stockholder of the corporation; but the person pledging the stock is considered as holding the same, and is liable as a stockholder accordingly, and the estate and funds in the hands of such executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee, is liable in like manner, and to the same extent, as the testator or intestate, or the ward, or the person interested in such fund, would have been had he been living and competent to act and hold the stock in his own name. (Rev., s. 1162; 1893, c. 471; 1901, c. 2, s. 22; C. S. 1160.)

§ 55-66. Decrease of capital stock.—The decrease of capital stock may be effected by—

1. Retiring or reducing any class of the stock.
2. Drawing the necessary number of shares by lot for retirement.
3. The surrender by every stockholder of his shares and the issue to him in place thereof of a decreased number of shares.
4. The purchase at not above par of certain shares for retirement.
5. Retiring shares owned by the corporation.
6. Reducing the par value of shares.

When a corporation decreases the amount of its capital stock as above provided, the certificate decreasing the same shall be published at least once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located, the first publication to be made within fifteen days after the decrease has been regularly authorized by the stockholders. In default of such publication the directors of the corporation are jointly and severally liable for all debts of the corporation contracted before the filing of the certificate, and the stockholders are also liable for such sums as they respectively receive of the amount so reduced. No such decrease of capital stock decreases the liability of any stockholder whose shares have not been fully paid, for debts of the corporation theretofore contracted. (Rev., s. 1164; 1901, c. 2, s. 32; 1939, c. 221; C. S. 1161.)

§ 55-67. Certificates and duplicates. — Every stockholder shall be entitled to have a certificate signed by the president or a vice-president and by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer or the secretary or an assistant secretary of the corporation certifying the number of shares owned by him in such corporation. A corporation may issue a new certificate of stock in the place of any certificate theretofore issued by it, alleged to have been lost or destroyed, and the directors authorizing such issue of a new certificate may require the owner of the lost or destroyed certificate, or his legal representatives, to give the corporation a bond, in such sum as they may direct, as an indemnity against any claim that may be made against the corporation. A new certificate may be issued without requiring any bond when, in the judgment of the directors, it is proper to do so. (Rev., ss. 1165, 1166; 1885, c. 265; 1901, c. 2, s. 94; 1927, c. 173; C. S. 1162.)

§ 55-68. Action to compel issuance of duplicate certificates.—When a corporation has refused to issue a new certificate of stock in place of one theretofore issued by it, or by a corporation of which it is a successor, alleged to have been lost or destroyed, the owner of the lost or destroyed certificate or his legal representatives may maintain a civil action in the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located to compel the corporation to issue a duplicate certificate in the place of the one alleged to have been lost or destroyed; and if the issues of fact arising upon the pleadings are found in favor of the plaintiff, the court shall make an order requiring the corporation or other party, within such time as it designates, to issue and deliver to the plaintiff a new certificate for the number of shares of the capital stock of the corporation which have been found to be owned by the plaintiff. In making the order the court shall direct that the plaintiff deposit such security as to the court appears sufficient to indemnify any person other than the plaintiff, who shall thereafter appear to be the lawful owner of such certificate stated to be lost or destroyed; and the court may also direct publication of such notice, either preceding or succeeding the making of such final order, as it deems proper. Any person who thereafter claims any rights under the certificate so lost or destroyed shall have recourse to said indemnity, and the corporation shall be discharged from all liability to such person by reason of compliance with the order. (Rev., s. 1167; 1901, c. 2, s. 95; C. S. 1163.)

§ 55-69. Transfer of shares.—The shares of stock in a corporation are personal property, and are transferable on the books of the corporation in the manner and under the regulations provided by the by-laws. Whenever a transfer is made for collateral security, and not absolutely, it shall be so expressed in the entry of the transfer. (Rev., s. 1168; Code, s. 689; 1901, c. 2, s. 21; C. S. 1164.)

§ 55-70. Assessments, sale, and notice.—The directors of a corporation may, from time to time, make assessments upon the shares of stock subscribed for, not exceeding, in the whole, the par value thereof, remaining unpaid; and the sums assessed shall be paid to the treasurer at such times and by such installments as the directors direct, the directors having given thirty days notice of the assessment and of the time and place of payment, either personally, by mail, or by publication in a newspaper published in the county where the corporation is established. If the owner of any share or shares neglects to pay a sum assessed thereon for thirty days after the time appointed for payment, the treasurer, when ordered by the board of directors, shall sell, at public auction, such share or shares of the delinquent owner as will pay any assessment due from him, with interest, and all necessary incidental charges, and shall transfer the share or shares sold to the purchaser, who is entitled to a certificate therefor. The treasurer shall give notice of the time and place appointed for the sale, and of the sum due on each share, by advertising the same once a week for three successive weeks before the sale in a newspaper published in the county where the principal office of the corporation is located, at the courthouse door, and by mailing a notice thereof to the last known postoffice address of the delinquent stockholder. (Rev., ss. 1169, 1170, 1171; 1901, c. 2, ss. 23, 24, 25; C. S. 1165.)

§ 55-71. One corporation may purchase stock, etc., of another.—A corporation may purchase stock, securities or other evidences of indebtedness created by any other corporation or corporations of this or any other state, and while owner of such may exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership. (Rev., s. 1173; 1903, c. 660, s. 3; C. S. 1166.)

§ 55-72. Mutual corporations may create stock.—A mutual corporation, upon the consent in writing of all its members, may provide for and create a capital stock and may provide for the payment of the stock, and fix and prescribe the rights and privileges of the stockholders therein not inconsistent with law. (Rev., s. 1245; 1901, c. 2, s. 105; C. S. 1167.)

Art. 7. Capital Stock without Nominal or Par Value.

§ 55-73. Corporations which may create shares without nominal or par value. Classes of stock or debentures.—Any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this State, whether under a special act of Legislature or otherwise, except banks, trust companies and insurance companies, may, in its original certificate of incorporation, articles of association, charter or any amendment thereof, create shares of stock with or without nominal or par value, and may create two or more classes of stock or debentures, any class or classes of which may be with or without nominal or par value, with such designations, preferences, voting powers, restrictions and qualifications as shall be fixed in such certificate of incorporation, articles of association, charter or amendment thereof, or by resolution adopted by those holding two-thirds of the outstanding capital stock entitled to vote. Subject to any provisions so fixed, every share without nominal or par value shall equal every other such share. (1921, c. 116, s. 1; 1925, c. 262, s. 1; C. S. 1167(a).)

§ 55-74. Stock issues; payment for stock; terms and manner of disposition.—The provisions of law relating to the issuance of stock with par value shall apply to the issuance of stock without nominal or par value, and such corporation may issue and dispose of its authorized shares without nominal or par value for such consideration and on such terms and in such manner as may be determined or approved from time to time by the board of directors, subject to such conditions or limitations as may be contained in the certificate of incorporation, articles of association, charter, or any amendment thereof or as may be contained in any vote of the holders of a majority of the stock of the corporation, such consideration to be in the form of cash, property, tangible or intangible, services or expenses. Any and all shares without nominal or par value issued for the consideration determined or approved in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be fully paid and not liable to any further call or assessment thereon, nor shall the subscriber or holder be liable for any further payments. (1921, c. 116, s. 2; 1925, c. 262, s. 2; C. S. 1167(b).)

§ 55-75. Statements as to value of shares; reports of amount of stock.—In any case in which the law requires that the par value of the shares of stock of a corporation be stated, it shall be stated, in respect to shares without nominal or par value, that such shares are without nominal or par value, and wherever the amount of stock authorized or issued is required to be stated, if any shares without nominal or par value are authorized, the number of shares authorized or issued of the several classes shall be stated, and it shall also be stated whether such shares are with or without nominal or par value, and what the par value is of such shares as have par value. (1921, c. 116, s. 3; C. S. 1167(c).)

§ 55-76. Amendments to existing charters.—Any corporation, whether organized under a special act of Legislature or otherwise, having outstanding shares either with or without nominal or par value, may amend its certificate of incorporation, articles of association or charter, as follows:

(a) So as to change its shares with nominal or par value or any class thereof into an equal number of shares without nominal or par value; or

(b) So as to provide for the exchange of its shares with nominal or par value, or any class thereof, for an equal or different number of shares without nominal or par value; but all outstanding shares in any class shall be exchanged on the same basis; or

(c) So as to provide for the exchange of its shares without nominal or par value, or any class thereof, for a different number of shares without nominal or par value; but all outstanding shares in any class shall be exchanged on the same basis:

Provided, however, the preferences on liquidation, redemption price, dividend rate and like preferences or limitations lawfully granted or imposed with respect to any class of outstanding stock so changed or exchanged under the provisions hereof, shall not be impaired, diminished or changed as to any nonassenting holders thereof. Such preferences, rights and limitations, however, may be expressed in dollars, or in cents, per share rather than by reference to par value. Whenever such a corporation has heretofore issued shares without nominal or par value, in exchange for an equal or different number of shares with par value, such exchange and the issue of an equal or different number of shares without nominal or par value in consummation of such exchange are hereby validated, ratified and confirmed. (1921, c. 116, s. 4; 1925, c. 262, s. 3; 1931, c. 59; C. S. 1167(d).)

§ 55-77. Tax on certificate of incorporation or amendments.—The tax upon the certificate of incorporation, or extension or renewal or corporate existence, or increase of capital stock without nominal or par value shall be the same as if each share of stock had a par or face value of one hundred dollars. (1921, c. 116, s. 5; C. S. 1167(e).)

§ 55-78. Intent or purpose of law.—The intent and purpose of this article is to require a share of stock to be treated and represented, subject to lawful preferences, rights, limitations, privileges, and restrictions as a mere evidence of an aliquot part or divisional interest in the assets and earnings of the corporation issuing the same, whatever the extent or value of such assets or earnings may be, to the end that misrepresentation or misunderstanding arising through the difference between actual value of a share of stock and the value appearing on the face of the certificate therefor may be eliminated. (1921, c. 116, s. 6; C. S. 1167(f).)

§ 55-79. Laws applicable to corporations.—Except as otherwise provided by this article, corporations issuing shares without any par or face value under the provisions hereof shall be and remain subject to the laws of the state now or hereafter in force relating to the formation, regulation, or reorganization rights, powers, and privileges of such corporations, and all other laws applicable thereto. (1921, c. 116, s. 7; C. S. 1167(g).)

§ 55-80. Provision for future exchange of par value stock for non-par value stock.—Any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this State, whether under a special act of Legislature or otherwise, except banks, trust companies, and insurance companies, may, in its original certificate of incorporation, articles of association, charter, or any amendment thereof, provide for the exchange of its shares to be issued with nominal or par value for an equal or different number of outstanding shares without nominal or par value. (1929, c. 338, s. 1.)

Art. 8. Uniform Stock Transfer Act.

§ 55-81. How title to certificates and shares may be transferred.—Title to a certificate and to the shares represented thereby can be transferred only:

(a) By delivery of the certificate indorsed either in blank or to a specified person by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby, or

(b) By delivery of the certificate and a separate document containing a written assignment of the certificate or a power of attorney to sell, assign, or transfer the same or the shares represented thereby, signed by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby. Such assignment or power of attorney may be either in blank or to a specified person.

The provisions of this section shall be applicable although the charter or articles of incorporation or code of regulations or by-laws of the corporation issuing the certificate and the certificate itself, provide that the shares represented thereby shall be transferable only on the books of the corporation or shall be registered by a registrar or transferred by a transfer agent. (1941, c. 353, s. 1.)

§ 55-82. Powers of those lacking full legal capacity and of fiduciaries not enlarged.—Nothing in this article shall be construed as enlarging the powers of an infant or other person lacking full legal capacity, or of a trustee, executor or administrator, or other fiduciary, to make a valid indorsement, assignment or power of attorney. (1941, s. 353, s. 2.)

§ 55-83. Corporation not forbidden to treat registered holder as owner.—Nothing in this article shall be construed as forbidding a corporation;

(a) To recognize the exclusive right of a person registered on its books as the owner of shares to receive dividends, and to vote as such owner, or

(b) To hold liable for calls and assessments a person registered on its books as the owner of shares. (1941, c. 353, s. 3.)

§ 55-84. Title derived from certificate extinguishes title derived from a separate document.—The title of a transferee of a certificate under a power of attorney or assignment not written upon the certificate, and the title of any person claiming under such transferee, shall cease and determine if, at any time prior to the surrender of the certificate to the corporation issuing it, another person, for value in good faith, and without notice of the prior transfer, shall purchase and obtain delivery of such certificate with the indorsement of the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof, or shall purchase and obtain delivery of such certificate and the written assignment or power of attorney of such person, though contained in a separate document. (1941, c. 353, s. 4.)

§ 55-85. Delivery of certificate by one without authority or right of possession.—The delivery of a certificate to transfer title in accordance with the provisions of § 55-81, is effectual, except as provided in § 55-87, though made by one having no right of possession and having no authority from the owner of the certificate or from the person purporting to transfer the title. (1941, c. 353, s. 5.)

§ 55-86. Indorsement effectual in spite of fraud, duress, mistake, revocation, death, incapacity or lack of consideration or authority.—The indorsement of a certificate by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby is effectual, except as provided in § 55-87, though the indorser or transferor;

(a) was induced by fraud, duress or mistake, to make the indorsement or delivery, or

(b) has revoked the delivery of the certificate, or the authority given by the indorsement or delivery of the certificate, or

(c) has died or become legally incapacitated after the indorsement, whether before or after the delivery of the certificate, or

(d) has received no consideration. (1941, c. 353, s. 6.)

§ 55-87. Rescission of transfer.—If the indorsement or delivery of a certificate.

(a) was procured by fraud or duress, or

(b) was made under such mistake as to make the indorsement or delivery inequitable; or

If the delivery of a certificate was made

(c) without authority from the owner, or

(d) after the owner's death or legal incapacity, the possession of the certificate may be reclaimed and the transfer thereof rescinded, unless,

(1) The certificate has been transferred to a purchaser for value in good faith without notice of any facts making the transfer wrongful, or

(2) The injured person has elected to waive the injury, or has been guilty of laches in endeavoring to enforce his rights.

Any court of appropriate jurisdiction may enforce specifically such right to reclaim the possession of the certificate or to rescind the transfer thereof and, pending litigation, may enjoin the further transfer of the certificate or impound it. (1941, c. 353, s. 7.)

§ 55-88. Rescission does not invalidate subsequent transfer by transferee in possession.—Although the transfer of a certificate or of shares represented thereby has been rescinded or set aside, nevertheless, if the transferee has possession of the certificate or of a new certificate representing part or the whole of the same shares of stock, a subsequent transfer of such certificate by the transferee, mediately or immediately, to a purchaser for value in good faith, without notice of any facts making the transfer wrongful, shall give such purchaser an indefeasible right to the certificate and the shares represented thereby. (1941, c. 353, s. 8.)

§ 55-89. Delivery of unindorsed certificate imposes obligation to indorse.—The delivery of a certificate by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof without the indorsement requisite for the transfer of the certificate and the shares represented thereby, but with intent to transfer such certificate or shares, shall impose an obligation, in the absence of an agreement to the contrary, upon the person so delivering, to complete the transfer by making the necessary indorsement. The transfer shall take effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made. This obligation may be specifically enforced. (1941, c. 353, s. 9.)

§ 55-90. Ineffectual attempt to transfer amounts to a promise to transfer.—An attempted transfer of title to a certificate or to shares represented thereby without delivery of the certificate shall have the effect of a promise to transfer and the obligation, if any, imposed by such promise shall be determined by the law governing the formation and performance of contracts. (1941, c. 353, s. 10.)

§ 55-91. Warranties on sale of certificate.—A person who for value transfers a certificate, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a certificate, unless a contrary intention appear, warrants;

(a) that the certificate is genuine,

(b) that he has a legal right to transfer it, and

(c) that he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the certificate.

In the case of an assignment of a claim secured by a certificate, the liability of the assignor upon such warranty shall not exceed the amount of the claim. (1941, c. 353, s. 11.)

§ 55-92. No warranty implied from accepting payment of a debt.—A mortgagee, pledgee, or other holder for security of a certificate who in good faith demands or receives payment of the debt for which such certificate is security, whether from a party to a draft drawn for such debt, or from any other person, shall not by so doing be deemed to represent or to warrant the genuineness of such certificate, or the value of the shares represented thereby. (1941, c. 353, s. 12.)

§ 55-93. No attachment or levy upon shares unless certificate surrendered or transfer enjoined.—No attachment or levy upon shares of stock for which a certificate is outstanding shall be valid until such certificate be actually seized by the officer making the attachment or levy, or be surrendered to the corporation which issued it, or its transfer by the holder be enjoined. Except where a certificate is lost or destroyed, such corporation shall not be compelled to issue a new certificate for the stock until the old certificate is surrendered to it. (1941, c. 353, s. 13.)

§ 55-94. Creditor's remedies to reach certificate.—A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a certificate shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction and otherwise, in attaching such certificate or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity, in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process. (1941, c. 353, s. 14.)

§ 55-95. No lien or restriction unless indicated on certificate.—There shall be no lien in favor of a corporation upon the shares represented by a certificate issued by such corporation and there shall be no restriction upon the transfer of shares so represented by virtue of any by-laws of such corporation, or otherwise, unless the right of the corporation to such lien or the restriction is stated upon the certificate. (1941, c. 353, s. 15.)

§ 55-96. Alteration of certificate does not divest title to shares.—The alteration of a certificate, whether fraudulent or not and by whomsoever made, shall not deprive the owner of his title to the certificate and the shares originally represented thereby, and the transfer of such a certificate shall convey to the transferee a good title to such certificate and to the shares originally represented thereby. (1941, c. 353, s. 16.)

§ 55-97. Lost or destroyed certificate.—Where a certificate has been lost or destroyed, a court of competent jurisdiction may order the issue of a new certificate therefor on service of process upon the corporation and on reasonable notice by publication, and in any other way which the court may direct, to all persons interested, and upon satisfactory proof of such loss or destruction and upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to be approved by the court to protect the corporation or any person injured by the issue of the new certificate from any liability or expense, which it or they may incur by reason of the original certificate remaining outstanding. The court may also in its discretion order the payment of the corporation's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

The issues of a new certificate under an order of the court as provided in this section, shall not relieve the corporation from liability in damages to a person to whom the original certificate has been or shall be transferred for value without notice of the proceedings or of the issuance of the new certificate: Provided, nothing in this section shall prevent the issuance of a new stock certificate in the place of a lost or destroyed certificate in accordance with the provisions of § 55-67. (1941, c. 353, s. 17.)

§ 55-98. Rules for cases not provided for by this article.—In any case not provided for by this article, the rules of law and equity, including the law merchant, and in particular the rules relating to the law of principal and agent, executors, administrators and trustees, and to the effect of fraud, misrepresentation, duress or coercion, mistake, bankruptcy, or other invalidating cause, shall govern. (1941, c. 353, s. 18.)

§ 55-99. Interpretation of article.—This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. (1941, c. 353, s. 19.)

§ 55-100. Definition of indorsement.—A certificate is indorsed when an assignment or a power of attorney to sell, assign, or transfer the certificate or the shares represented thereby is written on the certificate and signed by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby, or when the signature of such person is written without more upon the back of the certificate. In any of such cases a certificate is indorsed though it has not been delivered. (1941, c. 353, s. 20.)

§ 55-101. Definition of person appearing to be the owner of certificate.—The person to whom a certificate was originally issued is the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof, and of the shares represented thereby, until and unless he indorses the certificate to another specified person, and thereupon such other specified person is the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner thereof until and unless he also indorses the certificate to another specified person. Subsequent special indorsements may be made with like effect. (1941, c. 353, s. 21.)

§ 55-102. Other definitions.—(1) In this article, unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires—

"Certificate" means a certificate of stock in a corporation organized under the laws of this state or of another state whose laws are consistent with this article.

"Delivery" means voluntary transfer of possession from one person to another.

"Person" includes a corporation or partnership or two or more persons having a joint or common interest.

To "purchase" includes to take as mortgagee or as pledgee.

"Purchaser" includes mortgagee and pledgee.

"Shares" means a share or shares of stock in a corporation organized under the laws of this state or of another state whose laws are consistent with this article.

"State" includes state, territory, district and insular possession of the United States.

"Transfer" means transfer of legal title.

"Title" means legal title and does not include a merely equitable or beneficial ownership or interest.

"Value" is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or pre-existing obligation, whether for money or not, constitutes value where a certificate is taken either in satisfaction thereof or as security therefor.

(2) A thing is done "in good faith" within the meaning of this article, when it is in fact done honestly, whether it be done negligently or not. (1941, c. 353, s. 22.)

§ 55-103. Article does not apply to existing certificates.—The provisions of this article apply only to certificates issued after March 15, 1941. (1941, c. 353, s. 23.)

§ 55-104. Name of article.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Stock Transfer Act. (1941, c. 353, s. 26.)

Art. 9. Meetings, Elections and Dividends.

§ 55-105. Place of stockholders' and directors' meetings.—The meetings of the stockholders of every corporation of this state shall be held at the principal office in this state. The directors may hold their meetings, and have an office and keep the books of the corporation (except the stock and transfer books) outside the state. Every corporation shall maintain a principal office in this state, and have an agent in charge thereof. (Rev., s. 1179; 1901, c. 2, s. 49; C. S. 1168.)

§ 55-106. Meeting called by three stockholders.—When, for any reason, a legal meeting of the stockholders of any corporation cannot be otherwise called, three stockholders with voting power may call such meeting by publishing in a newspaper published in the county in which the principal office in this state is located ten days notice of the time, place and purposes of the meeting, and mailing this notice to all stockholders whose postoffice addresses are known or can be ascertained. A meeting so called is a legal meeting of the corporation, and if there are no officers present, the stockholders may elect officers for the meeting; and the secretary of the meeting shall record the proceedings thereof in the minute book of the corporation. (Rev., s. 1190; 1901, c. 2, s. 51; C. S. 1169.)

§ 55-107. Transfer and stock books.—Every corporation shall keep at its principal and registered office in this state the transfer books, in which the transfer of stock shall be registered, and the stock books, which shall contain the names and addresses of the stockholders, and the number of shares held by them respectively, and shall at all times during the usual hours for business be open to the examination of every stockholder. These books shall be the only evidence as to who are the stockholders entitled to examine them, and to vote at elections. In case the right to vote upon any share of stock is questioned, the stock books of the corporation shall be referred to, to ascertain who are the stockholders, and in case of a discrepancy between the books, the transfer book shall control and determine who are entitled to vote. (Rev., ss. 1180, 1181; 1901, c. 2, ss. 38, 45; C. S. 1170.)

§ 55-108. Directors to produce books at election.—The board of directors shall produce at the time and place of elections the transfer books and the stock books, there to remain during the election, and the neglect or refusal of the directors to produce the same after a demand therefor shall render them ineligible to any office at such election. All elections of directors held under this chapter prior to February 28, 1913, where these books were not produced, and no demand was made therefor, are ratified and confirmed and given full legal force and effect. (Rev., s. 1180; 1901, c. 2, s. 38; 1913, c. 14; C. S. 1171.)

§ 55-109. Superior court may require production.—The superior court may, upon proper cause shown, order any or all of the books of the corporation to be forthwith brought within this state, and kept therein at such place and for such time as is designated in such order. The charter of any corporation failing to comply with such order may be declared forfeited by the court making the order, and all its directors and officers shall be liable to be punished for contempt of court for disobedience of the order. (Rev., s. 1179; 1901, c. 2, s. 49; C. S. 1172.)

§ 55-110. Votes stockholders entitled to; cumulative voting.—Unless otherwise provided in the charter or by-laws of a corporation, at every election each stockholder is entitled to one vote in person, or by proxy duly authorized in writing, for each share of the capital stock held by him, but no proxy may be voted after three years from its date; nor may there be voted at any election a share of stock which has been transferred on the books of the corporation within twenty days prior to the election. The certificate of incorporation of any corporation authorized to issue shares of capital stock may provide that at all elections of directors, managers, or trustees, each stockholder is entitled to as many votes as equal the number of his shares of stock multiplied by the number of directors, managers, or trustees to be elected, and that he may cast all of his votes for a single director, manager, or trustee, or may distribute them among the number to be voted for, or any two or more of them, as he sees fit. This right of cumulative voting may be exercised in the absence of charter provision when at the time of the election the stock transfer book of such corporation discloses, or it otherwise appears, that more than one-fourth of the capital stock of the corporation is owned or controlled by one person. A stockholder owning or controlling more than twenty-five per cent of the stock has the same right to vote cumulatively as any other stockholder; and no amendment of the charter or by-laws of a corporation can abrogate or abridge any right herein conferred. The right to vote cumulatively cannot be exercised unless some stockholder announces in open meeting, before the voting for directors, trustees, or managers begins, his purpose to exercise such right, and then every other stockholder may likewise vote cumulatively. (Rev., ss. 1183, 1184; 1907, c. 457, s. 1; 1909, c. 827, s. 1; C. S. 1173.)

§ 55-111. Stock held by fiduciary, pledgor, life tenant, or corporation. — Every person holding stock as executor, administrator, guardian or trustee, or in any other representative or fiduciary capacity, may represent it at all meetings of the corporation, and may vote it as a stockholder, with the same effect as if the absolute owner thereof, unless the instrument creating the trust provides to the contrary. Every person who has pledged his stock as collateral security may represent it at all such meetings, and may vote it as a stockholder, unless in the transfer to the pledgee on the books of the corporation he has expressly empowered the pledgee to vote it, in which case only the pledgee or his proxy may represent and vote said stock. Where stock is owned by, or has been transferred on its record books to, one for life and remainder over, the life tenant at all meetings of the corporation may represent and vote the stock in person or by proxy, in the same manner and with the same effect as if he were the absolute owner thereof. Shares of stock of a corporation belonging to the corporation cannot be voted directly or indirectly. (Rev., ss. 1185, 1186, 1187; 1901, c. 2, ss. 42, 43; 1901, c. 474, ss. 1, 2; C. S. 1174.)

§ 55-112. Election of directors.—All elections for directors shall be by ballot, unless otherwise provided in the charter or by-laws, and a majority of the issued and outstanding stock must be present in person or by proxy; the persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be the directors. (Rev., s. 1182; 1901, c. 2, s. 39; 1927, c. 138; C. S. 1175.)

§ 55-113. Failure to hold election.—If the election for directors of a corporation is not held on the day designated by the charter or by-laws, the directors shall cause the election to be held as soon thereafter as is convenient. No failure to elect directors at the designated time shall work any forfeiture or dissolution of the corporation; and if the directors fail or refuse for thirty days after receiving a written request for such election from those owning one-tenth of the outstanding stock, to call a meeting for the election, the judge of the district, or the judge presiding in the courts of the district, in which the principal office of the corporation is located, may, upon the application of any stockholder, and on notice to the directors, order an election or make such other order as justice requires. The proceedings governing the issuance and hearing of injunctions shall, as far as applicable, govern such hearing. (Rev., s. 1188; 1901, c. 2, s. 46; C. S. 1176.)

§ 55-114. Jurisdiction of superior court over corporate elections.—Whenever there shall be any dispute with reference to the election of directors by the stockholders of any corporation in the hands of a receivership, or whenever there shall be any dispute with reference to the election of officers of any corporation by directors or stockholders, if the stockholders elect the officers, the resident or presiding judge of the district may, after ten days' notice to the stockholders, or to the directors as the case may be, hear at chambers, in the county in which the principal office of the corporation is situated, evidence in the form of affidavits as to dispute, and may continue from time to time such hearing for the purpose of establishing facts with reference thereto to his satisfaction; and upon the completion of his hearing may order a new election or may declare the result of the election so held, or may continue the directors or officers, as the case may be, until a new election shall be held: Provided, however, that no order shall be entered temporarily affecting the status of the corporation. With reference to notice, evidence, and the findings by the judge hearing the same, the proceedings shall be, as far as possible, the same as in injunctions. (Rev., s. 1189; 1901, c. 2, s. 47; 1935, c. 413; 1937, c. 347; C. S. 1177.)

§ 55-115. When dividend declared.—The directors of every corporation created under this chapter shall, in January of each year, unless some specific time for that purpose is fixed in its charter, or by-laws, and in that case at the time so fixed, after reserving, over and above its capital stock paid in, as a working capital for the corporation, whatever sum has been fixed by the stockholders, declare a dividend among its stockholders of the whole of its accumulated profits exceeding the amount reserved, and pay it to the stockholders on demand. The corporation may, in its certificate of incorporation or by-laws, give the directors power to fix the amount to be reserved as a working capital. (Rev., s. 1191; 1901, c. 2, s. 52; C. S. 1178.)

§ 55-116. Dividends from profits only; directors' liability for impairing capital. — No corporation may declare and pay dividends except from the surplus or net profits arising from its business, or when its debts, whether due or not, exceed two-thirds of its assets, nor may it reduce, divide, withdraw, or in any way pay to any stockholder any part of its capital stock except according to this chapter; provided, a public service corporation may declare and pay such dividends from the surplus or net profits arising from its business except when its debts, whether due or not, exceed three-fourths of its assets; provided, further, that any corporation, other than a public service corporation, which is a member of a partnership may declare and pay dividends from the surplus or net profits arising from its business when the sum of the corporation's separate debts, whether due or not, and that part of the partnership debts which is the same proportion of all the partnership debts, whether due or not, as the corporation's interest in the partnership assets is of all such assets, does not exceed two-thirds of the corporation's assets, and in such calculation the amount of its interest in the partnership assets shall be considered assets of the corporation. In case of a violation of any provision of this section, the directors under whose administration the same occurs are jointly and severally liable, at any time within six years after paying such dividend, to the corporation and its creditors, in the event of its dissolution or insolvency, to the full amount of the dividend paid, or capital stock reduced, divided, withdrawn, or paid out, with interest on the same from the time such liability accrued. Any director who was absent when the violation occurred, or who dissented from the act or resolution by which it was effected, may exonerate himself from such liability by causing his dissent to be entered at large on the minutes of the directors at the time the action was taken or immediately after he has had notice of it. (Rev., s. 1192; Code, s. 681; 1901, c. 2, ss. 33, 52; 1927, c. 121; 1933, c. 354, s. 1; C. S. 1179.)

Art. 10. Foreign Corporations.

§ 55-117. Powers existing independently of permission to do business.—A corporation created by another state of the United States, or by any foreign state, kingdom, or government may acquire by devise or otherwise, and may hold, mortgage, lease, and convey real estate in this state for the purpose of prosecuting its business or objects, or such real estate as it may acquire by way of mortgage or otherwise in the payment of debts due to it, but is not eligible or entitled to qualify in this state as executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee under the will of any person domiciled in this state at the time of his death. The right to acquire, hold and convey real estate exists only where at the time of the acquisition, the foreign state, government, or kingdom under whose laws the corporation was created is not at war with the United States. (Rev., s. 1193; 1901, c. 2, s. 93; 1915, c. 196, s. 1; C. S. 1180.)

§ 55-118. Requisites for permission to do business.—Every foreign corporation before being permitted to do business in this state, insurance companies excepted, shall file in the office of the secretary of state a copy of its charter or articles of agreement, attested by its president and secretary, under its corporate seal, and a statement attested in like manner of the amount of its capital stock authorized, the amount actually issued, the principal office in this state, the name of the agent in charge of such office, the character of the business which it transacts, and the names and post-office addresses of its officers and directors. And such corporation shall pay to the secretary of state, for the use of the state, forty cents for every one thousand dollars of the total amount of the capital stock authorized to be issued by such corporation, but in no case less than forty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars; and also a filing fee of five dollars. Provided that the tax upon shares of stock without nominal or par value shall be the same as if each share of stock had a par or face value of one hundred dollars. Such corporation may withdraw from the state upon filing in the office of the secretary of state a statement signed by its president and secretary and attested by its corporate seal, setting forth the fact that such corporation desires to withdraw, and upon payment to the secretary of state of a fee of five dollars. Every corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall forfeit to the state five hundred dollars, to be recovered, with costs, in an action to be prosecuted by the attorney-general, who shall prosecute such actions whenever it appears that this section has been violated. This section does not apply to railroad, banking, express or telegraph companies which, prior to March 9, 1915, had been licensed to do business in this state, or were engaged in business in this state, having a regularly appointed agent upon whom service of process could be made, located in this state.

All acts of the Secretary of State domesticating foreign corporations without nominal or par value shares of stock and taxing the same as provided in the proviso are hereby validated. (Rev., s. 1194; 1901, c. 2, s. 57; 1903, c. 76; 1915, c. 263; 1935, c. 44; 1939, c. 57; C. S. 1181.)

§ 55-119. Sale of shares of stock held by life tenant.—The shares of the capital stock of a foreign corporation, in which any person owns a life estate, may be sold by an order in a special proceeding, unless prohibited by the instrument under which such title was acquired. All persons in esse who are interested in the property aforesaid shall be made parties to the proceedings. Whenever it appears from the petition, or otherwise, that among those interested are persons not in being, or who, because of some contingency, cannot be presently ascertained, such persons shall be made parties defendant by publication of notice of the proceeding, according to the usual practice, and a guardian ad litem shall be appointed for them, and he shall file answer, as provided by §§ 1-66 and 1-67. The clerk of the Superior Court shall have power to make, from time to time, appropriate orders for the sale of said shares of stock, and for handling, securing and investing the net proceeds of sale. In lieu of the payment to the life tenant of the income and profits on the net proceeds of sale, the clerk may order the present cash value of the life tenant's share, ascertained as by law provided, to be paid to the life tenant absolutely, out of said proceeds, and order the balance thereof to be invested and kept invested for the remaindermen, or paid over to a trustee appointed for the purpose, after the trustee shall have qualified by filing with the clerk an undertaking, to be approved by him, payable to the State of North Carolina, for the benefit of the remaindermen, in a sum double the amount of the balance of the net proceeds aforesaid, and conditioned for the prompt forthcoming and payment of the principal and interest or income thereof, and the faithful performance of duty and compliance with the orders of court relating thereto. The orders aforesaid shall be approved by the judge of the Superior Court residing in or holding the courts of the district, where such approval is now required by law. (1925, c. 59.)

§ 55-120. Secretary of state directed to require domestication of all foreign corporations doing business in state.—The secretary of state is hereby directed to require that every foreign corporation doing business in North Carolina, as permitted under the provisions of § 55-117, shall file in the office of the secretary of state a copy of its charter or articles of agreement, in the manner required by § 55-118, and all amendments thereto, and otherwise fully comply with the provisions of said law, including the payment to the secretary of state of fees fixed by said law for the privilege of doing business in this state and domestication therein. The secretary of state is authorized and empowered to employ such assistants as shall be deemed necessary in his office for the purpose of carrying out and enforcing the provisions of this section, and for making such investigations as shall be necessary to ascertain foreign corporations now doing business in North Carolina which may have failed or hereafter fail to domesticate as required by law. (1937, c. 343.)

Art. 11. Dissolution.

§ 55-121. Voluntary, generally.—When in the judgment of the board of directors it is deemed advisable and for the benefit of a corporation that it be dissolved, the board, within ten days after the adoption of a resolution to that effect by a majority of the whole board, at a meeting called for that purpose, of which meeting every director shall have received three days notice, shall cause notice of adoption of such resolution to be mailed to each stockholder residing in the United States, to his last known postoffice address, and also, beginning within said ten days, cause a like notice to be published in a newspaper published in the county wherein the corporation has its principal office, at least once a week for four successive weeks, next preceding the time appointed for the same, of a meeting of the stockholders to be held at the office of the corporation, to take action upon the resolution. The stockholders' meeting thus called may, on the day appointed, by consent of a majority in interest of the stockholders present, be adjourned from time to time for not less than eight days at one time, of which adjourned meeting notice by advertisement in said newspaper shall be given. If at such meeting two-thirds in interest of all the stockholders consent in writing that a dissolution take place, their consent, together with the list of the names and residences of the directors and officers, certified by the president and the secretary or treasurer, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, who, upon being satisfied by due proof that the requirements aforesaid have been complied with, shall issue a certificate that the consent has been filed, and the board of directors shall cause this certificate to be recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located, and published once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper published in said county. Upon the filing in the office of the secretary of state of an affidavit of the manager or publisher of such newspaper that the certificate has been so published, the corporation is dissolved, and the board shall proceed to settle up and adjust its business and affairs.

Whenever all the stockholders consent in writing to a dissolution, no meeting or notice thereof is necessary, but on filing the consent in the office of the Secretary of State, he shall issue a certificate showing that such consent in writing has been filed in his office, and said certificate shall be published as above provided in cases without unanimous consent, and recorded in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located. Upon the filing in the office of the Secretary of State of an affidavit of the manager or publisher of the newspaper in which publication is made, showing that said certificate has been so published, the Secretary of State shall forthwith issue a certificate of dissolution of the said corporation.

The Secretary of State shall withhold issuance of final certificate of dissolution of or withdrawal of any corporation, domestic or foreign, until the receipt by him of a notice from the Commissioner of Revenue to the effect that such corporation has met the requirements with respect to reports and taxes required by the Revenue Laws of the State of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 1195; 1901, c. 2, s. 34; 1941, c. 195; C. S. 1182.)

§ 55-122. Liability of stockholders.—The stockholders of a corporation chartered under the laws of this state are individually liable for all taxes, costs and fees for the dissolution of the corporation, and the attorney-general is authorized to enforce the provisions of this section by suit before a justice of the peace or in the superior court in the county where such corporation had its principal place of business, whenever it appears upon report from the secretary of state that the corporation has ceased to transact business and fails to pay the taxes due the state or to file annual statements or to dissolve itself as provided by law. If a nonresident stockholder of the corporation refuses to sign the certificate of dissolution the resident stockholders shall make affidavit to that effect, and the written assent of such resident stockholders, accompanied by such affidavit, is sufficient to dissolve the corporation. If no stockholder of such corporation is found within the state the secretary of state has authority to declare the charter of the corporation forfeited, and shall publish annually in his corporation report a list of the corporations whose charters have been so forfeited. (1909, c. 730, s. 1; C. S. 1183.)

§ 55-123. Voluntary, before payment of stock.—The incorporators named in a certificate of incorporation, before the payment of any part of the capital stock, and before beginning the business for which the corporation was created, may surrender all their corporate rights and franchises, by filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate, verified by oath, that no part of the capital stock has been paid and such business has not been begun, and surrendering all rights and franchises. Thereupon the corporation is dissolved. (Rev., s. 1177; 1901, c. 2, s. 35; C. S. 1184.)

§ 55-124. Involuntary, at instance of private persons.—Corporations may be dissolved by civil action, instituted by the corporation, a stockholder, or creditor, or by authority of the attorney-general in the name of the state, in the following cases:

1. For any abuse of its powers to the injury of the public or of its stockholders, creditors, or debtors.

2. For nonuser of its powers for two or more consecutive years.

3. When it is insolvent, or suspends its ordinary business for want of funds, or is in imminent danger of insolvency, or has forfeited its corporate rights.

4. Upon any conviction of the company of a persistent criminal offense. (Rev., s. 1196; Code, s. 694; 1901, c. 2, s. 73; C. S. 1185.)

§ 55-125. Involuntary, by stockholders.—When stockholders owning one-fifth or more in amount of the paid-up stock of any corporation organized under the laws of and doing business in this state, except corporations organized for religious, charitable, fraternal, and educational purposes, and except banking and public-service corporations, apply in term or vacation to the judge of the superior court holding the courts for the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation is situated, by petition containing a statement that for three years next preceding the filing of the petition, which time shall begin to run from three years after it has begun business, the net earnings of the corporation have not been sufficient to pay in good faith an annual dividend of four per cent upon the paid stock of the corporation, over and above the salaries and expenses authorized by its by-laws and regulations, or that the corporation has paid no dividend for six years preceding said application; or whenever stockholders owning one-tenth or more in amount of the paid-up common stock of any such corporation apply to the judge of the superior court as aforesaid by petition containing a statement that the corporation has paid no dividend on the common stock for ten years preceding said application, and that they desire a dissolution of the corporation, the judge shall make an order requiring the officers of the corporation to file in court, within a reasonable time, inventories showing all the real and personal estate of the corporation, a true account of its capital stock, the names of the stockholders, their residences, the number of shares belonging to each, the amount paid in upon said shares and the amount still due thereon, and a statement of all the encumbrances on the property of the corporation and all its contracts which have not been fully satisfied and canceled, specifying the place and residence of each creditor, the sum owing to each, the nature of the debt or demand, and the consideration therefor, and the books and papers of the corporation. Upon the filing of the inventories, accounts and statements, the court shall enter an order requiring all persons interested in the corporation to appear before a referee to be appointed by the court, at a time and place named in the order, service of which may be made by publication for such time as may be deemed proper by the court, and show cause why the corporation should not be dissolved. If it appears to the court that the statements contained in the petition are true, the court may adjudge a dissolution of the corporation and shall appoint one or more receivers, who shall have all powers of receivers conferred by this chapter for the winding up the affairs and distribution of the assets of the corporation. If it appears to the court that the corporation is insolvent or in imminent danger of insolvency, the court may appoint a temporary receiver of the corporation pending dissolution. No suit shall be brought for the dissolution of a corporation under the provisions of this section until each and all of the petitioners have owned their stock for the term of two years prior to the institution of the action; nor shall any such suit be brought for the period of three years after a final judgment upon a prior petition as herein provided. (1913, c. 147; 1915, c. 137, s. 1; C. S. 1186.)

§ 55-126. Involuntary, by attorney-general.—An action may be brought by the attorney-general in the name of the state against a corporation for the purpose of annulling its charter upon the ground that it was procured upon a fraudulent suggestion, or concealment of a material fact, by the persons incorporated or by some of them, or with their knowledge or consent; or for the purpose of annulling the existence of a corporation, other than municipal, when such corporation—

1. Offends against the act creating, altering, or renewing it.

2. Violates any law by which it has forfeited its charter by abuse of its power.

3. Has forfeited its privileges or franchises by failure to exercise its power.

4. Has done or omitted any act which amounts to a surrender of its corporate rights, privileges and franchises.

5. Has exercised a franchise or privilege not conferred upon it by law.

6. Has failed to use its powers for two or more consecutive years.

7. Has become insolvent as manifested by the return of an execution unsatisfied upon a judgment against the corporation docketed in the superior court of the county where it has its principal place of business.

It is the duty of the attorney-general, whenever he has reason to believe that any of these acts or omissions can be established by proof, to bring an action in every case of public interest, and also in every other case in which satisfactory security is given to indemnify the state against the costs and expenses to be incurred thereby. (Rev., s. 1198; Code, ss. 604, 605; 1889, c. 533; C. S. 1187.)

§ 55-127. Forfeiture or dissolution for failure to organize or act. — When a charter has been granted creating a corporation, and the incorporators for two years neglect to organize and carry into effect the intent of the charter, or when organized, if they for two consecutive years cease to act, then this disuse of their corporate privileges and powers is a forfeiture of the charter. If, after thirty days notice by the secretary of state, the corporation fails to surrender its corporate rights or to dissolve, in the manner provided in this chapter, the secretary of state shall report it to the attorney-general, who shall institute an appropriate action for its dissolution. (Rev., s. 1246; Code, s. 688; 1901, c. 2, s. 106; C. S. 1188.)

§ 55-128. Forfeiture for nonuser by hydro-electric companies. — All waterpower, hydro-electric power, and water companies or corporations organized in this state shall be required to begin active work in making their proposed development within two years after their organization and diligently to prosecute their work on the same until it has been completed; and a failure to begin the work or development within the time, and to diligently prosecute work on the same until its completion, as herein provided, shall be legal grounds for declaring their charter rights, privileges and franchises forfeited, by the state, acting through its attorney-general, upon the recommendation of the utilities commission of this state: Provided, this section shall not apply to any company which is supplying the public and is meeting the demands of the public for its services. (1913, c. 133, s. 2; 1933, c. 134, s. 8; 1941, c. 97, s. 5; C. S. 1189.)

§ 55-129. Involuntary, by bankruptcy.—When a corporation chartered under the laws of this state is adjudged bankrupt under the laws of the United States or when it shall be made to appear to a judge of the superior court that all of the assets of the corporation of whatever kind or character have been lost to the stockholders by reason of foreclosure, assignment, or execution under judgment, and that the corporation is therefore unable to conduct the business for which it was organized, the charter of the corporation is forfeited without further action, unless the stockholders determine by appropriate resolutions to continue the corporate existence of the corporation after the adjudication in bankruptcy, foreclosure, assignment, or sale under execution, and furnish the secretary of state with a duly certified copy of the resolutions, all within six months after the adjudication, foreclosure, assignment or final sale under execution. The stockholders of a bankrupt corporation whose existence is continued by the foregoing procedure must pay all privilege taxes which have accrued against the corporation since the adjudication, together with a fee of one dollar allowed the secretary of state for recording and filing the certificate provided for in this section. (1915, c. 134, ss. 2, 3; 1931, c. 310; C. S. 1190.)

§ 55-130. When franchises forfeited by neglect, etc., corporation dissolved; costs. — If it is adjudged that a corporation against which an action has been brought has forfeited by neglect, abuse, or surrender, its corporate rights, privileges and franchises, judgment shall be rendered that the corporation be excluded from such rights, privileges and franchises, and that it be dissolved. If judgment is rendered in such action against a corporation, or against persons claiming to be a corporation, the court may cause the costs to be collected by execution against the persons making the claim, or by attachment or process against the directors or other officers of the corporation. (Rev., ss. 1209, 1210; Code, ss. 617, 618; C. S. 1191.)

§ 55-131. Service of summons in action for dissolution.—In an action for the dissolution of a corporation, or for the appointment of a receiver thereof, the summons must be served on the corporation by service on an officer or agent upon whom other process can be served, and shall be served on the stockholders, creditors, dealers and any others interested in the affairs of the company by publishing a copy at least weekly for two successive weeks in some newspaper printed in the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business, or if there is no such newspaper published, by posting a copy of the summons at the door of the courthouse of such county, and publishing a copy for the time and in the manner aforesaid in a newspaper published nearest the county seat of the county in which the corporation has its principal place of business or in a newspaper published in the city of Raleigh. This publication is sufficient service on all the stockholders, creditors of, or dealers with, the corporation, and upon the corporation, if no officer can after due diligence be found in the state and it has no process agent in the state; and all such stockholders, creditors or dealers or other parties interested may intervene in said proceedings and become parties thereto for themselves, or for others in like interest, under such rules as the court for the purpose of justice prescribes. (Rev., s. 1199; Code, s. 695; 1911, c. 173, s. 1; C. S. 1192.)

§ 55-132. Corporate existence continued three years. — All corporations whose charters expire by their own limitation, or are annulled by forfeiture or otherwise, shall continue to be bodies corporate for three years after the time when they would have been so dissolved, for the purpose of prosecuting and defending actions by or against them, and of enabling them gradually to settle and close their concerns, to dispose of their property, and to divide their assets; but not for the purpose of continuing the business for which the corporation was established. The superior court of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located may, upon petition of said corporation, continue the corporate existence for the purposes of winding up the affairs, for such time as the court may deem proper. The provisions hereof shall also apply to corporations whose affairs have not on March 30, 1939, been wound up. (Rev., s. 1200; Code, s. 667; 1901, c. 2, s. 58; 1939, c. 250, s. 1; C. S. 1193.)

§ 55-133. Directors to be trustees; powers and duties. — On the dissolution in any manner of a corporation, unless otherwise directed by an order of the court, the directors are trustees thereof, with full power to settle the affairs, collect the outstanding debts, sell and convey the property, and, after paying its debts, divide any surplus money and other property among the stockholders. The trustees have power to meet and act under the by-laws of the corporation, and, under regulations to be made by a majority, to prescribe the terms and conditions of the sale of such property, and they may sell all or any part for cash, or partly on credit, or take mortgages or bonds for part of the purchase price for all or any part of the property. They have power to sue for and recover the said debts and property in the name of the corporation, and are suable in the same name for the debts owing by it, and are jointly and severally responsible for such debts only to the amount of property of the corporation which comes into their possession as trustees. Vacancies in the board of directors may be filled in accordance with the provisions of the by-laws of the corporation or the stockholders may fill such vacancies at a regular or duly called meeting. (Rev., ss. 1201, 1202; Code, s. 687; 1901, c. 2, ss. 59, 60; 1939, c. 250, s. 2; C. S. 1194.)

§ 55-134. Jurisdiction of superior court.—When a corporation is dissolved, in any manner whatsoever, the superior court, on application of a creditor or stockholder, may either continue the directors as trustees or appoint one or more persons receivers of the corporation. The court has jurisdiction of the application, and of all questions arising in the proceedings thereon, and may make, at any place in the district, any orders, injunctions, or decrees therein as justice and equity require. The powers of such trustees or receivers are as elsewhere given in this chapter, and may be continued as long as the court thinks necessary. (Rev., ss. 1203, 1204; Code, ss. 619, 668, 669; 1901, c. 2, ss. 61, 62; C. S. 1195.)

§ 55-135. Injunction; notice and undertaking.—An injunction to suspend the general and ordinary business of a corporation or to appoint a receiver shall not be granted without due notice of the application therefor to the corporation, except where the state is a party to the proceeding, unless the plaintiff gives a written undertaking, executed by two sufficient sureties to be approved by the judge, to the effect that the plaintiff will pay all damages, not exceeding the sum mentioned in the undertaking, which the corporation may sustain by reason of the injunction, or the appointment of the receiver, if the court finally decides that the plaintiff was not entitled thereto. The damages may be ascertained by a reference, or otherwise, as the court directs. (Rev., s. 1205; Code, s. 343; C. C. P., s. 194; C. S. 1196.)

§ 55-136. Wages for two months lien on assets.—In case of the insolvency of a corporation, partnership or individual, all persons doing labor or service of whatever character in its regular employment have a lien upon the assets thereof for the amount of wages due to them for all labor, work, and services rendered within two months next preceding the date when proceedings in insolvency were actually instituted and begun against the corporation, partnership or individual, which lien is prior to all other liens that can be acquired against such assets. (Rev., s. 1206; 1901, c. 2, s. 87; 1937, c. 223; C. S. 1197.)

§ 55-137. Distribution of funds.—After payment of all allowances, expenses and costs, and the satisfaction of all general and special liens upon the funds of the corporation to the extent of their lawful priority, the creditors shall be paid proportionately to the amount of their respective debts, and shall be entitled to distribution on debts not due, making in such case a rebate of interest when interest is not accruing on the same. Any surplus funds, after payment of the creditors and costs, expenses and allowances, shall be paid to the preferred stockholders according to their respective shares, and if there still be a surplus, it shall be divided and paid to the general stockholders proportionately, according to their respective shares. Upon the distribution of the assets of an insolvent corporation, judgment of dissolution shall be entered and a certified copy of the judgment filed in the office of the secretary of state, and also in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located, and the same shall be recorded in the Corporation Book and in the Record of Incorporations in these offices respectively. Thereupon the corporation is dissolved without being required to comply with § 55-121. (Rev., s. 1207; Code, s. 670; 1901, c. 2, ss. 63, 89; 1909, c. 15, s. 1; C. S. 1198.)

§ 55-138. Debts not extinguished nor actions abated.—In case of the dissolution of a corporation, the debts due to and from it are not thereby extinguished, nor do actions against a corporation which is dissolved before final judgment abate by reason thereof, but no judgment shall be entered therein without notice to the trustees or receivers of the corporation. (Rev., ss. 1201, 1208; Code, s. 687; 1901, c. 2, ss. 59, 64; C. S. 1199.)

§ 55-139. Copy of judgment to be filed with secretary of state; costs.—A copy of every judgment dissolving a corporation or forfeiting its charter shall be forthwith filed by the clerk of the court in the office of the secretary of state, and a note thereof shall be made by the secretary of state on the charter or certificate of incorporation and in the index thereof, and be published by him in the annual report hereinafter provided for, the cost of which shall be taxed by the clerk of the superior court in the action wherein the corporation is dissolved. (Rev., s. 1211; 1901, c. 2, s. 65; C. S. 1200.)

Art. 12. Execution.
